Recount Shows Gain for Col. Peck ELECTION PETITION FILED YESTERDAY CHARGING ILLEGALITY

Peck Gains Fourteen Votes on Recount of Smithers and Premier

Ballots from Premier Mine and Smithers polls were examined by Judge Young in the official general recount of the federal election for Skeena riding this morning. As a result Colonel Peck had made a net gain of fourteen votes. The session opened shortly after 9 o'clock and a great deal of the time was spent in argument of counsel. There were present besides the judge; W. E. Fisher, B. O. Oughton and M. M. Stephens, representing Colonel Peck; A. M. Manson, W. E. Williams and F. G. Dawson, representing Fred Stork; R. W. Cameron, returning officer, G. V. Eviit, election clerk and Harry McLeod, court registrar. The count is continuing this afternoon after luncheon with the examination of Prince Rupert ballots. It is expected that two or three days will be required to make the recount, the balance of the work chiefly being mechanical examination of ballots now that most of the argument is over.

VITAL CHANGE APPROACHING

So Says President of United Farmers of Alberta in Convention.

CALGARY, Jan. 17.—"We stand on the eve of the most vital change of the ages. We are approaching the end of a false civilization and the beginning of a new one," said H. W. Wood, addressing the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta on the completion of his sixth term as president. The people, he said, must be liberated from servitude to the "giants of autocracy and plutocracy" or they would perish. The conflict, he declared, was just beginning.

NO OPPOSITION TO W. R. MOTHERWELL OR MINISTER OF LABOR

CHATHAM, Jan. 17.—Acclamation for James Murdoch, minister of Labor, is expected in Kent County.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS OCCUPY NEW ROOMS AT METTING LAST NIGHT

The Knights of Columbus last night held their first meeting in their new lodge rooms in the Metropole Block, Grand Knight M. P. McGaffery in the chair. After the initiation of a number of candidates for the first degree there was a musical entertainment followed by refreshments served in military style. A very enjoyable time was spent.

CONSOLIDATE TELEGRAPHS STORK PLAN

He Would Improve Local Services But Lessen Expense to Country.

"My plan for abolishing the telegraph and using wireless in the inaccessible portions of the north has nothing to do with the local services. It will mean an improvement rather than working hardship on anyone," declared Fred Stork, member elect for this district, when shown a clipping from a Prince George paper saying that some of the interior places were not pleased with his proposed plan.

"I did not think there could have been any mistaking what I meant. My plan was to do away with the expense of renewing the old telegraph line to such places as Ansox, Alice Arm, Stewart and Dawson and Whitehorse, a line which is down a great deal of the time and in its place build wireless stations, which would be much less costly to build and the upkeep of which would be much less than is the cost of keeping up the telegraph lines. These lines were constructed about 25 years ago and would have to be rebuilt and then after that an army of patrolmen and operators are required, stationed every twenty miles along the line, supplies for these have to be taken in by pack train, all most costly.

"Local points like Fraser Lake would not be affected. There could be a consolidation of the two telegraph lines which would very much lessen the expense and increase the efficiency. Where the telegraph service was not available the lines might possibly be handed over to the local people for a telephone service which would be much more useful for the settlers. Naturally the details of the new plan would have to be worked out carefully and each district treated according to its requirements, but I feel sure there could be a big saving in costs and a much more effective service given the people by replacing the telegraph in the isolated districts by a wireless system."

MORE TUBERCULOSIS DEATHS IN CANADA THAN FROM CANCER

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Number Which Resulted Fatally Was Small.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The deaths from automobile accidents in Canada, exclusive of Quebec, from January, 1921, to August, 1921, inclusive, totalled 116. Of these British Columbia had 23, Ontario 63, Nova Scotia and Alberta 9 each, Saskatchewan 5, Manitoba 1, New Brunswick 1 and Prince Edward Island none.

KILLED IN ALPS.

Government Transfer Effectuated Quietly in Dublin where old Officials Remain in Offices

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—Except for an attack on a military lorry, which flew the Union Jack on evacuating Dublin Castle today, the transfer of the reins of government from the Viceroy to the Griffith administration was carried out without untoward incident and with proper diplomatic formality.

The Viceroy received a telegram from the King expressing belief that the transfer would be effected smoothly.

The military are being withdrawn systematically, and the new government issued a manifesto directing the courts, corporations, departments, state boards, judges, civil servants and peace officers serving under the authority of the Imperial Government to remain in office under the Irish Dominion unless specifically ordered otherwise.

LABOR LEADER ON BAD CONDITION IN GREAT BRITAIN

MANCHESTER, Jan. 17.—Public men should be thinking of the appalling industrial conditions now prevailing rather than about politics, declared John Robert Glynes, labor leader, in an address in the House of Commons, when discussing the rumors of a general election. He said that the local authorities and relief agencies were distracted by the demands made upon them.

QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS WHEAT FOR STARVING RUSSIANS

MELBOURNE, Jan. 18.—Aid to the extent of $250,000 worth of wheat is to be shipped from Australian supplies already in Great Britain to the starving people of Europe by the commonwealth.

Election Petition Filed By Martin O'Reilly in Su reme Court of B.C.

A petition protesting the recent federal election for Skeena constituency, for which Fred Stork was officially declared elected member of Parliament last Monday, was filed in the Supreme Court registry late yesterday afternoon by Martin O'Reilly on grounds that the election was not carried out in compliance with the rules of the Dominion Elections Act by R. W. Cameron, the returning officer. The petition was delivered by Williams, Manson & Gonzales and was addressed to Colonel C. W. Peck and R. W. Cameron. A copy of the petition has been delivered to Mr. Cameron by H. F. Macleod, the court registrar, as required under the act.

The petition reads that the petitioner is informed and believes that R. W. Cameron, the returning officer, has not yet made an official return of the candidate elected and that he had failed to comply with the provisions of the Dominion Election Act as follows:

29 Disfranchised.
That the voters' list for the Premier Mine polling division showed that there were 95 voters registered but the returning officer had only provided the deputy returning officer, George T. Reid, with fifty ballots contrary to the provisions of the act. The returns showed that 79 voters had applied for ballots and that when the 50 had been issued up, the deputy returning officer had manufactured more ballots in an attempt to enable the qualified voters to vote. These said ballots were unauthorized and improper and the failure of the returning officer to provide sufficient ballots had resulted in the disenfranchisement of 29 voters and had had a material effect on the election.

The returning officer had fixed by proclamation and provided for a polling division at Kinloch. This had been cancelled and then re-established, but neither Fred Stork, the candidate, nor F. G. Dawson, his agent, had been notified as to the re-establishment of the poll which was held.

Queen Charlotte Islands.
Polling stations had been fixed for Skidegate, Lawn Hill, Tlell, Thurston Harbor, Queen Charlotte City and Jedway but the returning officer had failed to supply ballots for any of these places and the said default had deprived qualified electors from the right to vote.

As he believed the failure of R. W. Cameron, the returning officer, had affected the result of the election, the petitioner prayed that it might be determined that the election was void and that no candidate had been properly elected to represent the federal election of Skeena in the House of Commons.

BOMBAY, Jan. 17.—A conference representative of all shades of opinion in India today adopted a resolution favoring a round table conference. Ghandi attended unofficially and promised to influence his adherents to abstain from insurrectionary acts meantime provided political prisoners were released. Ghandi, however, warned the delegates that he would not abate his opinions one jot but would demand of the round table conference self-government for India on a Dominion basis.

WATERWAYS WORKABLE

Cost of B'n Scheme Would Be $252,000,000 Between U. S. and Canada.

The commission suggests that the expense, which is estimated at $252,000,000 would be borne by both governments in proportion to the benefit derived by each.

Oil in Western Canada Soon.

Western Canada is likely to be producing oil in the near future. Already a good spouting well has been found at Fort Norman and gas with some oil at Ponce Coupe. Oil has been found at Peace River, but in what quantity is not yet known. Boring is proceeding at Irma and many other places.

In the valleys along the Grand Trunk there is some activity. Practically the whole of the Kitsumkatum basin has been staked and some staking has been done at Lakelse, Usk and as far north as Naas River.

The Queen Charlotte Islands will be further explored during the coming summer, it is likely, and in Southern British Columbia boring will be continued on the Boundary Bay, Empire and other wells with a view to proving whether or not there is oil there in any quantities.

It is not at all unlikely that oil may be found at any time at some point much nearer transportation than Fort Norman.

Liquor Causes Much Worry.

The commercialized liquor traffic is a constant source of worry to statesmen and a constant menace to the country. Almost every province in the Dominion has the problem before it at the present time. Owing to the greed of those engaged in the traffic it is probable that there will be no solution until the whole thing is swept away in a bone dry law for the whole Dominion that will not only prevent liquor being legally sold but will also make it so hot for the bootleggers that there will be little illicit trading.

If the spirit of the moderation law were carried out, there would be no agitation against it. The difficulty is that those engaged in the business are never satisfied. They are continually agitating for greater laxity and more privileges. This will simply hasten the end. If those who handle liquor wish to continue in the business, the best thing they can do is to comply carefully with the law and leave well enough alone. Even now a community may take advantage of the Canada Temperance Act and make a city dry so that not even the government vendor would be allowed to sell liquor.

Drunkenness seems to be on the increase. For a time the liquor law worked well, but the efforts to evade it are having disastrous effects. If there is laxity, it will be necessary for those who favor a decent community to organize and commence an agitation for getting rid of the traffic altogether.

C. P. R. Announces Increased Service.

The C. P. R. is announcing an increased steamship service for the accommodation of the Alaska tourist business during the coming summer. The new steamer Princess Louise will accommodate a great many more passengers and more trips are to be made. The result will be that more tourists will visit Prince Rupert.

There is now an opportunity for some enterprising concern to put on a "Seeing Prince Rupert" service, working in conjunction with the C. P. R., and driving tourists to Seal Cove and other parts of the city with an official announcer to point out the points of interest. This has never been done here. It is a profitable business and should be undertaken. There would be no difficulty in filling up a tallyho car at a dollar a head for an hour's drive. Tourists today are satisfied to stroll up Third Avenue and back and they never see the city.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

AN influenza wave is said to be expected to be sweeping over Great Britain. Sometimes we have a crime wave, a religious wave, a temperature wave, a wave of restlessness and now let us hope a wave of prosperity.

THE most thrilling news that comes over the wires these days describes one of Princess Mary's gowns and the list of her bridesmaids.

THE next germ that should be isolated by scientists and then destroyed is the germ of war.

AND yet the man or nation that will not fight when oppressed is not worthy to live.

ONE thing you can never depend upon is the brand of bootleg.

JUDGING by the labor papers one of the chief objections to the "master class" is that they ride in limousines.

THANK heaven I am not in that class for what I look forward to in my declining years is a big touring car.

THERE is an evident tendency among Prince Rupert citizens to bury the hatchet, hide the hammer and listen to the voice of the leader as he says: "Now then, all together boys, Hip, hip, hip hooray."

SASKATOON FARMER ASKING FOR WIFE

Would Like Her to Be Senceabul, Clean, Agreeable and Truthful.

SASKATOON, Sask., Jan. 18.—"I am single man, never was married and if I could get a good senceabul one I'd marry her quick for I like good company," is a sentence taken from a letter received at the City Hall here from a certain Mr. Smith, a homesteader living near Prince Albert. The letter delivered to City Commissioner Andrew Leslie was addressed "The Manager of the City Hall." The lonely farmer informs the manager that he wants "a housekeeper and company," and would be pleased to relieve a part of distress which has been reported in Saskatoon by taking into himself a wife. In closing his letter Mr. Smith says: "I can't get away myself very handy, for I have 19 head of stalk to look after but if she would-en't mind taking a chance I would be willing to forward her the fair."
 Now Mr. Leslie, who is known as a very versatile man around the city hall, is giving his personal attention to this urgent demand of the heart and endeavoring to help Mr. Smith to find a mate according to the lonely farmer's specifications—"senceabul, good company, clean, agreeable and truthful." Surely not even Solomon wrote a wiser description of a good wife.

MAKE TREATY ON FISHERIES

Proposals of the Joint Commission of 1918 May Be Adopted.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The fisheries question is being discussed at Washington and it is possible as a result the report of the joint commission of 1918 may be embodied in a treaty between the two countries. The recommendations of that commission were:

1. That the fishing vessels of either country may enter, from the high seas, any port of the other, and clear from such port to the high seas and the fishing grounds.
2. That the fishing vessels of either country may dispose of their catches and purchase bait, ice, nets, lines, coal oil, provisions, and all other supplies and outfits, in the ports of either country.
3. That the repairing of fishing implements in the ports of either country be allowed to the vessels of the other country.
4. That the fishing vessels of either country may dress, salt and otherwise prepare their catches on board such vessels in the territorial waters of the other country.
5. That the fishing vessels of either country may ship their crews and tranship their catches in the ports of the other country.
6. That the fishermen of either country may sell their catches in the ports of the other country, subject to local tariff, if any.

The commissioners also unanimously recommended free trade in fish.

At present Canada accords to American fishing vessels practically all the privileges enumerated above except that when selling their fish they must pay the customs duty, if any, or secure an undertaking that the buyer will transship the fish in bond to the United States. The cost of these privileges to American vessels is $1 annually.

On the other hand, Canadian fishing vessels may only enter American ports for the human necessities.

MARCONI AND MARS MESSAGES

Inventor of Wireless Gives Interesting Address on Latest Developments.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Mr. Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, in his presidential address to the Birmingham and Midland Institute recently, described some of the latest developments of wireless telegraphy.

He believed that in the near future it would be possible to establish reliable transoceanic communication at great speeds with a much smaller amount of energy than was now necessary and with much simpler apparatus. The ripples produced by the voice on the current carried by an under-sea cable became rapidly distorted after they had passed through a few miles of cable, the result being that when sound waves were reproduced at the receiving end they were sometimes quite unrecognizable. In the case of wireless telephony, however, the electrical waves into which the sounds were converted at the transmitter were not subject to this distortion, no matter whether they had travelled through three or 3,000 miles of space.

Mr. Marconi described wireless direction-finding methods, and combated the popular fears of "wireless horror" that might be expected in the next war—if there was a next war.

Message from Venus.
He was afraid that the press reports that he had received wireless signals which he thought might have come from the planet Mars arose through a misconception of some remarks he made.

"I stated at various times," he continued, "that undoubtedly effects resembling signals of great wave-length are occasionally registered by wireless receivers—effects coming apparently from somewhere in space; and these observations have been confirmed by many wireless observers. I may also have mentioned on some occasion that the possibility of such signals emanating from the planet Mars could not be entirely excluded. For these effects seemed to have their source somewhere in space outside the earth, and the planet Mars is undoubtedly situated in space outside the earth. It is clear, therefore, that when a metaphorical pistol was held at my head I refused absolutely to affirm that the signals did not come from Mars. How can I know? How can anyone know? How is it possible to prove such a negative?"

Martians Give Up.
"The signals come from space outside the earth. They may come from the upper reaches of the atmosphere, they may be caused by magnetic disturbances in the sun, they may come from Mars, or from Venus even. As a matter of fact these effects have not been nearly so noticeable of late, and I sincerely hope that the gentlemen of the press will not interpret this last remark of mine to mean that I assert that the Martians, in despair at receiving no reply to their signals, have given up the attempt—probably thinking that our state of civilization is so low that they had better wait several thousand more years before repeating the attempt."

EFFECT OF MUSIC ON SOME ANIMALS

A violinist once tested the effect of his music on the animals in the London Zoological Gardens. Snakes, lizards, and scorpions were the most appreciative; some of them wiggled and swayed, others crept up close to the violin and listened, enchanted. Bears, sheep, wild hogs, bisons and zebras were all mildly interested. But the wolves, foxes and elephants fairly snorted with rage. The monkeys were divided in their sentiments; some nodded eagerly and listened; others scowled and turned away disgustedly.

A good deal of controversy exists regarding the "musical opinion" as expressed by the howling dog at the sound of music. Some declare that he howls with disgust, and others say that he howls with delight at those sounds. The logic of the howling dog, is however, simpler—"If the dog did not appreciate the music of a band or such music as affects him, he would quickly turn on his heels and move off." Instead of this he sits down and howls with delight during the whole performance if he is not "kicked out." The dog is visibly affected, and his howling takes different forms of "tone color" according to the class of music performed, and in this way, the argument goes in favor of the dog's robust and noisy method of appreciation in musical sounds.

A DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER & Zam-Buk

Well-known Salvationist Tells of Mother & Son Saved from Blood-Poison & Disablement.

"One cannot speak too highly of this wonderful Zam-Buk," says Mrs. Jane E. Zealley, an ex-Major of the Salvation Army and daughter of the late Dr. Bevan, of St. David's, South Wales.

Called upon at her home, 9 Bushness Avenue, Toronto, Mrs. Zealley said: "Eight years ago my boy Alfred scratched his leg with the brass tag of a shoe lace and blood poisoning set in. I had used various ointments on the sore, without doing good, when, hearing splendid reports about Zam-Buk I decided to give it a trial. You can imagine my relief, when, after a few applications of Zam-Buk, I saw that healing had already started. Continued treatment quickly removed every trace of the obstinate sore. It made me realize that pain and suffering I might have saved the boy, had I got Zam-Buk at first. "When I fell over a steel fender and injured my knee badly, I again used Zam-Buk. My daughter, who was a nurse, thought an operation would be necessary to remove the mass of inflammation and pus, but I hadn't forgotten my previous experience with Zam-Buk. Again regular applications of the balm took out all pain and swelling and healed the wound in a few days. The knee has never given further trouble." Herbal Zam-Buk is 50c. box, all dealers.

EMDEN'S PLAN USE WIRELESS

Whole Radio System of Pacific Held Up by Powerful Instrument.

VICTORIA, Jan. 17.—How a powerful radio range and distance under enabled the German raider Emden to bewilder the world by her swift destruction of Allied shipping during part of the war period has been revealed by Captain D. Clinton, master of the steamship Harold Dollar of the Robert Dollar Co. He was a captive of the Emden for five days before her career was ended by the Australian warship Sydney.

Steaming through the seas the Emden, said Captain Clinton, would pick up a wireless message sent out by a British, Japanese or other allied ship. The Emden's radio range and distance finder revealed not only the direction from which the message came but also the distance of the allied vessel from the German raider.

"The commander of the Emden then made his plans accordingly," said Captain Clinton when quizzed by friends on the Harold Dollar recently. "The radio range and distance finder gave him a wonderful advantage over our merchant shipping.

Plans Worked Well. While the reason for the Emden's spectacular success has been known to the naval and army experts of the world ever since her destruction, it has received little publicity. It was more or less forgotten in the tremendous events of the last year of the war and in the controversies that followed the war. Because of that condition coast shipping men, still eager for details of the war's sea problems, welcomed Captain Clinton's arrival here.

As master of a British steamship, Captain Clinton was captured by the Emden between Bombay, India, and the Suez Canal. The German commander gave the master and crew five minutes to leave their vessel. He planned to sink the Britisher. Then he changed his mind, and for five days Captain Clinton's vessel accompanied the raider, German officers and men being stationed aboard his ship. The officers told him of the radio range and distance finder. They would remark one day that they would sink certain ships the following day, naming the exact hour. In virtually every case they kept their schedule to the hour.

Close to British Warship. The German officers told me that once they were within eight miles of the British warship Hampshire. They said, however, that they were not seeking a fight with a British warship. They realized that they would meet their Waterloo sooner or later, but in the meantime they were out to destroy all the shipping possible.

At the end of five days the German commander transferred all his prisoners to Captain Clinton's ship and told the British master he was free to take the vessel wherever he desired. During the five days the Emden sank several other merchantmen.

"Jammed Up" Ether. All the Emden's wireless apparatus was of great power. When desirable from the raider's viewpoint, the German commander would turn loose his wireless, making it impossible for other vessels within a great area to send or receive radio messages. He "jammed up" the atmosphere.

PLANS OF PRINCESS LOUISE SHOW VERY HANDSOME VESSEL

Will Have 126 Staterooms, Four Parlors and Seating Capacity in Dining Room for 143.

The first plans and berthing sheets of the new C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, which was built by the Wallace Shipyards at North Vancouver and which will enter the Prince Rupert and Alaska service in June, have reached the local office of the company. They show that the steamer is both spacious and palatial and will be the last word in quality and convenience of arrangement for the travelling public.

There are four decks which will be devoted to the accommodation of passengers. The vessel will have 143 staterooms and four parlor suites and the capacity of the first class dining saloon will be for 143 persons.

On the main deck will be the dining saloon and the galley, immediately back of this being the second-class dining room and the second class smoke room.

On the awning deck, where there are no promenades will be 59 first class outside staterooms with the first class smoking room aft and the observation room forward.

On the boat deck will be 26 more outside deck staterooms. The officers' quarters are also located on this deck and immediately forward of them and under the pilot house will be the ship's library.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR GRANBY SMELTER AND PLANT IN NORTH

H. S. Munro States an Aggressive Policy Will Be Pursued.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17.—Among those who left for the north on the Prince Rupert yesterday is H. S. Munro, general manager of the Granby Mining, Smelting and Power Co., who has just returned from New York and who is en route to the big plant at Anyox. Before leaving he stated his company contemplated an extensive policy of plant extensions and improvements at Anyox. This policy was decided on as a result of a consultation with the directors in New York.

Copper prices are likely to hover between 14c and 15c per pound for the greater part of the year in the opinion of Eastern copper men, Mr. Munro states. The price is likely to increase between now and April or May, but when the big American producers, whose plants have been closed down for some months past, get into their stride the market is likely to sag slightly, competent observers think, he says. The price situation would be materially changed by any unexpected large orders being placed for copper, but no such orders are at present in prospect in his opinion.

After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. The billiard and crib tournaments at the Elks' Home were finished at the end of the week. Bert Morgan won the billiard handicap by defeating Ernie Green in the final by a score of 200 to 139. In the crib tournament, W. E. Thompson was the winner beating P. Solem. The tournaments have been in progress for a fortnight and have proved of general interest among the club members. The Elks will be starting some other competitions in the near future and a scratch billiard tournament open to all members will likely be on the list. The Wanderers Club is also said to be planning another billiard handicap to commence soon.

The Colts basketball team, Intermediate champions so far this season, will journey to Port Simpson tomorrow afternoon to play a return game with the native team at that place. P. Laporte will be in charge of the expedition and it is hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of the opportunity of making the trip so that the costs may be reasonably divided. It is likely that there will be a number goes it has been planned for Wednesday afternoon, the half holiday. The launch taking the visitors to the Indian village will leave here at 1:30, the game will be played early in the evening and the return will be made the same night. Those planning to make the trip are warned to take a lunch along with them so that there will be no danger of them going hungry.

Feeling is beginning to run high in the Ladies' Basketball League and there are various stories going the rounds of threats and hot words among the ladies. The officials of the Association are reported to be on the "still hunt" with a view to preserving good friendly sports-womanlike feeling among the players. Ladies, like men, must be reminded that they must meet fair defeat with the same good feeling as they would fair victory. The winners are entitled to the laurels of victory and it is up to the losers to do their best to play the game squarely and if they are not successful to grin and bear it and try again. The Ladies' basketball league must not develop into a group of factions out to get each other at any cost. That is not playing the game and is not ladylike to say the least of it.

RAILWAY ROLLING STOCK WAS PAWNED BY CORPORATION

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(By Canadian Press)—Probably one of the most unique incidents in railway annals in the United Kingdom, if not in any other country, is that of a railway company being forced to pawn its engines, yet this is what happened to the Great Eastern Railway Company in its early days. With such a strong corporation, as it is today, this is an interesting memory, occasionally referred to as a milestone in railway progress in the land.

The incident was recalled by Lord Claud Hamilton, chairman of the Great Eastern Railway Company, at the recent annual distribution of prizes of the Mechanics' Institution at Stratford, presided over by his Lordship. He said that at one time in the early period of the Great Eastern Railway the company was in such a critical state financially that it had to mortgage many of the locomotives used on the line. It was not then an uncommon sight, he had been told, to see locomotives running about with brass plated affixed which stated: "This engine is the property of"—Mr. Nathan, or Mr. Robinson, or whoever it was who had advanced money on it.

PROPHET ENOCH GETS SIX YEARS

Leader of Fanatical Band in South Africa Convicted of Sedition.

CLASH WITH POLICE

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(By Canadian Press)—"Enoch the Prophet," leader of the fanatical native section in South Africa known as the "Israelites," along with his two brothers, has been sentenced to six years' imprisonment with hard labor for sedition. Thirty other ringleaders have received sentences of three years' imprisonment, with hard labor, and seventy of the rank and file eighteen months' imprisonment on the same terms. In the cases of the remainder of the Israelites—old men and boys—sentence has been suspended for a year.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Times cables that the trial has justified the action taken by the police in the Bulhoek affair on May 24 last, when 483 followers of Enoch were shot dead in their fanatical charge upon the police. The judge who presided at the trial on the seditionists, Sir Thomas Graham, found that no blame attached to the police, but he severely criticized the inciting policy of the officials in the months preceding the outbreak. He especially condemned the authorities for having withdrawn a strong body of armed police in the preceding December. This, he described scathingly, was the first occasion on which armed and disciplined white police had withdrawn and abandoned a camp in the face of natives armed only with assegais, swords and knives. He declared that the effect of this had been to encourage the native fanatics in the belief that the Europeans were afraid of them.

Native Fanatics. The so-called Israelites comprised a band of native fanatics who refused to take orders from any of the Government authorities unless Enoch announced that such orders were sanctioned by Jehovah, God of Israel. They camped on government ground at Bulhoek, near Queenstown, in the Cape Province, and would not move. They caused a lot of trouble by refusing to attend subpoenaed witnesses to attend the courts, and by generally failing

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

UNITE BRITISH AND AMERICANS

First Annual Meeting of British-American League Held in Victoria.

VICTORIA, Jan. 17.—Officers elected by the British-American League at its annual banquet in the Dominion Hotel were as follows: Hon. president, Lindley Grease, K.C., executive committee Major Wendell B. Shaw, R. C. Nicholas, Joshua Kingham, P. C. Abell Charles L. Shaw, Walter Adams, Bishop Schofield, George Bell, C. N. Maywood, Mrs. C. Spofford and Mrs. J. F. C. Hyndman.

Friendship and co-operation between the British Empire and the other great branch of the Anglo-Saxon race, the United States, will be the greatest single factor in maintaining the peace of the world and preserving civilization, all speakers at the banquet agreed. Thus, they declared no more important work than that of stimulating cordial relations between the Empire and the American Republic—the purpose of the British-American League—could be undertaken.

This thought was emphasized in the annual report of President Wendell B. Shaw who stated that the league having completed its first successful year, looked forward to a future of greater usefulness. Before the meeting concluded the members expressed their appreciation of Major Shaw's unstinted efforts in founding the league and aiding its work during the last year.

Bonds of Union.

"Bonds of love hold the British Empire and the United States together much more closely and more firmly than any agreements—bonds of common language, common interests and common ideals make certain the preservation in the world of all that is best in our civilization," Mr. Grease declared in proposing the toast to the Empire after toasts to the King and to the President of the United States had been proposed by Major Shaw and B. C. Nicholas.

"Democratic government which the British Empire and the United States have achieved today means government by the consent of the governed," observed Dr. H. E. Young, who replied to the toast. "That principle has been the basic rule of the British Empire's existence and expansion. The traditions of the past have become crystallized until now whether they become citizens of other countries or paint little patches of red in distant places on the earth's surface the growth of the Empire form the basis of government. Government forms, of course, have altered by varied conditions but those governments has reserved the great principles of freedom of speech, freedom of thought, civil and religious liberty which have grown up with the British race."

WINNIPEG FURS SELL FOR GOOD PRICES

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17.—Sales of muskrats were the surprise of the fur sale here, 20,000 skins being sold by noon, with prices averaging 25 per cent higher than at the last auction. Rats sold at from $1.44 to $1.55. Lynx pelts were also one of the sensations, the highest price obtained being $25.25. A keen demand for fox which was scarce in the early offerings, raised the price of silver fox of medium grade from $55 to $99, with one choice skin sold at $150.

Martens at $30 to $45 for better grades were bought heavily by Mr. Sayer, New York fur dealer. Beaver was scarce and was bought eagerly at $16 to $28. Weasels, used for the manufacture of ermine, made an early record of $1.03, and were boosted later to $1.22 by a heavy demand.

M. Kinklestein, of the local Northwest Hide and Fur Company, was the chief purchaser of wolf pelts, prices ranging from $2 for lower grades to $11.50 for the better quality. Chevrier & Sons, Winnipeg, were also heavy buyers in offer, a few at $26 being succeeded by a consignment of extra blacks, which sold at $45.

Say It Plainly

We get some splendid suggestions from those who use Pacific Milk. We are indebted to a Westminister lady, who has suggested that we mention the importance of asking for Pacific Milk by name, rather than simply saying "a tin of milk" or "a case of milk."

She says the last two cases she ordered she herself forgot to say Pacific, and each time some other brand was sent. It cost the grocer two extra trips to make the exchange, and it was not his fault either.

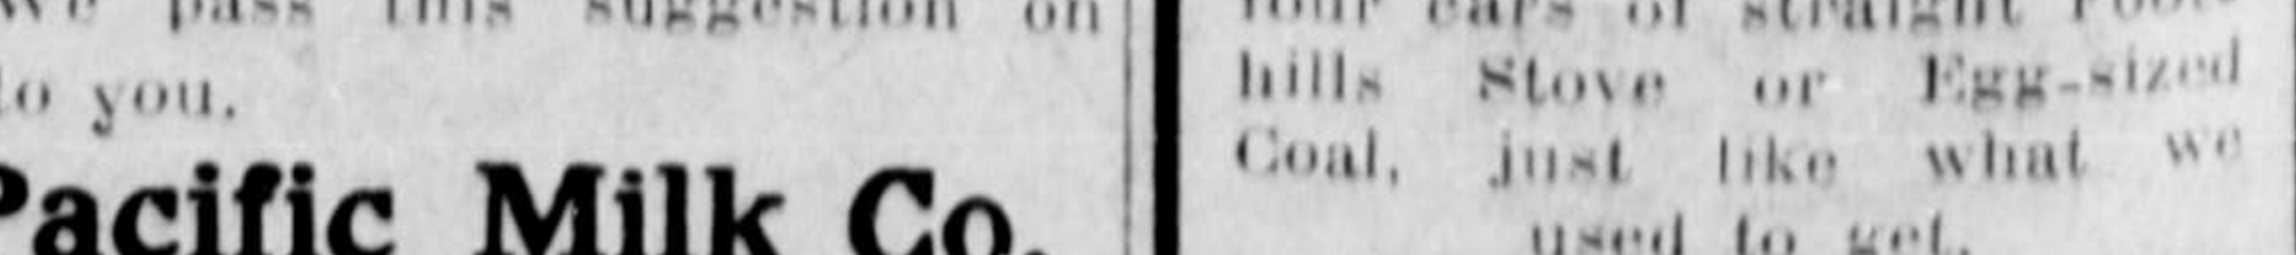

We pass this suggestion on to you.
