The girls of the telephone office last night made a presentation to the chief operator, Miss Norah Kenny, who is leaving the staff shortly to be married to D. B. Tilly, a fur buyer of Albin and formerly of New York. The presentation took place at Miss Kenny's home, Tallow Street, when on behalf of the girls Miss Margaret Stalker, niece of the bride-to-be, presented Miss Kenny with a beautiful case of community silver and a number of the girls gave individual presents in addition.

Regrets were expressed at Miss Kenny leaving, and especially at the fact that she would be leaving the city.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Miss Kenny has been a member of the telephone staff for over seven years and for some time has held the position of chief operator. She is not only an efficient worker and good executive, but has the confidence of the girls who are members of the staff. Her leaving the city will be matter for regret. Last week a shower was held for her.

GRANBY OUTPUT

Records Are Smashed at Smelter Town During Month of July

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24.—All records for production were broken in July at the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's Anox plant, when over three million pounds of copper matte was produced. The smelter has frequently touched 2,700,000 to 2,800,000 pounds in a month, but never exceeded three millions until last July. The company is very greatly pleased at the showing.

There are 7,800 bars of matte lying on the C.P.R. docks here awaiting the steamer Melville Dollar for carriage to the New Jersey refinery. These bars contain values in copper, silver and gold. They total 2,918,334 pounds of copper valued at $408,536.76, 125,678 ounces of silver valued at $87,346.24 and 3,620 ounces of gold valued at $72,400, at total of $568,282.97.

The shipment waiting here contains part of the July output of the smelter. Other quantities are on the way down on coast steamers and will go forward to the refinery with the next vessel.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—Draped in the tri-color of Ireland, the coffin containing the body of Michael Collins, the slain chief of the Free Staters, was landed here today from the steamer Glasnic and borne through the streets amid impressive tributes from multitudes assembled. Prayers were uttered as the procession passed, the silence being broken only by snipers who were firing in various parts of the city.

The body will be placed in the City Hall this afternoon to allow thousands of sorrowing Irish men and women the opportunity of seeing for the last time the features of the national hero. Burial will take place Monday.

BOTH BYLAWS ARE DEFEATED

Booth School Repairs by 79 and Hays Creek Bridge by 5.

Both money bylaws were rejected by the ratepayers at the poll yesterday—the $15,000 Booth School repair bylaw by the large margin of 79 and the Hays Creek $35,000 steel bridge bylaw by the narrow measure of 5. There was little enthusiasm about the election only 285 votes having been registered. The only effort made was by persons opposing the bylaws and in the case of the bridge bylaw, it is known that many persons who favored it did not turn out to vote.

According to the Municipal Act no other bylaws for the same purpose as those defeated may come up this year unless at least one-fifteenth of the ratepayers petition the council within sixty days and guarantee the costs of the election in case the bylaw is rejected.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A majority group of the associated railway executives by a vote of 254 to 4 have rejected the proposal of the big five brotherhoods for the ending of the shopmen's strike. ### DISCUSSING RAILWAY WAGE

Possibility of Settlement Without Conciliation Board Intervening

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—There is a remote possibility that the Canadian National Railway management and the employees may settle the wage dispute without the necessity of continuing the board of conciliation.

When evidence was concluded yesterday Chairman Costello persuaded Mosher for the men and Grilly for the road to agree to meet today to discuss a possible solution of the dispute. They will report to the board tonight.

Bylaws Defeated
As A Protest.

The defeat of the two bylaws yesterday must be taken by the city council somewhat as a protest against the spending of money. While everyone recognizes that the bridge was needed, many ratepayers seemed to have felt that it was opportune to give the council a check up and let them know how the ratepayers felt about spending more money and increasing the taxes. Having heard so many expressions of opinion along that line it is our opinion that was the reason for the defeat of the bylaws and especially the bridge bylaw.

In regard to the school, doubtless there was irritation over the condition of the school and the action of the council and school board in commencing work without consulting the ratepayers. We believe, however, that they are fully justified in going ahead with the work without loss of time so that the school pupils might not lose more time than could be avoided.

There are in this city a great many people who have no children and who are not as considerate as they might be of the rights of the young folks. If we are to have a good city we must make provision for education. This we have done but there have been some who fretted under the expenditures and who think the old log school house is good enough.

If the payment of the school repair work is to be made out of general revenue next year, there will have to be a very serious curtailment in the general expenditures in the city in order that the taxes may not be inordinately increased. It will be wise for ratepayers to see that at the aldermanic election, men are chosen who will be pledged to a policy of retrenchment. Undoubtedly there is need for radical action along these lines.

New Bridge Bylaw At First Opportunity.

It is to be expected that at the first possible opportunity a new bridge bylaw will be placed before the people. Possibly in the meantime leaders might be asked for the work and then the people would know exactly what they are voting on. In the past the actual expenditures have so often exceeded the estimates that people have been afraid to vote money feeling that the actual cost would sure to be much higher than the amount voted. If tenders were called and the need of the bridge clearly shown there is little doubt the money would be voted.

Here Is Chance Merchant Marine.

Here seems like a chance for the Merchant Marine to get busy. A despatch from Vancouver states that there are at present several thousand tons of copper matte on the wharf at Vancouver to be shipped by the steamer Melville Dollar to the New Jersey refinery. That copper was shipped to Vancouver from Anox.

Suppose that copper was shipped to Prince Rupert instead of to Vancouver and the vessels of the Canadian Merchant Marine would pick it up here and take it to New Jersey it might be handled cheaper than at present and much more conveniently for the Granby Company.

The present Granby management is out to get the best value for money expended. The funds of the company had been frittered away to such an extent that something radical had to be done. There had to be a cleanup. This took place and today the affairs of the big concern are conducted on a purely business basis. If the Canadian Merchant Marine can offer them something better than they are at present getting in the way of transportation, it will be taken. Prince Rupert is the logical port for transshipment if it is really found necessary to transship. Possibly it will be found advantageous while the steamers are here for cargo for them to go a few miles farther and pick up the copper matte at the smelter.

Loss Of Collins
Great For Ireland.

The loss of Michael Collins, who was assassinated near Cork after being given a great reception in the city, will be a severe one for Ireland. He was the man to whom the people looked to extricate them from their difficulties. Already it looked as if the country had pretty nearly fought itself out and would soon settle down, when the sad news came that he had been a victim of the riotous condition of the country.

Everyone here must deplore the unsettled state of the country and especially the loss of a leader with such promise. Possibly, however, the conditions of his death and the spirit of moderation which seems to be animating the Free State leaders and troops will have the effect of settling the present unhappy state of affairs.

OF MURDER BY A BAD ESKIMO

MURDERER CONFESSES.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—A tragic story such as was generally supposed to belong to the more adventurous days of the past of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is just uncovered in the official statement, handed out by Lt.-Col. Curtland Starnes, acting commissioner of the R. C. M. P., regarding the murder of Corporal W. A. Doak and Mr. Otto Binder, manager of the Hudson Bay depot at Tree River, in the far north, last April, and the details of which have only just reached headquarters.

Lt.-Col. Starnes says: "Corporal W. A. Doak was in charge of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police post at Tree River, situated on the Arctic coast. He left his detachment on the 3rd of December, 1921, for an extended winter patrol to Kent Peninsula to investigate a series of five murders which had taken place in that district during the summer of 1921. Three men and two women (natives) were done to death as a result of a feud. Corporal Doak was accompanied on his patrol by Constable Woolams, an interpreter and two trains of eleven dogs each.

Made Arrests.

A number of Eskimo villages were visited and Kent Peninsula was finally reached. Here Corporal Doak found that since the killing of the three men and two women in the summer of 1921, a further murder had been committed. Native Tatamigana, who had taken part in the above killing affair, assisted Aklomiak to murder his uncle, Pugnana. Tatamigana was located at the village and placed under arrest. Aklomiak had gone inland and Corporal Doak started in pursuit. After a few days' traveling Aklomiak was overtaken and also placed under arrest by Corporal Doak. The band to which these Eskimos belong are the same that a few years ago were implicated in the murder of the two prospectors, Messrs Radford and Sireet.

"While on his return journey to Tree River, yet another murder, which had taken place in the fall of 1921, was brought to Corporal Doak's attention by another band of Eskimos. It appears that Native K-A-Luk-Piak had murdered his partner Hav-Oo-Ozaek. This case was also investigated and the murderer arrested by Corporal Doak. The police party with their three prisoners and the important witnesses then continued their return journey to Tree River. The arrangements were that when navigation opened up, to transfer the three murderers, together with the witnesses, to Herschel Island, where the police headquarters for the district are located. It was at this point that the preliminary hearing of the case was to be held.

Shot by Prisoner.

"In order to accommodate the prisoners and witnesses, Corporal Doak arranged for them to be held under escort at the seal camp seven miles from the Tree River detachment. As Aklomiak was suffering from partly frozen feet, he was taken on to the police detachment at Tree River by Corporal Doak for treatment. On April 1st, 1922, Corporal Doak detailed the only other remaining member of the Tree River detachment to perform a short patrol in connection with some duty. He was therefore left alone, temporarily, with prisoner Aklomiak. In some manner, Aklomiak secured possession of a rifle which was an exhibit in one of the murder cases. He stood at the door of the detachment and shot Corporal

Doak through the abdomen and he died about two hours afterwards.

"From his observations while under treatment for his frozen feet at the detachment, Aklomiak knew that the only other white man, Otto Binder, manager of the Hudson Bay post at Tree River, usually came to visit the police detachment at least once each day. He therefore watched for Mr. Binder and when he had approached to within about fifty yards of the detachment building he shot at him through the window. The bullet penetrated the lower part of Mr. Binder's heart and he expired almost instantly.

"Shortly after the shooting, two natives from the seal camp arrived at Tree River to trade at the Hudson Bay Post. They became aware of the murder of Corporal Doak and Mr. Binder and promptly returned to the seal camp and notified Constable Woolams, who had charge of the other prisoners at that place. Constable Woolams immediately took action to locate Aklomiak and later placed him under arrest.

"Aklomiak quite freely admits murdering Corporal Doak and Mr. Binder. He says that Corporal Doak treated him well and gave him plenty to eat, but he had made up his mind that he was not going to be taken out to Herschel and he had been planning for some time to kill Corporal Doak and the other members of the detachment.

"At the present time there are six Copper Eskimos being held at the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Arctic sub-district headquarters at Herschel Island, on charges of murder.

Why does the local baker buy his flour in bulk and bake bread, pies and cakes daily?

Why does the local fruit store or peanut man roast peanuts daily in- stead of getting a month's supply at a time or three month's supply? # MORETON FREWEN ENTHUSED OVER Q. CHARLOTTE

Lies Exactly Aftward All Red Route But Assets Appreciated Says Writer

The building of good houses—good homes, not mere cottages—at Langara, at Naden, and Massett, where a British Columbia fishing fleet could winter, at work in the heart of the fisheries, instead of going south to lay up, would mark the dawning of a new financial day for British Columbia, says Moreton Frewen, writing in the London Daily Telegraph. The fisher folk would at once become citizens instead of nomads. It was not until I had read the answer of Col. Amery that I realised how utterly I had wasted the invaluable opportunity Sir George Foster had afforded me two winters ago, when he placed the launch Walrona at my disposal for this visit to these lovely islands. It should never have been possible, had I done my part at all adequately in your columns, that a minister of the versatility and the real Empire affection of Colonel Amery should have shown so little appreciation of an asset thus richly endowed by nature, and lying exactly aftward the All-Red Route. I feel that I owe my apologies both to Sir George Foster, and still more to Colonel Amery and the House of Commons.

Were Fascinated

It was owing to the courtesy of Sir George Foster that, in company with my son—a sailor, who has visited in the vessels of our R.N. most of the ports of the Empire—Mr. Entwistle, and Lieutenant Brandon, M.C., I was enabled to spend a fortnight there on a government launch and I can say truthfully that we were fascinated by these islands and their unique opportunities for rapid growth and profit. The proposed settlement, properly equipped with sawmills, with that beautiful Massett Inlet, which almost cuts the larger island Graham in half with its great tidal high road, is even as it now stands ready and equipped for the proposed colony.

My memory recurs to it lovingly over this great distance. I see in my mind's eye its pretty Indian village at Massett, the store there of its single merchant, Mr. Martin, its charming little church and school, with just enough of rich and cleared land to provide homes for 500 settlers. The women will find at Prince Rupert a market at high prices for everything they can grow—animal or vegetable. In all respects Massett is no whit less attractive than Victoria was when I first saw that most attractive spot, and for ever lost my heart to it, now forty years ago, and Massett, it is safe to prophesy will in a very few years be a port of call for a Japanese line of passenger ships. The Japanese government has already, as I am assured, made advances in this connection to the government of Canada.

Harriman's Plans

A traveller from London to that far east would save a full week as against San Francisco, and half that time as against Vancouver, in reaching Japan. In a letter I wrote to you from Prince Rupert, I gave the reasons why that wise man, the late Edward Harriman, in his last days had planned to secure the control of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. How differently had the financial history of that coast been written if only he had brought his great network of western railways to their terminal at Rupert Harbor! The whole project on paper can be seen by the curious in these days—I know where it is—a project worthy of Harriman or of those other two mighty architects of great modern civilisations, James J. Hill and Collis P. Huntington. Real "Winners of the West" these men. It might truly be said of all three that "they designed like giants, but finished like jewelers." This world is no longer large enough to be the theatre for such genius as theirs, and perhaps it is better so.

American Capital

In this letter I have confined my attention chiefly to the wealth without any parallel that there is in the ocean adjacent to these Pacific Islands. What Thiers said finely for the French "physiocrats"—that "the soil is the wet nurse for all the industries"—is far more true of the ocean around

The 'Charlottes,' with its endless harvest garnered today so largely by aliens, and it made me sad to see all that readily transferable wealth being financed by American capital in American bottoms, and conveyed away so very largely to the port of Seattle, 600 miles south, thus creating an economic hemorrhage of millions of dollars annually, building up Seattle and Portland also, and weakening the Canadian exchange fatally all down the coast.

PRINCESS ENA RAMMED BOAT

The "Grace E. W." Sank at Dock at Ketchikan—Was in Course of Freighter.

The gasbot Grace E. W., Captain Fox, was sunk off the Thane dock last night about midnight when it rammied into the freighter Princess Ena, coming in to the dock, says the Ketchikan Chronicle. The gasboat was leaving Thane and was in the direct course of the freighter according to a statement made by officers on the Ena to the agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company steamship office.

According to officers on the Ena, as told the agent, the signal to clear the course was given by the freighter. When Fox appeared to pay not attention it was attempted to change the course of the Ena. This was impossible in the short space and the engines were stopped. The gasboat kept coming head on and rammied into the freighter.

A lifeboat was immediately lowered from the freighter, the light turned on and Fox was taken aboard. The gasboat was submerged about five minutes after rammied the Ena. Lines were put on it and the Ena towed it to the wharf, where it was tied up. No estimate has been given of the damage.

ENGINEER MINE CASE GOES TO PRIVY COUNCIL

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24.—The necessary bonds have been put up in connection with the appeals to the Privy Council in the actions of the Engineer Mining Company vs. the heirs of Captain Alexander and Royal Exchange Insurance Company vs. Kingsley Navigation Company. The appeals will be heard at the next sitting of the Privy Council, for which the date is not yet fixed.

The Engineer mine is a well known and valuable one situated in the Athin district, formerly owned by Captain Alexander, who was a victim of the Sophia disaster. The late Mr. Justice Clement decided in favor of the heirs at the trial and by arrangement the case is being taken direct to the Privy Council without going through the other courts.

The case of Royal Exchange Insurance Company is appealing is one of great interest to both marine underwriters and shipping companies.

KETCHIKAN AND FISH BUSINESS

Alaskan Newspaper Says Fight Has Only Just Commenced Against Rupert.

Copies of the Alaskan newspapers came to hand yesterday containing the despatch having to do with the Poindexter amendment to the tariff bill and its rejection and also an editorial opinion on the result of the fight. The despatch dated from Washington follows:

The administration tariff bill, officially known as the tariff act of 1922, passed the senate late Saturday afternoon. During the closing hours of the vote, many changes were made, including the elimination of the Poindexter amendment, providing for a duty of two cents per pound on fresh and frozen fish and further that such fish packed or prepared for shipment be considered dutiable.

After four months of consideration by the senate the tariff bill will now go to conference. So numerous were the changes that the experts at the government printing office after working continuously over Sunday reported that it would be impossible to get it out of the printing office today and for that reason it probably will be presented to the house tomorrow. The house as a matter of form will reject the senate amendments and it will then go to a conference committee from the house and senate.

Large Majority.

The bill was carried in the senate by a vote of forty-eight to twenty-five. Senator Borah of Idaho being the only Republican to vote against it, while Broussard and Ramsdell of Louisiana, and Kendrick of Wyoming were the only Democrats to vote for it.

Senator LaFollette, the third ranking Republican of the finance committee, and an opponent of the bill was omitted from the senate Republican conference on the measure.

The Poindexter amendment was one of the last killed before the final passage, the vote on it being 55 to 12.

Beginning of Fight.

Speaking editorially the Ketchikan Chronicle says:

"Reports from Washington are that the Poindexter amendment to the tariff bill, providing for a duty of two cents a pound on all fresh and frozen fish imported into the United States, and further that any fish packed or prepared for shipment at a foreign port, should be considered dutiable, has been killed.

"If it is true that there is no hope of getting it reinserted in the tariff bill, it is unfortunate for Ketchikan. It is a blow that will mean that every little home on this island is worth less than it would have been if that amendment had carried and become law. It will mean that the troller will not have the same market for his product that he would have had. It will mean that one of the largest buyers of fish in the world, a company which expected to locate here within thirty days after the passage of the bill, will now spend its millions in Canada and not in Ketchikan or Alaska. It will mean that the halibut fishermen who have not understood the meaning of this legislation will suffer. It will mean that every business man in Ketchikan will ring up less dollars in his register than he would if the amendment had been enacted.

Only Temporary.

Prince Rupert will continue to grow. The latter city will go ahead, building schools costing a quarter million dollars while Ketchikan sends its youth to a disease breeder and menace. And Canada will go on, making orders in council, to regulate the food supply from the waters of the North Pacific, and Americans will obey.

"But that will be but temporary. Prince Rupert and the world may be assured. Ketchikan has just started to fight for its own. It may be a year, or two years or three years or five years, but Alaska ultimately is going to be regarded with justice and with protection of its fisheries as against the encroachment of its Canadian neighbors."

CRITICISMS OF THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Lady Askwith Accuses Them of Useless Expenditures and Mean Economies.

The British Government is being severely criticized for its lavish expenditures along some lines and for mean economies in others. A letter from Lady Askwith to the London Times is an example of the type of criticism in which Lloyd George and his cabinet are being subjected.

High Salaries.

The government have not done away with any one of the new Ministries. The Ministry of Transportation still exists. Sir Hamar Greenwood is still Chief Secretary for Ireland. The Ministry of Food, has, it is true, become a department, but it is with us still. The Ministry of Health and the Ministry of Labour are spending more than ever. While it is true that many of the lower officials have been dismissed, the salaries of the higher civil servants have been maintained and in many instances increased. The Chief Labor Minister, who used to have a salary of £500 a year, now earns £3,000 a year. The Chairman of the Industrial Court has £2,000 a year, twice the salary of a County Court Judge. The chief woman inspector of the Board of Education, who used to have £250 a year, now has £925, and a bonus of £300. The other women inspectors, who had £200 a year, now have £900 a year and a bonus of £250.

Some fourteen years old at the end of the year, who are being taught to receive 11s a week, and at sixteen, 86s a week. Women doing clerical work receive £5 10s a week, and the foreman of the year, £3,000 a year. The bonus on cost of living in the Civil Service, including the industrial staff, actually amounts to nearly thirty-five millions.

Ugly Economies.

Meantime, ugly economies are being effected. We are in danger, owing to the reductions in the fighting forces, of being helpless before the world. We have no Air Service to speak of. The Air Ministry never had a real name for economy, and it wastefully wastes most of the £100 millions it receives. Some of our best regiments are being disbanded, their esprit de corps criminally wounded.

Things are even worse with the Navy. Glaring injustices are being perpetrated elsewhere. The pensions of almost disabled men are being drastically cut down—in some cases I know of, from 50s to 8s in one week. Are we going to stand this

No cause for Worry when Children have Summer Complaints

There is not a summer passed but that thousands of men, women and children are attacked by summer complaints such as diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, etc.

In looking for relief you should not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 77 years, and has stood the test of time. Mrs. Geo. Chapman, Sudbury, Ont., writes:—"I am the mother of five children and I must say they are seldom sick or in need of medicine. They are, however, sometimes troubled with summer complaint, diarrhoea, and such like, but I always find there is no cause for worry as I just give them two or three doses, no more, of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and the trouble soon disappears. It is a remedy that all mothers should keep in the home for the children."

JAPANESE PRINCESS IS PERSONIFICATION OF ALL THE VIRTUES

Future Empress Very Studious and Religious; Specially Trained for Position

Princess Nagako, the future empress of Japan, whose engagement to the prince regent, has just been officially announced, has attained her 20th year, and is regarded by the nation as the personification of beauty, virtue and love.

Much Loved

She attended the Peereses' school at a time when General Noji was its president, and was one of the best loved girls there, being democratic in her dealings with schoolmates and teachers.

SONS OF CANADA WINNERS AGAIN

Defeated Elks for Fourth Time in Last Night's Lacrosse Game—Score 7 to 6

The Elks and Sons of Canada were able to muster only 8 men a side in last night's Senior Lacrosse game and the result was a fast match won 7 to 6 by the Sons of Canada. The battle lasted for three periods and ten minutes overtime, the Sons being able to tally the winning goal in the last period. There was a fair attendance of fans who enjoyed a game which was full of interest up to the last.

Speaks French

She is attaining real fluency in French and is gifted with keen artistic temperament. She loves poetry and translated into music of her own composition a poem, "A Spring Morning." She has a good soprano voice and takes lessons in piano, water color, charcoal drawing and purely Japanese painting.

The princess is a little over the average height of Japanese women, and has always been fond of outdoor life. She has a small garden near her study, where she cultivates herself flowers, strawberries and vegetables. In keeping with the age-old customs she grows rice in a paddy-field of her own making, an offering of the grain to the gods.

She is said to be remarkable in her devotion and every morning appears before the imperial shrine in the woods of the imperial palace to offer prayers to the imperial ancestors.

She also has learned the use of the typewriter, one of which was brought back to her by her brother from Europe, and is fond of photography.

HEAT WAVE STRUCK WINNIPEG RECENTLY

A heat wave such as has seldom been experienced by Winnipeggers after sunset struck the city Sunday night when the mercury registered 84. During the day previous 90 was the high point for Winnipeg, 97 for Morden, while Emerson held the record with 100, says the Manitoba Press Press.

Over the week-end, heavy rain was experienced at the summer resorts on both Lake Winnipeg and Lake Manitoba. Saturday evening a severe electrical storm played havoc at Winnipeg Beach where the Canadian Bottling works were struck by lightning and destroyed. Rain continued until Sunday morning. Sunday night rain fell at Lake Manitoba.

BASEBALL SERIES WITH PRINCE GEORGE IS OFF

Local Team Will Not Go East For Fair Games Early in September—Edson Going Instead

The Prince Rupert baseball team will not be going to Prince George to play a series there at the Fair early next month.

The following letter, has just been received by H. A. Breen, secretary of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association, from J. C. Pidgeon, the Prince George Manager:

"In reply to your wire of Aug. 21, I beg to advise that we have decided to have Edson here for our Fair dates as they will come for much less money. We guaranteed you $450, the amount you gave us last year, and in your wire you ask for expenses which might run into a lot of money.

"If your team is desirous of winning the Self Shield we shall be pleased to arrange a series at any time but maintain that the games should be played in our city."

OCEAN FALLS READY TO COME TO CITY PLAY AT ANY SPORT

Ben Self is in receipt of a letter from Fred Cameron, the Ocean Falls sport manager, intimating that the papermakers are ready to come here at the time of the Exhibition to engage in baseball, football or lacrosse series. Mr. Cameron says that the Ocean Falls boys are open for any engagement and are at the service of the Fair Association providing suitable arrangements in the way of guarantees can be made.

Sport Chat

As a result of their decided victory over the Sons of Canada in the first game of the Gihuly Cup soccer series last Tuesday evening, the Callies are now in threatening condition to come out winners of their second trophy of the season. They were probably in better form on this occasion than in any other game of the season and should give their opposition in the finals on Labor Day plenty to contend with. The second elimination game takes place tomorrow night although the Grotto may be getting a little the favor in general speculation.

Elks vs. Sons of Canada is the bill of fare for Senior League baseball fans at the Acropolis Park tonight. It will be the first Senior League game for over

The boys of the two teams during this period have been playing together against outsiders but tonight they will be split up again and it is apt to be anybody's game especially since the Elks are intending to put up a supreme effort to prevent the Sons of Canada getting too tight a hold on the season's championship and the Nickerson Shield.

The following Senior baseball fixtures have to be played before the season is officially over:

PRISONER SHOT AFTER ESCAPE

Jess Van Cleave Pretended to Have Gun and Officer Killed Him

KETCHIKAN, Aug. 24.—Jess Van Cleave who escaped from the federal jail Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock was shot dead Saturday night shortly after 8 o'clock at Mahoney Heights by Deputy Marshal Fred E. Handy after the former had ordered the officer "to stick 'em up." Following the shooting, an inquest was held at which the officer was completely exonerated.
Van Cleave made his escape from the federal jail by getting out through a door which the guard had neglected to lock after some prisoners had entered the "tank," and while the guard was elsewhere about the federal building. He was not missed for a few minutes until Mrs. Fred Handy, in her home at the foot of Bawden street hill, noticed Van Cleave running down the hill and up the creek. She immediately notified the jail and sent word to her husband who was down town.

Search Party
A searching party started out at once, including the deputy marshal and his guards, and the city police.
About 8 o'clock Saturday night, believing that Van Cleave would go to Mahoney Heights to see acquaintances, M. E. Handy, father of the deputy, in company with Fred Handy started for Mahoney Heights, where the former was to be placed for the night, to watch for the escaped prisoner.
As the deputy and his father turned up the walk to Mahoney Heights they noticed two men walking ahead. As they approached, one of them forged ahead a little. The other was George Daniel, an acquaintance of Van Cleave whom the latter had met on the street as he was walking along in that direction. Handy did not recognize Van Cleave until he came abreast of him. And as he recognized him, Van Cleave stuck his hand under his coat, toward the deputy, as though pointing a gun at him.

Shot First.
Handy said he was under the impression at the time that Van Cleave had a gun which would not discharge, and believing that the escaped prisoner would attempt to shoot him, he shot first. That his theory was correct was borne out today when in company with Chief of Police Noah Howell and Rube Miller he went to the scene of the tragedy and found, under the sidewalk, within two feet of where Van Cleave fell, a Luger revolver. When it was found an attempt was made to discharge it but the trigger could not be pulled. The gun later was turned over to the coroner and it was found that it was loaded with six shells, .30 calibre.

Officer Exonerated.
Shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night a coroner's jury, consisting of N. R. Walker, F. E. Ryus, J. E. Thwaites, A. R. Larson, J. F. Krause and William Anderson was summoned to inquire into the death and they exonerated Handy.
Van Cleave was awaiting trial on a charge of robbery.

SEAPLANING POPULAR KETCHIKAN SPORT
Seabird Takes Up Many People At Alaskan Fish Town.

Seaplaning is becoming a popular week-end sport in Ketchikan, says the Ketchikan Chronicle. This was demonstrated last Saturday and Sunday when the weather was ideal.
On Sunday, Charles Cosgrove, Jr., and Jim Cosgrove went up for a spin over town. They were followed by Miss Ruby and Caroline C. Hall who are the first women ever to fly in southeastern Alaska. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Selig made a trip to one of their fishtraps located off Gravina island. Eigel Buschmann and son Eigel, and Victor Peterson, Jr. were up also. Mrs. Charles Buchanan, Louis Haviland, Mrs. Maggie Sherer and son were among others who went up.
Clarence Payne and L. H. Kubley went by the Seabird to George's inlet to meet their families who were picnicking there, and on the return trip N. R. Walker and Charles L. Cloudy came to town.
Saturday afternoon, Red Irwin, Dick Castle, Jim Hickey, George Talbot, N. R. Dalker, Tom Elswick, J. A. Talbot, Sr., W. K. Spaulding, L. H. Kubley, Charles L. Cloudy, Ole Lovgren, Alva Anderson, H. M. Stackpole, Ed. Stackpole and J. H. Davis went up for short flights.
All who went up were enthusiastic and several of them at the same time telling the officer "stick 'em up."

The Shooting.
The deputy marshal did not comply with the order to throw up his hands, but stepped back whereupon Van Cleave turned and ran some fifteen feet when he turned again in the same manner. Handy then shot three times, one of the bullets going wild, one entering Van Cleave's shoulder and the other hitting him in the left foot, right at the large toe.
Van Cleave fell and Handy walked up to him, warning him not to attempt to shoot or he would kill him. Van Cleave made no attempt and no other shots were fired. The deputy then started for town for a doctor and a car to take the prisoner in, not believing that he had wounded him seriously. When he returned with a van, Van Cleave was dead.

ALASKA SPRUCE FOR PLANTING IN NORWAY
JUNEAU, Aug. 23.—That Alaskan spruce may be the salvation of deforested sections of West-Norway, is indicated by efforts being made by the Forestry Bureau of that country to secure immediate shipment of supplies of seed of Sitka spruce. William E. Britt, Norwegian Consul in Alaska, has been asked by the Forestry Service of Norway to handle the matter.
All of the islands and mainland comprising the western part of Norway were stripped bare of trees many years ago, said Mr. Britt. The Norwegian government has been giving serious attention to the problem of reforestation and has for a long time conducted experiments as to what kind of trees are best adapted for that purpose.

SCENES OF GAYETY AT GREAT MOSLEM FEAST PALESTINE AND SYRIA

JERUSALEM, Aug. 24.—This is the great Moslem feast of Bairam, and Palestine and Syria present scenes of unusual gaiety and animation. The two countries are really one. Only the artificial division to suit the ideas of British and French mandates make them two. The people are the same. Aleppo, by the extraordinary French agreement with Mustapha Kemal of Angora, is now deprived of all its hinterland and all its trade, and it must either die or be returned to the Turk again.
The crops are being reaped, the barley cut, and the fields are resplendent with flowers. One can see prototypes of Ruth and Naomi in every field, cutting the corn with the sickle and gleaning afterwards as they did in Biblical times, on the southern slopes of Bethelhem. This scene probably has been painted a hundred times by American and European artists, but they have never got it quite right. For the women of the East squat on their heels to reap, using the left hand to hold the sheaf and the right to use the sickle. In pictures Ruth is always shown as gracefully bending, but no Arab ever bends. In the East no one ever walks where he can ride, or stands where he may sit, or sits where he can lie repose. This is the land of true repose.

Camel and Donkey
The Arab custom is to have three great blocks of arable land, and to cultivate them, one every third year, leaving the other two great fields lying fallow. They use the same primitive methods of cultivation as of old; a camel yoked with a donkey to pull the wooden plough, and the sickle as the only instrument of husbandry.
Jerusalem is a perfect kaleidoscope of color. Jews with long side curls and brightly-colored robes, not yet accustomed to their new-found liberty, slink along the pavement with down-cast eye; young, bold, self-assertive Zionist Jews in white shirts—pen at the throat; Russians in white blouses; defiant, contemptuous Arabs, with their flowing white headdresses; Moslem women shrouded in black veils, and passing them the modern young women of Jerusalem in cheap silk stockings and high-heeled shoes.
Tommy Atkins There
Up and down the street the picturesque Palestine gendarmieride upon their grey Arab ponies, or talk to the town police, in khaki and black astrakhan fez. It would be hard to find such a strange mixture of races even on the east side of New York. The sober British infantry or garrison artillery, smart and alert, take up positions along the Jaffa road to see the pretty girls go by. As usual Tommy Atkins is quite inconspicuous, and it is difficult to believe that he alone allows all these warring races and creeds to meet and pass in peace. He keeps the peace in all the Near East now. Were it not for him, many lives would be in danger.

Not far distant from the ancient capital is a different picture. In the fields of Beersheba, Gaza and the Mount of Olives the traveler sees 10,000 crosses marking the graves of British soldier dead, to whom the subject races of the Holy Land owe their redemption.
