Mateas Donaldson, Fisherman of Schooner Republic, Lost His Life on Halibut Grounds

The American halibut schooner Republic, Capt. W. Hegge, arrived in port this morning with her flag at half mast signifying the loss of Mateas Donaldson, a member of the crew, who fell out of a dory while the boat was fishing off Cape St. Elias. The body was not recovered.

The tragedy happened in the early morning of November 22 when the dory had been launched, along with several others, before daylight. At the time of the accident the weather was thick and the darkness hampered the efforts of attending dories in their attempts at a rescue. From accounts of the happening, it appears that Donaldson, along with two other members of the crew, was fishing when the deceased lost balance and fell into the water. The body never came to the surface.

Donaldson, who was 60 years of age, was heavily clad and the weather was particularly cold at the time. Capt. Hegge is of the opinion that deceased was seized with cramps when he struck the water and with his heavy clothing saturated, the body was taken underneath. The oars, which Donaldson was using at the time of the occurrence, were recovered but although the attending dories patrolled the vicinity for some time the body was not seen to rise.

Decedent, a brother-in-law of Capt. Hegge, was a native of Norway and a resident of Seattle. He leaves a wife and five children.

Capt. Hegge will leave for Seattle on the Union boat tonight to communicate the sad news to the relatives of the deceased.

ESTIMATES THIS WEEK

Workmen's Compensation Act and Liquor Act Amendments Are Coming Up

NO ATTACK MADE ON ATTORNEY-GENERAL

VICTORIA, Nov. 28.—This week will be devoted largely by the legislature to the estimates.

The budget debate closed at the end of last week without criticism towards the attorney-general's department. This was quite unusual. The debate lasted a week.

Amendments to the Workmen's Compensation and Liquor Acts will be brought down during the week and the resolution asking the Dominion to stop liquor imports will be disposed of.

Major Burde's eight-hour day bill will be a storm centre and chiropractors' affairs will still be in committee.

SIX YEARS FOR FARMER

James Austin, Aged 70, Found Guilty of Manslaughter in Killing Cyril Green, Is Sentenced

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28.—James Austin, a seventy-year old Surrey farmer, was yesterday sentenced to six years in the penitentiary following his conviction on a manslaughter charge.

Austin was at first charged with the murder of his neighbor and old time friend, Cyril H. Green, on August 17 along the Coast Meridian road near the International Boundary. The jury hearing the case before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald reduced their finding to manslaughter.

Austin's defence was that he shot Green while he was trespassing on his property. The prosecution basis was that Green had been shot on the road.

Donald Donaghy was crown prosecutor and J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., had the defence.

BURDE PRESSSES EIGHT HOUR DAY BILL VICTORIA

Uses Some Strong Terms in Regard to Lumbermen's Association

VICTORIA, Nov. 28.—Using such terms in regard to the Lumbermen's Association as "a band of brigands," Major Richard Burde, member for Alberni, yesterday urged the legislature to pass his eight-hour day bill. He said none of the business affected would be injured by the passing of the bill. Emergencies were provided for and, if further changes were necessary, he was willing that anything reasonable be included. Twenty thousand workers unanimously favored the bill. It was suggested by lobbyists that the bill would strangle industries but as it was the workers were being strangled, Major Burde declared. Fifty percent of the wages in the lumber industry went to Chinese and Japanese yet the people were asked to protect the heritage from life. Poor mice worked two shifts of twelve hours each.

The most of the standard trades, Major Burde stated, had the eight-hour day except the lumber business where Oriental competition worked more men and longer hours. White men employed wanted work and such a condition was not right.

Amendments to the Workmen's Compensation and Liquor Acts will be brought down during the week and the resolution asking the Dominion to stop liquor imports will be disposed of.

Major Burde's eight-hour day bill will be a storm centre and chiropractors' affairs will still be in committee.

INVESTIGATION BOOTH SCHOOL

City Council Asks Legislature to Follow up Start Made

SIX YEARS FOR FARMER

The city council will ask the legislature at Victoria to conduct an investigation into the Booth School construction. On the motion of Alderman Kerr, the members of the council at their meeting last night expressed themselves in favor of having an enquiry into the whole matter of the school, preferably by the members of the government.

Alderman Kerr, in making the motion, drew attention to the fact that the Booth School had been discussed in the House and that it would be a good idea to have the government look into the matter.

Alderman Montgomery said it was a very timely suggestion and such an investigation would be better than one organized here.

He declared that there were no hopes of having a start made here and that he was quite satisfied that the general public would like to see it acted on at once. He added that it was high time something was done.

The alderman also suggested that the ball be started rolling by the member who brought it up in the House and also that the actual figures for the cost of construction be submitted to the commission looking into the matter together with the money granted by the government.

ALBERT IS CARRYING COAL TO OCEAN FALLS

The G. T. P. steamer Prince Albert, Capt. Neil McLean, which went south about a week ago, will not be back in this port for about a month it is expected. The vessel has been engaged for the carrying of coal from Vancouver Island to the Pacific Mills at Ocean Falls.

According to reports from Constable Mancor, a warrant has been issued for Kilmarlin's arrest and he was taken in here today by the provincial officers.

Wm. Vanderlip of Terrace who went bail for $500 for Kilmarlin has withdrawn the bail.

Clara Kilmarlin was brought down last night from Terrace and lodged in the city jail. Following her conviction by Magistrate Kenney at Terrace, the woman secured bail and an appeal was entered. No sooner did she get out than she got into a fight and landed in custody again.

Archie Donaghy, of Terrace, prosecuted and M. Gonzales of this city defended the liquor charge at Terrace.

Information here is to the effect that Kilmarlin's buildings in Terrace are just frame structures one of which was built last spring and is heavily mortgaged.

Local Members Press Prince Rupert Claim for Grain Facilities

VICTORIA, Nov. 28.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, member for Prince Rupert, and Hon. A. M. Manson, Omineca, both spoke on behalf of Prince Rupert as a grain shipping port when Mrs. Smith's resolution asking for more grain elevators on the coast and a continuation of the fight for the abolition of the freight differential between Eastern and Western shipments came before the Legislature yesterday.

Mrs. Smith and Capt. Ian MacKenzie spoke of Vancouver's need and M. B. Jackson, member for the Islands, suggested keeping the transportation of grain to the Canadian port of Vancouver.

"How about Prince Rupert?" inquired Mr. Manson.

"Yes, and Prince Rupert when her time comes," was Mr. Jackson's reply.

Hon. W. J. Bowser hinted that the fulfilling of the terms of the resolution would perhaps mean Prince Rupert as well as Vancouver.

Prince Rupert's Case

Mr. Pattullo said he was heartily in sympathy with the resolution. Referring to the situation at Prince Rupert, he thought that things said slightly and in jest of Prince Rupert might be taken seriously. The port had aspirations for elevators and coal bunkers and he personally thought the aspirations were justified. He hoped that, when Prince Rupert's case came up, it would receive an unanimous support as this. He had all admiration and respect for Vancouver but other ports in the province had strategic position even better than Vancouver. Nature had placed Prince Rupert two days closer than Vancouver to one of the world's largest markets.

Major Burde asked why no reference had been made to Alberni. The resolution passed unanimously.

Major Burde urged that the city be allowed to tax all occupants of business premises on the basis of rental values.

A delegation of bankers appeared in opposition to the proposed taxation.

KILMARLIN BURNED OUT

Candy Store and House at Terrace Put Up as Bail Lost in Flames

Chief Minty, of the provincial police, received a wire today from Constable Mancor, of Terrace, stating that the candy store and house owned by Paddy Kilmarlin had been destroyed by fire this morning. No other damage was reported.

The property had been put up by Kilmarlin as his bail on a charge of allowing liquor to be sold on his premises. He was arrested in the court room on Saturday morning on a warrant issued by the police following the conviction of Clara Pickering, alias Kilmarlin, for selling liquor.

According to reports from Constable Mancor, a warrant has been issued for Kilmarlin's arrest and he was taken in here today by the provincial officers. Wm. Vanderlip of Terrace who went bail for $500 for Kilmarlin has withdrawn the bail.

Clara Kilmarlin was brought down last night from Terrace and lodged in the city jail. Following her conviction by Magistrate Kenney at Terrace, the woman secured bail and an appeal was entered. No sooner did she get out than she got into a fight and landed in custody again.

Archie Donaghy, of Terrace, prosecuted and M. Gonzales of this city defended the liquor charge at Terrace.

Information here is to the effect that Kilmarlin's buildings in Terrace are just frame structures one of which was built last spring and is heavily mortgaged.

DAILY EDITION

Tuesday, Nov. 28, 1922.

Christmas Is Not Far Away.

The head of the house is being reminded these days from several quarters that Christmas is only four weeks away, says the Edmonton Bulletin. Whether that sounds to him like good news or like threats of trouble to come depends on his point of view. If his resources are ample and his liberality unbound he may anticipate the privilege of dispensing pleasure in the community as the sun scatters light. Otherwise situated, his mental reaction is necessarily different.

Safe And Sane
Christmas Giving.

There is room for a movement toward a more "safe and sane" type of Christmas giving, not necessarily implying a curtailment of the amount of giving, but involving a better direction of the impulse. Christmas in fact has rather got out of hand. So much so that nobody has a very clear idea where his responsibilities begin and end in the matter of presents. Who does not feel that he in some way fails to fulfil an obligation if he does not celebrate the day by firing a broadside of trinkets at the whole circle of his acquaintances? And sometimes when the affair is over one is tempted to think that it has been mainly a time for the general swapping of miscellaneous merchandise; much of the swapping being done without regard to need, wisdom, advisability or consequence, and some of it in hope of getting the better of the shuffle.

Time Favorable For Readjusting Ideas.

The times seem favorable for a re-adjustment of ideas along this as other lines; for getting away from the grip of custom and recovering individual liberty of action in the matter of giving. The conditions in fact almost compel a re-adjustment of the kind. They will actually do so in an unusually high percentage of cases. That may not be a change for the worse in any respect. There is an infinite amount of "trash" exchanged at Christmas time; trifles which mean nothing, are not useful, are not wanted, are not expected, and are not appreciated. If giving were more confined one could make his gifts more worth while, could give things which would be serviceable, and which would be valued by the recipients. The cost might be the same, and the effect upon business would be just as wholesome, while the giver would get infinitely more satisfaction out of the process. There is little pleasure in squandering a dollar to give something to a person who doesn't want it, merely to show that one is a good fellow. But there is a vast amount of gratification in spending that extra dollar to give something that will be really welcome to a person to whom one feels that he should make a present. And the more dollars that are wasted in useless gifts or meaningless giving the less there are to invest in the kind of giving that blesses both the giver and the receiver.

Start Early On Christmas Buying.

The one and only way to take the dread out of Christmas giving—and Christmas buying—is to start early. The earlier the better. The expense and bother are thus distributed over a longer period. One avoids the rush at the eleventh hour, and also avoids that "all gone" feeling in the region of the purse that comes after he has dashed frantically about on Christmas eve and loaded up with whatever came handy. It pays to put forth thought as well as money into the Christmas present, to make it something that will fit the occasion, the circumstances and the relationship between the one who gives and the one who receives. That cannot be done to advantage in the last week before Christmas. It is none too early now to drop around to the stores occasionally, look over what is displayed, and deliberately select what seems likely to be most acceptable to those to whom one intends to convey his sentiments in the prescribed and appropriate manner.

Do you realize the risk you run riding in a crowded train or street-car without a Peps tablet in your mouth?

Every sneeze, every cough, fills the air you breathe with countless disease-germs that immediately make for any weak spot in your throat and chest. Be wise, always carry Peps, and occasionally let one of these germ-killing tablets dissolve in your mouth to ward off the infection. Then you will not be "full of cold" on the morrow, with the possibility of influenza, pleurisy or pneumonia supervening.

Just as you breathe in the germs that cause infectious throat and lung ailments, etc., so you must breathe in the soothing germicidal Peps medicine to rout out the germs before they can cause serious trouble. Free from harmful drugs, Peps are the safest and best remedy for sudden colds and chills, grippe, sore throat, laryngitis, night-cough, hoarseness, wheeziness, bronchitis and chest weakness in old and young.

charges. He said there was no limit to the mistakes made in spending the people's money. "If an election were brought on during the coming year he was ready to accept the challenge. All were agreed that even the best country in the world could not stand the reckless pace kept up by the present government.

VICTORIA, Nov. 27.—In the Legislature last week W. J. Bowser congratulated the minister of finance on his clear, lucid and comprehensive budget but declared he had covered with a sugar-coating a nasty financial pill. He criticized what he called the new method of bookkeeping by which some of the expenditures were relegated to capital account, took strong exception to the savings by short loans and refused to believe that anything in the speech was good or that anything emanating from the Government side of the House could be good.

Following the advertising given the speech in the local morning paper, the galleries were fairly well filled with spectators to listen to the onslaught and most of the members were in their seats.

In opening the leader of the opposition spoke of reckless expenditures. The Government could not afford to do so for there were too many hungry hangers on to make it possible. According to the budget there was a deficit of nearly three millions and the present year did not bear promise of anything but the same old story of more deficits. It took three and a half million to pay the interest on the debt, exchange and commissions and as a result sensible people looked with fear on the condition of the finances. The deficits for five years totalled seven and a half million dollars.

Had a Heart

The speaker objected to showing arrears of taxes as assets. When the Government first came into power they had collected between three and four million dollars in back taxes and this should under the same custom have been credited to its Government. In answer to a question he said he did not collect the taxes because he had a heart. Today tax sales and putting in of bailiffs was the order of the day. The present Government had done nothing but borrow since it came into power. This Government had sold land and timber and had put the money back into roads, bridges and trails.

Mr. Bowser defended the action of the previous Government in guaranteeing the bonds on the C.N.R. and said the result had justified it. The road had not cost the province a cent but had been a great benefit. He compared it with the P.G.E. and said he had no respect for the latter or for its incompetent management.

"Financial wizard" and similar terms were used freely by Mr. Bowser in speaking of Mr. Hart, especially in connection with his showing that the net debt was only $37,000,000. "Who is this financial wizard?" he asked, but did not attempt to answer.

Rip Van Winkle

Dealing with the University, he said he thought this a good time to make the statement that he had always been in favor of the University. He referred to the delays of the present Government and deferred at length to caucus rule. The ex-attorney general had been in a Rip Van Winkle sleep up to 1921 when he got a $100,000 special warrant passed on the eve of the election. Then he went to sleep again and it was not until April last when he wrote to the minister of education to show how he had been dying to get the students better housed. There was only one thing to do now and that was to build the University. His friends across the House were doing nothing but waste money. They were absolutely helpless. He viewed with suspicion the recent announcement that the University was to be built.

In regard to the re-assessment of timber lands, the leader of the opposition charged that the valuation could have been done for 26c an acre instead of the 35c being paid. He thought the work should have been let by contract.

Industrial Loans

Industrial loans he suggested were in bad shape and the poorest judgment had been used by officials of the Government in making the loans, 49 out of 61 of which were in arrears. The losses would be between eighty and ninety per cent.

Mr. Bowser then made a plea for the Peace River people who wanted an investigation into graft

LINE-UP FOR CIVIC HONORS

Members of Present Council are Canvassed on Their Intentions

Prospective candidates for civic honors next year seem to have adopted the "wait and see" policy before throwing their hats in the ring. A recent canvass of the present city fathers brought out the information that a number have their eyes on the chief magistrate's chair although they refuse to state definitely whether they will be aspirants or not.
Each is waiting for the other to declare himself.

Mayor Harry Rochester says he will not definitely announce his intentions till the middle of December although he admits that he has been asked by a number of citizens to stand again.

George Kerr also refuses to divulge his intentions at present although he too admits pressure has run for the Mayor's chair. He may, however, drop this idea and confess his seat on the council.

Ald. John Dybhavn is being mentioned very strongly for the mayorality. On being questioned Monday he said he would run for one office or the other. He thinks it would be better to see what the future will bring in the form of candidates.

Ald. Collart said he had been asked to run for mayor. In any case, he would allow his name to go on the ballot paper for the council.

Ald. Montgomery says it is still a question with him whether or not he will run for the mayorality.
He is known to have stated that if a certain man ever ran for the office he would run too and there is a persistent rumor that the other man will run.

Ald. Montgomerie has another idea in his head. He points out that a man can run for a number of offices in the election. He specially mentioned that of alderman, school trustee and police commissioner but refused to say he would contest all of them.

Ald. Kelly will most likely try to retain his seat on the council but that is as far as his aspirations will reach this time.

Ald. Silversides has come out with the statement that two terms on the council is enough for him and that he will let somebody else have a chance.

Ald. McLeod is considering running for the council again but he does not take much stock in the mayor's office.

The United Labor Party consisting of the labor men of the city are busy drawing up a slate for the new council and other offices but have not definitely mentioned a candidate for mayor.
They will most likely make a report next Tuesday.

RESIDENTS OF SIXTH AVENUE ASK THAT STREET BE OPENED

N. Mussallum and a number of other residents of Sixth Avenue submitted a letter to the city council at the meeting last night regarding the decision of the council not to rough grade the street. The letter drew attention to the fact that the street was now closed at both ends. The people of Fifth and Seventh Avenues were not paying any higher taxes than the people on Sixth Avenue and they felt that if the street was not to be rough graded, it should be open at least.

Alderman Dykhavn, in speaking of the letter, stated that if the writers had been familiar with the facts they would not have brought the matter to the attention of the council again. The council, he said, was not in a position to undertake the work and it must be the work of next year's council.

Mayor Rochester declared that the council did not have the money. He added, however, that he had asked the city engineer to look into the feasibility of lowering the planks until such time as the money was available for rough grading and this plan would be the solution for the problem for the winter at least.

That the lowering of the planks would not be any good at all was the view taken by Aldermen Montgomery and McLeod. They pointed out that the street was the oldest in the city, having been built by the government fourteen years ago and that new lumber would be needed.

The matter was left over till the engineer makes his report on the plan.

ASKS PLEBISCITE ON ROUGH GRADING

Alderman McLeod, at the meeting of the city council last night, gave notice of motion to be discussed at the next meeting whereby a plebiscite should be submitted to the people at the coming of rough grading. His scheme election in regard to the policy goes.

LOST IN NORTHLAND FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS

Archie Brighton Finds Way Back to Civilization in Saskatchewan

Saskatoon, Nov. 27.—Lost among the Indians of the north country for 17 years, Archie Brighton, now 33 years of age, found his way back to civilization and his old home at Battleford last week. According to his story, he left for the Yukon with some miners in 1905, and was taken north by them and finally abandoned among the Indians.

Since then until he finally found his way back he had never seen a newspaper and lived the life of the aborigines, knowing not where he was nor the passage of time. He was amazed to find North Battleford a city where there had been but a few cabin at the time he left. After some searching he located his old home on the banks of the Battle river south of Battleford.

CITY BUYS LAUNCH SHAWATLANS LAKE

Boat Bought From N. M. McLean at Price of $750

The recommendation of the finance committee that a launch owned by N. M. McLean be purchased by the city for use on Shawatlans Lake in connection with the power plant was adopted by the city council last night. The boat will cost $750 and constituted one of four tenders submitted. The other tenders were lower but the committee on examining the boats found Mr. McLean's to be the most serviceable. The hull is six months old and is 24 feet by 7 feet eight inches wide with a ten horse power engine.

DANA FILM THRILLER OF SECRET SERVICE

Thrilling Story of the Law and Romance Among Opium Smugglers

Secret service agents and opium smugglers furnish the story of Viola Dana's latest picture, "There are no Villains," which opened last night at the Westholme Theatre. The production proved just as thrilling as one would expect from such a subject.

In the character of a Federal steamer Miss Dana becomes a stenographer in a business man's office and then following the trail of the opium smugglers acts as nurse to one of the supposed members of the gang. But the female detective falls in love with the man she is nursing and her attempts to save him from the law bring about many exciting incidents.

As the female secret service agent Miss Dana gives a portrayal that is full of dramatic thrills, Gaston Glass as a crippled smuggler is excellent. Others in the cast are Edward Cecil, De Witt Jennings, Fred Kelsey and Jack Cosgrave.

The final adoption of bylaw 401 to permit the city to advertise for sale any property acquired by the city in tax sales took place at the meeting of the city council last night.

Will Your Boy Be Educated?

Of course he will, because you want to see him grow up to be a "real" man. When he gets out into the world and makes his mark, what pleasure and satisfaction it will bring to you!

But there is just one consideration—suppose you do not live until he is fitted for his life's work. This thought has escaped many a man. It is the chief reason ninety per cent. of children never complete their High School course.

The matter can easily be arranged—an education guaranteed to your children—through life insurance.

It is one of the great pleasures of life insurance representatives to be able to advise fathers and mothers how to provide for the education of their children, who will afterwards pay honor to their parents, holding them in high regard for this chance in life.

In the Letter Box*MEDICAL QUESTION AND LAW

Editor, Daily News:

The Medical Association is blamed for the position in which Chiropractors are placed by reason of an amendment to the Medical Act, in March 1921. The chiropractors applied for a bill to enable them to be examined before a board, composed of their own members. The medical men opposed this and a conflict ensued, which resulted in the amendment referred to requiring chiropractors and others to pass an examination satisfactory to the Medical Council before being permitted to practise in the province. This amendment virtually places the Medical Council in the position of a judge, to decide a dispute to which it is a party. The council's claim that it is a question of qualification is understood, as it happens to be a judge of these. Now, if this is a good law, the people, many of whom pride about their institutions, should show their appreciation of it by congratulating not only the government but their representatives, so called for its passage.

At the same session an amendment to the Act was proposed requiring doctors, after diagnosing a case, to file a record of their findings, a feature of standardized hospitals, where standardization exists in fact and not in name only. The first amendment aimed to give to the Medical Council (a body whose members are neither elected by the people nor appointed by the government, and in actual fact represent and are responsible to less than one per cent of the population) a virtual right to decide who should and should not treat the sick—it carried.

The proposed amendment was an attempt and would have had the effect of protecting the sick against the danger of wrong medical treatment being administered.

THE DAILY NEWS*System Run Down Blood Out of Order

Many people become run down, but don't know just exactly what their trouble is, when, as a rule, it is improper circulation of the blood.

All they need is a good tonic to build up the system and put the blood into proper shape.

For this purpose there is nothing on the market today to equal

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. H. Poole, Port Dover, Ont., writes:

"My system was run down and my blood out of order, and I suffered a great deal from pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. A friend told me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got a bottle and before it was used I found it was doing me good. I kept on until I had taken three, and now I feel like a different woman."

My husband also took it and it has built him up."

For the past 44 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ed, which sometimes occurs, with serious results. It failed to carry, because the protectors of the privileged interests were then in force to prevent its passage.

"Beware of Greeks."

There is an old adage that reads: "Beware of the Greeks when they come bearing gifts," and amply applies to medical societies who like all seekers after special privileges, base their claims for legislation on the unwarranted assumption that their efforts are prompted solely by zeal for the public welfare. Unfortunately such canting hypocrites is too often swallowed by the unsophisticated.

The Medical Association enjoys what is virtually a monopoly of the healing art, at the same time assumes the right to refuse medical aid when so inclined. This is a special brand of privilege, the nature of which requires the most vivid emphasis that can be given it. The Medical Act provides no protection for the public against the incompetent healer, as sufficient proof cannot be adduced to secure a conviction (although evidence for the defence is generally superfluous) and unfortunate can be buried into eternity through his lack of judgment and caution, and there is absolutely no redress. Further, it would be interesting to have one single instance pointed out where during the past 25 years, a doctor in this province had suffered on account of tragedies enacted by reason of his incompetence. Such inequalities in the administration of justice (due to defective laws) constitute a scandal in public life and seriously reflect on the intelligence and ability of a people, to maintain the essentials for self-preservation.

Not Protection

The claim that because the medical man is certified is sufficient assurance of protection is fetidism. While education has its advantages it is not the only requisite in connection with the successful treatment of the sick; nor is wisdom an attribute of the educated only, but is often lacking in educated persons. The misfit (always a menace to society) is ever ready to parade his educational attainments, as proofs of his intelligence and superiority; but when subjected to a properly applied test, is usually revealed as a false alarm. It is admitted that there are many members of the medical profession who are capable and cautious and are entitled to every consideration for the part they perform in relieving human misery. There are also many who claim and are not lacking in the experience that, in the treatment of diseases, chiropractors get results and with the sick it is results that count.

An oligarchy might be defined as an institution wherein the special interests secure representation and control, by their emissaries masquerading as members of political parties, and where vocational interests take precedence over all other considerations.

Benefit of Few

Legislation is largely a question of influence, the tendency of which is to penalize the whole people in order that the few, usually influential classes, may be benefitted. There is, however, a remedy in sight. There is a movement in this country virtually extending from the Rocky Mountains to the Quebec boundary, the effects of which were felt in B.C. at the last provincial election.
