LONDON HOPES IRISH FACTIONS MAY BE BROUGHT TOGETHER

Present Situation in Ireland Causes All Grave Concern

LONDON, June 1.—Hope of a meeting between representatives of the Ulster government and the government of Southern Ireland was expressed here today after the conference between Sir James Craig and Lord Londonderry, of the Ulster cabinet, and Premier Lloyd George. While Premier Craig expressed himself as not prepared to meet the Southern Irish delegates in London now, the hope is expressed in official circles that he will yet reach a better decision.

Today's cabinet meeting called to consider the Irish situation was attended by the Earl of Cavan, chief of staff of the British army, and Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary for war. One of the chief points of discussion, it is understood, was the military situation on the Ulster border. Premier Lloyd George regards the situation so seriously that he has postponed his holiday trip to Greece indefinitely.

Churchill's Statement

The statement of Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Colonial secretary, in the House of Commons yesterday on the Irish situation and the serious emphasis he laid upon the extreme gravity of affairs together with the suggestion of a possibility of Britain's reoccupying Irish territory made a deep impression. It was featured in London morning papers as opening an ugly affair that would lead to incalculable trouble.

FEW STRAWBERRIES TERRACE THIS YEAR

Fruit is a Failure Owing to Hard Frost Preceding Snow in Winter

There will be very few strawberries for Prince Rupert people this year according to Terrace farmers who are in the city today. This is the first failure in fourteen years and was caused by the severe frosts preceding the snow in the winter. As a result the strawberry plants were destroyed, there being not more than ten per cent left.

LLOYD GEORGE AND GERMANY

Praises Attitude of That Country Toward Reparations Commission

FRANCE AND BRITAIN

Isolated Action by Any One of Allies Would Be Disastrous to Entente

LONDON, June 1.—Premier Lloyd George defended the reparations commission and the Versailles treaty in the House of Commons yesterday. He praised the German attitude toward the reparations commission and said that so long as Germany was not defiant she could count on Great Britain for sympathy and understanding in her difficulties.

The premier said there was no cause for disagreement between France and Britain and should Germany refuse to fulfil the conditions imposed by the commission Britain's door would be beside the Versailles signatories.

Lloyd George went on to say that Britain still believed in a policy of moderation and fulfillment. Isolated action by any one of the allies would be disastrous to the entente.

ANTI-DUMPING OBJECTED TO

OTTAWA, June 1.—Thomas Bulman, representing the fruit growers of the Okanagan, interviewed Hon. W. S. Filding, minister of finance, yesterday, and protested against the removal of the anti-dumping clause from a regulations stating that such action was certain to flood British Columbia with cheap United States fruit.

Architect Potter Makes Reply to Cox and Says Building is Quite Safe

"Let me assure you that the building is perfectly safe and that the derogatory comment and machination made is the work of people having their own interests to serve but, as I have informed you before, the building requires to be waterproofed and the damaged parapet walls rebuilt," is the signed statement made by Architect J. W. Potter in his report to the School Board following the sending out of questionnaires to him and Col. S. P. McMorde, contractor.

"The sum and substance of the whole trouble is that the building never had a chance to dry out. Naturally, this, followed by incessant rain and then a short period of frost, damaged the parapets and the veneer of the face bricks. The damage that has occurred is directly caused by the brick absorbing moisture and remaining soaking wet for a long period of time. In fact, the only opportunity the brick wall will have to dry out will be during the summer months. The action of frost and wet has caused much damage to the brickwork. A small piece of furring tile that was removed from the head of a window was loosened by frost and another was loosened by careless workmen erecting the manual school equipment.

"After a careful perusal of all the report of Mr. Cox I am surprised at the stressing on small trifling defects while the real trouble and remedy has been largely overlooked.

Does Not Agree.

"I do not agree with many items in the report as to construction, stability and quality of materials. The building was erected on a cost plus percentage basis and your contractor had no reason to purchase other than the very best materials. The materials purchased were the best of their kind and the workmanship was of the best local and available workmen were capable of doing."

Dealing with the building under different heads, Mr. Potter reports as follows:

Brick—The brick used were of the best red pressed brick it was possible to obtain.

Artificial Stone—It is stated

$45,000 Will Cover Cost of Repairs to School, Cox Reports

With the putting in of steel pillars and beams throughout the building, installing fire escapes which will also serve as braces, building a solid concrete wall case around the present hollow tile, repairing the concrete foundation and executing other details, the cost of restoring the Booth Memorial School to a condition of stability, fitness and durability, by the most economical and safe plan possible, will be approximately $45,000. This is the finding of A. A. Cox, the consulting architect of Vancouver, who submitted his report to this effect at a special meeting of the School Board yesterday afternoon following his return from Vancouver where his plans, specifications and estimates were perfected as far as possible after his examination of the building some three or four weeks ago. The meeting heard the report of Mr. Cox and after some discussion, decided to adjourn further consideration until tonight when another meeting will be held to which all interested architects and contractors are invited.

In commencing his report, which was given verbally, Mr. Cox stated that he had based his plans, specifications and cost estimate, which he was about to present, on the desirability of the building being put in shape permanently and satisfactorily with the greatest dispatch and at the lowest cost possible. A desirable plan would possibly be to take down all the exterior walls and rebuild them with better materials and better workmanship but this plan he would prefer to avoid as it would involve great cost and also risk to the interior of the building during the period of reconstruction. The plan he had to suggest was a simpler one and one more safe under such conditions as existed here.

Columns and Beams.

First, in order to take care of the loads on the roof, floors and walls, he would recommend the putting in of steel columns and beams throughout the building. There was a lack of anchorage now which would be remedied for all time by this means. Without these columns and beams inside, the building might come down.

New walls at the outside ends of the rooms with fire escapes constituted another recommendation. By doing this, the stairways would act as fire-escapes and would also be protective to the old walls. A similar process should be adopted for the end of the assembly hall. The entire cost of this work would not be due to defective structure for the building had not been provided with fire escapes which would have been demanded, anyway, by the authorities.

All staircases in the building, which were now built of wood, should be remodelled and built of reinforced concrete throughout.

Canopy and Roof.

Regarding the exterior of the building, the canopy at the front required remodelling and he would recommend that it be removed entirely and a projecting covered porch with concrete sides be substituted. This would protect the entrance from the weather and would entirely eliminate defects and weaknesses of the walls above. The reinforced walls would also act as supports for the steel beams.

Removal of the entire spar roof over the assembly hall and the putting in of a flat roof instead was also recommended by Mr. Cox. The present roof there (Continued on Page 4)

BUCKLEY MILL TO START SOON

So Says Manager of Concern Who Recently Arranged Finances.

F. L. Buckley of the Massett Timber Co., who returned recently from England to Vancouver after interesting English capital in the Buckley Mill and timber limits at Buckley Bay, Massett Inlet, has been telling people in Vancouver that he is intending to start up his mill very soon. The company has paid up its indebtedness and cleared its way for further operations and Mr. Buckley has gone south to confer in regard to the matter of starting work. His office in Vancouver reports that he will be away for a couple of weeks.

CALLING FOR TENDERS ON WOODEN HULLS AT VICTORIA UNFINISHED

VICTORIA, June 1.—The department of marine is calling for tenders for the sale of two unfinished wooden hulls on the ways at the Cholberg shipyards at Victoria.

Three schooners were commenced by the Victoria Shipowners, a company formed for the purpose and financed very largely by the government. One schooner, the Simon F. Tolmie, has been finished and is now at Vancouver after making her maiden voyage. There was not money enough to complete the other two and they now decorate the waterfront of Victoria harbor in a partially finished condition. The ribs are all in but the planking of the hulls is incomplete.

Period of Depression Cannot Last Long.

There is a period of depression following the several years of good times and naturally we are feeling it just as they feel it elsewhere. Merchants here complain that business is quiet, just as merchants elsewhere complain similarly. Everywhere you go there is a somewhat similar plaint. It is the squeeze of falling prices and the reaction from the rush and hurry and intense optimism of the period of rising prices. No section of the community is immune from the influence. We are in the same boat. Labor is suffering and so is capital. The country is suffering and so is the city. In some cases there is a note of despair, but generally the view is that the worst is past. Now and then we meet people who say business is improving and they think it will be still better next month.

Prince Rupert has no reason to complain. Some of the merchants are losing money but others are holding their own and in some cases making a living. Our chief source of revenue is continuing as formerly and we are all hopeful for future developments.

Put On Best Clothes And Look Prosperous.

There is nothing to be gained by being down at heel. It is much better to put on a good suit of clothes, shine our shoes and comb our hair. Then we feel better even if it does cost a little to dress well.

As with a person, so with the city. We cannot afford to run to seed. We must keep trim and neat. We are putting in new roads, but we must make our buildings match with the improvements.

About the middle of this month there is a shipload and more of Masons coming to the city to spend a few days while they take part in their grand lodge meetings. Many of the visitors are influential men from other cities. It might be wise for us to put on our best clothes to receive the visitors. Paint up our shops and make them look bright and new. It would be extremely unwise for the visitors to see our somewhat neglected appearance. We are losing our smartness and we cannot afford to do that.

Let us put our best goods in our shop windows, clean up and paint up and make the little town look smart and then we shall attract visitors and they will come to see us again.

When the editor was visiting one of the small cities of the United States recently, he was struck by the untidy appearance of the place and he mentioned it in a short article he wrote. A visitor here might be struck with the same thing. On the other hand with little expense we can let visitors go away with a good impression of the town.

Many Coming
 During Summer.

During the coming summer there are many people coming here. Not only are the Masons coming but there are also the Rotarians, one or two parties of school teachers and numerous others. In the south everywhere the desire to visit Prince Rupert is expressed. The place has been advertised and they have heard of it favorably. Because of all this it will be wise of us to neglect no opportunity to make our town as good as she is reputed to be.

Another Effort Gone Awry.

The effort to organize a pulp and paper mill here seems to have gone awry. It perhaps has failed. If so then we shall look elsewhere for our future prosperity. We cannot afford to be downhearted. Those people who were worried because the mill was thought to be getting power too cheap will perhaps have changed their opinions ere this. If the mill was only running now we should not feel the pinch as badly as we do. We cannot afford to neglect to encourage any industry. We need all. Every new settler in the district is an asset and every industry, no matter how small, helps to bring us prosperity.

Possibly something will yet be done to reorganize the Seal Cove concern and make it an asset to the city. We shall continue to hope it will operate until shown that it cannot.

Despondency Is Easy To Spread.

We are all guided by our reason and our emotions. It is a debatable point which is the more powerful. Reason is cold, but emotions stir us to action. Also they sometimes lull us to inaction. Just now there is a tendency to be affected by the influence which is making us less hopeful. And yet success is largely a matter of keeping up our spirits. We can influence our condition very largely by our attitude. If we are ready to give up, we do not deserve to win. Our forefathers did not do that in their difficulties. Instead let us keep hopeful and cheerful, welcoming every ray of light and refusing to be downcast even when under a cloud.

Prince Rupert will yet be a good city. Everyone outside of here recognizes the fact and we must realize it and make the realization a part of our being, if we are to succeed.

 It was announced at a meeting of the School Board yesterday, that after the summer vacation this year, a new system would be instituted. The idea is to increase the sanitary precautions of the department in respect to school books.

J. S. Gray returned this morning from an extended business trip to Montreal and other eastern cities.

It is understood that the hotel and restaurant employees of this city have established a new scale of wages to take effect today. The management of the Prince Rupert Cafe were the first to sign the new scale. Both the A. F. of L. and the I. W. W. have agreed to the new wage scale.

The Man in the Moon

THINGS were evidently hot around the fire hall yesterday. We noticed that Dan McDonald was on the water wagon early in the morning, but unfortunately Malcolm McLeod pushed him off.

COURT SPLENDOR BEING RENEWED

Economy no Longer Keystone of Functions at Buckingham
 Palace

LONDON, June 1.—Economy is no longer to be the keynote of court functions at Buckingham Palace. No more "economy courts," as they were called, are to be held. These were established by their majesties after the war to set fashionable society a much needed example in curbing extravagance. The seal of royal approval has now again been bestowed on court trains. Indeed no woman can be presented at Court who does not wear them. Of course as a man the Lord Chamberlain cannot presume to be an expert on fashionable feminine dress, but it is one of his many official duties to lay down the rules and regulations to which women must conform at the most exalted of court functions.

That is one of the things for which he is paid $15,000 a year. He has to be a peer besides to qualify for the exalted office which is accounted among the political plums that the prime minister has to give away. The present Lord Chamberlain is in the top class of the peerage. He is the Duke of Athol.

Train Restored

By restoring the court train he has earned the blessings of the fashionable dressmakers. But they would have lengthened their blessings if he had lengthened the trains. Before the war three yards was their regulation length, while Queen Victoria didn't consider four yards too long. By the new regulations they need be only two yards in length and should not extend more than 19 inches from the heel of the wearer when standing.

To walk backwards before royalty in a train three yards long without getting tangled up in it, imposes a severe tax on the agility and skill of not a few socially ambitious women. Queen Mary is a very kind woman and she would naturally wish to spare her sex making exhibitions of themselves. Hence she was in favor of the shorter length for trains.

I. O. D. E. CONVENTION AT VANCOUVER WILL CLOSE ON SATURDAY

VANCOUVER, May 31.—The report of the National Educational Secretary is to be received at this afternoon's session of the National convention of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. This will be followed with a report from the war memorial committee and discussion. Before adjournment there will be a conference on general work and policy of the order. At 4.45 the delegates will be entertained at tea on the invitation of the Provincial Chapter of British Columbia. At the evening session the British film "Westward Ho" will be shown.

Besides the election of 1922 officers, the place of the next annual convention will be decided upon tomorrow afternoon. Final adjournment will take place on Saturday at 4 o'clock.

NEWSPRINT BEING PRODUCED IN BIG QUANTITIES CANADA

NEW YORK, June 1.—The News Print Service Bureau, of New York in its April Bulletin gives the production of newsprint by the sixteen Canadian member mills for the first quarter of the current year as 267,824 tons, an increase of 44,941 tons, or 22 per cent, over that for the same period of 1921.

The thirty member mills of the United States, during the first three months of 1922 produced 355,934 tons, a decrease of 8,709 tons, or 3 per cent, from that of last year.

During March stocks of newsprint decreased at the mills by 2,723 tons, being 1,616 tons less at United States mills. Canadian exports of newsprint to the United States in March amounted to 63,516 tons; the next largest supplier of newsprint to that market being Sweden, which shipped 40,781 tons.

The newspaper with the circulation is the real advertising medium.

LONDON SUFFERS
 EXHAUSTING HEAT

Worst Day for 42 Years — Duke
 Astonishes With Palm Beach Suit

LONDON, June 1.—The hottest day in May for 42 years — the thermometer reading 106 in the sun and 88 in the shade — forced Englishmen to don straw hats, abandon vests, leave their coats unbuttoned and even tuck handkerchiefs in their collars and drink soda-water. Usually the torrid heat hits London in August, when everyone forced to remain in the city is accustomed to the gradually increasing heat, and the majority of the people who worry over its appearance go to the country. Sunday was hot, but everyone was spending the week-end along the river, at the seaside or up in the country, so Monday's sizzler caught them unawares.

"I sold more boaters (straw hats) to my gentlemen clients today than I sold all last season," said a fashionable hatter. "Usually the English gentleman will not wear flannels or boaters in the city."

The Duke of Manchester surprised his friends by appearing at Giro's for luncheon in a Palm Beach suit and white shoes.

PIMPLES ON FACE
 DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying. There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can be done by that old reliable blood medicine and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion. Miss Mary E. Flanagan, R. R. No. 5, Stella, Ont., writes:—"I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad that I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, 'Burdock Blood Bitters chased them!'"

B. B. B. has been on the market for the past 45 years, so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy.

Architect Potter makes reply to Cox and says building is quite safe.

They have been put are both criticized. Rubble walls have been used for centuries and are being used for all types of work wherever the materials are available. They give, when properly built, entire satisfaction. The load on these is less than 8,000 pounds per square foot while the municipal bylaws allow 16,000.

The statement that the walls have been built in an irregular manner is misleading. Wherever the wall is built on the slope of the rock, the slope is the long way of the wall and cannot affect its stability. The proposed swimming tank having not been built, this part of the wall is in an unfinished condition and has an appearance, off.

The statement is made that local rock is a poor material to support heavy loads. It has been used in other buildings and on streets and has every appearance of permanency and strength. There can be no question of the value of sound local rock if properly used and hazardous criticism will not prevent its use by people familiar with its limitations.

Parapet Walls. Walls—The statement is made that the parapet walls are badly balanced, resting on hollow tile and faced brick having an unequal number of mortar joints. Theoretically, an equal number of mortar joints is desirable but in actual building it is not always possible, particularly when the material differs in size and shape such as tile and brick.

Cracks—The cracks and so-called settlement of the basement floor slabs are shrinkage cracks. This is in an unfinished condition and it was intended to finish this surface when it was possible to keep people out of the basement. One hole was found in the entrance floor slab but it is impossible to construct concrete work without them and it is such a small minor matter that it was not considered worth patching.

Hollow Tile—The hollow tile used are of standard quality although they are said to vary. Some with broken corners were used. They were the property of the school board and it would have been extravagant nonsense not to use them.

Water in Basement. Water in Basement—I have looked in vain for water in the basement. There was water in the excavation for the swimming tank but this comes through a fissure in the rock and cannot be stopped unless the tank is built or the excavation filled up to the level of the drainage system.

General construction—I am surprised at the term "mere shell" being applied especially when the amount of solid brickwork and the anchorage is known. In the matter of the auditorium, the fact that the front walls are stiffened by four large piers, the end walls by abutting walls and the rear walls with the ceiling and main roof are evidently not considered.

The beams carrying the gallery are supported on solid brick and masonry piers.

The marquee over the front entrance is properly secured, the balustrade, a slab of reinforced concrete, being balanced on top of the wall and weighted down by piers on top of it and anchored to a pair of steel beams behind it. The comment on the stability of the balustrade is nonsense. The floor of the auditorium was designed for a safe load of 125 pounds per square foot while the bylaws require a safe load of 100 pounds.

Methods of Construction. Method of Construction—The comments made would perhaps be quite in order if the building was a heavy and fireproof one. The fact is there is one solid floor and the roof is carried on tile walls. I do not know of any materials in the school that would generate gas and cause the building to be blown to pieces.

Floor Joists—The floor joists are 2 inch by 14 inch full size and meet the requirements of the bylaws. They have been used in several buildings used as dance halls and places of assembly and are giving satisfaction. The Borden Street school joists are of similar size and span. The deflection of the joists has not been caused by the loads placed upon them but by the high temperature the board ordered to be maintained in the building in the attempt to dry it out. The present state of the floor joists and floors is just what could be expected with such treatment.

They were loaded more than required during construction and under wet conditions and there was at that time no appearance of deflection or failure.

Stairways—The stairways were built of heavier materials and in better manner than any other school stairways in the city. Their present condition is due to the effects of extreme temperature. Funds were not available for concrete and marble trimmed stairs.

Roof—I have no knowledge of temporary supports to the roof rafters and cornices being put in since the roof was put on.

Walls Anchored. Anchorage—The entire walls have been anchored and tied together throughout the building by means of iron anchors built in the walls and secured to every fourth joist. These anchors tie the building together in every direction.

Plaster—In the matter of some plaster being soft, the mortar used will remain soft if allowed to stay wet or may fall off and decay.

Mr. Potter also referred to manufacturers' reports of success that had attended the laying of hollow tile on end.

$45,000 WILL COVER COST OF REPAIRS TO SCHOOL, COX REPORTS

was of no use and only exerted a heavy load on the hollow tile walls. A saving in future upkeep of the roof would be made by adopting the new plan. Mr. Cox declared that he considered the demolition of the fire walls and the brick veneer walls necessary. The cost of this work would be difficult, at this time, to estimate on account of the extent being unknown. Concrete Casings all. One of the most extensive changes recommended by Mr. Cox was the building of a new solid concrete casing wall from 8 to 12 inches thick all around the building and over the present hollow tile walls. This would be the cheapest way out and would serve the purpose of adding to the old work as well as strengthening it. The steel beams inside should be attached through the present hollow tile walls to the concrete casing.

By adopting this plan, Mr. Cox said that the interior of the building would suffer less injury than by tearing down entirely all the present walls. The interior should be as little exposed as possible. Personally, he would not like to undertake the proposition of tearing down all the walls and rebuilding. By his plan the work would be done in a shorter time and the building would be warmer with the double walls. Dampness would be avoided and the cornices would be supported. The building would then be satisfactory for all time. If the scheme suggested was not adopted it would be necessary to demolish all the walls and rebuild them.

Other Details. There would also be considerable work in remodelling the cornices so as to avoid leaking. Cutting of floors and cornices and changing radiators, pipes and electric wiring would also involve more expense. The cloakroom floors would have to be relaid and put in proper shape. The corridor floors on the ground floor were also bad but elsewhere were in better condition. The foundation would have to be repaired in some places and sewage drains would have to be put in around the building.

There might be other items not mentioned but they would be discovered as the work of remodelling progressed. He would be able to advise in regard to them as the necessity arose. A complete statement as to the exact amount of work necessary could not be given but to put the building in a stable, fit and durable shape for a school building, according to plans and specifications submitted on the scheme outlined, would cost in the neighborhood of $45,000.

"Would it not be necessary to take up all the floors?" inquired Mr. Pattmore. "No, it would not be necessary to disfigure the building," replied Mr. Cox. All the floors would be jacked up as the work proceeded. Other methods were possible in remedying the defects in the building but the one outlined he considered was the most economical and would take the least time. There were temporary measures that might be taken but he would not recommend them. If a start was made immediately the work would take about three months' time with a good man on the job, constantly giving personal supervision. The steel pillars and beams could be delivered in three weeks' time.

In reply to a question by Dr. W. T. Kergin, Mr. Cox said that the job did not lend itself to a contract as it was too piecemeal and the exact extent was not known. No contractor would bid on it unless he made an allowance of at least forty per cent to cover contingencies. The matter of financing was briefly discussed. Mr. Pattmore said that it would be necessary to put a money-by-law to the people allowing sufficient margin over the $45,000 to cover contingencies. He doubted if the ratepayers would pass such a by-law.

Immediate Action Needed. Mr. Cox thought that $50,000 would cover the work. It was necessary to proceed almost immediately with it for he feared that, in its present condition, the building might not be standing at all by next spring. Dr. Kergin suggested that the matter be left over until tonight so that the trustees might have an opportunity to digest the matter of the report. Mr. McLennan concurred with this.

Mr. Pattmore said he would not favor haste. Even further advice might be secured. Mr. Potter, the supervising architect, had met some of the statements of Mr. Cox. In regard to the laying of the hollow tiles on end, Mr. Potter had said this might be done with satisfaction and had submitted examples of where it had been done in the building of schools. "I want to clear that matter up right now," said Mr. Cox. "Figures show that these tiles have a better bearing and support when laid flat. The principle of laying it on end is rotten and is only advertised as a means to sell material. The architect who says the principle is right is all wrong. It is piffle of the worst degree and has not a leg to stand upon. Nobody with any experience would suggest it. There are no specimens of good buildings in Canada made of hollow tile without columns and beams. The hollow tiles might be laid on end with success if they are filled with concrete as probably is the case in the example pointed out by Mr. Potter."

The decision was then made to meet again tonight. In the meantime, Mr. Cox will get Mr. Potter's report which has been prepared and Mr. Potter will get Mr. Cox's. Offers to Do Work. M. Parfitt, of Victoria, a member of the contracting firm of Parfitt Bros., which has executed many big building contracts on Vancouver Island, was given a hearing. He offered to take the job on a ten per cent cost plus basis and give it personal supervision. W. Watts, the local contractor, who was present as well, also offered to do the work on a cost plus basis. He had had experience with this particular building from the first. There were some things, Mr. Watts said, that Mr. Cox had missed in his reports; also there were some suggestions made by him which, in his opinion, (Mr. Watts) were unnecessary. Dr. Kergin emphasized the invitation to any interested contractors, who might take on the work, to attend the meeting tonight. The answer to the questionnaire sent by the school board to J. W. Potter, architect, in regard to the school, will also be dealt with at the meeting.

HIGHER TEA PRICES AS RESULT OF WORLD SHORTAGE. During 1919 and 1920 the greatly increased production and unlimited shipping facilities resulted in enormous quantities of tea reaching every market of the world. A consequent drop in price was the result. To stabilize the situation, the tea growers of Ceylon and India agreed to curtail production 20 per cent in 1921. Since that time the demand has been constantly increasing and the price rising. The recent reduction of duty on tea entering England has further increased the demand and the price is expected to rise accordingly.

Revival in Mining Will Have Great Effect on All Other Industries of B. C.

"Last year Northwestern British Columbia, with Prince Rupert as its centre dug 68 per cent of the tonnage of all the ore mined in British Columbia," declared D. B. Morkill of Vancouver, the mining engineer who was here yesterday. "Of gold it produced 63 per cent of the provincial output, of silver 60 per cent and of copper 89 per cent. This year the Premier mine alone is producing more gold and more silver than all the rest of British Columbia combined, and at the present rate of output it seems likely its total for the year will about equal the provincial total of these metals in British Columbia's previous best year in history."

"It is good to see the renewed activity in mining throughout the province," continued Mr. Morkill. "It is apparent everywhere and its effects on other lines of activity is bound to be felt. Mining is the industrial backbone of the province. Its effect is felt in every other industry and especially in such places as Prince Rupert. Farming, fishing, logging, lumber manufacturing and all other industries are dependent on it to a much greater extent than is generally understood."

Put Province on Map

Mining first put the province of British Columbia on the map and changed it from an isolated Hudson's Bay trading district to an important part of Canada. It has been the direct cause of the building of four-fifths of the roads and trails and railways in the province. Its products to date are valued at $734,000,000 and it gives direct employment to 15,000 men. It supports at least 75,000 of British Columbia's population and is the reason for the employment of a good percentage of those engaged in agriculture, logging, lumbering and fishing. This affects the business of the wholesaler, manufacturer, banker, the transportation concerns and those who feed and house the people.

"Mining is the sole industry of 95 towns of varying size in British Columbia and is the partial industry of 102 other towns, its indirect influence has been the making of still other towns which are kept up by industries which benefit from mining. It is essentially a white man's industry as to labor, something which cannot be said of lumbering, fishing and farming, the three other basic industries."

"Extension of the mining industry means increased prosperity for British Columbia. It means a revival in every other industry and the solution of the unemployed problem."

Aid the Industry.

"How can the general public help in encouraging mining? They can do it by assisting the prospector, by assisting in the fight for fair freight rates on ore and mining commodities and by the abandonment of the policy of reserving areas of the province from prospecting. Other methods will suggest themselves once the people realize that mining is really an important basic industry on which the real prosperity of the province depends."

The Sons of Canada have certainly exceeded general expectations in the Senior Football League race and are now away to a great start with a lead that will, indeed, be difficult for the other teams in the running to overcome. Youth has again asserted itself and the willingness of the Sons to take chances has so far stood them in good stead. While they have undoubtedly a fine team there has also been a measure of luck running with them and thus they have been able to make the showing that many thought they would not attain this season. The next fixture between the Sons of England and the Grotto teams tomorrow night, tied for second place in the standing, should prove an interesting game and will settle differences as to which is best.

The Senior League standing to date is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pts.
Sons of Canada	3	0	6
Sons of England	1	1	2
Grotto	1	1	2
Callies	0	3	0

Any baseball fans are looking for all kinds of good ball this season and claim that "amateur league ball in the big towns hasn't anything on this little old northern triangle." The Elks have won two games already over the Mine team and are given credit with being the best looking team of the lot. The Mine team proves good opposition for the Elks, however, and it is not thought that either team will get away with a big lead in the season's series. George Carkle, Prince Rupert's star catcher of last season, has a steady job receiving for the mine aggregation in the smelter town.

The Elks in Anyox are also making a good showing at football and have been successful in winning the two games already played. Both games were with the Mine and the scores were 3 to 2 and 2 to 1. The sport season is off to a great start in the northern town and all they were asking for last week was warmer weather which they are now getting. Anyox expects later in the season to meet Prince Rupert both at football and at baseball.

Sufficient unto the lovers are the lovers thereof.

MONEY INVESTED IN VICTORY BONDS can be made to earn larger interest by selling the bonds and investing in first mortgage on improved City property. And the mortgages are just as safe, although not so readily convertible into cash. Money invested in mortgages is, generally speaking, fixed for the term of the loans which run from 6 months to 5 years. Hence the larger rate of interest. Drop in and talk it over.

BUSINESS IN RUSSIA IS AT STANDSTILL NOW

Vast Amount of Reconstruction Necessary Before She Can Take Her Place

ODESSA, June 1.—The vast amount of reconstruction necessary before Russia can resume her place as a producing nation is typified in Odessa, where more than 60 big factories are rounding out their second year of idleness.

While the Communists appear to be "coming to their senses," as one observer expressed it, the bitter economic lesson of the past four years has left its imprint on the industrial Russia of old. Here are to be seen many powerful examples of how easy it is to destroy and how difficult it will be to build up.

Odessa once boasted two huge sugar refineries. Together they employed nearly 10,000 persons, but today they are idle and almost in ruins. Another 2,000 men were employed in the big rope manufacturing plant on the outskirts of the city. The factory will have to be practically rebuilt before it can open again. The brick making industry had 20 factories in and near here in pre-war days, but all of them are falling to pieces.

There were once three ship-building plants, the largest employing 8,000 men and turning out vessels of 3,000 tons and more. The Soviet government now operates it, at one-eighth capacity. Three chemical factories have not been operated since 1917, and a French factory for making soil phosphates shares the same fate. It once required eight big plants to can the fish caught in the Black Sea. The fish are still there but the factories long ago ceased to function.

Two jewelry factories have been closed for several years, as have three plants for making vegetable oils, and two others where matches were made in more prosperous days. The making of sugar and grain bags was a big industry here, employing thousands of persons. Odessa also had factories for the making of cloth products, nails, cement, machinery, glass, shoes, paints and varnish, cork linoleum and carpets, but gaunt, decaying buildings are all that is left to recall that time.

MANY SWEDISH WOMEN REFRAINED FROM VOTING

Only 47 Per Cent Exercised Franchise at Last Election.

STOCKHOLM, June 1.—Less than half of the women of Sweden entitled to vote exercised their newly-won franchise rights at the polls in the election of 1921, the first year of full suffrage for women, according to a report of the Swedish Central Bureau of Statistics just made public. However, the official report of the 1921 elections give the suffragist leaders at least two causes for rejoicing.

The men did not show a much better record than the women, and the number of women voters exceeded the male voters in the capital of Stockholm by more than 5,000 voters.

The official report shows that 57.1 percent of the Swedish women voters cast their ballot while 61.9 percent of the men voted. The total women's vote in the city of Stockholm was 76,566, while the vote cast by men was 71,198.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and leaving a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Hill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care. 'I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS are the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food, having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price, 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

throughout the country seems to be that the Swedish women have not fully realized the importance and significance of their new privilege. It is believed that in the future they will make a better showing at the polls.

The heavy women's vote in Stockholm, which is to a large extent an industrial city, may indicate that the working women, especially women trade union members, grasped the opportunity to register their votes. However, other women cannot be said to have neglected the ballot as a whole.

WATER IS FINE AT SALT LAKES; MANY ENJOY THE BATHING

Need of Organization to Make Small Improvements; Walk in Good Shape

Every day there is swimming at the Salt Lake and the local enthusiasts are taking advantage of the daylight saving to enjoy a plunge after dinner.

Yesterday afternoon about fifty people enjoyed the bathing and they report the water warm and the sport most enjoyable.

Some of the habits of the place express regret that the swimming club is not active this year. The concrete dam needs repairing and other small work is required to be done to put the place in good condition. As it is, however, there is no one with authority to proceed with the work, although there is money in the swimming club treasury to pay for it.

Visitors are enthusiastic over the work done by the provincial government in improving the walk so that there is now no inconvenience to visitors.

SPANIARDS FIND GRIM EVIDENCE OF DEFEATS

Thousand Unburied Soldiers Lie Before Morocco Position.

MELILLA, Morocco, June 1.—More than 1000 unburied bodies of Spanish soldiers lie in the vicinity of Darquebdans, the position recently recaptured from the Moroccans, according to reports reaching here from native sources. These bodies are scattered along a line four kilometres in length, over valleys and broken ground.

The bodies are still in uniform, but their pockets have been turned inside out and rifled, these reports say. That is all that remains of the garrison which occupied Darquebdans before the disaster inflicted upon the Spanish troops by the Moorish tribesmen last July.

Hungry Natives.

As the Spanish troops advance in their new drive they see evidences of the result of the Ben-Urriaguez chieftain's efforts to inspire confidence in the Moroccan inhabitants. The inhabitants have believed the assurance of the chieftains that the Spaniards would never again set foot upon their territory, consequently they had sowed crops and were disagreeably surprised when the Spanish columns advanced and destroyed their growing grain. As a result, there are behind the lines large numbers of hungry natives, who frequently make raids upon the Spanish tents in endeavors to steal cattle and supplies.
