United States Does Not Want Measure on Reciprocity now

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian minister of finance, who came to Washington several days ago in the interests of a general tariff reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada, has been advised by the congressional leaders that Congress does not look with favor upon any such agreement at this time.

Opposition against any general reciprocity agreement with Canada was voiced today by Chairman McCumber of the Senate finance committee, when he was advised that Mr. Fielding was in Washington in the interests of such an agreement.

LOYD GEORGE RESIGNATION SUGGESTION

Story is Sensation of Britain—No Public Announcement Made

LONDON, March 2.—Lloyd George has not publicly threatened to resign but has told Austin Chamberlain he will do so if the opposition continues. The story is the sensation of Great Britain and the elections may be hastened unless Lloyd George resigns personally and leaves the King free to ask Chamberlain to form a Government, which would, however, be short lived.

FLAVELLE TO RETIRE IS OTTAWA RUMOR AND PROBABLY TRUE ONE

OTTAWA, March 2.—Rumors that Sir Joseph Flavelle was about to retire from the chairmanship of the board of management of the Grand Trunk Railway do not indicate any new development, according to Government officials, who state that Flavelle's appointment was only temporary.

FIRST PICTURES OF ELECTION OF POPE PIUS XI.

These pictures, the first to arrive in the United States, show scenes attending the election of Pope Pius XI. The upper picture was taken just before the Cardinals adjourned to a strictly guarded session in Sistine Chapel, where they were confined in separate compartments until a decisive vote was cast. Food was brought to them which was prepared by nuns. This was the first time in history that nuns instead of servants prepared the food for the Cardinals. When the Conclave was called all the Cardinals participating in the voting were given their final instructions by the Grand Marshal of the Sacred College. The lower photograph shows the famous Swiss Guards at the doors of the Sistine Chapel, which were closely guarded throughout the meeting of the College and during the voting for the new Pope.

DETECTIVES WIN AGAINST COMMISSION

Dr. Ernest Hall Ordered to Pay Goody Sum to Each—Appeal Expected.

VICTORIA, March 2.—A general verdict for the plaintiffs was brought by a jury in second of the slander suits brought by dismissed detectives against the police commissioners. Dr. Ernest Hall is ordered to pay Ezra Carlow $1250, Harry H. Macdonald $1000 and Sam Stellanio $1000. An appeal against the judgment is expected to be made.

LONDON, March 2.—The British Government expects to save this year a sum approximating £54,000,000 (approximately a quarter of a billion dollars) as a result of retrenchment in the various departments of the government, including the army and navy and education.

Some time ago Sir Eric Geddes was appointed to head a commission which would make recommendations to the British Government how it could save £100,000,000. While they failed to make out a case for as large an amount as that, the recommendations approached very near to it.

Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, dealing with the Geddes economy report in the House of Commons and alternative suggestions submitted by the government, said the reduction in naval plans would be chiefly as regards personnel, officers and administration. The government could not ask for a reduction of the naval personnel below 90,000, and the government proposals for naval expenditure were only £1,000,000 lower than the Geddes suggestion. The government will reduce the education estimates by £6,500,000.

Trades and Labor Council and Drugs.

The action of the Trades and Labor Council in going on record in favor of better conditions in regard to the illicit disposal of drugs is wholly to be commended. They will receive the backing of every person who has the welfare of the community at heart.

Daylight Saving Also Favored.

Daylight saving also met with the approval of the Trades and Labor delegates. In that they are in line with the opinions of most people in the city, judging from the expressions that are heard. More time for sports and recreation seems to be a general demand.

The Climax of Depression.

The number of failures in the business world is the climax of bad times. It is the final expression of a condition which has prevailed for some time and which has been getting steadily worse. The sooner the failures occur and reorganization commences the better for the world.

The real climax in trade conditions came last autumn, but the business failures usually come just when the revival is commencing. The firms hang on as long as possible, hoping that something will turn up, but it seldom does.

Everyone Interested in Terrace Oil.

Everyone is interested in the effort being made to test the oil possibilities of the Terrace district. The Vancouver firm that is sinking the first test well is taking a gamble, but wide the chances may be somewhat doubtful the reward will be great should success crown their efforts.

As a gamble this oil business is far ahead of horse racing or blackjack. In those games the odds are always against you. In this oil business you get an even break with no rakeoff to the house.

No one should put money into oil unless he is prepared to lose. He must look on it just as he would look on the ten cents he pays for a prod at the punchboard. When he pays his money it is gone for good unless fortune happens to favor him and bring things his way.

The first Terrace oil well is being commenced today. We shall all watch its progress with intense interest, for while the people who have put in the money stand to gain an immense prize if they win, we shall all share somewhat in that prosperity.

The Man in the Moon SAYS--

A friend of this paper, and his name is legion, wants to know why so much fuss is made of forty New York brokers going broke. Why are they brokers, he asks, if they cannot go broke when they want to?

HE says he knows over forty men in this little town that are broke all the time.

AS a matter of fact I'm broke myself.

QUERER that they should have railroad strikes in Moscow, the land is free.

NOW that the city engineering staff has been reorganized the next important thing is to get the work done at as near as possible to the price a private concern would pay for the same.

THAT bandit girl down in New York state that held up a store with a gun is as nothing to the way the girls are said to hold up the men in this city.

MANY a poor chap is kept dead broke all the time just because forsooth my lady points her finger at him and remarks "you are it."

It was just like those London correspondents to shoot through a telegram about Lloyd George possibly resigning just to take the pep out of the St. David's Day celebrations yesterday.

AFTER such dastardly action it is to be expected the Welsh people will be demanding the formation of a Welsh republic.

It's a contemporary who remarks that when they smoked the pipe of peace at Washington they smoked navy cut.

A lady says she has been wearing breeches off and on for the past thirty years. And then the office boys wants to know how she wore them off and a lot more foolish questions.

A FRIEND of mine wants to know why girls blush. They don't, so far as I have been able to observe. Blushing is one of the things that passed away with the advent of knee dresses, cigarette smoking, gum chewing and last but not least, the movies.

HERE is a verse that I find published in the Manitoba Free Press and signed "M.K." It might be worth memorizing: The Optimist.

I tip my hat to the Optimist, The man who is brave and strong, Who keeps his head when things go right, And smiles when things go wrong. So take a tip from the optimist, Who laughs and works and sings And daily shows this weary world The way to better things.

VANCOUVER'S TOUGH LUCK

Special Despatch from Ottawa to the Toronto Globe Makes Interesting Reading.

A special despatch written by Ross Munro, staff correspondent at Ottawa for the Toronto Globe, in regard to Vancouver's present political position will prove interesting to the people of Prince Rupert and district: "Politicians here are smiling at Vancouver, Canada's fourth city wants many things from Ottawa, but Canada's fourth city was unfortunate enough to guess wrong. That is, Vancouver returned three Conservative members on December 6, and now Liberals are in power here. The wants of Vancouver are many—a grain elevator, drydock operation, consolidated terminal facilities, an ore dressing plant, a separate department of fisheries, telephone communication with the interior, an export duty on fish, the elimination of mountain freight rates.

Notwithstanding the three Conservative members, Vancouver's big delegation is still here, pressing for their desires. The only British Columbia member of the Cabinet, Hon. Dr. King, is away west to win his seat.

Told to Vote The delegation finds it has a rather large fight on its hands to gain its objectives. As one of them remarked today: "The people were told to vote for Hon. H. H. Stevens, and then the Cabinet would not be able to stand up against him. We did that. We elected Mr. Stevens and two other Conservatives. We did our part, but we find a new Cabinet, and Mr. Stevens' influence is not enough to bring him along with our party. It's tough luck, this guessing wrong."

While this may be a pessimistic view, so far as Vancouver is concerned, their hopes are strengthened by the presence of Hon. John Oliver, the Liberal Premier of British Columbia. Mr. Oliver is now in the happy position of being the liaison officer between Vancouver and Ottawa, all of which may greatly aid his chances of re-election. Later advices to the Daily News indicate that the Vancouver delegation has gone home disgusted at its reception.

PIPE DREAMS By Newton F. Pullen

To the man who has an unpaid grocery bill there may be some consolation in the fact that the total amount which Britain, France, Italy and Belgium will owe the United States on May 15th will be $10,709,842,006.09.

There is some advocacy of a plan to cancel these debts. To one who is little versed in the intricacies of finance, it would seem that to allow the debtors nations to forego payment would be to set a precedent which would arouse a fear that governments at future times might escape fiscal entanglement by repudiation.

Was Troubled With Her Stomach For Five Years

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millersdale, Sask., writes: "I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better."

I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die. In fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many months. This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can do all my housework. You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am." B. B. B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SIXTY MILLION TO BE EXPENDED ON WATER FOR BOSTON

BOSTON, Mar. 2.—Construction of a reservoir of four hundred billion gallons capacity on the Ware River at Enfield is proposed as necessary to insure adequate water supply to Boston and communities within a ten mile radius in a report which has been submitted to the legislature. Several small towns and villages would have to be wiped out. The cost was estimated at $60,000,000.

A committee of the State Department of Health and the Metropolitan Water and Sewage Board, which made the report, recommended also the immediate construction of a tunnel from Wachusett reservoir to the Ware River, with a diversion dam at Goldbrook; the construction as soon as practicable of a plant for developing water power at the Wachusett end of the tunnel and arrangements for pumping water for the use of the city of Worcester. The proposed tunnel would be twelve miles long with a capacity of five hundred million gallons daily, and would run through rock at a depth in some places of 800 feet. The committee estimated its cost at twelve million dollars.

LASSIES MUST WEAR LONGER DRESSES

Salvation Army Would Have Them Seven Inches From Ground.

According to an order recently issued by Commissioner William Peart, Salvation Army leader in 15 American Midwest states, the skirts of the Salvation Army lassies must be not more than seven inches above the street level. "A few years ago we were trying to persuade our women to wear them shorter," said Commissioner Peart in commenting upon the order. "The skirt that trails in the dirt gathering germs is a menace to its wearer's health, but the skirt that flaps around the knees is pretty much of a menace to the modesty of the woman who wears it. The skirt is about the only thing which doesn't appear to be coming down these days and a back to normalcy drive on the too short dress will do a lot to protect the morals of the rising generation."

Commissioner Peart stated that the order would effect every Salvation Army member in 77 countries and colonies, where the organization operates with the possible exception of China and Japan where most of the women wear trousers.

TWO WOMEN ON RUSSIAN SOVIET

Practically All Bolshevik Leaders Members of Committee of 380.

MOSCOW, Mar. 2.—Only two women were elected members of the Central Executive Committee the real governing body of Soviet Russia, at the last All-Russian Soviet Congress recently held here.

The two women members are N. K. Gullianova, wife of Premier Lenin and president of the chief political and educational commission, who is active in organizing women's communist organizations; and Mme. Alexandra Kollantzy, who formerly was minister of the commissar of social welfare.

The committee has 380 members. Among them are Bela Kun, who was leader of the communist movement in Hungary, G. E. Zinovieff and Karl Radek, all three of whom are specially active in the affairs of the Third Internationale.

Ukraine Independence.

The great attention that Moscow is paying to the Ukraine, which is daily becoming more independent in its attitude and takes its orders less and less from Moscow, was indicated by the election to the central executive committee of three Ukrainians. They were Rakowsky, president of the Ukraine republic; Mannolsky, the Ukrainian commissar for agriculture, and Shrybnik, Ukrainian commissar of home affairs.

All the other well-known Bolshevik leaders were returned to membership on the committee. Among the number were Premier Lenin, Leon Trotsky, General Budenny, cavalry leader; George V. Glichevich, commissar of foreign affairs; L. B. Krassin, commissar of foreign trade; J. V. Stalin, commissar of National minorities and Leo Kamenoff, president of the Moscow Soviet.

WELSHMEN CELEBRATE

St. David's Day Fittingly Observed at Whist Drinco and Dance Last Night.

The Welsh people of Prince Rupert fittingly celebrated the anniversary of their patron saint, St. David, at a highly successful whist drive, musical evening and dance in the Knights of Pythias Hall last evening. There were 125 people present in spite of the inclement weather and the affair was one of great enjoyment. The hall was decorated with the national emblem and on entering each guest was presented with a daffodil, the flower of Wales.

There were 22 tables of whist and the first prize winners were Mrs. C. Richards and Mr. Pearl, consolation awards going to Miss Dorothy Richards and J. H. Kelly. The orchestra, comprising W. Vaughan Davies, H. Aubrey Pryce and James N. Kelly, played national airs. Meth Davies sang a solo in Welsh and, in spite of the fact that many possibly did not understand the words, he was recalled for an encore and rendered the Welsh national anthem. Mr. Davies' singing, though not often heard, is always greatly appreciated, and last night was no exception. Mrs. Stanley Bennett also rendered a solo.

Refreshments were served and the dance followed, the same orchestra playing. George Hill was master of ceremonies and J. Wynn was on the door. The committee in charge comprised Frank Morris, W. Vaughan Davies, Meth Davies, Jack Wynn, Bert Morgan, George Hill and W. G. Hughes.

DOUBLING CAPACITY OF LEAD REFINERY AT TRAIL ANNOUNCED

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 28.—The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited are now doubling the capacity of their lead refinery. The present capacity of the plant under ordinary conditions is about 90 tons a day, but with the many changes being made in the works the capacity will be nearly doubled.

Another improvement in the company's works is the construction of a custom zinc plant to handle ores of the outside district. These ores are generally very rich in silver content and it has been found impracticable to mix them with the baser ore from the Sullivan mine at Kimberley. With the completion of this new plant the company can handle ore from the silver-lead district without in any way interfering with the treating of the large tonnage from the Sullivan.

With the opening up of spring it is expected that mining operations and smelting operations will take on new life and many improvements be made in the plant at this place.

WINNIPEG CLERGYMEN WISH SUNDAY SACRED

WINNIPEG, March 1.—Winnipeg park board came in for severe censure at the hands of the Ministerial Association when clergy scored the selling of tickets for Sunday golf at the municipal links, Kildonan.

Ministers said the sale of tickets during the week for Sabbath play was simply a way of "getting around" Lord's Day legislation. Rev. Andrew Roddan declared it was a "round-about means of violating the act."

Responsibility for the keeping of the Sabbath observance laws rested as much on the association as on the Lord's Day Alliance, Rev. A. McIntosh averred. All were "watch dogs" to see the day was kept sacred.

Sport Chat

A handball tournament is to commence at the Elks Home in the near future. The sport has been offered at the lodge rooms for some months and has been taken up enthusiastically. The members find that the exercise afforded is healthful and enjoyable, and for those of sedentary occupations who do not get much outdoor exercise it is especially beneficial. The court is kept busy at all spare times. The entries for the forthcoming tournament are as follows: C. C. Clementson, C. Balagno, W. F. Roberge, J. F. Maguire, Fred Gilluly, J. J. Raleigh, Morris Gordon, Norris Pringle, H. F. Pullen, T. J. Shenton and Eddie Smith.

The final basketball game of the season will be played tonight at the Exhibition Hall. A splendid program has been provided and two interesting matches will be those of Elks Seniors vs. Colts Intermediates and Intermediates Selects vs. Junior Selects. The former game should be an especially good one. The Elks are senior champions and the Colts intermediates champions, and both teams are fast ones. The younger boys have shown great style all season and it is altogether likely they will give the seniors plenty to contend with. It will be a meeting that the Colts have been wanting a long time. The two ladies' games will round off a good evening's bill of sport. The presentation of cups will also take place. Colonel McMordeie will officiate and the captains of the respective teams will be on hand to receive the trophies.

FARMERS PROTEST AT USING LIQUOR MONEY

FREDERICTON, March 2.—A resolution strongly protesting against the licensing of the liquor traffic by the provincial government of New Brunswick as a means of raising revenue and calling upon the Government to practice economy to relieve the present financial situation, was passed by the United Farmers of New Brunswick in session here. The farmers object to liquor money as tainted money and prefer to do without public works rather than use money obtained from such a source.

DO YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH

There are many men on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, sets the nerves on edge, causes shortness of breath and loss of sleep.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco. Mr. Frank Lutes, 71 Terrace Hill St., Brantford, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by spells it would bother me a lot. The doctor told me it would stop on me some time if I did not cut out tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would pound, and I would break out in a perspiration, and get so weak I would have to sit right down and quit my work; also in the night I would wake up and my heart would be going. I should say about 120 beats a minute. About three years ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and found that they did the job. I am feeling fine and have gained over 20 pounds in weight." Price, 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

INHERITANCE TAX PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(By Canadian Press.)—The tangle over the question of how to raise the funds to meet the proposed bonus for United States war veterans has caused a good many members of Congress to give serious thought to the inheritance tax, along with a tax on gifts calculated to prevent evasion of the inheritance tax.

This has in turn led to a study of the British inheritance taxes, and it is found that if Congress should impose rates on estates on the same basis as the British rates it would be possible through this source to raise about $750,000,000. The British Government raises $232,000,000 in this manner from estates which in the aggregate are far below the value of the estates which in the United States would be subject to this tax.

Advocates of the inheritance tax say it could be imposed without hardship and without serious political protest. It is pointed out that there is little evidence of public opposition in the United Kingdom to the inheritance tax, whatever may be the feeling toward it of a small percentage of the wealthy.

President Harding's recent declaration that the bonus question had better be shelved unless the money is raised through a sales tax has met with a mixed reception. In spite of President Harding's recommendation and a great deal of testimony from advocates of the sales tax to the effect that it works well in Canada, it is distinctly unpopular with many legislators here and is bitterly opposed by the farmers and the laboring men. It is doubtful if a sales tax can be forced through, and if it were it would undoubtedly prove harmful to the party in power.

Farmer Bloc.

Talk is current of an alliance of the farm bloc, labor and Democrats in Congress to drive through the inheritance tax. Representative Ramseyer of Iowa has introduced a comprehensive bill under which the rates on estates would range from 1 per cent, on estates above $25,000 net to 10 per cent, above $40,000,000. Any such plan is sure to encounter bitter opposition from the eastern states, which have the greatest wealth. With the great majority of the voters it would be popular. Unless a practicable way is soon found of meeting the bonus question—which may be shunted aside but will not down—it is not unlikely a determined drive will be made to force the inheritance tax through. It is true, of course, that under present law there is a mild estate or inheritance tax in the United States, but what is now proposed is a tax of such proportions that it would actually have important effects in tending to hold down great family fortunes.

NATION-WIDE EFFORT AGAINST DRUG TRAFFIC

Sir Hugh John Macdonald and Chief Newton of Winnipeg Declare in Favor of Move.

WINNIPEG, March 2.—Sir Hugh John Macdonald, police magistrate, and Chief Constable Chris Newton, today declared they would support a nationwide citizen effort to combat the drug traffic. Steps are now being taken in Vancouver to form a national organization to fight the illegal distribution of drugs.

Chief Newton said the drug traffic was active in Winnipeg and that police found it necessary to be continually on the watch for peddlers. There is not the organized effort to peddle drugs here that there is in Vancouver, according to Chief Newton, but large quantities of drugs are brought in from Vancouver and St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Chief Newton declared that the drug traffic will never be successfully fought until courts cease to deal leniently with offenders. The chief advocates that sentences as long as five years be imposed on offenders, or fines totalling at least $2,000 levied.

The use of drugs in Winnipeg is on the increase, according to Chief Newton.

1000 WOMEN AND GIRLS AT ROYAL WEDDING

Rich Variety of Gowns Seen There of Great Interest to Lady Readers.

LONDON, March 2.—(The Associated Press.)—About 1,000 women and girls were among the elect made happy by receipt of invitations to Princess Mary's wedding to Viscount Lascelles at Westminster Abbey, Tuesday. With them the all-important questions were "What shall I wear?" and "What will the bridal party wear?"

Within certain limits, the State Chamberlain, who designates the form of apparel for state occasions, settled the matter. He prescribed morning dress with hats, also orders and decorations. Dressmakers carried the thing a bit further by announcing that it would be a "brocade" wedding, that material being favored by several of those socially prominent women whose selections usually govern.

The State Chamberlain's ukase ruled out the wearing of veils, plumes and trains. In the interests of economy, this had been the rule at the Court of St. James since early in the war. The result was some diminution of brilliancy, but the sacrifice contributed to the comfort of the feminine part of the wedding congregation as Westminster Abbey has long been termed "a vast collection of draughts."

The choice of morning dress was made "in view of probable cold weather and the continued prevalence of the influenza epidemic." It is recalled that many women who attended the wedding of Princess Patricia at the Abbey three years ago, when more elaborate and less protective "court" dress was worn, were almost blue with cold before the two hours' ceremony ended.

Cloaks and Furs.

"Morning" dress, of course, necessitates the wearing of cloaks and furs. Officers of the Army, Navy and Air Force wore full dress uniform, with colors and decorations. For civilians, Court dress was prescribed. Swords were part of this attire. Soldiers without dress uniform were permitted to use service kit.

Brocade has been increasing in popularity for some time. Now it is all the rage and the wedding party afforded a gorgeous display of this material in all its rich variety. There were brocades of misty blue, of dull gold and shimmering silver. The pattern, in most cases, was Elizabethan and the effect one of rare splendor.

Some of the materials displayed at exhibitions held in West End modistes' salons before the wedding were marvellous examples of weaving. To vary the plain gold or silver figuring, delicate hydrangea colorings were introduced and pretty "shot" effects achieved. Here and there stronger colors were seen—true jade, for instance, and aquamarine—an approximate definition, for this particular shading is so subtle as to defy accurate classification.

One classically draped model in crepe-faced silver cloth was festooned from the shoulders with chains of large cut jet beads. A jet girdle set with brilliants was looped round the hips and trailing clouds of black tulle served as transparent substitutes for sleeves.

Classic Outline

Many of the frocks were classic in outline, long waisted and with fairly full skirts reaching nearly to the ankles.

As to the extent of the décolletage permissible, no specific instructions were issued, but it was well known that Queen Mary disliked exaggeration in any particular of feminine attire.

A gown of handsome silver lace, with the necessary matt surface, was sewn with pearls—festooned with them—this magnificent overdress being imposed on a foundation of silver tulle.

Yet another had a surface of platinum paillettes with lapis lazuli paillettes used to give a mosaic effect, the whole being partially veiled in moonlight-blue tulle.

But satin was not altogether ruled out. A frock of jade "satin Anglais" with a sparkling diamond and pearl corselet hung with chains of diamonds was

Revival of Sleeves

As to sleeves, the edict declared that a revival of sleeves was certain. This, it is understood, was in deference to a wish expressed by Queen Mary and pertained to Court dress more especially than to gowns for the Princess' wedding.

Inclusion of the words "with hats" in the State Chamberlain's dress specifications was perhaps more welcome news to milliners than to those attending the Abbey service—certainly the male contingent was not overjoyed. Most of them, and many women, were fearful the hats in front of them at the Abbey would obstruct their view. This consideration, apparently, was taken into account at most shops and a variety of specially designed small hats and toques was displayed to minimize this disadvantage.

"Toques of Russian satin, gauze, lace, cheville and silk straw were trimmed with ribbons, embroideries and flowers, and many of them had long pendants of beads, ribbons or semi-precious stones hanging down on one or both sides."

Adoption of the turban modes of the late 18th and early 19th centuries—dashing affairs of gold and silver trimmed perhaps, with a paradise plume held by a jewelled clasp—would have added to the general gorgeousness of the scene. These turbans accorded with the popular gold and silver dress materials.

As fur coats, or cloaks with furs, were generally worn, a problem with milliners was to create headwear that would harmonize not only with brilliant dress, but with a wrap of sable or mofeskin.

Furriers and cloak-makers shared in the fillip given London's dressmaking industry by the wedding and the season of social functions incidental thereto. Model cloaks of apricot velvet embroidered in diamonds and jet and collared with white fox; of black velvet trimmed with kolinsky; of ermine allied with sable; of mole and gold brocade with a flounce of fluffy marabout strands and collars of the same material were seen.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

The idea that chemicals are injurious, merely because they are chemicals, is erroneous.

We live on chemicals. The air we breathe is a mixture of oxygen, nitrogen and certain inert gases, as is also the water we drink a chemical compound of hydrogen and oxygen.

Like most everything in the world, however, there are good and bad chemicals, as well as good and bad laundries.

The good chemicals are those we eat drink and breathe—the kind WE use in the laundry to keep us clean. The harmful chemicals are the poisonous gases and compounds we are all familiar with.

We would not think of using the harmful chemicals in our homes; why not give our clothing the same intelligent consideration, and send them to the laundry where this chemical principle is recognized, and where only the good chemicals are used?

Anaemia

Thin, watery blood is no more shining than thin, watery milk.

But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. F. C. Simmons, 42 Cur-St., Brantford, Ont., writes: "For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and was worried or irritated. There was a ringing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better, I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt better and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am now well, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I had this splendid medicine."

TORCHBEARER IN EDUCATION

Work of Sir William C. Macdonald Told About in Magazine.

The educational work done by the late Sir William C. Macdonald is the subject of an article in Every Woman's World for February. It says in part:

Of Sir William Macdonald's service to higher education it is sufficient to say here that he gave over $6,000,000 to McGill University proper. An equivalent sum went to the foundation, equipment and endowment of Macdonald College at Ste Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, a department of McGill with three distinct schools—of agriculture, of domestic science and for the training of teachers. The first of the three fulfills for the province of Quebec the function performed for Ontario by the Agricultural College at Guelph. In order that the latter might be rounded out in conformity with his theories of rural education Sir William provided, at a cost of nearly $200,000, the Macdonald Institute, consisting of two buildings for the teaching of domestic science and manual training respectively.

The effect of the work of the College at Ste Anne and the Institute at Guelph upon the welfare of the people of the two provinces is generally recognized and not a little of the qualifying prosperity and the improved standards of living in the country parts of Ontario and Quebec can be traced directly to their operation and their influence.

Towns and Cities.

It was in the middle nineties, the period in which he presented to McGill the splendid group of buildings which house the Faculty of Applied Science, that Sir William's desire to effect an improvement in the rural schools of Canada led him for help in the way of plan-making and administration. Dr. Robertson, who was first principal of Ste Anne College, was later in the service of the Federal Government and is now the chief commissioner of Boy Scouts for Canada, advised as a first step the establishment of manual training centres in the elementary schools of towns and cities to which the country people looked for guidance. Sir William demurred at first, saying that the urban schools were already too good in comparison with those of the country, but he finally admitted the cogency of Dr. Robertson's argument that the country would copy the city's example if the experiment were successful. He furnished the funds to establish manual training centres in the public schools of twenty-one cities and towns, extending from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia, and to maintain them for three years, twenty-seven special teachers were brought in, mostly from England, and they trained others. By 1904 the local authorities on the several provinces had taken over and extended the work which has been retained as an important part of their school systems.

Generally speaking, spasmodic advertising is as silly as spasmodic eating.

HOW LUGGAGE THIEVES OPERATE IN LONDON

Two classes of luggage thieves operate at the London railway stations. The opportunist, a criminal, is always on the lookout, and depends largely on his skill in estimating the financial position of the person he intends to victimize. Another class carefully plans the coup in advance. For example, a Brighton woman, who had travelled by Pullman to Victoria, had two cases of luggage deposited on the platform by a porter when an elderly man who had travelled up in the same carriage, politely accosted her, and said that she had forgotten her muff. Actually she had no muff, but she was sufficiently impressed to return to the Pullman to see if she had left anything behind. When she returned her luggage had gone. It appears that during the owner's absence the cases were taken to a taxicab by a porter in good faith, and an elderly man dressed in a dark overcoat and a velvet hat promptly got in and told the driver to go to Victoria street. When the driver asked for the number he impatiently told him to go on, saying he would tell him where to pull up. Yet another dodge of the luggage thief is to cut the straps holding luggage to the back of a motor-car, and to pick up the packages as they fall. Some luggage thieves are known to have motor-cars at their disposal for such operations.
