PARIS CONFERENCE BREAKS DOWN TODAY

THIRTY MISSING AS RESULT OF BRIDGE COLLAPSE IN WASHINGTON TOWN

Following Presentation of French Ultimatum, Reparations Parley is Dissolved Without Accomplishment

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Following a virtual ultimatum read by Premier Poincaré, of France, calling upon the British to say "yes" or "no" to the French reparations propositions or else discontinue the discussions, the Allied reparations conference here broke up shortly before 7 o'clock this evening.

The first session of the conference today adjourned at 4:30 following the reading of Premier Poincaré's statement.

Shortly before the time for the second session of the day, the Italian delegation deposited fresh propositions in a final attempt to save the conference from breaking down. Their efforts were, however, unsuccessful.

The opening session was delayed by the late arrival of the Italian delegates who had been awaiting a reply to a telegram to Premier Mussolini. The reply instructed the Italians to reject the British reparations plan.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 3.—Suit is about to be entered in the Vancouver courts by a company known as the Silver Ores Incorporated against the Premier Gold Mining Co. for the purpose of recovering title to certain Salmon River mineral claims known as the Premier Extension Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, the Extension Fraction, the True Blue and the Gloria Fraction. The suit is to be launched by J. A. Campbell, of the firm of Gougeon, Campbell & Meredith, of Vancouver, acting on instructions from A.A. THEATREGOERS PLUNGED IN TORRENT WHEN SPAN AT KELSO HIT BY LOGS

KELSO, Wash., Jan. 3.—A score of people are missing following the collapse last night of a wooden suspension bridge over the Cowlitz River which was swollen with a flood and filled with swirling logs from a boom jam which suddenly broke.

Five automobiles, four horses and wagons and two motor lorries went into the flood with the collapse of the bridge and were lost. Most of the drivers were apparently drowned.

The town of about 3,000 population was plunged into darkness by the failing of the lighting system and the injured were pulled out of the river in darkness. Six were seriously hurt.

The list of missing includes men, women and children all of whom were local residents. About 100 people were on the bridge at the time of the collapse coming and going to the theatre. The exact number of persons hung into the water cannot be ascertained. Scores swam to safety or were picked up in boats.

The town of Kelso is located in south-western Washington near the confluence of the Columbia and Cowlitz Rivers. It is on the line of the Northern Pacific Railway between Seattle and Portland and is about 50 miles from the latter city. The Pacific Highway also passes through the town.

Failing Withdrawal of Tariff, Canadian Fishermen Recommend Tonnage Tax on U. S. Halibut

"Whereas the advantages accorded to foreign fishermen operating in North Pacific waters and marketing their fish through Canadian ports are working to the grave disadvantage of Canadian fishermen, and whereas the duty of 2c per pound levied on Canadian fish entering the United States is forcing Canadian fishermen out of the fish business.

"Be it resolved that this mass meeting of fishermen assembled in the city of Prince Rupert request the government of Canada to immediately use its good offices at Washington with a view to having the two-cent tariff removed and at the same time remove the Canadian tariff of 1c a pound on American fish entering into Canada, failing which a port tonnage tax of 2c a pound on all fresh fish landed at the port of Prince Rupert from all boats not of Canadian or British registry be imposed thereby equalizing the handicap placed on Canadian products and industries."

The foregoing was the substance of a resolution adopted at the meeting of Canadian fishermen and representative citizens held in the council chamber last night. George W. Nickerson in the chair. The committee presenting the resolution was also instructed, on motion, to follow up the resolution and do all necessary to bring the matter to a successful conclusion submitting to the government the essential information causing the presentation of the resolution. Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the city council, Board of Trades and Labor Councils for their favorable consideration and adoption and a suggestion was made and favorably received that the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union circulate a petition throughout its branches requesting the removal of tariffs and adoption of reciprocity in the matter of fresh fish trade.

Immediate Action Wanted

There was a large attendance at the meeting and the consensus of opinion was that immediate action should be taken towards the removal of the handicap to Canadian fishermen caused by the United States tariff. The original resolution presented by the committee did not include the clause asking for the removal of the fish tariffs but asked for the imposition of the 2c tonnage tax straightaway. The reciprocity clause was moved in the form of an amendment by W. E. Williams and seconded by Ald. W. H. Montgomery. There was at first some objection to the clause on the grounds that it would delay matters but, after considerable discussion, it was adopted and ordered to be included in the main resolution as set out.

In speaking to the resolution on behalf of the committee, Ald. Montgomery stated that the matter had been taken up from different angles and it had been decided on advice that it would not be to the best interests of the city to close the port to American fishermen. A port tonnage tax was the only remedy for it would not debar foreign boats and would keep the city and the railway in the same position as formerly. It would place the Canadian and American fishermen landing catches here on the same basis.

Tariff Removal Clause

W. E. Williams, in moving the amendment to insert the tariff removal clause, said that the imposition of a port tonnage tax would possibly be treated as an unfriendly act. The insertion of the clause would only strengthen the hands of the fishermen in achieving the desired end of equalization. Moreover, the 2c. tonnage tax would undoubtedly be opposed by Vancouver interests for it would drive American boats proposing to land their catches there to Seattle.

W. J. Thomas was absolutely opposed to the clause on the grounds that it would only delay matters. The United States government had not considered friendliness when the 2c. tariff had been imposed. If something was not done immediately all the Canadian fishermen would be out of business by May.

Mr. Nickerson and Fred Stork, M.P., also expressed favor for the amending clause and Ald. Montgomery stated his approval of it.

On the amendment being put it was carried, W. J. Thomas only dissenting.

FISHERMEN'S PETITION

Jack Goomb's suggested that a petition for fish reciprocity be circulated among the branches of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union and that it be forwarded to Washington and Ottawa. J. H. Meagher, local secretary of the Union approved of this and stated his willingness to launch the petition. "The American fishermen are certainly not in favor of the tariff," he declared.

Fish Shipments Make Heavy Express Traffic.

A report issued by the Canadian National Railways on the year's business states that the shipment of fish in carload lots was the most important factor of the company's express traffic in 1922. Twelve hundred carloads were handled during the year and over 4100 of these were despatched from Prince Rupert for Eastern Canada and the United States.

1922 City Fathers' Champion Talkers.

For vain discussions on trivial matters, the 1922 city council holds the palm of recent years. On several occasions the current city fathers have reminded their listeners of the early days when city affairs were in their infancy.

It is well that important public questions should be thoroughly discussed and thrashed out in the open but there is a lot of matter that has no business being brought up in the council chamber. There are certain questions that should be decided upon in committee.

While it is not desirable that the council should do all its business in a stereotyped manner, there should be a certain amount of parliamentary dignity observed. The 1922 city fathers have been lacking in this respect.

Clear Enunciation Of Reparations Problem.

Premier Bonar Law, in his speech at Paris, prior to the opening of the premiers' conference, clearly set forth the issue with which the Allies are faced on the reparations question. Great Britain, seeking economic rehabilitation for Germany by means of outside assistance, and France, resolved on occupation of the Ruhr valley and other sections without further delay unless the Germans immediately settle up, represent the two extremes.

Poultry Meat Not A Luxury.

Poultry meat has dropped in price to such an extent that its general use should be more seriously considered. Viewed from the economic as well as the scientific standpoint of nutrition it is worthy of a higher place and more frequent use in the daily diet than it has been accorded.

The question of the value of poultry meat for food has been given attention by chemists at various times. Results of their researches have been published from time to time. Analyses have been made of the flesh of practically all kinds of domestic fowl and these furnish a basis for comparison of poultry meats with other articles of human food.

Poultry as a whole (especially chickens and geese) with the low price and high muscle forming properties, the easily digested and palatable qualities makes the ideal meat food for everybody, particularly for those in offices and for invalids and children.

Who First Felt Like A Fighting Cock?
COCK-FIGHTING was born with the cocks. But it is only 80 years ago that the first man felt "like a fighting cock!"

Now he has brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, all over the world—all feeling "like a fighting cock!"
It happens this way: A person half-sick with bad stomach, dull and heavy headache, takes Beecham's Pills just before going to bed. Immediately the Pills begin to harmonize the digestive and eliminative organs.

Consequently, this person has a good night's sleep and arises in the morning with clear brain, bright eye, keen appetite, and full of energy for work and play.
It is now just 80 years since Beecham's Pills first began correcting disordered stomachs and stirring sluggish livers and bowels to natural activity—and feeling "like a fighting cock" is associated as inseparably with Beecham's Pills, as the pills are with good health.

LESS CRIME IN CITY IN 1922

Cases in Almost Every Classification Were Lower According to Annual Report

There has been a great decrease in crime since 1921. Drunkenness was much less last and the number of vagrants brought into court showed a decided decrease, Chief W. H. Vickers told the members of the police commission at their meeting last night in submitting the police report for last year.

Speaking to the report, Commissioner Macdonald thought the chief and the entire staff were to be highly complimented for such an excellent showing. Speaking on the decrease in crime, the commissioner thought that it was due to the vigorous manner in which the force had gone after crime. The other members of the commission spoke in a similar vein.

In presenting his twelfth annual report, Chief Vickers stated that last year there were 278 cases dealt with as compared with 445 in 1921. Last year 226 convictions were secured as against 408 the year before. Drunkenness last year showed a decrease of 149 cases.

Fines, collections, etc., by the department brought in a revenue of $7,570.35 for the year.

Chief Vickers referred to the fact that Prince Rupert had only suffered from two sad shooting tragedies, that of the Green family in which both husband and wife died and also the recent suicide of Mrs. Wozny.

There were five convictions for breaking and entering and, of these offenders, three were juveniles who were allowed off on suspended sentence while the other two received heavy penalties from Judge Young.

Under the Narcotic Act there were 32 convictions for having, selling and smoking opium, an increase of four over 1921. This large number of cases was due to the assistance of the R.C.M.P. who were waging a campaign against the drug fiends, the chief stated.

The number of vagrants taken into custody last year also showed a very heavy decrease over 1921. Last year there were only 14 cases while the year before there were thirty.

Common assault cases numbered 15 during the year just past, but none were of a serious nature.

The convictions under the Liquor Act last year were greater than any offense. No less than 122 persons and companies were brought up for trial and convicted. Raids for the year totalled 44 while complaints of lost and stolen goods came to 62 last year as against 134 in 1921.

past month it has been impossible to continue cutting lumber with the open mill. A new top saw is also being added to the plant to facilitate the handling of the larger spruce logs, and a double surfacer is being installed as well. The present alterations will be completed in about two week's time when the mill will open up again.
At the present time a gang of some fifteen men are engaged in logging out spruce for which there is a ready market.
The stock of lumber now at the mill is mostly all hemlock which is all sold for export to North Dakota and other middle west states.
With the advent of spring work will be recommenced on the company's mines consisting of 24 mineral claims. The Valhalla claim has been developed to a sufficient extent to warrant the installation of a concentrating plant, which will in all probability be installed this spring.

Some Sport Leaders Maintained Vantage in 1922 but, as usual, there were Some New Surprises

Each year produces champions in every line of sport and although some of the leaders manage to hold the titles, there are also contenders coming up who sooner or later win a title. A resume of some of the leading sport contests in Canada and the United States for the past year bears this out.

Canada's sensation on the track in 1922 was the Winnipeg ground-burner, Cyril Coafee, who not only broke all Canadian records for the 100 yards' dash but equalled the world mark for this distance. It was at Winnipeg that Coafee negotiated the century run in 9.33 seconds and he startled the world by so doing. Coafee later ran at Toronto but was unable to do better than 10 seconds. To him perhaps more than anyone in Canada, save Bel-yea, the sculler, belongs the honor of bringing the sport spotlight on this country in 1922. Charlie Paddock, of California, leader of the Native Sons last year, is the brainiest and flashiest player of the day.

Hores Racing
 To Exterminator belongs the title, "The Wonder Horse" of the turf. The biggest sensation of the 1922 season was his defeat of the great Morvich which was unbeaten as a two-year-old, the winner of a dozen starts, but Canadian, Coafee, equalled his record. Paddock, however, has been more consistent and was the first man to reach the 9 3-5 mark in that event. Strangely enough, however, he does not go in for indoor meets, refusing only a short time ago run inside.

Golf Championships
 C. G. Fraser won the amateur golf championship of Canada last year. He is a Montrealer and the first one from that city to win the title for some years. Fraser and another Montreal player, Norman Scott, entered the finals for the coveted title, the former winning out after a match that took the two to an extra hole. The winner had the misfortune to follow a good deal of the way but he won out in spite of all.

In golf in 1922, Gene Sarazen was the outstanding figure from the masculine point of view; Glenna Collett from the feminine angle in the United States. Sarazen started out by winning the southern championship from a high class field and then followed up by taking the title at Skokie. This is regarded as the highest honor that American golf can bestow. Walter Hagen is next to Sarazen in golf and he won the British open championship.

Major League Baseball
 Major league baseball teams on the whole ran true to form. Critics picked the New York Giants to repeat their win of 1921 and they did. In the American League the Yankees finished first but they failed badly when approaching the wire in the world's series. Rogers Hornsby captured the home run honors with 32 circuit drives to his credit with Ken Williams second with 35 and Babe Ruth badly behind. George Sisler led in the American League with an average of .419. Walter Hooper, although he is not known as the official champion of Canada, is one of the outstanding scullers in the country today. He won the Diamond Sculls at Henley, England, last year.

Rugby and Soccer
 There is no doubt that the outstanding man in Canadian rugby in the past two years was Lionel Conacher of the Toronto Argonauts. He is known as the "big train" of the Canadian game and there was certainly nothing to stop him.

Princeton is the team of destiny. That one sentence sums up the big thrill of the football campaign in 1922 in the United States. Princeton, regarded by a majority of experts as inferior to Harvard and Yale and certain to be defeated by Chicago, won from all three.

In English rugby played in some parts of the Prairies but mostly on the Pacific Coast, Jack Tyrwhitt, of Vancouver, captain of the Centrals two years ago and

Canadian National Railways in 1922 Have Been Identified with National Progress of Dominion

Through the perfecting of its plans, making timely and ample provision for the continually expanding traffic in Western Canada, the Canadian National Railways has, during the year 1922, been identified with national progress in every province, according to a report on the year's activities prepared in the East.

To maintain the high standard of transportation rendered by the Canadian National system, considerable monies were expended to improve the road bed; other facilities provided, and the equipment purchased to enable the greatest tonnage to be handled in a single train.

The National system of 26,700 miles, there are in the West 10,479.70 miles of railways made up as follows: Canadian Northern 6,793.82; D. W. & N.W. 1,177.89; C.N.P. 2,711.61; Hudson Bay 214; Canadian Government 582.38.

In accordance with the management's policy of extending railway service, as settlement proceeded, in undeveloped and partially developed territory, and of improving the branch lines so constructed as to be of them developed, the main line construction and betterment programme for western Canada has been maintained during the year, but mostly confined to improvement of existing lines. By this, encouragement has been given to the extension of the great industry, agriculture, and the railway placed in a position to handle a greater proportion of the national traffic.

Since the co-ordination of the Grand Trunk Pacific with the Canadian National, various connections were constructed to enable traffic to be routed by shorter or better lines; eliminating railway crossings and interlocking plants and thus reducing operating costs, and quicker freight and passenger service.

The results of the co-ordination have been eminently satisfactory and during the year additional undertakings of the same character have been undertaken, and these, with the completion of some commenced last season, improved operating conditions. Mention may be made of certain of these; viz.—East Edmonton, Battle-Duhamel, Magdalen, Stony Plains, Regina, Lacombe and Rowan connections, and the grade revision at

WHAT MADE ME HAPPY

"I was congratulating myself that I had passed the winter without catching a cold, when I got one at the beginning of last May. It was because I was run down. Being run down I had some trouble in getting rid of this cold. I was a nervous wreck. I would wake up regularly mornings feeling that some terrible calamity would take place. Although we were comfortably off, I felt sure my husband was going to lose everything. The children worried me. If they made the least noise, I would get into a terrible temper. I would scold them so that I am sure they hated me. I would be mad with myself after it was over and make up my mind never to let it happen again. I would go to bed at night and begin to think and picture dreadful things which might happen to me and my family. I would lay awake for hours, sometimes until daylight, until I was so weak that I could scarcely raise my head. I would waken next day just as tired as when I laid down. After a while I got so that I didn't care what happened. The children annoyed me and I wouldn't have cared if they had left me for good. I felt that it was only a matter of time before I would lose my mind. I knew that my symptoms were due to a run down condition and that if I could only get something to build me up, I might be all right. I knew that there must be some good tonic but most of them made such foolish claims that I was afraid of them. Happening one day to run across a leaflet about Carnol, I was impressed with the moderate way this preparation was described, so I made up my mind I would try it. I did and to-day I am the happiest and healthiest woman living. I haven't a care in the world. Instead of running away from me, my children are now with me all the time. My husband tells me that my disposition is as near an angel's as any human being's can be, but of course he is prejudiced. I don't believe I have a nerve in my body now."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 6-622

Increased Passenger Traffic

Great strides were made during the year 1922 in passenger traffic, which showed a noticeable increase. The introducing of triangle tours, choice of routes on land and sea, placed the National lines in a very advantageous position, a position which the Canadian and American tourists by the thousands were not slow in taking advantage of.

While the splendid showing made is the outcome, to a great degree, of the activity of representatives and their aggressive solicitation, the high class service now rendered on the passenger trains, the opening up of a new recreation field in Canada's most northerly park—Jasper National Park—provided attractive features in inducing American tourists to travel "National" through Canada for the first time. Canadian National trains carry the tourist through a country of great scenic beauty, as well as a country occupied by a prosperous and progressive people.

As a result of the success attained at Jasper Park Lodge last summer, the railway is now planning to increase facilities in that National Park for 1923.

The year 1922 also marked the operation of several extra trains to handle special parties. Among these were the general Assembly of the Presbyterian Church; Rotary Club; Montreal Board of Trade; School Teachers Personally Conducted Tour; Shriner's; Special train to Atlantic seaboard for Old Country

Industrial Development

With regard to the industrial development, there were indications of a revival in this district, with the National Railway assisting to secure such industries as are suitable and likely to thrive in this country. The manufacturing of certain articles and products should naturally follow the settlement of the

Land Settlement

The amount of land taken up along the Canadian National lines in the West during 1922, indicates that there was a steady movement in that direction. The class of settlers the railways were instrumental in bringing into the country were of a fine type and practically all well-to-do farmers. Those from the south came chiefly from the States where the farming conditions are not so very dissimilar from those of this country and are, therefore, highly desirable. They too brought with them considerable capital and were in a position to get their land under cultivation quickly. With this land settlement, there has been a steady upbuilding of towns and villages throughout the country. As a consequence of increased business, practically resulting from the recent agricultural developments, there was a large amount expended in civic improvements and the development of these smaller market towns meant better business for the larger distributing centres.

General Betterments

Many bridges of a temporary nature were replaced with permanent construction, facilities provided to cope with traffic requirements, roadbed improved, and buildings for the accommodation of both the public and Company's employees erected as the necessity arose. One hundred and five timber bridges aggregating 17,208 feet in length, were replaced permanently, 42 were reduced in length by an amount of 10,282 lineal feet and 27 bridges totalling 16,887 lineal feet were eliminated by co-ordination undertakings or by line revisions.

The building program covered a widely varying list of structures, including round-houses, among others of these that at Sioux Lookout, a fifteen stall round-house was lengthened to accommodate bigger locomotives which are to be used East of Winnipeg next season. Facilities were entirely remodelled at this latter point where a mechanical coaling plant and a depressed ashpit replaced existing structures.

The use of heavier locomotives burning western coal made it necessary to recool engines on certain subdivisions, and to enable this to be done quickly and economically, intermediate coaling plants were necessary; several 100 ton mechanical coaling plants were provided for this purpose. Modern storehouses with oil storage and pump equipment were erected at Regina and Prince George.

Additional facilities. Many additional facilities for Christmas travel. In addition there were numerous smaller movements.

Grain, coal and livestock are probably the three commodities which move in the largest bulk in Western Canada, and the Canadian National Railways has handled a big share of the commodities the west produces. A satisfactory increase has been shown in import traffic through the Pacific Coast ports.

"THE HALF BREED" HAS MANY STRONG MOMENTS
 Love, Thrills and Big Scenes
 Feature Morosco Production
 at Westholme Theatre

"The Half Breed," a first National attraction, opened at the Westholme Theatre last night. It is a picture that should appeal to all, for it abounds with thrills and dramatic situations. Adapted from the famous stage play, it has gained in vigor and expansion by its adaptation to the screen. The pathetic plight of the college graduate, half Indian, half white, has been depicted realistically and sincerely. The crazy, ramshackle ideal of love, battling against the insurmountable barrier of social caste has been woven into a story of tender appeal. Above everything else is the outstanding feature of a wild, stupendous stampede of steers over a broad stretch of country with two figures on horseback racing at the head of the caravan for a haven of safety. The scene deserves to rank among the permanent moments of screen fame. For boldness and daring it is one of the outstanding achievements of the silent drama.
