Storms and Intense Cold in the East

FAMOUS PIONEER MISSIONARY PASSES AWAY AT KINCOLITH

Terrific Storms Sweep Great Lakes Cold on Prairies

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23.—Western Canada from the Rockies to the head of the Great Lakes is suffering from the severest weather yet experienced this winter. At Calgary last night the thermometer stood 22 degrees below zero, the highest temperature reported from the three provinces. It was 34 below at The Pas, and unofficial reports give Brandon 37 below. At Edmonton it was 32 below.

NORTH BAY, Jan. 23.—As a result of the storm, which was the most violent in history, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway entire transportation system was tied up.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 23.—A violent storm raging here made entrance to the harbor dangerous. The liner America did not call but is proceeding direct to New York. Several craft foundered and others were damaged.

DRYDOCKS IN SOUTH MAY BE INVESTIGATED

Probable Work May Be Stopped Until It Is Known If It Is Necessary.

VICTORIA, Jan. 23.—Advices to private parties from Governmental sources at Ottawa indicate that the Federal Government contemplates the suspension of work not only on the Skimmer Cove drydock at Esquimalt, but also on the Wallace-Goughlan graving dock at Vancouver. These advices revive the forecast that the Government would review all public works now being undertaken on this coast with a view to determining the really essential development of the Pacific ports.

Vancouver drydock is a private undertaking under the subsidies and has nothing to do with Goughlan shipyard, J. J. Goughlan who secured the contract having severed his connection with the shipbuilding firm.

WELL KNOWN WATERFRONT FIGURE SHOT

Edward Parsons Met Tragic Fate on Saturday Afternoon While Handling New Rifle at Jap Inlet.

Edward Parsons, a well known trapper, fisherman and gas boat man of the local waterfront, accidentally shot and killed himself at Jap Inlet, Porecher Island on Saturday afternoon. Chief A. C. Minty and Constable Alex Saint, of the provincial police, having received a call, went to the scene of the tragedy early yesterday morning and returned to the city with the body in the afternoon. Coroner J. H. McMullin was notified and the remains were placed in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers, an inquest being deemed unnecessary on examination of the witnesses.

Deceased was a young man of about 35 years of age and was a native of Florida. A sister who resides in New York, is being communicated with. A fit and robust specimen of young manhood, Parsons was well known and highly esteemed by many friends in the city who will regret to learn of his sudden and tragic demise.

Shot Through Head.

It was late on Saturday night when the provincial police received an urgent call from Porecher Island intimating that Parsons had shot himself. Leaving early yesterday morning on the launch Myfanwy, accompanied by Michael McFadden, friend of the deceased, who had reported the accident, they reached Jap Inlet. McFadden stated that he had been with Parsons at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon in the latter's gas boat, D. & P. Parsons had just traded an old rifle for a new Remington special automatic. He had left him shortly after and Parsons was at that time examining and experimenting with the gun. When he returned at 4 o'clock he found him lying on his back beside the engine shot through the head. The weapon had apparently been accidentally discharged and the bullet had entered the mouth and gone through his head and brains lodging in the ceiling of the cabin above. Death had been instantaneous and he had evidently expired on the spot falling to the floor from the seat which he had occupied near the steering wheel and engine. The boat was anchored in Jap Inlet.

PROVINCIAL POLICE ARE LOOKING FOR DIGBY ISLAND MAN

A report was made to the provincial police on Saturday that Angus McAskill, aged 40, steam engineer at the Digby Island marine station, had disappeared on Friday night. He was said to have been acting strangely for some time and on the night in question put on his good clothes, took his check book and left, nothing having been seen or heard of him since. The case is being investigated by the police who hold the belief that he possibly came to town and went out on a train or boat.

CARDINAL DIES.

MADRID, Jan. 23.—Cardinal Santos, Archbishop of Toledo, died here last night.

COUNTESS OF GRANARD GOES HOME.

Wife of the eighth Earl of Granard and her daughter, Lady Eileen Beatrice Forbes, returned to England on the Olympic. They came over for a visit. Before her marriage the Countess was Miss Beatrice Mills, daughter of Ogden Mills.

Two Prospectors Burned To Death at Hyder When Cabin Totally Destroyed

Arrivals from Stewart on the Prince John yesterday told of a fire which occurred at Hyder at noon on Saturday shortly before the steamer left, in which two prospectors known as "Slim" Nelson and "Shorty" Madden were burned to death. As far as could be ascertained, the blaze started in the cabin in which the men were sleeping and by the time the alarm had been made and people reached the scene the place was burning like a roaring furnace. No one suspected that there was anybody inside at that time of day, and it was not until the fire had been put out that the gruesome discovery of the two charred bodies in the bunks was made. They had apparently been sleeping, and the belief is held that the fire started from the explosion of a coal oil can.

The cabin was located on the tide flats at the lower end of the Lindeberg homestead and townsite. As it was a considerable distance away from the town and other buildings, there were no other structures burned.

Venerable Archdeacon Collison Passed Away at Kincolith, Nass River, After Lingering Illness

At Kincolith village on the Naas River, the scene of his Christian ministrations and endeavors among the Nishka tribe of Indians whom, besides the Tsimpeans of the mainland, and the Haidas of the Queen Charlottes, he devoted his life to converting from savagery and barbarism to Christianity, there passed away at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening the Venerable W. H. Collison, Archdeacon of Metlakalla. Intimately known to the natives from the Queen Charlotte Islands to the Bulkley Valley and from Gape Mudge to the Alaskan boundary, his passing will be the cause of grief and sorrow among them all for he was the veteran of the Northern British Columbia mission field. With no less a feeling of regret will the news come to the white people of the country for he was known by many and the thrilling stories of his stirring adventures and indefatigable patience through the early days of the north has reached all ears.

Children with Him. The death of Archdeacon Collison came after a lingering illness during the last fortnight of which he was almost entirely in a state of unconsciousness. The end was not unexpected and at the time of his passing there were present at the bedside, Rev. W. H. Collison and J. M. Collison, of this city, Mrs. Macdonald, wife of the Kincolith physician, Rev. Archdeacon Henry Collison, of Vancouver Island, Miss Alice Collison, of Kincolith, and Miss Elsie Collison, a returned nurse, his children. Interment will take place at Kincolith and the veteran missionary will be laid to rest beside his wife and the partner in his life-work who predeceased him some two years. Archdeacon Du Vernet went north last night on the Venture to conduct the services.

Archdeacon Collison was 75 years of age and was born in Ireland. Besides the six of his children who were with him at the time of death he leaves to mourn his loss two other sons, Herbert and Arthur, of Vancouver who served with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, having enlisted in Prince Rupert in the early stages of the Great War. Miss Collison, the nurse, who attended her father in his last illness, was the third member of the family to serve the country in the war.

Archdeacon Collison reached Metlakalla with his wife on October 14, 1873, to commence his work of Christianizing. Here he was met by Father Duncan who had established here the first and only mission post within a radius of five hundred miles with the exception of one lonely one in Alaska. Here commenced a wonderful career of devotion and faith which, triumphant over every conceivable hindrance and difficulty, has resulted in the turning of absolute barbarism to civilization and utter heathenism to Christianity.

His Missionary Work. The fact that he was privileged to be the pioneer missionary of the Queen Charlotte Islands both at Massett and Skidegate, as also on the Skeena River and at Gilaub, at the head of Gardner's Canal and Tongas, in Southeastern Alaska, has imparted an additional interest to Archdeacon Collison's record. A great measure of success attended his efforts among the Tsimpeans, Haidas, Nishkas and Gaitikshans and remnants of other tribes in their evangelizing before the influx of new population. The story has been left in length in the account of his experiences published and known

LLOYD GEORGE CABINET WILL CONTINUE WORK

Report From London That There Will Be No Appeal to the Country This Spring.

OPPOSE LABOR PARTY.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—It is understood that Lloyd George and Austen Chamberlain, supported by the Liberal and Conservative leaders, have decided not to call a general election this spring but to continue the coalition government on the basis of economy, remission of income tax and a campaign against the Labor party.

The Conservatives have abandoned their demand for reform of the House of Lords and Lloyd George postpones some planks of the advanced Liberal platform.

Special Attention Overseas Shipping.

Without neglecting anything else, it is very desirable that all Prince Rupert citizens should unite their efforts to try to secure overseas shipping for this port. The big dock will be completed in a few weeks and there is talk of coal bunkers to handle Alberta coal here for both ship bunkers and for the industries along the coast.

The business of other ports is developing rapidly and the business here should begin soon. With the splendid railway connection between this port and the east and with the wealth of the north being steadily developed, overseas shipping will be the next move. The letter on this subject by J. F. Maguire is very interesting and should be read by everyone. Some united effort should bring results along this line in the near future.

Prince Rupert Busier Than Ever Before.

Prince Rupert has never been so busy at this time of year as she is today. There are more people here today than has been the case in January of previous years. Following the completion of the big ships the fear was expressed that people would be leaving town and that the houses would be left empty and there would be a general feeling of depression. Nothing of the sort has happened. While many of the workmen left town after the ships were finished, the houses are still occupied and it is almost impossible to secure one. There are none vacant.

The work that helps keep people busy in addition to the fish business is the construction of the superstructure of the dock, the work on the station, the erection of government buildings, the Cow Bay improvements and the other building work that is proceeding here. In addition to these, and much more important than any, is the work being done at the shipyard, where one hundred men are employed. The railway shops are also employing a large number.

It is confidently expected that in the near future the mills will be operating and the miners will be coming north. Logging camps will be in operation and there will be all sorts of work to be done. There is every cause for an optimistic feeling in the city.

Pioneer Missionaries Did Splendid Work.

The pioneer missionaries who came to this coast along with the early traders are deserving of all praise. Their work stands out as a monument to them. Leader among these pioneers was Archdeacon Collison, whose death is announced today. Impelled by the spirit of missionary zeal, he and Mrs. Collison risked their lives to carry the Gospel message to the natives along this coast.
 Long before their death they saw their reward, for practically all the heathen practices of the Indians were given up and most of them made at least a profession of the Christian religion and many of them can show splendid examples to the white people on this coast.

The passing of Archdeacon Collison marks the close of the pioneer work among the Indians. Missionary work here is no longer pioneering as was understood in the early days.

Canadian Club Is in Somnolent Condition.

A letter was received by the editor this morning from B. C.
 Nicholas, managing editor of the Victoria Times, suggesting the formation of a Canadian Club in this city. Mr. Nicholas is the vice-president of the Dominion organization for British Columbia and it is his duty to make the organization effective in his territory.

Prince Rupert people will see the humor of the situation.
 There is a club here, but it might almost as well not exist for the value it is to the community. So quiescent is it that the people of the south did not even know that it existed.

Mr. Nicholas speaks of the value such an organization might be to the community in developing the sentiment and material welfare of a place like this. We agree with him that it might, but it is not.

The Secret of Good Health

When Nature requires assistance, she will not be slow in conveying to you an intimation of the fact. Decline of energy, inability to sleep well, headache, biliousness, constipation, a general sluggishness of mind and body and any sign of digestive "unrest" should impel you to seek the aid of a reliable medicine without delay. There is no better—no surer—no safer—than this proven remedy.

 to all what your remedy "Fruit-atives" has done for me.

I suffered with Rheumatism for ten months; could hardly move in bed, and was miserable all the time. I tried several physicians and took many remedies, but they left me at the same place, in bed and suffering, the Rheumatism was so bad.

I finally started in taking "Fruit-a-tives"
 and continued the treatment regu-

PREMIER MINE IS SHIPPING

Manager Dale Pitt. Tells of Developments at the Stewart Property.

KETCHIKAN, Jan. 21.—The new tramway recently completed for the Premier mine is now handling 100 tons of ore a day, according to Dale L. Pitt, superintendent of the mine who has been spending a week in Ketchikan transacting business for the company.

"Later we plan to increase the tonnage to double the amount being delivered to the dock in Stewart, when we shall ship ore of a lower grade to Grabbly," said Mr. Pitt. The company has just completed a big ore bunker of 1500 tons capacity at Stewart, into which the ore is dumped from the tram. It is then loaded onto barges by a belt conveyor.

In addition to the ore being shipped, the Premier is sending out 400 tons of concentrates a month from the stamp mill, which treats 100 tons of ore a day, and also gold and silver bullion which is sent to smelters at Selby, California. This bullion is made from the tailings of the concentrates which are ground fine and subjected to treatment with cyanide.

The Tramway.

The tram, which is eleven and one-half miles in length, of which ten miles is in Alaska, is the longest single cable drive tram in the world, said Mr. Pitt.
 It has 153 towers, three angle stations, and twelve tensions and anchors and is equipped with the latest devices known in tramway construction. The surveying was done and the tram completed in less than a year, a feat that will stand as a record in the engineering world. The tram was constructed by the Riblet Tram
 Co., under the supervision of T.
 H. Graham.

THICK COAL SEAMS NEAR CUMBERLAND

Drilling in Comox Valley Highly Successful—Six or Seven-foot Seam.

Diamond drilling off the Courtenay-Cumberland road and off the Royston road, just outside Cumberland, has cut six and seven-foot seams of high-grade coal, says a special despatch to the Province.

This is in all probability a continuation of No. 4 seam, which is a lower level of No. 5, and is the best quality of coal mined in the Comox district. It is, of course, quite impossible to state that it will be worth the while of the company to sink a shaft to take out this coal until many more holes have been put down, but a good deal of optimism is expressed in the town at the discovery that the seam is of such good quality and width.

The cores so far taken out show six or seven feet of good coal.
 The company is also installing a new and up-to-date fan at their
 No. 4 mine.

VENERABLE ARCHDEACON COLLISON PASSED AWAY AT KINCOLITH, NAAS RIVER, AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS.

Columbia, "Northern British Columbia has lost its veteran missionary who for over forty-eight years labored steadily in this region. The outline of his life is quickly given but it would take a volume to fill in the details.

"He was born over seventy five years ago in the North of Ireland. When he was a young man he became a school teacher, and was teaching in Cork in the south of Ireland when he heard the missionary call. He then went to the church missionary college at Islington where he prepared for the mission field, being told in 1873 that it was best for him not to go alone to the North Pacific. He married in August of that year a trained nurse who had done heroic service on the battlefields of France during the Franco-Prussian war. In less than four weeks with his young bride he was on his way west and after travelling almost continuously for two months arrived at Metlakatla early in November, 1873.

At Metlakatla.

"For three years he labored in the mission field. On November 1, 1876, with his wife and child, he landed at Massett on the north end of Graham Island which is one of the Queen Charlotte Group off in the Pacific Ocean, and became the pioneer missionary to the Haida Indians both at Massett and Skidegate. In 1879 he was recalled to Metlakatla as he was one of the few who could work without friction under Mr. Duncan. In the interval he had been ordained first deacon and then priest by Bishop Borpas who made a special trip on foot and by canoe across the Rocky Mountains. In 1880 he opened the Mission at Hazelton going up the Skeena River by canoe but did not remain there long. Returning to Metlakatla he continued to labor there until 1883 when with growing family he was finally located at Kincolith, an Indian village at the mouth of the Naas River where after over fifty-eight years of unselfish toil for the benefit of others he laid down his life.

Hallowed Spot.

"Three years before his beloved partner of his missionary career ceased her devoted efforts for the uplifting of the native women and children, and was buried in a sheltered spot on a grassy slope of the cliff above Kincolith. This was a great blow to the veteran missionary. Offered by the Bishop an easier post, he resolutely declined as though wedded to the spot hallowed by so many associations of the past.

On the rugged cliff there is now no longer a lonely grave. Such in brief outline is the story of a great and noble life lived amongst much seclusion.

"The church honored him in 1891 by giving him the rank of Archdeacon, but neither in Eastern Canada or in Great Britain and Ireland was he fully recognized as no doubt he will be in time, as one of the great heroes of the Mission Field. We are glad that he has left us his book entitled "In the Wake of the War Ganes" but we shall miss his fervent Irish eloquence and his sympathetic Christian fellowship. Northern British Columbia salutes its veteran missionary, "Soldier of Christ, well done."

USK CITIZENS OUTLINE NEEDS

Urge Reduction of Freight Rates Assembly Dock at Prince Rupert.

The Board of Trade has received a communication from a citizens' meeting at Usk urging reduction of freight rates and the establishment of an assembly dock here. The following is the resolution passed at a recent meeting there:
"Board of Trade, Prince Rupert, B. C.—
"We the residents of Central Skeena District, hearing of your intention of sending a delegation to Ottawa, to the Administration there, for the requirements of the Skeena Electoral District, heartily approve of your action and wish to give you our co-operation and support, and in doing so would respectfully point out a few requirements that would affect this immediate vicinity.
"Firstly and most important in the matter of freight rates, as under present prohibitive freight rates, it is impossible to utilize or commercialize the unlimited natural resources of the country.
"Since the freight rates have been raised, practically every saw mill and mining industry in the Skeena Electoral District has been forced to close. Until rates are adjusted, there will be very little hope of resuming operations. This condition has thrown thousands of people out of employment and generally retarded the development and business of the country.
"From the lumbering point of view, the inauguration of an assembly dock at Prince Rupert for the purpose of export business is a very important matter and cannot be too strongly recommended, as it will permit of the assembling of a great volume for export trade, if the interior points are given consideration in the matter of rates.
"We have the natural resources, and we can produce the natural products, in a manufactured commodity, providing we are given a fair chance to compete with other districts, in lumbering, mining and agriculture.
"Therefore we the committee, representing the citizens of Usk and vicinity, do heartily endorse the Board of Trade in sending this delegation to Ottawa.

Mr. Haslett, chairman, proposed Dr. A. E. H. Bennett, of Vancouver, be appointed, which was seconded and passed.
Dr. Christie is leaving Ocean Falls sometime in April for London, England, after a long term of service at the local hospital. His friends wish the doctor the same success in the future that he has enjoyed at Ocean Falls.

STEWART VISITORS ENJOY HUNTING TRIP

Account of Jaunt of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mahood Published in North.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mahood and Fred Janowski returned recently from a hunting trip down the coast on their launch Adorion, says the Portland Canal News. On leaving Stewart they went direct to Wales Island, where they spent several days, and then to Port Simpson, arriving on election day, with the idea of casting their votes, but Grant thinks that the returning officer must have seen them coming, for he would not let them cast their ballots. Pocketing their disappointment, they proceeded to Prince Rupert and there joined a hunting party made up by Dr. L. Kergin, consisting of himself, George Bryant and Dr. Maguire.
Mr. Mahood and Kergin, leaving their launch in Dr. Kergin's boat-house, boarded the launch Murelette, a 41-foot boat with splendid accommodation, and the two parties proceeded to Porcher Island, where they found hunting good, bagging in all twelve deer.
Best Cook.
While on the island Dr. Maguire earned for himself the reputation of being the best cook in the north. He made a mulligan of half a deer which was so good that the party of six ate the whole of it at one meal.
Returning from Porcher to Rupert, the party divided. The Stevens bunch, taking their own boat, started on the return trip, running up to Wark Canal in splendid time, only to be stormbound at that point by a heavy gale coming down the Naas. When this subsided they again started for Stewart.

Picked Up Men.
At Hidden Inlet they picked up three men in an open gasboat who had been stranded there for two weeks, and towed them into Hyder, Mr. Mahood is firmly of the opinion that Porcher Island should be declared a game preserve by the government. He bases this on the fact that the settlers who took up land on the island have abandoned it, thus proving that it is of little use for agriculture; and as game is abundant, and the island large, it would make an excellent preserve.
Stewart arrivals in the city on the Prince John yesterday morning included J. G. Stenbraten, W. O'Leary, C. Bunting and H. D. Cameron.

CONSTITIATION BAD HEADACHES FAINT, DIZZY SPELLS
Constipation is one of the commonest ills of mankind, and one too often allowed to go unlooked after, until some serious complication sets in.
A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule of everyone, then there will be no constipation, sick or bilious spells, dizziness, heartburn, coated tongue, foot breath, sour stomach, floating specks before the eyes, jaundice, water brash, etc.
Keep the bowels properly regulated by the use of
and you will enjoy the best of health.
Mrs. Frank Wiltsey, R. R. 3, Belmont, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled with constipation for nearly two years. I had bad headaches, faint and dizzy spells, and would bloat terribly. I was nearly discouraged for I had tried so many things that gave me no relief. My mother got me a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and told me to give them a fair trial. After I had taken one vial I felt much better and continued their use. Now I have no faint and dizzy spells and am gaining nicely. I would not be without Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for the world."
Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Sport Chat

There has been a great revival of the hockey game this winter in the districts both north and east of Prince Rupert. On Observatory Inlet, Alice Arm and Anxox are going at it hammer and tongs in inter-town games as are Vanderhoof, Smithers and Burns Lake in the interior. Sunday games are staged in both districts and the Vanderhoof players this week made a tour to Burns Lake and Smithers where fast games were played. In Prince George there is also an ambitious team which hopes at an early date to meet the teams from the three western towns. Prince Rupert could muster a good hockey team also if conditions allowed for it but the weather is generally so mild here and the skating periods are so spasmodic that it is difficult to do so. With the third skating spell of the winter now at an end little attention has been paid to the sport so far so it is not likely that any of the overtures of outside teams to meet a local aggregation will come to a head.
The establishment of a boxing association in Prince Rupert will be a worthy institution providing it is carried out along proper, sportsmanlike lines. The object of such an organization should be as much or more for the purpose of instructing the youth of the city in the art of self defence as for the purpose of staging contests. The putting on of bouts in public may be an interesting side line at various occasions to show the work that is being done and display local talent but it must not be the objective. There has always been a good deal of interest taken in the boxing game in this city in the past and provided this interest is fostered towards promoting physical development rather than towards witnessing bloody and bruising scraps it might well be given backing.

The Ketchikan, Wrangell and New Mellakata basketball teams have been playing inter-town games and the latter team, which visited Prince Rupert last winter, has been holding up its end well, showing that it is one of the best basketball aggregations in the territory. The Wrangell team played at Mellakata last week and threw a scare into the home team having been ahead during several periods of the game. The Annette Islanders won, however, a knowledge of their own floor and hall enabling them to make a spurt in the last half. The score was 18 to 36. The Ketchikan team has recently received new uniforms ordered from Spalding's in Seattle.

The Wanderers and St. Andrew's meet tonight in a Trail Club Shield billiard fixture. The match will be an interesting one for both teams have recently been vying with each other for second place and at the same time have been creeping up on the first place position in the standing held by the Trail. The Wanderers, through their defeat of the Sons of England last week, have strengthened their hold on second position and it will be a difficult matter for the St. Andrew's to overcome the 100 point lead that their opponents have in the aggregate. On the other hand, there is the likelihood that the Wanderers will defeat the Scots and then there will be a still greater distance between them. Both teams are confident of winning but there is little chance of the present standing being changed whatever happens. All four leading teams are strung out pretty well with

In this case, it means that we are unusually qualified to take care of the linen entrusted to us for laundering.
Being a member of the Laundryowner's National Association, and having at our disposal the expert advice of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, Pittsburgh, Pa., we make this claim with the full knowledge that we are up to date in every particular of our business. This institute has one of the largest and best equipped laboratories in the world for the purpose of scientific research, and the National Association has seen fit to establish therein their department of Chemical Engineering. From this source bulletins are issued to us regularly, giving the results of numerous scientific experiments with supplies and methods, and advising us the very best known methods for laundering without injury to the fabric.
Experiments and tests are continually carried on, always with the conservation of the material uppermost in the mind of the scientists, and no formula or cleansing agent is tolerated for use unless it conforms strictly to their standard.
Don't you think a name may mean something after all?
Also, don't you think we are better qualified to take care of your laundering than those who do not have the benefit of the expert advice? We ask you to consider this when you are about to send out your next bundle of laundry.

CLOSED SEASON FOR HALIBUT

Editor Daily News: That some steps should immediately be taken to conserve the halibut, is of vital interest, and fully understood by the vessel owners and fishermen alike. Better late than never, but as far as this season is concerned, the damage is already done, as it is a well known fact that the majority of the halibut are depositing their spawn, between November 1st and 1st day of February.

During this period, the fish congregate upon the spawning banks in large numbers, while the fishing goes on, almost continually, day and night, until the vessels are filled.

Fishing boats of all kinds and descriptions can here be seen, going and coming, in all directions, a great many returning to port with deck-loads.

This is indeed the harvest season for the fishermen, but it is also the season when the extermination of the halibut industry is in full swing.

Eight Million Pounds. There is not yet, any definite figures available, as to the amount of halibut caught during this, 1921-1922 spawning season, but I have before me a table showing the total number of pounds caught in the corresponding period of last year.

Judging from this, I feel safe to estimate, that the combined, American and Canadian fishing boats, have brought in to various ports, on Puget Sound and British Columbia, no less than eight million pounds of halibut, fish that had no chance of depositing their spawn. What an enormous loss to the future of the fish industry this will cause is surely beyond human comprehension.

There was a time still in memory of the fishermen of today when the banks of the coast of Norway, were yielding bountifully, but harvested in the same manner as here. No one thought of any closed season to protect the fish. Now the halibut is almost extinct over there.

Grand Banks. Not so many years ago the annual catch, on the Grand Banks in the Atlantic, was not very far below any year on the Pacific in proportion to the number of vessels engaged.

According to the "Pacific Fisherman" the halibut landings at principle Atlantic ports for 1920 amounted to the insignificant total—(in comparison with former years)—of only 3,822,265 lbs.

Not any longer ago than 1913, the big steamers like the "Zappora," the "Star" and the "Chicago" would leave Seattle on a fishing trip, and return within a fortnight with capacity loads.

It was not an unusual thing those days for the fishing schooners—after arriving on the Southern Banks, only a few hours outside of Cape Flattery—to secure full cargoes inside of 48 hours.

Yes indeed, the fish were so plentiful that it did not seem to matter much where the fishermen planted their trawl, as long as they had the right depth and desirable bottom. There were halibut almost everywhere.

Times Changed.

But times have changed and it has not taken very long. The quick trips and the full loads is a matter of the past, outside of the season—when the fish is spawning. The nearby banks are exhausted. Schooners leaving Seattle for the western banks have a journey of fifteen hundred to two thousand miles ahead of them, although the distance will vary, according to the market, where the catch may be disposed of.

During the spring and summer the fish is scarce. Rather often after a long trip, when the vessel returns, her cargo will not cover expenses. Still, there are men, who will insist that the annual catch has not diminished to any extent for several years.

This is in a way correct, but they forget to consider the several reasons why, this is so. The fishing fleet 15 years ago or so, consisted merely of a few wind-jammers and three or four steamers.

Since then, a hundred vessels have been built, where there were only two.

Large ocean-going schooners with powerful engines have been added. New and improved methods have been adopted—new models—the "longliners," vessels, that are operating successfully, day and night, have rapidly increased in numbers. It is therefore safe to predict, that should this fishing go on uninterrupted, for the next ten years, at the same speed, as at present, the halibut would stand a fair chance, of becoming extinct. You may ask any fisherman, and if he is sincere, he will tell you that the fish is decreasing so rapidly that the halibut fishing may soon cease to be a profitable occupation.

Must Be Treaty.

That something must be done to prevent the extermination of the fish is evident, and the only remedy is a closed season. But an agreement between the vessel owners and fishermen to cease operation for a specific period of the year, will absolutely not solve the problem. No it must be an agreement between the two interested nations. Let the governments of Washington and Ottawa come together, and enact a law or treaty absolutely forbidding any fishing of halibut or marketing of same between November first and first day of February each year, and if this is not accomplished in the near future the halibut—the most delicious of fish—may soon become only a memory of former "good eats."

A FISHERMAN.

PRINCE RUPERT AND PACIFIC COMMERCE

Editor Daily News: An eminent writer on Economics has said that, "if the earth is primarily for use of man the sea is primarily for the use of Commerce, and as agriculture and industrial pursuits may be said to constitute the body politic of a nation so commerce is its vital blood, without which there is little life or progress."

Militarism in all Ages has declared, "command of the sea" to be of first importance for every nation and the possession of its equivalent to world-power, and, so, on the Mediterranean, the Atlantic and the Pacific in succession, Spain, Holland, England and Japan became dominant powers while, and because, they were supreme upon the ocean.

Commercial Supremacy. In view of present day international happenings it seems safe to assume that "the seven seas" instead of being the theatre of naval warfare will, for some years to come, at any rate, be the battle-ground of the nations, fighting peacefully but most keenly for commercial supremacy, and no where will the challenge and the opportunity for great achievements be as portentous as on the Pacific Ocean.

As long ago as 1852 William H. Seward said: "Henceforth European commerce, politics, thought, and activity, although actually gaining force; and European connections, although actually becoming more intimate, will nevertheless relatively sink in importance, while the Pacific Ocean, its shores, its islands and the vast region beyond will become the chief theatre of events in the world's great hereafter."

Wheat on Pacific.

A generation ago Chauncey Depew speaking in Chicago said: "The open markets of Japan and China will absorb not only all the wheat grown on the Pacific Coast, but all it can possibly produce. Those markets will be so great, also, for our steel rails, our machinery, electrical appliances, and agricultural implements, that with a merchant marine on the Pacific, the western states will in a few years be amongst the richest and most productive of the Union, and the wheat of the Pacific Coast will go to the Orient instead of to Liverpool."

Ample Confirmation.

The fulfilment of the prophetic statements of these men of vision would seem to have been delayed, but their accuracy is at the present moment receiving ample confirmation at San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Vancouver. Ten years ago the advocates of wheat elevators for Vancouver were as "voices crying in the wilderness," today the elevators that have been erected during recent years are quite inadequate for the golden harvest streaming toward them, while Vancouver harbor is frequently congested with ocean going leviathans loading and unloading the natural and the manufactured products of Occident and Orient.

The New Pacific.

What has been and what is, is as nothing compared to that which is to come. We now see but the beginning of the greatest and most rapid expansion of international commerce the world has ever experienced. This is the dispensation of the new Pacific, the greatest of the world's waters, on whose gold-rimmed borders live (three-quarters of the world's population, now insistent with thought and energy, abolishing the barriers of the ages and throwing all their doors wide open for intercourse and trade with the whole world.

In Canada we have been accustomed to call our territory on the Atlantic seaboard the Maritime Provinces, but henceforth the same description may be applied with equal appropriateness to British Columbia on the Pacific.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicine, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at nights for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch till my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a lot of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

WILL HE SUCCEED JOHNNY BUFF?

Midget Smith is looked upon by many followers of the squared circle as the probable successor of Johnny Buff, bantamweight champion of the world. Smith's recent victory over Pete Herman, former champion, was a complete surprise. Smith is not as scientific a fighter as is Herman, but is a rough and ready battler, packing a good punch in either hand. In his bout with Herman he did not even stop for breath, but kept tearing in at the former champion. Buff is of the same type as Smith, and should the two meet it will be a nip and tuck battle.

priateness to British Columbia on the Pacific.

Prince Rupert's Hope.

There is no spot on the Pacific Coast for which this "New Creation" contains as much encouragement, opportunity, and ground of confidence as for Prince Rupert. Its transcontinental railway of unquestioned superiority to all others, its hinterland of wealth almost unlimited in variety and extent, its harbor admittedly one of the world's best from every point of view, and its closer proximity to the ports of China, Japan, Russia and Alaska than any other eastern Pacific port, give it a place in the race for trans-Pacific trade compared with which all competing ports are heavily handicapped. It is the natural, because the nearest, entrapment for the exports of those countries to Canadian or European markets, and similarly advantages for their imports.

Look to Dominion.

The Dominion Government now owns our Railway, our Port, and our Mercantile Marine of sixty modern ships, and it is the plain duty of that government to establish a thorough service from the Atlantic to the Orient via Prince Rupert, without a moment's avoidable delay. If this route were utilized as it could and should be no other route could compete with it successfully, and it would be of immense benefit to the whole second story of the Dominion, the first story of which is so well served by the Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamships.

Our fate is at present in the hands of the Cabinet at Ottawa. Let us bring immediate aid, if necessary, persistent pressure to bear upon them to secure recognition not only of the claims of this district for suitable transportation facilities but of the unique opportunity existing for the establishment of a transcontinental and trans-Pacific service through the Port of Prince Rupert.

Now is the time for Prince Rupert to advance, or perish. Yours truly, J. F. MAGUIRE.

SCOTTISH INDEPENDENCE

Meeting Accompanied by Wild Strains of Bagpipes Held in London.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(Associated Press).—Now there is an agitation for the independence of Scotland. Forty members of the Scots National League, which stands for complete separation from England, recently met in London and, to the wild strains of the bagpipes, affirmed their determination to fight, if need be, to gain complete and absolute independence for Scotland.

Speakers recalled that in 1706, Scotland was a free country with a national debt of only one shilling and seven pence per head of the population. Today, every Scotsman owes £177. Scotland's contribution to taxation last year amounted to £113,187,000, but only one-quarter of this was devoted to Scottish purposes, they complained.

The threat of a Scottish secession has, however, failed to rouse anything more than a tolerant smile from the general public.

SAILED OVER SEA OF BLOOD

Gold Coast Commissioner Tells a Marvellous Story of Dead Whales.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(Canadian Press)—This is not the season for fish stories, but a whale story may be allowed to pass. It is the story of an ocean battlefield strewn with dead and dying monsters of the deep, supposedly the result of a fierce encounter between swordfish and whales, the latter being the defeated army—or navy. Capt. G. Evered Poole, M.B.E., a commissioner in the Gold Coast Colony, is the author of the story, which is contained in a letter received from him by his brother, C. E. Poole, Southampton.

Here is the story as related by Captain Poole: "On the voyage out the most extraordinary phenomenon was witnessed by us all. Between Sierra Leone and Sekondi we steamed through, for over an hour, a blood-red sea, and saw some hundreds of whales dead or dying on the surface of the water. Some were just able to move slowly along; few, if any, could move quickly. There must have been a sanguinary battle, supposed to have been put up by swordfish. It was a most appalling sight, and the extent of the bloody expanse must have represented the death of many more whales than were visible. No one on our ship had ever seen or even heard of anything approaching such a spectacle before."

Three hundred and eighty-two thousand pounds of halibut offered of which quantity, 307,000 pounds sold for unloading here and shipment through the port to the Eastern market. ### CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN "SHOULDER ARMS"

Famous Comedian to Be Seen in Return Engagement at the Westholme.

"Shoulder Arms," the second Charlie Chaplin million dollar picture, to be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight, pictures his experiences and difficulties as an average American doughboy from the time he enters the rookie squad until, as a finished product of military training, he invades Hunland and captures the Imperial German staff with a method typically Yankee for novelty and surprise.

His feet get him into countless troubles under the unsympathetic eye of his drill sergeant, and even after his advent into the front line trenches he finds new complexities in the management of a rifle and bayonet. Following numerous experiences in his dugout he volunteers for a special spying mission. Camouflaged as a tree, he invades enemy territory.

A Hun wood-chopping party attempts to add him, disguised as a tree stump, to its collection, with disastrous results. Charlie is finally captured in a shell-torn French house. He makes his escape by turning the tables on the Germans and, accompanied by the French girl who befriends him, he seeks refuge in what proves to be the headquarters of the general staff. The Kaiser, the Crown Prince and von Hindenburg surprise him in an attack on a German officer, but Charlie saves the day for himself and the girl by wearing the uniform of the unconscious victim.

He rescues his drill sergeant, also captured by Huns, and together they conspire to escape. Their plan brings complete confusion to headquarters and shakes the German army to its foundation.

M. Brown. A broken engagement between himself and a girl he had left in Ireland whom he tried to forget by heavy drinking was the motive which resulted in the theft, stated his counsel.

NICKEL IN SLOT IS NOT SUCCESS FOR NEW YORK SUBWAYS

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(Canadian Press)—The Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which operates New York's subways, recently installed nickel-in-the-slot turnstiles and the once familiar "ticket chopper" disappeared from most of the subway stations. Now officials of the company are wondering whether the new plan is going to work. The turnstiles have developed unexpected numismatic tendencies. In addition to hundreds of leaden slugs, they are yielding an odd assortment of plugged and ancient coins. Welfare checks, issued in Sing Sing Penitentiary, are also among the passports upon which New Yorkers have been taking subway rides.

School Inspector Fraser has been making an official tour in the southern part of his district visiting Ocean Falls, Hunter Island and other points.

Mrs Allen Was Doubtful

Mrs. Allen tells us she had never used a can of milk until about a month ago. She ate a pudding at a friend's house and was very much surprised to learn that it was made with Pacific Milk.

Mrs. A. tried the same recipe herself with cream and it was not so nice. Then she bought a can of Pacific Milk and got the right result. Now she uses Pacific Milk in all her cooking, because it gives things a better flavor.
