EDITORIAL
THANKSGIVING DAY

Monday, November 6, is Thanksgiving Day and Prince Rupert will join with the rest of the Dominion in observing the day. Although there may be nothing out of the ordinary to give thanks for in the way of definite developments during the past twelve months, the city and district's assured era of development and coming into its own seems closer at hand and we now have more favorable influences at work for us than ever. These influences are just commencing and for them we may be thankful. Perhaps, by next Thanksgiving, we may give thanks for some concrete developments as a result of these influences. In the meantime, the situation is imbued with a greater feeling of hope for a stable period of rapid development for the country around and steady prosperity for all Northern citizens.

Monday, October 6, besides being Thanksgiving Day, is a memorable date in memories of things Imperial and military. It is the fifth anniversary of the last phase of the famous battle of Passchendaele when, after three weeks of bitter fighting, the ridge in Flanders fell and the Canadian Corps was crowned with a glorious victory over the flower of Hindenburg's troops. Here was also marked one of the turning points in the Great War which resulted in the victorious armistice, a year and a few days later, on November 11, 1918.

On the occasion of Thanksgiving Day thanks may again be left for British vicariousness and also for the developments of the past year that have been steadily if not rapidly leading closer to the nations of the world that condition of democracy and peace for which Canada and the Allies waged their war.

REPORT ON FISHERIES

Duff Commission Submits Preliminary Draft at Ottawa—Further Curtailment Orientals

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—Further curtailing of the issue of fishing licenses to Orientals on the Pacific Coast it is understood awaits the action of the government on the Duff commission report. The commission, which made an investigation of B. C. fisheries during the summer, has submitted a preliminary report which, it is understood, recommends both reduction of licenses to Japanese and reorganization of the Department of Marine and Fisheries in such a way as to insure increased attention to the fisheries. Practically all the year's licenses have already been issued so any further reductions brought into effect will, therefore, not be operative until next year.

ROBERTSON IS TRIED

Another Whiskey Case Going on in Police Court Today

J. B. Robertson appeared before Magistrate McClymont in the City Police Court this morning charged with selling intoxicating liquor, to wit whiskey on October 14 last. The case was still proceeding this afternoon. L. W. Patmore, of Patmore & Fulton, appeared for the defence and City Solicitor Hooper for the crown.

Provincial Constable Dixon was the first witness called. He stated that about 11:45 a.m. on October 14 in company with Provincial Constable Harrison he went upstairs above the Kaien Island Club situated on Second Ave. When he got to the top of the stairs he saw two men coming away from a small bar up there. They both went up to the bar and called for Scotch. Accused produced two small whiskey glasses, which he placed on the bar, also a bottle labelled D. Watson's Scotch whiskey. Both glasses were filled with the contents of the bottle. The liquid was drunk and found to be of an intoxicating nature. Witness then paid a dollar bill, asking accused if that was all right to which he replied "yes." Constable Harrison bought the next drink for which he paid a dollar bill and they both then left.

Cross Examination

In reply to questions put by Mr. Patmore in cross-examination, witness said he had told fellows around town that he had been a teamster and a farmer.

Mr. Patmore: "As a matter of fact in your business you have got to deceive people."

Witness: "Yes."

Mr. Patmore: "And you have had to tell people 'fibs' to keep them deceived?"

Witness: "I suppose I have."

Mr. Patmore: "You have lied in your work?"

Witness: "At times."

Mr. Patmore: "You are a liar, are you not?"

Witness: "No, I am not."

Mr. Patmore: "Are you lying now?"

Witness: "I am not."

POPULAR SHIP PRINCE RUPERT

In Port Today on Her Five Hundredth Voyage in Twelve Year's Coast Service

The ever popular steamer "Prince Rupert," Capt. Donald, arrived in port this morning from the south on the five hundredth trip of her coast career. Although she has seen twelve years of service, she is still able to hold her own against the newer ships and presents as spick and span an appearance as the day she arrived.

The "Prince Rupert" came out to the Pacific coast in 1910 with Capt. Davis, now examining of Masters and Mates, Victoria, as her master, and R. Drysdale, as the guarantee engineer. The first captain to join her on her initial voyage in the present run, was Capt. Barney Johnson, who is now head of a successful towing concern in Vancouver.

Interesting statistics compiled show that the vessel has travelled a total of 800,131 miles. She has consumed 30,300 tons of coal; 700,043 barrels of oil; and carries 450 tons of fresh water per trip. A total of 1,700,062 meals have been served in her saloon and she has carried 141,000 passengers during her service.

The vessel was built at Walston-Tyne, in 1910, by Swan, Hunter, and Wigham-Richardson. She is 320 feet long and has a gross tonnage of 3,379, and a net tonnage of 1626. She has an average speed of 15.5 and a guarantee speed of 18 1/2 knots. She has done 19.2 knots when extended. Her engines are twin screw, 6,500 horsepower, reciprocating. There are two double ended boilers and two single ended, with a total of 18 fires.

Former Premier Urges People to Follow Middle Course and Avoid Dangerous Extremities

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Ex-Premier Lloyd George, in delivering his first address in London since the fall of his coalition cabinet, made a strong defence of the late government's policy and pleaded for a vigorous middle course free from both revolution and reaction, each of which he described as equally dangerous to the interests of the nation.

The ex-premier spoke in a theatre to three thousand people. Some twenty-five thousand persons applied for admission. If the attitude of Lloyd George's audiences and that of throngs of people clustering about the doors seeking admission is any criterion he has by no means lost his popularity in London where most of the criticism of the late coalition government centred.

General Election Next Tuesday in United States Regarded as Test of Harding Administration

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—America's barometer of political and public opinion will be read at the polls, Tuesday, November 7, when another national House of Representatives, more than a third of the Senate membership, and 32 governors of states, together with state legislatures and local officials, will be chosen. Nationally, the general election Tuesday is the first of the Harding administration, thus it is regarded by many as a test, bearing upon the next Presidential campaign. The republican "ins" go before the country largely on the record of President Harding and the present congress, an issue accepted by their democratic and other opponents.

Excepting in Maine, where the elections were held last September, the new Sixty-eighth Congress of 435 members will be chosen Tuesday from all states. Thirty-seven Senators in 31 states also will be elected. The states electing governors are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

During the three and a half years since the Civil Service Act had come into force 609 permanent appointments had been made of which number 272 were returned soldiers. Ten former civil servants had been re-engaged, the balance of the number being made up of 202 females and 16 juniors.

Early Interest In Municipal Election.

Though the next municipal election is still more than two months distant, interest in it is already manifest, and the subject is a general topic of discussion. For the mayorally some definite announcements have been made and there are many rumors. Mayor Rochester seems to be studying the field and he has not yet announced as to whether or not he will stand for re-election. He announced after the last campaign that he would not run again, but it is understood that circumstances may induce him to reconsider that decision.

Some Reasons For Stimulated Interest.

Perhaps the unusual interest that promises to feature the 1923 municipal election campaign is due to the fact that civic business has been more in the limelight during the past year than has been the case for several years previous. The increasing taxation is making itself keenly felt. The Booth Memorial School affair has been in the mouths of the citizens for months. Retrenchment in the city hall staff has been recommended and threatened. Street work has caused comment and the G. T. P. taxation agreement was, early in the year, a point of difference. Each of these items have been warmly discussed not only in the city council chamber but generally among the citizens. As a result, there has been a good deal of comment on civic administration. A keener interest has been awakened in the government of the city. Many who never before worried about municipal government, are keen on getting into or around the ring if only to the extent of preparing to register their conviction at the polls in January.

Definite Policies Will Be Demanded.

It is generally conceded that the craft of municipal affairs is approaching dangerous waters, where some careful piloting will be necessary to bring it through safely. Retrenchment, wherever possible, appears to be a necessity. In fact, this would almost seem to be the keynote of future successful management. How this retrenchment is to be effected is where the discussion will arise. To decide this is the duty of the councillors individually and collectively. It will be necessary for candidates for office to have definite policies to lay before the electors. Citizens will look for these now more than just from personal or friendly standpoints. It is well that the public should show a definite interest in civic affairs and require constructive programs. The people will never get any more than they expect or demand. Therefore, it is fitting that their expectations and demands should be a little greater than have been the rule for the past few years.

Labor Said To Be Out For Control.

That labor is to make a bid for the control of city affairs in 1923 has been a common declaration during the past two months. It is even reported that organization is well under way and that a labor slate is all ready to get into the field early in the game. Labor candidates for the mayorally and the aldermanic board are being frequently mentioned. While they may be a little slower in preparing, it is very likely that the business interests will also become organized for the campaign. A good mixture of the two without too much predominance on one side so that all classes be represented should make a good governing body for Prince Rupert in 1923.

EVIDENCE IN LIQUOR CASE

E. Colombe Denies Allegations of Provincial Government
Detectives

The taking of evidence in the Ernest Colombe whiskey selling case was continued yesterday afternoon in the city police court before Magistrate McClymont. Magistrate McClymont and adjournment was made until 8:30 in the morning. He remembered that Harrison and Dixon had tried to get into the Commercial Hotel but said they could not find anyone around. They came out again and witness took them cased was there at the time and in. They said they were looking took the constables to his room, for a drink and he gave them one. Witness identified three bottles he said that he had whiskey and of Long John and five bottles of Henry Simpson whiskey on exhibit as the ones taken from accused's room. The bottles had been initiated by the constables and the date had been put thereon.

Couture's Evidence

Gillis Couture gave evidence for the defence. He said that he had a room at the Commercial Hotel. He identified Provincial Constable Harrison but was not sure of Constable Dixon. He first saw Harrison at the Commercial Hotel around Oct. 10 or 12 about and adjournment was made until 8:30 in the morning. He remembered that Harrison and Dixon had tried to get into the Commercial Hotel but said they could not find anyone around. They came out again and witness took them cased was there at the time and in. They said they were looking took the constables to his room, for a drink and he gave them one. Witness identified three bottles he said that he had whiskey and beer of his own at the Commercial Hotel. He knew accused very well. Between their rooms was a sitting room in which he gave the two men a drink. Witness stated that he always went to the hotel in the morning for a drink and if he was short borrowed whiskey from Colombe. The men he met were dressed as working men.

"The constables say they bought liquor and paid Colombe for it while you were there?" questioned Mr. Gonzales. Witness denied that Colombe was sleeping at the time and he got the key to the locker from underneath his pillow. They did not pay him for anything as he did not sell whiskey. When Colombe was arrested witness had five bottles of whiskey and some beer in his room.

Mr. Gonzales: "Did you see Harrison around there at any other time?"

Witness: "No, sir."

Witness said that he knew Colombe well and had taken quite a few drinks with him but he had never bought any liquor from him.

Gave Men Liquor

In reply to cross examination by Solicitor Hooper witness said that accused worked around the hotel doing odd jobs and that he did not know either of the men to which he gave a drink when he met them. The two men had walked into the hotel first but could not find anybody in. Witness had gone inside to get himself a drink and the men followed him. He got the key of the locker from underneath Colombe's pillow, unlocked the locker and gave the men a drink. Witness said that Colombe sometimes slept in his room as it was a better room having a larger window and thus giving better ventilation.

Saw Harrison

D. Seguin was the next witness called. He identified Constable Harrison but did not remember Constable Dixon. He remembered seeing Harrison at the corner of First Avenue and Eighth Street outside the Commercial Hotel about 8:30 in the morning. He was talking to Couture when Harrison came along, with another man. Both men tried the doors of the hotel but said they were locked.

Witness told them that there should be somebody about at that time of the day and on trying the door found it open. He directed them to go down the passage into the back of the house. Witness said that Couture went inside with them.

Cross - examined by Solicitor Hooper

witness said that the men mentioned the fact that they wanted a drink and he told them to go to the end of the passage. Witness was not in the hotel at 5:50 p.m. on October 12. He said that he was a chum of Colombe's and that Colombe did not drink. He had never seen any whiskey when he had been in the back of the premises with Colombe.

Proprietor's Evidence

F. Dubord, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, said that Colombe had been working at the hotel since Sept. 15. Accused was supposed to sleep in room 36 when he, Dubord, was not in town and slept in room No. 4 when he was in town. Room 36 was better for accused to stay in as it was nearer the phone and more convenient for attention to customers. On October 12, the day on which Colombe was charged with selling liquor, he was in Terrace. Accused occupied room No. 36 then and Mr. Couture had room No. 34. He had seen Constable Harrison for the first time on October 26 when he had raided the place. Witness said he often drank with Couture who had room 34 for which he paid $12 a month. In reply to question put by Mr. Gonzales, witness said that he had seen Colombe drinking many times with his friends but had never seen him sell any liquor in any shape or form. He identified several glasses produced in court as glasses used in the bathroom.

In reply to cross examination

by Solicitor Hooper witness said that he was in Terrace on Tuesday, October 10, and Thursday, October 12, and knew nothing of the actual occurrences with which accused was charged.

Accused on Stand

E. Colombe, the accused, then went into the box to give evidence. He said that he had been employed at the Commercial Hotel since Sept. 15. In reply to question put by Mr. Gonzales witness said that he had never seen Constables Harrison or Dixon until the day he was arrested. They had never bought any beer or whiskey from him at the hotel at any time. His private room was No. 4 where he kept his clothes and used room No. 36, which was downstairs. In Mr. Dubord's absence, as No. 4 was upstairs. He often slept in room 34 because room 36 was poorly ventilated and No. 34 had a large window. There was a locker in room 36 in which he kept beer, whiskey, vegetables, meat, etc. Mr. Couture also kept liquor in there at times and he often borrowed some of his whiskey.

Accused said that the three bottles of Long John whiskey and the five bottles of Henry Simpson whiskey produced in court belonged to him. He had bought a dozen bottles of whiskey from the liquor vendor a few days previous to his arrest. He had returned two of the bottles to Couture to repay him for two he had borrowed and the remaining two of the dozen he had drunk with some friends. Accused said that, when the constables came to arrest him, they read the warrant to him in the bathroom as it was dark at the time and the bathroom was the nearest room with a light in it. He denied that he had sold two rounds of drinks to Constables Harrison and Dixon.

Accused said that he was not a regular hotel clerk and he had only taken the job on until he found something better. He had never been in trouble before and had never sold whiskey or beer to anyone at any time. He had seen Couture almost every morning around the hotel. Accused was not always up when he came around as he had to stay up late at night on his duties and did not rise very early in the morning.

Drink of Water

Cross examined by Solicitor Hooper, accused said that he did not know why Seguin had sent the two men to the back of the premises to get a drink unless it was for a drink of water. He had bought whiskey by the case but did not know why Seguin had said he did not drink. While he had known Seguin for some time he did not admit that they were chums. On the morning in question he was in bed asleep but woke up on hearing men talking.

Magistrate McClymont adjourned the case until November 7 after hearing Mr. Gonzales state the case for the defence and Solicitor Hooper for the prosecution.

In the Letter Box
 ABOLISH ROAD TAX

Editor, Daily News:

At the present time when collectors are busy in the city collecting the iniquitous road and poll taxes is it not time that the justice of these direct impositions was looked into and the said taxes abolished? At present a man renting a house pays all the property taxes on the said house indirectly through his rent. Why discriminate upon him by making him pay additional taxes of $7.00 per year?

The statement that the tenant pays taxes on his rented property indirectly but surely through his rent is supported by the following quotation in an issue of the Toronto Bureau of Municipal Research by Thos. Bradshaw, late commissioner of finance of Toronto:

"It is not uncommon to assume that the tax burden mainly falls upon the well to do and not upon the wage earner. A moment's consideration will convince anyone that it distributes itself through all living expenses — it appears in the rent, in the food bill, and in the price of everything that the poor as well as the rich must buy. The landlord and the merchant are municipal agents for the collection of taxes, even if they, or their tenants or customers, do not recognize the fact. Any man who believes that he can live in a city and not contribute to its revenue is under a delusion for he pays his quota either consciously or unconsciously and consequently, everyone should be interested in efficient government at the lowest possible cost."

Here in Prince Rupert a man with a large income living in his own house is exempt from these taxes but a working man earning say $85.00 per month (or in some cases less), living in a rented house is in spite of him paying his just share of taxes through their included to the tune of $7.00 his rent and grocery bills, further per year.

At the coming municipal elections it is up to the Trades and Labor Council and all workers in the city to get their candidates to pledge themselves to the abolishment of these unjust, prehistoric direct taxes and see that, in future, we tenants do not have to pay the landlord's share of the taxation of the city as well as our own.

"I Had Terrible Backache From Kidney Disease"

Mrs. M. A. McNeill, Ca-naan Sta., N.B., writes:

"I was troubled for years with terrible backache, resulting from kidney disease. At times in each month I remained in bed, the pain was more than I could stand, and to walk was almost impossible. I used about $50.00 worth of other medicines, but with little results. Now I am completely better, after using only five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

BULKLEY RIVER BEEF QUESTION

Board of Trade has Committee in Marketing of Interior Products

The marketing of Bulkley Valley beef came in for lengthy discussion at the Board of Trade meeting last night and a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of the Board to co-operate with the local retailers in their efforts to handle the products of the interior valley was adopted.

J. C. Gavigan thought that it was possible to find a market in Alaska in view of the fact that Prince Rupert could not take care of the entire beef output of the interior. He stated that the price of beef in Ketchikan was much higher than it was here and he could see no reason why business in Alaska for this product could not be developed.

M. P. McCaffery, in giving a brief review of his recent trip into the interior in company with S. J. McLeod said that he had been much impressed with what he had seen. He considered that the development of the interior, in the past few years, had been greater in proportion than any other development in Northern B. C.

To his mind it was imperative that everybody in Prince Rupert should get behind the Bulkley Valley beef movement and give it entire support. Anyone could buy Bulkley Valley beef locally by going in and asking for it.

Duncan Munro, of the Land Settlement board, Terrace, suggested that the Board of Trade should authorize a printed sign on which its recommendation should be affixed. Such a sign could be used by all retailers handling the Bulkley Valley products by displaying it in their windows. This he thought would mitigate against anyone saying they were selling Bulkley Valley goods if they were not.

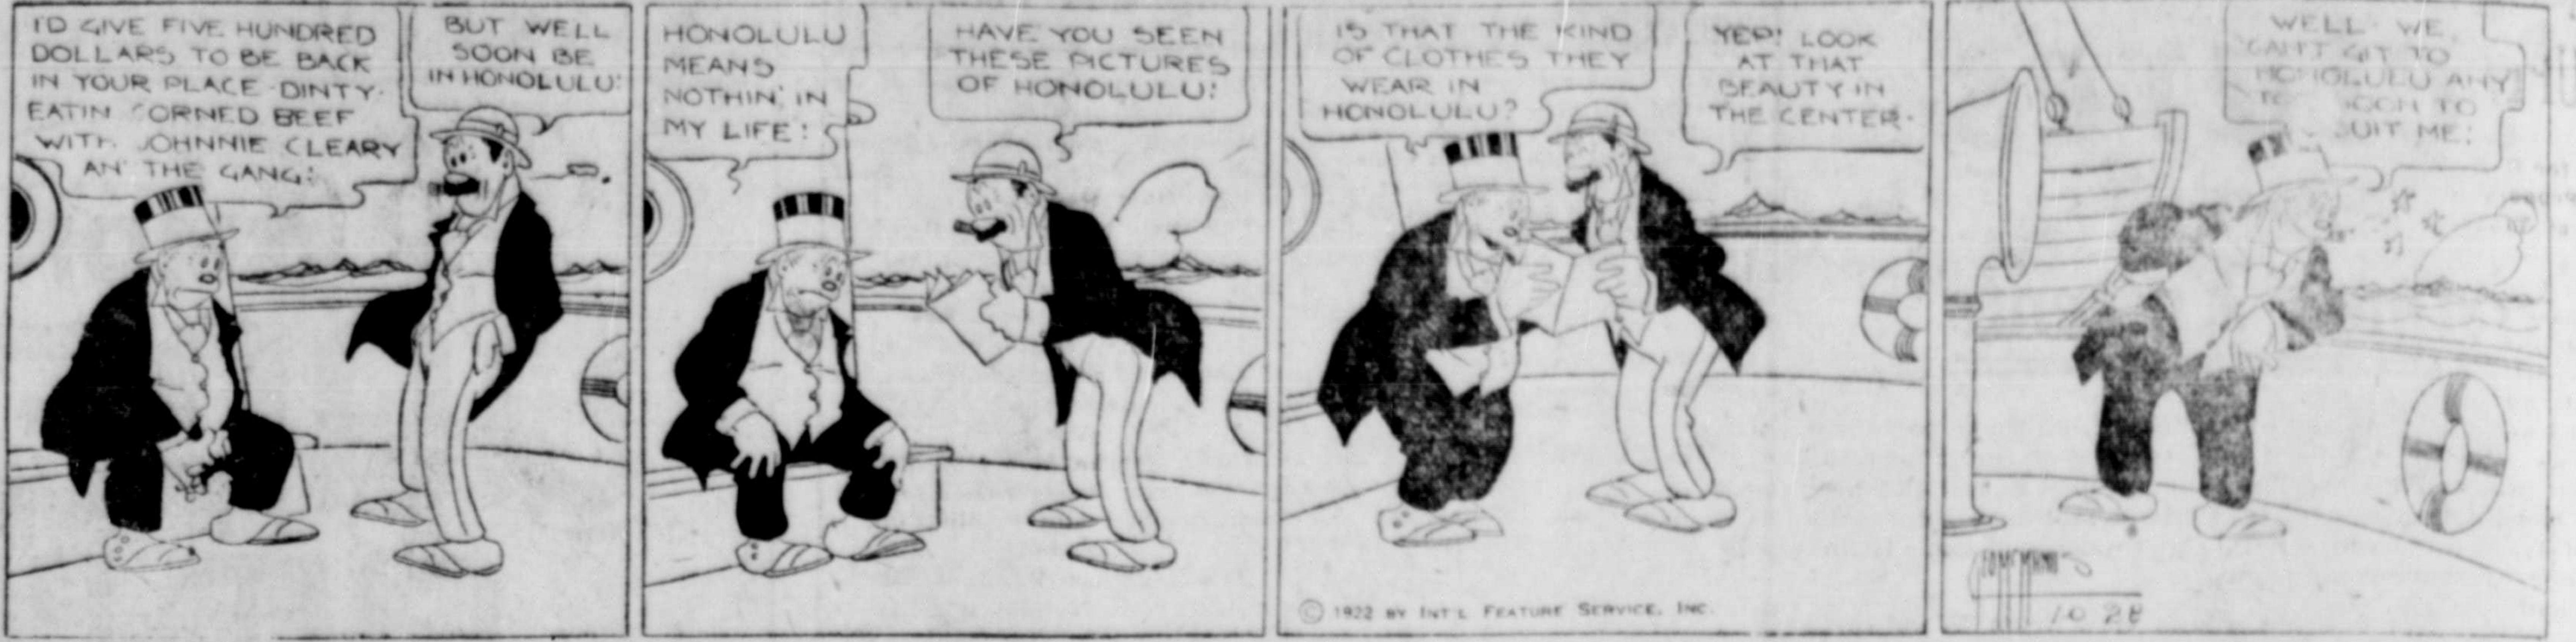

He thought it was up to the people of Prince Rupert to co-operate with the people of the interior in marketing their produce whether it was beef or potatoes. The past season had been an exceptional one and the farmers in the Ootsa Lake country had not the feed to carry the live stock over the winter. "If you trade with the people of the interior and they trade with you then you will both make money," said Mr. Munro.

Should Help Themselves T. McClymont said that, while he heartily believed in local co-operation in the marketing of interior products, he thought that the interior should not rely absolutely on the outside. He considered the people of the interior should form some institution among themselves for the placing of their products before the public.

S. J. McLeod, in speaking of his recent trip through the valley, said that he had been very much astonished at the development which had taken place in the interior. There was an excellent class of settlers throughout the district. He certainly agreed that the people of Prince Rupert should get behind the scheme of marketing interior products and support it.

W. F. Joy is booked for Seattle on the Prince Rupert leaving to-morrow night.

ST. ANDREW'S WHIST DRIVE AND DANCE HELD LAST NIGHT

The first St. Andrew's whist drive and dance of the season, held under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Ladies Auxiliary in aid of the football team, at the Elk's Home last night was a decided success.

There were some thirty tables of whist, the ladies' first prize being won by Mrs. Jacobson, while Mrs. Bud Corley was successful in taking the consolation prize.

Capt. Mulligan was the winner of the gentlemen's first prize and M. Kilday took the consolation prize. At the conclusion of the whist drive delightful refreshments were served by the ladies of the auxiliary.

Dancing was then indulged in to the strains of Arthur's Orchestra until the wee hours of the morning.

W. Brown and W. Reid made very capable floor managers.

The success of the evening was due to the splendid efforts of Mrs. Howard Steen, convenor, assisted by Mrs. Jackson and gentlemen members of the society.

G. S. Abbott and Jack Watson took charge of the door.

ANOTHER SHOWER HELD AT TERRACE

TERRACE, Nov. 4.—A very pretty shower was given by the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. Sundal, in honor of Miss Gladys Toombs, whose marriage to Joseph Thomasson takes place today.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march a dainty little kewpie bride on a dinner wagon piled high with gifts was wheeled into the room. The bride-elect had appropriate words of appreciation and thanks for each gift as she opened the parcels, and the witty remarks of Mrs. Parsons, made the occasion one of much merriment.

Those present were Mesdames Parsons, Donaghy, Burison, Keith, Munro, Fowler, Kirkpatrick, Chandler, Barker, E. Kenny, B. Kenny, Souel, Wentz, Aldous, White, Brooks, Brewer, F. Hall, M. Hall and Misses Nellie Toombs and Ivy Kerr.

The Montreal Chamber recommended to the Minister of Finance of Canada that it would be fair and convenient to amend the law so that the stamp be affixed to a bill of exchange by the drawee upon acceptance.

On the question of sales tax and failures the Montreal Chamber recommended to the Minister of Finance that the law be amended so that the manufacturers and wholesalers be allowed to submit to the government a quarterly statement of the amounts lost through failure and that the government be authorized to remit the sales tax on said amounts.

After discussion it was moved by D. G. Stewart and seconded by S. K. Campbell that the matter be left to the Trade and Commerce Committee for report.

MASQUERADE DANCE HELD AT OSLAND

Saturday Night's Affair was Very Enjoyable—Several Clever Costumes

OSLAND, Nov. 3.—A very successful masquerade dance was held at Osland last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Gesh Johnson was awarded the ladies prize for a very clever disguise and Y. Grimsson carried off the pipe on the men's side. The latter made a fascinating flapper and he managed to keep most folk guessing as to his identity even here where everyone knows everyone else. He wore a stunning pink dress with organdie frills.

Miss Jansen, the school teacher, managed to conceal her charms in the guise of a witch. Mrs. V. Grimsson provoked much merriment in a crinoline and poke bonnet and Mrs. Eydolfsson as a gypsy went around offering to tell everyone's fortune.

Coffee and cake was served and everyone voted the affair a very enjoyable one.

MAKE PRINCE RUPERT BASE

Supplies for C. N. R. Commissary is Proposal of Board of Trade

The question of making Prince Rupert the base of supply of the Canadian National Railway commissary department for all points in B.C. and the supplying of fish to the work train board- car crews working out of Prince Rupert was endorsed at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade last night.

Mr. H. Orme, president, occupied the chair. The members present included G. W. Nickerson, C. V. Eviht, secretary, C. G. Mans, J. C. Gavigan, S. J. McLeod, D. G. Stewart, Joe Scott, MacLennan, M. P. McCaffery, A. Woodland, Capt. Groves, Geo. Munro, S. K. Campbell, Geo. Pruzzell, Geo. Richmond, and Geo. Munro, of the Land Settlement Board, Terrace, was a visitor.

Mr. Orme stated that he had been approached on the subject of fish being supplied on the boarding cars working out of this city. One man had told him that the only way they could obtain fish was to form a pool among themselves and get it shipped to them. Several men had asked that the Board of Trade take the matter up with a view to having fish placed on the train in the work cars at least once or twice a week.

Here or Edmonton

C. Gavigan thought that Prince Rupert should be the supply distributing base for the Canadian National lines to adjacent points in B.C. He said that supplies could be obtained here just as well, if not better, than in Edmonton, and thought that the attention of the proper officials of the railway should be called to the possibility of using Prince Rupert as their supply distribution base. He moved that the Board of Trade should take the matter up of the supply to the boarding cars with the Canadian National railway with a view to having fish placed in their diet at least once a week and also that the matter of the distribution of supplies for B.C. points should be handled from Prince Rupert. The motion was seconded by W. Nickerson and carried.

Ten Years Ago

Mr. E. Loring who, if not the oldest, can reckon himself among the earliest of the old time pioneers of the Skeena River district, and who is now Indian agent at Hazelton, arrived from the south recently after six weeks spent at the Belle Isle Hot Springs. Mr. Loring, who has extensive mining interests in the Hazelton district, has the utmost confidence in the future of that part of the country from a mining standpoint.

Mrs. Thomas Cartwright and children are spending a few weeks visiting friends in the south.

According to the Admiralty report, compiled by the Admiralty's secretary in the absence of his chief on vacation, the fish arrivals this week have been up to average in view of the storm which raged on Thursday night. The fish landed during the week has been caught in the Westward waters. While the run is not particularly brisk just yet it is improving daily and the expectations are that this month will see a marked improvement in the local sales.

In spite of the steady arrivals the prices for fish have remained firm.

With the advent of better weather conditions there are still a number of the smaller boats engaged in the halibut hunting and they will remain in the game as long as the weather permits. However ninety per cent of the fish landed is caught by the big Canadian and American schooners, and a number of the larger craft have yet to come in with their catches. One or two of the American schooners have made their initial season trip into port this week. The Albatross, while en route to the northern grounds from Seattle, did some fishing in the Heales Straits but her skipper reports that the fish run in those waters is very slim. After discharging his cargo of 16,000 pounds he will make for the Westward waters.

Total Catch

The total amount of fish landed during the past week, up to and including yesterday was 399,300 pounds.

Bob Hanna for Panama

An old friend, Bob Hanna, has been in communication with the Admiralty's secretary during the week. He writes from Vancouver and, according to the tone of his epistle, things are going very well indeed with the late chief of the Port Edward salmon fleet. Bob went south as far as Vancouver on the tug Lorne in October and since arrival has been employed by Captain Griffiths, owner of the pleasure cruiser Suja, which called into Prince Rupert this summer en route to Stewart where Captain Griffith has some mining interests. Bob is now in charge of the barge Henry Villard, owned by Captain Griffiths, which he will pilot to Panama where he will remain for the winter. Bob thinks the south is all right, so far as it goes but does not think it goes far enough at that. He will be returning northwards early in the spring.

Cattle for Rancher

The power boat Starston, Captain H. Watson, left for Banks Island on Wednesday with a large load of cattle for a rancher in that district. Cattle are from the interior and include some very fine specimens. The country on Banks Island is particularly suited to mixed farming and some excellent results of cattle raising have already been established.

Shark Fishing

Captain McAllister, of the Pug, is going into the shark fishing business with a vengeance according to all accounts. He will carry out this class of fishing in conjunction with the Rupert Marine Products Ltd., of Tucks Inlet, and is outfitting his craft to that end. Cap has a science whereby he will be enabled to operate his boat with the lowest possible cost. His idea is to catch the sharks and lash them by the tails to the side of the boat. This being satisfactorily accomplished he will place a long pole on the bow of the boat from which will be suspended a nice juicy herring, or some such shark tantalizing bait. The sharks seeing the bait will endeavor to catch up with it and thus the boat will be propelled at a terrific speed while the engine is at rest. Cap says a similar scheme worked excellently with a donkey he once had when he used a carrot on a pole as bait. He says that no hatched. It is not known what the size of the largest deer was but it is known that the largest clam captured weighed four pounds ten ounces which had to be clubbed to death as Cap forgot his clam gun when going out.

Horrible Humor

It's a shame to take the money, is an axiom true though old, but while the money wasn't taken, the plot will turn you cold. Don't go away dissatisfied before you've read the tale, it's all about a little man and a great big clothing sale. Of course perhaps you know him, he's a hum-dinger with a hum but just the same he's quite alive and is sure a Boothery Bum. You see it happened this way, the boss was all stocked up with dressy suits and handkerchiefs in which he went to sup, so to make way for the newer styles he cleaned the wardrobe out and that is why this tale is told for that's what it's all about. He'd piled a bunch of clothing up inside his room so snug and thought the rag and bone man would soon poke in his mug. He meant to make a pile of change out of this wondrous store but he didn't make a gold dented cent and that's why the boss is sore. While he was talking prices with a bunch of men below the little guy had then got wise and said you watch me go. So he grabbed the pile of hand me downs and said "here's where I leave" and a little jay just peering by chirped up "Why, it's our Steve."

Caygeon Goes

It is a pleasure to announce that the Caygeon, sponsored by Jim Morrison, is out of the Seal Cove Marine Ways boat hospital and is convalescing on the high spots. The late invalid left port on Saturday night last with the lockers full of oranges and liniment and according to a wireless message received by the secret service all is going well.

The salmon trawler First Place skipped by George Place, which broke so many records in the salmon hunting game during the past season is to be given a rest this winter and will be lodged securely at Cow Bay in the near future.

A carload of double dressed and finishing lumber will arrive on the steamer Prince Albert over the week end for Albert & McCaffery.

Sitka Plant Closed

The Sitka Fisheries plant at Sitka, Alaska, was closed on October 5 and will re-open about March 1 next. It had been running on a small scale during the past summer.

Whistling Fish

It is reported in well informed nautical circles that Frank Lockwood, while on a recent fishing expedition, caught a fine specimen of a whistling fish. According to reports to hand it was seined out of the water in the Meliakatla Passage. The fish measured 4 ft. 1 long, had one eye and a half, a head like a porcupine, and was covered with long silky hair. Onlookers say that when pulled out of the water it blew itself up, whistled three times and expired calmly in Frank's arms without murmuring a word.

A Dedication

Dedicated to W. C. of the Boothery:

The morning broke,
The night it fell,
All was quiet,
When what a yell
Went up from Bill,
As he raved and swore,
For a pretty square face,
Lay dead on the floor,
What ghastly work,
The boss then cried
And eyes filled with tears,
Threw the corpse outside.

Thanksgiving Crib

There is great excitement in Fish house circles these cool nights, to say nothing of the balmy days. A whole Thanksgiving Day turkey is being put up for the man who proves himself for the best crib player in the crib tournament now being staged on the waterfront. Following is the schedule of games:

A. Clapperton vs. P. Solem; W. Cash vs. John Dybhavn; Major McGregor vs. W. Knight; J. Lee vs. S. Carter; E. Shrub-sall vs. W. McIntosh; H. Daggett vs. F. Davies; P. Lorenzen vs. W. Shrub-sall; Capt. Ormiston vs. T. Morrison. In the first round Daggett vanquished F. Davies; Watch for the winner. Most of

Podge's Questions

Flossie Flirt is having a terrible time with young Podge, the son and heir to Lady Doolittle according to a letter to hand from the Wheat City. It appears that Podge has reached the inquisitive stage of boyhood and is repeatedly asking Flossie some very awkward questions. Should anyone reading these times have the solutions it will be appreciated if the answers be mailed to Flossie care of the secret service.

How many holes does it take to make a ton of doughnuts?
Why is it that women put rats in their hair and not mice?
Where does the light go to when you blow the candle out?
Why didn't Father Christmas get married?
Why is an empty bottle called a dead soldier?
How many policemen would have been required to put Sampson, the biblical strong man in prison?

The following boats have marketed fish during the week: Alaska, Gibson, Ruth, Tatoosh, Adeline, Scout, Plop, Augusta, Happy, Myra, Restitution, Viking, Alton, Albatross, Commonwealth, Independent, Anna J. Daily, G. E. Foster, M. M. Christopher.

CAPTAIN FREEMAN ELECTS FOR JURY TRIAL; GETS BAIL

Nelson, customs officer, in the pursuit of his duties as a result of last Tuesday's affair at the post office building, elected for jury trial yesterday afternoon and has been released on $1,000 bail. The bondsmen were Capt. C. C. Ketchum and A. J. Phillipson.

JOHN RAYMENT DIED TODAY

The death occurred this morning of John Rayment, aged 50 years, at his residence on First Avenue, after a prolonged illness. Deceased was a native of Devonshire, England, and had been a resident of Prince Rupert for the past seven years having been employed as a longshoreman. Deceased is survived by his wife. Princess Hermine Will Tomorrow Become Life Partner of Former Monarch

THE HAGUE, Nov. 4.—Princess Hermine of Reuss, almost unknown even in her native Germany two months ago, is today one of the most conspicuous women in Europe, for tomorrow she will repeat the words that are to unite her life to that of the former German Emperor, William Hohenzollern, and which also will make her "Queen of Prussia"—empty though the title be.

The new chapter in Princess Hermine's life constitutes her second matrimonial venture, and comes after she has struggled for more than twenty years through the vale of sadness and misfortune that has pursued her unhappy family. But as most of this ill-luck began when political differences arose between the House of Reuss and the government of ex-Emperor William, there are many in Germany today who, perhaps governed a mile by superstition in their reasoning, believe that the marriage will break the long spell of misfortune and that hereafter the Reuss household will be in the ascendancy.

Princess Hermine's first husband was Prince von Schoenairch-Carolath, an officer of the Ulan Guards, who died a few years after his marriage.

The Princess had five children.

HAS NEVER FELT THE RHEUMATISM

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up.
I tried medicines I saw advertised, and was treated by doctors but the Rheumatism always came back.
In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that "Fruit-a-lives" would stop Rheumatism and took a box, and got relief; then took "Fruit-a-lives" right along for about six months and I have never felt my Rheumatism since."

by that marriage, the elder of whom is 15. She had intended taking them to Doorn to reside with her in her new home, but arrangements have since been made to have them live in a specially built house outside the ex-Emperor's estate. This step was taken in deference to the wishes of William's own children.

The meeting between ex-Emperor William and the Princess occurred more than a year ago, and came about through rather unusual circumstances. It seems that her young son wrote a letter of condolence to Doorn following the death of the former Empress. The reply was written by William and addressed to the boy's mother, and thus their correspondence began. Some months later they were asked to visit the former monarch, and it is said that three days after Princess Hermine arrived at Doorn she had consented to become the wife of the famous exile.

She is 35 years of age, tall, and of truly regal bearing. Many there are who declare that she still possesses much of that beauty for which, as a girl, she was noted throughout Southern Germany.

Gossip in Germany has it that the marriage of former Emperor William of Germany and Princess Hermine of Reuss argues a far more wise and workable union than that between William and his first wife, Princess Augusta Victoria, which took place in February, 1881 and terminated just 40 years and two months later when she died an exile from her beloved Potsdam.

Princess Augustia was shy, trustful, essentially feminine, a lover of her home, and with no sympathy for pomp and ceremony. For more than 12 years of her married life she was a semi-invalid.

Princess Hermine, on the other hand, is understood to enjoy and respect all the royal traditions which Princess Augustia abhorred. While she is hardly known beyond the German borders, and seldom if ever was mentioned in the newspapers of Germany before her engagement to the ex-Emperor was announced, still there are many households in Central Europe which profess to have an intimate knowledge of her character, and in these the preponderance of opinion is that she has all the qualities to make her a valuable and sympathetic companion to the Imperial Exile of Doorn.
