Currency Stolen From Express Office UNEMPLOYED IN CAPITAL INTERVIEW PREMIER; ARE EJECTED

Mayor of Victoria Is Seiged by Mob; Police Called For VICTORIA, Feb. 2.—Premier Oliver was forced to eject W. S. Moulton, one of the leaders of the unemployed delegation who interviewed him yesterday, when Moulton advocated extreme measures.

Women, led by a few men, attempted to create some excitement at the parliament buildings and swarmed into the Premier's offices. He invited two of the men and four of the women into his private office and later himself ejected Moulton, who wanted the Legislature called together and $500,000 voted. The Premier continued the interview with the five.

Claiming that Premier Oliver had sent them there, the mob of unemployed men marched into the mayor's office at the City Hall yesterday afternoon and forced their way into the private office where the mayor was in conference with city officials and demanded an immediate interview. The men left when they were promised an interview Thursday.

Most of the men it is claimed, had been ejected from lodging houses for failure to pay rent. The city comptroller estimates that $100,000 will be required to meet the unemployment situation here this year.

Premier's Position.
VICTORIA, Feb. 2.—(later). The premier stated after the ejecting incident that the matter was in the hands of the municipalities and that the municipalities were all the machinery for dealing with the situation. The Dominion and Provincial governments had agreed to contribute one third each of what the municipalities have to lay out on this relief and the governments have the money ready and are waiting on the municipalities.

Mr. Bowser stated that the Conservative nominee in Ontario would be a resident of that riding and that a well known railway man of Revelstoke would contest that riding with Dr. Sutherland. Mr. Bowser also indicated that he would address meetings in both ridings.

SWIMMING TANK HERE

At the Rotary Club luncheon this afternoon Mayor Rochester explained to the members that the swimming pool proposal had in a general way been looked upon with favor by the board of works of the city council but that they had objected to the proposed location as being unsuitable and too small. It has been suggested that the heat generated by the new incinerator should be utilized for heating the water if the swimming bath was built close to it. Heat from incinerators were utilized in other cities and might well be here. The committee of the Rotary Club will pursue the matter further.

Public Opinion of World Moves Slowly.

Public opinion throughout the world moves slowly. Sometimes a wave of emotion passes over a country, rippling the surface and giving the idea that the people have changed, but beneath it all is the still deep water of human nature which remains much as it was before. Surface waves have little effect.
 People were hoping much from the Washington conference. Little has been obtained except the recognition of the principle that war is something to be avoided. Resolutions and regulations covering war must be of little use, for any nation that would today plunge the world into war would surely commit the smaller crime of using submarines or poison gas or anything else that would likely bring the war to a speedy end.
 The nations as well as the individual inhabitants are still pretty much savages at heart. There is a change in process, but one generation will not make that change. The average man today is far better than the average man we read about a century ago, and the average man a century hence will be better than he is today. Until that average is much higher than it is we can not expect anything like perfect government among the nations.

Unity of Mankind Must Be Recognized.

To civilize one part of the world and leave the other part to take care of itself is futile. Every nation of the earth must become civilized before we can expect peace on earth. For the barbarians to overrun the rest of the world is no new thing, but it is one of the nightmares which will haunt the next generation unless wise statesmanship prevails. One of the aims of the world statesman today should be, not to build up one or two nations at the expense of the others, but to level up the lower.

Those who have not been beyond the confines of Canada and the United States, and perhaps Great Britain, can not understand the problem which presents itself in attempting to raise the Asiatic nations to the status of perfect self-governing communities. The coolies of the East have the intelligence of the animal rather than of the man. They are ignorant, and when they learn from us it is the vices they pick up, leaving the virtues for the more educated. Democracy can not be a success until these coolies have changed into educated beings, capable of thinking and acting in accordance with the dictates of the higher emotions.
 Missions to Asia do not usually touch these coolies, and yet it was to the very lowly that the big mission of two thousand years ago went, and the movement was upward.

Wonderful Influence of Great Men.

The wonderful influence of great men on the rest of the community has been shown throughout history. Colonel Forster told of the wonderful influence on the Washington conference of Right Hon. Arthur Balfour and Secretary Hughes. The multitude are like sheep without a shepherd until some superman comes along and sways them, leads and influences them for better or for worse.
 Carlyle tells us that in the old days the people chose as their leader the best man or king. And the countries are still often led by their best men or kings. Notable examples of that have been seen in Britain and in other countries. Many people when they sing "God Save the King" think of Lloyd George.

Need of Care in Selecting Officers.

If it is desirable to choose the best men for rulers, it is also desirable to make good selections in all minor groups that have to do with the government of the country. It is true of the mayor and council in each city and in the selection of officers for minor groups. Tonight there is to be held the annual meeting of the local Liberal Association, and it is very important that good officers with high aims should be chosen for it. So it is with the officers of all other societies and groups that have anything to do directly with the government of the country or the forming of public opinion.

The Man in the Moon SAYS--

THE weather may be dull but be sure you don't adopt the name of "Gloomy."

HALF the world is crazy. Of course it is not the half to which I belong, though moon-struck and lunny have become popular expressions to indicate the condition of those who are mentally unbalanced.

If all those who are mentally unbalanced are crazy, then all the world is crazy.

I ONCE before quoted the saying of a wise man to his wife: "All the world's quare 'cepis thee and me and I sometimes think thee is a little bit quare too."

THIS is the sort of weather that makes you glad you have no automobile to crank or drive.

WHY go to the movies when there are so many man and woman tragedies in real life?

THE Vancouver police magistrate fined the tobaccoists of that city ten dollars each for keeping punchboards on the premises. Guess the Elks are liable. They have a punch ball on the premises.

AMONG the things that won't get you anywhere is a stalled auto on a frosty morning.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

February 2, 1912.

The city council has decided to do the work of excavation on the pipe line between Shawatlans Lake and Acropolis Hill reservoir by the day labor plan. L. W. Patmore, J. H. Pillsbury, H. F. McRae, W. J. Alder and M. J. Hobin comprised a delegation appearing before the council last night with the demand that the work be done by day labor, competitive station work and contract system.

Parker Williams, M.L.A., states in the Legislature that ex-Mayor Manson was hopelessly repudiated by the people of Prince Rupert in the fact that J. H. Hilditch, "his candidate" in the recent municipal election, received so few votes.

The temperature today is 65 above and picnic parties are enjoying themselves in various sections of the waterfront and harbor.

WIDOWS AND CHILDREN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 2.—About 550 widows and more than 2,000 dependent children were cared for under the Manitoba Mother's Allowance act during the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1921, according to the annual report of A. Percy Pagel, secretary of the Mothers' Allowance commission.

FINE BANQUET AT METHODIST CHURCH HELD

Preliminary to Organizing of Men's Society—Speeches, Musical Numbers and Other Attractions.

About 150 persons attended the splendid banquet which was out on last evening in the Methodist Church by the Men's Own Society. The repast was provided by the men who did the serving as well as the cleaning up afterwards. The ladies, to whom usually falls the task of making arrangements for such an affair, were wholly relieved in this occasion. Excellent speeches and fine musical numbers made the event most enjoyable.

Dr. W. T. Kergin was in the chair and there were several toasts. It being National Fish Day, the toast to the day was proposed by W. E. Williams and responded to by E. A. Wakefield. Both gave interesting and telling addresses. The toast to Canada was proposed by J. C. Perry and responded to by P. H. Linzey and Dr. William Sagar of Port Simpson. "The Men" was proposed by Mrs. H. C. Higgins, W. H. Sherman responding.

An interesting and amusing item on the program was the story telling by the ladies, Mrs. Stockdale, Miss Hudson and Miss E. M. Earle taking part in it. Instrumental numbers were rendered by H. Aubrey Pryce, A. J. Lancaster and Lee Gordon and solos were sung by H. C. Higgins, A. Clapperton and F. Dibb.

Men's Society.

The banquet was in the form of a preliminary to the organizing of a men's society which is to be commenced in the near future. In view of the fact that there is so little recreation for many men in the city between the ages of 16 and 60 it is being proposed to bring into being a non-sectarian society with departments for literary, debating and physical culture work along the lines of the Y. M. C. A. Next Wednesday a meeting will be called of all those interested, with a view to getting expressions of opinion on the plan. The organization will be especially for those men who do not care to be actively identified with any church. The commodious quarters of the Methodist Church will be used as the meeting place.

FLEXIBLE TARIFF AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(By Canadian Press).—Interest continues to be keen here in the question whether President Harding will succeed in getting legislation for the "flexible tariff" which he has recommended in his messages and which he is demanding of the leaders.

In the recent conferences which the U. S. president has had with the republican leaders of the Senate he has urged the enactment of such legislation as will enable him to raise or lower tariff duties to meet changing conditions. In raising or lowering duties, he would be guided by the recommendations of the Tariff Commission, whose duty it is constantly to keep in touch with the workings of schedules and with conditions which affect trade and industry here and abroad. At least, he would have the advantage of the information and recommendations of the tariff commission, which, in the United States has so far proved a rather perfunctory piece of governmental machinery.

Under the surface in Congress, there is intense opposition to the flexible tariff proposition which the president advocates. It is, in fact not a new plan. In past years it has been advocated in one form or another. It has always met with objections from high tariff men in Congress. The U. S. constitution says that all laws for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives. In actual practice, such laws originate in the Ways and Means committee of the House of Representatives which submits its plans to the House for its ratification or rejection.

Beware Infectious COUGHS
 Do you realise the risk you run riding in a crowded train or street-car without a Peps tablet in your mouth?
 Every sneeze, every cough, fills the air you breathe with countless disease-germs that immediately make for any weak spot in your throat and chest. Be wise, always carry Peps, and occasionally let one of these germ-killing tablets dissolve in your mouth to ward off the infection. Then you will not be "full of cold" on the morrow, with the possibility of influenza, pleurisy or pneumonia supervening.
 Just as you breathe in the germs that cause infectious throat and lung ailments, etc., so you must breathe in the soothing germicidal Peps medicine to rout out the germs before they can cause serious trouble. Free from harmful drugs, Peps are the safest and best remedy for sudden colds and chills, grippe, sore throat, laryngitis, night-cough, hoarseness, wheeziness, bronchitis and chest weakness in old and young.

CHANGE UNION JACK NOT NECESSARY

Suggestion of New Flag With Each Nation of the Empire Represented.

It has been announced that the creation of the Irish Free State will involve the alteration of the Union Jack to its old form by taking out the cross of St. Patrick, says the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. An authority I have consulted says there is no need to do anything of the kind. He points out that the "union" commemorated in the flag is the union of crowns, which will persist. He also deprecates any interference with the Union Jack on artistic grounds. He says that for design and "blaze" the Union Jack is perfect. It is not an invented design at all, of course, but simply the result of combining the cross of St. George, the cross of St. Andrew, and the cross of St. Patrick. If the St. Patrick's cross were taken out we should return to what is known as the first union flag, which is simply the Scottish St. Andrew's cross—blue ground, white diagonal cross—with the red cross of St. George superimposed. This was used from the time of the union with Scotland to the union with Ireland, 1801, and it has great historical associations. Others think that it may be necessary to introduce changes in the Royal Standard. A suggestion sent me by a friend is that the Standard might be so changed as to symbolize the British Commonwealth as a whole, including Ireland. The leopards of England and the red lion of Scotland and the harp of Ireland might be retained, and the emblems of all other dominions introduced so as to give a complete heraldic picture of the Empire.

Canada's National Fish Day is Fittingly Observed at Bauquet Of Canadian Fish Association

Canada's eighth annual Fish Day was fittingly observed and celebrated at the great fish luncheon put on at the St. Regis Cafe yesterday afternoon. Two instructive addresses by W. E. Williams and Fred Stork, M.P., an appropriate musical program, the bounteous spread of products of the sea from whales to clams, and a large, enthusiastic and representative assembly of citizens made the affair a complete success. Mayor Harry Rochester was the chairman, and seated at the head table alongside him were Fred Stork, M.P., John Dybhavn, James L. Lee, J. W. Nicholls, H. Johnson, W. E. Williams and W. J. Cash. Down the two long tables among those present were: Milton Gonzales, Ben E. Hill, R. V. & L. Lepine, W. F. Roberts, Douglas P. Stork, T. B. Cooper, W. D. Vance, Thomas McLymont, G. A. Woodland, W. J. Orchard, Dan H. McDonald, Geo. Colhart, H. L. Landry, E. Woods, C. V. Evitt, H. Phillips, J. H. McMillan, A. Brooks, Frank S. H. Hoskins (Smithers), A. Bilton, Dr. C. A. Eggert, W. B. Omer, S. E. Parker, G. W. Peterson, Ralph Harrop, Dr. W. Keen, C. G. Mills, Joe Greer, George Keer, Harry Wright, George Munro, Leo Waugh, F. G. Dawson, W. Viger, Col. S. P. McMorris, D. G. Stewart, J. F. Laurier, D. C. McEae, E. A. Macfield, David Thomson, W. Wright, A. Clapperton, R. Angus, L. M. Fuller, Jack Woods, E. F. Duhy, Rev. Dr. H. Grand, W. G. Hughes, A. Harberg, Hon. A. M. Manson, Frank Davies, John McKee, R. E. Moore, W. Sandison, G. A. Hunter, Thomas McMeekin, J. Harris, F. W. Hari, G. A. Bryant, J. J. Muldoon, Jack Venables, J. P. Bunn (Vancouver), S. King, W. Vaughan Davies, S. K. Campbell, J. E. Davey, H. Lipsitt, W. Knight, T. Hallinger, George T. Tite, A. Norris and B. O. Houghton.

Forceful address by W. E. Williams.

"My subject is a large and important one," said Mr. Williams. "Although it might seem a rather commonplace one in such a place as Prince Rupert, however, it could be clothed in revelation and, as Tesnyson said when writing of the flower, all creation could be shown if it were understood. In it there are endless possibilities of beauty and instruction: This annual Fish Day has been set aside as a day to function in inducing the people to become familiar with fish qualities. Fish constitutes one of the most wholesome and nutritious diets but in Canada only one pound of fish is eaten to every ten pounds of meat. Possibly this is due to past circumstances for so many people of the country live removed from the lakes and seaboard and transportation of fresh fish to them is a difficulty. The people have acquired the flesh taste and so they eat flesh.

"The people on the coast also fix their diets in accordance with the desires they have acquired to eat meats. The result is that the children are not given the taste for fish. They should be given all the fish they want for it is the most wholesome thing they could eat. It is said that dog salmon is a more perfectly balanced food than can be found in flesh. Since these banquets have been organized I would suggest that ladies should be invited for it is they who are mainly responsible for fixing the menus of the homes. They could be given recipes so there would be more effect to the efforts to popularize the eating of fish. More would thus be done than we can do at these banquets."

Important Industry.
Mr. Williams went on to show that fishing was a vitally important industry to Prince Rupert. All the people here were more or less living off it and many were living off it exclusively. In the last year 24,000,000 pounds of fresh halibut and 7,000,000 pounds of fresh salmon, at total of 31,000,000 pounds of fresh fish, had been shipped through this port. This quantity of fish would take 1300 cars to handle or an average of 3½ cars per day. With such an important factor of traffic the people should feel proud of the wonderful asset.

On deep sea fishing boats plying in and out of Prince Rupert 2000 men were employed the year around and the packing concerns in the city employed another 250 men.

The fishermen and the packers were directly interested in the industry and the machine shops almost as directly. Merchants, doctors, lawyers, dentists and all the citizens generally derived a portion of their income from the business.

Canada at large was interested in the industry for it was a tremendous source of food supply. The country derived a large portion of its revenue from it and much employment was provided.

Fishery Protection.

Fisheries protection was an important question. The halibut industry was now facing a similar condition as did the halibut before they were made extinct some years ago. A few years ago the West Coast of Vancouver Island was a great halibut ground but it was also being fished out. Today the schooners had to go a distance of a thousand miles northwest to get the halibut. We should pause and realize the great asset which we now possessed and see that it was protected for future generations. The fish were not put there for the benefit of the fishermen but for the people at large.

"I believe that immediate steps should be taken to bring about a close season for halibut so that they will not be permitted to disappear," declared the speaker.

Gas Engines.

To have the best type of citizens engaging in the industry was another important necessity. But to have these things must be proper conditions. It was with a view to making better conditions for the salmon fishing industry that the Board of Trade and the citizens were pressing for the use of gas engines will gill nets in fishing.

These things were worth consideration for with proper conditions the halibut banks could be restocked and the best sort of fishermen could be secured. The type of men who were engaged in the deep sea fishing out of Prince Rupert was the best in the world and one of which we could boast. They were strong, fearless and ingenious, the type that makes a nation. They would never go to defeat themselves for they were imbued with courage, nerve and strength.

Quickest Route.

Speaking of the agitation in Alaska to have the fishery regulations changed so that American boats would not be permitted to discharge their catches here, Mr. Williams said that if such artificial regulations as were demanded were put into effect it would force American boats into Canadian registry or something to that effect because it was essential that fish get the quickest route to its market and that was through this port. He had no doubt that whatever happened, the fish would continue to take the quickest and most easy route and agitation would only result in higher prices being paid for Canadian fish and the United States would have to pay.

Fred Stork.
Fred Stork, responding to the toast, congratulated the committee and the chef on the excellent menu which had been provided. It was in itself a revelation of what could be done with the product of the sea.

WOULD COME TO AID FARMERS WHO LOST CROPS LAST SEASON

WINNIPEG, Feb. 2.—As means of keeping farmers who are unable to meet small payments by way of interest on loans on the land who otherwise will face foreclosure from mortgage companies, George Palmer, Independent Labor member for Dauphin, will introduce at the present session of the legislature a resolution to set up government relief.

Mr. Palmer said he was in favor of creating a fund of at least $1,000,000 to be administered by a board to be appointed by the government for the purpose of advancing small sums to farmers in order to save them from foreclosure. The money said Mr. Palmer, could be advanced on a second mortgage, and be made repayable from two to three years. Action of this nature, he declared, would save thousands of farmers in the province today whose financial condition was sound, but who, because of the extraordinary conditions obtaining, were faced with ruin because they were unable to meet small amounts of money, and could not borrow from any private agency.

TORONTO TRIES TO CURE DEPRESSION, BRING PROSPERITY

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—The cure for depression is prosperity. The road to prosperity lies through co-operation. To bring about that needed co-operation five hundred representative business men at the King Edward Hotel decided on the organization of the Toronto Publicity Bureau. The purpose of this bureau is to advertise Toronto and to make it known the world over; to promote organized effort; to encourage the investment of capital; to make the city attractive as a residential centre.

To the accomplishment of this ideal, and inspired with the vision of a greater Toronto before them, 101 subscriptions, ranging from $100 to $5,000 a year for three years, were pledged, making a total of $16,500, which will form the nucleus of a fund to be used for the purposes of the bureau.

Prince Rupert enjoyed a strategic position as the terminus of a railway which led right to the fish banks. It was up to all to develop the port and one of the most important necessities was the making of a separate fish district out of Prince Rupert. The people of the south had wasted their heritage but, whatever the cause, it was no affair of the north. We still had our heritage and steps should be taken to have the district divided so that we would have a separate district of our own. We should protect ourselves and let the south take care of itself or we might get in the same position as they were in today.

Mr. Stork declared that the commercial end of the fishing industry had been highly developed but not so the scientific end. There should be a separate Dominion portfolio of fisheries.

Now was a time of progress and up-to-date fishing methods should be allowed. Gas boat fishing should be allowed so that the fishermen would be afforded the opportunity of employing the best means to gain their livelihood.

Musical Numbers

The musical program consisted of a duet "Larboard Watch," by A. Clapperton and J. E. Davey; a solo "Rolling O'er the Sea," encoored with "At Home on Land and Sea," by S. K. Campbell, and a solo "Skipper," by A. Clapperton. W. Vaughan Davies was the accompanist.

Mayor Rochester thanked the gathering on behalf of the committee for their attendance and the affair closed with the giving of three cheers for the committee and the signing of the National Anthem.

The committees in charge consisted of J. E. Davey and James L. Lee, of the Canadian Fishermen's Association; G. W. Nickerson and John Dybhavn, Board of Trade Fisheries Committee, and Ald. John Dybhavn and Ald. W. H. Montgomery, Civic Fisheries Committee.

- 1.—Mother's Ulcerated Ankle. Mrs. J. Kilmartin, 608 Selkirk Avenue, Winnipeg, says: "Ulcers started on my left ankle and in spite of doctor treatment spread towards the knee. A sample of Zam-Buk soothed pain wonderfully. Further dressings of this famous balm stopped the discharge, took out all poisonous matter and healed my leg perfectly."
- 2.—Child's Scalp Disease. Mr. W. D. Lane, 25 Bond St., Central Falls, U.S.A., writes: "My little girl's scalp disease on the face and scalp defied doctor's treatment. The first application of Zam-Buk soothed the itching irritation, and gave every evidence of its unique healing powers. Continued treatment with Zam-Buk soon rid the child of every trace of disease."
- 3.—Burnt in Explosion. Mr. E. McIlwain, 45 Humbert St., Toronto, says: "While taking flashlight photos I was badly burned about the head and face through the muzzle exploding. After five days in hospital the burns were still bad so I went to a store and got some Zam-Buk. This cooled the burning pain and gave quick relief. After a week's Zam-Buk treatment, one could scarcely tell where the injuries had been, so splendid was the healing."
- 4.—The Peril of Blood-Poison. Mrs. Frank St. Denis, 205 Thompson St., Winnipeg, says: "After a day's washing, one of my finger nails became hard and swollen and went a blue colour. The pain was intense. When postulates gave no relief, my daughter-in-law got me some Zam-Buk. This quickly subdued the throbbing pain. More Zam-Buk drew out lots of poison and inflammation and healed the sore perfectly." See box, 1 for 8/23, all chemists and druggists.

DOCTOR YOUNG URGES PARENTS

Declares Many Children Are Physically Unfit and Should Be Cared For.

"We spend millions in British Columbia on education, but when we come to examine our children and find that one-third of them are suffering from various defects, I ask you whether it is good business to pay this money to bring up one-third of the population which will become defective so that they, through their physical labor, will never be able to repay the amount their education has cost?" This query from Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, speaking at the Esquimalt Child Hygiene Council, summed up the speaker's contention that prevention of disease and physical defects in children was better than cure.

Dr. Young was formerly minister of education in the McBride administration and member of the Legislature for Allin.

"It is a well-known fact that prevention is far better than cure," Dr. Young went on. "Today the country is faced with its people afflicted by physical defects, and I want to tell you that as soon as you have physical degeneration you will also have moral and mental delinquency. I urge you to adopt measures and means to prevent these diseases from being inherited by the children of the coming generation. If you don't take some action in this respect it is criminal neglect on your part."

Pointing out that one-third of those who had sought admission to the army had been rejected because of their physical unfitness, Dr. Young declared that young men and women today are getting too little sleep, are irregular in their health habits, and draining their vitality by excessive living.

Work to conserve the nation's health should begin with the care of the body, Dr. Young said. He urged that children of pre-school age should be carefully supervised and suggested that prospective mothers should obtain health advice from the Provincial Health Department.

Rev. H. T. Archibald, organizing secretary of the Island Council of Social Hygiene, quoted statistics to show that 25 per cent. of the population of Canada was suffering with venereal disease. He said that venereal disease should be dragged out into the open where it could be fought with the sunlight of education.

Canadian Steam Laundry Congratulated Upon Knowledge of Laundry Supplies.

Discolored linen is a source of much annoyance to many people who send their washing out to be laundered.

This discoloration is the result of faulty materials or methods. Happily, our patrons do not complain of this serious defect in laundry service.

The following reply to our inquiry regarding this condition may indicate the reason our patrons have no complaints on this score.

"Dear Sir:—

We are referring your letter of January 12th direct to Dr. Shupp, Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, and you will hear from him.

Your letter shows that you thoroughly appreciate the importance of a knowledge of the supplies used in laundering.

You are to be congratulated on this fact, because there is no single item connected with the laundering process that has any greater importance than this. In fact, there are many who think that it is the most important subject for the laundryowner to understand.

Yours sincerely,

GAME FARM LEDUC, ALTA.

Sixty Different Varieties of Birds including Wild Ducks, Geese and Pheasants.

EDMONTON, Alta., Feb. 2.—(Canadian Press).—Started five years ago with a nest of wild duck eggs, found while cultivating a field, today D. H. Bendick, of Leduc, 25 miles south of here, has a game farm stocked with between two hundred and three hundred birds which include about sixty different varieties of game and ornamental fowl. During the first year Mr. Bendick raised ten wild ducks and as a hobby the same year he imported some of the cheaper kinds of pheasants and other wild fowl and gradually built up a game farm that now has some of the finest birds in the West. The farm is now stocked with wild geese, ducks, and prairie chicken, native to Canada, wild turkeys, imported from Kentucky, pheasants, grouse, quail, peafowl, guinea hens and doves.

A large inclosure with artificial lakes and conditions as near as possible to those found in the wilds are the summer quarters for the water fowl while the bluffs near the farm house provide ideal conditions for the wild turkeys, pheasants, quail and other birds whose natural habitat is the timber. Climatically the conditions for breeding wild game birds are ideal in Alberta and Mr. Bendick has found that as a commercial enterprise it has an unlimited future. Hunting clubs and large estates in both the Western and Eastern States are always in the market for wild game birds, especially good breeding stock and are ready to pay good prices. When domesticated most of the wild birds reproduce more rapidly than in the wilds, and at from 810 to 8150 per pair for the birds, depending upon the breed, good profits are realized. Geese range in price from 815 to 8110 per pair, while the native wild ducks are worth from 810 to 830 per pair.

Last fall Mr. Bendick liberated seventy-two Chinese ringed neck pheasants in the Leduc district as an experiment and also with the object in view that within a few years they will have increased sufficiently to permit sportsmen to hunt them during open seasons.

Next spring it is expected two thousand birds will be hatched and reared on the farm. Mr. Bendick has a permit from the government granting him permission to raise game birds which are protected by law.

Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—Preparations for receiving in the early months of spring and summer 1000 girls and women from England for assured employment as domestics in Western Canada are now under way by the local offices of the Salvation Army. This is part of a scheme inaugurated by the London headquarters whereby 10,000 women are to be transferred to the Dominions. The great majority will go to Australia. Commissioner W. Eadie, in making the announcement here, stated that the provincial government was assisting in the plan by allowing a grant.

MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—"Skolka?" (how much?) has become a general term of salutation in Russia. There is practically nothing which can not be bought if sufficient money is offered.

Trade is not confined to the market places. It is carried on everywhere in the streets. It isn't bad manners to stop a man on the street and ask him how much he wants for his beaver cap, or his astrakhan-trimmed overcoat. No woman takes it as an affront to be asked how much she will take for her sable stole or silver purse.

There are many well-dressed persons moving about the streets in finery which doesn't belong to them, but is being shown in the hope that they may get an offer for it and have a chance to earn a commission.

Improved cafes which are springing up everywhere under the direction of members of the former bourgeoisie are frequently furnished with elaborate upholstered chairs and divans from some once grand drawing room. The walls are lined with oil paintings and tapestries. The porcelain frequently bears the crests of famous families. It is all for sale.

The cultivated waitresses are frequently money-changers who will buy foreign exchange or undertake any sort of business commissions.

Recently a party of Americans, including several women, attended mass at one of the famous churches in Moscow. When the priests in their gorgeous gold gowns marched through the crowd of standing worshippers one of the men warned the women, "When those priests pass you don't take hold of their robes and ask 'Skolka?'"

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can do all my household work.

You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify to-day to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

EVERYTHING FOR SALE IN RUSSIA TODAY

MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—"Skolka?" (how much?) has become a general term of salutation in Russia. There is practically nothing which can not be bought if sufficient money is offered.

Trade is not confined to the market places. It is carried on everywhere in the streets. It isn't bad manners to stop a man on the street and ask him how much he wants for his beaver cap, or his astrakhan-trimmed overcoat. No woman takes it as an affront to be asked how much she will take for her sable stole or silver purse.

There are many well-dressed persons moving about the streets in finery which doesn't belong to them, but is being shown in the hope that they may get an offer for it and have a chance to earn a commission.

Improved cafes which are springing up everywhere under the direction of members of the former bourgeoisie are frequently furnished with elaborate upholstered chairs and divans from some once grand drawing room. The walls are lined with oil paintings and tapestries. The porcelain frequently bears the crests of famous families. It is all for sale.

The cultivated waitresses are frequently money-changers who will buy foreign exchange or undertake any sort of business commissions.

Recently a party of Americans, including several women, attended mass at one of the famous churches in Moscow. When the priests in their gorgeous gold gowns marched through the crowd of standing worshippers one of the men warned the women, "When those priests pass you don't take hold of their robes and ask 'Skolka?'"

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can do all my household work.

You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am.

TORE GAPS IN SUBMARINE

Official Story of How Kitchen-er's Death Was Avenged by British.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(By Canadian Press).—How Lord Kitchener's death on board H.M.S. Hampshire on June 5, 1916, while enroute to Russia on military mission, was avenged by the destruction about a year later of the German submarine responsible for the laying of the mine which sank the warship is now told in detail for the first time by an official on board H. M.S. cruiser Intrepid, which was attached to the White Sea squadron during the war.

It was on May 4, 1917, the writer says, that the British steamship Palmbranch, laden with munitions, poison gas, and high explosive, was zigzagging her way towards the entrance of Kola Inlet, on the White Sea, when the periscope of a submarine was sighted on the port beam. At the same moment a white track of bubbles revealed a torpedo's course racing towards the ship. The track passed two or three feet from the stern, the torpedo had gone under the ship, running too deep to strike her.

The Palmbranch was armed and immediately her gun was slammed to the breech and sights laid to zero. As the gun crew did so, the conning tower of a submarine rose on the port quarter, barely 40 yards away. Then the deck itself emerged from the water.

Splendid Target. Naval gunners are rarely gifted with such a target at point-blank range. They accepted it with due thanksgiving. A flash, a roar; the Palmbranch's first shell struck the U boat at the base of the conning-tower, just where it joined the deck, and tore great gaps and rents. Five seconds later a second shell burst against the waterline, forward. Two rounds with a small gun. They sufficed. The submarine, which appeared to be stopped, rolled slightly. Then taking a heavy list, and tilting on end with stern high out of the water, she sank vertically out of sight.

When the submarine sank, a conical object floated from her and remained on the surface. This subsequently proved to be a telephone buoy, such as was known to be carried by most U boats, its purpose being to enable a sunken crew to communicate with the world above. On the buoy being brought on board the Intrepid, the officer says, it was photographed, and on a large brass plate was inscribed: "Do not open. Leave telephone buoy lying! Telegraph immediately position to U boat base Kiel. Submarine 75 sunk here." Laid 13 Mines.

The destroyed submarine was therefore U 75, according to German official accounts, had a year before laid 13 mines in the western passage from Scapa. Twelve were swept up; but the 13th sank the Hampshire. That was the evening of June 5, 1916. There can be no reasonable doubt the officer declares that the telephone buoy found and marked U 75 was part of the submarine sunk by the Palmbranch. It was discovered on the edge of the winter ice, which proved it had drifted there that spring. No other ships claim to have sunk U boats in those waters at the time, and the place where fishermen found the buoy was 120 miles easterly from the scene of the action a month earlier, which would entail only an average daily drift of 11 or 12 miles—about what might have been expected with the prevailing wind and current.

Captain Mallory was awarded a double D.S.O. for his gallant action.
