British Look to Glasgow for Political Light This Week as Leaders all to Speak That City

Bonar Law Will Announce Policy There on Thursday and Lloyd George to Follow on Saturday

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Glasgow will be the chief centre of interest in the political situation for the rest of the week. The new prime minister, Andrew Bonar Law on Thursday will announce details of his policy there and 48 hours later the former premier, Lloyd George, will address a meeting, being accompanied to Scotland by Sir Robert Horne who was chancellor of the exchequer in his government.

The Times political correspondent emphasizes the importance of the situation in Glasgow, which it says, is due to the strength of the communistic party among the industrial workers, adding that this is largely on account of the reluctance of the Glasgow members of Parliament to abandon the coalition.

The writer of the Times article suggests that this position is likely to give emphasis to the Scottish home rule movement. It is hinted elsewhere that Bonar Law's election as member for the central division of Glasgow is by no means certain, that he will be opposed by Sir George Pugh as a free Liberal in addition to a labor candidate.

Former Premier Asquith is to speak in Glasgow next week. The Conservative party campaign is to be one against socialism, judging from the flood of propaganda being released from Unionist headquarters. "Safety first. Vote Conservative" will be among the slogans and among the watchwords will be "Be safe under Unionism, not sorry under socialism," and "No hands up to the Reds. Socialism is the red route to ruin."

It was learned today that nearly half of the 87 members of the Conservative party who supported Chamberlain at the Carlton Club meeting last week voted for Bonar Law as party leader.

DOUGHTY CASE BEING HEARD

Evidence in Case of Rex vs. Duralis Occupied Attention of Assizes Yesterday Afternoon and Today

Yesterday afternoon and this morning the time of the assize court in session here before Mr. Justice Murphy was taken up with the hearing of evidence in the case against Constantine Duralis, section foreman from Doughty, who is charged with attempted rape and indecent assault against Mrs. Alekina Baudais. Argument of counsel commenced after the noon adjournment today, and it is expected to have the case disposed of this afternoon, thus finishing up the criminal docket of the sessions.

The case is a rather sordid one, Mrs. Baudais, whose evidence took up a great deal of the time yesterday afternoon, tells a story of how she and her three children went to the station house occupied by the accused and his crew on September 22, after having been frightened at her unfinished farm house by a man during the absence of her husband, who had gone to smithers for supplies. During the night she claims that she was annoyed by Duralis who attempted to force his attentions on her. Threats to kill her if she told her husband are among the accusations she makes against Duralis. However, she spent the night there and left early the next morning and told her husband on his return in the afternoon of what had happened. During the giving of her evidence she broke down on one occasion.

Other witnesses for the crown were John McKenzie, Chief Constable John Kelly and Constable W. J. Service, of Smithers.

This morning Duralis entered the box on his own behalf. He told of the woman having spent the night at his station but disclaimed the allegations of misconduct made by her.

Archie Donaghy, of Terrace, is acting as crown prosecutor and L. S. McGill, of Smithers, appears for the defence.

CITY COUNCIL ASKS FOR ROAD

Joins with Board of Trade in Request that Trans-Provincial Highway be Commenced from Rupert

The city council is to join with the Board of Trade in another request to the provincial government that a start be made on a road leading out of the city to form the first link of a transcontinental highway. The council is also to reassert its willingness to build the portion of such road coming within the city limits, a start on which has already been made along the pipe line east of Eleventh Ave. A resolution to this effect was passed by the council last night on a motion of Ald. Colhart, seconded by Ald. Silversides.

Ald. Colhart stated that, on his recent trip south, he had found that Vancouver was persistently hammering away for what it wanted. Prince Rupert should do likewise. There could be no action this year but an appropriation might be obtained by the local member at the forthcoming session.

BEAT UP INDIAN MAN AND WIFE AT WATERFRONT TODAY

George Walley Lands in Jail Following Escapade at Cow Bay This Morning

George Walley, taxi driver, was arrested this morning and placed in the city lock-up and tomorrow will face trial charged with assault as a result of a melee which took place this morning at Cow Bay when it is alleged Walley entered the boat of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Kitkatla, at Cow Bay end, for reasons which so far appear rather incoherent. Walley, the native and his wife, afterwards jumping into the harbor. The police were notified through a phone message and Constable Logan was despatched to investigate. Walley was picked up on Third Avenue in his drenching clothes and Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who were badly battered and somewhat dazed, were brought from their boat to the police station where they received attention at the hands of Dr. J. P. Cade this afternoon. Their injuries are superficial only and not serious.

It is believed that Walley had been drinking and he may also face a charge of drunkenness. Ruggie Rudland, with whom it is claimed he "made a night of it" last night was also arrested by Chief Vickers this morning and will answer to a charge of drunkenness as well tomorrow.

RACING DINNER AT GLOUCESTER

Henry Ford Being Prepared For Return to Fishing Grounds

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 24.—Today's decision to withdraw Henry Ford from the International Fishermen's races because it won yesterday with makeshift crew and on Saturday in unofficial encounter followed at a dinner held last night to the racing committee when a letter was read from Hurling saying that the races were fine contributions to international goodwill between the United States and Canada.

Captain Morrissey is to-day ballasting the Henry Ford with iron to resume fishing trips. He said he was sick of committees and yachting rules and other things which spoiled sport.

Bulkley Valley Beef for People of Prince Rupert Must be Slogan Here Say Delegates to Interior

Returning enthused with their visit to the Bulkley Valley and with the strong conviction that the people of Prince Rupert should insist on being served with beef raised in the district rather than in another province, M. P. McCaffery and S. J. McLeod of the Royal Bank returned last night from a semi-official visit to the interior, accompanying R. Moore, manager for P. Burns Ltd., on a buying trip.

Speaking of their visit to the Daily News, Messrs. McLeod and McCaffery said they were much impressed with the difficulties of the ranchers and of the need of co-operation with the people of this city in the matter of marketing. The ranchers of the interior are the finest kind of men, they raise the very finest beef, far superior in quality to any other, and all they ask is that the Prince Rupert people shall treat them as well as they treat the people of Alberta with a preference if they find the product just as good or a little better.

Buy Bulkley Beef

The Prince Rupert visitors were treated with the greatest hospitality on their trip. They were impressed with the difficulties of pioneering in a new country but they also saw the wonderful future which was in store for a country with land so rich and with people so energetic and full of enthusiasm. After making the trip they say they feel it their duty to assist the farmers in every way in marketing their product and insuring facilities which are needed as the country develops.

They say it is a shame that Prince Rupert should be getting meat from the prairies when there are over a thousand head of beef cattle in the country, a good many of which must be marketed at once to avoid loss to the men who have raised them.

At Telkwa Messrs. McCaffery and McLeod left in a car with D. D. Munro of the Land Settlement Board and drove to Round Lake Houston, North Bulkley, and on to Burns Lake. At that place they were joined by R. Moore, manager for P. Burns Ltd., and they drove through to Francois and Osa Lake. At the latter place two car loads of cattle were purchased at Edmonton prices and arrangements made to make further shipments as they can be used. These will be shipped on the hoof to Prince Rupert and slaughtered here.

Taxe Whole Supply

Returning to Telkwa Mr. Moore visited the farmers having beef cattle and it is understood that the whole supply will be taken provided Prince Rupert people show appreciation of the efforts to give them the Bulkley Valley beef.

The visitors were impressed with the work done by the Land Settlement Board and with the natural advantages of the country from a farming viewpoint. Also they admired the scenic attractions of the country and described their drive as one of the prettiest and most interesting they had ever taken. They draw the attention of the people of Prince Rupert to this splendid country and to its attractions as a holiday resort.

Fight Is On In Great Britain.

The political fight is on in Great Britain and people here, looking on as outsiders, are of divided opinion as the result. It is pointed out that Lloyd George is undoubtedly very popular and has a strong hold on the people of Britain, but the late government was in power for a number of years and during that time made many enemies. On the other hand the Conservatives, calling themselves Unionists, go into the fight with a clean slate. While many of them served under Lloyd George, the Premier had to take the onus of their actions and they come before the country untarnished by any of the faults of the preceding government. Ordinarily the life of a government does not exceed eight to ten years. People are fickle. They like a change occasionally. Often they will switch their vote just for the sake of a change. They forget what they once considered faults and the grossness of political crimes fades and gradually turns into virtue. Having this in view it would not be surprising if Bonar Law got the support of a majority of the people of the country. There is the possibility that the country may be divided into factions with labor, Liberal and Lloyd George parties all opposed to the new government yet having little homogeneity. The outcome will be watched, not only by former residents of Great Britain but by all who take an interest in the march of world events. It is not a controversial subject here. We simply watch it as we watch a moving picture show.

Dr. Lyman Abbott Was International Figure.

Dr. Lyman Abbott, whose death was recorded yesterday, was an international figure. He was known in Canada almost as well as in the United States. His articles were read on this side the boundary with just as great interest as they were in his home land. He was a commanding literary figure a few years ago. He did a great deal to break down prejudices and was sometimes daring in his leadership.

His weekly journal, "The Outlook," came next the family Bible in many homes and brought an understanding of world events and of American politics before the people of both countries in a way not before attempted. Dr. Abbott was an old man but up to quite recently he continued to send messages through his writings to a great number of people.

Trade With States And The Tariff.

Displacing the United States as Canada's best customer, in favor of Great Britain, says the New York Times, is one effect of the United States "protective" tariffs. "Not only is our tariff driving Canada to trade elsewhere, it is also compelling us to export capital which might be kept at home if our trade were freer in both directions. We are now building branch plants in Canada which might be paying wages in the United States if Canada were allowed to buy here and we were allowed to sell there." "American farmers," continues the Times, "who cannot understand how it was possible for the price of their wheat to fall when 'protected' in both the emergency and permanent tariffs, may find instruction in Canadian statements that Americans have been buying Canadian grain for export to England, and that is the explanation of the unusual credit balance for Canada in foreign trade." Alluding to the fact that for the first time in three years Canada, in August last, had an excess of imports over exports of $6,000,000, the Times asserts that at that rate Canada will shortly be able to remove its embargo on exports of gold. The true way to correct exchanges, says the Times, is to correct trade conditions. When gold cannot move owing to legal restrictions, the alterations of rates lose both their significance and their power.

HEATED DISCUSSION TAX SALE MATTERS

Council Passes Resolution Calling Upon City Treasurer to Act Free at Sales—Kerr and Collart

The report of the city treasurer and collector regarding the recent tax sale was dealt with by the city council last night when it was received and filed.
 In connection with a resolution by Ald. Collart and Ald. Montgomery that the city treasurer in future carry on the auction sale of lots with the help of the city hall staff during regular city hall hours without extra pay was passed, Ald. McLeod was the only member of the council to vote against it, he feeling that more consideration should be given the matter and that it was hardly a matter for this year's council to decide upon since the tax sale for this year was over.
 The discussion on the tax sale subject also caused a passage of words between Acting Mayor Kerr and Ald. Collart, the former accusing the latter of making statements in open council and not acting upon them in committee. Ald. Collart, in replying, said that he had been on the council but one term but he had always done his duty and was of the opinion that in one year he had done more work than Ald. Kerr in his ten years of service.

GIRL DIVER SEEKS SPANISH TREASURE

Trying to Secure Gold and Jewels
 in Tobermory Bay

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The profession of deep sea diving, which anyone would classify as a calling particularly fitted for men, has been successfully invaded by a woman, Margaret Naylor, an English girl, is acclaimed as one of the most efficient and daring wearers of the helmet in British waters.
 She has gained a wide reputation during the last two years and more recently for her efforts in the recovery of treasure from the sunken Spanish galleon lying in ten fathoms of water near the shore of Mull, an island off Scotland. There, in the cozy little harbor of Tobermory, and less than a hundred yards from the beach, lies one of the great treasure ships of the Spanish Armada. The boat was one of the many vessels launched by the ambitious Philip, in 1588, for his attempted conquest of England.
 Crew is There
 So certain was this monarch that he would add the British Isles to his already large domains, that he actually sent on his jeweled regalia in advance. It is believed today that the richly jewelled crown is lying somewhere in the sixty feet of water among the wreckage of the Admirante de Florencia, which Miss Naylor has succeeded in negotiating.

Although the task presents many problems which would cause anxiety to divers of the stronger sex, Miss Naylor shows no fear. She had had one or two narrow escapes from death in the course of her experience, without being in any way deterred from tackling the risky business again.
 Miss Naylor recently made a trip to the southern coast of England and obtained some excellent specimens of undersea plant

RED CLERGY IN RUSSIA

First Congress Held by New Organization Formed of Young Men

MOSCOW, Oct. 24.—The "red clergy," led by a group of young men, held its first congress here early in August and discussed plans to establish a new "live church."

The aims of the "red clergy," so called because of its acknowledgment of the social revolution and the Soviet Internationale, include liquidation of the superiority of the regular clergy in Russian church affairs; doing away with the reactionary section of higher clergy who, it is claimed, are still hoping for a coup d'état to sweep them into power again.

The "red clergy" group, headed by Archbishop Antonin and a number of young Moscow and Petrograd clergymen, came into existence as a result of a split among the Russian Orthodox clergy, brought about soon after confiscation of church treasures was started by Soviet government officials.

Church and State Because of the opposition which developed among the ruling church authorities, a number of the clergy were prosecuted in various parts of Russia, even Patriarch Tichon himself having been placed on trial. Many sentences of death were imposed, some of which were carried into effect, and various other archbishops, bishops, and clergymen were given jail sentences. Realizing that the conflict between the state and the church threatened the very existence of the church itself, the group of young clergymen took the initiative and demanded the abdication of Patriarch Tichon. The Patriarch yielded to the demands, and immediately afterward the movement of the "live church" was inaugurated.

The new movement, first of all, is against supporters of the old Byzantine Church service which demands splendor in all its glory. It is contended that the costly mitres of gold studded with jewels, the magnificent vestments, the priceless rugs are too significant of aristocracy. "In all this splendor," claim the young clergymen, "little room is left for the light of Christ's mercy and love." The church must be brought nearer to the masses—it should be "proletarianized."

Against Celibacy The "live church" proposed also to clear the churches and parish councils of counter revolutionary clergy and to remove the vow of celibacy for bishops.

BRINGING UP FATHER

ELEPHANT UNDERSTOOD TREATMENT OF MAHOUT

Would Not Work and Was Sulky Until Colored Man Arrived.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A big female Indian elephant that went on strike at the Zoo last spring and refused to do what all big elephants at the Zoo are required to do—earn money by carrying children around on her back—has been cured of the sulks and laziness by the seeming magic treatment of an Indian mahout.

Then she took it into her big head that she would not submit to being bossed any longer. She declined to stand between the new riding steps that had been fixed up for the convenience of juvenile elephant riders. When the old wooden steps were substituted for the new ones she proved equally obstinate. In the end she declined to leave the elephant yard at all.

As the elephant is a fine animal, and quite good tempered, it was decided to obtain a mahout from India. He was cabled for, and arrived in due course. He was taken to the elephant house and formally saluted the animal, standing first at her head and then at her tail. Next he took of his shoes, and knotted a rope loosely round the elephant's neck, which he afterward used as a kind of stirrup.

With little difficulty he persuaded her to kneel and mounted her neck. In less than two minutes, soothing, patting, and talking volubly to her in Hindustani, he had got on good terms with the animal. Then he took her round to the elephant ride, Talked Hindustani.

Phrases of his admonitions, freely translated, were as follows: "I am told that you eat your food, and will not work; it is wrong; Allah enjoins on us all that we must work if we would eat. You are cheating your masters, and it is unworthy of you. I am only a black man, and you must not mind me. Put fear out of your mind; take it up from your heart, and throw it out."

The elephant certainly seemed to understand, and now obeys every order. The mahout was given quarters in another part of the gardens, but he obtained leave to sleep in the elephant house, as he says that he wishes to talk to the elephant during the night. He has not yet tried to saddle her, as he wants to take things slowly, but he is confident he will conquer all her fears, and make her permanently obedient.

MONIED PEOPLE LEAVE ENGLAND

Editor of "Canada" Says This Country Not Attracting Proper Share.

EDMONTON, Oct. 24.—"People with money in nearly all parts of rural England are ready to leave for the dominions and many of them are already going," says W. Lefroy, publisher of "Canada" the well known weekly in London that tells the English public all about this country. Mr. Lefroy is now in Edmonton in the course of a tour through Canada, a part of his errand being to look into the immigration possibilities.

effort is being made to turn their attention this way.

The men who are ready and willing to come are in many cases, Mr. Lefroy tells The Journal, well-to-do land-owners with enough ready money to give them an income for life, who would most likely take up small market farms near the Canadian towns and cities, and thus contribute materially both to the population and development of the dominion.

"I have been told by some of the landholders in England," says Mr. Lefroy, "that their taxes and super-taxes total to seventeen shillings on the pound. It is therefore not to be wondered at that so many of them are hard up, or that smaller proprietors with still a good deal of money at their command, are looking for some other place to live in where their money will hold out longer. It is Canada's opportunity to get some of this highly desirable immigration, and I am urging that something be done about it without further delay."

TOGOLANDERS ARE A RACE OF LIARS

Interesting White Paper Deals With Backward Races of Mandated Country

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The natives of Togoland are a race of liars, says an official report on that British mandated sphere in Africa which was taken over from Germany. The report has just been issued as a "White Paper."

"The natives have no letters, arts or science," says the report. "Concealment of design is the first element of safety, and as this axiom has been consistently carried out for generations the native character is strongly marked by duplicity. Even in matters of little moment it is rare for them to speak the truth."

"They are unstable of purpose, dominated by impulse, unable to realize the future and restrain present desire, callously indifferent to suffering in others, but profuse in protestation of affection and good intention, afterwards woefully belied by actions."

Like Noise "The native is attracted irresistibly by noise and uproarious gaiety; he loves music, rhythmic sound and motion, and has a pronounced aversion to silence and solitude, an excessive excitability, and utter lack of reserve."

"There are no specific grounds for divorce," continues the report. "The more disinclination of one of the parties to continue the union being sufficient to warrant its being dissolved. Moral laxness is not unprevalent."

SCHOOL WORK IS APPROVED

Members of Board Wait on City Council and Confer With Them
REQUEST LAID OVER

Mild Criticism at Meeting Held in City Hall Last Night

The school board and the city council were in conference last night on the situation brought about by the over expenditure on the Booth Memorial School repairs. There was a thorough discussion of the whole question in the course of which general satisfaction with the methods and work done under Architect Jeffers was expressed, both Mr. Jeffers and City Engineer Whitaker agreeing that the school was now absolutely safe structurally. The council, with the exception of Ald. Montgomery, approved of the work continuing to completion. The matter of the school board's request for an additional $20,000 over the first estimate of $15,000 was laid on the table for a week and the signing of checks for over expenditure already incurred was authorized. The school board was asked by the city council to bring in a more detailed report on the work for next meeting and City Engineer Whitaker was also asked for a report. The additional $20,000 asked for by the school board, it was stated, would see the entire work both of reconstruction and extras, including fire escapes and fees, through.

Deputation Present

The deputation from the school board consisted of Dr. W. T. Kerrin, L. W. Patmore, and J. C. McLennan. In opening the subject, Dr. Kerrin stated that the school board, at its last meeting, had been rather astounded to learn that the cost was exceeding the original estimate by so much. However, extra work had been done and no stone had been left unturned to put the building in safe shape. The school board did not criticize the work that had been done and was satisfied that the money had been well spent and the work well handled. Mr. McLennan and Mr. Patmore concurred in Dr. Kerrin's remarks.

Ald. Kelly wondered how it was possible for the cost to get so far beyond the estimates without the knowledge of the council. He did not think either the school board or the council should be satisfied when even the $15,000 had been turned down by the people.

"I take the stand that the expert should have known it would cost over $15,000," said Ald. Kelly. "Something is wrong when the estimate is nearly tripled. I believe that criticism is coming to the mayor or the finance committee for paying over the $15,000. The school board should have notified the council when it found the expenditure was going over the $15,000."

Further Work

Mr. Jeffers said that he would rather answer questions than start an explanation. The $26,000 already spent had included more than the actual work of reconstruction. In the actual rebuilding more than was expected had had to be done and some of the work was difficult of execution such as the cutting of holes for the supporting beams on the first floor. As far as the brickwork was concerned some of it had looked all right on the outside but when working down it had been found necessary to go through further than had been expected. Some parts had been wet and others frozen.

Mr. Patmore stated that the school board had notified the council as soon as it had found out that work was going over the $15,000.

Money Expended

City Clerk Woods presented a segregated report on the $26,272.39 already expended as follows: Work prior to reconstruction, $1,452.65; Cox fees, $1,413.20; Jeffers' fees, $2,033.30; Whitaker's fees, $259; reconstruction up to Sept. 20, $18,423.41; October payroll to date, $2,394.46; sundries in October, $153.32; Jeffers' expenses, $15,505.

Ald. Collart thought the question was whether the city council could grant monies over the original $15,000 estimate. Ald. Montgomery declared the financial aspect of the matter rested who credit on the city hall staff who had allowed such an over expenditure. If that was the way the officials did business he objected to it. The council had nothing to satisfy it that the $20,000 now asked for would finish the job. He had been over the school with the architect and neither he nor the architect was satisfied that the work had been an absolute success. The work now being done was not towards strengthening the building but an attempt at waterproofing. He thought that the policy now should be to finish what had been already undertaken and leave the rest of the walls for further consideration. He realized that the school had to be saved but he was convinced that the present plan was not successful. If it was successful then the continuation of the work as now proceeding would be justified.

Favors Delay

Ald. McLeod thought that the building was 100 per cent. stronger than it was two months ago but he was disappointed in seeing water still coming through. In his opinion, however, the workmanship could not have been better and everything under Mr. Jeffers had been done to perfection. With more expenditure incurred on the building the city had a bigger liability than ever and he doubted the wisdom of letting the rest of the work go now. However, a halt must be called somewhere and he would favor the rest of the work standing over for a year if there was no danger of collapse and deterioration would not be too great.

Ald. Silversides thought that the money must be provided somehow now that the work had gone so far. He could not see how it would be possible to call a halt before the work was completed.

Should Continue

Architect Jeffers did not think it was advisable to leave over further repairs. If they were made now it would undoubtedly save more work later. Part of the auditorium wall, where reconstruction was just now commencing, was beginning to disintegrate though other parts of it might last for years. It was difficult to make definite statements however until they had gone right into the brick. Less than 25 per cent of the total walls remained to be done. No water was coming through the stucco walls although the waterproofing on the cornices was not holding as it should.

Ald. Collart suggested that the school board's annual surpluses could be used in covering the over expenditure. He would ask that the matter be left over for a week to ascertain definitely what they amounted to.

Mr. Patmore stated that the desire was to salvage the school with as little cost as possible and it might be just as well to leave the matter over for another week. If only one quarter of the work remained to be done and the cost would only be $7,000 or $8,000 more it might be unwise to leave over the completion especially the stucco work since it had proved satisfactory.

In answer to a question by City Solicitor Hooper, City Engineer Whitaker expressed the opinion that the building was safe as it stood today.

Most Leakage Stopped

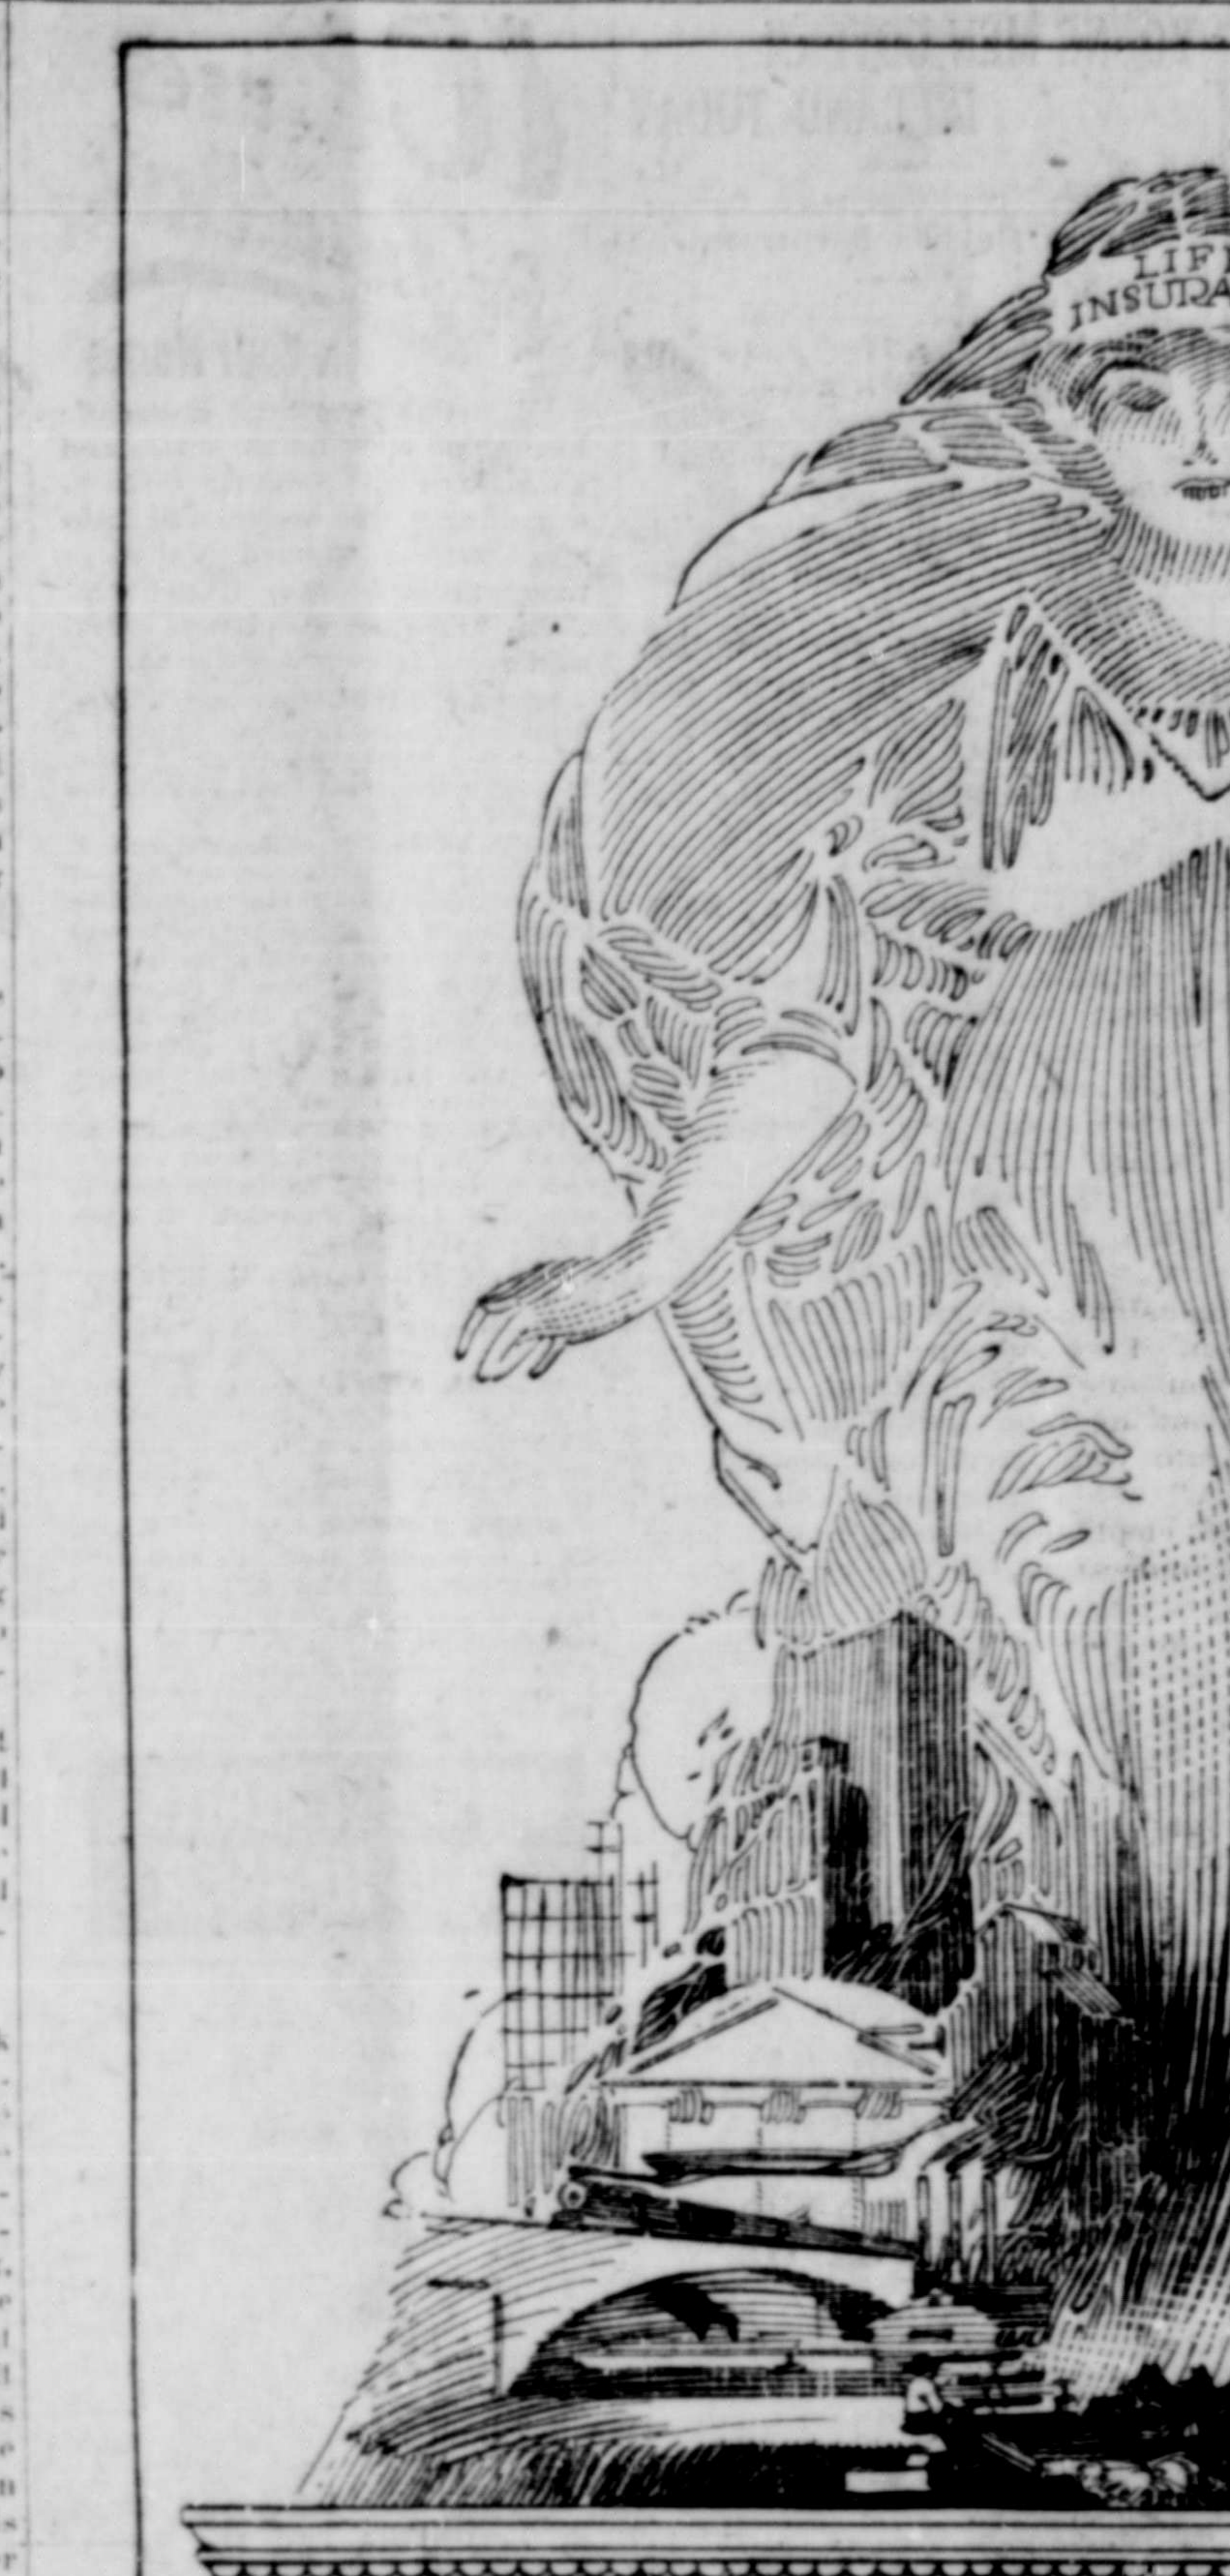

Mr. Jeffers said that not one-tenth of the leaks of last year were showing today and the building had been well tested with the recent storms.

City Solicitor Hooper explained that the School Act required the school board to preserve school property. The cost could be paid by the school board from its surpluses or by the city council from general fund. It was not necessary to put the by-law for the original $15,000 to the people. No more so was it necessary to put a bylaw for the additional $20,000.

Dr. Kerrin said if the work on the front of the auditorium could wait without deterioration to the building or danger he would favor leaving it over, but if the deterioration would be fast he would favor going ahead since the cost would be small. There was already a tremendous improvement over last year and the leaking was nothing now like it was then.

Still Dissatisfied

Ald. Montgomery asked if the cost of the work already done by Mr. Jeffers had not borne out the correctness of Mr. Cox's estimate. He claimed that the building could never be made satisfactory for it was the wrong form of construction. The work being done now still looked to him like an experiment. He would like to see the stucco walls tried out for a year. "I venture to say," said Alderman Montgomery, "that if the present estimates had been submitted at first the plan of Mr. Cox's would have been accepted instead of this."

The discussion closed with the passing of the resolution, moved by Ald. Collart, that the request for $20,000 lie over for a week and that the signing of checks for the payroll be authorized.

Will Go Ahead

After leaving the council chamber, the school board again returned explaining that it was necessary to proceed with the balance of the work at once if it was to be done at all since it had already been started and cold weather might be coming soon. This consummated in a second resolution, moved by Ald. Silversides and seconded by Ald. Kelly, that the council approve of the school board going ahead with the work on the front of the auditorium. Ald. Montgomery was opposed to such a resolution since it gave the school board a free hand to go right ahead. Ald. Silversides said that that was the intention of his resolution.

YOUNG MEN GOVERN IRELAND TODAY

Members of Cosgrove Cabinet Chosen Outside Parliament

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The provision under the Free State constitution that ministers directing important departments shall not be members of parliament has afforded opportunity of appointing to such posts men of ability irrespective of their political popularity.

Notable among the members of the provincial government today are Kevin O'Higgins, Minister of Public Affairs, who was rather a storm centre in the late Dail, Today he is conciliatory in temper, and very lucid and persuasive in explanation.

Trained for Law Mr. Higgins was trained for law. He was a solicitor's apprentice, serving his time in the office of Maurice Healy, former member of parliament for Cork, but his intervention in the Sinn Fein movement and consequent arrest by the police prevented his actual entrance into the legal profession.

Next in importance is Ernest Blythe, now Minister for local government and in charge of all the public administrative bodies in Ireland, both municipal and rural. He also was in jail, and during the Sinn Fein regime was Minister of Trade. He is very young; comes from the six county area, and speaks English with a strong Ulster accent.

Patrick O'Hogan, a young solicitor whose father was a chief official of the Irish Land Commission and whose uncle, Monsignor Hogan, was President

POISONED WOUNDS. Mrs. Villiers, St. John's, N.S., writes—'I suffered terribly with piles and could find no permanent relief until I tried Zam-Buk. It is the best remedy I know.'

SORE ARMS. Miss Hattie Bertrand, Galesburg, Ont., writes—'My chapped hands and arms would never heal until we found Zam-Buk. Father has also proved it fine for skin troubles and injuries.'

PILES. Mr. H. Fogare, of Poultonville, N.S., says—'I suffered terribly with piles and could find no permanent relief until I tried Zam-Buk. It is the best remedy I know.'

ACHES & PAINS. Mrs. F. Wyatt, 25 Guy Avenue, Montreal, says—'I had rheumatism and stiff joints and muscles, but Zam-Buk rubbed in drove out the pains completely.'

NATURE'S GREATEST SKIN HEALER

St. Patrick's College, Maynooth, administers the Agricultural Department.

Firm Hand

These three young men are Mr. Cosgrove's chief assistants. They all share fully the common sense attitude which has marked his conduct since he became Prime Minister. That attitude is firmer and less yielding than the Parliament was accustomed to from either Mr. Griffith or Mr. Collins. His purpose is fixed and declared. He avoids being led into speculative debate and resists all suggestions to "make it unanimous," unless unanimously means frank acceptance of the position he is maintaining.

The humorous speeches Mr. Cosgrove used to make in the last Dail are now rare with him, but when he is getting his own way he still occasionally indulges the House with a laugh. On the question of the necessity of pulling down all armed opposition to the Civil government he is uncompromising, and the exploits of the irregulars in raids and ambushes strengthen his determination.

OBREGON GETS REAL RESULTS IN MEXICO

Soldiers Present Fine Appearance With Good Discipline

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 24.—Even the critics of President Obregon are admitting today that he has accomplished real results in the matter of army reconstruction, and that a parade of federal soldiers now is no longer a comic opera display, but a showing of genuine fighting men, at least in appearance. The soldiers of the Obregon regime are well equipped and there is discipline in the marching ranks—things that have not been observed in Mexican soldiery for many years. On a recent national holiday the war department held some public maneuvers for its troops, and several newspapers commented editorially on the fact that "at last Mexico has an army."

It is the ambition of Secretary of War Serrano to reduce the federal fighting forces to 50,000 men, and in recent statements he has said that his goal is almost reached. These 50,000 picked men are well uniformed and equipped with rifles of tested shooting powers, and when on parade they make a smart showing. Not so many years ago a Mexican army partook in appearance more of the comic than the serious, and it was not unusual to see a company of men file by some of them barefoot, some with caps and some with battered straw hats, rifles carried as suited their convenience, and all of them straggling along as best they could without any semblance of marching order.
