NATIVE OF ISLANDS HAD WONDERFUL ESCAPE SENSATION SPRUNG IN CHIROPRACTIC COMMITTEE AT VICTORIA YESTERDAY

Albert Jones, Given up for Dead in Explosion of Gas Boat, is Alive

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, Dec. 7.—Albert Jones, after being given up for dead the past two weeks, writes his wife from Jedway. His experience was wonderful in the extreme. He tells that on the night of his disappearance, while off Sand Spit, his boat caught fire and to save the boat he tore off the cabin. Some cans of gas exploded when in the water and he was knocked out. When he woke up he was miles beyond Sand Spit in Hecate Straits and the engine was still running.

He apparently made for the nearest port, or a least by some means reached Jedway, where he could not communicate with his family until the arrival of the boat made it possible for him to send a letter. His survival is causing great rejoicing at Skidegate among his family and relations and the rejoicing is not confined to that place for he has relatives and friends in Old Massett and many friends among the white population.

The cabin of Jones' boat was found a fortnight ago but no trace of him was apparent. It had been concluded that he was killed.

The plan has the support of the United States and deals a blow at the Russian-Turkish plan for the control of the Straits by Turkey. The Russian leader, Tchitcherin, says that he will make Russia arm to the teeth and take such steps as will make the naval disarmament plan of no use.

During the gale on November 3, while in the northern waters, two men were swept from the decks and were only recovered with much difficulty. Capt. Pedersen is very high in his praise of the gallant behavior of the crew who willingly risked their lives to effect the rescue. While crossing Dixon's Entrance the boat ran into a particularly rough sea when the fore-sail was torn from its mast.

UNIVERSITY BILL PASSES FIRST STAGE

Government to Control Expenditures of Institution—Oliver Gives Warning

VICTORIA, Dec. 7.—The University Bill, giving the government control over expenditures, went through its committee stage last night and passed being resorted without amendment. Premier Oliver said the object of the bill was a warning to the university not to contract debts and expect the government to liquidate them. H. F. Kergin, member for Alton, strongly supported the measure and urged even greater control.

In the course of the debate, Mr. Kergin interpolated a remark when F. W. Anderson, member for Kamloops, was discussing the bill. Mr. Anderson retorted with unparliamentary language and Mr. Kergin demanded his withdrawal. Mr. Anderson withdrew.

Chiropractor's Subject Was so Seriously ill That Physician Rushed Him out of Committee

VICTORIA, Dec. 7.—Yesterday afternoon a mild sensation was sprung in the chiropractic committee when Thomas Mercer, a chiropractor, brought in a boy and had him stripped to the waist challenging doctors to diagnose the case and check up his diagnosis.

The challenge was taken up by Dr. D. B. Gillies, of Vancouver. The boy was found to have a temperature of 102 and was rushed home on account of his serious condition. Mercer said that he was not that way the previous day.

Dr. Gillies said that any chiropractor, with a medical man's knowledge, would abandon at least part of his theory. He said that even toe twisting might secure some followers as a method of cure but the backbone was better because it was more mysterious.

The doctor said that Christian Science had done a great deal of good. It was the fault of the medical profession that it existed. He appreciated Christian Science but had no use for Mrs. Eddy.

PREACHES ON BOOTLEGGING

Smithers Clergyman Commends Endeavors of Attorney General Toward Control

SMITHERS, Dec. 7.—In response to a request, Rev. M. W. Lees dealt with the subject of "bootlegging" in his sermon on Sunday evening last.

Prefacing his address with the remark that his own attitude to the liquor traffic was one of intense antagonism the speaker said that for the occasion he would define bootlegging as "Illicit Dealing in Liquor."

This was fostered largely by brewers, hotel-keepers and others who sought to discredit prohibition. Their aim was to make it appear responsible for the flagrant bootlegging which prevailed during the so-called trial of the Prohibition Act.

Another factor in this direction was the large number of drink victims who by their indulgence had weakened or lost their will power and, with it, respect for the law. They were willing to pay higher prices for liquor if at the same time they could deftly evade the law.

There was also the class which, merely for the sake of cold cash, scrupled not to defy the law and cared not how the victims were debauched by this illegal traffic, so long as it put money into their pockets.

Mr. Lees expressed the opinion that the B.C. Government could not control unless the sole handling of the traffic including imports and exports was placed in their hands. He commended the efforts of the Attorney General in this direction and suggested that a plebiscite taken throughout the province on this issue, if it met with the success he anticipated, then he thought the federal government could no longer withhold this concession.

SEVERE PENALTIES

Any person not naturalized, should on conviction of an offence against the Liquor Act, be deported. If naturalized or a British subject, he should be deprived of all citizenship rights for ten years and receive severe penalty. He recommended a steady educational campaign as the best way to ultimately bring about the abolition of the drink evil.

Institute of B. C. Architects Will Examine Potter on Booth School Matter it is Announced

VICTORIA, Dec. 7.—W. A. McKenzie, member for Similkameen, has received a letter from the Architects' Institute of British Columbia saying that the matter of the Prince Rupert school would be taken up with J. W. Potter, architect, on May 12. The letter also says that many letters have been passed back and forth on the subject.

The Institute had asked the Prince Rupert school board for complaints and intended to examine into the charges of incompetency. Fully understanding their responsibility to the public, they had communicated with Premier Oliver on the subject.

Shown a letter from Mr. Potter published in the Vancouver Province and Victoria Colonist challenging him to make his recent statements regarding the Booth School and Mr. Potter outside of the House, Mr. McKenzie said this could easily be answered in four lines.

Coming up from Vancouver the John carried a dozen men to work in the mills at Buckley Bay. The crew report a heavy fall of snow on the south Island but none on the north Islands.

From Skidegate to Massett the John went through a heavy northeast storm but encountered lovely weather from the latter port across to Rupert. She sails again on Saturday night for the Islands.

Says System is General in His Constituency and Companies are Making Money

VICTORIA, Dec. 7.—H. F. Kergin, member for Allin, in supporting the eight hour day bill in the legislature last night, said the system was general in his constituency and the companies were making money. He himself once worked in a lumber mill an average of twelve hours every day including Sunday. Now the same mill employed three times as many men on the eight hour day system and was still making good profits.

Retrenchment An Election Issue.

Retrenchment in civic administration by reducing staffs gives promise of becoming an issue in the forthcoming civic election campaign.

The move taken by the council this week in cleaning out the city hall of all salaried employees, as might have been expected, is strenuously opposed by the forty or so employees involved and there will be many citizens who will oppose the measure—some from a personal standpoint, others as a matter of policy.

The men and women, who are to be discharged, mostly all have votes themselves and there will be their connections who also have votes. It is hardly a matter of question who they will vote for if it comes to choosing between candidates who favor retrenchment and those who are against it. Taken as a whole, those who are directly interested in the proposed reductions form quite a portion of the voters' list which will be active in the next campaign.

Cutting Down Will Be Supported.

A policy of drastic retrenchment in the city hall will receive a good measure of support at the hands of independent voters. It is accepted by many that the administration of the city is costing more than it should and that there are too many high paid officials. The city is confronted with an ever rising taxation rate and some means must be found to lower it or, at least, keep it from going higher than it is today. The mayor believes, and many agree with him in the belief, that several thousand dollars a year can be saved by reorganization in the city hall. It is quite reasonable to believe that the city hall staff can stand some topping off and that its efficiency will be unimpaired. At any rate, an attempt to cut off the dead wood is justifiable.

Efficiency Is Desired Object.

The action taken by the city council does not seem to be personal but merely a measure to obtain greater value for the city's money in the way of services. A drastic step has been taken which may or may not prove effectual in bringing about the desired result.

It is absurd to run away with the idea that all those employees who are to be served with notices are to be thrown out of the city's employ. It has been clearly stated that present employees are to get the first chance after the reorganization with combined or more extensive duties. No one wants to see the city hall staff overworked, for such a condition would not bring about efficiency. It is desirable, however, that there should be no sinecures and that every one who is being paid city money is earning it. Though the public is often imposed on by its employees, it should be remembered that the people as a whole are entitled to an honest day's work for a fair day's pay, just as every individual employer would demand.

Why Was This Left So Late?

Some supporters of retrenchment measures criticize the city council because this latest action comes now instead of six months ago or more. The question came up in the spring and received some discussion getting to a point where it seemed that something was to be done. It simmered down, however, and was suddenly brought up again at this time in the dying hours of the present council. It seems to many that it might have been left a little longer seeing that it had been left so long. In any case, something is being put up to a new council that might just as well have been initiated by it. It is unfortunate that such a measure, if it is needed, should have been left until this late date. If it is needed now, it was needed at the first of the year and there seems little excuse for having delayed it. To many it seems that the council is now taking deathbed action that its conscience dictates but which would have been unpleasant to put into effect at an earlier date.

"I Had Bilious Attacks and Stomach Weakness"

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Yorker, Sask., writes: "I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."

YUKON OLD TIMER IS SETTLING IN THE NAAS VALLEY

Mr. Derby Buys Out Chonette Ranch—Had Hard Trip in From Terrace

AIYANSHI, Dec. 7.—Mr. Derby, an old timer from the Yukon, has purchased the Chonette ranch and likes the general appearance of the Naas Valley. He recently came in from the trail from Terrace by the pack-horse route as he was not sure of getting a boat up the Naas River again so late in the fall after making a trip out to Prince Rupert. Alfred Wynnes went out to meet him and they had a hard trip as the trail had soft spots here and there in its seventy-six miles of length. Mr. Derby is now busy building a new log cabin with the assistance of Mr. Wynnes. He is a business-like optimist and there is room for more of his kind in the Naas Valley.

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

IT'S a cold, cold world. It will soon be the time for those ice made romances. AN optimist is a man who can propose to a girl at a skating party with cold hands and feet. NOW that the new head of the C.N.R. is at the helm watch the C.P.R. stocks do a telegram stunt. SIR Henry can certainly hold his own with politicians if it comes to words. HOW about giving Pa a fur lined necktie for Xmas? THESE are the days I'm glad that I get a small remuneration for writing the Man in the Moon dope and don't have to rely upon the city fathers for a meal ticket. THE man who invented hot water bottles was no slouch. CAN you imagine Willie Bowser sending Johnnie Oliver or Sandy Manson a Xmas card? THE exhibition of the Xmas spirit in the legislature is, in the vulgar vernacular, stinky rotten.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

December 6, 1912. William Manson, M.P.P. left on the Prince John last night for Massett to look into the needs of the Islands in the way of public works for next year. Announcement was made today that the cement work for the foundations of the new dock at Bays Creek would be commenced next week. T. D. Pattullo has gone south on a short business trip. Seven more deer, to be liberated on the Queen Charlotte Islands, were taken over last night on the Prince John. A. Silversides was elected president of the local lodge of the Sons of England at the annual meeting last night. The temperature at Smithers on Monday night dropped to 20 degrees below zero, according to word brought to the city by arrivals from the interior last evening.

BEBE DANIELS IN HER BEST COMEDY

"The Speed Girl" is the Attraction at the Westholme Theatre Tonight

Bebe Daniels, in what is said to be her very best comedy offering, "The Speed Girl," will appear again at the Westholme Theatre tonight. The play is a fast one filled with clean, funny and lively serio-comedy.

The story is about a girl named Betty Lee who developed speed in her kiddie car days and never recovered.

At twenty she is a movie actress, ready for any reckless stunt. She makes her lover, Tom Manley, a naval officer, overstay his leave, and when she learns the seriousness of the offense, breaks all speed laws and gets him to his port before the ship sails. But she is arrested for speeding and sent to jail. D'Arcy, another suitor, tries to win Betty by planting one of his own bastardly affairs with a girl at Manley's door. Betty believes Tom has been false and agrees to marry D'Arcy. Betty's press-agent arranges for a jail wedding, but the girl in the case reveals D'Arcy's real character before it is too late. Tom comes back from ship maneuvers as Betty is released from jail. On the way home the Speed Girl stalls her car, kissing Tom.

Sir Henry Thornton's speech before the National Board of Trade on Tuesday night, which appeared in the Daily News yesterday, was handled in satisfactory manner by the Canadian National Telegrams. Prince Rupert received this matter direct from Winnipeg with Calgary, Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Edmonton, Vancouver, Prince George and other offices copying on the same wire.

BOILS Made Him Sick and Miserable

Mr. Richard Zalozski, McLean, Sask., writes: "I had been suffering continuously, with boils, for three years, and during that time I tried many different remedies without any success whatever. In spite of all my efforts I was compelled to go to the hospital. This was in the Fall of the year, and right in the busiest time of the season. Upon my return home it just took about two weeks until my neck and arms were again occupied by the boils which made me feel very sick and miserable.

One day one of my friends advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used less than two bottles I was very much surprised at the result. It is now over two years since I got in touch with B. B. B., and I have had no bother with boils since. I will recommend it to all persons suffering from any defect in the blood."

FINE SKATING ICE AT THE SALT LAKE

Several Went Over Last Night and Larger Numbers Preparing to go Tonight

Fine ice, about four inches thick and as clear as glass, is reported by the first skaters of the season who crossed to the Salt Lakes yesterday afternoon and evening. All conditions are favorable for the enjoyment of the winter pastime and the presence of a full moon makes things even more enhancing. About seven were over in the afternoon and 18 in the evening. Many more are preparing for their first glide of the season tonight. The "O Baby," Capt. Myhill-Jones, took parties over last night and will be in the service again tonight.

GEORGE CLOTHIER BACK FROM SOUTH

After an inspection trip which took him as far south as the Belmont Mine at Surf Inlet, George A. Clothier, provincial government resident mining engineer for the district has returned home. He reports conditions very fair in that vicinity. In going around Princess Royal Island he and his party experienced some extra heavy weather and also a considerable quantity of fog. He bagged two deer during the trip.

Ernie Pearce and Johnny Suden will play tonight in the semi-final of the Prince Rupert Gagar Store billiard tournament and the winner of this game will meet George Waugh for the championship some time this week. Waugh disposed of Geo. Blyth in their semi-final by a score of 150-105 the other night.

E. A. Woods, city clerk, received a letter from the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association this morning stating that a party of members would arrive here on the evening train on February 1, on an inspection trip and would leave by boat for Victoria at midnight.

The G.P.R. steamer Princess Mary is due here Friday evening from Skagway. She is posted to sail the same night for Vancouver. The Princess Beatrice will reach here Sunday morning from Vancouver and will sail again for Swanson Bay, Ocean Falls and Vancouver at 1 p.m. on Saturday.

The marine page of last Sunday's Vancouver Sun contains an interesting set of pictures of all the skippers in the Union Steamship coast service. Among them are Capt. Stacey, of the Ghelohsin; Capt. C. B. Smith, of the Chiltwaek; Capt. Bodin, of the Caplago; Capt. Jorgenson, of the Grikoot; Capt. Dixon, of the Camosun, and Capt. A. Johnson, of the Venture, all of whom are well known to local shippers and travellers.

Rev. John Bennett, who was to have arrived here from Camrose, Alta., on December 1, to take over the pulpit of the local Baptist Church, will not be here until spring. When Mr. Bennett announced to his congregation in Camrose that he was to go this month, a mass meeting was called and they prevailed on him to stay until spring. In the meantime an interim supply pastor will come here probably by a week from next Sunday. It is not yet known who this will be.

OSCAR YOUNG APPEAL IS IN PROGRESS TODAY

Evidence for Crown All In and Defence to be Heard This Afternoon

The appeal of Oscar Young, convicted of having opium in his car and fined $700, as "being heard before Judge Young today. All the evidence for the crown has been submitted by T. B. Hooper through Sergeant McGinnely and Constable McDonald who arrested accused on the morning of September 14.

The evidence this morning was a review of the police court evidence, namely that the constables had seen the accused in company with Clara Clark, drive up to the Java Cafe where Lim Chew got into the car. The officers arrested them and at the station found the bowl of an opium pipe and some opium in the car while Young disclaimed possession.

M. Gonzales, for the defence, will put Young on the witness stand this afternoon.

OLD TIME DANCE AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

About Ninety Couples Attended—Exhibition Dances were A Feature

About ninety couples attended the International Old Time Dance put on at the Exhibition Hall last night by the Fair Board. The floor was in excellent condition and many pleasant hours passed away only too quickly for the jolly crowd. The hall was gaily decorated with patriotic emblems.

A feature of the evening's program were the exhibition dances prettily executed by two members of Mrs. Crew's dancing class. Miss Winnie Thomson danced a Spanish dance, Miss Lorna MacLaren, a Russian dance, and the two together, a minuet. Mr. Soubrin, a newcomer in the city from Edmonton, danced an Irish jig. The effect of the dances by the two young ladies was much enhanced with a spotlight operated by R. E. Benson.

Besides the regular dance program, a circle two-step was enjoyed, Lionel Holby calling.

Budget refreshments were served throughout the evening under the direction of Mrs. Campbell. Newell's orchestra furnished the music of the usual evening character. Jack Venables was floor manager, G. G. Mills presided at the door and the committee in charge comprised G. G. Mills, M. M. MacLachlan, R. E. Benson and Ald. J. H. Kelly.

MATTERS OF LAW WERE EXPLAINED

L. S. McGill, Barrister, Delivered Very Interesting Address to Smithers Social Activity League

SMITHERS, Dec. 7.—The weekly meeting of the Social Activity League was held on Monday evening last when L. S. McGill, barrister-at-law, delivered a most lucid and interesting address on "Law and Law Enforcement."

Today, whilst there still existed many curious anomalies, a number of which were cited, in the main, the law, largely founded on the old English Criminal Code, was equitable and just.

In Jail And Out Dealing with the various functions exercised in the making and administration of law by the provincial and Dominion authorities, Mr. McGill made a terse distinction to effect that the province put a man into jail but it was up to the Dominion to get him out.

Passing on to law enforcement Mr. McGill said it was the bounden duty of all citizens to render every assistance in this direction, but there was too much of the policy of "passing the buck."

DECISION IN PONZO CHARGE ON FRIDAY

Woman Says She Was so Drunk She Did Not Know What Happened

Decision in the case of Mrs. Lillian Ponzo, charged with having permitted Olive Solem to sell liquor in her house at Seal Cove on October 28, will be given on Friday morning, Magistrate McClymont announced yesterday afternoon after hearing the evidence and argument of counsel.

All three constables testifying for the crown said the accused was intoxicated and L. W. Patmore, for the defence, made a point of this, arguing that accused was so drunk she was not aware of what was going on.

Constable Dixon gave similar evidence to that in the Solem case. Constables Logan and McDonald told of arresting the woman and of her language when arrested.

The accused on the stand said she had been suffering from neuralgia for some time and had taken a lot of whiskey to drown the pain. She did not remember anything of the occurrence except a hazy recollection of the arrest.

CRITICIZES COUNCIL

Dear Sir.—The one fact that emerged crystal clear during the very full discussion of civic affairs at the meeting of the city council on Monday night was that the city council is not capable of administering our public utilities. They have a fairly good grasp of rough grading, plank roads and street surfacing, but when it comes to our hydro-electric and telephone plants they are soon hopelessly lost in the fog of technical terms, switch boards, groundings and other technicalities.

"Would Wake Up Screaming"

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leap frog one day with some boys of his own age, and while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured 'Mother, but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a very bad condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would wake in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

35 circuit smashers. Several other "fly ball hitters" made home run records that would have won them much attention in former years.

The leading batter of the year was George H. Sisler, of St. Louis, while the incomparable veteran, Manager Cobb of Detroit was second. Cobb reached a mark of 100 for the third time, a feat no other player has ever achieved. Many truly remarkable performances in batting were recorded during the season.

St. Louis, making a valiant bid for the championship, ousted Detroit from its favorite position as batting leader. The Browns' record is 313 as compared with 316 for the Tigers in 1921, while Boston, low club this season with 243, is 11 points below the Athletic leader of 274 for last year.

Exploits of home run hitters occupied the attention of fans throughout the country and there was much interest in the home run "race" between certain of the leaders. Every team had its home run hero, Kenneth R. Williams of the Browns being the leader with 39, twenty less than the mark set by Ruth in 1921. C. W. Walker of Philadelphia was second with 37, while "Babe" Ruth, in 110 games cracked out

BISHOP SPEAKS ON PSYCHOLOGY

Interesting Lecture by His Grace In St. Andrew's Church Last Evening

Archbishop F. H. DuVernet gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on "The Psychology of Suggestion" before a large and appreciative audience in the St. Andrew's Church last night, under the auspices of the Anglican Debating Society.

The Bishop said he had devoted thirty-five years of study to the question of Psychology, a study which had made wonderful progress in that time. The greatest American psychologist that ever lived, William James, in his work, "The Principles of Psychology," had enunciated the law of psychology but he would endeavor to put the study in a somewhat modern language.

First of all, there was the idea in the mind upon which thought was founded, secondly, the feelings or emotions, and, thirdly, the two together or amalgamated. This was in the mental stage. Thus we had the idea, the feeling and then the action expressing the idea. As a demonstration, the Bishop took a book saying he would form the idea in his mind that he would lift up the book. This brought about the idea of movement, the tendency toward action, and then the thought acting through the brain, nerves and muscles made the picking up of the book actually possible. First of all there had to be the idea of movement and then the body completed the action.

The actual building of a house was first made possible through the idea that a person would like to build a house. The imagination then took shape on the idea and began to express itself. Plans were then drawn which formed an expression of the idea. The plans were taken to a contractor who elaborated upon them and in a few months the house was actually built. The house consequently had originated from an idea in the mind. The inspiring poem of the poet and the beautiful picture of the artist had originated in an idea, the idea of movement energized the putting of the work into action.

That, the Bishop said, was the great fundamental law of psychology, which worked just as surely as the law of gravitation.

Psychology of Inhibition
Another phase of psychology was the Psychology of Inhibition, a restraint imposed upon one psychological state upon another. If the book were released by the right hand but caught by the left hand before reaching the floor the fall of the book had been inhibited by catching it with the left hand. As an instance, the Bishop cited the question of a person desiring to play tennis in the summer and at the same time knowing full well that he had important work to do. This was a conflict of ideas. The first idea was energized by the feeling of pleasure in turn energized by the idea of duty, thus the first idea inhibited with the second idea.

The old psychology made a great deal of the energy of will over body while the new psychology put the energy in the feeling, in the instinct and in the motive. In other words, it gave the function of choice in the choosing of the higher rather than the lower idea. Often when

BREAKS UP A COLD IN A SINGLE NIGHT

Remarkable Results From Simple Capsule Remedy—Ideal for Home Use

That family which keeps a box of Grip Fix in the house puts up a barrier against illness which no cold or gripe can break down. This celebrated remedy has a record for successful results established over ten years, and will cure a cold in a single night, or a case of gripe in forty-eight hours.

Grip Fix contains only those pure drugs that are prescribed by doctors for the prompt relief of colds. The full formula is printed on the box. Grip Fix comes in capsule form, which makes it particularly efficacious for home use, and absolutely devoid of any injurious effect. Grip Fix reduces the fever, allays the soreness of muscles, etc., and, through gentle conditioning, the system breaks the worst cold completely, on sale at Orme's Drug Store Ltd. 35c a box.

A person repressed an energized idea within himself the idea would in a great degree express itself in action. For instance, a person having a strong dislike for someone else would not perhaps show the dislike openly but it would nevertheless be evident in the tone of the voice, the twitching of the nerves and in the eye. The dislike could not be absolutely concealed and so we were told of the "tell-tale" face. Our troubles and worries were due to repressed ideas.

It had been scientifically demonstrated that the thought in a person's mind went through the process of energized thought leading to action, which passed through the brain and thence to the muscles, externalizing itself into action. Dr. Carpenter, nearly 50 years ago, called it the law of Idio-Motor action, the new law being called Idio Reflex Power.

New Psychology

The new psychology gave importance to the sub-conscious mind. There had been a battle royal between the old and the new psychologists, as to whether there could be such a thing as sub-conscious mental activity. The new psychologists had won. Experiments had proved beyond contest the region of the sub-conscious mind. The sub-conscious mind was the storage battery of mental and spiritual energy which never rested day or night. In the storage batteries of the sub-conscious mind were stored up all the hidden memories of past experiences. The marvelous discovery of the new psychologists had been that no detail was lost and these hidden memories were unconsciously influencing our lives all day and all night, even up in our dreams. The spirit of our ancestors was stored in our sub-conscious mind.

The Bishop said: "This is not a metaphor but a reality. We have shared within us something of the spirit of God. Some people think that the new psychology is leading us away from God but I think undoubtedly that it is leading us back to God." Continuing, the Bishop said that it is of the utmost importance to know how we could tap this stored up energy of the sub-conscious mind, how could take this idea floating on the surface of our minds and plunge it down into our sub-conscious minds.

It was the law of suggestion that we could best link up with our sub-conscious mind. The word suggestion etymologically meant to bring in something from beneath. It meant suggestion brought in from the sub-conscious mind. If a suggestion was made to a person it pressed on but until it was accepted or buried in the sub-conscious mind it was not a suggestion. A suggestion was a sub-conscious realization of an idea. A suggestion was energized by the sub-conscious mind and was always trying to work itself out.

Law of Diffusion

The Bishop, in speaking on the law of the diffusion, said that a sensation in one spot could be spread all over the body through the marvellous nervous system which had its crown and climax in the brain. Upon striking the foot against a stone a sensation was felt all over the body. It caused a mental shock which could be felt through the law of Diffusion. If the suggestion of good health were stored up in the sub-conscious mind working day and night it would likewise have a tremendous effect upon the well being of the body.

The Bishop said that it was possible for a suggestion in the sub-conscious mind to localize a sensation. A person receiving a blow in the chest might think of cancer resulting. This thought was stored in the sub-conscious mind which worked day and night and unless suggestion of a stronger nature were passed to the sub-conscious mind it might have very serious effects. People might be suffering from recurring troubles and wherever there was recurring trouble at a fixed time there was a mental cause. It was possible with the power of suggestion to break up this mental complex. The Bishop gave several concrete instances of persons, who suffered for years with bodily ailments which recurred at fixed intervals, having been cured by the power of auto-suggestion. Emile Coue, the famous French specialist of auto-suggestion, had given a formula reading "Day by day, in every way, I'm getting better and better" which repeated twenty times every night and morning had produced wonderful results.

Proper Relaxation

In concluding the Bishop spoke of the wonderful benefit derived from proper relaxation. He recommended his audience to try the power of suggestion which could be done by relaxing in an armchair with the feet properly rested and the mind given over to the concentration of thought on particular subjects of personal interest. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he," said the Bishop in conclusion.
