Vital Future Sea Battles Will be Fought in Airplanes from Ships says Mr. Churchill

LONDON, March 22.—In the House of Commons debate on the air force estimates Right Hon. Winston Churchill defended the need of a separate air ministry. "The vital sea battles of the future," declared Mr. Churchill, "will be fought by airplanes from ships."

Prince Rupert Firm Gets Log Contract to Supply 6,000,000 ft. Ocean Falls

The J. R. Morgan Logging Company of Prince Rupert has closed a contract with the Pacific Mills of Ocean Falls for the taking out of six million feet of pulp timber to be supplied to the mill. The logs will be cut at Surf Inlet, on Princess Royal Island, and the job will keep twenty men engaged all summer.

The carrying out of this contract will mean the opening up of the Morgan camps at Surf Inlet for the first time since the fall of 1920. Two steam donkey engines and one gas donkey will be used.

Speaking of the contract this morning, W. E. Williams, secretary-treasurer of the company, stated that the company could just as easily take out twenty million feet of logs in the same period of time, for they still have three donkeys idle. They have a large outfit to handle such business, but as yet there has been none offered.

The Morgan Company is also trying to get some export log business to Japan. If they are successful trans-Pacific steamers will take the logs either direct from Surf Inlet or via Prince Rupert.

Democracy of Manager Plan.

Municipal government is often so round about and complex that no one but professional municipal politicians, head clerks, etc., who have held municipal positions for years, seemingly know how to do things, says R. F. Armstrong writing further of the plan. This has, in many cases, allowed the municipal machine to come into existence. Under the council-manager form of government everything is so simple, centralized, clear and direct that there is no justification for the calling of the professional municipal politician, and red tape disappears. The council is responsible to the will of the people. The ratepayer knows that this board is directly responsible for the policies adopted and that the manager is responsible to this board for efficient administration of these policies. Can responsibilities be so directly indicated in any other form of control? With a clear understanding as to who is responsible for the work undertaken, with the manager directly responsible to the council, and the council to the electors, is there any other form of government more democratic, or that can be more easily and effectively applied or administered?

W. G. Lee, national president Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, says: "I have personally investigated how the city manager plan has worked out in Dayton. I can not see how any working man can oppose the plan after investigating it."

The city manager, as chief executive, appoints, directs and removes the administrative staff. In this connection the council usually acts in an advisory capacity. At a meeting of the council he is in a position to supply them with full details concerning the administration, and his experience, training and recommendations should be of great assistance to the commission in deciding their general policies. In fact, there should be a mutual confidence and understanding between the council and the manager, so that both may function closely together in the interests of the city.

Like the manager of any private business he must be absolutely trustworthy and reliable. He is not usually a local man. In fact, it is much better to get an outside man, who will therefore be independent and who is making the work a life's profession. He should have a good business training, should be a good organizer, with experience and training along the particular lines he is to administer.

Argument Against Council-Manager Plan.

The first argument usually advanced is that the plan is not democratic. This argument we have already dealt with. The boast is made by the supporters of the council-manager system that it is really more democratic than any other system. Democracy does not consist of the number of representatives, but should consist in the amount of control for efficient results.

The second argument is that if the manager is responsible to the council, that such a manager will be appointed who will obey the commands as to detail, and therefore you will have no improvement over other forms of control. There is always the isolated chance that such will be the case, but the responsibilities in this system are so directly indicated that there is not the opportunity of deception as afforded in many other systems. Then, too, the great majority of city managers realize that this is their life's work; are usually members of the City Managers' Association and of the National Municipal League, which organizations tend to foster honest and efficient government.

Another argument is that men of the proper type, with proper training, can not be obtained. Over two hundred cities and towns have obtained satisfactory managers, when there was but little opportunity for experience being obtained in this particular line, while now there are men who have made good as assistant managers in large centres and as managers of smaller towns, etc., so that the ranks to be drawn upon are continually increasing. Great care, however, should be exercised in the choice of this man, especially when the system is being newly organized and before the ratepayers have been shown how feasible the plan is.

Another argument is that politics must be played in the executive end of municipal administration. A proper demonstration of the working of the city manager plan will show that when all parties realize that there is no political patronage, but a fair treatment to all, then it is that they find out that equal treatment at all times is preferable to special consideration only when friends are in command.

Another statement put forward is that given good men you will always get good government. This is true so far as honesty is concerned, but just as a good workman can only with difficulty obtain results with poor tools, so it is difficult for good men to obtain good results under a clumsy administrative system. Under the manager plan, too, it is much easier to obtain strong men to act on the board.

In the Letter Box

TODAY'S GREAT TRIAL.

Editor Daily News:

Almost everyone is struggling for the better qualities of life. The protest against inhumanity has been, and still is, the vital concern of civilization. Upon it two phases of the mind differ in opinion, right and hope of salvation.

We cannot speak of any fixed status of existence in the manner of master and slave or in the impersonal group, term of capital and labor for a review of our own experience will refute that theory.

We are materially governed by the scrip of common wealth. We accept this scrip at purchasing value. This value can be used with such inhuman purchasing force that man-power becomes degraded or rises in revolt.

To encourage and possess the human frame of mind is of greater importance than ever for we have tried and learned to procure the better qualities of life with inhuman ruthlessness both in peace and war.

We may be divided against ourselves as the world stands divided today in the trial of "Humanity vs. Inhumanity." It is everyone's serious concern and an appeal to reason.

It is very hard to determine what is human and what is inhuman. Conceding that our prospects of life are complex and considering that money is the distorting technicality of our case, the great trial of "Humanity vs. Inhumanity" is the trial of the two phases of our mind.

ALL CANNERIES WILL OPERATE

Vast Improvement Over Last Year is Looked for by Owners of Plants

VICTORIA, March 22.—Apart from the Fraser River plants practically all the British Columbia salmon canneries will be working this year, it is anticipated. Cannermen, while not too sanguine of the outlook, look for a vast improvement over the condition of last year, the worst on record. A better run itself is confidently expected, costs of packing are lower, and the market, with the accumulated stocks of low grade fish that gave so much concern last year disposed of, is promising. Supplies are now going north by every steamer, and a busy season is in prospect.

Skeena river plants commence active operations about the end of May, while further south, in Rivers Inlet and vicinity, the run commences about the end of June. As for the Fraser, little thought is now given that stream by the packers. Two canneries operated on the river last summer, but their pack has given no encouragement to others of the idle plants on the Fraser to open up this year. There is small hope among them that the once mighty sockeye stream will ever regain its feet from a commercial standpoint.

MEN ARRIVING BUT NO WORK

Men are constantly arriving here from outside points but there is no work for them to do in this neighborhood, according to J. M. Campbell of the provincial government employment office. Men seem to be beating their way in from the east and some are coming from the south with the result that there is more unemployment here now than there was two months ago.

There is a prospect that Kelly's logging camp may be opening up soon on the islands where it is expected 100 men will be employed this summer. There is as yet however, no word in regard to the Buckley Bay mill but news is expected soon. It is probable nothing will be done there until well on in April.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

March 22, 1912
Joe Bayley and Pat Scott boxed to a draw last night in the eleventh bout ever staged in Prince Rupert. Nelson Dunn was referee. Two Prince Rupert boys, Custer Solem and John Sherman, appeared in the preliminaries. The event was staged in the Westholme Theatre.

William Manson and his supporters take objection to the petition sent to Ottawa by local gas boat men protesting the use of government vessels in campaign trips.

A new power boat "Port Essington" made its appearance in the harbor today. It is to be used in the ferry service between Prince Rupert and Port Essington. John T. Adams, of Port Essington, is the owner.

J. M. Johnstone sustained serious injuries to his shoulder last week while throwing a coil. It will probably be a couple of months before he will be able to use his arm again.

SHINGLE AND PLANING MILL ANNOUNCEMENT

Name of Purchaser Still Held Back but Statement Before Very Long.

J. R. Morgan, who returned Monday from a visit to Vancouver, saw the liquidator of the Charlottetown Shingle Products Limited and enquired as to the reported sale of the local shingle and planing mill. He was told that there was a tentative deal but the names of the purchasers had not yet been revealed. It will be yet a week or more before the deal is closed.

The liquidator said he felt confident the deal would be completed and the new purchasers will operate the mill. Mr. Morgan also received assurances that the pulp mill project would go ahead but financial arrangements have not yet been completed and no definite announcement can yet be made.

The presentation, which was on behalf of all the officers and men of the ship, was made by Capt. W. S. Moore, who wished Mr. Woods all success and the best of luck in his new capacity. The recipient suitably replied.

HEARTBURN

A SEVERE CASE

Many people are troubled with heartburn who really do not realize just what it is. In cases of this trouble there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by disturbed appetite. It is generally caused by great acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, is liable to ferment, and becomes extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter.

The one way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles such as constipation, jaundice, water brash, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath, etc.

Miss Edith Cutting, Shallow Lake, Ont., writes:—I have had heartburn for a long time. There were gnawing and burning pains in my stomach, and then when I vomited there was a sour and bitter taste. I used two vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of my heartburn. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine.

Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DIAMOND DRILLING AT COPPER RIVER IS PLAN OF LIQUIDATOR

Immense Quantity of Coal in Sight at Property.

VANCOUVER, Mar. 22.—Extensive development work of coal properties on the Copper River is contemplated by the liquidator of the defunct National Finance Co., Limited. Application has been made to Mr. Justice Murphy for leave to proceed with borings by diamond drilling. His lordship withheld consent pending approval of the creditors.

A. E. Bull, who appeared for the liquidator, the Yorkshire and Canadian Trust Limited, stated surveys had been completed by several engineers and actual coal in sight on the Copper River was 15,000,000 tons. Areas adjoining this to the west were believed to be rich in coal and the supply estimated was from 300,000,000 to 500,000,000 tons. Last year A. G. Garde, mining engineer of Prince Rupert and Vancouver, took an option on the property, the purchase price being $500,000.

Creditors representing claims aggregating $164,000 out of a total of $363,000 were in favor of proceeding with diamond drilling, said Mr. Bull. Two bidders are to be sunk and will cost $18,000. The company has reduced its liabilities to the extent of $2,000,000 by adjustments and settlements, explained counsel. The liquidator had $40,000 cash in the bank. Other creditors resided in Eastern Canada and the Old Country and took little interest in the affairs of the liquidation. The Union Bank had a claim of $64,000, of which $20,000 was secured.

The National Finance went under in 1914 as the result of depreciation of its holding locally.

Mr. Justice Murphy declined to sanction the expenditure for drilling work unless the remaining creditors were notified.

The matter was then adjourned two weeks.

TUG BERMUDA AT SWANSON BAY FOR SEASON'S SERVICE

The tug boat Bermuda arrived at Swanson Bay last week with the barge Princess Louise in tow loaded with sulphur for the pulp plant. The Bermuda will remain in the north for the season as she will be used to tow the car ferry between Swanson Bay and Prince Rupert.

DR. HALL'S FRIENDS RALLY TO HIS AID

Meeting Held Monday Night—Many Cheques Received for Cause.

VICTORIA, March 22.—The friends of Commissioners Hall and North are rallying to their aid and cheques are being received every day by the doctor to aid him in fighting the suits which have been brought against him for slander. The final act of the prosecution in putting bailiffs in the house has had the effect of rousing popular sympathy with a man who has given a great deal of his life to fighting the battles of the poor and carrying on a continuous campaign for better civic conditions.

The cheques and donations vary in size up to $100 and some of them come from the most surprising sources. There was a meeting here Monday night at which action was taken to raise funds to fight the cases and defray the costs.

OIL IS FOUND NEAR LETHBRIDGE, ALTA.

LETHBRIDGE, Mar. 22.—There is considerable excitement here over the oil prospects. Last week oil was struck at Kevin, Montana, 18 miles south of the boundary, and the well gives promise of being a good producer. The well is capped and further drilling in the neighborhood is in progress.

There is much fling on oil leases here in the Dominion lands office.

Steady improvements are being made to the mine equipment. The warehouse near the head of the tramline is completed and the new assay office is ready for use and will be occupied very soon.

Work on the dam for the power plant is about completed and efforts are now being concentrated on the flume and pipe line.

EDMONTON TO SPEND MONEY

Number of Bylaws Being Prepared for Submission to the Ratepayers.

EDMONTON, March 22.—Bylaws to be considered by the city council at the next meeting for submission to the ratepayers include expenditure of $75,000 for power house equipment, $250,000 for telephone extension $20,000 for travelling Alberta Avenue, $12,000 for comfort stations and $150,000 for new isolation hospital.

The original recommendation for power house equipment as submitted to the council by the commissioners and was approved called for an expenditure of $145,000 but since then the commissioners have reduced this amount to $75,000. Water feed for condensers and new mechanical stokers for the power house are included in this estimate.

The new isolation hospital which it is proposed to build this year at a cost of $145,000 will have 125 beds. The original estimates were for $225,000 but Commissioner Yorath states that this amount is far too large an expenditure for an institution of that kind and is of the opinion that it could be built for $150,000 or less.

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID

About the sanitary condition of the power laundry output. It may be of interest to note that Dr. Ira S. Wile writing in the Medical News, New York, concludes a discussion of laundry hygiene by saying that in the power laundry process "exposure to heat and the usual washing reagents along with mechanical agitation, destroys the hardiest bacteria" and that "Laundering appears to be an efficient hygienic method of promoting cleanliness without danger to patrons or employees. This cannot be said of the hand laundry."

The old bugbear of contamination has been exploded. Expert investigation has failed to find and disease producing germs (pathogens) where clothing has been exposed to a temperature of 180 degrees fahr, or where they have been washed at a temperature as low as 104 degrees fahr., using soap liberally.

These precautions are all observed in our process. You can safely trust us with your washing problems. We will return your clothing CLEAN, SANITARY and UNHARMED by injurious chemicals.

These Eternal Meals

"WHAT to get for dinner?" "What to get for supper?" To-day, to-morrow, next day, every day in the week.

This is woman's problem and the source of almost endless worry.

True, there are times when most women take a pleasure and pride in cooking and baking, but when you are not feeling up to the mark it does get on your nerves and become a real worry—a nerve-exhausting worry.

Since meals are essential to life, the old problem of "what to eat" must endure, but need not be a worry when your nerves are set right.

It is when you are tired—nerve tired—that such things become a source of worry. There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to combat this condition.

It is because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is such a help under these very conditions that it has come to be relied upon by the great majority of Canadian women. Headaches, sleeplessness, tired, depressed feelings, lack of energy are some of the accompanying symptoms.

You can obtain Dr. Chase's Nerve Food from your dealer at 50 cents a box.

EASTERN RAMP AT COW BAY IS NOW BEING TORN DOWN

The tearing down of the east ramp leading from Manson Way to the waterfront at Cow Bay is now well under way and all traffic going that way is being diverted to the new roadway and the level crossing. Several men are engaged on the work, which is being carried out by the provincial government as a part of the general scheme for the improvement of the Cow Bay roadways. The tearing down of the western ramp will not take place until after the proposed road along the railway track from the level crossing to McBride Street is finished.

CALLED UPON TO DEFEND FEATHERWEIGHT

JOHNNY KILBANE,
AMERICAN
CHAMPION

There is a new plot on to decoy Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, into the ring. Three sports promoters, loose with either money or conversation, have agreed to raise a pool of $50,000 for a match between Kilbane and a youngster by the name of Kid Sullivan. It has become a habit of late to offer large sums to get Kilbane into the ring with a live one, but the featherweight champion is playing it safe.

PIPE DREAMS

By Newton Pullen

THE ARBITRARY TAILOR.

Sometimes, spurred by some further outrage, I rail aloud against clothing fashions that bully me and hold me helpless and indignant, a slave to moral weakness that permits me only to raise a feeble outcry but prevents me actually rebelling.

On this occasion I have before me a newspaper dispatch from New York in which it is stated that "this year's fashionable gentleman will be one of masterful physique." I see that tweeds are the thing, and that sports logs hold the floor.

The corner of that phrase, "Clothes don't make the man," could have at least truthfully admitted that they mould him, and while a poet once wrote that there is a destiny which shapes our ends, I might add that the tailor looks after what lies between.

One season we find the fashionable man squeezed into a cloth prison that has the compressive power of corsets without their resiliency. The next season he may have something in roomy tweeds. This year, it appears, we are going to do our lounge lizards out as men of the outdoors. Shoulders will be faked and muscle may be just a matter of "cut."

Why Submit?

I ask you why the tailors should be allowed to toy with our frames in this manner. Why must we submit to discomfort at their bidding? We British people are supposed to guard our personal liberties jealously and I notice that we fight various attempts to curtail them, and yet the clothing designer leads us figuratively around by the ear and we protest not at all.

The trouble is that no one average man feels any desire to battle against the fashions by himself. He would rather swim with the tide; he would prefer to have his original geography altered and distorted by those who go as far as they dare with him without actually creating insurgency. What is needed is a "Union for the Defence of Tailors," each member of which would have the support of all others and would feel himself capable of standing up and declaring his intention of garbing himself according to his own dictates, and securing the mandates of the architect in cloth.

Subsidiary to the Union for the D. of T. could be another body known as the "League for the Abolition of Hard Collars and Ridiculous Ties." I would like to be given the secretaryship of the league in order that I might have the privilege of dictating letters on the subject of collars

The Lepine Cup, donated by Ralph V. G. Lepine, for the scratch billiard tournament now in progress at the Elks' Home is a handsome sterling silver trophy. It is now on exhibition in the Home and is occasioning a good deal of complimentary comment. The rules for its play are as follows:

Games are to be 200 points.
The winner of the trophy for the year to be the player who makes the largest total points.
To win the trophy outright it must be won two years, not necessarily consecutive.

The tournament to be played in February each year until the trophy is won outright.

All games must be played in the Elks' home.

In the event of a dispute the donor's decision will be final.

Each member entering must pay with each and every other entry.

Entries to be made each year between February 1 and February 15.

The schedule to be drawn up by the committee appointed by the donor.

In the event of any entry dropping out before the tournament is completed, all scores made by him to be deleted.

VANDERHOOF BUTTER GETS REDUCTION IN FREIGHT TO RUPERT

As a result of the efforts made recently by George H. Outram, manager of the Nechako Valley Co-operative Creamery Association, to secure a reduction of freight rates on the Canadian National Railway for butter from Vanderhoof to Prince Rupert, a cut on the rate per hundred pounds from $1.58 to $1.37 has been secured. The rate from Edmonton to Prince Rupert is $1.48. GIRL SLAVERY IN HONG KONG

Viscountess Gladstone Tells of System by Which Little Chinese Girls Are Sold.

Is the adoption of little girls in Hong Kong under the system known as "Mui Tsai" merely adoption, or is it really slavery, and something worse, with a pretty name? asks Viscountess Gladstone, in an article in the Manchester Guardian on "Mui Tsai, Adoption or Slavery."

As long ago as 1880 the Chief Justice of Hong Kong, Sir John Small, in a formal judgment, declared that Mui Tsai was slavery, and a violation of English law; yet for forty years it has continued unchecked under the British flag in a British colony. Briefly, Mui Tsai is an established system for the sale of little girls, by the aid of agents, for domestic and "other" purposes. Facts are coming to light, and there is a growing demand for an inquiry into the whole question. It was debated a few months ago at a public meeting held in Hong Kong, and it is evident from the press reports that the Chinese themselves are very uneasy, and that many of them would welcome a reform of the existing conditions. Indeed, extracts from the speeches of those who were defending the practice furnish the best arguments for its abolition.

Prices Paid.
Girls are generally bought at ages ranging from four to thirteen. Prices vary between $10 and $15 for every year of her age.

There are two distinct classes of people who buy young girls and keep them; one class buy and keep servant girls for domestic service, and the other for prostitution.

Young girls sold for domestic service cannot be made to pro-

The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under the Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the great war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

titae themselves without their own consent and that of their parents.

Those who buy and keep girls for prostitution generally make special arrangements with the girls' parents and pay a higher price for them.

These are the admitted facts. Every day in Hong Kong little girls are bought and sold. Sometimes the children are kept as domestic drudges; sometimes they are resold for prostitution; sometimes they become the concubines of the buyers. In the recognized form of contract between the parents and the buyer, onerous clauses occur such as "to be disposed of as the payer thinks fit" and "no inquiry of her whereabouts or in the event of her death is permitted."

50,000 Slaves.

What can be said in favor of allowing a state of things like this to continue? It is estimated that the number of these slave children, deprived of their liberty and forced to work without wages, amount to about 50,000. Can such a system be tolerated in a British colony? The official attitude bears a sinister and striking resemblance to the old arguments that were used to defend slavery. For example, it is said that the parents are so poor that if they were not allowed to sell their baby girls they would drown them; that in any case those who "adopt" them give them far better homes than the parents could provide; that cases of cruelty are rare, can be and have been punished by law—and so forth.

The final argument is that the enlightened Chinese, who have lately formed a society for the protection of the Mui Tsai, would resent any further action being taken. One may be permitted to wonder what degree of enlightenment it can be that allows the enlightened to support a system that is open to such terrible abuses. That there are truly enlightened Chinese in Hong Kong is clear from the fact that the Society for the Suppression of Mui Tsai has lately been formed. They base their objections to this so-called "adoption" on the grounds that it is injurious to public morality, subversive of righteousness, injurious to national prestige, and economically unsound.

Domestic Customs.

That the suppression of the Mui Tsai would necessitate a change in the domestic arrangements of the Chinese is not to be denied. Already there are many families where domestic servants are engaged and paid wages in the ordinary way. If Mui Tsai were abolished there seems no reason why this should not become the rule instead of the exception.

It cannot be that the freedom-loving British, with their proud boast that under the Union Jack liberty and justice are ever to be found, will allow a state of things to continue which lays us open to the charge of countenancing slavery within the Empire.

ALICE ARM.

Word has been received that the Homestake Mining Co. intends to spend $36,000 in development work on its property in the Kootenai Valley this season. A compressor and machinery is ready in Vancouver to be shipped north.

George Matheson and A. D. York have been repairing the government telegraph line between here and Anyox.

It is understood that any work the Taylor Mining Co. may do in the district this summer will be concentrated on the development of the Wolf mine. No ore will be shipped from the Dolly Varden.

Rev. J. B. Gibson, of Anyox, held divine service here last evening. The Anglican Church has just undergone considerable repairs and cleaning.

NEWSPAPERMEN ARE MEMBERS OF LEARNED PROFESSION IS RULING

Newspaper men and newspaper women are members of a "learned profession." This has been decided by the authority of the United States Government.

The American Federal authorities' announcement in this connection will serve to settle a long-standing question and definitely fix the status of the great body of men and women who write and edit the daily newspapers. For years there has been confusion as to the newspaper man's status but the new decision by the United States Government authorities should end all this.

All uncertainty is now happily resolved, notes The Christian Science Monitor, of Boston. The other day a newspaper man, native of England, resident for years in Canada, left the Dominion for the United States, there to pursue his occupation. Late at night he was roused from his berth by a courteous but determined immigration officer, who told him he must leave the train. Protests proving of no avail, the newspaper man obeyed, and later submitted himself to further examination by a "board."

He was quizzed as to his antecedents, his occupation, the number of years he had followed it, which were many, the conditions under which he purposed going to the United States, the extent of his resources, the size of his family.

At last it developed that the official, were trying to determine whether the newspaper man fell under the ban of the law which prohibits bringing labor into this country under contract. The issue, proving too big for determination by the officials at the border, was referred at last to the American immigration authorities at Washington and after some delay came the decision:

"We find that a newspaper man is a member of a learned profession, and as such is not subject to the provisions of the contract labor law."
