F. L. BUCKLEY AND ASSOCIATES OUTLINE PLANS TO BOARD

Great Things to be Done at Massett Inlet by F. L. Buckley and Los Angeles Associates

Within sixty days is the time given by F. L. Buckley for the starting of his company's big operations at Buckley Bay, Graham Island. There is much preliminary work to be done and it will take some time to put the plant and town in shape for the inauguration of activities.

The present sawmill is to be repaired and extended from its 75,000 foot per shift capacity to 125,000 foot capacity and it will be operated on double shifts. A new 100,000 capacity shingle mill is to be built, this also to be operated double shifts.

A townsite is to be laid out and houses are to be built for the employees and their families. Mr. Buckley stated that married men were to be encouraged and homes would be built for them.

The party with Mr. Buckley, which comprises Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Eric M. Leaf, and Mrs. E. B. Wallace, Los Angeles; T. J. Farley, Chicago, and Miss Helene Buckley, sailed for Los Angeles last night. Mr. Buckley expects to be back here in three week's time.

RIDLEY HOME TO BE MOVED TO THIS CITY

Board of Trustees Decided on Cottage at Eighth Avenue and Conrad Street.

The Ridley Home, having outlived its usefulness at Metlakatla has been decided to take down the old building at the native village and re-erect the institution in the form of cottages on the new site in this city at the corner of Hay, Gove Avenue and Conrad Street. This decision was reached at a meeting of the board of trustees held yesterday in the city. The Finance Committee was instructed to proceed with arrangements for the increasing of funds available. In the meantime the first cottage will be built at an early date and two more will follow, the ultimate objective being to build five of them. Each cottage will be of stone and half height and 24 by 28 feet in dimensions. Lumber from the old building will be used.

Protestant Home.

The idea of re-establishing in Prince Rupert is to provide a protestant home for children of scattered settlers and orphans. Each cottage will have a matron and the children will be sent to the nearest available public school. At Metlakatla, the children were instructed in the home but this plan is to be changed on coming to Prince Rupert. The home has been operating at Metlakatla for several years and only recently closed. Miss West was first superintendent, she being followed by Miss R. M. Davies.

Board of Trustees.

The board of trustees comprises the following members who were present at the meeting yesterday: Archbishop F. H. Du Vernel, chairman, W. E. Fisher, C. W. Homer, G. P. Tinker, Rev. G. G. Haecker, representing the Methodist Church, J. G. Steen, representing the Presbyterian Church, G. T. Johnstone, Baptist Church, Miss West, Mrs. E. McCoskie, Mrs. R. L. McIntosh and Mrs. R. M. Davies, secretary.

PACKING HERRING.

JUNE 11.—Operations are well under way and satisfactory progress is being made at the herring plant at Auk Bay, according to L. B. Ellison, manager. The large fertilizer press has been given two tryouts and the average production is high in fish meal and fish oil.

The entire herring output has been sold in New York.

Mrs. Philip Metz sailed for Ketchikan on the Princess Alice today.

of Trade said the idea of the meeting was to enable them to get to know each other.

Colonel Baker said he was glad to know the mill would operate 100 years because he intended to live that much longer. He thought the operation of the plant would be beneficial to all. During the war his firm had been the first to build ships for the U. S. Government and they had completed the contract on time. They had the war plant on hand and felt they had something which they should keep going. By consolidating he thought they would build up a wonderful business. They were going to embark into a regular lumber products business. They had no idea of a paper mill at present. They would have a box factory and a shingle mill and he hoped they would be beneficial to Prince Rupert as well as themselves.

Electric Plant.

In conversation with a Daily News representative Colonel Baker said they proposed to develop the water power from the river that flows out into the bay and put in their own electric light and power plant and also install a radio distributing station with receiving stations at their camps to be used in making the camp life brighter for the men and in sending orders from the mill to the camps.

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Buckley, Baker and Leaf met the Council of the Board of Trade and laid the plans before them and asked their co-operation. They particularly asked that the Dominion Government be requested to have the Massett bar dredged as there was now only 21 feet of water and they required 25 for the type of ships they would like to operate from the harbor. Otherwise their shipping man, who was with them, declared the harbor was a good one and quite suitable for their purpose.

FISH ARRIVALS

Sixty-six Thousand Pounds of Halibut Was Marketed at Exchange This Morning

Five halibut schooners marketed 66,000 pounds of fish at the Exchange this morning. When the Princess Alice arrived the packing had commenced and operations were watched with interest by the tourists, the various managers and their staffs taking a good deal of pains to explain the process to them.

The arrivals and sales were as follows:

Reliance, 11,000 pounds, 12.5c and 5c, and Daisy, 3,000 pounds, 13.6c and 5c, to the Sinclair Fisheries.

Onah, 22,000 pounds, to the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. at 12.2c and 5c.

Tahoma, 19,000 pounds, at 12.5c and 5c, and Inez H., 8,000 pounds, to the Royal Fish Co.

Urges Co-operation.

Mr. Buckley said that in the past he had never got very close to Prince Rupert. He urged that there be co-operation rather than seeing how much they could get from each other. This would be a permanent business which it was hoped would be in operation 100 years hence.

NEW PLANE AT GEORGE

Big Larsen Monoplane Lands Safely With Len Bell on Board

(News Special)

PRINCE GEORGE, July 14.—At 10:30 this morning the Larsen monoplane, belonging to the Railway Employees' Association, arrived here from Jasper, Alberta, after a flight of two hours and five minutes. The speed averaged about 126 miles an hour and the machine had a favorable wind all the way. It carried Len Bell, president of the operating company, and one passenger. Major Edwards made a good landing but a tire was blown out by a small stump on the newly cleared ground.

The C. P. R. tourist steamer, Princess Alice, Capt. Ormiston, was in port today from 10:45 to 1 o'clock bound north from Vancouver to southeastern Alaska ports. The steamer had 220 passengers, five of whom departed here, Mr. and Miss Yager, Mrs. Howe and Mrs. J. Russell and son.

Minister Promises Terrace Steel Bridge Will be Built Across Skeena River at Canyon

Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, told the people of Terrace and the Lakelse Valley at a meeting in the Progress Hall at Terrace on Wednesday night that he and his engineer had been there to investigate the question of building a bridge across the Skeena River to connect the Lakelse Valley with the railway and that they had decided to recommend the building of the bridge, subject to the endorsement of his colleagues and the financing of the project. The bridge will be put in at Little Canyon, where surveys have already been made, and will be a steel structure, with concrete piers, costing in the neighborhood of $175,000.

While it was the intention of the department to start work on the bridge as soon as possible, the minister stated, there was yet more engineering to be done. Soundings would have to be taken and the contract let for the building of the piers when the condition of the river was suitable. Following the putting in of piers, the second contract for the building of the bridge structure would be let. Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general, and Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, were present at the meeting where the announcement was made and it is understood the project has their support as well as that of Hon. T. D. Puttallo, minister of lands and member for the district.

Speedy Work on Water Pipe To Serve Cow Bay Fishermen

Governments are noted for being slow to act but now and then there is a government that surprises the people and that is what happened today. It was only about a week ago that Hon. Dr. Sutherland promised the mayor and the president of the Board of Trade that a water main would be laid to serve the fishermen at Cow Bay. Today the pipe arrived and the work will be under way in a few days. That is what is looked on as quick action.

The water pipe is a four inch main 550 feet in length which is to be laid from the corner of Manson Way to the extreme limit of the Georgetown offices where a hydrant will be placed by the city. This will give the fishermen and all the waterfront offices a chance to connect up and get all the water they want.

The pipe was discharged from the Princess Alice this morning. It consists of 31 lengths and fittings and weighs 6,730 pounds.

REUNION OF TWO WAR HEROES THIS MORNING

Sergeant Daly and Corporal Newnam of R. N. W. P. Meet After Eight Years.

Two heroes of the Great War met this morning in Prince Rupert. One was Sergeant Daly, who was on the steamer Princess Alice to Dawson with a detachment of six Mounted Police. The other was Corporal E. G. Newnam, M.M., of Prince Rupert garrison. Both officers joined the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in 1913 on the prairies. Shortly after both went to France to the war. Daly with the Irish Guards and Newnam with the Royal Army Medical Corps. They met in France at Christmas, 1914, and neither had seen the other since until today. Both gained distinction at the front. A happy reunion of old service days thus took place.

Sergeant Daly is in charge of a detachment of Royal Canadian Mounted Police who are going into Dawson to take up police work in the territory. The entire party is from Brandon and the members are, besides Sergeant Daly, Constables Nichols, Berringer, Glewsky, Purdie, Lowry, and Bain.

Imposition of Duty on Fish is Unwarranted Say Owners of Boats

Canadian Order in Council Said to Prohibit Purchase of Bait by Boats not Shipping Through Canadian Port.

SEATTLE, July 15.—The Seattle and Alaska halibut fishing industry which supports approximately 2,000 families in Seattle is threatened with complete destruction, according to the Fishing Vessel Owners' Association with headquarters here. That organization states that the Canadian cabinet has issued an order-in-council prohibiting American fishing boats from buying bait in Canadian waters unless they deliver their catches to Canadian ports.

The new American tariff bill, as adopted by the United States Senate, makes it impossible for American vessels to land their catches in Canadian ports, it was pointed out. Fishermen here say the order-in-council is evidently in retaliation for the duty which the new tariff bill places on halibut or other fresh fish entering the United States from Canada.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE NIGHT SCHOOLS

Scheme Laid Before Board Last Night by J. Pinder-Moss.

A committee consisting of J. C. McLennan, Mrs. Ling, H. Campbell and J. C. Brady was appointed last night to report on a proposal made by J. Pinder-Moss for the establishment of night and continuation classes here and at other points in the district.

Mr. Pinder-Moss outlined the scheme under which the greater part of the cost was borne by the provincial department of education. There were a large number of illiterates who could neither read or write and there were also young boys who had left school but who would benefit from night school work. The percentage that could neither read or write he found was very large. These would have a chance to learn and become of use in the community.

Wasting Time.

There was 16 per cent of the population that never reached the high school. In two pool-rooms in which he had looked he found in one 17 young men around the age of twenty and in another eleven. These boys were wasting their time and getting into bad company and bad habits which it would be difficult later to eradicate.

In addition to the illiterate class, and the mechanic or clerk class consisting of young people who wished to improve their position, there were classes in cultural subjects including dress-making for women. The classes were based on those conducted under the South Kensington Technical Institute and also they covered the work done by the correspondence schools only they gave the advantage of personal contact.

His proposal was to have a central office in Prince Rupert from which the other classes would be administered. The cost to Prince Rupert, he figured, would be $1580 annually. He thought there would be no difficulty in carrying on classes in machine shop work and motor mechanics. The Government paid three-fifths of the cost here and at Anxox four-fifths. Also they put up for fifty per cent of the equipment.

No University Here.

In Vancouver young people had the University but here they had nothing. If they started a good technical institute here it might develop later into a large centre with a school of mines. The Granby Company had guaranteed the expenses at Anxox and he thought Prince Rupert should be sufficiently interested to undertake its share. He suggested that Smithers might also like to come in on the proposal.

The trustees all expressed sympathy with the movement and thanked Mr. Pinder-Moss for presenting his case. The committee will report back to the board at the next meeting.

Buckley Mill And This City.
 The meeting between the heads of the new Buckley company and the Council of the Board of Trade yesterday was one that heartened the members of the board and made them feel that there was one industry at any rate that would be of permanent benefit to the district. The Queen Charlotte Islands have always been of great interest to this city for they are close neighbors. Anything that benefits the islands benefits Prince Rupert.

At the meeting yesterday, F. L. Buckley promised that anything which could be bought locally and he suggested that this city would benefit very materially from the development they were about to commence. While the work would begin gradually it would steadily extend until it became a large industry, and one that was likely to be permanent.

Colonel Baker told the Daily News it was the intention to try to form a permanent settlement on the islands. They wanted the settlers to cultivate the land and grow the produce required by the mill. He saw no reason why there should not be a good town, perhaps a city, at Buckley Bay, for the proposal was to make the industry a permanent one.

All this is good news and will make for the development of the northern country. The Queen Charlottes may look for better transportation, better living conditions, more frequent mails.
 Everything will come with population. In the near future it may be that British immigrants will look to the islands as a mecca for settlement and Massett Inlet will team with life.

More Interest In Lumber Business.
 More interest is being taken in the lumber business in northern British Columbia and there is a feeling everywhere that the lumber industry generally is in for a period of better times.
 Perhaps before long the local mill may be revived and operate.
 Prince Rupert people will all look forward to greater activity at Seal Cove and also to the starting of the planing and shingle mill at the drydock. If it is true that the overhead is too great to make operation of the plant possible, it may be possible to have the overhead reduced to a point where it could be handled.

Coal Development Skidegate Inlet.
 The effort being made to develop a coal prospect at the head of Skidegate Inlet will be watched with great interest here.
 The fact that a dozen men are employed there and that it is possible more will be put on and steady development kept up, seems to augur well for the future.

The one thing needful just now is coal. Everyone wants coal and if this were found in quantities one of the local problems would be solved.

Prevent Shacks On Best Streets.
 There is a very general opinion that the city council has been much too lax in allowing shacks to be erected on the main streets of the city. What is needed is better buildings. If the city is to be improved in appearance and made substantial and permanent in character it will be necessary to insist that no little fire traps be placed between buildings already here.

Fishery Question Being Discussed.
 The question of the halibut fisheries is being discussed a great deal, and naturally it is of great interest to the people of Prince Rupert. At the same time the matter is one for the American government and anything we may say or do will not improve the condition. The action of the Seattle boat owners is in line with the general trend of thought. The attempt to put artificial barriers in the way of the business will tend to make fishing unprofitable and thus destroy the industry.

FRED STORK IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Tells Club a Little of Life in Eastern Canada Including House of Commons

A few sidelights on the life of Eastern Canada and particularly of the House of Commons were given the Rotary Club yesterday by Fred Stork, member for Skeena, in an interesting address at the first local club luncheon he has attended in about six months. He congratulated the Prince Rupert Club on the progress made since he left. He attended luncheons wherever possible while away and learned a good many interesting things.

Work of Commons
 Telling of the work of the House of Commons, the speaker mentioned it was customary to be in the House about nine o'clock each morning in order to spend two hours attending to correspondence. At eleven the committees met and were usually in session until 1. At three o'clock the House met and remained in session until six and then again from eight until sometimes two or three o'clock in the morning. This routine was repeated regularly.

Mr. Stork said he was impressed with the organization of the House and the vast amount of detail which had to be attended to. If correspondence work was neglected, it was difficult to catch up.
 In the House there are all classes and kinds of people. All types were represented there. The average member was a fair speaker but superfluous eloquence was frowned upon. A member could not attempt to talk too much. One who did so usually dropped out. High flowing language was laughed at. The only way a man could shine was by stating his case without frills. Now and then a good thrust or parry was sprung and always received the appreciation of the members.
Case in Point
 Mr. Stork told of one case where a member for Brantford, a Liberal moderate protection member, was twitted by the opposition. A speaker said that he outpriested even the High Priest of protection. The reply came when referring to Balaam being rebuked by the ass, Mr. Raymond said his critic had "outbrayed the rebuker of Balaam."

Telling of the temporary settle- ment of the freight rates ques- tion, Mr. Stork said this was one of the most vital questions before the Parliament this year. The Crow's Nest Pass agreement of which so much was heard was an agreement entered into about 21 years ago between the govern- ment of the day and the C.P.R. The railway company was to build the Crow's Nest Pass Rail- road and guarantee a certain rate on grain from the prairies to the head of the lakes. In return for this the company was given a large tract of land and a cash subsidy. This agreement in re- gard to rate remained in force until three years ago when it was suspended by the late govern- ment. This suspension expired on July 6 of this year and has been renewed for a year conditionally.

Freight Rates
 Mr. Stork said he found the rates question a most compli- cated one, and one to be dealt with by experts. One reason why rates were lower in the East than in the West was that they were based on the American rates already in force. There was also a competitive water haul which was low. Rates, he found, were established without any reference to operating costs. The rate on the prairie was known as an ar- bitrary rate and in B.C., because of the mountains, fifteen per cent was added. No evidence was submitted showing that this should be done, in fact the cost of operating this line in the west was lower than on the prairies. However, the whole matter was given a good airing which should prove beneficial. G. G. McGeer had done good work in the East and was to be congratulated on his success. Already a reduction in rates had been made and there would be further reductions soon. The forty per cent increase which had killed all industries was now felt to have been a mistake. Freight rate changes were due as were also changes in the man- agement of the railroad.
 Telling of a trip he made with other western members to Quebec, Mr. Stork said there was evident stagnation in business. The times were critical and every individual could aid in bringing them back to normal. In Quebec the big shipbuilding plant was closed and immigration sheds almost idle. The whole condition was most depressing.

Different Atmosphere.
 Down in Quebec the visitor found himself in a different atmosphere. There were the solid buildings, the narrow streets, and sidewalks, the monuments.
 It was like a breath of the old world. There were great men in the old days who made a study of the arts and graces and the French-Canadians of today have inherited the traits. They were most courteous, polite and the best possible hosts. He had the pleasure of sitting with them in Parliament and we certainly could take a leaf from the book of the Quebec members. They were so affable and courteous.
 You never heard a Quebecker make a disparaging remark about anyone. It was a most delightful experience to be with men who had a good word for everyone. Mr. Lemieux, the speaker, was one of the greatest monuments in public life.
 In Quebec there were many Rotary Clubs. One of the best of these was in Hull. Rotary, he found, had an influence even in the halls of Parliament.

BRINGING UP FATHER

BONDING FISH AT THIS PORT

Matter Not Yet Settled Declare Fishery Interests of East

ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

Word has been received in the city from fishery interests in the East that there is as yet nothing definitely settled in regard to the bonding of halibut through this port. A telegram received yesterday from Chicago says that the Senate Committee rejected the amendment but that it will again come before the Senate House conference which meets about the middle of next month. It was held up chiefly on account of its being declared unconstitutional.

Other rumors going around are to the effect that a Canadian order in council will be passed refusing to sell ice or bait to any American boats unless they bring their catch to be marketed at a Canadian port.

Says Must Pay

On the other hand an Associated Press dispatch declares the matter is settled and a duty of two cents will have to be paid on all fish not packed in an American port.

The Ketchikan, Alaska, Chronicle has the following:

"Last Friday afternoon the Chronicle received an Associated Press dispatch stating that Senator McCumber had accepted an amendment to the tariff bill offered by Senator Poindexter, providing that a duty of two cents a pound would be placed on all fresh or frozen halibut shipped into the United States and declaring that such duty would apply to these varieties of fish if packed in a foreign port.

"On Sunday, fishermen arriving from Prince Rupert reported that the opposite had been reported at the Canadian port. They also brought in copies of the Prince Rupert Daily News, saying that the Poindexter and Jones amendments had been killed.

"In order to ascertain the truth, the Chronicle telegraphed the Associated Press, asking for a copy of the Poindexter amendment as adopted by the senate. Last night the following was received:

The Amendment

"Washington, D. C., July 10.—The Poindexter fish amendment which was adopted by the senate, reads: "provided, that the fish prepared or packed in a foreign country for shipment and shipped from a foreign country into the United States in a ship of foreign registry or over a railway running through a foreign country shall be subject to the duties prescribed by this paragraph."

"The duties referred to as prescribed by "this paragraph" are "salmon, halibut and sword-fish, two cents per pound; other fish one cent per pound."

"This means that fish prepared for shipment at Prince Rupert must pay the duty of two cents per pound, while that prepared for shipment at Ketchikan and shipped to the east from here in bond by way of Prince Rupert will not have to pay the duty."

MOTORCYCLE TO BE ADDED TO EQUIPMENT CITY POLICE FORCE

Times are not going to be so easy for coppers in the park, suburban second storey men and their speed artists. His Worship suggested to the gentlemen of the police commission last night that a motorcycle be purchased for the city's fly cops and the suggestion was received with open arms. Tenders for machines were opened but it was found that the prices were rather beyond the expectations of the law and justice board so the mayor and the clerk of the board are to seek better quotations.

The plan is to have made, by means of the machine, a suburban round daily. It was felt that, by walking or calling a taxi, much valuable time was lost and almost anything might happen between the time of a call being made and the arrival of the officer on the scene under present conditions. It was the general opinion of the commission that the city was not being sufficiently patrolled now and the purchase of a machine would make it possible to cover ground that was not touched and give protection to all parts of the city.

The tenders were opened and were as follows:

J. Gawthorne-Evan's 70 pound machine, $187.50.

Vancouver Motor and Cycle Co.—Henderson de Luxe, $767; Excelsior, $617; Redding Standard, $642.

Canadian Cycle and Motor Co. (Vancouver)—Evans, $490.

W. H. Morrison (Vancouver)—Indian, $550 and $650.

Fred Deeley (Vancouver)—Harley Davidson, $465 to $540 plus $10 freight.

The prices for the heavy machines were considered too high and the matter was left with the mayor and the city clerk to secure better prices.

VARIOUS MATTERS WERE DISCUSSED LAST NIGHT BY POLICE COMMISSION

The regular monthly meeting of the police commission was held last night in the mayor's office. Besides routine business, there was informal discussion of many matters prominent among which was the alleged bootlegging in the city.

It was claimed that bootlegging was going on under the guise of exporting. Cases of where liquor wrapped in parcels labelled for export to Alaska were consumed locally were pointed out. The mayor felt that the only solution was to have export allowed only by bona-fide transportation companies.

Police Commissioner Macdonald felt that the whole trouble was that people wanted refreshment and the Act was not providing for it when wanted. He felt that bona fide clubs should be allowed beer licenses under proper restrictions.

Commissioner Shackley thought that a lot of people were using whiskey bought illicitly because they could not get beer easily.

The commissioners seemed to share the opinion that the bootleggers were under-selling the government, anyway.

Fines by Installment.

Police Commissioner Macdonald brought up the question of certain women who had been fined being allowed to pay by installments. There had been one case where three months had been allowed to pay a fine, another where it had not all been paid yet. The commissioner declared the monthly installment payment business must stop. Bad characters should pay up at once or stay in jail; otherwise, it was making a joke of the department. The chief should consult with the mayor in regard to such cases.

Commissioner Macdonald was also of the opinion that there was a certain laxity in the patrolling of the city. Officers should not stand on street corners or in cigar stores engaging in lengthy discussions. They should keep on the move.

The chief was instructed to see that instructions regarding the lengthy parking of cars at the head of Comox Avenue were carried out. There had been cases lately where cars had remained there for several hours and, on one occasion at least, all night.

bylaw was also discussed. It was shown by the mayor and the clerk of the board to the satisfaction of Commissioner Macdonald that the commission was usurping no power of the police commission.

The question of 9 hours off weekly for officers was explained by the clerk. It was shown that the police commission in 1920, when Commissioner Macdonald was not on the board, had decided on the plan of one day off a week for each member of the force.

OPINION FROM SOLICITOR REGARDING POSITION OF THE SCHOOL ARCHITECT

The school board demurred somewhat last night at having to pay $25 for an opinion from the city solicitor in regard to their position in relation to the school architect. A written opinion was received stating that the board would be justified in relieving Mr. Potter of his position and notifying him that they held him personally responsible for any loss occasioned by defective work.

The city solicitor quoted a number of cases which would have a bearing on this one where decisions had been given against the architect.

Mr. Hooper's bill for $25 was passed.

WILL PROCEED WITH SCHOOL

Appointment of Superintendent of Work Held up Owing to Apathy of Trustees

That the filing of the formal application of the School Board to the City Council at its recent meeting was quite the proper thing for the council to do, was stated at the School Board meeting last night. The council had already passed a resolution guaranteeing the cost of replacing the school. The work will go ahead just as soon as the architect arrives which will be in about ten days time.

Letter from Mr. Jeffers was read last night in which he said he had received the applications of F. Shaw, George B. Vantuyt, W. E. Thompson, and Fred Lanza for the position of superintendent of the work and recommending the appointment of either Shaw or Vantuyt.

Secretary Vance said they had inquired about these men at the Court House and Mr. McNeill had said he did not remember Shaw but they could make no mistake in appointing Vantuyt.

Trustee McMeekin wanted to appoint George Scott because he was a local man and moved a resolution accordingly to which there was no second.

Mr. Patmore wanted to know if Scott had done any work in brick or hollow tile. That was the question. The architect had recommended Vantuyt and they wanted a man with experience. He would not take a local man just because he was local unless he was the best man. Vantuyt had been recommended to them as an expert to examine the building.

Trustee McLennan thought the architect should have made the appointment. He would hate to place a man there on his own say so.

Mrs. Ling said she knew nothing about it and would not act. Asked by the board, Secretary Vance said Vantuyt wanted $75 a week; Scott $11 a day; Shaw $10 a day; Thompson $8 a day. It was only a few weeks work. The advertisement had been inserted to give local men a chance to apply.

As none of the trustees would second Mr. McMeekin's motion nor would they move that another man be appointed and Mr. Patmore who favored Vantuyt was in the chair, the meeting adjourned without an appointment being made.

33 POUNDS CAVIAR FROM ONE STURGEON

HAMBURG, July 14. — The fishermen of Altenwerder have taken a more lively interest in their occupation since a veteran colleague recently landed a roe sturgeon weighing 147 pounds on which he realized approximately 10,000 marks. The fish was found to contain 33 pounds of caviar which sold at 1,005 marks a pound, while its remaining meat went for 48 marks a pound on the Hamburg market.

The uniforms of some of the police officers are becoming rather worn so the commission last night decided on a new supply of pants. Tunics are still in good shape.

CANADIAN FISH PIRATES BUSY

So Says Alaska Cannerymen: Claim Loss of Over 3,000 Salmon

KETCHIKAN, July 14. — Eigel Buschmann, superintendent of the cannery at Hidden Inlet, reported to Assistant District Attorney A. E. Maltby that two fish-traps near the boundary line have been robbed in the last few days. One of the traps of the Alaska and Pacific Packing Company of which Buschmann is superintendent had its trap robbed of some 800 fish. Another trap of the Alaska Consolidated Cannery Company was robbed of 2,500 to 3,000 fish.

While the identity of the fish-trap robbers has not been definitely established, it is said that they were Canadian seiners, or at least in some boats who after robbing the traps took the fish to the Canadian side for disposal. The United States authorities in port is to spend some time in investigating the reported robberies in the section.

Sport Chat

No sport or play can equal swimming from the standpoint of general development. If the art is correctly indulged in, every muscle, organ and faculty is brought into full play. By "correctly" is meant that there is both a right and a wrong way to swim. For instance, one may acquire a beautiful hand or arm movement and still be very weak in the leg kick—or you may be adept with both arms and legs and still be all wrong in your breathing.

Then again, the timing may be all wrong, the arms making the stroke at the wrong instant to correspond with the foot kick and this tends to impede or is equivalent to making the swimmer carry a double load through the water. Try the strokes slowly, when the question of timing will automatically adjust itself. No general rule can be set down for the reason that there are so many different strokes and to mention them all would only tend to confuse the beginner. He should learn one thing at a time and incidentally stay in the water for a very short time at the start, for fresh water is very weakening, although it is nicer to the taste than sea water and we are all liable at times to get the odd "mouthful." Confidence, determination and a knowledge of a good restful stroke and swimming comes easy.

Lives Lost by Drowning.

Hundreds of lives are annually lost by drowning. A great number of these casualties could be prevented were the art of swimming more generally known and the proper methods of rescue and resuscitation of the apparently drowned better understood and practiced by the public, who from want of this knowledge are frequently deterred from attempting a rescue. In many cases where help has been at hand, and persons were brought to shore apparently drowned, they have subsequently died, whereas if the proper treatment had immediately been put in force, animation might have been restored.

Saving of Life.

On seeing a person struggling in the water, in danger of drowning, the first thing to be remembered is to "Lose No Time." As already stated, the drowning person may sink and not rise again, and in that case it may be very difficult for the rescuer to find the object of his search.

In effecting a rescue it is advisable to remove as much clothing as time will permit. Commence with the boots and heavy garments, which are the chief hindrance to swimming, but use judgment, as a moment's delay may mean the loss of a human life. The first thing to consider is how best to approach anyone in danger of drowning. There is an element of risk from the clutch of a drowning person, unless the rescuer has been properly instructed how to effect a release. Many writers on the subject state that it is sheer madness to approach a drowning person from the front. With some it might lead to disaster, but with a swimmer, who knows the right way to deal with a man struggling in the water, there is no danger. In advocating the approach from the front, it does not necessarily follow that this should be done in every case. Indeed, as a general rule it may be better not to do so, but it is necessary to know what to do if face to face with a drowning person. If a person in distress is approached from the front and grasped firmly when being turned on his back, he will probably give up his struggle and submit quietly, finding himself supported and able to breathe freely.

The rescuer may, through some mistake, find himself seized by the drowning person, who will probably not let go until forced to do so. If this should happen, there must be no hesitation or scruple to use any means necessary to obtain release. One necessary thing for the rescuer to do is to take advantage of his knowledge of the water and keep uppermost at all times. This will be of material assistance as it will weaken the drowning person and make the difficulty of getting away much easier. In carrying a person through the water it will be of much ad-

EFFORT TO SECURE UNIFORM LEGISLATION FOR ALL PROVINCES

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 14.—(By Canadian Press)—The program has been completed for the fifth annual conference of commissioners on the uniformity of legislation in Canada, whose sessions will occupy four days prior to the convention of the Canadian Bar Association here on August 16.

During the first two days the commissioners will meet in Victoria and the final two days in Vancouver.

The commissioners comprise three representatives from each province except Quebec, whose representation is limited to one. The distinction in the case of Quebec is due to the difficulty of harmonizing the French-Canadian law, or Code Napoleon, with those of the English-speaking provinces.

The president of the conference is Sir James Atkins, K.C., lieutenant-governor of Manitoba and president of the Canadian Bar Association.

The conference met for the first time in Montreal on September 3, 1918, the next year in Winnipeg and the ensuing two years in Ottawa.

activities in the central part of the city has made street cleaning during the day exceedingly difficult. Mr. Tallman said "We are trying to do part of the work in the daytime, but conditions in the downtown district are forcing us to carry out our program of work at night. This is not as satisfactory in some ways as day cleaning, however."

A fleet of three sprinklers ply the macadam and block pavement streets, wagon flushers are used on the paved streets where there are no car lines and the trolley sprinklers and flushers are being used on the other paved streets.

BIG CAMPAIGN IS BEING WAGED IN MANITOBA ELECTION

Three Parties All at Variance With Labor Kicking Up a Dust in Cities.

WINNIPEG, July 14.—With the candidate nominated and the campaign waxing hotter every day throughout the province, it is difficult amid the din of political war cries and efforts to stampede to find out exactly how the people of the province really feel about the campaign.

Conservatives are declaring that the Norris Government and Liberal party of the Province is under the thumb of the Mackenzie King administration and this of course they point out would be detrimental to the province.

The United Farmers loudly declare any idea of class domination which the Conservatives also charge against them, and the Liberals under Premier Norris point to the last two sessions and urge further time to carry out their program. Then too there are the Labor candidates in the cities knocking everybody all round and asking for support for their candidates and program.

There is a strong feeling that neither party will get a clear majority but that a coalition will have to be formed or that a government will carry on with tentative support as in the last couple of years.

PROGRESSIVES MAY GRADUALLY MERGE WITH THE LIBERALS

OTTAWA, July 14.—The suggestion that the Liberal Government would at the next session of the House receive considerable support from the Progressives, support of a permanent character, is believed to be a correct summary of the situation, the matter is being much discussed here and it is believed that there will be a merging of the parties when the House meets after the new year.

The Progressives have a policy which is very similar to the Liberal policy. Some of the Conservative papers foreshadowed a breaking up of the Progressive party and others indicate that it will never again be as strong as it is today.

THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE

"I speak four languages," boasted the doorkeeper of a hotel in Rome to a guest, "Italian, French, English and American."

"But English and American are the same," protested the other.

"Not at all," replied the doorkeeper, glancing out at the weather. "If an Englishman should arrive at this moment I should talk like this: 'Oh, I say what shocking weather we're having!' But to an American, I'd remark: 'For the love o' Mike! Some day, ain't it? Guess this is the second flood, all right!'"

GHOST SHOWED PLACE TO DRILL

Dreamland Oil Company Operating in Alberta on Site Indicated

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 13.—Guided by a ghost, the Dreamland Oil Company, better known as "Jamieson's Ghost Company," is now drilling for oil in the Southern Alberta fields and it all happened like this, according to T. J. Jamieson, president and organizer of the company.

The ghost of his father, Hugh Jamieson, a pioneer minister of the West who died some 15 years ago, appeared to him in a dream and informed him of a spot in Southern Alberta where a drill would pierce a vast pool of oil. The wraith of his father used names of towns his son had never heard of and gave him such topographical information that he could not be mistaken. A third member was included in the "dream party" who marked the spot with a small earth mound. This all happened in 1917 and previously to this Mr. Jamieson had never been further south in Alberta than Medicine Hat.

Mr. Jamieson visited southern Alberta later, verified names and towns and identified the spot so vividly marked in his memory.

Later the spirit again visited him and exhorted him for his delay, with the warning that he must speed up if he wished to reap the reward.

As a result a company was formed, several thousand dollars have been placed in the venture and active operations are now under way. The property is situated between Lethbridge and the Pakowki lakes, eastward and at these lakes the Imperial and other interests have acquired leases.
