GERMAN STEEL CITY IS QUIETLY OCCUPIED FRENCH ARMY ENCIRCLES HEART OF GERMANY'S INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT

French and Belgian Troops are Now in Essen: Germans Hold Mass Meeting of Protest at Invasion

ESSEN, Jan. 11.—The French are in Essen. The first troops arrived at ten o'clock this morning. A Belgian contingent also arrived.

All soldiers of the invading contingents have the fullest war equipment even carrying gas masks.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—Chancellor Cuno told the foreign affairs committee of the Reichstag that Germany would not discuss its reparations obligations personally with the "treaty breaking powers."

ESSEN, Jan. 11.—Five thousand people assembled in front of the Hotel Kaiserhof and demanded the expulsion of the members of the French commission which lived there. Several hundred forced an entrance but were met by the mayor and food minister who implored them to avoid trouble and eventually quitted the mob.

GORLENZ, Jan. 10.—French troops will occupy Essen at 2 p.m. Thursday. Ten thousand persons at a mass meeting here protested against French violation of the Treaty of Versailles.

Occupation Accomplished. ESSEN, Jan. 11.—The French army is encircling the heart of the Ruhr Valley. Immediately upon their arrival this morning, the French soldiers commenced to patrol the streets and tanks were also employed. Sentries are guarding the entrance to the Krupp works, tanks command the city hall square and detachments of infantry hold the railway station. Before noon the occupation of Essen was an accomplished fact.

By striking first at Essen, France is hitting at the heart of German industry. Long before the war Essen was known as the steel city of Germany. Here are located the great Krupp works.

Mayer to Berlin. PARIS, Jan. 11.—Dr. William Mayer, German ambassador to France, left Paris for Berlin at noon today without notifying the French foreign office or giving any indication of the reasons for his departure. The foreign office is therefore lacking any official information in considering the diplomatic situation between France and Germany. It is stated here that there is no intention of recalling the French ambassador to Germany.

Despatches received here today from Essen say that the city is quiet. The stores are open, tramways are running, factories are working and the people are busy with their usual occupations.

Advise Quietness. BERLIN, Jan. 11.—French airplanes dropped leaflets over Essen yesterday calling upon the population to remain quiet. The leaflets asserted that any persons who stopped work would be deported and those who prevented or interfered with the normal course of the city's activities would be subject to death penalty.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A Ruter's despatch from Essen at 4:20 this afternoon says that martial law will be declared in the city by the French army of occupation almost immediately.

To Declare Strike. AMSTERDAM, Jan. 11.—A despatch from Essen says the Rhinish and Westphalian labor organizations have decided to proclaim a brief strike beginning Monday throughout the whole industrial district as a protest against the French occupation.

Walter Clayton of Penticton, formerly of this city, has been visiting in Victoria.

FORMER GREEK KING IS DEAD

Constantine Passed Away at Palermo This Morning Aged 55

PALERMO, Jan. 11.—Former King Constantine of Greece died suddenly this morning. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. He was born in 1868.

Ten years have elapsed since Constantine I. ascended the throne of Greece; for three of these he was an exile in Switzerland, having been forced to abdicate by the Allies owing to his pro-German attitude during the war. Upon the death of his successor, his son Alexander due to the bite of a pet monkey, in October 1920, Constantine returned to Athens amid great enthusiasm of the Greek people, a plebiscite having determined in favor of his restoration to power. The Treaty of Sevres, by the signing of which peace was declared between the Allies and Turkey, gave the Greeks control of Smyrna and the greater part of Thrace which, for centuries, had been Turkish territory. The Turkish Nationalists, led by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, in revolt against the Constantinople government, opposed the provisions of the Treaty awarding those regions to Greece and, as a result, in the spring of 1921 the question of revising the document was discussed at an Allied conference in London attended by representatives of the peoples involved. Despite Greek protests, the treaty was modified, and this, together with reports of Turkish atrocities against Greek colonies in Asia Minor, led to war between the forces of Constantine and Mustafa Kemal.

Constantine's devotion to the cause of Germany and the Central Powers was generally attributed to the influence of his wife, Sophia, a Hohenzollern Princess and sister of the Emperor William of Germany. Criticism of him was aroused by his repudiation of the treaty between Greece and Serbia pledging the support of either power if the other were attacked by Bulgaria. Constantine asserted that Greece was not bound to carry out her part of the pledge because Serbia was attacked, not only by Bulgaria but by Austria and Germany and that if Greece had interposed, she would have suffered the fate of Belgium.

Constantine was forced to resign again this year following the defeat of the Greek forces in Asia Minor.

PRODUCT OF LOCAL PLANT.

This is a picture of the ferry on Francois Lake which was put in service some months ago by the provincial government and which has proved a great boon to the settlers on the lake and south of it. The craft was built at the local dry dock last year. It is 60 feet in length and 27 feet in breadth and is capable of a speed of 7 1/2 to 8 miles. It has a steel hull with wooden upperworks and has capacity for forty passengers besides freight. It is modernly equipped in every respect.

BIG DIVIDEND SMITHERS CO.

Light and Power Concern to Pay 25 Per Cent First Year TO REDUCE RATES

SMITHERS, Jan. 11.—About a year ago a local company was formed and incorporated as the Smithers Electric Ltd., to take up the matter of equipping the town with electric light. The official personnel consisted of the following: President, N. P. Moran. Secretary-treasurer, G. K. Lord. Board of directors, W. S. Beyer, L. S. McGill, J. G. Stephens, E. Hahn and W. J. O'Neill.

Arrangements were entered into with the Canadian National Railways for the supply of electric current from the roundhouse plant and in due time poles, wires, street, streets and houses lighted as they had never been before.

The financing was met by the sale of stock in $10.00 denominations and care was taken to see that no particular party held any large amount, as the benefit of the entire neighborhood was the main end sought.

Cash Dividend. A meeting of the board of directors held this week indicated that wonderful success has been achieved in the first year's working, and the directors propose to pay a cash dividend of 25 per cent on the stock taken up. This will be exceptionally good news to the shareholders and a further recommendation that the price per share be reduced to four cents will be equally pleasing to the general public.

It is expected that the annual meeting of the company which is scheduled for January 15 will under these circumstances prove a happy gathering and due credit will no doubt be given to those who have pioneered the undertaking to so successful an issue.

Wonderful Experiments in Mental Messages by Archbishop Du Vernet

Communications received from Metlakatla by Means of Concentration of Thought is Final Test in Successful Series

A scientific truth that has been long suspected but never before clearly proved scientifically has been demonstrated again and again here by Archbishop Du Vernet of this city who has made it clear that thought can be transferred from one mind to another. Test after test has shown the feasibility of communicating with a person at a distance without any instrument save a simple Chevreul pendulum made with a piece of string attached to a stick like a fishing rod and a small weight dangling at the end. In collaboration with Miss DuVernet, his daughter, the Archbishop has shown clearly that thought transference takes place, the latest test being the sending of a six letter word from Metlakatla to Prince Rupert a distance of six or seven miles. This is the most severe test yet made both as regards distance and the number of letters. First experiments were made with one letter and the number increased. While the Archbishop does not anticipate any commercial use for the discovery he has made, he says it proves a theory which scientists had long held. It proves that the influence of the human mind is much greater than we sometimes imagine.

In a recent article on the subject published in the Montreal Star the Archbishop tells of having sent a word of four letters, a distance of three miles. Since that he has extended his operations culminating in sending the six word message from Metlakatla.

The article from the Star explains the method used and gives interesting sidelights on related subjects. It follows:

Archbishop Explains. In these days when people have grown so familiar with the radiophone that the sound of the human voice carried for thousands of miles on the wings of the electric wave no longer excites any wonder it may not seem far fetched to make the assertion that there has recently been demonstrated with scientific accuracy the fact that thought can be conveyed from one living person to another living person at a distance without the intervention of any powerful electric battery but simple through mental radiation, the transmitter of the mental energy being the conscious mind of one person, and the receiver being the sub-conscious mind of the other.

Two friends are talking sympathetically together when one makes a special reference to something important, and the other replies: "How strange, I was thinking of that very thing at the same moment." This is an example of thought transference through mental radiation.

A lonely son in a foreign country becomes conscious that his mother in the home land is praying for him. He is so impressed with the fact that he records the exact time and writes about it, and in due course the fact is verified. This is another example of thought transference through mental radiation but in this case the two persons are far separated in body though united in spirit.

Chevreul's Pendulum. There is no doubt that unconscious mental radiation is (continued on page five)

FIRE AT DRY DOCK THIS MORNING BUT DAMAGE WAS SLIGHT

Oakum Ignited in Riggers' Shed and Man Had Hand Burned in Extinguishing It

A quantity of oakum was destroyed, some tools were damaged and employees lost their lunch when a fire broke out in the riggers' shed at the dry dock this morning about 11:45. Quite an alarm was caused but the blaze was soon extinguished by the staff of the plant before any damage of consequence was done. Cliff Wilson, a caulker, who was in the shack at the time the fire started, had his hand burned in extinguishing it.

NEW ELEVATOR FOR THE DOCK

Prince Albert Brings it From Vancouver Will Overhaul Here

The Barlow elevator for the new dock arrived last evening on the steamer Prince Albert and is being disassembled. This elevator is one of the final appliances in the fixtures for the big dock that has just been completed. The Albert also brought 50 tons of oil for the Imperial Oil Company. The vessel will tie up here and will overhaul at the local drydock.

Successful Experiments Of The Archbishop.

Every reader of the Daily News should carefully peruse the article on the work of Archbishop Du Vernet in transmitting thought messages. The results have been most startling and will astonish the scientific world. It is not unreasonable to expect as a result that Prince Rupert will become known as the home of the man who first scientifically demonstrated that thought messages could be received at will and recorded.

There have in the past been all sorts of demonstrations of thought messages having been received, but in many cases they were not deliberately sent and in no case, so far as can be ascertained, has there been an effort to receive the message which has proved successful. In the past all the messages have been haphazard and the receiver has had them forced upon him rather than, as in this case, having carefully prepared to receive them and then done so with success. Scientists have been agreed that there was such a thing as thought transference or mental radiation. They found well authenticated instances of people receiving mental intimations and even of their having had a mental vision of scenes transpiring miles away. All these cases have been more or less isolated and there was no intention either on the part of the sender or the receiver to communicate.

Power Of Concentration And Mental Reception.

What the archbishop and Miss Du Vernet have done is to prepare to communicate with each other. They arrange that at a certain moment one will send a message, not yet decided upon and the other will receive it. In the experiments the message was a word spelled out by the sender and faithfully recorded by a pendulum in the hands of the receiver.

The pendulum they knew would respond to the mental urge of the person holding it. Now they have found that it will respond to the mental urge of the person at a distance influencing the mind of the person holding the pendulum.

To some, perhaps, the discovery of the archbishop may seem to be a useless one. Others will see in it immense possibilities. We could not a few years ago have imagined that it would be possible to steer a ship or an aeroplane from a point miles distant by means of power transmitted through space. Yet this is done today. Why should it not then be possible to communicate by means of concentrated thought. The Archbishop has proved that thought can be projected or radiated through space. That being so, all that is needed is the right kind of receiving apparatus to record those thoughts.

Immense Possibilities Of Thought Radiation.

If it should become possible to record the thoughts of our neighbors, imagine what would be the consequences. Suppose each one of us was aware that our thoughts were being recorded by those around us, what efforts there would be to so control our thoughts that we should not be disgraced in the eyes of the neighbors. Today we conduct ourselves respectably in public, if our thoughts were being recorded we should have to think circumspectly. We should dress up our thoughts for the public and there would be no private reservations of a diabolical character. Under those conditions crime would cease, for the thought would be detected before the deed was committed. The possibilities would be unbounded.

Young men today may look back to the day when it was announced by the Archbishop that he had first discovered in a somewhat crude way how to record thought and may wonder at the developments in that line which followed.

What About Religious Concepts.

Thought transference has been used a great deal in the past in connection with religion. Many religious enthusiasts have been able to give specific instances of the power of prayer. Now this is scientifically explained. We see how mind works upon mind and influences it. We see how the prayer of a mother concentrated on the mind of her son may protect him from evil influences and warn him of dangers. Begin to ponder on this subject and you are carried on and on into all kinds of ramifications. The study of the mind is just beginning. What it will lead to none of us can tell.

"I Avoided an Operation Appendicitis Disappeared"

Mrs. James Wells, Udora, Ont., writes—

"I took a severe pain in my right side. It was very bad at times. I tried oils and tablets without gaining any relief. The doctor pronounced it chronic appendicitis. I dreaded an operation and a friend advised Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I used them and not only obtained relief from pain, but I believe it has completely freed me of appendicitis, as it is now over a year since I have had any of the old symptoms."

AIVAZOFF WILL GET RUSSIAN BUSINESS

Former Resident of Prince Rupert Thinks Canada Should Benefit from Trade

That Russia will place an order for 100,000,000 bushels of wheat with Canada, and that other large orders for supplies, equipment, and machinery will come to Canada if proper tactics are pursued in dealing with Russia, is the opinion of Misak Aivazoff, prominent Russian of this city, says the Vancouver Sun.

So certain is Mr. Aivazoff that this can be accomplished that he has agreed to assist the Canadian government and other large industrial and commercial interests of Canada to help secure Russian business for Canada and will soon leave for London to confer with prominent Russian leaders.

Only two men in Russia were ever granted the special privileges given by associated provinces in the matter of assurances over the signature of the provincial governors and the seal of the districts, that these provinces would stand behind the men in any venture they might undertake to the extent of paying for their failures if necessary to the extent of 12,000,000 rubles. One of these men was Misak Aivazoff.

Further honors were won by Aivazoff in the Russian Japanese war for the Russian people, and armed with these credentials, together with those given not only by Vancouver but by Canadian interests in general, it is the intention of Misak Aivazoff to go to London and then to Russia and try and divert some of the gigantic trade that country offers towards Canada.

Special attention will be given by Aivazoff to the Siberian trade with which he hopes to increase the exports and imports through this port by millions of dollars.

PORT SIMPSON HAS SPECIAL SERVICES

PORT SIMPSON, Jan. 10.—The anniversary of the establishment of the choir in the native Methodist Church was the occasion of a special musical service of some note. Much credit for the result must be given to Henry Nelson, choirmaster, and E. F. Budoward, organist. Solos were taken by Peter Wells, "Thus Saith the Lord"; Mrs. Magar, "Rejoice Greatly"; and Mrs. E. F. Budoward. The special anthems for the occasion were "City of Zion," "Peace Be Within Thy Walls," "And the Glory," "For Unto Us a Child is Born," "Worthy is the Lamb," and the Hallelujah Chorus. Addresses were given by Chief Wallace and William Musgrave. The offertory was for choir purposes.

PROPOSED RESERVE IN ALASKA FISHERIES

Canneryman Makes Recommendations For Protection of Salmon in Territory

JUNEAU, Jan. 11.—Pending the enactment of a new Alaska fisheries code by Congress, the only salvation for the preservation of the fisheries industry in Southeastern Alaska lies in the creation of a fisheries reserve, in the opinion of J. R. Beegle, president of the Beegle Canning Company of Ketchikan. Mr. Beegle arrived here on the Spokane last Saturday on a business trip and will return to Ketchikan some time this week.

Under existing legislation and regulations, said Mr. Beegle, it is virtually impossible for the Bureau of Fisheries to prevent the further depletion of the salmon supply. He emphasized the need for protection of the runs in the immediate future without having to await the passage of legislation by Congress, which he does not consider likely at the present session of Congress. He said that Commissioner O'Malley, of the Bureau of Fisheries, is sincerely desirous of adopting a practical method of fisheries regulation that will result in a healthy fishing and canning industry profitable alike to the territory and to the people who have invested capital in the business. The Commissioner, he said, is able and practical and stands for a square deal all around.

The Department of Commerce,

LIFE WAS MISERY!

"I was reading the other day about Neurasthenia, about the large number of people who were troubled with this disease. It is just what my wife had. She felt miserable all the time and was constantly depressed. She would waken in the morning and tell me that something dreadful was going to happen that day. Life was nothing short of misery for her. She was so depressed that I expected she would lose her mind and have to go to a sanitarium and I kept wondering how I would get the money to pay for her. She could not eat and had no appetite for food. She was irritable and cranky most of the time. If she was crossed in any way, she would immediately work herself up into a violent temper. This worried me because she had always had a kind and gentle disposition and nothing which was said or done seemed to irritate her. I spoke to our family doctor about her and he said that her trouble was imagination and that if she would try and forget about her depression and look on the bright side of life she would be all right. Of course I didn't dare tell her this because I knew she would get into one of her tempers. When she got over these fits of temper, she was always weak and ill and more depressed than ever. The doctor said a tonic might help her and gave me a prescription but this did not do her any good. She tried all kinds of other tonics with the same result. Carnol was recommended to me and I wish to state that it is the leader of all tonics. Since taking it my wife has changed completely. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Carnol to anyone who is in need of a tonic or a body builder. Excuse me for writing this letter but I want you to accept my thanks for that wonderful tonic known as Carnol." — Mr. J. M., Toronto.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 7-622

Mr. Beegle, has been asked to request the establishment, by executive order, of a fisheries reserve to cover the fisheries of Southeastern Alaska. "It is possible that such a reserve will be created before the beginning of the next fishing season and I hope it will be done. This is of paramount interest to Alaska," he said.

PASSING OVER COLDS WITHOUT DANGER

Keep Reliable Remedy in Home At All Times

When you catch cold there are three points on which you should regard yourself. Colds generate systemic poisons, which should be carried off so as to keep the natural channels open. The temperature should be kept normal and the fever always generated by colds allayed. The soreness of the muscles, especially in the back, should be reduced. If these three points are given prompt attention, and treated properly, your cold will be passed over without danger. Grip-Fix is a home treatment for colds which accomplishes just the above results. Its action on the system is prompt, and its record of relieving a cold in a night has been established for over 10 years. A person with a box of Grip-Fix in the house is as safe from bad results in connection with colds as it is possible to provide. Start taking Grip-Fix as soon as the cold develops, as prompt work on any sickness is always advisable. You can get it at Ormes' Drug Store Ltd. 25c per box.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

Report on Year's Work and Election of New Officers Took Place Last Evening

The annual business meeting of the Baptist Church was held in the church last evening, being preceded by a supper prepared by the Ladies' Aid.

Pastor Smithson presided over the business meeting and called for a roll call of the members. The various reports of the church organization showed progress, especially those of the Ladies' Aid and the Sunday School. The Aid, under the leadership of Mrs. B. Newell, had done splendid work during the year, having raised $500, of which sum $325 was paid to the contractors. Confidence was expressed that the coming year would see complete liquidation of this debt which had been so greatly reduced by the efforts of the ladies. The report of the church clerk was also submitted.

W. Vaughan Davies, who has faithfully officiated at the organ for many years, received the heartfelt thanks of the church in an address by P. H. Linzey, who presented him with a beautiful scarf pin on behalf of the church as a token of the esteem in which he is held. A vote of thanks was also passed to the retiring officers—H. M. Daggell and Mrs. B. M. Newell.

SKENA BRIDGE AT TERRACE IS STILL WORRY OF RESIDENTS

Delay in Commencing Work Disappointing After Frequent Promises Made

The Skeena River bridge is the one thing needed today at Terrace, according to E. T. Kenney, who was in the city Tuesday returning home that night.

"The people of Terrace are beginning to lose confidence in the promises of the government," said

System Run Down Blood Out of Order

Many people become run down, but don't know just exactly what their trouble is, when, as a rule, it is improper circulation of the blood.

All they need is a good tonic to build up the system and put the blood into proper shape.

For this purpose there is nothing on the market today to equal

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. B. Poole, Port Dover, Ont., writes: "My system was run down and my blood out of order, and I suffered a great deal from pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. A friend told me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got a bottle and before it was used I found it was doing me good. I kept on until I had taken three, and now I feel like a different woman.

My husband also took it and it has built him up."

For the past 44 years, B. R. E. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. Kenney. "This bridge has been promised so long and is such a vital need to the district that we cannot understand the present delay. People across the river have gone in there because the bridge was promised and have been waiting patiently for it. If they had known it was not to be built many of them would have pulled out long ago. As it is some are giving up hope and leaving."

"On the other hand we have many new settlers coming into the district. Another French Canadian family of twelve has just arrived to join another family of twelve which had preceded them, making twenty-four people in the two places. That is populating the district fast. The French Canadians make very good settlers," concluded the visitor.

Sport Chat

On Saturday and Sunday this week-end Vanderhoof and Prince George will play the first inter-town hockey game of the season. The Vanderhoof players will be: Danahy, Goodwin, Steele, Querie, Smithers, McKenney, Williams, Goehran, Dickinsen and Averill. The Vanderhoof team has had a couple of games already and is getting in good shape. The brilliantly lighted rink allows for practice at night by the players there.

The hockey season was opened in Prince George on New Year's day with a game between the Rosebuds and the Maple Leafs under the management of J. C. Pidgeon and Alex. Walsh respectively. Several rushes of good hockey was seen and the Maple Leafs won by a score of 3 to 2. B. Gross was the scorer for the Rosebuds and Kenney and K. Johnson for the Maple Leafs. The line-ups were as follows: Rosebuds—Izowsky, M. C. McKay, Porter, B. Gross, E. Brown and Nehring; Maple Leafs—Kennedy, Yarzau, W. Flynn, K. Johnson, Kenney, H. Gross.

There is prospect of a lively series of inter-town games between Prince George, Vanderhoof, Quesnel and Smithers this winter. Each town boasts creditable aggregations which have been getting a good deal of practice lately. Games with Smithers and Vanderhoof will be played this month and Quesnel will likely travel to the interior metropolis in February.

SMITHERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kenny and "Billy" left on the train for Michigan on a long planned visit which will likely be of some six months' duration.

During the absence of Mr. Kenney, his business will be in charge of Leslie Lane, who will have the assistance of Smith Arnold.

A special New Year service was held at the Union Church last Sunday evening. There was a good attendance and a suitable address was delivered by Rev. M. W. Lees. The Smithers Orchestra was in attendance and rendered a number of selections which were much appreciated.

WONDERFUL EXPERIMENTS IN MENTAL MESSAGES BY ARCHBISHOP DU VERNET.

ing on amongst us all but how to prove this is the difficulty in my lectures on psychology have long made use of Cheyenne's pendulum to demonstrate the truth of that fundamental law of the human mind named by Carmenter fifty years ago the law of idea-motor action. This pendulum was invented by a Frenchman who was born in 1786 and that it is not new. It consists of a stick, a string and a weight. The stick may be a long pencil held in the hand, with a string about eight inches in length, tied at one end to the thumb and at the other end to a key, making a miniature fish-tail. To demonstrate the law of idea-motor action the operator holds one end of the pencil in his hand keeping his arm steady from his side, and allows the bob to hang freely over a paper on which is the design of a cross surrounded by a circle. Then he thinks the idea of movement while fixing his eyes upon the bob, and the pendulum once begins to externalize the idea in the appropriate movement, whether it be right or left, or round the circle.

Astonishing Results

While I have used this pendulum hundreds of times to demonstrate this law that the idea of movement produces the movement, and that the will cannot stop this movement provided the thought of movement is kept alive, it only recently occurred to me to make use of this pendulum to scientifically test whether the thought of movement in one person's conscious mind could be so transferred to the subconscious mind of another person at a distance as to cause the nerve reaction necessary to swing the pendulum in the direction chosen by the first person but unknown to the second person. It has been as a trained psychologist with the purpose of promoting scientific knowledge that I have lately been experimenting along this line with astonishing results. A piece of cardboard was made to stand upright on a table, and this was printed with spaced letters the word "RADIO." The person acting as the human receiver stands at the table with the bob on a line with the letters but a few inches away. He starts the pendulum swinging towards the letters to and fro, not by direct muscular action but by the energy of his thought manifesting itself outwardly. The person acting as the human transmitter, while the pendulum is swaying freely, unknown to his co-operator concentrates his mind upon a certain letter, and almost instantly the pendulum will begin to swing towards the chosen letter, providing the two minds are thoroughly in tune.

Miles Apart

I have repeated this experiment again and again under varying circumstances so as to secure scientific accuracy. On the first occasion my co-operator and I stood only three feet apart, then followed a series of trials, at opposite ends of the same room, in different rooms, one down stairs and the other upstairs, one indoors and the other out-doors with the intervening space gradually extended first by rods then by miles until it became plainly evident that distance made no difference, because mind energy while it is in space at the same time transcends space, for where mind energy acts there it is, and space is only relativity.

It is impossible in a brief article to transcribe my note-book which is open to inspection. Not only was the intervening distance progressively increased from one letter to words of four letters. At a very early stage when receiving on one occasion I failed to keep my mind receptive allowing it during the process to focus on a certain letter, immediately the pendulum began to vacillate swinging first to the letter in my friend's mind who was at a distance and then to the one unwittingly thought of by me.

Concentration

On the first occasion when two letters instead of one, unknown to me, were chosen by my friend at a distance for the experiment I could tell the instant when the concentration of mind changed from the first letter to the next, though I had to wait a minute or two before the oscillating pendulum could reach the second letter.

It was at a point three miles distant from our base that I decided for the first time to send a word of three letters, and transmitted the word "Red." Returning to the receiving station I found that my co-operator had not only written down the word "Red" but had added the note "Ten beats of the pendulum on the letter 'R' and eight on the letter 'D,'" which was exactly right as in order to concentrate strongly I had repeated the "Swing to the 'R' ten times, and "Swing to the 'D,'" eight times, not taking quite so long over the "D."

Through the Montreal Daily Star I, therefore, venture to announce to the world that on December 14th, at 11.50 a.m., I transmitted through three miles of space a definite message with scientific accuracy, not by radio-telephone but by radio-mind.

Interrupted Thought

It was not long after this when I was at a distant spot on a quiet country road that I decided for the first time, unknown to my friend, to send a word of four letters, and transmitted "R O A D." On my return to the receiving station I found written down a word of four letters it was true, but it was "R A I D." This was apparently my first failure in a long series of experiments. On reflection, however, I recalled the fact that after I had transmitted the letter "R" and was about to send "O" a motor car had appeared coming towards me on the narrow road while I was standing and that I had debated in my mind whether to stop the process or go on, and that I had decided to go on, never ceasing during this reasoning repeating silently first the "O" refrain, then the "A." I also remembered that the car stopped a hundred yards ahead of me just before I reached the "D" refrain. Instead, then, of the record "R A I D" denoting a failure it was a most valuable scientific proof that the mind energy must be active and concentrated, and that no muttered words without tris can avail. The pendulum was evidently more or less out of mind control during the middle of the word.

Vast Possibilities

Like all natural powers given to us by God, mental radiation may be used either for good or for evil. The possibilities for good are almost beyond conception. We are not isolated units. We are all members of one vast mental complex. We can radiate to others and receive from them in return helpful thoughts and kindly feelings. We can broadcast influences conducive to health and happiness; peace and prosperity. In the light of the scientific proof of thought transference through mental radiation we should have no difficulty in believing in the efficacy of prayer, and the possibility of thought-exchange and sympathetic fellowship between the Mind of God and the Soul of Man.

ing pendulum, but in practice it would be very foolish to attempt this for such long concentration of mind would be most injurious to the health.

Mind and Energy

We have collected already sufficient evidence for our purpose which is to give a scientific demonstration of the fact of thought transference through mental radiation. Each link in the chain must be clearly distinguished. First, there is the conscious mind. Secondly, there is the subconscious mind which is the storage battery of mind energy. Thirdly, there is the subconscious mind's intimate correlate, the sympathetic nervous system. Fourthly, there are the motor-nerves and the muscles. At one end of the chain there is the intelligent choice of conscious thought, which is spiritual. At the other end, there is the swinging pendulum which is material. There has been a transmutation of energy, mind energy acting upon nerve energy, and nerve energy acting upon muscular energy.

It seems a far cry from the swinging of a pendulum for scientific purposes to the thrilling story of the mother in Canada who one night during the war started up out of sleep and told her husband that she had seen her darling boy in France falling in flames from his aeroplane, but the psychological and neurological elements involved are practically the same in both cases, only in the latter there was a mighty uprush of thought and feeling from the subconscious to the conscious mind of the startled human receiver.

SMITHERS, Jan. 11.—A novel idea in the form of a cafeteria supper was held at the Union Church on Friday last under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid and resulted in a pleasant and profitable evening being spent by the goodly number who attended. All kinds of eatables and delicacies were on sale with prices plainly marked and individual choice thus had full scope.

During the evening songs were rendered by Rev. W. M. Lees and Mrs. Stanley Bennett, violin solo by Mr. Dunn, pianoforte duets by Mrs. S. H. Hoskins and Mrs. W. Boyd, and readings by Mrs. Burt. The various items were all

SLEIGH LOAD OF ORE FELL 30 FEET

One Horse Broke Leg and Had to be Shot but Other Horse and Man Uninjured

SMITHERS, Jan. 11.—A somewhat serious accident took place on the main road last Friday night resulting in the loss of a valuable horse to Boyer & Carr. Teamster Andy Johnson, bringing down a sleigh load of ore from the Duthie mining properties was negotiating a narrow and difficult bit of road not far from the mine when the breakage of a bolt caused the whole load to drop over the side of the road some 30 feet. By remarkable good fortune Johnson escaped with a severe shaking as also did one of the horses, but the other horse, having sustained a broken leg, had to be shot.

PROTECTION FOR BLUE FOX FARMERS, ALASKA

KETCHIKAN, Jan. 11.—A change in fur regulations prohibits the killing of blue foxes in Southeastern Alaska and portion of the westward regions, except by fur farmers or being authorized agents on their own land, according to telegraphic advices received from Washington by E. P. Walker, chief of the Biological Survey in Alaska. This regulation closes the open season for blue foxes, hitherto in existence for all foxes in these regions.

The regulation has been made as a protection to the fox farmers from poachers, Mr. Walker said, and eliminated any excuse that foxes caught are taken from lands outside of reserves. There are few blue foxes remaining wild in these districts, Mr. Walker said.

EXILE OF PRINCESS PROVED BAD OMEN
 Lady Who Was Banished For Introducing Flapper Ideas Among Indians, Returns

HATFIELD, Wis., Jan. 11.—(By Canadian Press.)—Princess Nowana Gayfish, who introduced bobbed hair and rolled hose, tan powder and slang into the settlement of the Winnebago Indians and was exiled from the settlement for it, has returned and will be allowed to remain. Furthermore there will be no more protest against her "flapper" garb and habits.

Following her exile several weeks ago the reservation was visited by an epidemic of grip and a hoot owl, the Indians "ungulu" or "bad omen" visited the encampment nightly for weeks. Superstition got the better of chief Running Wolf and he despatched the husband of the Princess after her with orders to bring her back regardless of whether she "reformed" or not. She returned and sat with her eighteen-months-old papoose strapped to her back while the hills resounded to the muffled booming of drums, the weird yelling of the braves and the wails of the frenzied squaws which accompanied the celebration of the "east of Owatunka, spirit of welcome."

Had Bad Pains in Her Heart
 Nerves were very bad

Mrs. John Case, R. R. No. 4, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"I wish to say that I have been bothered very much with my heart and nerves. I doctored with two different doctors, but did not find much relief. I would have such bad pains in my heart, at times, I would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night could not sleep. If the pains in my heart were gone, my nerves would be so bad I could not be still and would only get a little sleep by being tired out. My stomach was also very bad and I could eat but very little, and then only certain things or I would have so much distress which always made my heart worse.

I had been suffering for nearly two years until one day I was talking to our druggist about the way I felt. He advised me to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair trial. I have now taken five boxes and am feeling so much better, I am able to do my own work, and can eat anything I wish. I cannot praise too highly.

ELKS NOMINATE THEIR OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Elks at their regular meeting last night nominated candidates for official positions in the order. Only two offices went by acclamation, that of secretary and treasurer, all the other being contested. F. W. Mackintosh and A. A. Ensson were chosen for the respective offices.

The election of officers will take place at the annual meeting on January 28.

BIG VOTE IS BEING TAKEN

mayoralty candidates spent a good deal of time in the council chamber, where the vote is taking place this morning and each seems to be confident of victory. The general opinion of the public is that the contest will be close and that there will be no large majority for the winner. Mayor Rochester also was on hand a good part of the time this morning and took a lively interest in the progress of affairs.

The following are the election officials:
 Returning Officer—E. A. Woods.
 Deputy Returning Officer and Poll Clerk—Harvey W. Birch.
 Deputy Returning Officers—W. C. Reith, A. Brooksbank, E. S. Allstone and S. V. Reith.
 Dybhavn agents—G. V. Wilkinson, Olef Hansen, W. O. Furlton, G. Anderson, T. Ballinger, and C. L. Youngman.
 Montgomery Scrutineers—P. Adams, W. J. Greer and J. J. Gillis.

Thomas B. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Black, of this city, returned by the Venture on Tuesday night to Vancouver to resume his electrical engineering studies at the University of B.C. after having spent the holidays visiting with his parents.

DRYS WILL CONTROL AMERICAN CONGRESS
 No Chance of Getting Any Change in United States Laws Regarding Liquor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(By Canadian Press.)—Notwithstanding the reports and rumors after the November 7 elections that the wets in the new Congress would force modifications of the Volstead prohibition law, the latest developments indicate that the drys are likely to take the whip hand more completely than ever. The new Congress comes into power March 4. It is conceded the new Senate will be more dry than the present one.

In the present House, Mr. Gillett of Massachusetts, the speaker, is a wet. The republican leader, Mr. Mondell of Wyoming, is a dry. The most prominent candidate for the place of Mr. Mondell is Representative Longworth of Ohio, son-in-law of former President Roosevelt. Mr. Longworth is a wet.

Now the drys are rising up to say that it will never do to re-elect Speaker Gillett and elect Representative Longworth leader. A number of men, including some of the farm bloc, are talking of an entire "new deal." They purpose to make Representative Temple of Pennsylvania speaker and Representative Graham of Illinois leader. Both are drys. This movement has not yet been fully tested but there are many things in the situation which are likely to make it formidable. Those who are engineering it are insistent that the House Republicans have got to organize away from the Old Guard elements as far as possible and that at the same time they must do nothing to stamp themselves as either wet or inclined to liberalize the Volstead Act. Inasmuch as most of the democrats in the House are dry, it is not difficult to see the wets are clinging to frail supports in any expectation they may have or assume to have of getting the prohibition laws made less strict.
