IRISH ACTION IS PUZZLING

General Satisfaction Expressed in Ireland but London Is Divided.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The British Government has invited the Irish signatories to the Anglo-Irish treaty to come to London for an early conference on the whole situation, it was announced in the House of Commons today by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, secretary of state of the colonies.

DUBLIN, Feb. 23.—General satisfaction seems to be felt in Southern Ireland over yesterday's surprise decision by the Sinn Fein convention for a three months' adjournment, at the end of which the people will be asked to vote on the constitution as well as on the Anglo-Irish treaty. Some staunch supporters of the Anglo-Irish treaty are disappointed and incline to the view that it is a republican victory.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—London newspapers seem puzzled today over the unexpected outcome of the Sinn Fein convention. Some condemn the convention by which the Irish elections are put off for three months, while others regard it as a matter affecting principally the Irish themselves.

Canada Has not Been Getting Her Fair Share of Immigrants From Great Britain of Late

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Canada is not getting her fair share of emigrants from Great Britain. The restrictions placed on settlers from this country by the Canadian Government has had a bad effect and the lack of encouragement has also helped to keep settlers back.

In the House of Commons today Colonel L. G. Amery, parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty Board, stated that the number and destinations of the British families assisted to emigrate during the six months ending January 31 last under the free passage scheme for ex-service men were as follows: Canada, 679; Australia, 4056; New Zealand, 960; South Africa, including Rhodesia, 428; other parts of the Empire, 225.

LIBRARY BOOKS ARE STILL COMING IN

Up to last night G. V. Wilkinson reported having received 396 volumes for the free public library, and a number have been received this morning which have not yet been counted. This puts the list well over the 100 mark. It is the hope that the list will reach at least 1000.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Lloyd George leaves here on Saturday to meet Premier Poincaré of France either at Boulogne or Calais for a discussion of questions relating to the Genoa conference and the Anglo-French pact.

Labor Demanding Eight Hour Day from Leaders New Ottawa Government

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—Labor will present its annual program to the Government shortly, demanding a national eight-hour day and legislation bringing the enactment of the measure within the scope of the Federal Parliament instead of leaving it to the provinces.

In addition to the eight-hour day, the representatives of the labor organizations will make numerous demands of the Government in regard to legislation. Prominent among these is the exclusion of Asiatics and rigid immigration restrictions in regard to other races.

Old-age pensions is again on the list, this having been one of the demands made for many years. Consolidation of the National Railways and the appointment of workers' representative on the board of management in accordance with the pledges of many of the Liberal leaders is one of the important requests that will be made, and coupled with it will be a demand for the ownership of all public utilities, the railways being the chief.

FIX ALL PRICES FARM PRODUCE

That is Demand Made by Agriculture Sections of United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(By Canadian Press)—Senator Ladd of North Dakota is working persistently in behalf of his bill for a government guarantee of the price of farm products. The bill is pending in the Senate committee on agriculture and there is also a like bill pending before the House committee on agriculture. The Senate committee is showing every indication of a favorable report on the bill and this will put the question up to the Senate. Senators, whether they like it or not, will be thus compelled to "face the music" and vote the proposition up or down. This will be embarrassing enough to a number of gentlemen who are coming up for renomination and re-election this year.

The argument that the government has guaranteed a return to the railroads and hence should do as much for the farmer, whatever may be said about it as an economic proposition is at least difficult to refute in the agricultural sections. It is the more difficult because of the deep-seated feeling of the farmers against the provisions of the Cummins-Esch transportation act which virtually gives the railroads a guarantee of return, though technically it may be argued they do not. Congress is showing little sign of changing the transportation act to suit the farmers, nor is there much indication of such reduction in freight rates at the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission as will meet the demands of the agricultural states. House and Senate leaders, as well as the administration, have no intention of allowing the Ladd bill or any plan of price-fixing for the farmer's products to pass if they can help it. It is generally assumed that the Ladd bill and similar proposals will be blocked. However, on a vote price-fixing for the farmers will have much strength.

PROPOSAL TO ERECT A NEW LIBRARY HERE

Matter Informally Discussed Yesterday at Special Meeting of City Council.

At the special meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon the suggestion was made by Alderman D'Blain that instead of building an addition to the present library the city should erect on the present site a substantial two story building to be used for reading room, library and women's rest room.

The suggestion seemed to meet with the general approval of the aldermen and the reading room committee will immediately take the matter up and make a definite recommendation. The probability is that alternative recommendations will be made, one for an extension of the present reading room and the other for a substantial new building.

It seemed to be the opinion of the council that it was not right for the city to set the example of erecting shacks right in the centre of the city when they tried to discourage the practice in others. They should have a building that would be a credit to the city.

JOHN KEEN IS OVER DIVIDE

Clerk of Legislature and Former Speaker Passes Away at Kaslo.

NELSON, Feb. 23.—John Keen, clerk of the Legislature of British Columbia and former speaker of the House, preceding Hon. A. M. Manson in that position, died at Kaslo yesterday.

Mr. Keen has been a prominent public figure in the interior of British Columbia for many years. He has taken a prominent part in the public life of the country. He held positions on various public bodies and took a prominent part in mining conventions.

He represented Kaslo in the last Legislature but was defeated by Colonel Lister at the general election and was immediately afterwards appointed clerk of the Legislature, which office he filled most acceptably.

FIREMAN ON ENA KILLED

Fatal Accident Occurred on C. P. R. Coaster Which Arrived from South This Morning.

The Canadian Pacific freighter Princess Ena, Captain Cliff, was in port this morning enroute to Skagway with a full cargo of lumber from the Hastings Mill, Vancouver. The steamer was here a short time and unloaded lumber and piles for Albert & McCaffery.

When the ship was coming north and was near Alert Bay a trimmer, named G. Grosse, fell into one of the coal bunkers and was killed. Whether his death was due to smothering or to injuries sustained in the fall was not ascertained. His body was returned to Vancouver on the steamer Venture.

Library Building Possibility Soon.

There is now a suggestion to erect a library building here rather than add to the reading room. The argument used is that the city should not be the leader in the erection of shacks. The present reading room is not an imposing building and to add to it would, it is suggested, be to start a precedent which should be discouraged.

The Daily News is wholly in favor of the erection of a good library building here as long as it does not cause inordinate delay in the establishment of the public library. Financing was put forward as the reason why a library could not be established, and that is the reason the Library Association was afraid to ask too much. The essential for a library is a collection of books and a trained librarian. The next important thing is a suitable building. As long as the erection of the building does not endanger the essentials, the idea will be acclaimed by everyone interested in the institution.

Rotary Anniversary Is Held Today.

This is the anniversary of the establishment of the first Rotary Club. It began in a small way and increased rapidly until today there are clubs in almost every English-speaking city and in many others. Perhaps Prince Rupert people are not much interested in this institution. It is not large or imposing. It is supposed to be a nucleus of activity for the public benefit. The members do not set themselves up as better than anyone else, neither do they set out to lead the community but to use their influence in aiding deserving movements. Usually their influence is not apparent.

The members of the club meet together once a week at lunch time and often hear instructive addresses or air their own views. They are just ordinary business and professional people and they have no desire to run up a big membership or to figure in newspaper headlines. The fact that they sometimes do so is only accidental.

Last night at a church banquet Archbishop Du Vernet spoke of the value of meeting together and uniting in mental effort. The same idea pervades the Rotary organizers. There are men of all religions, races and classes and there is nothing unusual about them. They are not out looking for new members nor are they running in opposition to any other organization. They are filling a little niche in the life of the city, and if they are able now and then to be of service to the community they have their reward.

Night School Proposed Here.

The proposal for the establishment of a night school here is again becoming a live issue. Whether such an institution should be established now or in the autumn is matter for consideration. One thing is sure, that it should soon have a place here in order to give young people an opportunity to help themselves.

Many young men are living away from home here. They have little to do with themselves during the evenings and the night school gives the opportunity to spend the time profitably. In Anyox there are over two hundred and forty students at the school and the institution has become a potent influence in the life of the community. The same might occur here. Unhappily there does not seem to be a leader here to organize the school and get it going. At Anyox they had the general manager of the company interested and he used his influence to get all the other leaders in the various departments to co-operate. Also the Granby company gave the use of their shops and plants for the benefit of the students attending the schools. There is no reason, however, why a school should not be established here and be made a success.

LADIES' MUSICAL CLUB HAD MEETING

Studied Chopin's Preludes and Nocturnes at Home of Mrs. H. L. Campbell Yesterday Afternoon.

The Ladies' Musical Club held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. H. L. Campbell, Fourth Avenue East, yesterday afternoon. Chopin's preludes and nocturnes formed the topic of the afternoon's study. An instructive paper, "The Romance of Chopin's Preludes," was read by Mrs. H. Ward after which two of the preludes were played by Mrs. E. C. Manning. A description of the nocturne was given by Mrs. J. Greer. Mrs. Ward playing a Chopin number after the reading.

A short miscellaneous program in keeping with Chopin music was then given. It consisted of a violin solo by Mrs. Linzey, a vocal trio by Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. R. Blance and Mrs. S. Danton and a vocal solo by Mrs. H. L. Campbell.

K. C. ANNUAL DANCE SUCCESS

Splendid Affair in Auditorium Last Night Was Attended by 250 Persons—Decorations a Feature.

The second annual dance of the Knights of Columbus lodge was held last night in the auditorium and about 250 persons were in attendance. Decorations, music and refreshments, all of high quality, went to make the affair one of the most enjoyable of the season. The outstanding feature of all was undoubtedly the decorations which were as fine as were ever seen at a dance in the city. Small trees stood all around the hall and over these were the Knights of Columbus colors in streamers along the ceiling from end to end. In the centre was a large sign reading: "The Knights of Columbus Welcome You." Flags and pennants further filled out the scheme.

T. W. Moersch was the master of ceremonies and was assisted on the floor by Lawrence Moore, Jack Keefe, A. Astori and J. J. Raleigh. A. D. Gillies was on the door. Music was provided by the Westholme Orchestra augmented with trombone, saxophone and xylophone. Refreshments were served to several sittings at midnight.

Jack Venables was the chairman of the general committee. A. Astori was in charge of decorations, U. T. La Gasse, refreshments and H. McEwen, invitations. D. K. Walker and Fred Henning assisted with the refreshments.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants. Mrs. Winfield Hill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care. I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble." To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

Doctor Said "Keep on Using Zam-Buk"

"My little son was badly scalded by pulling a pan of boiling water over himself," writes Mrs. Albert Sawyer, of Midland, Ontario. "I called in a doctor, but his ointments failed to ease the child's intense pain. I therefore discontinued the treatment and began with Zam-Buk instead. "This wonderful balm appeared to relieve pain almost immediately, but to make sure I was doing the right thing, I called in a second doctor. When I told him what I was using, he said— 'That's right—just keep on with Zam-Buk, there's nothing so good for scalds and burns.' "As I persevered with Zam-Buk all soreness and inflammation was drawn out of the injuries and new skin gradually formed. It was not long before the scalds—although so extensive and severe—were completely healed. Zam-Buk obtainable of all chemists and stores. 50c box, is equally splendid for the treatment of eczema, ulcers, ringworm, piles, various sore, poisoned wounds, chaps, cold-sores, chilblains, etc.

SCRAP CRUISERS PAY SALARIES

This Proposal Comes From Officers of the Chinese Navy.

BEIJING, Feb. 23.—Officers of the Chinese navy have proposed to go to the Washington disarmament conference one better by scrapping the entire Chinese navy and selling it to pay their salaries, which are in arrears.

The Chinese navy consisted in 1920 of six protected cruisers, three destroyers, eight torpedo boats, three torpedo gunboats, four gunboats and a considerable number of river gunboats. Nine of these, however, were under control of the Southern Chinese government located at Canton.

The Chinese officers proposed also that all battleships and cruisers should be scrapped.

Sarcastic Press.

The Chinese press asserts that it is in the interest of their salaries rather than of the peace of the world that the Chinese officers proposed this drastic step.

As in the case of many governmental departments of China at the present time, salaries for many months are due the officials and personnel of the navy, and the conference of officers was called to consider ways and means of forcing the ministry of finance to allocate to the ministry of marine sufficient money to make up these deficits.

Feeling that sale of all naval property and abolition of the navy was the surest way of obtaining the necessary funds, the officers decided to put this proposition before the people.

The Alternative.

Their alternative, in case this scheme failed to meet with approval, was that officials who had illegally withheld their pay from them be made personally responsible.

PIMPLES ON FACE DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying. There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion. Miss Mary E. Flanagan, R. R. No. 2, Stela, Ont., writes:—"I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad that I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles, and there was not a pimple or blotch of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, 'Burdock Blood Bitters' chased them!" B. B. has been on the market for the past 45 years, so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Another elimination handicap is on in full swing at the Elks' Home and has reached the third heat. It will probably be finished in the course of a day or so. There still remain in the running B. McEvoy, M. Gordon, W. Balagno, J. Keefe, W. Blythe and G. McElroy. These six are scheduled to play off in pairs in the order mentioned. The player who survives from the first four will meet the winner of the Blythe-McElroy game in the final. Others who took part in the tournament and who have now been eliminated were: Joe Brown, W. D. Vance, Capt. J. McGregor, D. Cook, W. F. Roberge, R. V. G. Lepine, L. Astori, T. B. Hooper, S. P. McMorrie, Ben Sell, E. A. Woods, B. McLeod, B. Morgan, J. Day Bell, M. M. McLachlan, Harry Atkins, C. C. Clementson, K. Rood, A. Strachan, A. A. Easson, J. Judge, R. Arthur, Sr., E. Green, W. E. Thompson, C. Balagno and U. U. LaCasse.

The Lepine Cup scratch tournament for the billiard championship of the Elks' lodge is also under way. Twenty-four players are entered in this competition and each contestant will be required to meet all the others. Therefore there will be 576 games played. The player with the highest total at the end of the tournament will win the cup. Two hundred points are played each game. It may thus be seen that the playing of the series will probably take several weeks. Games already played are as follows: R. Arthur, Sr., 174; U. U. LaCasse, 200. W. Balagno, 200; C. Balagno, 143. W. Blythe, 200; U. U. LaCasse, 149. A. A. Easson, 200; C. Balagno, 177. A. A. Easson, 200; K. A. Rood, 155. H. Foote, 168; D. Cook, 200. T. B. Hooper, 167; G. McElroy, 200. U. U. LaCasse, 182; D. McLachlan, 189; M. Gordon, 200. D. Cook, 120; E. Green, 200. Besides the players mentioned in these results there are also entered in the tournament: J. Brown, M. Gonzales, J. Judge, J. Keefe, B. Morgan, S. P. McMorrie, Norris Pringle and J. Day-Bell.

Engineering Society Listens to Address by John Kyle and Votes For Night School Here

John Kyle, organizer of technical education for the province of British Columbia, is to take up with the Prince Rupert school board the matter of establishing a night school in the city for the purpose of extending the function of education in such subjects as English (for foreigners), practical mathematics, shop sketching, mechanical drawing, workshop arithmetic, mineralogy, blow-pipe analysis, commercial chemistry, electricity, gas engines, dress-making, millinery and other subjects. After an instructive and comprehensive address on the subject of night schools which Mr. Kyle delivered to the local branch of the Professional Engineers' Association of B. C. in the council chamber last night, that organization unanimously passed a resolution supporting the movement on the ground that a technical night school here was an absolute necessity. The question will be taken up this afternoon by the school board.

Mr. Kyle delivered to the local branch of the Professional Engineers' Association of B. C. in the council chamber last night, that organization unanimously passed a resolution supporting the movement on the ground that a technical night school here was an absolute necessity. The question will be taken up this afternoon by the school board. The meeting last night was attended by nearly all the local members of the engineers' association, those present being H. Pattinson, F. J. Whitaker, F. S. Clements, H. C. Black, A. M. Bremner, A. L. Carruthers, G. C. Dunnean, Capt. C. B. Formby, H. Tucker and A. E. Wright. H. Pattinson was in the chair. Following Mr. Kyle's address there was a general discussion and before the meeting adjourned a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker of the evening.

Voluntary System. "The present system of night schools in the province of British Columbia is a purely voluntary one," said Mr. Kyle in opening his address. "And although the compulsory system will undoubtedly come in time it is still a thing of the future. In Great Britain, France, Germany, Switzerland, Holland and other European countries continuation training is compulsory for persons of the adolescent age. For instance, in Britain when a boy leaves school at the age of 14 he finds that he is compelled to come back to school for eight hours every week. The classes are held in the day time and take up two half-days a week, which the boy must stop work to attend. The law is being worked to the letter in these countries, which realize that such a system is necessary now that the day of apprenticeships is practically dead and gone."

Demand Efficiency. "Here we have the voluntary system. It has been a comparative failure in every country in which it has been used, but we will have to make the best of it until it is decided to follow the example of Europe and the province of Ontario, where a compulsory law was passed only last year. All pupils who left school at the age of 14 in that province have been registered and in 1923 compulsory attendance is to be brought into effect. In the New Zealand states the compulsory law is also in force. Compulsory continuation training is becoming more and more necessary because of the great efficiency that is demanded when young people go to work, an efficiency that was never before required in the industrial world. There are two points to be looked to in this continuation training by night schools: the turning of one's daily bread and tion last month was $533, four-fifths of which is paid by the provincial government. In Prince Rupert, I understand, there is not even a public library, while there is a big one at Anyox. It would almost seem that the company town with all its alleged autocracy treats its people the best.

Be Self-supporting. "Such a night school as there is at Anyox might easily be organized in Prince Rupert. It would be conducted by the school board with the assistance of advisory committees if they saw fit. A grant of three-fifths for salaries would be made by the provincial government and the remaining two-fifths could be met by fees. There is no doubt in my mind that a night school could be conducted here which would be self-supporting and which would not cost the ratepayers a cent. It would take a great deal of enthusiasm and a strong propaganda to bring it before the people. The education department has found that success only follows the night schools where they are instituted with a businesslike system of publicity. The provincial government, in addition to sharing in the salaries, would pay a grant of fifty per cent, for all equipment necessary in technical work."

American Attitude. "It is interesting to follow the American attitude towards night schools and continuation training. When that country entered the war it found itself confronted with a daily debt of $1,500,000 for interest on its war loan. A committee of prominent financiers was appointed to investigate conditions to see how the debt could be best repaid. They found in the course of their investigation that for every 2000 pounds weight of exports the United States received $100, while Great Britain received $100 for every 1000 pounds and Germany for every 30 pounds. This showed that the country which gave the most technical training received the most for its exports. The committee decided that quantity export must be got rid of and quality gone in for. They advocated legislation for the training of the people of the United States. This was responsible in 1916 for the Smith-Hughes bill being passed, which was responsible for a great many million dollars being spent in technical education."

Excellent Schools. "The people of Prince Rupert are fortunate in having such an excellent school with manual training and domestic science departments, of which it might well be proud. The foundation for the night school is there. The building can be lighted and heated at night so that it would be warm and comfortable. All that is needed is a start and it would be well for such an association as the Professional Engineers' Society to get behind the school board in the matter of establishing night schools and making them successful. Let there be 100 per cent efficiency out of the day schools. Five hours a day is not enough for a school like you have here to be occupied. It should be used ten hours. Let the people get together and put it over so that your men and women will be given the opportunity of being better fitted to meet the industrial competitor of the future."

In concluding Mr. Kyle spoke of the technical schools in Vancouver and other southern cities. They were now giving pupils training there in engineering and mechanical subjects to better fit them for academic training in engineering courses at the colleges. Such training was of great benefit when boys went into the industrial world. The importance of technical subjects was being realized and not so much stress was being laid on purely classical subjects such as Latin and pure geometry. Such technical training might be later taken up in Prince Rupert.

In Twenty-one Cities. "In the province of British Columbia 21 cities, including Anyox, Powell River and Ocean Falls, have night schools and there are 3201 pupils in attendance at them. Prince Rupert does not appear in the list. To me it seems advisable that this city should consider giving her inhabitants the opportunity to take up studies to make them more proficient wage-earners and allow for the development of their hobbies in assisting them to get into the line of work which would suit them best."

Depends on Men. Mr. Kyle also pointed out that the staff of a night school should be composed of the best practical instructors it was possible to obtain. Much depended on the men and women who were at the helm. General discussion of particular points in connection with night schools and technical training followed and Mr. Kyle answered a number of questions that were presented to him. Mr. Whitaker asked about wet and fire assaying and Mr. Kyle said this might also be taken up. In fact it was taken up at Anyox. It was important to have a good practical man teaching it. Vancouver had made a mistake when a High School teacher had been appointed to teach it.

In answer to a question by Mr. Dunnean, Mr. Kyle stated that there was no age limit to the night schools as long as the students were over the school age, namely 14 years.

Mr. Clements thought there would be no difficulty in collecting fees.

Mr. Carruthers emphasize the need for dependability in the industrial world today. Night schools would develop that quality.

Opportunity Needed. Captain Formby was of the opinion that the school board would be quite receptive to the night school idea. In building the new school they had had that end in view. There would be plenty of students in the city. Many boys here were willing to continue their education in such a manner but had never had the opportunity.

Mr. Clements felt that accuracy and loyalty of work were very important. Such qualities would be assured in students who attended the night schools.

It was moved by Mr. Carruthers and seconded by Mr. Whitaker that the Engineers' Association support the movement for the night school being established. This was passed unanimously and with enthusiasm.

Beauty brings success

Make your dreams come true

Every girl has blissful dreams of success and popularity—of the flowers and books and candy and dates which proclaim her a social success. She sees herself admired, the center of attention. What heartache and disappointment if these dreams should not come true! Many a girl misses this popularity because of some defect she herself doesn't realize. A dull, coarse, lifeless skin less attractive than blotches and blackheads positively repel. Remedy these disfigurements, transform your unattractive complexion into one of radiant freshness and see what a good time you have at your next party.

Made from the Palm and oils Cleopatra used

It is the charm which always attracts, which all women envy and men admire. This isn't hard to do. The smooth, fresh, blooming complexion which makes an otherwise plain girl pretty isn't a gift of Nature, but a matter of care. You can't neglect your skin and expect to keep it blooming and alluring. The powder and rouge you use to conceal defects deceive nobody. The remedy for coarse skin, for one disfigured with blackheads or ugly blotches, is daily cleansing with a lather blended from palm and olive oils. Such a cleanser is so mild and soothing that it softens the skin and keeps it smooth. But it removes the accumulations of dirt, oil and perspiration which are responsible for most bad complexions. Get a cake of Palmolive today. It is the modern combination of the same beautifying cosmetic oils Cleopatra used in the days of ancient Egypt. It is just as valuable today as a beautifying cleanser. Massage its smooth, creamy lather softly into the network of tiny pores which compose the surface of your skin. It will remove the clogging deposits which enlarge these pores, cause blackheads and invite blotches. After this thorough cleansing is the time to apply cold cream if you need it. You can safely use powder and that becoming touch of rouge on a clean skin.

Don't neglect throat and shoulders. Care of your skin must extend beyond the face if you want to be admired for complexion beauty. Use Palmolive for your daily bath and let it do for your body what it does for your face. It will keep your neck and shoulders smooth, and your arms and hands soft and white. These are attractions as conspicuous as a blooming, blemishless face. This beauty treatment costs little. Judge Palmolive by quality and you will expect to pay at least 25 cents a cake. But the popularity which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night naturally reduces cost. Quantity production is always economical. Thus this finest facial soap is offered at a price all can afford. You can economically use Palmolive for every toilet purpose, for it costs no more than ordinary soap.

MEN'S BANQUET GREAT EVENT

Interesting Addresses Given by Archbishop Du Vernet and Others.

SINGING A FEATURE

Unusual enthusiasm and good cheer prevailed at the annual men's banquet held last night at the Anglican Church building with A. E. Bazett-Jones presiding. Interesting addresses were given by Archbishop Du Vernet, Rev. Canon Rix, American Consul Wakefield, J. F. Maguire and others. The ladies of the Women's Auxiliary provided the dinner and waited on table and later listened to the addresses, everything being in the very best taste and the event proving most enjoyable in every respect.

Possibly the most enjoyable feature of the entertainment was the singing of S. K. Campbell who gave four songs. He has a splendid trained voice and his singing was much appreciated. H. C. Peyton played selections on the cornet and was given a good reception.

Purpose of Event.

Mr. Bazett-Jones explained that the purpose of the annual dinner was that the Archbishop and Canon Rix might have an opportunity once a year to see some of the Anglicans of the community. He urged that the men of the city lend their assistance to the church and support the officers, by attending the services.

S. M. Newton gave a short humorous reading appropriate to the occasion.

H. F. Pullen urged the completion of the church building in order to make it a credit to the city. He stated that as this was the central point of the diocese, the cathedral city, there should be a building adequate to the needs of the congregation and a credit to the church and the city.

E. A. Wakefield took advantage of the occasion of it being Washington's birthday to give an interesting sketch of the life of that statesman and soldier who was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Psychology and Religion.

Archbishop Du Vernet gave a

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs. Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

short address on Psychology and Religion. He explained that psychology had brought many a young man back to the old faith. It was a new avenue of approach to religion. There were the four avenues, the traditional, the rational, the mythical and the psychological. An increasing number of people bristled and rebelled at the method of authority but fortunately there were other avenues and getting there was the main thing.

The Archbishop spoke interestingly of the psychology of approach. He showed that the outward form was closely related to the inward feeling. A change of outward attitude had a large effect on the mental attitude. Body acted on mind as well as mind on body. When the soldiers sang "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag and Smile" they were using the proper psychological method of getting rid of their troubles.

Mind Unconfined.

Psychology taught that it was impossible to confine the mind. Mind energy radiated far and wide and one mind affected another. By joining the congregation at Church they could bring a greater contribution than by putting money on the collection plate. United mind energy resulted in each mind receiving back the united energy of the whole congregation. The person remaining at home could not get anything like the inspiration that came from one hundred united in mind and purpose.

It was also a natural thought that the mind of the individual could also penetrate the divine mind and receive a thought back. This was a new and valuable approach to religion.

J. F. Maguire in thanking the ladies said he simply expressed the thought of all when he told them of their appreciation.

Canon Rix urged the value of attending the church services and of being an example to the young people. They could not expect the children to be seized with the importance of the religious life if the parents were not. They were responsible if the boy of today went out into life more poorly fortified than were his parents. They would be held responsible before the throne of God. He urged that they show respect for God on the Sabbath day. This was going to be a great city of which they would be proud and the greatest thing was that the future generation should be worthy of it. Character was the only abiding thing. There were great possibilities here. The men he saw before him stood for integrity in business. They owed much of this to their early training. The sentiment of the community was toward clean things and Godly. They could not get over that.

The ladies' committee in charge of the banquet and its serving was headed by Mrs. H.

L. McIntosh the other members being Mrs. W. C. Orchard, Mrs. H. T. Willett, Mrs. R. Beaumont, Mrs. T. C. Duncan and Mrs. P. G. Groves. Those assisting were: Mrs. C. F. Kemp, Mrs. G. Whitehead, Mrs. C. G. Mills, Mrs. E. C. La Trace, Mrs. W. H. Vickers, Mrs. H. E. Tremayne, Mrs. G. A. Woodland, Mrs. George E. Gibson, Mrs. C. V. Eviitt, Mrs. H. L. Roberson, Miss Alice Du Vernet, Miss Rose Davies, Mrs. J. H. McMullin, Mrs. F. S. Clements and Mrs. R. Blance.

MUSEUM OF CRIME AT SCOTLAND YARD

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Scotland Yard's museum—a collection of relics of forgers, confidence tricksters, burglars, and murderers—has just been reopened. It would be the most thrilling exhibition in London if it were open to the public. As a matter of fact, its exhibits would "give the game away" too much to the budding criminal were admission unrestricted, and only police officers and persons with a recognized professional interest in criminology are admitted, after due formalities, to what is not inappropriately called the Black Museum. The relics have been arranged by the curator, Inspector Fair, plaster-cast heads of murderers are to be seen on a shelf surrounding each of the three rooms. There are souvenirs of famous murders—a case of poisons used by Dr. Neil Cream, who "murdered" several women; arsenical fly-papers produced in the Maybrick and Seddon trials; Stinnie Morrison's revolver; locks of hair from the head of Dr. Grippen's wife, Belle Elmore; the pestle with which an unknown man killed Miss Camp in a railway carriage; the masks worn by the woman at Deptford; and the knife with which Richard Prince killed William Terris, the actor. Among a variety of gamblers' exhibits is a "put and take" top, which the spinner always takes and never puts.
