LAUNCH SEIZED AND WHISKY

Array of Bottles Now Displayed in Office of Chief of Provincial Police.

LARGE QUANTITY LIQUOR

Gasboat C-5 Arrived Here Yesterday From Swanson Bay in Charge Constable.

There is a goodly array of bottles of Scotch whisky and Jamaica rum in the office of the provincial police and the odor of liquor pervades the whole of the courthouse building. In addition to that Ernest Farrel of Vancouver is out on bail after having been charged this morning in the police court with being in possession unlawfully of 402 bottles of whisky and four bottles of Jamaica rum, and remanded. The fine motor boat C-5 is also in charge of the police tied at the government wharf, and this boat is liable to confiscation under the act if the case against Farrel is proved.

According to the information provided by the police, the C-5 with Farrel aboard and the liquor was seized at Swanson Bay by Constable Gilles of the provincial police on April 13. By order of the attorney-general she was brought here, arriving yesterday afternoon.

From the same source it is learned that the C-5 left Vancouver March 13 and picked up 30 sacks of bottles of liquor at Point Atkinson. Each sack contained approximately a case. When the boat was seized she had only 19 sacks of liquor left. This was taken to the police office and sorted and is there yet.

The C-5 is a fine launch valued at $14,000 and Farrel is said to have a mortgage on her of between four and five thousand dollars.

CHANGES EXPLAINED

In again presenting the estimates, Ald. Dybhavn, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that under miscellaneous expenditure an additional $2,500 had been put in since Tuesday night to provide for the municipal free library. The sum of $2,500 had been deducted from the hospital estimate to be made up for by share of liquor profits. These two items thus offset each other making the same total as before for miscellaneous estimates. It had also been decided to add $10,427 to the amount to be raised by general levy, freeing the utilities of this amount. This would cause the change in the mill rate from 35.6008 to 37.3182.

Ald. Kerr inquired as to the estimate of $1125 in the engineering department for a draftsman.

Ald. Dybhavn explained that this sum had practically been already all expended in connection with relief. There had been a combination of the offices of draftsman and officers in charge of relief work.

Ald. Kerr said that the Board of Works had had nothing to do with that.

Mayor Rochester stated that the man who had been in charge of relief work had been a draftsman and was being used so that it would not be necessary to confine the city engineer to his office now that important outside work was in progress.

Ald. Silversides pointed out that the mayor had opposed such an officer last year. Why was (Continued on Page 4)

Mill Rate For 1922 Is Set at 37.3182 Estimates Adopted

The city estimates for the year 1922, totalling $316,209.29 gross and with $89,600 revenue deducted therefrom, leaving a net total of $226,609.29, were last night adopted by the council in special session and a levy bylaw providing for a mill rate of 37.3182 was given its first reading. The raising of the mill rate from 35.6008, as brought down in the original presentation of the civic budget, was occasioned by the decision of the council late on Tuesday night to add $10,427 to the amount to be raised by general taxation, which was at first to have been charged against the utilities. The council sat for about an hour in committee on the estimates but no changes were made further than had been decided upon the evening previous.

The mill rate, as revised, provides for the following divisions: general, 19.5688; schools, 9.4522, special, 8.2992. No levy will be made against the telephone, light and water departments they being placed on a self-maintaining basis. The total valuation of land on which the assessment is to be made is $8,165,914 which includes property of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co., exempted under the agreement by-law passed by the ratepayers at the polls last month. The net total of $226,609.39 includes a special levy of $56,790.39 on money debts.

The rate bylaw provides for a penalty of 10 percent if taxes are not paid by July 3, 1922, and an additional penalty of 5 percent, total 15 percent, if not paid by October 2, 1922. Automatically under the Act 8 percent is penalized if not paid by December 31, 1922 and a minimum of $1 taxation on single parcels of land is provided. The rate bylaw will come up for final adoption at the next meeting of the council.

STORK OPPOSES DAYLIGHT BILL

Says Joshua Was Only Person Who Succeeded in Contest With Father Time.

OTTAWA, April 20.—"The only person who ever succeeded in a contest with Father Time was Joshua," said Fred Stork of Skeena in the House of Commons last night in the course of a debate on the proposal to prohibit daylight saving throughout Canada.

Mr. Stork said the daylight saving scheme had proved a failure and made for confusion and interference with such matters as fire insurance policies. His speech on the motion by W. F. Kay, member for Missisquoi, was unfinished when the house adjourned and the debate was put over until a future date.

The general trend of the debate is opposed to the daylight saving scheme.

The minister of railways announced a complete pension scheme for employees of the National Railways was now under consideration.

Large Increase In City Taxes.

The large mill rate shown in the report of the meeting of the city council last night will come as rather a surprise to many, who did not realize that the increase would be so large. An upward jump of approximately seven mills in one year, with the prospect of a still greater increase next year, is not an alluring prospect, but we are assured that it is necessary for the proper carrying on of the city affairs. It certainly must give us pause and make us consider carefully before advocating any further expenses. The difficulty with capital expenses is that they have to be taken eventually from current revenue, only the payments are spread over a term of years.

Increases Are Accounted For.

What everybody wants to know is, why are there increases and where is the money going? Alderman Dybhavn was asked that question and very patiently explained the situation. It seems that the general rate this year is slightly less than last year. The cost of conducting the affairs of the city this year is expected to be less than last year.

The increases come from various quarters. About three mills is accounted for by increases in the cost of education. The school estimates have jumped from $63,000 in round figures to $81,000. That is the chief item.

Another large jump is in the fixed charges on bylaws authorized by the people, the largest of which is the new school at Hays Cove Circle, on which a large sum more will have to be spent this year. The water extension bylaw also comes in this group, accounting for about two mills in all.

Another charge, which it is more difficult to understand, is made by the shifting of obligations from one department to another. It seems that the waterworks has always been financially a burden to the city. It has not paid its way. The debenture charges had to be taken care of by the city. Last year the excess of revenue in the light and power department was devoted to paying the shortage in the water department, but this year it has been shifted and will come out of general revenue so that reductions may be made in the light and power rates. The result is an addition to the rate of 1.7 mills. This is the case as we understand it. The water department pays only for operation, while the interest and sinking fund on something like $24,000 comes out of general revenue. The total debenture debt for light and power is $39,000, of which $15,000 is taken care of by the light and power department.

Supplies Light and Power to City.

In answer to a query from a ratepayer as to how the light and power department gets its revenue, it must be explained that in addition to the charges paid by private consumers of light and power, there is a charge made against all the city departments where light and power is used. For street lighting there is a charge of five cents per kilowatt hour. This is considered by some excessive and is likely to be reduced. A three-cent rate is considered by many to be a more correct charge for this service. Every department in the city where light and power is used pays revenue to the light and power department, so that the largest customer of the light and power department here is the city itself. There is a good deal of ignorance on the part of most citizens in regard to the affairs of the city and how they are conducted. We all jump at wrong conclusions because we do not know the facts. The Daily News is making an honest effort to get the facts for the public and give them publicity so that we may understand how our city is governed with a view to improvements.

CURIOUS LIFE OF THE EAST

Wife of C.P.R. Steamship Manager Tells of Recent Visit to Orient.

Vivid impressions of the life and color of the orient were assimilated by Mrs. Troup, wife of Capt. J. W. Troup, who returned on the Empress of Asia a few days ago after a three months holiday in Japan, China, Java, Korea and the Philippines. They were accompanied on their outward journey by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart, who remained a little longer in the Orient and will return home shortly on one of the Admiral Line boats.

Festival of Taipusam

Out of the kaleidoscopic background of beautiful scenery, strange sights and customs, teeming millions of natives and quaint costumes, one experience stands out pre-eminently in the memory of Mrs. Troup, that of the festival of Taipusam. This festival occurred in Singapore Straits Settlements, and followed shortly after the celebration of the Chinese New Year.

The festival of Taipusam celebrates the appearance in the dim and distant past of the god Subramanin to his devotees, and it is observed every year by the Chetty community with feasting and a lavish display of hospitality. Processions are formed and proceed from temple to temple, the participants carrying baskets of flowers and beads on their heads, with priests and incense-burners in elaborate ceremonial garb, and there is general rejoicing.

Mortify the Flesh

But in common with many of the Oriental religious cults, a number of its devotees proclaim their devotion by mortifying the flesh. To accidental eyes it is a harrowing sight to observe in the procession a number of Malays stripped to the waist and with their backs and arms lacerated with needles, from which were pendant what appeared to be large silver spangles. These needles were threaded through the flesh, but curiously enough Mrs. Troup, no blood was visible. Others had small spear-like wedges thrust through the upper lip and tongue or diagonally through the cheek and upper lip.

Silver Car Procession

Another harrowing sight accompanied the ceremony called the procession of the Little Silver Car. This beautiful little car, which as its name implies is elaborately fashioned of silver, is drawn by silver chains attached to a hook which is imbedded in the muscles of the back of the native to whom falls the honor of this sacred duty. The ceremonies lasted several days, finally terminating with a rite in which a number of fanatical devotees walked barefooted over live, glowing coals. As far as the travellers could ascertain, the undergoing of these ordeals entitles the devotee to the honor of wearing a silver band on his forehead, to show to the world that he had proved his devotion.

At Javanese Wedding

Of a different nature but equally interesting was an experience which the travellers met in Java at the town of Garoet when they were invited to attend a Javanese wedding. The ceremony took place in the house of the bride's parents, lasting three days. The bridal party was seated on a dais-like structure, the bride and bridegroom being elaborately costumed in bright colors but with their faces entirely painted with white, giving a grotesque, mask-like appearance. Two girls decked with flowers act as attendants on the bride couple and the wedding guests squatted around on the floor, each with his or her bowl of native meals before him, the delicacies being washed down with copious libations of native wine. Two native singing girls take part in the ceremony while the best man dances at frequent intervals.

Marriage Bonds Light.

A feature of the ceremonial is a scarf which is passed by the bridegroom to a member of the company who is then expected to dance. At the conclusion of the dance, the scarf is again handed on and the recipient again dances. In the event of the recipient being unable or unwilling to perform, he con-

A fresh, rosy complexion indicates perfect health. To secure this in most cases all that is necessary is to take one to three Royal Yeast Cakes a day for a few weeks.

Royal Yeast is a food. It supplies the water soluble vitamin which the diet may lack. Scientists tell us that this vitamin is essential to good health. Royal Yeast is highly beneficial in many cases in which the system seems to be run down. The yeast cakes simply add to the diet. It is a food - not a medicine.

Dissolve a Royal Yeast Cake in fruit juices or mix it with cereal and milk, and take it at meal time. The chances are in a few weeks the complexion will be clear. For children reduce the amount to one-half or one-quarter of a cake with each meal.

HEADS That Ache and Pain

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time. In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but no matter which organ is to blame the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS which has been on the market for the past forty-five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

Miss Clara Murphy, Centre Dummer, Ont., writes:—"My system was greatly run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another bottle and it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to some of my friends who were in a similar condition and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

The mayor replied to this that the man had been necessary to the proper handling of the office. It was not the intention to keep him all the time and he would go as soon as certain back work was cleaned up.

Board of Works Troubles.

A desultory discussion in regard to the affairs of the Board of Works was started when Ald. Kerr stated that the board had had nothing to do with the relief work at the Acropolis Grounds.

Ald. Collart thought it was strange that, as Ald. Kerr had suggested, the city engineer was not working under the Board of Works.

Ald. Kerr replied that all the work was now under way and there was nothing for the Board of Works to do. The city engineer had the power of firing and hiring all the men. He (the city engineer) had wanted a city superintendent and had asked advice of the Board of Works as to what pay would be given him but the Board had nothing to say as to who was to be engaged.

Mayor Rochester said that this was the first time he knew that the city engineer had nothing to do with the Board of Works.

Ald. Kelly said that if the Board of Works did not get control of the situation soon there would be something doing. However, they were getting away from the subject of estimates. He would like to know how much of the $10,000 set aside for relief work had already been expended and was told by the mayor that about $5,000 had been spent already.

Skimming Ratepayers.

"The mill rate is now placed at 37, as against 30 last year," said Ald. Collart. "That is too high and the estimates ought to be cut down as much as possible. Some items should not be charged such as $1500 for light and phones for the Utilities department. The police department's estimate is also too high. We should cut our cloth to our size for we are already spending too much. We are here to defend the ratepayers but we are skimming them. In the Finance Committee I have tried to cut down but I am only one against two so I cannot do anything."

Ald. Kerr said that, as far as the Board of Works was concerned, the estimates had been cut down as far as possible. He had heard of no reduction in the city hall staff by the Finance Committee. He had thought Ald. Collart would do something but so far he had been a joke.

Ald. Collart replied that he had done more than Ald. Kerr. He was there to look after the interests of the ratepayers but he was only one. He had been old that he was a "greenhorn" but he would sooner be that than dead wood. He was not the boss but somebody else was. If Ald. Kerr would give his help he (Ald. Collart) might be able to make more progress.

Perry Asks Questions.

Ald. Perry said that the estimates of the Board of Works and the Health department were important. Had they been approved by the Board of Works?

Ald. Kerr replied that the item of $1200 for a draftsman had escaped his attention. He doubted if it had been passed upon. He objected to a draftsman and thought the city engineer should stay in the office. The estimates had never been considered item by item by the Board of Works.

"Mr. Mayor, should they not have been approved by the Board of Works?" queried Ald. Perry. "Yes."

Ald. Perry then asked the Finance Committee if the estimates for general administration had been passed upon by them.

Ald. Dybhavn replied that he was at a loss to follow the arguments of some of his colleagues. These were merely estimates for the basis of a tax levy. The Finance Committee had been informed that they had been passed upon by the various committees. The actual expenditures would be up to the various committees. If the Board of Works could cut down on certain items no doubt it would be done and the same would be the case with the Finance Committee. He could not vouch for the estimates item by item.

Collart's Meaning.

Ald. Perry said that all the estimates of the Utilities Committee had been passed on item by item. What had Ald. Collart meant when he had said he had been only one against two?

Ald. Collart explained that he had told the Finance Committee he wanted to cut down wherever it was possible. He still thought that should be done.

Ald. Montgomery said that the statement had been made that the Board of Works had not examined its estimates. They had done so, however, and quite a little saving from last year had been effected.

Ald. Kerr challenged Ald. Montgomery as to the item for the draftsman having been included in the original estimates. "I am always the tail end of the Board of Works, anyway," he declared.

Mayor Rochester said that these were merely estimates and it did not follow that all the money would be spent. The draftsman was necessary sometimes and this man had also been engaged in connection with relief work. As soon as the relief work was over his services would be dispensed with.

Cross Sectioning.

Reference was then made by Ald. Kerr to some cross sectioning that had been ordered done on the Acropolis Hill. Mr. Black several weeks ago had reported that there was 2300 yards there. Considerable work was done since but there was still 2300 yards.

In reference to this, Ald. Montgomery stated that in his opinion there was still more rock there than had been reported at first. The first estimate given by the city engineer was 4000 yards. The complaint was generally made that the value was not received on relief work on account of the shifting of the employees. They did not give as much satisfaction or efficiency as men regularly employed.

Ald. Kelly stated that it had been the experience in the past that all the money provided in estimates was usually spent. Before finally passing on them there should be more time given. They had found that a chairman of one committee was not satisfied with the estimates of his department. Ald. Collart, of the Finance Committee, was not satisfied either. If he knew where reductions could be made it was desirable that he should tell the council.

Police Estimates.

Ald. Kelly also referred to the police estimates and was informed by the mayor that the council really had not control over these. City Clerk Woods also explained that an accurate estimate as humanly possible had come from the police commission. Conditions of today with more jail terms being served had made the expenditures greater.

The committee then arose and the estimates were adopted and the rate bylaw passed.

In the Letter Box

ROAD TO SKEENA RIVER.

Editor Daily News:

The many citizens of Prince Rupert have studied the report of the delegates to Ottawa with care and satisfaction. The concise clear statements of what was done by that delegation is of value in the future planning of business men and others.

However, from that report, we gather that there is no reasonable hope of any great development, except as the railway policy develops. While united effort and follow up of the work of the delegates as suggested by Mr. Manson is in order, irrespective of petty politics and provincialism, it is also just as important to get after something that will have an immediate effect on the business life and growth of the town.

It is suggested that the highway out of Prince Rupert, which you have urged quite often is the most feasible and is a proposal that can be placed before both Dominion and Provincial Government with utter fairness. The Dominion Government contribute 40 per cent to highway work on roads in the Dominion, and this road would no doubt get approval as a highway. The Provincial Government are spending considerable money on Southern paved highways, and surely Prince Rupert is entitled to also be considered.

The connection of Prince Rupert with the Skeena at Haysport would immediately form direct road connection with twelve canneries, and the town of Port Essington. Would more than double the present motor fleet of Prince Rupert. Would mean a daily bus service between Haysport and Prince Rupert. Would mean business for everyone.

It would also furnish much needed employment on the work of construction, and furnish that immediate development which is so necessary to the welfare of the town, while the great work planned for the future is, in course of materialization.

Coal bunkers, grain elevators, transpacific service cannot come in a day. The Prince Rupert, Skeena, Haysport Highway could be started tomorrow if the Provincial Government wills, and completed before the end of the year.

Hopping that Rupert agrees and will unite.

TERRACE EDITOR IS OPTIMISTIC REGARD TO FUTURE OF PLACE

Editor Chandler of the Terrace News, who was in the city yesterday, says people are still coming in to the Terrace district to settle. Just before he left there were two families, each with a car load of settlers' effects, arrived. He looks for a steady influx caused by the natural attraction of the place.

Oil is the great subject of conversation, he indicated. The piercing of the oil shale recently by the diamond drill at the Terrace Oils, Ltd., borings caused a flurry of excitement and all were now awaiting the result of the exploring of greater depths. Those directly concerned were very hopeful.

Aviator Prest Takes Off at Buffalo Today Bound 6,000 Miles For Siberia

In the "Polar Bear No. 2," a new machine equipped with the same Canadian Curtis 90-horsepower engine which he had here last year for the "Polar Bear No. 1," Clarence O. Prest, the Las Vegas aviator, is taking off from Buffalo, New York, today on a 6,000-mile flight from New York State to Siberia, resolute on this occasion to attain the goal for which he was bound last fall but failed to achieve on account of the destruction of his machine in a violent night windstorm at the Aeropolis Hill in Prince Rupert. Word to this effect was received by The Daily News in a letter from Aviator Prest yesterday in which he gives details as to his flight and his itinerary.

Aviator Prest has found it advisable to avoid the Canadian portion of his last year's trip for various reasons, one of which is the recent ruling of the Canadian Air Board, which makes stunt flying illegal. He had intended making the trip over much the same course this year and passing through Alberta and British Columbia, touching at Prince Rupert, but this route has been now abandoned. In the course of this year's flight the only Canadian points at which Mr. Prest intends to call are at White Horse and Dawson, in the Yukon Territory.

Stopping Places.
Starting from Buffalo, the "Polar Bear No. 2" will alight at Cleveland, Ohio; Byron, Michigan; Chicago, Illinois; Clinton, Iowa; Omaha, and North Platte, Nebraska; Cheyenne, and Rock Springs, Wyoming; Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah; Dillon, Butte, Helena and Shelby, Montana; Glacier Park, Idaho, and Spokane and Seattle, Washington. From Seattle, the "Polar Bear No. 2" will be shipped by boat to Wrangell, Alaska, where the flight will be resumed again. The northern stops will be at Skagway, White Horse, Dawson, Fairbanks, Ruby, St. Michael's and Nome. From Nome, Aviator Prest intends to fly across Bering Straits to Siberia as intended last fall.

An intended stop at Vancouver was prevented as the Air Board would not give the aviator permission to land there where there is no airfield.

Fun and Pictures.
The object of the trip, says Aviator Prest, "is to have some fun and to take moving pictures of interesting places along the way."

The "Polar Bear No. 2" is a standard airplane fitted with the same motor as was used in the unsuccessful dash at Siberia last year. The machine will carry 60 gallons of gasoline allowing for an hour and a half longer in the air but, since the machine is 10 miles per hour slower than the first "Polar Bear," there will be no greater range. Mr. Prest will travel alone this year

RAILWAY GIVEN ITS POWER RATE

Council Last Night Adopted Report Turned Down By It a Fortnight Ago.

COMPANY WILL GET ENERGY AT 4c TO 1c.

Adopting a recommendation of the superintendent of utilities and the utilities committee identically similar to the one which they threw out about a fortnight ago, the city council, at its special session last night decided to enter into a contract with the Canadian National Railways to supply electrical energy at the city boundary, near the present general offices, in bulk at 4c to 1c rate subject to changes in rates that may be brought in with the proposed new light and power bylaw and with a minimum provision of 81 per cent power per month. The report of the utilities committee followed the receipt of a second application from H. H. Eager, superintendent of rolling stock, asking that the Railway Co. be given one rate for power delivered in bulk from the city's primary lines instead of the several lines.

Mutual Advantages.

The company will accept the power from one point at the boundary of their property and will supply their own transformers and equipment for its distribution. The company at the present time is using 80 kilowatts and with the addition of the salmon dock, 70 kilowatts, and the station, 20 kilowatts, this will be raised to 170. It is also proposed by the company to do away with its own power plant at the round house and use city energy for its work there requiring an additional 45 kilowatts. The city, in giving the new rate will practically cut the price to the railway company in half but will be relieved of the necessity of putting in a $6500 investment for new transformers and line and also of a heavy overhead expense. Also the city, under this agreement, will have available for other uses transformers to the value of $1000, meters $150 and also wire and poles. It is expected that the revenue derived from the doubling of the company's consumption will be about equal to that now coming from the present demand and the city will be relieved of the high cost of installation of the line which it would otherwise have been necessary to build and also of the overhead.

Adoption of the utilities committee's report giving the railway company the new rate was moved by Ald. Dybhavn and seconded by Ald. Kerr and carried by the council, Ald. Collart and Ald. Montgomery voting against it. When the report came up at the council meeting two weeks ago those voting against it Mayor Rochester, Ald. McLeod, Ald. Collart and Ald. Montgomery. Ald. Collart and Ald. Montgomery stood their ground again on this occasion, Mayor Rochester did not have the opportunity of voting on account of the council giving it a favorable majority and Ald. McLeod was not present. Ald. Dybhavn was not present at the previous meeting and the proposition was turned down on a minority vote.

Duncan Explains.

In explaining the report, T. G. Duncan, superintendent of utilities, stated that the railway company was entitled to the double rate of 5.2c to 1.3c for light and 4c to 1c for power in any case. With the adoption of the 4c to 1c rate for delivery in bulk to the company the city would likely receive more revenue with the increased demand and the company would be put on a similar footing to Digby Island. If the city undertook to supply the energy from the secondary lines an expenditure of $6500 for new transformers and equipment would be necessary as well as a heavy overhead. If the new rate were adopted there would be recoverable for the city about $1000 worth of transformers, $150 of meters and poles and wire to small values from the present distributing lines over railway property. The revenue last year from the company had been $3503.03. Leaving out the round house but taking into account the ocean dock and the station the load would now be doubled and the city would receive as much under the 4c and 1c bulk rate as it was getting at present.

In inquiring as to the $6,500 expenditure that would be necessary if the city refused the bulk rate and undertook to deliver the power transformed itself, Ald. Collart questioned the policy of the city putting in equipment on the railway property in any case.

Legal Standpoint.

City Solicitor Hooper took the ground that the railway company was entitled to the 4c to 1c rate. Legally, he should think they could buy energy in the form of power and do what they wanted with it, transforming it to light if they saw fit.

Ald. Dybhavn said he could not fairly see where the company was not entitled to the 4c to 1c rate. It was a legitimate proposition called for under the bylaw.

Ald. Montgomery said that in view of the fact that the company had been getting the energy distributed where they wanted it on the railway property at the city's expense in the past he had doubt when they offered to distribute it themselves at 4c to 1c. There was at least sufficient reason to investigate. He considered they had been getting a fair rate. He did not think the council had ever sold in bulk before except to Digby Island. He had not been on the council when the rate was given to the Prince Rupert Lumber Co.

"Yes, you were," interjected Ald. Kerr.

Montgomery's Logic.

Ald. Perry said that there was no logic in Ald. Montgomery. He had the faculty of spreading a minimum amount of matter over a maximum amount of space. Surely if they were relieved of heavy cost of installation and overhead, the company was entitled to a power rate. Of course the policy might be first settled as to whether the city was to continue putting in equipment over private property.

Ald. Collart said he saw no reason why the railway should be given a 4c to 1c bulk rate when they would pay 5.2c to 1.3c for light. He was not prepared to give the company more than was coming to it. Ald. Kerr was of the opinion that as long as the company paid for the energy through the meter it made no difference what they used it for.

Favor Big Interests.

"I would like to know," asked Ald. Montgomery, "what proposition ever offered by a big company this council would buck or what proposition offered by a little fellow they would not turn down. The same policy is being adopted all the time. The revenue is being cut in two in this agreement and only $1000 in equipment is recoverable. A policy is being set that had never been set before. I am utterly opposed to the combining of two rates and more of the aldermen will oppose it before many months have passed. We might at least wait for a few weeks until the new bylaw is brought in."

With some cursory discussion as to the relation of this contract to the dry dock and the matter of minimum charges the discussion closed and the report was adopted on the division recorded.

Sport Chat

Ping-pong enthusiasts have reappeared in such numbers in England that plans are being formulated for the organization of an All-England club. It is proposed to have a clubhouse in London which will be capable of accommodating 16 to 25 tables where singles and four-handed games will be staged.

There is every evidence that the 1922 golfing season in England and the United States will be no less interesting than that of last year when teams of United States amateurs and professionals made organized attempts to annex English championships. "Jock" Hutchinson, world's champion, will arrive at Sandwich in June from Chicago to defend his title.

One of the most famous trainers of race horses in the world died at Newbury, England, in February. Perhaps no trainer ever had a larger number of famous and victorious race horses under his charge and their success shows evidence of the skill with which they were treated. Porter first became famous in the 80s.

Ross, Toronto, the famous Canadian turfman. Harry Payne Whitney of New York has entered seven thoroughbreds and E. R. Bradley of Kentucky eight.

The persistent exodus of leading British golfers from Great Britain to the United States continues to receive emphasis in the London press. A special correspondent in writing on the subject states: "It would seem to be a deliberate attempt to make a corner in the world's golfing talent. Human nature being what it is, there is nothing strange or unnatural in the craftsman selling his skill in the most lucrative market. Only a purely altruistic mind could dictate any other course. Unfortunately we live in a materialistic age." Referring to Hutchinson and Barnes as two British-born players, acknowledged masters, who have migrated to the United States, he reviews the list of others which he says is "not only a formidable but a startling one."

BANDITS BUSY RUSSIA TODAY

Outburst of Contempt for Law Follows Period Safety.

MOSCOW, April 18.—Soviet Russia has been swept by a wave of street banditism that rivals recent crime epidemics in the United States. Until a few months ago, Moscow surprised foreign visitors by the safety of its streets, even late at night, but now is no safer than New York or Chicago and the list of crimes is growing steadily, while Petrograd, Odessa, Kiev and other cities are reported to be even worse.

Holdups, burglaries, murders, in the principal streets and battles with the Moscow police have occurred in such great numbers that the Moscow Soviet has decreed that immediate steps shall be taken to "liquidate" the situation.

"Liquidation" of such situations in Russia generally means shooting on sight of persons caught in the act of robberies, or speedy execution after conviction.

One issue of the newspaper Pravda reported some fifteen holdups, several burglaries and the discovery of two bodies, apparently of persons who had been robbed, killed and thrown into cellars. Some of these affairs have occurred in the principal streets.

Rob Even Clothes.

Russian highwaymen generally take not only the money, jewelry and watches of their victims but also their outer and sometimes inner clothing, leaving them to run home naked or nearly so. Clothing is worth more than money in Russia.

Some of the highwaymen, according to reports, adopt quite polite manners. At Petrograd one bandit is said to have stopped a number of men in the street, asking them, politely, after pointing at their overcoats if they wished to buy the garments.

"Why buy. It is mine already," the victim would say.

"No," the robber replied, "it is now mine."

Emphasizing his remarks with a revolver, the robber generally "sold" his victims' coat to them for 7,000,000 rubles.

At Kiev one robber accosted his victim asking: "Have you seen a policeman around here?" Receiving assurances in the negative, he said: "Well, then, give me your overcoat."

Mrs. Chadwick, Delta, Ont., writes:—"I had palpitation of the heart, and the least exercise, such as going upstairs or up a hill, my heart would beat like a trip-hammer and at times I was dizzy-headed and had a sinking sensation as if my time were near."

"A friend suggested I try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, so I procured three boxes, and by the time the first one was used I began to improve. In all I took six boxes, and now although in my 66th year I feel like a young girl; no dizziness or heart-thumping, and can walk miles without fatigue. At time of my sickness I weighed 120 pounds, now I weigh 150."

FINE CHURCH SERVICE AT OCEAN FALLS WAS GIVEN EASTER SUNDAY

OCEAN FALLS, April 20.—The Easter Sunday services at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Ocean Falls, were well attended, a large number of communicants taking the sacrament at the morning services.

Evensong saw the snug little church crowded to the doors and even with the addition of several improvised seats, accommodation could not be found for all.

Rev. W. A. Grey officiated at all three services his sermon in the evening, with "The Resurrection" as his theme, being listened to with deep interest by all the worshippers. The anthem "Christ is Risen" was finely sung by the large choir, the members of which wore full vestment for the first time. Mrs. Godding is to be heartily congratulated upon her success at the organ, having been called upon at short notice owing to Mr. Milligan, the regular organist, leaving for Vancouver on Good Friday.
