Iron Industry Is Being Investigated at Ottawa.

Realizing that Canada has been paying annually millions of dollars for steel products purchased in the United States and that steel plants in the interior of Canada have been dependent upon the United States for their supplies of iron ores, the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research at Ottawa has been investigating the native iron ore resources and has received reports from its committees that it is time to undertake the special treatment required by Canadian ores to fit them for commercial reduction to pig iron. It is hoped thereby to establish a new and important home industry.

Of Particular Interest Here.

The work of the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research in its efforts towards exploiting the iron and steel industry is of especial interest to the Pacific Coast and to this district of Prince Rupert especially. The council doubtless knows, as a result of its investigations, that here on this coast are located all the requisites to the iron and steel industry strategically situated close to Prince Rupert as the site of the proposed smelter and refinery that would be needed in making steel. Nor does the difficulty exist here that does in some parts of Canada—the necessity of importing raw materials from long distances or even from the United States. The council might be a good body to take this matter up with.

False and Real Economies.

Being penny wise and pound foolish is a danger which all governments are likely to fall into these days. The will to economize must necessarily be ruthless and, if ministers stop to temporize and wonder whether this luxury or that little comfort is not really necessary and therefore to be retained, we are liable to remain disastrously extravagant. Nevertheless there are false economies which should always be guarded against and there are some new expenditures which really should rank in the class of economies. For example, anything that will discover for us ways of producing more wealth from our native materials at a less cost is a very real economy indeed. Therefore, while the general effort to curtail expenditures must be kept in view, it would be well to have some expenditure made on further following up the iron and steel industry as it promises on this coast.

Provincial Government Also Realizes.

The fact that there are great possibilities as regards the establishment of the iron and steel industry on this coast is recognized in the annual report of the provincial minister of mines, which has just made its appearance. Hon. Mr. Sloan, it is well known, is alive to the question and he has already made some rather strong declarations on the question, suggesting once that if private enterprise was not ready to take over the business the government might consider doing so. Mr. Sloan, so far as known, has not expressed himself publicly as to location. He undoubtedly would want to make further investigation before doing so. However, the industry is still in the embryo form, but the promise is great and it would be well for Prince Rupert to keep pressing its claim on the powers that be. The establishment of the industry here should not be lost for lack of energy of the citizens of the north. All must realize what it would mean to the entire northern and central section of the province.

The first boat to sail for up river this season was the Inlander, at 1 o'clock today. She had a full complement of passengers and freight and expects to go right through to Hazelton. The water in the river is three feet three inches at the canyon and still rising.

The Omineca, Captain Jackman, will sail tomorrow without freight for Hazelton. The Omineca will remain in the upper river and continue in the ferry service there.

It is expected that Hudson's Bay steamer Port Simpson will make one trip to Hazelton before going to the Stikine.

STRAP HANGING MAY CONTINUE IN THE OLD COUNTRY

PRESENT SESSION LIKELY TO LAST WELL INTO JUNE

Much Business, Some of It Contentious, for House Before Prorogation.

OTTAWA, April 27.—An early prorogation is not probable. In some quarters it is believed the session will run well into June.

Apart from supply, the budget and other matters of a somewhat routine character, there are two outstanding matters to be dealt with, each of them full of bones of contention—the railway rates question and the wheat board plan. Of the first mentioned, the House knows much already, many experts being loaded with information.

The Rates Question.

The proposal of having the rates question referred to a special committee will be criticized on the ground that the government itself should initiate a policy. The other side of the question is that it is a matter of amending the Railway Act, which normally is a subject of investigation by a committee. Unless some compromise is reached between those who favor a middle course in rate reduction and those who will be satisfied only with the Crow's Nest Pass schedule, the prospects are for a long discussion in committee and in the House.

Wheat Board Project.

The agricultural committee will not report upon the wheat board project until it knows the extent of parliamentary powers. Meanwhile, a good deal of opposition is accumulating. With the western farmers insisting upon a board with absolute powers and the certainty that, if this is attempted, injunction proceedings will follow, the outcome is not likely to be satisfactory unless some compromise, seemingly repugnant to the West, is agreed to.

The sessional horoscope is full of interesting possibilities, with no sign of an early ending.

MILLIONS IN LOOT FOR BLACKMAILERS

Detective Burns Says Extortion of Wealthy Is Major Crime of America.

NEW YORK, April 26.—More than $3,000,000 a year is being extorted from wealthy New Yorkers by a national "blackmail trust," according to W. Sherman Burns of the Burns Detective Agency.

Men of national prominence are being victimized. The "trust" is operating all over the United States and its annual total loot is "simply appalling."

Burns asserts that the amount of money obtained by blackmailers almost equals the annual harvest of all the highwaymen, burglars, pickpockets, train robbers and pistol bandits in America combined.

Big Crime of Today.

"Blackmail is the big crime in America today," said Burns. "The facts of these cases are not published; the police hear of scarcely ten per cent. of them."

"A list of only the more recent victims would contain many names of national prominence; its publication would create one of the greatest sensations this country has ever known."

"More blackmailing is going on today than at any time in my knowledge, and it is not safe for a man or woman of wealth to make a chance acquaintance in any of our large cities. The most innocent meetings may be made the basis for demands for great sums of money."

"Almost as much money is being extorted through blackmail as is being lost through thievery. The amount that is daily wrung from the pockets of victims in this country is simply appalling."

Nervous Breakdown Couldn't Sleep Nights.

To those on the verge of a nervous breakdown the following symptoms present themselves: nervous headaches, a feeling of depression, fitful, disturbed, restless and unrefreshing sleep, often troubled with frightful dreams, avoidance of crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected, too, and on the first signs of any weakness of the heart or nerves, haggard energy or physical breakdown do not wait until your case becomes hopeless, but get a remedy that will at once quieten the nerves, strengthen the heart and build up the entire system.

HEART AND NERVE PILLS
Mrs. M. Damand, Young's Cove Road, N. B., writes: "I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves; had nervous headaches and dizziness, could not sleep at nights, and my appetite was all gone. I was on a nervous breakdown when a neighbor told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This I did, and before I had the second box used I was better and would advise anyone who has nerve trouble to take them."

How to Grow New Skin!

Nothing is more wonderful than the human skin. It breathes through tiny mouths called pores. If it is kept whole and strong it improves the entire bodily health.

Those who know most about the complex structure of the skin appreciate the care that must be taken in deciding what is the safest, purest and best dressing to apply in time of accident or disease.

Much scientific thought and experiment was expended in the search for an ideal natural healing substance, but it has actually been found at last, in Nature's own storehouse of medicinal herbs.

Never in the world's history has there been another preparation like zam-buk. Amongst other virtues, it possesses that rare quality of actually growing new skin in Nature's own way.

A MIRACLE BEFORE YOUR EYES.

Healing the injured and diseased tissues by this precious herbal balm is a miracle that may be performed before your own eyes. Children remember zam-buk best for its great power in soothing and healing their hurts, whilst chronic sores, ulcers and poisoned sores, zam-buk powerfully antiseptic and tissue-building properties ensure success; again, many thousands have zam-buk alone to thank for their complete release from torturing piles.

Differing fundamentally and in action from all ordinary ointments, zam-buk is free from animal fats and mineral compounds. It is highly refined and contains no ingredient which the skin cannot readily absorb. A fifty-cent box of zam-buk may save you dollars in doctors' bills. It is a unique preparation with a wonderfully wide range of usefulness.

SCHOOL GROUND FLOOR.

Editor Daily News:—
Allow me space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks concerning Mr. Cox's report in the part relating to masonry and concrete in the Booth Memorial School.

As reported by the local papers he states: "The stone walls of the ground floor in which the material used was local rock was formed of poor material for carrying the load imposed upon it."

In dealing with this particular item I wish to call the attention of the public to the use made of local rock in our city since its inception—the Bank of Montreal, the two stores occupied by the Liquor Control Board on Fraser Street, the Beckwith and the Killas building on Third Avenue, the Acropolis reservoir, the foundation of the City Hall, etc. No matter what any experts from Vancouver or any other place may say, as a man that has handled nothing but rock in other parts of the world, which I can prove with first class references from British and American engineers, I will venture the statement that our local sound rock can make as first class material when used both for concrete or masonry.

Does Not Understand.

The expert's report in dealing with the most vital part of the building, namely, the main corridor wall scarring the entire weight of the concrete slabs and beams, where practically the entire internal structure is resting and the balance of the building is anchored, he states that they are "in fairly good condition."

In speaking of walls as reported in the News, he authoritatively says: "The concrete carrying the front entrance vestibule was badly mixed and large rocks were evident." There the Vancouver expert proved with his own words that he has yet failed to understand the nature of the construction and method used in erecting the basement walls of the Booth School. I will, therefore, try to clear this point, particularly for the general public which is not composed of building experts.

Cement Hand Mixed.

The whole of the cement was hand mixed, by the best kind of labor paid at the rate of $6.00 per day. The masonry, including the walls that support the main entrance vestibule which the expert calls "concrete" and in which he tells us that rocks are evident, was all built by experienced first class stone masons, paid at the rate of $10.00 per day, piece by piece, row after row. The stones, as big as a man can lift, were hand laid in the form; a sufficient quantity of cement mortar was spread over them to ensure as perfect a concrete face as possible, by carefully working the trowel between the face of the rock and the form, thus obtaining a concrete appearance when the forms are stripped. This process generally covers the height of one or two eight inches slip-lap. In places the stone will show on the surface but not sufficiently so as to give, even to a trained eye, the impression that one is facing common concrete as in the case of the Vancouver expert while it is nothing but plain masonry built in a form.

The elevation of the Beckwith and Killas buildings on Third Avenue are standing evidences of such method of construction.

The best French engineer pronounced it superior to common concrete, this due to the fact that the interlocking rows of rock bound by cement mortar are superior to the crushed rock which in plain concrete are bound solely by the cementing process; to illustrate, a dry stone will stand if well built; a pile of the same stone crushed can only be a pile.

Proven Its Worth.

In relation to the concrete slabs, I will state a few facts. Steen & Longwill had piled in a single spot at the south end of the corridor floor all the pipes used in the building, how many tons I do not know. There they laid for months, in spite of my refusal to assume any responsibility in case of damage due to the crushing weight. The heavy still beams used in the assembly hall were dragged first to the main entrance, then up on the top of the reinforced concrete beam constituting the main support of the central entrance stairway. There they laid in a bunch. Tiles were stacked on the slabs, three and four fully loaded wheel barrows, plowed on the corridor floors for months. The building was occupied for several months. There has been public gatherings, particularly in the assembly hall, to full capacity. Hundreds of people have been several times walking up and down those corridor floors and main stairway, which bear all on the slab and reinforced concrete beams. The expert surely knows that a travelling crowd is the maximum test that can be imposed upon any concrete floor. Did he mention any sign of weaknesses on such slabs and beams after repeated tests? No, and I am positive nobody ever will, for the resisting power of these slabs and beams will always leave a margin of safety.

Qualified Opinion.

To further satisfy the general public that I am qualified to express such an opinion, I will state that I was concrete foreman on the biggest building at Ocean Falls; references can testify this, and so can Ald. Montgomery. The architect in charge there recommended to me to have particular care in pouring the concrete slabs for he said his minimum estimated pressure on those floors was 180 lbs. per sq. foot. (I may incidentally state that there we poured up to 400 yards of concrete per day.) Pieces of machinery weighing up to 20 tons were dragged on those floors; no sign of weakness was shown any place. I beg to state that those floors are four inches thick and the steel reinforcing was 3/4 inch round type set a foot apart. The concrete slab of the Booth School is six inches thick. The reinforcing is half-inch square steel and it is set eight inches apart. Therefore, a strength between extra thickness and superior steel is fully 30 per cent. To prove with a demonstrating illustration that the cement work at the Booth School is of high standard, I will cite a fact that can satisfy anyone; the two ton dumping truck of the Broaden Transfer goes over the coal bin loaded with 2 1/2 tons of coal and dumps its load through the two man-holes. This he repeats probably ten times in one day. There we have a live weight of four tons and a half concentrated on a few square feet spreading on the crushing pressure, surely over two hundred pounds per square foot. I think this can be considered a fair test. I wish also to mention that the man-holes right where the back wheels of the truck stop are a weakness to the slab. I will also state that a more crushing weight could safely be imposed upon that floor.

Did the expert base his judgment on such facts? No, he comes out with the misleading statement that sand went down his sleeves when passing his hand through a hole made in the concrete slab. Can the average intelligent person conceive an opening made on a concrete slab without pulverized concrete laying about? No, no more than he can conceive sawing wood without saw dust. The massive strong and imposing basement of the Booth Memorial School with its ramification of walls could easily support three more stories of similar construction, reduced at first to sixteen, then to fourteen and twelve inches respectively. The weight of these three new stories would far exceed the light hollow tiles and brick veneer now existing, that the expert calls both the load imposed and a mere shell.

No Danger of Sliding.

Regarding the fear of the building sliding, I fail to see where there is such danger. I do not know of any walls built on side slope. The slopes are gradual and of no length necessitating benching. In my judgment the differences of level do not alter the stability of the building, when compensated by extra thickness, as I know it is there.

Experience tells cement men that water is beneficial to cement foundations and does not help them to slide but, on the contrary, it hardens the cement. I felt it my duty to make these few remarks to the public. Personally I feel that the work I have done at the Booth School is standard construction in every respect. It has stood the tests of eighteen months and two winters. After a personal recent examination I can see no defects. The unfair and unjust criticism made to it, by the Vancouver expert, I am sure, will not affect it.

ISLAND SETTLEMENT.

Dear Sir:—
Tuesday's issue of the Daily News raised a question as to whether the Queen Charlotte Islands are suitable for settlers, and but for personally being acquainted with the following facts I should prefer those in authority answering Walter Drinnan's query. Time however must elapse before he hears from the various government departments.

Advertisements calling for people to take up these lands frequently appeared in the London daily press between November 1920 and July, 1921; these and other advertisements came to the notice of His Majesty's Overseas Settlement department and enquiries were instituted through its channels with the result that a warning was given to all through the leading newspapers, advising intending immigrants of the risks run and of whom to apply before embarking on any of these and other land schemes.

Were Warned.

Those in authority to my knowledge went out of their way to urge intending settlers to take up land schemes approved by the various departments but to have nothing to do with this scheme which in no way met with the approval of the Imperial or Dominion governments.

I think it can be safely said that these people who have either gone or are going to Queen Charlotte Islands have themselves entirely to blame should they find they have jumped from the fire into the frying pan.

In conversation with Dr. Lawson, when he was here, I was particular in asking him if the proposed settlers were aware of the derogatory reports emanating from the High Commissioner's Offices, the Agent General's offices and the Overseas Settlement Board and he advised that one and all the men who had entered into the scheme knew the proposal had been opposed by the various departmental heads.

DIVISION OF ALASKA URGED BY ANCHORAGE

Handle of Southeast Alaska Not in Touch With Other Portions of Territory.

Anchorage is now leading the fight for division of Alaska into two territories. The following resolution has been forwarded to the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce and all commercial organizations in the territory:

"Whereas, that portion of the territory of Alaska known as the first division, being all of that part of Alaska lying east of the 131st parallel of west longitude, is separated geographically and is different in climate, industrial pursuits and interests of the people from that part of Alaska lying west of said parallel; and,

"Whereas the second, third and fourth divisions of Alaska, comprising that great body of the territory lying west of the 131st parallel, has nothing in common with the first division; and,

"Whereas the government of the two sections of the territory here mentioned can be more efficiently, more economically and more satisfactorily administered separately than combined; therefore be it Resolved, by the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce, that the territory of Alaska should be separated into two territories, the east and the West, with independent territorial governments."

MISSOURI MINE IS TO BE WORKED

Dan Lindeborg, of Hyder, Makes Announcement in Vancouver This Week.

Dan Lindeborg, the well known Hyder prospector, announced in Vancouver this week that the Big Missouri mine in the Salmon River valley will be worked this season. His statement is taken in confirmation of a report that he has bonded the property to an American mining syndicate for $175,000 and that an extensive program of development work is to be pursued this year. Surface showings on the property are among the most promising in the district.

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD PROVIDES NEW THRILLS

Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Picture at Westholme Tonight.

Another triumph of the silent drama is David Hartford's production of "The Golden Snare," which opened at the Westholme Theatre last night and will be repeated tonight.

Adapted from James Oliver Curwood's fascinating story of the same name, this remarkable photodrama, with a compelling, vital, throbbing plot, fairly smacks of the charm and mystery and primitiveness of the Far North country amid which the scenes are laid.

Lewis Stone, as a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, selected to bring back "dead or alive" Bram Johnson, long-wanted fugitive from justice, is the featured player and gives a wonderful interpretation. Wallace Heery plays the hunted Bram Johnson. Ruth Renick portrays the girl Celia, around whom the mystery of the golden snare and the madman of the barrens centres. Others in the cast are Melbourne MacDowell, Wellington Player, Francis MacDonald and Baby Esther Scott.

A beautiful romance is interwoven in this thrilling tale of the snow country. The photography is remarkable. Night in the Arctic, a raging blizzard, Bram Johnson driving his pack of savage wolf-dogs—these are a few of the striking scenes which will linger long in the memory.

Sport Chat

Jimmie Mitchell, Prince Rupert's delegate to the British Columbia Amateur Basketball Association's convention in Vancouver last Saturday, was elected second vice-president of the association. Other officers are: President, P. Gamfield, New Westminster.

First vice-president, T. Sutton, Nanaimo.
Secretary, George Ross, Vancouver.

A tentative constitution was adopted at the meeting which calls, among other things, for representation from every possible point in British Columbia and the governing of the sport and, in the meantime, plans will be formulated for play-offs in each division made. Each association and league in every town embodied in the Association will be forwarded copies of the proposed constitution with the invitation that suggestions for its improvement be made. Vancouver, New Westminster, Nanaimo, Prince Rupert, Hammond and Kamloops were personally represented at the convention.

On Saturday Preston and Huddersfield will battle at the Crystal Palace for possession of the English Cup. It is thirty-three years since Preston won the cup, and Huddersfield is taking its second year in the final. Preston represents all that is old and historic in the game and Huddersfield is the result of a determined attack upon one of the great strongholds of Northern Rugby. This year the famous Preston "Guild" holds its celebration, and occasion is being taken to ally it with the playing of the "coop" on Saturday. Energy is being displayed in rounding up all the old players of Preston and it will certainly be a great occasion. Both teams are in excellent shape, the only difficulty being the position of goal with Huddersfield, the veteran Mutch of Aberdeen probably being the selection owing to the falling back temporarily of the regular goalkeeper.

In keeping with the spirit of '19, all members of the Sacramento Pacific Coast baseball team, from Manager Charlie Pick to the utility brigade, have agreed to grow whiskers, provided William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, will permit it. It is argued that in view of the days of '19 celebration to be held in Sacramento in May, it would be proper for the Sacramento players to grow whiskers and look like "forty-niners." The Days of '19 Committee hearing of the plan, has decided to make a contest of the whisker growing, and has offered a list of prizes for players growing the best set.

GERMAN MARK A SWINDLE TO PAY REPARATIONS; INVESTORS ARE FOOLED

GENOA, April 27.—"The greatest swindle in history is being perpetuated through the sale abroad of German paper marks and mark securities to meet reparations demand," said Prof. Cassell, a distinguished Swedish economist, today. "I think North and South America," Prof. Cassell added, "should know how dishonest is this system. When France insists upon immediate payment, the German government can only realize money by using and issuing more paper marks, and marketing more market securities abroad. In other words, foreign investors, largely in North and South America, really are making the reparations payments in the theory that they are buying investments. If this system continues the German mark will fall to a point where it will be virtually as bad as Austrian and Polish money, and nobody abroad will touch it."

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

Anyone who has suffered from boils can sympathize with poor old Job. There was no Burdock Blood Bitters to those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Nowadays no one need endure the misery of boils.
Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.
All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming. What you have to do is take BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS and the blood will be cleaned of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear.
Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes:—"I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."
For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TOM KING WINS EASILY OVER M'KAY

VANCOUVER, April 27.—Tom King, the Australian boxer, won the Pacific Coast middleweight championship, outpointing Gordon MacKay of Idaho, in a slow ten round bout. MacKay made so little effort that the matchmaker announced his end of the purse would be distributed to local charities.

CRUISER UNDAUNTED IN SCRAPPING YARD

LONDON, April 27.—The crew of the light cruiser Undaunted, which was completed at Govan, Scotland, a few weeks before the outbreak of the war, has been paid off at Sheerness, and the ship placed on the sale list. The Undaunted, which participated in the sinking of the four German torpedo boats on the Dutch coast in October, 1914, belongs to the Arcthusa type. Thus this famous class of light cruiser disappears entirely from the navy list excepting the Aurora, which is now in the service of the Canadian government.

WOMEN POLICE IN LONDON VALUABLE

LONDON, April 27.—The work of the women police, judged by the rather restricted tests to which it has been subjected, has been so valuable that in a not very far distant future no civilized community will probably be without this special force. The need for immediate retrenchment is urgent, and the government's refusal to continue the experiment is not surprising but it is thought that the economy effected will be shown in the result to be short-sighted. It costs more to maintain numbers of women in prison than to maintain a small force of women to keep them out of prison.

ARTIFICIAL SILK

A New Industry Which Has Grown Rapidly.
NEW YORK, April 27.—Artificial silk industry in the United States is rapidly becoming of the first importance. Its growth within the last two years has been especially significant. In 1921 artificial silk consumed in the United States totalled 19,000,000 pounds, nearly half as much natural raw silk, approximately 42,000,000 pounds. Both production and imports of fibre silk in 1921 were double those of 1920.
Two new plants with a combined capacity of 50,000,000 pounds annually began operations during 1921 and capacity of a third was nearly doubled. The total investment is now over $50,000,000.

We have been handling Shoes for fifteen years and not once in our history have we seen such an attractive shoe as the above Brown Oxford Classic for children. We stocked them once this spring.
