GAME OF BLUFF GOING ON IN NEAR EAST MILLION DOLLAR COMPANY TAKES OVER MORTGAGE ON LOCAL CONCERN

Near East Situation Continues Very Disturbed: Turks Advance and British Blow Up Bridges

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The near east situation continues to present disturbing potentialities today with the revolutionary Greek army at Adrianople declaring it will not retire, and with the victorious Turkish army concentrating at Brusa and Ismid Pasha anxious to reach Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 9.—Turkish Nationalist troops yesterday resumed their advance in the Dardanelles area in the direction of Chanak, according to a Mudania despatch to local newspapers. It is reported that Turk irregulars appeared a short distance from Beikos, a suburb of Constantinople.

The British are entrenching around Beikos.

Turk irregulars and small bands of guerrillas and bandits, which frequently form the advance of the Turkish army, appeared at small villages east of here.

The British yesterday made final preparations for defense by blowing up the bridges.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The British cabinet met today to consider the detailed report from Marquis Curzon on the conference in Paris with Premier Poincaré.

Turks Advance
The situation created by the Turkish invasion of the neutral zone continues disquieting, reports from two sources saying an entire division entered the neutral zone. As a measure of protection for Constantinople General Harrington ordered the suspension of the ferry service across the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora.

IS FIGHTING IN SIBERIA

Fierce Battle Raging Between Reds and Whites Following Jap Withdrawal.

VLADIVOSTOK, Oct. 9.—There is desperate fighting between "red" and "white" armies in progress on the Spassk front. The battle is the severest recorded since the Japanese evacuation began.

The Soviet forces are reported to be rushing troops with aeroplanes and tanks toward Vladivostok, the defenders offering furious opposition.

DEATHS IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Five violent deaths occurred in the city over the week-end. Four were the results of accidents and the fifth was a case of a burglar being shot by a watchman.

EX-MINISTER OF RAILWAYS PASSES AWAY

J. A. Stewart Was Member of Meighen Cabinet for Few Months.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—J. A. Stewart, former federal minister of railways, died in the hospital here yesterday of anaemia. He was 55 years of age.

Though but a comparatively short time in the House of Commons, Hon. J. A. Stewart was popular with his fellow-members of two Parliaments, and others who came into contact with him. He was also highly regarded for his undoubted ability as a clever speaker and debater and a good organizer. The late Mr. Stewart came to the House in May, 1918, when he was returned by acclamation in a by-election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the sitting member, Hon. A. E. Haana. A successful business man with a record of achievement behind him, he was soon recognized as a most useful member in the ranks of the government of the day. His work on the floor of the House and in committees won for him the admiration and esteem of the leaders of his party, and his ability was recognized when Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, in reorganizing his ministry in September, 1921, selected Mr. Stewart for the responsible portfolio of Minister of Railways and Canals. In this portfolio Hon. Mr. Stewart succeeded Hon. J. D. Reid on the latter's appointment to the Senate.

Drills and Equipment Valued at $10,000 to be Taken to Smithers for Development of Mines Nearby

That mining machinery consisting of compressors, drills and other necessary equipment to the value of $10,000 would be shipped into Smithers in the near future to be used in continuous development work on the Aldrich, Henderson, and White Swan group of silver lead claims on the Hudson Bay mountain was the statement made by J. F. Duthie, of the J. F. Duthie & Co. shipbuilding concern of Seattle, who left for Smithers on Saturday night. Mr. Duthie is the owner of this group which consists of twenty three claims.

Aerial Tramway
Mr. Duthie said that the thirty-five men now engaged on development would be augmented as the work progressed, and that surveyors are now working on the mountain preparatory to the plans being drawn up for the erection of an aerial tramway from the mine to the Smithers railway depot.

One hundred tons of high grade silver lead ore is at present lying at the Smithers depot ready for shipment and on the settlement of the freight rates question, it will then be determined to which smelter the ore will be shipped.

Development Work
Development work has been steadily progressing on these claims for the past twelve months but up to the present

GIANTS WIN BALL SERIES

Got Four Straight and Garry J. H. Pillsbury Just Returns From East and is Optimistic

Score Three to Five

Locked Like Victory for Yankees Up to Eighth Inning When Three Runs Are Made

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The New York Giants are kings of baseball. The National League Champions by defeating the New York Yankees five to three yesterday afternoon, won the classic title. The series closed with the giants winning four games and the Yankees none with one tie game.

Yesterday's game looked like a victory for the Yankees up to the eighth inning when the Giants claimed Joe Lush for four smashing hits and sent three runs across the plate. The final score was:

	R.	H.	E.
Giants	5	10	9
Yankees	3	5	9

The batteries were Nehf and Snyder for the winners and Lush and Schanz for the losers.

LUIS FIRPO WINS.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 9.—Luis Firpo, heavyweight champion of South America, knocked out Jim Tracey, the Australian, in the fourth round.

MORE BUSINESS FOR DRYDOCK

J. H. Pillsbury Just Returns From East and is Optimistic

J. H. Pillsbury, manager of the Canadian National Dry Dock, returned on the train last night from an extended business and pleasure trip to eastern points. Mr. Pillsbury was as far east as Boston, in which city he visited his daughter, and broke his journey at Winnipeg and Toronto.

In speaking of the future outlook for business at the dry dock he said that the local yard would be getting more regular work in connection with the Canadian Government Merchant Marine service from now on, and that the Canadian Observer would call in here for repairs towards the end of the month.

The United States government lighthouse tender Cedar will go on the dry dock Wednesday for a general overhaul. The Cedar was much in the public eye at the time of the sinking of the steamer Sophia on this coast when she rendered valuable aid on salvage work.

Mr. Pillsbury is looking forward to a busy time at the dry dock during the coming winter and speaks optimistically of the future.

E. Marshall returned to Vancouver on the Prince Rupert last night.

Million Dollar Company Takes Over Mortgage Debentures of the Prince Rupert Pulp & Paper Co.

The provincial Gazette arriving this morning tells of the incorporation of the Prince Rupert Holding Company Ltd., with head office at Vancouver, to take over and acquire all or any of the outstanding debentures of the Prince Rupert Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd., the sale of whose effects is to take place this week under a foreclosure order.

The company has valuable pulp limits in addition to the mill here and if the foreclosure proceedings go through they will become the property of the new concern.

The powers of the new company are very wide and enable them to not only acquire and hold the property but also among other things to manufacture pulp, paper and lumber, to engage in logging; to carry on the business of merchants, carriers, shipowners, warehousemen, to carry passengers and mails, and freight of all kinds; to hold and develop water powers; to produce and generate electricity, operate waterworks, sell power, build electric tramways, and operate them; construct, equip and operate telegraph and telephone systems; to carry on business of an electric light company; to engage in mining, smelting, milling and refining.

Victoria Cross Man Killed at Vancouver by Negro who was Being Arrested by the Police

VANCOUVER, Oct. 9.—Constable R. G. McBeath, V.G., of the city police force was fatally shot and Detective R. S. Quirk wounded in the left hand and head at an early hour this morning when they attempted to arrest Fred Deal, 30 years of age, a negro, on the charge of driving an auto while intoxicated.

Deal escaped but was apprehended later and charged with the murder of McBeath. A white woman who was a companion of Deal, is also being held.

McBeath was shot in the chest and died a few minutes after being admitted to the hospital. He served overseas during the war with distinction, winning the Victoria Cross. At one time he was a member of the provincial police force.

Prince Rupert Honors New Director on Board of National Railways

There have been banquets and similar doings in Prince Rupert but never one just as full of pep and enthusiasm as that which was held Saturday evening in the St. Regis Cafe for the purpose of extending official congratulations to Fred G. Dawson on his appointment to the directorate of the Canadian National Railways and of presenting him and Mrs. Dawson with a token of remembrance of the great occasion. The seats were all taken and many had to be turned away owing to lack of accommodation. There were considerably over one hundred present and there might easily have been two hundred. All parties and classes were represented and the event proved to be most enjoyable. When there were no speeches going on the crowd was singing and everyone was in that mood of jollity and good humor which makes for good fellowship.

The presentation was made by C. H. Orme, president of the Board of Trade in the following words:

"Fred—Some of your friends are here tonight to express a little of the good wishes that they have for you and Mrs. Dawson. We are glad that a Prince Rupert man represents Western Canada on the Railway Board and our joy in that is only eclipsed by the fact that you are the Prince Rupert man. We know you right well and are sure that you will measure up to your new job. Best of luck to you. On behalf of your friends I have great pleasure in presenting you and Mrs. Dawson with these small tokens of regard for you both. May you and your good wife live long to enjoy them."

Represents Western Canada
In accepting the two gifts, a chest of silver for Mrs. Dawson and an alligator travelling bag for himself, Mr. Dawson said he thanked the donors from the bottom of his heart on behalf of Mrs. Dawson and himself. The occasion should be a red letter day for Prince Rupert. While this was his home town, they must remember, however, that he was representing western Canada and in doing so he could not help representing Prince Rupert, because Prince Rupert was the hub of northwestern Canada.

Mr. Dawson said he was not surprised at the action of the Vancouver Sun over the appointment. That paper seemed to have the idea that Vancouver was British Columbia. There were a lot of good men in Vancouver who were working hand and glove with the north. They were broad minded men and what they said and did was appreciated.

Mr. Dawson spoke humorously of some of his early experiences during which he was engaged in railroading in a humble way. He had been in this part of the country nearly fifteen years and every one knew where he stood. After an election campaign was over he forgot it and he would like to see that spirit obtain generally. "When the fight is over forget it."

Community Spirit.
"The community spirit should be the moving spirit of all citizens," said Mr. Dawson. "Get together and pull together." The Board of Trade, he was sorry to say was not what it used to be. In the old days the prominent citizens of the town all gathered every month and took part in the meetings and helped to put Prince Rupert on the map.

Poor Liquor Poured Away
Vancouver Warehouse Has a Lot of Bootleg Product Which is Bad
VICTORIA, Oct. 9.—This week thousands of dollars worth of liquor in the B.C. Liquor Board's warehouse at Vancouver will be poured into the sewers. The board decided it had rye, gin, rum, wine brandy and some rare concoctions that are unfit for human consumption.

Most of the inferior liquor was taken from individuals by liquor officers and has gone bad. The board announces an advance in price of 25 cents a quart on certain brands of wine.

STATES HAVE RIGHTS ON FOREIGN VESSELS WITHIN TERRITORY
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The prohibition of liquor on vessels within American waters will give rise to no international complications, according to the view expressed by the British Foreign office officials today. The government's view is that it is a matter in which the United States has a perfect right to take any action it may see fit.

Much Enthusiasm At Big Banquet.

It is difficult to know what to say about a banquet such as that held here on Saturday evening in honor of Fred Dawson on his appointment to the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railway system. It was all gotten up in 24 hours and was the most enthusiastic ever held in the city.

Bulkley Beef For Prince Rupert.

The difficulties in giving Prince Rupert the beef raised in the interior have not yet been surmounted. Farmers there complain that they have no market for their product and that Prince Rupert is being fed on prairie beef.

There are, according to local butchers, two sides to the question. They say that farmers do not do their part in any scheme of co-operation. When they kill their own beef it is so badly cut up that the best joints are spoiled and it is not worth much.

The real solution of the difficulty will eventually be for an abattoir to be built here and the animals shipped in on the hoof. This will insure proper killing and will also give a more permanent and steady market for the farmers.

Mudania Conference Seems Successful.

The Mudania conference seems likely to be successful. The Turks, whose military success has again put them in a position of power, have been making the most of the difficulties and the fact that France and Italy sympathized with the Turks and took their side against the Greeks has made the British position a most difficult one.

The Turks were a defeated nation during the great war but they have found a leader and are again to the fore as a world power. They are very aggressive and will be something to be reckoned with in future.

The Greeks will feel the set back very acutely and a thorough reorganization of that country is taking place with a view to improve conditions.

Liquor Responsible For Death Of Ex-Soldier.

A Victoria Cross man who has won distinction on the field of battle has fallen a victim to a drunken negro. Liquor is the responsible agent for the death of this man, as it is responsible for most of the crime in the world.

KLEANZA CREEK GOLD STRIKE

Gold Not as Big as Thumb But Size of Peas.

USK, Oct. 9.—The manager of the Kleanza Co. states in regard to the recently reported gold strike:

"George Minchen of Terrace and his partners located and staked a placer discovery at the upper end of the Cassiar placer diggings a few weeks ago and have struck rich gravel on bed rock immediately below the Second Canyon of the Kleanza Creek, on one of the higher benches, about 80 feet above the creek level.

The gold is coarse, but there is no such thing as nuggets as large as a man's thumb as reported in The News some time ago, although they have been found the size of a pea.

Trenching Ground

The discoverers are now trenching the ground on bed-rock and the values seem to increase as far as they have gone yet. How much of paying ground there might be is yet to be found and by further development work. It is told that the adjoining ground has already been staked for several miles up the Creek. Kleanza Creek (best known as Gold Creek) is an old placer digging. It is gold bearing for at least 10 miles up from the Skeena and prospectors have been for years panning and sniping along the creek and in the canyons, but have not to any extent prospected the upper benches or located the old channels where this latest discovery was made.

There, therefore, is no reason to be excited about this gold strike, and it would do no good to exaggerate as that might create an untimely rush of people looking for prospects which they might not find. On the other hand, the Kleanza Valley is undoubtedly worth while a systematic prospecting for placer, and it is to be hoped that the latest discovery will encourage the investment of capital to do so.

TELKWA COLLIERIES ARE ABOUT TO SHIP

First Car Load Goes About the Middle of This Month.

The Telkwa Collieries expect to ship their first carload of coal this season to the city in the near future, probably by the middle of the month. Gillespie & Wilson have their track and cars ready and the tunnel has been driven in the coal so that hauling will commence immediately. Extra help on the mine will be employed as soon as suitable for the purpose of developing blacksmith coal. Several enquiries have been received for this class of coal. According to advices to hand the prospects for the season's output are very re-assuring. Orders are already on hand and the market for Telkwa coal is growing rapidly.

CANADIAN BOTTLES YANKEE BOOTLEGGERS

Labelled Empties Being Sent to States and Used for Mootch

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — (By Canadian Press). — Prohibition Commissioner Haynes says that reports received by him show that empty bottles on which are labels of genuine whiskey are being imported from Canada and sold to bootleggers. Inquiry by customs officials elicited the information that the bottles are shipped to a chain of stores ostensibly for "bottling vinegar." The bottles, according to Commissioner Haynes, are of the type of well-known brands but are peddled with home-made concoctions of denatured alcohol or moonshine.

The same condition exists on the Mexican border. Commissioner Haynes also makes note of the fact that home brew is becoming unpopular in Canada among border residents, according to a statement by the collector of customs and inland revenue at Windsor, who states that several home brew supply stores along the border have closed in the last few weeks.

CANADIAN SKINS

Pelts Were Imported to Ketchikan and Seized by Customs Now Released.

KETCHIKAN, Oct. 9.—Fred H. Ramelson of New York, represented by Charles H. Cosgrove, has won his fight for possession of 189 heavier skins seized last spring by customs officials for violation of the customs laws and regulations. The case was appealed to the secretary of the treasury and according to word received in the mail last night the department holds that there was no wilful intent to violate the law and therefore the skins are to be turned over to Ramelson.

The department held that the skins purchased in Canada, were shipped to Ketchikan contrary to the orders of Ramelson and without his knowledge, and as there was no attempt made to conceal them upon arrival at Ketchikan that they could not be held. The skins are said to be worth some $3500.

PAT'S REMEDY.

Irish wit rarely fails its possessor in an emergency. Private Maguire had been misbehaving and was up before his commanding officer charged with drunkenness.

"Eight days in the guardhouse" said the latter sternly. But in writing the "8" on Pat's defaulter sheet the pen spluttered. Pat noticed this and leaned forward.

"Thry if I'll make a '3' anny aisker, sorr," he suggested in a persuasive whisper. — Boston Transcript.

RUSSIANS GIVE BACK PROPERTY

Allow British Syndicate to Work Mines on 99 Year Lease System

GET GOVERNMENT BONUS.

LONDON, Oct. 9. — Following the return of Leslie Urquhart to London, the Board of the Russo-Asiatic Consolidated Ltd., this week issued the following statement regarding the principal terms of the agreement signed last Saturday by him and by Mr. Krassin on behalf of the Russian government:

The whole of the Russian properties of the Company Kyshlin, Tanalyk, Ridder, Ekibastus and the Steppe Properties with all rights previously enjoyed are returned on a 99 year's concession.

Receive Bonus

As these enterprises will afford material help in the economic development of the country, the Russian Government will assist in the reinstatement of working capital and rehabilitation of the enterprises. The amount of such financial assistance is fixed at a maximum of 20,000,000 gold roubles, on account of which £750,000 is payable in cash and the balance in 15-year interest-bearing gold bonds. This latter amount is subject to the findings of a special mixed commission, which will leave shortly for the properties in order to ascertain locally the amount of loss sustained.

In regard to labor, the Company complies with State regulations, provision being made that the Company may freely engage and discharge workmen and employees, and that workmen's committees shall not interfere in any way in the administration or operation of the enterprises.

Royalty and taxation is limited to 8 per cent of the gross sales value of products, the Company guaranteeing a certain minimum production.

Settle Disputes.

An arbitration court, to sit in Moscow or abroad, will settle any dispute under the contract.

The Russian Government undertakes not to introduce any legislation adversely affecting the terms of the agreement.

The agreement is subject to formal ratification by the Council of People's Commissaries in Moscow.

It seems clear that these terms are highly favorable to the company. In particular the provision limiting the taxation to 8 per cent of the gross sales value of the products—which, supposing that the cost of production amounted to half the selling value, would not exceed 16 per cent of the net profits—means that the company will enjoy a position in this respect such as probably no other country in Europe would be willing to give is at the present time.

Protect Contract

A further important safeguard is the clause under which the Soviet Government binds itself not to introduce any legislation adversely affecting the terms of the agreement. In this regard, again, the Russian Government is treating the company more favorably than any other government would be likely to do.

Before the war virtually the whole of the output of the company's properties was sold in Russia, and an official of the company today stated that it was expected that this condition would again prevail when production was resumed. In this case the difficulties of transporting the products of the mines over the broken-down Russian railways will be reduced to a minimum, since the export of materials will probably be limited to the output of gold and silver, which will represent the company's profit. Obviously under present conditions it will only be possible to dispose of the remaining products under a system of barter, but it is stated that the company has the option of paying its workmen in kind, and commodities such as grain and leather will be available for this purpose.

Old Employees Return

It is hoped that the progress towards actual resumption of output will be reasonably speedy. A large proportion of the company's old employees are said to be on the spot, and since its relations with them have always been cordial they are anxious to

AEROPLANE HAZELTON FLIGHTS YESTERDAY

After Completing Repairs Machine Took up Two Lots of Passengers

The aeroplane Hazelton made two passenger flights yesterday afternoon, the first passenger trip to be made after completing a thorough overhaul by Mr. Hill, an expert aeroplane mechanic from Calgary.

If weather permits there will be further passenger flights and a trip to Stewart is contemplated. However, if the weather is too inclement the plane will return to its headquarters at Hazelton.

BRINGING UP FATHER

ing of the plane passengers do not seem to care about taking flights owing to the interference with observation.

The Hazelton made an extensive trial trip on Saturday evening when everything was found to be in perfect condition.

ESTABLISH BASES FOR AIRPLANE IN INTERIOR

Len Bell Tells of Plans for Development of business—Drive in Cattle.

It is the intention of the airplane company to establish bases in the interior of British Columbia in connection therewith, according to Len Bell, head of the concern.

Cattle are to be driven into the country over the old telegraph trail and located on the open prairie lands in those districts. There will be plenty of hay and the men who will be kept there in connection with the air stations will have plenty of time to put up hay and do any necessary work.

Mr. Bell is very enthusiastic in connection with his company and says he looks on it as a good paying concern.

WEEK AT THEATRE

Westholme, Monday and Tuesday, "Salvation Nell" A masterpiece story of the girl-mother. All star cast. Wednesday and Thursday, "Nancy from Nowhere," "The Courtship of Miles Standish" Friday and Saturday and Saturday Matinee, "Over the Hill." The greatest human story ever told. All star cast.

Bebe Daniels in "Nancy from Nowhere" at the Westholme Wednesday is an orphan girl who eventually married the fatherly boy. It's a real story.

Some movie fans forget that the Westholme is back on the old time. The pictures commence at 7:15.

Charles Ray is the man who speaks for himself in "The Courtship of Miles Standish" the picture he is preparing.

True joy never does run smoothly in the movies.

Orphans of the Storm, one of the Griffiths pictures, was very popular in Toronto recently. It had a big run.

CANADIAN PRODUCER OF MOVING PICTURES

Ernest Shipman Declares Canada Has Many Advantages as a Location

Ernest Shipman, just returned to New York from an extensive Canadian trip, declares that the Dominion as a location for motion picture production has some decided advantages. Not the least of these advantages, according to Mr. Shipman, is the preferential tariff under which motion pictures produced in Canada can be exported from that country to Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, India, Africa and Scandinavia at rates lower than would apply to the same film shipments made from the United States.

Subject to Duty Mr. Shipman cites as an example the fact that pictures entering New Zealand from the United States are subject to a duty of one cent per foot while pictures of Canadian manufacture shipped from Canada to New Zealand are entirely exempt from duty. In the matter of tariff the various states comprising the British Empire determine their own respective schedules. Because, however, of the reciprocal tariff regulations obtaining between each of these states, shipments from one to the other can be made at materially lower rates than would apply to countries which are not parties to such reciprocal arrangements.

This saying in preferential tariffs on a normal picture output is tremendous, according to Mr. Shipman, and the Canadian producing units are planning to combine their product and export nationally.

Mr. Shipman further affirms that Canada, by reason of its natural endowments, is in a better position to serve as a location for motion picture production than many other countries. It is Canada's natural advantages that are particularly appealing, he states, and declares that in this respect the surface has not yet been even scratched. The only pictures made of Canada to amount to anything to date have been stories of the Royal Mounted and a few pictures of Alaska and the Yukon, he declares. The Royal Mounted is one of the smallest features of Canadian national life. There are nine provinces forming the federation known as the Dominion of Canada, and each one of them is as diversified in regard to scenery, types of people, romance, legend and adventure as almost any five separate countries to be found elsewhere, asserts Mr. Shipman.

EXTEND COMPETITION TO END OF THIS WEEK

It Will Positively Close on Saturday so Time is Short

It has been decided to extend the limerick competition until the end of this week and it will positively close on Saturday night next. Those who yet wish to try their skill have time to do so. Here are some of the specimens:

Fades My Woe
When bills by the dozen are due,
And life and its prospects are blue,
To the movie I go,
Away fades my woe,
And the world takes a roseate hue.

Truthful Sal
There was a young lady who would,
Tell all the big lies that she could
A great movie ran
Called "Miracle Man,"
And now she is truthful and good.

Learned the Game
There was a shy tattie named Gunn,
Who wondered how sweethearts were won,
He was in despair
A movie came there,
And now he knows how it is done!

Losing Weight
Said Fatty I'm losing my weight,
And I'm not quite so smart in my gait,
Although I'm downhearted
If I once more get started,
I'll have everything clean on my state.

Winsome and Witty
Gladys Winsome is winsome and witty,
And her face is both handsome and pretty,
Her acting is smart and
She just wins your heart
For the roles that she plays
Makes her peppy.

Cupid's Arrow
A movie performer named Hart,
To shoot from the hip had the art;
But cupid's swift arrow
Pierced Hart to the marrow,
And now he is nursing the smart.

Cross Eyes
Now whether he's coming or going,
By his optics there sure is no knowing,
But to raiment so sketchy,
Of beauties, you betch ye,
Ben Turpin's cross eyes must be owing.

Selfish
Too fat for a fairy, too big for an elf,
He has sweet taking ways of pinching your pelf,
But he gives you a show,
Though what I want to know,
D'ye give or d'ye get when paying to self.

Well Worth It
There once was a gallant young beau
Who took his best girl to the show,
Though it cost him a dollar
And her tears spoiled his collar
He said "Jove, it's worth it, you know."

Mental Gymnastics
There once was an Ecclesiastic
Whose code was not very plastic
He went to the "pictures"
Withdrew all his strictures
In a quick change mental gymnastic.

FEATURE OF WEEK IS COMING ON FRIDAY

"Over the Hill" is Said to Be One of Greatest Motion Pictures.

William Fox, the picture producer says of "Over the Hill," "I have been engaged in the making of motion pictures for a number of years, during which time I have made a great many productions. But of all the pictures I have made, the one that has caused me wholly unalloyed delight, is my picture of William Carleton's celebrated "Farm Ballad" called "Over the Hill." "If ever a motion picture could truly be said to have a soul, then "Over the Hill" comes nearest that description. I have stood night after night in the darkness of a New York theatre while it was being screened, and I have seen men and women respond to its tremendous surge of emotion and its sparkling shafts of humor, as a harp responds to the musician who plays it.

"I have always attributed the extraordinary success of this picture to the fact that it possesses, to an uncanny degree, some indescribable element that no other motion picture has ever possessed, for, despite its beautiful story and the manner of its presentation, no one can see "Over the Hill" without thinking—why, this is me and you, and all of us. Here we are with all our meanness, our pettiness, our cowardice, and here, too, we are with all our fineness, our generosity and our nobility. "To me "Over the Hill" is more than a mere motion picture. It is so frank an exposition of our inner selves that we cannot behold it without really being startled. "The principal character of its story is a mother—a sweet, wholesome, little old personage, who, like every other mother, that ever lived, is made the recipient of all the joys and sorrows—particularly the sorrows—of her thoughtless little flock. And I am sure, if you see the picture you will think as I did when I first beheld it, of that old proverb that runs "God couldn't be every place at once, so He made mothers."

SALVATION NELL IS PICTURE FOR TONIGHT

An absorbing and dramatic story of life in the tenements of New York's East Side is presented in the picture of "Salvation Nell," the Edward Sheldon play in which Minnie Maddern Fiske starred on the speaking stage, and which will be the screen attraction at the Westholme Theatre tonight. It's a story of the ups and downs of a poor little girl in a great city. Nell Sanders loses her sweatshop job, is discharged from the eating establishment of Hash House Sal, but her pluck asserts itself after she is dismissed as the scrubwoman of a saloon, and she joins the Salvation Army and triumphs, saving her beloved Jim from himself.

Capt. Wallace's books are extensively read in all English speaking countries. During the war he was in charge of the submarines guarding Halifax harbor. PRINCE RUPERT HONORS NEW DIRECTOR ON BOARD OF NATIONAL RAILWAYS.

Victoria. He said he had always held Mr. Nelson in highest regard.

L. W. Patmore

L. W. Patmore, said the object of the gathering was not to say good-bye but an evener. Mr. Dawson has been called upon to fill an important position and if it had not been Mr. Dawson who had been chosen he would have felt some doubt of his ability to fill it. The work of the railway board would be to put the C. N. R. on a par with the C. P. R. That was a stupendous task. It meant that they must have great steamships functioning together with the railway system and the whole paying dividends. The chairman they understood was a good man and little Freddy, he would remind them, was not to be despised when it came to organizing. The time would come, if he stayed with it, when he would be chairman of the board.

Fred Dawson was an all round good sport with everything that entailed. He wished him in the higher sphere to which he was going everything imaginable. He knew how to be a good loser as well as a good winner. He would like to see Vancouver tender a banquet to Fred Dawson. He was representing not only Prince Rupert but the whole of Canada. The railway system was no stronger than its weakest link and the weak link in the past had been the line to Prince Rupert. This weak link must be attended to.

M. P. McCaffery.

M. P. McCaffery said that in co-ordinating the National railway systems the government had got the biggest man available

PETROGRAD MAY YET BE CAPITAL

Residents Look Forward to Day When Change is Made

PETROGRAD, Oct. 9. — Hope that some day the capital of Russia will be transferred back to Petrograd is buoying up the spirits of many residents of this ghost-like city that Peter the Great built to serve as the centre of Russia's power.

No official word, not even a semi-official hint, has been given that the Bolshevik regime will return the capital here from Moscow, but many Petrogradites have their hopes that this will occur on the fact that Petrograd was built for government purposes and is far more fitted to house government offices than overcrowded Moscow.

Fear of Attack

If the time does come that the Bolshevik officials lose their fear of attack from outside, these Petrograd residents say the government inevitably must return to the city that offers it comfortable quarters and immediate proximity, by land and sea, to Western Europe. While the fear of attack exists, these same features of Petrograd's location make it a dangerous site for a capital. Finland is too close, and the Finnish Gulf and the Neva offer anchorage for foreign warships.

Shrewd citizens are now buying up Petrograd's property and holding it against the day when the now almost depopulated city shall again be the crowded capital.

The Petrograd port has shown great activity this summer, but most of the factory chimneys of the city and suburbs are still smokeless, and the streets, as compared with busy Moscow, seem like those of a country village.

Empty Palaces

A few pedestrians; an automobile or two; now and then a slow moving horse-drawn truck, and the scattering of cabs in the great broad avenues laid out by Peter the Great to make Petrograd magnificent, seem lost in the city's spaciousness.

Great government buildings that border the plazas and squares are now occupied by small bureaus of the main industries at Moscow. Huge palaces are empty, occupied only by caretakers, or transformed into museums, open but a few hours each week and even then visited only by sightseeing tourists and now and then a little group of art students.

Many shops are open, selling mostly second handed furniture and costly bric-a-brac from the houses of the once great, but business is dull and money is much scarcer than in speculation-mad, seemingly prosperous Moscow.

Fred Stork.

Fred Stork said they were met to celebrate a red letter day in the history of the north. He had come there with great hopes and aspirations and had stayed with it. One of the first men he had known was the guest of the evening, a man who had always furthered the interests of Prince Rupert and the north.

Many considered that they had not made much progress here in fifteen years but he saw considerable progress. They had docks, and a great many facilities for advancement including a dry dock and the facilities on Digby Island. It would take at least six years to acquire these if they were not already here. There were two or three things yet to secure to make this a port. There was a grain elevator coal bunkers and an assembly wharf. "I believe in the future of this port and Dawson is another who believes in it."

"I believe more has been accomplished in the past week than in 15 years for the advancement of the north," declared Mr. Stork. We now have a man on the directorate speaking for the west a man from the north to guide the destinies of the railroad. The north should be proud of her position and destiny. The future is safe and secure. We have entertained distinguished men here, but never before in all my experience have we entertained a guest who is so well entitled to the distinction as tonight. There never will be a time, I feel sure when Canada will regret the appointment of Mr. Dawson. This is our night. We start from here and Dawson is the man behind the guns."

Thanks to Premier.

Before the gathering broke up W. J. Nickerson moved a vote of thanks to Premier King for the honor conferred. Mr. King came here a year or two ago and said he was about to carry out the Laurier policy. This was the first fruits of that promise. The meeting was one of all political parties and the resolution would be an expression of general approval. It was seconded by Acting Mayor Kerr and carried by acclamation.

The orchestral music was provided by Arthur's orchestra and S. K. Campbell sang several solos.
