

Germany Notified of French Plans to Seize Territory: Belgians Send First Troops: Germans are Hostile

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Germany was formally notified of the prospective seizure of the Ruhr district at four this afternoon when a French official visited the German embassy.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10.—The first Belgian troops put in motion for co-operation with the French in the occupation of Ruhr entered here this morning in four special trains for Aix la Chapelle. The force totalled 1800 men.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The British government granted the French permission to move troops through the British occupied territorial area along the Rhine in pursuance of the French plan for the occupation of Ruhr.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—No further advance by the French is reported from any point in the unoccupied area overnight or early today.

Are Anti-French

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A despatch from Cologne this afternoon says the attitude of the Germans in the British area is venomously anti-French. A large irresponsible section of the population favors active resistance and the wildest rumors are abroad. Fears are expressed lest the British and American troops should be withdrawn.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Local Anzeiger today says regiments of Lithuanian troops, profiting by the international situation, are crossing the frontier with the object of occupying Memel in the East Prussian area internationalized by the Treaty of Versailles. A number of the frontier inhabitants are accompanying the troops.

British Notified

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The French ambassador-informed the British government as a courtesy what steps France intends to take to occupy the Ruhr after January 15 when Germany defaults in her reparations payments.

The Government of London of course refuses to disclose the plans until the French government authorizes publication.

The British government is to have a special cabinet meeting to deal with the message. It views the situation with alarm. The Earl of Cavan, military chief of staff, who has just married, has postponed the honeymoon at the request of Premier Bonar Law and is remaining in London for the present.

The requisitioning of motor trucks and autos in the occupied area by the French is one of the preparatory measures toward the forward movement. German citizens in the Ruhr are calm and resigned.

PROSPECTORS ORGANIZATION

Admitted to Chamber of Mines at Vancouver by Resolution of That Body

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10.—Prospectors of British Columbia are to be affiliated as an association with the British Columbia chamber of mines. This was decided last night at the annual meeting of the chamber of mines when prospectors from all parts of the province were present.

By unanimous consent Frank E. Woodside was re-elected president of the chamber of mines. The vice-presidents were Valentine Quinn of Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Ltd. and H. P. McGraney.

Dease Lake is Great Placer and Quartz Mining Field but Transportation is Difficult

"The Dease Lake country is one of the best placer and quartz mining fields in the world and only lack of transportation is hampering its development on a large scale," declares George Adams, pioneer of the Atlin mining field who was in the city yesterday on his way south to Victoria where he will press on the provincial government the necessity of continuing the construction of a road from Telegraph Creek to open up the country.

Mr. Adams operates the only real mining plant in the Dease Lake country. The hydraulic machinery taken in there some years ago by Warburton Pike was taken over by a syndicate of three men some four years ago, and Mr. Adams is in charge of the placer gold and platinum mining operations which employ about 49 men. It is one of the biggest placer properties in British Columbia, Mr. Adams states.

Dease Lake is located about 140 miles from Telegraph Creek up the Stikine River and across the divide to the Mackenzie River basin of which it is a tributary. Transportation is a difficult matter and it is impossible to get big machinery in. There is a 22 miles of wagon road from Telegraph Creek to Toyon River where there is a good bridge. From this on to Dease Lake, however, for about 70 miles there is nothing more than a pack trail. The machinery at Mr. Adams' property includes about a mile of steel pipe and valves which was taken into the country at great expense by Warburton Pike. Mr. Adams says that the completion of the road to Dease Lake would not be a difficult matter.

There are prospectors in the Dease Lake country but they live principally by means of hunting and are not much use as far as mineral development is concerned. "It is the greatest country in the world for big game hunting," says Mr. Adams. "Sportsmen and sportswomen who go in there annually have ideal sport hunting caribou, moose, bear, sheep and goat which abound."

Mr. Adams generally comes out of the Dease Lake country for the winter but this is his second trip to the coast since he first went in four years ago. He usually spends the winter at Atlin of which camp he is a pioneer. The distance from Dease Lake to Atlin is 350 miles by pack trail or dog sleighs. The placer gold produced at Dease Lake is sent out by mail, a post office having been established there some three years ago. Speaking of the Atlin country where he spent Christmas, Mr. Adams reports that a Chicago syndicate has bought the Munro Mountain mine, between Atlin and Discovery, owned by Jimmie Stokes. It is a free milling gold proposition and it is the intention of the new company to put a staff of men there about February 1. There will be a large force at work during the summer months. Indications are that the option on the Engineer Mine held by a Cobalt syndicate will be taken up this year following the settlement of litigation, Mr. Adams says.

Atlin camp, generally speaking, did well during the past year, Mr. Adams states, and hydraulic outfit, particularly the Placer Gold Mines Ltd. of Seattle, on Ruby Creek, made good cleanups. The McKee Creek Hydraulic Co., which has been closed down for three years, will open up in the spring. Mr. Adams for fifteen years was manager of this property.

Placer on Creeks

Considerable individual placer mining is going on at Spruce Creek, the output of the camp coming largely from there at the present time. There is also a good deal of prospecting and Charles Miller has four men sinking a shaft and prospecting at Ruby Creek.

Mr. Adams sailed last night on the Venture for Victoria and will be back about the end of the month bound for Atlin. He is due at Dease Lake about March 1.

Property owners will cast nine ballots at the municipal election on Thursday and the general electorate, including householders and license holders as well as property owners, will cast six.

Besides the election of mayor, aldermen, police commissioner and school trustees, five bylaws will be presented. Two of these are referendums not involving the expenditure of money which all voters are entitled to vote on. The other three are money bylaws which only property owners are entitled to vote on.

The money bylaws are the $17,000 Hays Creek composite concrete, steel and timber bridge bylaw; the $25,000 water system extension bylaw, and the question of carrying out rough grading work in future under the local improvement plan on the basis of 50 per cent of the cost being charged against property abutting or benefited and fifty per cent against the city as a whole.

The referendums on which all electors may vote are the question of adopting daylight saving in the city during the months of August and September 1923 and the question of changing the present weekly half-holiday from Wednesday to Thursday afternoon.

Candidates Again Heard by Big Meeting at Westholme Theatre Called by Alderman Montgomery

The battleground of the civic election campaign last night was in the Westholme Theatre where a meeting was held in the interests of Ald. Montgomery's candidature for the mayoralty. The place was well filled and issues of the day were fought out. Ald. Montgomery was the speaker of the evening and the other two mayoralty candidates, Ald. John Dybhavn and Ex-Mayor S. M. Newton, were also given the opportunity of speaking besides a few aspirants for other offices. Civic reorganization and the Booth School affair proved to be the two principal points of discussion while the proceedings were enlivened somewhat by the attacks of Ald. Montgomery and Mr. Newton on each other's past records in civic government matters. T. Ross Mackay was chairman.

Record Open Book
"You know me and my record is as an open book," said Ald. Montgomery in opening. "I intend to do all I can to become mayor of this city. There are some obstacles in my way the first of which is the feeling held by some of the electors that they want a man from a different sphere of life to become the head of the city. You have had men from different vocations—brokers, hardware men and publicans—and have they been a success. No, because the city has not been a success. They have not looked after the city's business as they would their own. It takes an independent man without business interests to be a successful mayor. I am independent and my record shows it. I have made a study of civic affairs and have many years' experience. Today the city is facing one of the worst years in its history. People are leaving and the future of the city is almost in the balance. Whether this port is to be used or not is the question. If the railway is a success so will be the city. Likewise if the railway goes down so will the city. Anything the city can do to assist the railway will be in the best interest of the city."

Not Member of Clubs
"Am I a suitable person to become mayor? I am not a member of clubs and societies and do not attend balls. That is because I cannot afford them, not because I am not sociable. Regarding the entertainment of Sir Henry Thornton, for instance, I think he is above these things. I think he would be more sympathetic to me as a member of the working class than of the upper class. He will not cancel his development plans for this port because I am mayor any more than he would make plans because one of my opponents happened to be mayor. He will look at it in a broader light than that. Jack is as good as his master as long as he delivers the goods and the mayor of this city should be a practical man. I am out for the School Board as well as the mayoralty. Last year my attitude was critical on the Booth School affair to the best of my ability and, I think, to the best interests of the city. If I am elected to both offices I will be able to examine into everything in connection with the Booth School. Everyone should be satisfied that I am in favor of an investigation so that such occurrences may be prevented in future. From the beginning to the end the school trustees have been responsible, for did they not accept the plans and engage the contractor and architect. Today the Booth School stands as a monument of their ignorance."

Hays Creek Bridge
Ald. Montgomery asked for support of the Hays Creek bridge bylaw, the changing of the weekly half holiday from Wednesday to Thursday afternoon, the adoption of daylight saving for August and September, and the 50 per cent local improvement bylaw. Speaking of the water extension bylaw, he said "this would be a matter for the voters to decide themselves and he would offer no advice. The speaker defended the dump system of garbage disposal instead of the building of

FREIGHT RATES HEARING IS OFF

Delayed Because C.P.R. Officials Cannot be Present it is Said

VICTORIA, Jan. 10.—Premier Oliver's fight for lower freight rates, which he intended to wage before the privy council on January 25 has been postponed, following a message received by the premier who was just about to leave for Vancouver yesterday afternoon en route East. A date in February is suggested.

The reason for the postponement is that officials of the C.P.R. are scattered over the country, making it impossible for them to reach Ottawa in time for the meeting.

Premier Oliver will not cancel the trip but will go to the capital as planned in an effort to continue his fight against rates which it is claimed are discriminatory.

Sizing Up The Situation.

Electioners will by this have had every opportunity to size up the civic political situation. There are three men offering their services for mayor, each has given service either as alderman or mayor and each is well known in the city, having lived here for many years. There is no speculation about either of them. All have records.

In addition to the records of the past there is the position each takes in regard to the future. This position it is a little difficult to state tersely. Each professes to favor economy but some of the candidates are more specific than others. As each is in a position, owing to experience, to know just what he will do, it might be well to get the candidates down to cases. Just where will they economize and how much? Will there be economy in the police, fire, light, power, accounting, engineering or what departments? There never yet was a candidate at any election, civic, provincial or Dominion who did not say he was in favor of economy. What the people want now is a great deal more economy than we have been getting. They are asking that city affairs shall be conducted in a similar manner to the affairs of a private business. Taken on that basis, how will the candidates size up?

Criticisms are made of Alderman Dybhavn because he has a slight Norwegian accent, of Alderman Montgomery because his grammatical construction is not always quite in accordance with the latest books on the subject, and of Mr. Newton because he has said a lot of nasty things about people in his paper. None of these things count much in the administration of civic affairs and yet they are accentuated as if they were the important things. Administrative ability is what counts. How will either of these men conduct the affairs of the city so that we may get the most for our money and may not appear ridiculous in the eyes of the world?

Other Positions In Administration.

Much depends upon the type of aldermen chosen as to what kind of civic government we shall get during the coming year. While there is a labor ticket in the field most elections will not adhere to any ticket but will choose the men they think most likely to serve the city well, irrespective of party affiliations. That is true to a large extent in all elections. Those who have taken part in counting ballots know how divided is the vote, especially in a city where there are several candidates. Very few people vote the full ticket.

While the mayor has a good deal of power and influence in the council, it is the aldermen who have the most say. A majority of good aldermen can carry on the business well no matter what the mayor is like. The mayor is chairman of the police commission and is the chief executive, but he has no power to spend money without a vote of the council and in committee work he is on a level with any alderman.

Germany Getting Fruits Of Defeat.

Germany is getting what is coming to her. That is a very common opinion here. Possibly she deserves a great deal worse than she is getting, especially in view of the evident effort she has been making to evade her reparations payments.

The British view seems to be that revenge should have no place in the after war negotiations. She has always treated defeated nations with great liberality and she was ready to do the same with Germany, taking the ground that punishment was not the object of the war. Also she realizes that to trample on a nation that is down injures the trampler as much as the trampled. To force Germany into national bankruptcy will injure the whole world, just as a large firm going bankrupt injures a city.

The position of France and Belgium is of course different from that of Britain in that they are close neighbors of Germany and they suffered much more during the war owing to their countries being invaded. Naturally they want to avoid a repetition of the invasion of 1914 and succeeding years.

"My Hands Trembled and I Could Not Sleep"

Mr. Thomas Honey, Brantford, Ont., writes:—

"When I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I was so nervous that when I picked up a cup of tea my hand would tremble like a leaf. I could not sleep well, could not remember things, and there were neuralgic pains through my body. After taking seven boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am in perfect health."

The Man in the Moon SAYS—

EVERY little ballot has a meaning all its own. Just mark your cross in right. So you'll not have cause to moan.

I AM feeling very bad to think nobody has asked me to be a candidate for mayor or pound-keeper or something or other.

THEY don't ask me because they think I know too much about moonshine.

THE worst about elections is that so many of the candidates have to be defeated.

IT will soon be time for some of the civic candidates to cast about them for reasons for their defeat.

SINCE we cannot all be elected let us all be as happy as we can while we live in hope.

IT will be consolation to some of the candidates who go down to know that even Turkey had a fall this Christmas.

"I AM IT; vote for me."

TOMORROW is the day. On the way in which you vote will depend the fate of your vote, whether it will be for the winner or loser.

THE latest betting returns give two to one against the field for either of the mayoralty candidates.

THERE are just three mayoralty candidates who are bound to win in this contest, judging by the enthusiastic backers of each.

IN the big race tomorrow all are off to a good start and will keep going strong until they pass the judge's tape at seven p.m.

Had Constipation for 6 Months Was Relieved by Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mrs. R. C. Hunt, Port George, N. S., writes:—"I have been troubled by being constipated for the last six months."

"My tongue has been terribly coated, so much so that it made my breath bad. I was talking to a friend about it, and she advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, which I did, and now I am perfectly well. My tongue is as smooth as it was before I got that way, and I owe it all to your Pills, of which I only used two vials."

Price 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RAYS

At an early hour this morning, moans and groans were heard apparently emanating from a little bed-room chamber above the Empire Office on 3rd Avenue. No particular attention was paid however, as it was supposed that "Billy," that faithful little terrier of the Editor's, had perhaps over-eaten himself, and would sleep it off. Going closer to the building, a human voice uttered something unintelligible, and then with a burst of despair: "Oh dear!" Every day, and in every way, I am getting weaker, and WEAKER."

Frank Davies, accountant for the Albin Fisheries, returned to the city on the Prince George this afternoon after having spent a holiday at Victoria.

G. B. Johnson, charged with drunkenness, was fined $50 with the option of thirty days imprisonment by Stipendiary Magistrate J. H. McMullin in the city police court this morning.

You are invited to Newton's Public Meeting in the Empress Theatre tonight at 8 o'clock. All candidates are also invited. The first part of the meeting will be left in the hands of the audience to either speak or ask questions.

FOR THE CHILDREN

CANDIDATES AGAIN HEARD BY BIG MEETING AT WEST-HOLME THEATRE CALLED BY ALD. MONTGOMERY.

The Fire Hall, he felt, could not be curtailed and there had already been a cutting down in the health department. There was room for economy in the police department. Four men should be enough and they should be in plain clothes. He was opposed to donations and felt that they should be made only as necessity arose. There should not be blanket donations at the beginning of the year.

The electric light department was more expensive than it should be. The lowest production prices should be obtained and the consumers should get the benefit of surpluses instead of general fund. There was also something wrong in the telephone department. It used to pay $8,000 or $10,000 a year. Now it only paid $1,000. If charges were made against it that should go against other departments this policy should be abandoned and the system brought back to its proper position.

Taxes Too High

Ald. Montgomery reiterated his former declaration that taxation had reached the high water mark in 1912 under Mayor Newton. It was true that the mill rate was then not as high as it is today but he would point out that the total of assessable property then was $17,000,000 as against $6,000,000 today. That being the case a mill rate of 21 then would be 60 today. He was against high assessments. This year the assessment had been reduced a million dollars but if the strictest economy were not employed there would have to be an improvement tax, for the rate would otherwise exceed the 20 mill rate as set out by law. That could be avoided, however, by the cutting down of expenses. Ald. Montgomery gave figures for the expenditures in various years of the past as follows: 1914, $240,000; 1915, $190,000; 1916, $147,000; 1917, $127,000; 1918, $154,000; 1919, $175,000; 1920, $254,000; 1921, $270,000; 1922, $267,000.

"Mr. Newton has been mayor before and I served under him as alderman and I say it sincerely that I would be sorry for anyone else who had to." He then referred to the trip of the Ex-Mayor and the chairman of the finance committee to Montreal which had cost the city $1500 each. They had made a deal at that time with the Bank of Montreal and wired back a certain result. When they returned to the city they reported something different to the effect of $10,000 or so. Then they had to wire back to Montreal to ascertain exactly what they had done. Such things as these were against his character as a candidate.

The Only Man

"Referring to Ald. Dybhavn, I would say that he has been ten years on the council and has had ample time to study economy and efficiency but the past two years have been the most expensive in the history of the city. He offers no promises now and says only that he will deal fairly and squarely. Ald. Dybhavn, I say, cannot bring down expenses judging from his past record unless it is by a miracle. I say that neither Ex-Mayor Newton or Ald. Dybhavn can give you a change and if you want a change you must accept me. By electing either of the other two gentlemen you are going on the course to bankruptcy."

E. H. Maynard took the platform to question Ald. Montgomery as to the flooding of basements of houses on Ninth Avenue and the closing of Sixth Avenue East to traffic. The reply to the first question was that he (Ald. Montgomery) lived himself on the lowest point of Ninth Avenue. The dam in McClymont Park in 1921 had caused basements to be flooded out. It had been removed in 1922. Sixth Avenue had been closed down because the whole street was rotten. Limbs had now arrived and plans were under way for fixing it up. The question of rough grading had been left to the 1923 council.

S. M. Newton

Ex-Mayor Newton, in opening, reiterated his promise in regard to an investigation into the Booth School investigation. He defended his trip to Montreal in 1912 and told something of the circumstances of it. "I will hurl back into his teeth the statement that his obstructive tactics in the council during our absence was more responsible for the cost of the trip than we were and laid it not been for his actions at that time, we would not have had to stay there one-third of the time we did. When we did return home the council adopted unanimously the agreement that we had made with the Bank of Montreal."

Mr. Newton said that Ald. Montgomery had had the past year in the council to rectify errors and had failed. What could be expected if he was sent into office?

If the city was to advance, Mr. Newton said, they must get down to a broader basis. They had been talking about little things and overlooking the big questions. If energy had been used in the past in dealing with the big things, the city would not be in the stagnation that it was today. The speaker referred to the Community League at Anyox and the value of such institutions to a city. Present conditions could be remedied by means of public meetings which he intended to institute if elected. "We need the community spirit here. Let us get away from the political bugaboo and unite our uniform policies and aims and then we can achieve results."

Ald. Dybhavn

Ald. Dybhavn said that it was not his intention to introduce mud slinging into the campaign. He had been associated with the civic employees for many years but had no alliances with any of them. If he was elected reorganization would be based with the best interests of the city the deciding factor. He referred to the retrenchment policies of the 1916 council of which he had been a member. Living costs were chiefly responsible for the present high costs of administration.

The future of the city depended largely on the future attitude of the railway company. The city had been living on expectations but could not go on much longer doing that. The year 1923 would probably tell the future of the city. It was very important that the city should take a friendly attitude toward the Canadian National Railway. Mr. Newton had in the past taken a decided stand through his paper against the railway company. Ald. Montgomery had also been antagonistic. Were they, therefore, the men to deal with the question at this time?

There must be activity at the dry dock and the waterfront and industries must be secured. The city must have something more than it had at present. Something must be done towards securing additional power if industries were to come in. In connection with the fisheries question he would do his best and, if necessary, send a delegation to Ottawa to urge the removal of the tariff.

Regarding the Booth School, the witnesses were now spread all over the country. Some were in the Old Country and others in California. If a full investigation could not be obtained it would not be much use to have one at all. He doubted the advisability of it unless there could be recovery of damages.

"You know my record and I think I have already laid the issues of the day clearly before you. In the best interests of this city I would ask your support at the polls on Thursday."

Montgomery's Reply

In replying to criticisms made of him, Ald. Montgomery said the most serious seemed to be that he had not been fair to the city employees. He claimed that the officials had not given the mayor and council information that should have been submitted to them. For instance, the mayor had not been apprised of the total of Booth School expenditures and had been criticized for not keeping track of them, a matter which was clearly the duty of the city officials concerned.

Regarding Mr. Newton's advocacy of boosting the city, he would like to take issue with him on that question.

"Through his paper he had given the most stuns to this city and the town has been disgraced through the publication on the outside that this city was the sinkhole of the province. When our director of the Canadian National railway was charged, did we see Mr. Newton rise to support him as he should have done in the best interests of the city. I never saw it.

"If I am elected I hope to carry out the office of mayor in a strong and straightforward manner as in the past and if possible improve on my past record."

George B. Casey, candidate for school trustee, outlined his policy in that regard and said that he was out for stricter economy and a full investigation into the Booth School affair. He also went on to deal with civic reorganization and charged the present council with gross unfairness in dealing with the officials. Overtime had been referred to but he would say this was necessary on account of the dilatory methods of the present council and the employees were not to blame for it. The council had made itself a disgrace to the community in making civic reorganization an election issue.

George M. Sutherland, candidate for police commission and school board, George Rud-durham, candidate for council and school board, Ald. George Kerr, Ald. R. A. McLeod, and W. H. Sherman also spoke briefly.
