Illicit Liquor Traffic Drive Now On FRENCH AND BRITISH REPARATIONS AGREEMENT SEEMS CERTAIN

French and British Agree on Four Main Points of Reparations Controversy

BRUSSELS, Aug. 11.—According to information received from London today an agreement has virtually been reached on the four main points of the reparations controversy and a general accord is now anticipated, says a French semi-official statement given out to the Havas agency. The impression in London is decidedly optimistic and the talk of a split in the entente has ceased.

The announcement is the result of a conference between Lloyd George and Poincaré in London following the announcement by the British Premier recently that if the comment of the French press represented the opinion of the French government, then the entente would come to an end.

PORTUGUESE TROUBLE WAS FORECASTED

Correspondent of Associated Press Sent Out Warning Several Weeks Ago.

In connection with the revolutionary movement in Portugal the first definite word of which was received yesterday on the wire, it is interesting to read a mail article sent out by the Associated Press correspondent at Lisbon and dated July 18 as follows:

"A rate of exchange alarmingly low and prices of foodstuffs exorbitantly high have conspired to make the cost of living in Portugal a serious problem. And profiteering as an additional factor cannot be overlooked. Several highly placed state functionaries have been arrested and jailed, charged with conspiracy and the holding of secret meetings, which is an indication of an underlying political unrest. It is felt in some quarters that a military movement is in preparation, to act in case of a fresh outburst of the turbulent elements which brought about the political assassinations of last October.

END SPECULATION.

"The press is clamoring against the economic condition of the country, and 'Seculo' vehemently exhorts the government to put an end to the speculation to which it chiefly attributes the increasing fall in exchange. The Minister of Finance is trying to raise an internal loan and has had conferences with several of the most prominent Portuguese bankers to this end. His efforts have not so far been successful.

"One of the factors said to contribute to the situation is that, although exportation amounts to several million pounds, all this money is deposited in foreign banks instead of being paid out in the country. At the same time gambling in exchange is being carried on in a barefaced manner. In London banks alone there is said to be over 25,000,000 Portuguese pounds which would greatly improve the rate of exchange if left here. The constant arrest of officers and civilians and the fact of the troops having to keep within barracks to be ready at a moment's notice, adds to the general unrest.

INTEREST TO ENGLAND.

"Epoca directs attention to the statement of the British Premier, Lloyd George calling upon the nations which owe England money to pay interest charges in October. This debt amounts to over 25,000,000, and the paper asks if the interest is to be paid when due."

Mrs. W. C. Hall and son and daughter are leaving tomorrow afternoon for the south enroute to Kansas City where they will visit.

RUSSIAN REFUGEE PROBLEM IS SOLVED

Some Will be Sent to Siberia and Others to Bulgaria and Jugoslavia

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—The Russian refugee problem will be cleared up in the course of the next few months is the opinion of Major Clavin Davis, Director of the Constantinople Chapter of the American Red Cross. "Present plans are for the American Relief Administration to carry on with the feeding of refugees," he said recently, "while the League of Nations distributes them. Bulgaria and Jugoslavia have agreed to take several thousands; 1,000 will be repatriated to Siberia, and it is hoped Australia will take several thousands. The problem which has puzzled the world's statesmen will thus be definitely solved."

BOOTH SCHOOL IS DISCUSSED

Will Not Be Ready as Soon as Expected—Cox Bill $2250.

Discussion of Booth Memorial School affairs took up a good deal of time of the school board at the regular monthly meeting last night. It was reported by Architect Jeffers that, on account of unforeseen delays, the building would not be fully completed by the opening of the fall term as expected. The board decided that the school would not be reopened until the repairs were complete.

An honorarium of $250 was granted to H. Whittaker, government architect, for his recent services in inspecting the building with Architect Jeffers.

An account from A. A. Cox for $2250 for plans prepared for rebuilding was laid on the table. The account was taken by the board as somewhat of a joke.

Mr. Jeffers is to register in the province, the fee being $50.

DAILY EDITION  Friday, August 11, 1922.

An Undercurrent Of Optimism.

Speaking of the departure from the city of a resident of long standing, another resident said yesterday that he thought it was a mistake for him to leave just at a time when things were about to happen here. Everything today was at its lowest ebb and long before the winter was over the people of the city would be feeling a decided improvement.

With the sentiment expressed the Daily News is in complete agreement. We do not think the coming winter is going to be a bad one. We look forward to better things before spring. In fact before the autumn is well over we think things will be improving with a gradual upward trend afterwards. Naturally it will take a little time to get over the depression which has hit us so hard just now, but we shall get over it and be all the better for it.

Which Anthem For Canada?

Which anthem will Canada use and has the Canadian National Anthem yet been written? That is a very common subject for discussion. Canada needs a medium of expression that it can use at banquets and meetings and on public occasions when it seems necessary to give vent to patriotic sentiment. The Canadian Club has adopted the verse which was published recently on the front page of this paper as follows:

O Canada, our heritage, our love,
 Thy worth we praise all other lands above,
 From sea to sea, throughout thy length, from pole to borderland,

At Britain's side, what'er befall, unflinchingly we'll stand,
 With heart we sing, "God Save the King,"
 "Guide Thou the Empire wide," do we implore,
 "And prosper Canada from shore to shore."

The Prince Rupert Rotary Club sings at the weekly lunches the same version that the pupils of the schools use, as follows:

"O Canada! our home, our native land,
 True patriot love thou dost in us command,
 We see thee rising fair, dear land,
 The true North strong and free;
 And stand on guard, O Canada,
 We stand on guard for thee.
 O Canada! O Canada! O Canada!
 We stand on guard for thee."

Possibly there may be another verse written which might yet be more expressive of the general sentiment of the people toward the country in which they live.

Verse Contributors Often Careless.

Contributors often send in verses for publication in this paper in which the meter is faulty, the sentiment carelessly expressed and the writing so carelessly done that it is almost impossible to decipher the manuscript. Such offerings have no chance of publication, neither has a letter or article of any kind unless signed by the writer. If a verse is not worth careful revision and neat writing it is not worth publishing in the Daily News.

As a rule we do not care to publish poetry or doggerel. There are only a few poets in the world and they are inspired by heaven and cannot help it. And even so they write carefully and revise their work again and again. If such a one should arise in Prince Rupert we should be only too glad to give space to the verses for publication. As a rule, however, the rhymes that are written are not poetry. They are doggerel. The difference is difficult to describe but not difficult to understand. Because the last word of a line happens to rhyme with the last word of another does not constitute poetry. Rhyme has really little to do with poetry. The stuff published in the "Man in the Moon" column is doggerel, but the touch of humor saves it from exclusion.

The writing of verses is good literary practise and tends to brighten the intellect. To label it poetry or to ask that it be published is altogether different. The photographer does not show the public every picture he makes, neither does the artist exhibit at the art gallery every art study. Much of the work of every person who is trying to do something really worth while has to be thrown away. Any person desirous of publishing poetry should write verses for years and promptly burn the scraps of paper on which the outpourings are written. Then when he has learned the art, will be time to think of publishing.

ARCHITECTURE IS DISCUSSED

A. M. Jeffers of Edmonton Gives Interesting Address to Rotary Club.

"It is inherited in all types and races of mankind to build some sort of a structure to protect himself from the elements, wild beasts and even from his own people," said A. M. Jeffers, Edmonton architect, who addressed the Rotary Club yesterday on architecture.

"We all know that in prehistoric time man roamed the earth at will, taking his sleep wherever night overtook him, and we have no record which shows that this fellow ever desired to return in the evening to the place he left in the morning, or in other words he had no home or ties to compel his return.

"In the course of the evolution of time this prehistoric man developed a desire to have and to hold as he found that sometimes he was hungry, but on account of the fury of the elements he could not venture forth for his food and he lacked protection from the cold and wet, so he commenced to look about to see how he could help himself. This would be in time so far as we know today about the beginning of the Aryan race in India. This is the first known people whom we call man, as they dwell in caves, had skins at their entrance for doors, a few pottery cooking utensils and were Sun worshippers. Having these cooking utensils shows the progress which had been made. I do not know how many years, B. C., and also indicated that there was a difference between man and beast and it is this which is, according to the Aryan definition, "Man is he who thinks, so it is from this period of time that architecture was born.

First Construction.
 "The next step taken was the erecting of artificial abodes, that is other than tents made from skins of beast, and the first examples we have are known as post and lintel construction or, as most of you understand it, post and beam construction. This type of construction or we may say design was first used for entrances to caves and no doubt was nothing but tree trunks or limbs roughly cut and placed together to form an opening or entrance to a cave dwelling. Later on these posts and beams were roughly hewn and were placed in series and then man began to build his dwelling place out in the open spaces and villages developed.

"These first buildings were usually square, one story high and had roofs of boughs and skins. The Egyptians were the first to have their work finished with smoothing tools and also the decorating in colors. At a later period the Egyptians introduced the circular shaped post and with it an extension at the top in the shape of the Lotus bud and as these people advanced in civilization they became experts in the quarrying and shaping of stones for structural purposes and they produced many temples for their emperors and monuments to their forms of worship.

Moors and Greeks.
 "Following the Egyptians we come to Moors and the Greeks. The Moors gave us that type of architecture which is so prevalent in all Moslem countries and which we often call Indian, meaning British India, but what is architecturally known as Byzantine. The outstanding feature of this style is the triangular shape of the ornaments and the highly colored painting of them and the beautiful mosaic work in colored marbles.

"The Greeks gave us beauty in form and symmetry in outline. It is to the Greeks as well as the Romans that we owe much of the characteristics of present day architecture and which we designate as classical. But in addition the Romans gave us the arch, which was a very progressive step in construction. The distinguishing feature of the Ionic order are the Volute and Attic base, the Corinthian has the same base, but a foliated capital with the volute as a terminal. The composite is a corruption of the two former, for the capital, but a more elaborate having a tendency to delicacy or too much fineness in its effect as a supporting member for a column. These three orders are very similar in the details of their cornices. The Tuscan has a simple base and plain cap, the Doric in some instances has but a plinth for a base and a simple cap, but the shaft is fluted. In all these orders the fluted shaft was introduced except in the Tuscan which to this day remain smooth. An outstanding feature of the Doric order are the metopes and triglyphs, an ornamental form spaced at regular intervals and are said to represent beam ends which rest on the lintels which engage the columns.

Roman Discovery.
 Thru the discovery of the arch principal by the Romans, we have the masonry bridge and later on the steel bridges of today. Following the classical period we come to the Renaissance which flourished in Italy and Spain. This is a very much decorated type of architecture and when it can be indulged in, a very pleasing and flowery result is obtained.

"The Normans in France gave us the pointed arch and plainer treatment of wall surfaces and cornices. The pointed arch was further developed in Britain together with foliated capitals for engaged columns and this type of work produced the Gothic of the medieval period which ran riot until about 35 years ago. Another style of the Gothic which has prevailed up to the present day and will probably continue for many years is the perpendicular, as its name implies, the lines are vertical and give added grace to a well designed structure. It is seen in many of our modern Presbyterian and Roman Catholic edifices.

Anglo-Classic.
 "Another type developed in Britain is known as Anglo-Classic, that is English and Classical combined. There are a few nice examples of this work, but to the mind trained to regularity and symmetry this style is an abortion and in some instances a regular nightmare. Its outstanding features are broken pediments and massive keystones.

"The architecture of today is

COMPLETELY FREE OF CONSTIPATION

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels, is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected. This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

YARMOUTH, N.S.
 "For years, I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time. If I neglected to take these, the bowels would refuse to do their work."

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives", which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes, my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date, I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all suffering as I did and I am sure they will derive equal benefit."

A. W. FRANKLIN.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c., or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

CO-OPERATION WITH TERRACE

Rev. Dr. Grant Urges Better Understanding Between the Producers and Sellers

That there might be closer co-operation between Terrace and Prince Rupert was the burden of a short address by Dr. H. R. Grant to the Rotary Club yesterday. The doctor said that he had been rusticated in the finest valley in British Columbia. In spite of the adverse conditions this year, the outlook was not very bad at Terrace. He wondered if it might not be possible instead of paying the small ranchers to work on the roads just at the time when they should be improving their places to make advances to them on the work they did in improving their homesteads as had been done at Merrville, the same to be paid back over a long term of years.

Dr. Grant mentioned the need of instruction for the settlers in the valley. There was more need of an experimental farm in a horticultural district than in a farming community. If the board of trade would recommend the establishment of an experimental plot at Terrace it might have some weight.

Marketing Produce

Dr. Grant also dealt with the question of marketing. The people at Terrace were mostly new to the country. They had little experience in packing or marketing their produce. Owing to the poor packing and grading the sentiment was growing that the product was not good. Everyone knew that the further north any product was grown the better flavored it was. The people of Prince Rupert, he thought, ought to foster the horticultural industry of the interior and support the ranchers in their efforts to supply the market.

Dr. Grant advocated the meeting together of the growers and the sellers with a view to fixing prices so that the growers would be assured a reasonable return on their outlay. The growers had no leadership. There were plenty of things they could grow for this market if they only knew about it. They must organize and see that their product was properly packed and graded because they were now finding themselves in competition with the rest of the province. He hoped that his effort would get the people of Prince Rupert and Terrace together for their mutual advantage.

MRS. JOE RATCHFORD WAS GIVEN SHOWER BY THE PYTHIAN SISTERS

A delightful affair took place last night in connection with the Pythian Sisters' lodge meeting when Mrs. Joseph Ratchford, who was recently married, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower followed by a reception in the Knights of Pythias Castle Hall. A clothes basket was brought into the room filled with household wares, cut glass dishes, crochet work and other gifts. Refreshments were then served and a general delightful social time spent. There was a full attendance of Pythian Sisters.

Miss Loudon, of Nanaimo, and Miss Agnes Donaldson, of Port Essington, have been appointed to the local school teaching staff filling the two remaining vacancies.

WILL BALAGNO IN KETCHIKAN

Former Local Violinist Is Leader of Dream Theatre Orchestra—An Appreciation.

William Balagno, the popular Prince Rupert violinist and until recently a member of the Westholme Theatre Orchestra, is now director of the Dream Theatre Orchestra at Ketchikan. In a recent issue of the Ketchikan Chronicle appears a large two-column picture of Mr. Balagno accompanied by the following appreciation by Laszlo Schwartz, the Hungarian violinist, who was a recent visitor to this city:

"When my boat docked I noticed a fellow fiddler landing with me. Both of us made for the hotel, and as luck would have it we were assigned rooms side by side. I say 'luck' for I can truthfully say that it has been my good fortune to meet and to hear Mr. Balagno, a fellow violinist. Only one who has worked and struggled to master the violin can appreciate what it means to do justice to the masters' works written for the king of instruments. Unfortunately the public will perhaps never hear Mr. Balagno, music director of the Dream Theatre, under as favorable, as ideal conditions as I have.

Hears a Solo.
"He played for himself, never surmising that I was his sole but appreciative audience. The chances are that he could never play as splendidly facing a large audience as he did that day for the four walls, and for me."
"In parting I feel it my duty to give the fullest appreciation to a fellow 'fiddler' for the genuine treat he had given me, and I only hope that the public and music lovers of this city will extend him half as hearty an appreciation and patronage as that which I feel for this unpretentious but sincere, and in the fullest sense of the word, splendidly trained musician."

A Great Asset.
"Small cities should be anxious in making the best use of good new talent just as much as they are anxious to attract new capital. Mr. Balagno would prove a great asset to the cultural life of any city ten times the size of Ketchikan. Upon this statement I would be willing to gamble my reputation as an artist, for I know the full value of this talented musical new-comer in your midst."

CHIEF'S REPORT FOR JULY SHOWS DECREASE IN CRIME IN CITY

The report of the chief of police for the month of July submitted to the police commission last night showed that fines for the month had totalled $3088 including $102 for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, leaving a net total for the city of $2246. There had been another small decrease in crime, the total number of cases being 17 with 11 convictions. There had been 6 cases under the Government Liquor Act, 2 under the Opium and Narcotic Drug Acts, 1 under the Motor Vehicle Act which had resulted in a fine and suspension of the driver's license with its renewal later by the Attorney General's department, one theft charge and one charge under the Pharmacy Act and other minor cases. Weight of coal and bread had been tested and found correct. The payroll for the month was $1269.50 and accounts, $258.33.

BRINGING UP FATHER

IMMENSE FIELD OF IRON IN FAR NORTH

Discovery Made by Bill Carter and Bill Innes in Peace River District

HUDSON'S HOPE, Aug. 11.—Western Canada can have the cheapest supply of iron and steel products on the American continent, according to W. A. Rae, of Grande Prairie, who is forwarding full details of an iron strike made north of here by three prospectors recently. Original discovery was made by Bill Carter, who knows the district well, having helped out the police trail to Fort Graham in 1898, during the Klondike rush. Associated with him is Bill Innes, who has had considerable experience in mining in the Slokan and Yukon, and Fred Blanchard, veteran of the Rainy Lake boom of thirty years ago.

Staked Many Claims
According to their story upon their arrival at Hope where they immediately recorded many claims, the showing lies from 30 miles northwest of town and covers about sixty miles of territory. One group is three miles by seven hundred feet; and to date nine foot pits have failed to reach bottom or show a decline in the value of the ore. An analysis proves it over sixty per cent pure iron, self fluxing and free from impurities. What would tend to give the find higher intrinsic value is that it lies contiguous to high grade coking coal that analyses eighty per cent fixed carbon. This combination would make a splendid opportunity for a steel mill, when the immense possibilities of hydro-electric power derived from the Peace River canyon are realized. Blanchard is fairly conservative for a miner and he stated that a fraction of what he has seen in the new field would stampede Duluth and Port Arthur. A complete report is being forwarded to the department of mines at Ottawa, Edmonton and Victoria; while a sixty pound sample of the ore is being taken out to Grande Prairie. It is thought that before long further samples will be taken out to civilization and the local office will be deluged with requests for information and persons recording claims.

I SAY this for the benefit of readers of this curious column. As for myself my victory bond was hypothecated long ago to pay the man I borrowed the money from to buy the blatted thing.

IT'S nice to talk about stocks and bonds. It makes you feel rich. THE very latest business stunt is for a business man to paper his den with the stock certificates, which have proved of no value and which he cannot sell or give away. It is the only way to get even with the people who sold them and who never expected they would have even that much value. They are artistically placed in rows, the upper one being oils.

LORD LASCELLES NOT BUSINESS SUCCESS

Company Which He Headed Has Been Sold Out Without Producing

LONDON, July 21.—The first business venture of Lord Lascelles, better known as the husband of Princess Mary, has proved a failure. The Conqueror Typewriter Manufacturing Company in Stourton, near Leeds, of which he was the head and principal shareholder, has just been sold.

The concern was started in 1919 with a nominal capital of half a million sterling. It was intended by the promoters to produce an all British typewriter which should compete with the best of the American machines. The erection of the factory and its equipment was undertaken at a time when prices ruled high. No expense was spared and when the works were completed they were considered the "last word" in modern mass productions.

It was hoped that the new industry would provide regular employment for 400 work people. Much experimental work was undertaken in order to justify the name of "Conqueror" and ensure production of a sufficiently profitable basis. But owing to the industrial slump not a single machine has been produced for sale.

Persistent advertising is absolutely necessary to success.

POLICE FORCE IS INCREASED

One More Man Added to Allow for Tightening Up of Duty Hours.

In order to put into effect a new shift scale for the city police force, the police commission last night decided to add one more officer to the force, leaving the arrangements for the appointment to the mayor and chief of police. The total of permanent officers on the force will thus be seven.

The arrangement will provide for the chief or one sergeant and one officer to be on duty at all times of the day or night, on eight hour shifts, changing fortnightly. The seventh man will fill in as a relieving officer for the others on their weekly days off. The hours are to be so arranged that more than two officers will be on service at more important hours.

There was a general discussion of the patrol hours at the meeting, the mayor expressing dissatisfaction with the present arrangement. Commissioner Macdonald defending it as being as good as possible with but six officers. Mr. Macdonald felt, however, that the mayor's suggestion for improvement could be carried out with the addition of the seventh man.

Better Patrol Service.

With the change it is intended that there will be a better patrol service with more special attention to the checking of illegal liquor sale especially as regards clubs under the new civic bylaw, and excessive speed in automobile driving.

In connection with the latter matter a general discussion took place following the reading of a letter from Harry Birch complaining of furious driving on Fourth Avenue East which was a menace to the safety of children. Commissioner Macdonald sympathized with the complaint and pointed to the condition as an example rising out of insufficient patrol service with an undermanned force.

City Solicitor Hooper suggested that the public might cooperate more with the police in reporting and prosecuting cases.

Mayor Rochester referred to Second Avenue in a similar connection. Watch should be kept and an example made of the first offender. Chief Vickers reported that a watch had been maintained but it had been impossible to apprehend anyone.

Liquor Selling.

There was a long discussion on the question of beer selling and the workings of the Government Liquor Act and the city's new club licensing bylaw. City Solicitor Hooper was present and interpreted several points. The city realized that it would be a difficult matter to secure convictions but resolved that they would control if not check beer selling. Commissioner Macdonald and City Solicitor Hooper had a verbal duel along the usual lines over laws and lawyers and the framing of statutes. The commissioner, in the course of the discussion, reiterated his abhorrence of the "Stool pigeon" method of obtaining convictions. An application for a position on the force from L. Dawkin, of Duaneau, was received and filed for future reference.

Mr. Beaumont Officiates. In making the presentation, R. Beaumont, vice-president, spoke of the active interest taken by Mr. Morrison in the club and in the city. This was his second year as president and his resignation from that position before his term was ended would be a distinct loss. He was glad to know that Mr. Morrison was not severing his connection altogether with the club but would remain a non-resident member. If he settled down in his new home and later definitely decided not to return they would make him an honorary member, but everyone hoped he would be back before very long. Conditions might be such here that he would feel it desirable to again make this city his home. If he returned he might feel assured that he would be again expected to take an interest in the management of the Prince Rupert Club.

Wished Success

Everyone wished him success in his new undertaking, Mr. Beaumont said. The good wishes of all went with him.

Mr. Morrison in a neat little speech thanked the members for their kindness. He did not feel that he had deserved anything of the kind. He would always have the kindest remembrances for the club.

WRENS NEST IN A CORNER OF LETTERBOX

MILLERSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 11. (By Canadian Press). — John Seigler, a mail carrier here for two weeks was putting letters in the mail box of a local resident without knowing that the box sheltered a family of wrens. A few days ago he was putting a large package in the box and when he opened the cover two wrens flew out. Seigler investigated further and found six baby wrens in it. The parents had built a nest in the corner of the box and hatched their brood.

Clothes may make the man, but they prevented the making of a woman tennis champion.

Miss Mary Browne, California tennis star, whose career is at least temporarily halted by ill-health, is the woman in question. Her decision not to dispute the right of Mrs. Molla Mallory to the U. S. championship this year, revived discussion about her final match with Mrs. Mallory last season.

"If Miss Browne hadn't worn so many clothes in the match against Mrs. Mallory," stated George F. Agutter, tennis trainer, "she would have won the title. Heavy clothes, including long, binding skirts, slowed her to a point where Mrs. Mallory could beat her."

Herb "Shucks" Pruett, who is making good on St. Louis Browns' pitching staff this year in all probability never will forget the first time he faced Babe Ruth in a full game. All he did was to strike out the "Sultan of Swat" three times. One strike was called, one was a puffy foul tip, and at the other seven pitches Ruth swung hard and missed.

Many major league players think Pruett lacks the necessary speed to prove a consistent winner. However, his peculiar fadeaway ball which has proved most troublesome to American League batters, appears to take care of any weakness due to lack of speed.

John Reitz, 56-year-old swimmer, who has competed in every one of the Illinois Athletic Club's marathon races for the past 13 years, will be in the fourteenth revival of that classic of the West again this year. His entry was the first received by Norman Ross for the race.

In addition to the distinction of having competed in each swim Reitz has finished well up with the leaders in every event and this despite the fact that he is long past the age for the best athletic endeavor.

The sailing committee of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club has selected Tom Wade's Patricia and Jack Gordon's Gara Mia, of the P class for the international test seamanship races between U. S. and Canadian amateur crews, to be held in Toronto Thursday, August 24 and following days.

The United States skipper will be Charles Francis Adams, who sailed the Resolute to victory in the last America's Cup race against Shamrock IV. Skipper Adams will select his crew in Boston and New York.

The R. C. Y. C. has selected Norman Godderham as the Canadian skipper, and he will pick his crew from the members of that club, five in addition to himself. Godderham has had plenty of experience in international cup races on the Great Lakes and he has won many successes.

No definite action was taken, however, pending an early meeting with the Prince Rupert Baseball Association. Five teams are this season in the running it is understood—Smithers, Anxox, Ocean Falls, Prince George (present holders), and Prince Rupert. The sports committee of the Fair board comprises R. E. Benson, Ben Self, W. E. Thompson and D. C. Stuart.

POLICE COMMISSION DISCUSSED OIL FUEL SITUATION LAST NIGHT

The qualities of benzol, the Anxox product, as a propelling material for automobiles and launches was one of the many subjects discussed by the police commission last night. Inasmuch as there is no patrol wagon there seemed no particular reason for Commissioner Shockley bringing up the subject unless he was taking time by the forelock in connection with the proposed purchase of a motorcycle.

Commissioner Shockley made the startling prediction that benzol was going to put the Imperial Oil Company's distillate out of business and had already been responsible for the dropping of the price of the latter commodity by 2c. It was a very effective motive fluid and was being used generally in gasboats and autos.

The mayor intimated that the city had not tried it out yet for they feared its strength and did not want their cars to blow up until they had been used a little longer.

FORCING TARIFF IN CONGRESS

Warnings Sounded in U. S. Senate Against Carrying Measure Too Far.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(By Canadian Press)—The conviction is steadily growing in Washington that the United States is faced by another great political upheaval in consequence of the new tariff measure such as the one that followed the enactment of the Payne-Aldrich law in 1909.

Talk of such an upheaval might be dismissed as ill-considered and inconsequential if it came from democrats alone, but such is not the case. Hardly a day passed recently in the tariff debate in the Senate without some Republican of prominence sounding a warning that the excessive rates of duty in the Fordney-McCumber bill is steering the rates in the bill in such a way as to meet the wishes of the moderate tariff Republicans.

prohibitive. The failure of Senators Lenroot and Wadsworth to bring about reductions in the wool schedule is significant of the fact the high tariff leaders in the Senate finance committee are in the saddle. Almost no hope exists for cutting the rates in the bill in such a way as to meet the wishes of the moderate tariff Republicans.

EUROPE REVERTS TO EXCHANGE OF GOODS

Old Time Method of Doing Business Again in Favor Owing to Currency Difficulties

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Barter, or the exchange of goods, as against the transfer of actual cash has figured in recent international loans, according to the Geneva correspondent of the Observer, in this way the difficulties of exchange have been overcome.

Romania wanted a loan of 45,000,000 gold francs from Switzerland. The Swiss said it was impossible unless they knew how the money was to be spent. Rumania replied: "We need to replenish railroad rolling stock, particularly engines."

"Fine," said the Swiss bankers, "we have these for sale. Take them, and pay for them in cereals and petroleum, both of which you produce and we need." Thus were the arrangements concluded.

Similar borrowing and paying by barter also has taken place with Czechoslovakia. Here, again, Czechoslovakia is receiving Swiss manufactured goods and is to pay for them with truck loads of sugar. Therefore the question of exchange and the comparative values of the Czechoslovakian krona and the Swiss franc does not arise.

In this connection, it may be said that the collections of revenue by the government from tariff duties in the fiscal year just closed were the highest on record, showing that the existing tariff law is a long way from being a free trade measure. In fact it is protective and is sufficiently protective in the minds of even many Republicans, to say nothing of the Democrats.

Duties Will Be High.

Now, while insurgent republicans in the Senate are protesting against the high rates carried in the Fordney-McCumber bill, and are reducing a few of those rates, it is seemingly certain that the bill as it will finally be passed will contain duties so high in many instances as to be almost

WOMAN ENGINEER ON BLUE FUNNEL VESSEL

Miss Victoria Drummons Was God Daughter of Late Queen Victoria.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—If the ambition of Miss Victoria Drummond, now working in the Liverpool office of Messrs Alfred Holt & Co., Ltd., owners of the Blue Funnel Line, is realized, she will be the first woman engineer to go to sea in a liner.

Miss Drummond is a dark-haired, athletic-looking young Scots-woman, and for six years she has worked in the engineering office of the Caledonian Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., Ltd., Dundee. A press correspondent found her wearing horn-rimmed spectacles and poring over formidable engine designs spread on a desk. "My ambition is to go to sea as an engineer," she declared. "I believe I will be the first woman to achieve this, I am hoping to leave in a month or two. I am not a bit shy of being the only woman working among men in the bowels of a ship. I am devoted to engineering. I find it a fascinating subject."

The Blue Funnel liners run to Australia and China, and as a large part of the journey is through the tropics the conditions of the engineers' work are arduous.

Miss Drummond is a granddaughter of the first Lord Amberst of Hackney, who died in 1912, and a god-daughter of Queen Victoria. She is a graduate of Marine Engineers.

HIGH DEATH RATE IN PARTS OF RUSSIA

GENEVA, Aug. 11.—Reports to the Health Section of the League of Nations show that in the Kharkov district of Russia early this year people were dying at the rate of 40,000 a month, or a mortality of 600 in every 1,000. Between March 1 and 20, 125,000 persons died of hunger.

Of the 3,125,277 inhabitants of the Tartar Republic, 2,500,000 had died of starvation by March. From January 1 to March 15 there were 392,390 cases of infectious disease.

In the Ukraine cholera was spreading and the death rate was 60 per cent. There was a grave lack of medical supplies, and hospital accommodation had decreased by 80 per cent.

Up to May 2 the number of cases of typhus in Soviet Russia, the Caucasus and Central Asia was 513,319, compared to 326,665 during the corresponding period last year. There were 167,678 cases of relapsing fever.
