The railway companies have until Saturday to name their representative on the board of investigation which has been applied for under the Lemieux Act.

BIRTH.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nicholls, of Prince Rupert, at the Vancouver General Hospital on July 25 a son.

More Real Mining Activity Than Ever Before at Stewart Says the Resident Engineer

There is more real mining activity in Stewart district this season than ever before, according to George Clothier, resident mining engineer for the provincial government, who returned recently from a visit to that section. The camp is busier and there are more payrolls than ever.

The Premier, of course, continues to be the big producing mine there. The new tram line runs constantly bringing the stream of silver-gold ore to the steamers at the beach which take it to the Tacoma and Anox smelters. About 200 men are on the payroll.

There is development work employing from 10 to 15 men being carried out on each of several mines. These include the Divide Group under the superintendency of Grant Mahood; the Big Missouri which is being backed by A. B. Trites, of Fernie, with Harry Howson in charge; the B. C. Silver, of the Selkwe Gold Mining Co. of the Band, of which C. A. Banks is manager and Harry Howson superintendent; the Indian Group belonging to the Indian Mines, of Prince Rupert, G. B. D. Turner, manager and Roy Clothier, superintendent, and the Prince John and M. C. groups being operated by C. A. MacKenzie's company under his personal supervision. Then on the Alaska side, the Alaska Premier, superintended by Harry Tanner, and the Fish Creek Mines, under W. R. Tonkin, are being developed on a similar scale.

Besides these, there are probably a dozen properties where development work is going on with two or three men. Many prospectors are also doing their assessment work.

SOCKEYE COME LARGE NUMBERS

Big Run Seems to be Commencing On Skeena and Naas

With the advent of extreme high and low tides this week, there is a very marked improvement in the sockeye salmon fishing on the Skeena River. Yesterday the boats were averaging 80 fish with the high boat, 256. The fish are running in long drifts and it is expected, with still higher tides towards the end of the week, there will be an even greater improvement. Pinks are also coming on the Skeena 15 or 20 to the boat. Cohoes are not very plentiful yet but trollers are catching them outside.

Stable Government For This Country.

If the despatch which came through yesterday on the wire from Ottawa is true and a section of the Progressives has decided to support Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, from this time on there should be more stable government at Ottawa than has been for some time past. The support of the Progressives should strengthen the hands of the Government in regard to freight rate revision and also in regard to railway administration. As it is the independents seem to have thrown in their lot pretty well with the Liberal party.

If it is decided to take A. B. Hudson into the cabinet, the Government will be considerably strengthened and the farmers will have a man at Ottawa on whom they can rely. That is the reason for the support which they are said to have promised.

Ill Wind Blows Nobody Any Good.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good. That is an old saying but it is true today as always. While Europe was in the throes of war the United States made money. Now the U.S. is in the throes of an industrial war and the benefit goes to the Welsh coal business. One section of the world benefits by the troubles of the other.

So it is all through life. Doctors and nurses benefit from sickness and undertakers from death. The receiver makes a killing when the big company assigns. When the plant dies it fertilizes the next growth.

Wednesday Holiday Source Of Weakness.

The wrong day is being kept as a half holiday by the people of Prince Rupert. That becomes more evident every day. Yesterday the city looked as dead as it could possibly be because all the stores were closed, yet there were in the city a number of visitors who arrived about noon and left early in the evening on the train. So it is every Wednesday. Just when the city should look its best owing to the presence of visitors, the shops are closed and everyone goes out of town and leaves the visitors to take care of themselves.

We have secured the co-operation of the railway company in regard to the railway schedule. It is the best possible for the local merchants but the effect of one boat a week is nullified owing to the stores being closed on that day.

Any day would be equally acceptable to the employees in the stores, it is to be assumed. There can be no material difference in regard to the day. For the benefit of the whole city the change should be made as soon as possible. Usually if something is wanted very badly, a clever lawyer can arrange it. Here is a situation that should be remedied and it seems too bad that we must wait until the end of the year before seeking relief.

We are not suggesting what day would be suitable for the half holiday. That is a matter for the merchants and employees to decide. It matters little to the general public. The only thing to avoid is having the stores closed when there are a lot of visitors here and having visitors walking the streets saying what a dead place Prince Rupert is.

Elks To Advertise City At Winnipeg.

There has been prepared a quantity of cards bearing the impress of the local Elks Lodge advertising the city and district. This is an excellent idea and one that might be followed by other organizations when their grand lodges meet. The cards are attractive and give in a nutshell many of the important facts in regard to the city and district.

SCHOOL BOARD ASKED TO FORM NIGHT CLASSES

Meeting at City Hall Endorses Scheme For Technical Education.

GENERAL DISCUSSION.

"That this meeting endorse the plan for the establishment of technical education and continuation classes in this city and ask the school board to take immediate steps to carry out the proposed program." That was the resolution passed by a well attended meeting in the Council Chamber last night and carried unanimously. At the suggestion of the chairman, Dr. W. T. Kergin, 25 of those present signified their intention to enter classes if they were formed and others present were representing pupils who are likely to enter. One prospective student said there were a dozen young men in the city who would like to take matriculation work if they could do so.

Don Yelf representing the fishing interests said that the meeting was no criterion of the interest that would be taken in the classes. He suggested that there should be classes in boat-building and caring for a gas engine.

Dr. Kergin before closing the meeting said he felt sure the school board would take steps immediately in regard to the matter of organization.

School Board in Sympathy.

In opening the meeting Dr. Kergin explained the purpose of the gathering which was for the purpose of finding out if any interest was taken in the matter of technical education and continuation classes. They had with them J. Pinder-Moss, who had made a success of the work at Anyox. The school board was in sympathy with the idea and the meeting was called to make sure that there was a demand in the city for something of the sort.

In explaining the work Mr. Pinder-Moss said that during the past two weeks he had laid the matter before public bodies and others and it was a pleasure to note the interest taken in the matter. An experiment had been made last year at Granby to find out the cost and whether it would receive sufficient support. Nearly 12 per cent of the population had entered classes, there being 215 students.

Sat on Fence.

When the classes were first initiated the people as at other places sat on the fence and wanted to be shown. Gradually the interest grew until in some subjects they had several classes. An exhibition of work last Christmas caused a great deal of interest. They had three classes in dressmaking, two in millinery and sash, one in needlework, machine shop practice, geology, mathematics, drafting and woodworking. The expense for a place like Anyox was heavy and the people there felt it was too great a load to carry alone. His proposal was that there should be one technical institute to have control of the technical and continuation classes throughout the district. He told of the class in navigation held in Anyox last year and of its being formed as the result of a demand. Classes might be taught in any subject if the demand was sufficient.

Prince Rupert was in the middle of a mining belt, Mr. Pinder-Moss, said, and yet the majority of prospectors knew little about the scientific end of their work. They would be better able to do the work if they had a knowledge of mineralogy. There was bound to be development of the mineral wealth of the district, the logical place for a technical school and school of mines was right here but they must begin in a small way and the work would increase. In Alaska they were to open a college of technical science at Juneau.

Offered Plants.

Mr. Pinder-Moss spoke of the development of wireless telegraphy and of the interest taken in it as evidenced by work done here by amateurs of which they had read recently. Four or five firms had offered the use of plants where technical classes might be conducted. He said he had every sympathy with the school board in regard to the lack of funds but by means of night schools they would be able to make the new Booth building pay for itself. The scheme was endorsed by the department of education, the Anyox school board, the Elks at Anyox and the Granby Company. Here it had been endorsed by the Rotary Club, the Trades and Labor Council, the Elks and others, as well as by Hon. T. D. Pattullo and Fred Stark. The cost to this city as computed by the school board committee appointed to investigate would be $236 a month if only Anyox and Prince Rupert took part. If other places came in the cost would be less. There were a number of prospective students who had already spoken to him in regard to taking courses.

Canon Rix expressed sympathy with the movement. It was a shame he thought, that buildings costing so much should be used so little.

LOCAL MAN INVENTOR

Ernest Love Patents Switch Box For Use on Long Distance Telephones

Ernest Love, formerly superintendent of utilities here, and now chief superintendent with the Pacific States Company of California, has received the Canadian patent, and expects to shortly receive the United States patent for switching boxes to be used in connection with long distance telephone lines. These switching boxes are designed to keep telephone lines working while transposition work is being carried out, thereby entailing a considerable saving in time and permitting repair work to be made without interruption. The patent is designed to take care of the eight transposition methods in common use.

Ernest Love is the brother of Harry and W. B. Love who have been engaged in the electrical and mechanical business in Prince Rupert for some years.

No cause for Worry when Children have Summer Complaints

There is not a summer passes but that thousands of men, women and children are attacked by summer complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, etc.

In looking for relief you should not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 77 years, and has stood the test of time.

Mrs. Geo. Chapman, Sudbury, Ont., writes:—"I am the mother of five children and I must say they are seldom sick or in need of medicine. They are, however, sometimes troubled with summer complaint, diarrhoea, and such like, but I always find there is no cause for worry as I just give them two or three doses, no more, of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and the trouble soon disappears. It is a remedy that all mothers should keep in the home for the children."

"Dr. Fowler's" is 50c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THREATEN EXTINCTION MUSKRATS IN NORTH

Trapper Just Returned Tells of Illegal Methods Used by Half Breeds and Indians

That the Indians and half-breed hunters in the north are seriously threatening the extinction of the muskrats by illegal trapping methods is the charge made by J. M. Street, trapper of Peace Point, who is a visitor to the city, says the Edmonton Journal. The condition is a serious one, and it is a matter which should be investigated by the proper authorities at once, says the trapper, who further states that there is also, lately no necessity for the waste of fur occasioned by the methods used, and that by trapping, according to the methods allowed by law there is a good living for everyone, without going to extremes.

The Slaughter

The scheme which Mr. Street objects to is as follows: When the freeze-up comes, the Indians and the half breeds proceed to the lakes and sloughs, where the muskrat houses are to be seen in thousands above the level of the frozen surface. First, they cut off the top of several of the muskrat houses over which a number of hunters stand guard with spears. The rest of the band then hammer on the other houses in the vicinity, the occupants of which, being alarmed, swim under the ice until they come to the houses which are peaceful; then they come up to breathe and are promptly speared. The houses having been depleted of their inhabitants, the roof may or may not be thrown on top again. Even supposing it is the extreme cold penetrates to the bottom of the muskrat's living quarters, and those which remain are speedily frozen to death, while the house is rendered untenable for the remainder of the winter.

Even amongst themselves the muskrats are prone to fighting, and if any should escape they must proceed to a neighboring house for shelter, where they are at once in the midst of a fight which will kill off quite a number before the matter of ownership is definitely settled. The half-breeds are the worst offenders in the exterminating of the rats in the manner mentioned, but Mr. Street is of the opinion that if one or two were made an example of that it would have a salutary effect on the remainder, as the natives have a considerable respect for the law, and are extremely anxious to avoid interviews with the Mounted Police.

Poor Skins

Much shooting of muskrats is also done by the natives, says the visitor, and by this means a large number of poor pelts are put on the market, as a skin marked by bullet or spear wound brings only half the price paid for a whole one. Shot guns of .440 gauge are being largely sold by the traders for muskrat shooting, and this practice, Mr. Street also condemns, as he states that it inflicts unnecessary suffering on the muskrats, many of them getting away from the hunters wounded, to be either killed by their companions or die a lingering death, while those pelts which are secured are not desired by the traders and their sale helps no one. If the shooting and spearing were penalized, so much the better for the muskrats and the trappers both, says Mr. Street.

All Live Together

The seasons brood all live together in one winter house, and from the litters of the original parents and their progeny a house will contain from 15 to 20 rats or more. In addition to the house proper where the animals live, they erect air vents at various locations, which are used only for the purpose of coming up for a breather and are not lived in, and the native hunters take advantage of this fact as before mentioned.

For winter food the swimmers store up lily roots, cat tail grass, and willow twigs, these being placed in a certain chamber of the house which is reserved for the purpose. In general the theory that the muskrats can stay under the water or ice for a long period is scouted by the trapper; they must come up for air as is instanced by the air houses, but when hunted they keep under the ice as long as possible and obtain a certain amount of air close to the surface, but this becomes exhausted and they must go to the air houses or drown.

Enforce the Law

Living under the water and in their houses it is comparatively warm for the muskrats, consequently on which their skins do not prime, while those which are caught in the open during the winter are always in first class condition. Though a water animal the muskrat is prone to migrating when water conditions in the home slough are not suitable, and when on the hike he will go long distances in search of a desirable location. When travelling he is the prey of ravens, owls and foxes, and under these circumstances has little chance of defending himself.

The trapping of the muskrats is the great standby of the northern trappers, says Mr. Street; at it a man can make a good living by trapping according to the law, and he is of the opinion that the rules and regulations laid down should be enforced on both natives and whites alike for their own good, and for the benefit of the industry.

GIRLS ARE BACK PORCHER ISLAND

Girl Guides, Brownies and Odd-Fellows, Under Mrs. Roberson Had Great Two Weeks.

The party of Girl Guides, Brownies and Oddfellows, who have been spending a fortnight under canvas on Porcher Island under the leadership of Mrs. H. L. Roberson, returned to the city on the power boat Billy Boy on Tuesday evening. All speak in high praise of the delightful time spent.

The party included: Girl Guides—Pete Tremayne, patrol leader; Winnie Exley, Chris, McLeod, Frances Tremayne, Evelyn Pierce, Nelda Hilditch, Hilda Murray, Constance McMullin, patrol leader; Grace Leek, Beulah McKinley, Marie Mussalem, Catherine Mussalem, Mary Kerr, Laura Stephens, Margaret Palmer, patrol leader; Mary Muse, Verna Thompson, Aletta McKinley, Birdell Jack, Beverley Jack, Marjorie Muse, Mary Selfridge and Violet Whitlow.

Odd-fellow's Patrol—Frances Cross, Joan Cross, Lillian Cross, Winnie Colhoun, Gwen Palmer, Marjorie Tremayne, Kathleen Hutchison, Paddy Palmer, Garfield McKinley, Joey Muse, Miss Smith and Miss Ruth Rix.

Sports Day.

During the camping period, physical exercises before breakfast, flag drill, swimming, walking and fishing were indulged in. On Monday a sports day was held in which the following were prize winners: Pete Tremayne, Margaret Palmer, Chris, McLeod, Marjorie Muse, Audrey Tremayne, Kathleen Hutchison, Lilia Cross, Frances Cross, Joan Cross and Paddy Palmer.

This year the girls prepared their own meals which were cooked by Mrs. Hudson. The campers are very grateful to Richard Pillsbury and W. T. Muse for the great assistance rendered on both the outgoing and return journey. The tents were erected by the girls which did them great credit.

Mrs. Roberson reports that the behavior of the girls was excellent, and that the clean manner in which they left the camping site would have done credit to a regiment of regular soldiers.

SNAPPED, NOT INTERVIEWED

World's Richest Man While Allowing Photographers Refuses to Talk to Newspapers

TARRYTOWN, N.Y., July 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—John D. Rockefeller, passing the Indian summer of his life on his vast estate in the Pocantico Hills, at last letting down the barriers he has always raised against photographers and reporters?

This is a question which has been interesting the newspaper profession ever since the world's richest man, on a recent Sunday, perched on the porch and saw Mr. Rockefeller. They asked him for a dime apiece—and got it. Since then, it is said, the oil magnate has held his yearly party.

Number Two—A boy was standing down town when the Rockefeller machine drove up. A package dropped out. The boy picked it up and handed it to Mr. Rockefeller personally. The boy got a dime, and John D. Rockefeller got an inspiration which he has followed ever since.

Number Three—A lad was lost. He wandered onto the Rockefeller mystery links. The oil king saw him. He took him into the house, gave him a dime and sent him home. And the 10 cent party sprang from that.

Whatever the cause, "Dime Day" has become to the youth of Tarrytown a day apart, ranking with Christmas and the Fourth of July.

LATEST FASHIONS AS SEEN IN ROTTEN ROW

Frocks of Fluttering, Flowering Order Look Graceful When Caught by Breeze.

LONDON, July 2.—Observing the fashion world go by from a bench on London's "Rotten Row" one sees that the season's modest trend to more conservative skirts, higher waist lines, picture hats a yard wide and pointed American shoes. The dressmaker's intent seems to be to cover what was once uncovered. Ankle-length skirts, voluminous sleeves, high neck-lines and loose-fitting gowns that subordinate the contour of the body, seem destined to restore woman's lost charm of mystery.

Most frocks are of the fluttering, flowing order which, caught by the breeze, look very graceful. Foulards are taking the place of georgette and crepe de laes. Hats are circled with posies instead of being covered with plumes. Parasols are of foulard with wallpaper designs, or figures of green parrots or love birds. Long, narrow feet are the craze of the moment, and slender, high-heeled shoes of snakeskin are coming into vogue.

For evening attire blackless frocks with diamond or pearl supports are popular with some women of fashion. Many evening gowns are of new cloth of silver or gold that resembles molten metal and that shimmers and glitters brilliantly under the electric light. Trains are inclined to be shorter, and are usually of gold or silver net. The new transparent cloaks which are being worn are trimmed with white grey and black monkey fur.

Very little jewelry is worn; only a simple chain of jade or amber, or a Chinese Mandarin's collar of teakwood beads.

Persistent advertising is absolutely necessary to succeed.

54th Birthday

Even since the oil king celebrated his 84th birthday, Tarrytown has been seething over the question of who is its oldest citizen. There is no question as to the most famous.

An ancient who sits in front of the big hardware store, just around the corner from the station, concedes first place to John D. The ancient admits he is only 83.

But an Italian has asserted his grandfather is 88—and there is a farmer who lays claim to 90. Still, even in the face of odds, Tarrytown stands loyally behind its prominent citizen, and announces to the world that its oldest citizen today is none other than the man who made oil famous.

But the town maintains that Mr. Rockefeller is still a youngster in spirits.

"Any man who plays golf as frequently as he does," began one citizen, when he was interrupted with a question as to whether John D.'s private links were regular size.

"Certainly it is, but John D. goes around it slowly," replied the citizen, but another Tarrytowner broke in with a denial.

"It is not. It is only about four notes of a normal course. And

SONS OF CANADA WINNERS AGAIN

Took Second Lacrosse Fixture From Elks Last Evening by a Score of 4 to 2.

The Sons of Canada repeated their victory over the Elks last night in the second lacrosse game of the league series by a score of 4 to 2. The game was a well-contested one with good lively play to be seen all the way. The Elks, while getting many opportunities and having their share of the play, were held well by Brown, the Sons' goal keeper, who stopped many goals being scored against his side. He seemed to be right on the spot whenever he was needed. Harry Menzies, who scored three of the Sons' goals, was the star of his side although the speed of Eric Macintosh was very noticeable and of great assistance in keeping the play in the Sons' end. La Casse was in his usual good form. Taylor and MacLachlan served the Elks with their usual effectiveness and Gonzalez was in the play a great deal. Eddie Smith scored both goals for the Elks and Jacobs scored one for the Sons. The game went four full periods the scores at the end of each being: first, Elks, 1; Sons, 2; second, Elks, 1; Sons, 2; third, Elks, 2; Sons, 3; fourth, Elks, 2; Sons, 4.

George D. Tite was referee, Ben Self and Howard Frizzell, goal judges and T. R. Hooper, timekeeper. The teams lined up as follows:

Elks—H. Lipssett, Jack McTuley, I. Styles, F. Gilhuly, S. Brigglesworth, J. Mitchell, B. Hooper, Eddie Smith, A. A. Eason, M. M. MacLachlan, M. Gonzalez and S. W. Taylor.

PROPOSALS FOR BIG FLAG DAY

Elks Committee Wrestling With Problem at Meeting Tonight

ANYOX TEAM MAY COME

The Elks are considering the possibility of meeting the Anyox Elks here with an all-star Elks team on the evenings of August 8 and 9. The ninth is flag day and the whole of the afternoon will be given up to the children when there will be sports and games on Acropolis Hill. It is also proposed to hold a dance in the evening, most likely at the Exhibition Hall.

The Anyox team is ready to come but the question of meeting them with a team strong enough to put up a good game is one that is exercising the Elks committee. It is pointed out by advocates of the game that many of the good players in the other city teams are Elks and that a strong team could be picked that would likely prove a winner. Two games could be played, one on the evening of the eighth and the other on the evening of Flag Day.

A smoker on the evening of the eighth is also suggested at which some good boxing bouts with Anyox men would be staged.

The whole matter will be considered by the committee tonight and a decision arrived at. So far the only definite arrangement is in regard to the children's sports in the afternoon of the ninth and the big Elks dance at night.

MANY ENJOY PICNIC AT DIGBY ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Myhill-Jones Entertain Number of Friends at Beach.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Myhill-Jones entertained a party of friends on a picnic to Digby. The launch "Oh Baby" was packed to capacity and upon arrival the party immediately had supper. According to the men's opinion of the eatables it was some spread.

After supper the ladies decamped to the hospital island for a walk while the men played baseball and amused themselves by showing Clark Eady (the S. O. C. pitcher) that he was right off color, that evening at least.

The big party then gathered round a good bonfire and sang songs full of pep. Bruce Stephens was the soloist. Prince Rupert was reached at 1:30 a.m. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Jabour, Mr. and Mrs. Westaway, Mr. and Mrs. Eady and families, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Beth Macdonald, Mrs. Delmonico and the Misses May Mill and Doris Bealby of Vancouver; Misses Sarah McLeod, Ladora Hallan, May Burgess, Lillian Warrior and Kathleen Bulger, Messrs. James Thompson, John Bulger, C. O. Rowe, Squires, Ralph Macdonald, Harry Hawkins, Dick Howe, Roth Gordon, Jack Stephens, Arthur Warrior and Bruce Stephens.

Sport Chat

It is not often a sporting event is the most talked of thing in Prince Rupert but such was the case yesterday morning with the Gallies-Sons of Canada football game and its sensational outcome on Tuesday night. People were talking about it everywhere and it showed clearly what a lively interest is being taken in sport in the city. The Scotchmen, generally, were certainly delighted and there were very few fans of any following who were really displeased at the result although the Sons at first had good reason to feel a little vexed. Nobody begrudged the followers of the Thistle the winning of the trophy but all joined in congratulations. The Gallies were victors in one of the very best games seen here this season, indeed one of the best ever played in the history of the city and it was no reflection on the Sons that they were defeated. The way the match came out should prove a great boost for the interest and enthusiasm for the soccer game from now on.

The Sons of Canada and the Knights of Columbus are scheduled to meet tonight in a Senior Baseball League fixture. Both teams are on their toes and eager for victory for it will mean a good deal to either. A Canadian victory will mean a good substantial lead in the league race while a loss will mean the sharing of the top position with the Knights of Columbus. The way the games have been going already this year assures that the contest will be a keenly-contested affair with the chances of either team very even.

Kid Lewis, the welter and middle-weight champion of Great Britain, must have learned much during his long stay in the United States, despite his reverses in his last year there, for he has won all sorts of championships since returning to England. His latest achievement was knocking out Frank Burns, the middle-weight champion of Australia, making Lewis the title-holder of the Empire in that division.

Up until the 11th and last round of the bout Burns out-pointed Lewis, in the opinion of several boxing experts, but in that period the Kid made a clever feint and then crossed a smashing right to the jaw that landed the Australian on his back. Lewis was criticized for holding part of the way. Burns lost the championship, for which he had come all the way from Australia, but he took home a gold medal for rescuing a drowning man. One night at his training camp Burns jumped out of bed and into the Thames in the dark after the unfortunate man, and succeeded in bringing him ashore.

BOOKIES OPERATING TORONTO ILLEGALLY

Stakes on Horses Laid in Hotels and Cafes But all is Secret

TORONTO, July 27. — Illegal handbook gambling seems to be thriving in Toronto. Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General of Ontario, states that he has read that illegal betting on horses is going on "to some extent" in the city, but it does not take long to find a bookmaker in Toronto, if one is disposed to place a bet. It is true the handbook men have no "spillers" in front of their offices, nor have they any signs out advertising their business.

Unpopular in Business Places

In fact the bookmaking fraternity is in part an "underground" organization, although many of the members of the law-breaking brotherhood are known. The restaurant keepers know them. Several downtown cafeterias had to serve notice on some of their customers, who did an unusual amount of lounging after meals, that they could not countenance the carrying on of the bookmaking business on their premises. These warnings had to be repeated over and over again and still the "bookies" drift back to their old haunts. This applies also to some of the hotels. The whispering and mysterious-acting fraternity has generally a few of its representatives posted around in lobbies, rotundas and vestibules. One does not need to be endowed with the almost supernatural gifts of discernment of a Sherlock Holmes to see and hear what business these people are engaged in.

"Catching the Sucker"

It is plain that there is a plan of campaign and some measure of organization in "catching the sucker."

A "smooth dresser," as he is known in the phraseology of the gang, will "hang around" a hotel lobby for hours at a stretch. Suddenly another chap rushes in. He scans the faces of those around and recognizes the man he seeks. There are a few seconds of hurried conversation and then a third man is introduced. There are more whisperings, gestures intended to carry assurance and confidence, pattings and slaps on the back, and the stranger follows into an unobtrusive corner and there parts with some of his money and—another "sucker" is caught in the net with the bait of a "sure tip."

HEAD HUNTERS SUPERSTITIOUS

Must Have Human Craniums to Insure Good Crops For Season

RAIDS MADE IN SPRING

Horrible Ceremony Connected With Return Home With Victims

RANGOON, June 27.—Ralph E. Henderson, a Harvard graduate who has spent the past eight months travelling in southern Asia, has just completed a trip through the British "unadministered territory" of northeastern Burma and into the Chinese province of Yunnan, neither of which have been thoroughly explored by white men.

Among the wild tribes encountered on this trip were the head-hunting Wa. Hitherto little has been definitely known concerning the life and customs of this tribe, as most of those who intruded upon Wa territory failed to return. The Wa do not hunt heads primarily from cannibalistic motives, but rather because of their belief that their crops will fail unless some fresh human skulls are imported every year. Under this impression, they organize head-hunting expeditions every spring, and it is small consolation to the unfortunate traveller who falls into their hands that it is only his skull that is wanted.

Must Have Heads

Writing of the wild Wa people, Mr. Henderson says: "The Wa are especially keen on hunting heads during February, March and April—just before the planting season. From the Wa angle of looking at it, the business isn't the madness we take it to be. It is a convention, and quite as reasonable as afternoon tea. Every decently religious Wa knows that unless the seed grain is properly charmed and conjured with a human hand, the crop raised from it will be a failure. And who wants to starve? In fact, if worst comes to worst, and there are no heads forthcoming from raids on neighbors, the Wa prefer to take the head of some feeble person in the village, rather than run the risk of scant crops and consequent empty stomachs.

"In February, March and April, then, the wild Wa men go a-hunting. Of course, any head that offers itself to be collected is regarded as fair game, and it behooves the man working alone cutting jungle or the woman hoeing alone in the field to be cautious when the Wa are about. A common artifice is to barricade some jungle highway and lie in ambush, some distance just behind the barricade, some on either side, to rush down on the flanks of any party caught in the trap.

Over Twelve Years

"Heads of men, women and children over 12 years old are acceptable. Heads marked with smallpox, for superstitious reasons, are not desired. A successful foray is one which yields one or more corpses. Immediately the heads are cut off and put in bags. Then back home go the rejoicing Wa, not neglecting to take the bodies along for the larder, and raising a tremendous whooping and hulahalo along the way. At home there is a ceremony to perform. The wife or mother of the man who made the kill takes the head out of the bag and proceeds to wash over it formally. She must wash the blood from the dead face, and wait an incantational song as she does so. She must work herself into a sentimental frenzy, which feat under the circumstances is usually easy of performance. If her waiting lacks the ring of genuineness, her husband helps to supply that which is lacking by beating her.

Aid of Spirit

This song, strangely enough, beseeches the aid of the spirit of the head, and addresses it as a mighty ruler. It is this spirit which is to promote the growth of the crops, and it must be treated with great reverence. I heard this song once.

"After the head has been washed and waited over, a raw egg is put into the dead mouth, to feed the spirit. Then the head is thrust up on a pole. A basket of seed paddy (rice) is put under it and left for a few days. As the head decays, the droppings fall into the seed paddy, and are thoroughly mixed with it. The paddy is then ready to plant, and a good crop is insured."

CHRISTIAN GENERAL GOVERNOR OF HONAN

Feng Yuh Siang Insists Those Who Will Not Work Must Leave.

NEW YORK, July 27.—A personal picture of General Feng Yuh Siang, known as the Christian general in the forces of Wan Pei-Fu, is contained in a letter from Bishop F. R. Graves of Shanghai which has been received here by Protestant Episcopal leaders. Bishop Graves is said to have known General Feng for a number of years.

"Feng has been elevated to the governorship of Honan province," writes Bishop Graves, "and it is characteristic of him that when he attended a big reception recently in his honor he rode to the V. M. C. A. hall on a bicycle with a few unarmored attendants, instead of being surrounded by the customary mounted cavalcade. His first Sunday as governor found General Feng attending a joint service of all the Christian denominations in Kaifeng at the Sheng Kung Hui, or Episcopal church. Here the Christian general preached a sermon from the text: 'To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not, to him it is sin!'

Everyone Must Work.
"He appropriated out of his private funds a sum sufficient to care for the beggars who infested the city until employment could be obtained for them at the same time announcing that those who wouldn't work for a living must leave Honan."

Feng, according to Episcopal missionaries, became a convert to Christianity eleven years ago, when, attacked by a disease which native physicians declared incurable, he was restored to health by the ministrations of a Christian medical missionary. Thousands of his soldiers have embraced the religious faith of their leader and victory on the field is frequently followed by a service of thanksgiving of a Christian character which is led by General Feng himself, it is reported.

"General Feng is somewhat of a Cromwell in his religious ideas," Bishop Graves said, "but there is no question at all of his sincerity. He shares hard conditions with his men."

FOX RANCHERS PROPOSE FORMING ASSOCIATION

Forestry Service Will Co-operate With Men Engaged in Industry in Alaska

JUNEAU, July 27.—Organization of a fox ranchers' association is suggested by Forest Supervisor G. T. Gardner in a letter to individuals now engaged in that industry in the Tongass National Forest. For this purpose Mr. Gardner proposes a convention of Southeastern Alaska fox ranchers to be held this fall and offers the aid of the Forest Service in the matter.

In his communication to the fox farmers, Mr. Gardner said: "After a careful survey of the fox farm industry in Southeastern Alaska and the many new conditions with which the farmers have to contend, it is believed that a fox farmers' association would be of very great value to those connected with the industry."

"The Forest Service will gladly lend its assistance in forming an association of this kind."

"I should like to suggest that a point central to the industry in general be selected and that the meeting be held this fall, when most convenient."

"By-laws of an Eastern association have been secured which can be used as a guide in forming the Alaska association."

CURIOUS WILL OF MAN WHO LOST AT JUTLAND

Was Engraved on Polished Brass Disc and Seen from Angles.

LONDON, July 27.—Strange as the story of any document told in fiction is that of a will which has just been admitted to probate and is now filed in Somerset House.

It is the "last will and testament" of a sailor, William Skinner, who lost his life when his ship, the Indefatigable, was sunk in the battle of Jutland. It is in the form of the ordinary identification disc. On one side, in the usual deeply-punched letters, appears the name, number, rating and religion of the man to whom it had been issued.

On the other side the disc appears at first sight to be just a circular piece of smooth, polished brass. But when viewed at a certain angle, there can be seen about 75 minutely engraved words. With a microscope they can be plainly read. They constitute Skinner's will by which he bequeaths everything to his wife. The disc had been recovered from the sea with Skinner's body and on being cleaned revealed its secret.
