Manson Believes that Liquor Sales Illegal Except by Government

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3.—Attorney General A. M. Manson has ordered every liquor warehouse in Vancouver to be patrolled by an inspector who will seize every shipment sold within the province whether for export or not.

Mr. Manson believes that the Liquor Act of 1921 makes all sales illegal by other than the government vendors and he will proceed on that understanding. Trading companies found selling within the province will have all stock seized.

CONFERENCES WITH POINCAIRE

Lloyd George to Meet Premier of France to Discuss Reparations and Debt

DIFFERING VIEWS

Serious Misunderstanding Part of United States Says Lloyd George

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Conferences between Poincaré and Lloyd George which are to begin today are not likely to continue more than three days, and it is expected will be confined to the question of reparations and inter-allied debts. It is believed in official circles that the conferences will be considerably assisted by the note to European countries sent by Great Britain concerning inter-allied debts.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—The British note on the question of the inter-allied debts has removed all possibility of France consenting to a moratorium for Germany, according to the view held in official circles.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Later—There is a tone of serious anxiety in the renewed comment in today's newspapers on the British note to the allies concerning war debts which has evidently stirred public concern as it has never before been stirred. Another source of anxiety is the French Premier's note to Germany demanding full payment of the pre-war private debt and the prospect of grave happenings arising in the event of Germany refusing to pay.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Lloyd George after devoting considerable attention to American criticism of Balfour's note regarding war debts concluded there had been serious misunderstanding of the purport. The impression seemed to prevail in the United States that the British note indicated a desire that America should cancel the British debt. This was entirely wrong and Lloyd George is expected to make this clear in the House of Commons today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Britain's note to her debtor nations suggesting the cancellation of the whole international inter-allied indebtedness will cause no change in the policy of the United States toward its foreign loans, it is officially stated today at the treasury.

After having unloaded 13 carloads of mild cured herring for Eastern shipment at the ocean dock and No. 3 shed, the American steamer Redondo cleared for Seattle this morning at 5 o'clock.

GRAHAM BELL, INVENTOR, DEAD

Famous Originator of Telephone Passed Away at Baddeck Home.

WONDERFUL RECORD

Was Born in Scotland, But Came to Canada 52 Years Ago.

SYDNEY, Aug. 3.—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, died yesterday at his home at Baddeck, Nova Scotia.

The late Dr. Bell was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, on March 3, 1847. He was educated at the Universities of London and Edinburgh and took post graduate courses in various German and American colleges. In 1870, he came to Canada and the next year went to Boston.

Dr. Bell conducted research and inventive work with many of the greater institutions of learning of the continent. Several of the greatest of modern inventions were made by him, in his latter days he was the recipient of many honorary tokens of recognition of his genius. The greatest of his inventions was the telephone for which a patent was granted on March 17, 1876. He also invented the photophone, induction balance and telephone probe, for painless detection of bullets in the human body for which he was awarded honorary M. D. by the University of Heidelberg at its 500th anniversary. With C. A. Bell and Sumner Taintor, Dr. Bell invented the graphophone in 1883.

Awards and Honors.

Among the many awards which Dr. Bell received in the course of his career was the Volta Prix by the French Government in 1880; medal by the London Society of Fine Arts in 1902; Royal Albert Medal; Elliott Gresson medal; John Fritz medal, 1907; Hughes medal, Royal Society of Arts, London, 1913; Edison medal, 1914. He was also made an officer of the French Legion of Honor.

The late Dr. Bell took a great interest in methods for the relief of deafness. In 1887 he founded and endowed the Volta Bureau for the increase of knowledge relating to the deaf. He was founder and ex-president of the American Association to Promote Teaching of speech to the Deaf. To this society he contributed $250,000. He was regent of the Smithsonian Institute; member of the National Academy of Sciences; ex-president of the National Geographic Society; member of the American Philosophical Society; and fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Bell was the author of many scientific and educational monographs including Meigours on the Formation of a Deaf Variety of the Human Race.

Worked in Canada.

Dr. Bell's laboratories have been located since 1886 near Baddeck, Cape Breton. There for many years he conducted research and experiment in aerial locomotion and other scientific subjects and maintained his private museum showing the development of his greatest inventions. He encouraged Samuel P. Langley to invent the first flying machine and declared after witnessing its flight at Quantico, Va., in 1896, that the age of the airplane was at hand, although Langley's machine was destroyed.

Dr. Bell formed in 1907 the

"O CANADA."

From sea to sea, throughout thy length, from pole to borderland,
O Canada, our heritage, our love,
Thy worth we praise all other lands above,
At Britain's side, whatever betide, unflinchingly we'll stand,
With heart we sing, "God Save the King,"
"Guide Thou the Empire wide," do we implore,
"And prosper Canada from shore to shore."

The committee consists of Hon. W. C. Kennedy, minister of railways; C. A. Magrath, Canadian fuel controller during the war, and Ered. McCourt, fuel dealer of Montreal.

TWO BOYS WERE FINED FOR STARTING FIRE IN BURNS LAKE DISTRICT

BURNS LAKE, B.C., Aug. 3.—Two boys were fined $10 each and costs in police court yesterday for starting a fire in the bush in contravention of the Forests Act. They were Claude Roof of Danskin and Percy McPhee of Tehesinkut Lake.

FREIGHTER IS COMING SOON

Another of Big Vessels of Merchant Marine Will Come Direct From Orient

That the Canadian Freighter will be here from the Orient to dock and overhaul at Prince Rupert is the word brought from Vancouver by Capt. H. B. Babington who returned north on the Prince George yesterday. This boat is one of the big ones similar to the vessels built at this port.

Capt. Babington was in Vancouver and Victoria on business. While there he purchased some of the material shipped from the Prince Rupert shipyard.

Aerial Experiment Association with headquarters in Cape Breton and its objects to learn to fly. It is claimed that it was with the machines developed by that association that the first really successful public flights of airplanes in America were made.

Hydrodrome.

In the world war, Dr. Bell and F. W. Baldwin invented a boat called a hydrodrome which developed a speed of 70 miles an hour and was called the fastest in the world. It used an airplane propeller and carried beneath it a series of planes which lifted its main body above the water as its speed increased. It was intended for submarine chasing and scouting but the armistice prevented its use for those purposes.

BOTTOMLEY EXPELLED HOUSE OF COMMONS

Former Editor and High Financier Received Final Kick on Downward Career

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Horatio Bottomley, formerly editor and at one time owner of John Bull, has been formally expelled from the House of Commons following his conviction on a fraud charge.

Bottomley was also a high finance expert and the fraud charge was in connection with some of his financial schemes.

LOW YEAR FOR SALMON WAS 1921 ACCORDING REPORT JUST ISSUED

VICTORIA, Aug. 3.—Although B.C. still leads all other provinces of Canada in fisheries production, the 1921 salmon pack is less than 50 per cent of the average for the past ten years. The report of Hon. W. J. Sloan, commissioner of fisheries, for last year shows the total pack in 1921 was 693,518 cases compared with 1,187,616 cases in 1920. The catch in every district shows a decline.

BLAKE STILL MOVING ON ROUND WORLD TRIP

AMBALA, British India, Aug. 3.—Major Blake, the British aviator, who is attempting a flight around the world, arrived here from Lahore.

Coolgardie Smith Tells of Conditions in Yukon Which He has Revisited

That Dawson is still the most prosperous mining town in the Yukon Territory and that Keno silver camp is being advertised to the disadvantage of the older town is the opinion of A. Erskine (Coolgardie) Smith, the famous mining man and pioneer of every camp in Western Canada, who arrived from the Yukon yesterday on the Princess Louise after having spent a month in the territory which he had not visited for twenty-four years or since the heyday of '98 when the Yukon gold rush was at its height.

Mr. Smith went to the Yukon to look for investment opportunities. He found that companies already there had everything taken up that gave every sign of promise. It was impossible to get in. Therefore he returned and is going to the Salmon River country on the Prince Rupert Saturday night and he intends to stay there until he finds something worth while. Mr. Smith's son, A. Erskine Smith Jr., and Hugh Harris, the founder of the Hazelton country, accompanied Mr. Smith to the Yukon and returned with him yesterday. They will go on with him to Stewart.

Keno Hill Disappointing

Mr. Smith appears to be disappointed with the Keno Hill country. There is no money in Keno or Mayo except from the payrolls of the three operating companies. Keno is no place for business people or prospectors to go to yet. There are sufficient companies and more men than are needed there already. There are many difficulties to contend with and it is a most expensive country to mine in.

MAYO IS THE HEAD OF NAVIGATION FOR THE NEW DISTRICT AND KENO IS THE CENTRE OF MINING ACTIVITIES.

Mayo is located 180 miles up the Stewart River from the junction with the Yukon, which is 80 miles from Dawson. Boats run from White Horse to the mouth of the Stewart. Cargoes are then (Continued on Page Five)

HALF HOLIDAY LIQUOR STORES

Vancouver Closes Up Government Shops in Face of Liquor Board's Order.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 3.—Government liquor vendors will have to conform with the civic half-holiday by law providing for closing on Wednesday afternoon. The police notified the liquor vendors to that effect yesterday and closed all vendors in the teeth of the Liquor Control Board's order for Wednesday all day trading.

Attorney General Manson is under the impression that the liquor vendors do not come under the scope of the Vancouver city bylaw but will inquire into the matter before taking action.

Pending Appointments Are Very Important.

Every day we have been expecting an announcement regarding the appointment of a Board of Directors for the Canadian National Railways. This is important to Prince Rupert as the selection made depends to a large extent the future success of the road and the future of this port. Possibly before this is published the announcement may have been made. The Vancouver Province discusses the matter editorially as follows:

"Deep interest is taken in new Canadian cabinet appointments on a change of government. But important as these are, few ministers have the responsibility, and none have graver duties than certain administrative officers who are soon to be appointed by the government. The public recognizes the necessity of choosing men of a rare class to the management of the government railways, by appropriating for them salaries larger than that of any cabinet minister not excepting the Premier.

"The budget which this management handles is a great deal larger than the budget of Canada was before the war. Next year the expenditure will be equal to all the other public expenditure of the Dominion. The property which the management administrators runs to a cost nearer two billion dollars than one.

"Even such comparisons as these do not give an idea of the responsibilities that rest on the administrators of the 20,000 miles of railway now owned and operated by the public. The success or failure of their management will go far to determine whether public operation is to be continued. They will be judged not only by the financial returns but by the character of the service rendered to the public, the ability to live on good terms with the customers of the railway as well as with the employees. In the public interest they must co-operate with other railways and other transportation agencies.

"It is not surprising that the Premier and the minister of railways are taking plenty of time to make their selection. The late ministry retained some of the highest officers of the companies which had administered the line. Mr. Mackenzie King may obtain commissioners who are not experienced railwaymen, but he will not think of engaging amateurs for managers and departmental officers. He will not find many railwaymen even in the United States whose responsibility is equal to that of the management and operation of these four systems which successive governments have been trying to consolidate."

Duties Of Press To The Public.

The duties and limitations of the press are common subjects for discussion, especially in public and semi-public bodies. In small towns the narrower view is more often taken than in larger cities. Prince Rupert, however, usually takes the broader view, and the press is given access to most of the official doings. The Victoria Colonist discussing a recent order of the police commissioners in regard to giving out news says:

"The effect of the attempt of members of the Police Commission to censor the amount of news which is made available to the press is that this step will place in the hands of a few individuals the power of suppressing information which legitimately belongs to the public, since public funds are involved. In the light of some recent occurrences we are not at all surprised that certain gentlemen should believe that the time is ripe to curtail the liberty of the press. Those in authority who resent criticism, or who have a desire to hide their actions from the public frequently attempt to adopt this course and it invariably has reacted on their own reputations for honesty and public-spiritedness.

"In the matter of police administration the press has the right to learn of all cases in which warrants have been issued. It has the right to see the written reports on all accidents, and should be given the facts in relation to any crime that is committed. Hitherto the relationship between the police and this newspaper has been of a kindly character, indeed one of co-operation, for the press can assist in a variety of ways in detecting crime. The new order of the Police Commission, which limits the sources of police news, is dictated simply with a view to hiding or disguising the methods employed by the police at the dictation of that body, since it arose through this newspaper having pointed out that female "stool pigeons" are being employed."

KING INCOGNITO EXPLORES PARIS

Emperor of Annam Has Been Spending Time to Advantage in France.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Dressed in a business suit of sober black, a quiet, unobtrusive little yellow-skinned man has been a constant visitor recently to the museums of art, painting and sculpture in the French capital.

Few people recognized Khai-Dinh, Far East Potentate, Emperor of Annam, Indo-China, who adorned in flowing robes of silk, his hair decorated with gold lace, the Red and Yellow Order of the Dragon of Annam on his breast almost hidden by a large plaque of pure gold set with huge diamonds, was seen in the Presidential box at Long-champ on the day of the Grand Prix.

A few years ago no one in his capital of Hue was permitted to stand erect before the Emperor or look him squarely in the eye, yet in the museums "tourists" pushed him about and showed him out of the way when he stood too long before a work of art.

One of the first questions Khai-Dinh asked after he had been installed in the Ministry of Colonies, his home while in Paris, was: "Where is there a first-class tailor in town?" A representative of a leading Parisian tailoring firm called, but the Emperor found his clothes too gaudy and requested him to return with blue, brown and black samples. The Emperor ordered six suits of the more sober patterns. His official robes show practically all the colors of the rainbow.

Lover of Art.

A great lover of Art, Khai-Dinh has had the entire row of Palaces used as the residence of royalty in Hue practically remodeled, both inside and outside, since his accession to the throne in 1910. His visits to the monuments of Paris have been made especially for the purpose of finding a plan for the reconstruction of the tomb of his ancestor Dong-Khanh, the founder of the dynasty, 20 centuries ago.

A strict follower of the doctrine of Confucius, Khai-Dinh's respect for the memory of his ancestors amounts to religion, and the mausoleum which he intends erecting to Dong-Khanh will be one of the purest examples of far-east architecture known. Alexandre Mareel, official architect of the French government, is collaborating in the drawing up of the plan and the Emperor has made several calls upon the architect, suggesting modifications and ideas.

Khai-Dinh has given much trouble to the secret service men entrusted by the French government with the task of protecting his sacred person. He slips in and out of museums, attended only by a few of his entourage, all dressed in the European fashion and several times he has eluded their vigilance.

Guest at Functions.

Khai-Dinh, before he was allowed to travel incognito in Paris, was the guest at several official functions, including many dinners and luncheons. He was present at all in full regalia but toward the end of his official stay, he evinced some impatience and an earnest desire to enter upon private life. To one of the last invitations to a dinner, the Emperor replied: "Yes, I'll go providing there are not speeches."

The Emperor will leave for Hue this month but the heir to the throne, Vinh-Ty, aged nine, will remain in Paris, where French tutors will teach him French literature and western civilization and fit him for the high place which he is to occupy one day at Hue, one of the fundamental requirements of which is that he be a friend of France and a student of French culture.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Just as the C. P. R. steamer Princess May was turning into the wharf this afternoon the tide gave her a bad swing, her stern catching the stern of the D. G. S. S. Lilloet. The Lilloet received a heavy blow which smashed one of her boats and bent the davit and rails. The May also suffered pretty badly about the stern.

Dr. H. E. Trebayne, quarantine officer for this port, who has just returned from a trip East, says that official circles in the East believe that Prince Rupert is destined to be one of Canada's great gateways of immigration. The Hospital Board last night awarded the contract for the building of the new hospital wing to E. J. Hicks, his tender being $18,575. Other tenders were Mitchell, Currie & Watt, $19,475; McPherson & Meeker, $19,575.

a letter to the editor

"Box 10, Terrace, B.C. "31.7.22.

"Dear Mr. Editor:

"Although this is the age of scientific wonders and fresh reports are daily published of new advances and larger conquests, yet I have had such a remarkable recovery that I make no further apology for asking you to publish this letter.

"Last March I met with an accident which displaced my right hip bone. At first the pain was not severe and I treated it for sprain, but eventually discovered that the bone was out. By that time the pain had become very troublesome, and on June 26 I travelled to Prince Rupert Hospital for treatment. I only spent four days in the hospital as the doctor told me that the bone could not now be replaced but he ordered rest and massage which he said should restore me.

"However, these hopes were doomed to disappointment and I grew steadily worse until by July it was impossible to walk or stand. The least movement was likely to start the pain and sleep was only possible in rare snatches. In the meantime we had made enquiries for the address of a Chiropractor, and on July 13 received from a friend the address of Dr. Barton at Prince Rupert. Next day, Friday, we sent a letter to Dr. Barton asking him to come as quickly as possible. He came on the Saturday train arriving about 11 p.m., and immediately crossed the river and made a careful examination.

"He told me that the trouble was in the Sacro-Iliac Articulation, in the so-called immovable joint where the Innominate or hip bone is attached to the Sacrum. Dr. Barton then set to work to correct the condition, and after about fifteen minutes told me to walk, and much to my amazement I found I could do so. On Sunday morning Dr. Barton returned and completed the adjustment, the whole work being carried out so rapidly and easily that it was over before I had time to realize it had actually commenced.

"After Dr. Barton left I carefully obeyed instruction as to massage, exercises, etc., with the result that by July 19th, just three days after the adjustment, I was able to walk about quite freely, naturally and absolutely free from pain. Then Dr. Barton came again on July 23 and he was able to declare me quite restored.

"Naturally, from my point of view, the work and the speed with which it was carried out seems nothing short of marvellous. One needs to have faced the possibility of a crippled condition becoming permanent to really appreciate the joy of such a recovery. I have asked permission to publish this letter because I feel it is the duty of those who have benefited by Chiropractic treatment to acknowledge the fact as publicly as possible just at present. Owing to the unreasonable persecution of Chiropractors there is a danger that the help which has restored us may be rendered unattainable to others, and I for one would not willingly doom another to the pain I have so narrowly escaped.

"May I appeal through the columns of your paper for the sympathetic support of all fair minded people for those who are at present being persecuted for practicing such a science of healing. Apparently the only present acknowledgment the Dominion makes of these men and women, who are undeniably advancing the health of so many people, is imprisonment and fine.

"All roads that lead to health are good: Physics, Surgery, Manipulation or Suggestion.

"'Tis life of which our nerves are scant,
 "'Tis life, more life, for which we pant,
 "'More life and fuller that we want."

"Most human experience will endorse the poet's opinion, then why set up a barrier across any one of the avenues that lead to the hope of higher efficiency? Religious toleration seems so essentially just and reasonable that in these days it is hard to understand why our forefathers had to strive and suffer so to win it. Yet our own generation are acting in a manner even more narrow-minded than the persecutors of old, for religious theories cannot be demonstrated as these results from Chiropractic treatment can.

"This is the age of specialists and it can hardly be expected of any one man that he should crowd the knowledge of every branch of the science and art of healing into one human brain. Let the doctors show that the public good is their first concern and if they are still too prejudiced to welcome other certified healers into their own exclusive circles let them at least cease a persecution which threatens eventually to destroy the public's trust in themselves but which cannot cause more than a temporary check to Chiropractics. May be I speak with feeling, but wheas I was lame, now I can walk.

"I would like to add that this letter is absolutely unsolicited, and should further evidence be required for the facts stated, there are many who would willingly bear witness to them.

"Yours sincerely,
 (Signed) "GLADYS TOOMBS."
