AID FOR DISTRESS.

The new executive of the Elks order in this city has had brought to its attention the fact that there are a number of cases of destitution in the city which should receive immediate attention. Some of the cases have been investigated already and preliminary aid has been given, but there are others and doubtless more will be found.

In order to carry out the work effectively it is proposed to appeal to the whole community for aid. Those readily accessible will be called on and asked for contributions and those not so reached are asked to do their bit by sending in contributions for the purpose to the secretary of the Elks in this city.

When the Christmas cheer work was being undertaken something like two thousand dollars worth of goods were distributed, yet only one family belonging to the Elks order received anything. At present it is not among the Elks that the distress is found, so the executive feel justified in going to the public for aid.

The people who are in distress are those who do not parade their suffering. Usually the cause is lack of employment. They find themselves in adverse circumstances through no fault of their own. At such a time everyone should be ready to help as we feel sure everyone will. We must not let it be said that here in the north we are unwilling to share with those who are in need.

Nothing but Good came of Disarmament Conference Says Lieut. Colonel Forster

"The Washington disarmament conference did a great deal of international good, although some people might have expected more than was really accomplished," declared Lieutenant-Colonel D. Forster, G.M.G., D.S.O., of London, England, a member of the military section of the British delegation at the conference, who reached the city by the Venture last evening. "At the beginning many people looked upon the conference as a dangerous experiment, but whatever danger there was has been averted. Such questions as were brought up there are always of a dangerous nature but, fortunately, nothing but good came as a result." Being in an official capacity, Col. Forster was unwilling to discuss any particular questions on being interviewed but tomorrow he is to address the Canadian Club and the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire on "The World Situation" and he inti-

A year ago Shackleton was in Canada for the purpose of asking the Canadian Government to finance an expedition into the last unexplored tract of the sea, namely Beaufort Sea to the extreme north of Canada. The government told him if he could finance half the cost privately the government would do the rest, but the money was not forthcoming and he was compelled to give up the idea.

Terrible Tragedy at Washington as Theatre Collapses

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The death list numbers 107 from the collapse of the Knickerbocker Theatre here following the worst fall of snow in twenty years. The roof of the great moving picture palace collapsed without a word of warning when several hundred people were watching a comedy film.

The balconies collapsed simultaneously and there was little chance of escape for the people inside the building, yet about one hundred got away unharmed. Another hundred were slightly injured and thirty-four were seriously hurt and are in the hospital.

The police and boy scouts are continuing the work of rescue and it is hoped that many will yet be found alive in the wreckage.

The theatre cost a million dollars. It was built in 1916 and was a modern structure. There is no explanation for the collapse except from the weight of snow on the roof. It stands in the fashionable diplomatic section of the city. Many officials of the foreign embassies were among the victims.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(Noon)—The death list in the Knickerbocker Theatre disaster, caused by the heavy snowstorm of Saturday, this morning had reached 108 and the injured 132.

Daylight Saving Throughout Cities.

Vancouver has already taken a vote on daylight saving and the system is to be adopted there this coming summer. Already the matter is to be discussed in Victoria with a view to its adoption. The cities seem generally agreed that they prefer to rise an hour earlier. In Prince Rupert there is also a movement toward the same end. It is felt here that it is best for Prince Rupert to have the same time as Vancouver and also the advantages of the advanced summer time are being discussed.

The main argument for daylight saving is the opportunity it gives for sports and games. Prince Rupert people have not very much leisure except on Wednesday afternoons and Sundays. By putting the clock one hour ahead there is one hour more of daylight each evening and that allows all sorts of sports and games to be played and it also allows people who wish to go swimming at the salt lakes after dinner. It gives opportunities for boating and other outings and it seems as if it would be to the advantage of Prince Rupert to adopt it.

The only argument against the plan is that it shortens the night for children. It is difficult to get the youngsters to go to bed before dark, and at midsummer it is nearly midnight before it becomes dark under the daylight saving scheme.

Fish Day on Wednesday.

In view of its importance we wish once more to draw the attention of the public to the fact that Wednesday is Fish Day, the annual event which is kept throughout the country to draw attention to the value of fish as a diet and the value of the fish industry to Canada. Arguments often have been advanced in favor of fish eating. It is conclusively shown that well cooked fish has all the elements of a perfect food and it is also said to be valuable as a brain food. Prince Rupert people are asked to cooperate and do their bit by eating fish on Fish Day and by talking fish, and also they are asked to take an interest in the local industry which is of so much value to us.

City Manager
as Executive.

The benefits of having a city manager instead of making the mayor and council executives of the departments of civic activities are being drawn to the attention of people of the country from time to time by means of concrete examples. When a city gets into financial difficulties, the government always appoints a commissioner, who is really a city manager, to administer the affairs until such time as the finances of the city are again on a sound basis. That is what happened at South Vancouver. A commissioner was appointed there and he was rapidly getting the financial condition of the place back to normal, but the people became dissatisfied with him and the government had to make a change. Other cities have been recuperated by appointing managers. One competent man can always do the work better than ten.

It is the same with a private business. It could never be successfully managed by a soviet. One man may be wrong sometimes, but he is never so much wrong as is a committee of nine or ten. When a council committee manages a department every one is the boss as well as the superintendent of the department. The system is cumbersome and leads to all sorts of abuses.

The modern method is for the city council to be a purely legislative body and for them to engage a competent manager who will run the affairs of the city as he would a private business.

Another method of city government which is said to be an improvement on our system is for the people to elect a mayor and one or two commissioners who shall administer civic affairs without the aid of a city council and with one commissioner retiring each year so as to make the body continuous. Government institutions are usually expensively operated, but this should not be. Theoretically government work should be as economical as that of a private organization, but it seldom is.

WRITES ABOUT
IMMIGRATIONTells What Australia Is Doing to Fill Up Her Vacant Lands.

In view of the immigration movement being inaugurated by Hon. T. D. Patullo, it is interesting to note that Lord Northcliffe is advocating a similar movement to Australia. In an article in his paper, The London Times, Lord Northcliffe sums up the immigration policy of Australia as follows:

The Scheme.

An immigration movement can only prosper if two main principles are strictly adhered to:

- (1) The selection of absolutely suitable people only.

- (2) The provision of employment or land, for all immigrants or at least heads of families, immediately after their arrival in Australia.

It may seem harsh to people at home that Australia, following the wise example of Canada and the United States, should insist upon selecting only those who are of first-class moral and physical quality. But immigration within the Empire is in the interest of the Empire as a whole, and it is of no less importance to England that Australia should be kept white and British than it is to the Commonwealth itself. For that reason it is necessary that immigrants should be above suspicion in character and in physique.

Are Best Agents.

For these good immigrants there must be immediate employment, or land. The chief agent in an immigration movement is the successful immigrant. Letters written by immigrants to their old homes have more influence in swelling the stream than any amount of publicity. The shortest road, therefore, to a stream which will give Australia 100,000 citizens a year by immigration is at the outset to proceed cautiously and soundly. It was proposed in 1906-07 that the movement will swell rapidly if the people are of good class, and if they find prosperity and happiness in the Commonwealth.

Selected Immigrants.

The Australian immigration movement gives two forms of assistance: One by selection, the other by nomination. To take these select immigrants first at present these are:

(1) Farmers.

(2) People without agricultural experience, but with capital, who wish to take up farming.

(3) Experienced farm laborers.

(4) Laborers without farming experience, who will undertake to go on the land.

(5) Lads for farm work.

(6) Domestic and "lady helps."

(7) To a very restricted degree, special artisans unobtainable in Australia.

For all the above classes, except the artisans, there is at present in the Commonwealth almost unlimited demand. The wages paid for the workers are:

(1) Experienced farm workers, from 30s to 40s per week with board and lodging, and increases up to 60s per week at harvest time.

(2) Inexperienced men for farms; from 20s to 25s per week and "keep," with advances as earned.

(3) Lads for farms; commencing wage, 10s to 12s 6d per week and "keep," with advances as earned.

(4) Domestic: from 15s to 30s per week and "keep," with substantially higher rates for cooks and other special workers.

Probably quite 80 per cent of prosperous Australian farmers began life as farm laborers. The position for advancement has never been better than it is today. Even lads of 18 and inexperienced laborers who begin work on farms will, within two years at the most, be receiving an average wage of 30s per week and their "tucker." This enables a thrifty man to save fully £50 a year. By the intimate knowledge they soon possess of land and live-stock values and farming practices, coupled with the generous financial assistance granted by the States, a man is able to commence as farmer with a capital of a few hundred pounds. In Western Australia, for example, the Government will grant land and supply the necessary financial assistance to any experienced man owning

MURDER AT KITIMAAT

Meagre Details of Tragedy Reach City—Mounted Police Await Further Advice.

News of a tragedy in which a young native was killed last Wednesday at Kitimaat Indian village has reached the city. Details are lacking, but it is understood that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been called upon in a telegram from Rev. E. A. Gouldrey, the missionary. The wire merely stated that there was trouble and further details are being awaited before official action is taken and a detachment is sent south.

John Currie and his son Charles arrived from the vicinity last night and tell of having met some natives who told them of the affair. It appears that Mrs. Robinson, native, widow of the store-keeper at Kitimaat, had been conducting the store and that she was assisted by a young native whose name is not given. The latter had gone out from the store on Wednesday and was later found in the snow dead, apparently having been choked to death. Two white men, in a gas-boat, had been in the neighborhood and they disappeared about the time of the tragedy. It is thought that the intent had been robbery, but when the perpetrators of the crime saw what they had done they became frightened and left as soon as possible.

An Indian launch took Mr. Gouldrey to Swanson Bay to notify the police by wire, but when a reply message was sent to him to obtain further details he had left. Kitimaat being under the Bella Coola Indian agency, the case should properly be attended to by Indian Agent Ivor Fougner and his constable at Bella Coola. The local police are awaiting advice from there before taking action.

MILK TAKES DROP IN CITY OF EDMONTON

The cost of living in Edmonton will take a further drop on Feb. 1, when ten quarts of milk will be retailed for a dollar, instead of nine as at present. It is nearly five years since local consumers were able to buy milk at such a low price, the last occasion being October, 1917.

At a meeting of the Milk Producers' Association it was decided to accept a further reduction in the wholesale price. W. W. Prevey, of the Edmonton City Dairy, Ltd., says this reduction was not nearly sufficient to justify his company in giving the extra quart for a dollar, but he feels that somebody has to take the lead in reducing living costs, thus hastening the time when normal conditions will once more prevail, and the E.C.D. he adds has decided to go to the utmost limit in price reduction and to take the resulting loss until conditions generally become more stabilized.

NORMA TALMADGE "THE PASSION FLOWER"

Famous Actress to Be Seen Here Tonight in Spanish Role.

Norma Talmadge, who has been called the best dressed actress on the screen, will be seen in some novel and charming Spanish costumes in her latest Associated First National starring vehicle, "The Passion Flower," which is at the Westholme Theatre tonight.

Miss Talmadge who for the past year has been the fashion editor of Photoplay Magazine, has just signed another year's contract to continue in that capacity. The Talmadge sisters have also signed a contract with Lucien Lelong, famous Paris couturiers, under which Lelong agrees to furnish them with twelve models a year. These gowns will be the last word in ultra chic advance styles, and will be introduced in America exclusively by the Talmadges.

"It makes me especially happy to have been able to secure "The Passion Flower," because I have always wanted to play a Spanish role, and this is the first opportunity," says Miss Talmadge.

"I have had to throw myself into the primitive emotions of the Latin race. In my entire picture career, I have never put myself so whole-heartedly into any part as I have into the mind and soul of "Acacia," and I do hope the public will like this story as much as I, myself, do. To some extent this will be a costume play, and I have been frequently told by exhibitors that the public does not want costume plays. However, I think the pedestal is swinging, and the public does want costume plays—that is one of the chief reasons for the success of "Passion." Anyway, I can't help feeling as Benavent does when he says, 'I do not make my plays for the public, I make the public for my plays.' That is the way I feel about "The Passion Flower." I made it because I loved it, and I feel there will be a public that will like the costume drama."

CONFIDENCE IN PREMIER

Oliver Only Man to Lead the Liberal Party in Province Says Caucus Chairman.

FORGET PARTY POLITICS

Following the Liberal caucus at Victoria the chairman, Dr. K. C. McDonald, issued a statement to the press as follows:

"This conference has been of the greatest benefit to the Liberal party, and I think it will prove to mean a great deal to British Columbia as a whole," said Dr. McDonald, chairman of the caucus, in the statement he issued on the work of the caucus as it came to an end.

"The entire political situation has been discussed including, I think, everything of general importance to the Province.

"It has been decided to hold a general convention of the Liberal party within two or three months, at a place yet to be chosen. The date and place will be settled by the Provincial executive.

"The caucus has unreservedly reaffirmed its good opinion of Premier Oliver and feels that he is the one man to head the Liberal Government in British Columbia.

"There had been reports that an effort was being made by certain factions to oust the Premier from leadership, but there really has not been any such movement.

"We feel that the party will be stronger than ever as the result of this conference and the appointment of Hon. Dr. King to the Federal portfolio of Public Works.

"Surely this is a time when party politics might well be forgotten, if the best interests of British Columbia and Western Canada are to be served, with a friendly Government at Ottawa and a minister of Public Works who has made such a splendid reputation here and who may be expected to do his utmost for British Columbia, we should face much better times."

PROHIBITION IS SUCCESS

So Says United States Prohibition Commissioner Hayes After Two Years Dry.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Facts and figures, together with "an even dozen unquestionable points in proof that the eighteenth amendment is being enforced" were made public by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes in a statement on the second anniversary of the national prohibition act.

The 12 points cited as "so outstanding that no attempt can be made in denial," follow:

Twelve Points of Proof.

Disappearance of the open sale.

Absentment of the open drinking in public dining rooms.

Passing of the treating evil, which was recognized as the greatest contributing agency of the development of a liquor appetite.

Closing of whisky cure and similar institutions.

Increased savings accounts, Record-breaking Christmas business.

Decreased drunkenness.

Prohibitory prices of "banded" liquor for beverage use.

Dangerous character of illicit whisky.

Sureptitiousness of present day drinking.

Wail of howling minority who would go to the length of undermining the Constitution to nullify an amendment which their action demonstrates is in actual effect.

Changed attitudes of former hostile statesmen, political leaders and the press.

Predictions Lose Out.

Mr. Haynes declared that the prohibition amendment was being enforced to an even greater extent than had been anticipated and predictions of opponents had not been borne out by actualities.

"The chief cause of non-enforcement," he said, "was the appointment of wet officials and smuggling. This is being corrected by the appointment of officials who are in sympathy with the law and by serving notice on our neighboring countries that their flags are being used to protect smugglers."

He declared enforcement would henceforth be a much easier undertaking for various reasons, including the attitude of the public, curtailing of sources of supply, closer cooperation of all enforcement agencies and "the poisonous, death dealing character of virtually all illicit liquor now on the market."

"We feel that the party will be stronger than ever as the result of this conference and the appointment of Hon. Dr. King to the Federal portfolio of Public Works.

"Surely this is a time when party politics might well be forgotten, if the best interests of British Columbia and Western Canada are to be served, with a friendly Government at Ottawa and a minister of Public Works who has made such a splendid reputation here and who may be expected to do his utmost for British Columbia, we should face much better times."

A POINTED QUESTION.

It was at a college dance. The young man had just been introduced to her, and after a brief and awkward silence he ventured: "You are from the West, I understand."

"Yes, from Indiana," she replied. "Hoosier girl."

He started and flushed deeply. "Why-or-really," he stammered. "I don't know—that is, haven't quite decided yet."

WOMEN CANDIDATES AT NEXT ELECTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Jan. 30.—A number of women candidates have already been chosen to contest seats at the next election in this country, whenever it may take place. While it is hardly likely there will be an election this year, the women are ready and more will be nominated before long.

For more than a year the Women's Parliamentary Joint Committee for securing the election of women to Parliament has been making search for suitable women who are willing to stand, and the Labor party has also been on the look-out for women candidates. There are now fourteen women definitely assigned to certain constituencies, all of whom are well known for their public work.

Miss Eleanor Bathbone is contesting the East Toxteth division of Liverpool as an Independent candidate. The women Labor candidates are Mrs. Ayrton Gould, for North Lambeth, the electorate contested by Mrs. Despard in 1918; Mrs. Barton, well known for her work on the Women's Guild, for King's Norton, Birmingham; Dr. Ethel Bentham, for East Islington; Northampton; Miss Susan Lawrence, for East Ham north; and Miss Marjory Pease, J.P., for the East Finchley division.

The Independent Liberal candidates are Mrs. Gorbett Ashby, for Richmond; Mrs. Scott Gatty for Huntingdon; Mrs. Egerton Stewart Brown, for the Waterloo division of Lancashire; the Hon. Lady Barton, for Combe Tenant, for the Forest of Dean. Mrs. Wintringham will, of course, again stand for Louth and Lady Astor for Plymouth.

Miss Helen Fraser, who is now in the United States on a lecturing tour, will probably stand as a Coalition Liberal, and so it is thought will Mrs. Ogilvy Gordon, while Mrs. Oliver Strachey, who was a candidate for Chiswick at the last election will probably stand again.

Do Your Bowels move regularly, or do they become constipated

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble that is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, haemorrhage, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

WILL PAY MORE FOR ADVERTISED ARTICLE

Result of Investigation Shows People Prefer Goods Featured in Advertisements.

An impartial investigation conducted by the National Trade Association shows the interesting result that one person in thirty buys goods not advertised.

The answers to the questionnaire have been summed up as follows:

Everywhere there are merchants who are more or less certain that the advertised article is greatly overstated. Possibly their particular experience, or lack of experience, had led them to believe this, but an impartial investigation conducted by the National Trade Association resulted in the following compilation of answers:

Question 1. When you go into a store and find two articles of a similar nature for sale at the same price, one of which is a nationally advertised article and the other an unadvertised article, which do you purchase?

Answer: 87.6 per cent. buy the advertised article, 3.6 per cent. buy the unadvertised article, 8.8 per cent. non-committal.

That only one person in approximately thirty buys the unadvertised article is significant, but here is definite proof that the manufacturers are really creating a good will by their advertising which is valuable to them and their dealers.

Question 2. When you find two similar articles for sale at different prices, the unadvertised article being priced lower than the advertised, who do you buy?

Answer: 60.6 per cent. buy the advertised article, 24.2 per cent. buy the unadvertised article, 15.2 per cent. non-committal.

Doesn't this show that advertised goods are easier to sell when 50 per cent. will buy the advertised article even at a higher price?

LUNCHEON TOMORROW

Many Will Attend Canadian Club Event Tomorrow to Hear Colonel Forster.

It seems likely that there will be a large attendance at the Canadian Club luncheon tomorrow to hear Colonel Forster give first hand information about the big conference at Washington. He is a prominent British military man and was present throughout.

The conference was one of the biggest events since the signing of the Peace Treaty and Colonel Forster who is said to be a good speaker, will deal with it comprehensively.
