DEMONSTRATORS SHOT BY GERMAN POLICE

PREMIER BALDWIN OF GREAT BRITAIN ADDRESSES IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Revolutionary Movement in Germany is Checked: Number of Demonstrators Were Shot

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A revolutionary movement organized by nationalist organizations broke out at Kuetrin, 50 miles from Berlin, says a despatch from Berlin. The insurgents attempted to disarm the garrison and occupy Fort Bess but the Nationalist leaders were arrested and the attackers driven back.

A censorship has been imposed on all military news sent out from Germany, it is officially stated at the German capital.

DUSSELDORF, Oct. 1.—A separatist demonstration Sunday resulted in massacre when German security police started shooting into the mob of communists and their sympathizers. At least twenty were killed and hundreds were wounded.

French military authorities claim they tried to prevent the German police from shooting but could not control them.

STATEMENT ON OBLIGATIONS TO INVESTORS

Canada Will Not Pay Anything to Grand Trunk Shareholders Except Their Due

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—Through it all the Dominion has kept faith with capital and Canada has honored and will continue to honor every dollar of her obligations. This final sentence in the statement issued simultaneously here and in London, England, by the Dominion Government in regard to the claim of the Grand Trunk Railway preference and common shareholders for a compassionate allowance to an amount unofficially placed at $25,000,000.

The statement contains no indication that any compassionate allowance will be paid, but on the contrary it stated that every dollar of her Canada's obligations in respect of transportation is being met by her limited population who may well be excused if they find themselves unable longer to go outside the bond so far as railway charges are concerned.

SALMON FISHING STILL GOING ON

Prince Rupert, Inverness Somerville, Lagoon Bay and Lockport Canneries Continue to Operate

Five salmon canneries are still operating in the local Dominion Fisheries district—Prince Rupert and Inverness in the Skeena River section, Somerville on the Naas River and Lagoon Bay and Lockport on the Queen Charlotte Islands. All other plants have ceased operations for the season and will be closed up in the course of the next few days. Cohoes are being packed on the mainland and cohoes and chums on the Islands.

All seining on the mainland is closed from September 30 but gill nets of not less than 6½ mesh may still be operated and a number of these are now being used on the Skeena and Naas River. Fishing is still going on on the Queen Charlotte Islands with purse seines of 3 inch mesh.

All fishing in the district will probably be closed by October 20.

The Dominion Fisheries office reports the total salmon pack to date in District No. 2 as 778,534 cases exclusive of the Queen Charlotte Islands pack which will be small.

Six Railway Cars Went Overboard When Car Ferry Barge Takes List Coming to Rupert from Swanson Bay

Six railway cars went overboard with their contents of pulp, the three remaining cars fell over on their sides and were badly damaged, rails were twisted and the craft sustained minor damage when the Swanson Bay car ferry northbound to this port towed by the tug Point Hope, Capt. Stannard, took a sudden list in Grenville Channel between Point Galvert and Watson Rock at 4:15 this morning. The sea was smooth and everything seemed to be going along well when the accident occurred.

Members of the crew of the Point Hope arriving here at 12:30 today were apparently at a loss to definitely account for the cause of the accident. One reason set forth is that the barge might have been unevenly overloaded causing the water in the pontoons to swing to one side occasioning the list.

The car ferry left Swanson Bay yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. After the accident occurred this morning the tug ran dead slow until daybreak when an examination was made. It was felt that nothing could be done but continue to port which was done. The ferry is now moored at the slip off Westview and the tug is tied up at No. 1 G.T.P. shed. Nobody was hurt in the accident.

PRINCE RUPERT NOT SEAPORT FOR ALASKA

Governor Bone Expressed Opinion in Vancouver Last Week That Shipping Regulations Would Not be Changed

Although transportation is probably Alaska's most pressing need, Governor Scott C. Bone of the northern territory, does not believe that there will be any amendments to existing United States coastwise regulations to allow of Prince Rupert taking Seattle's place as the shipping point for the territory. This opinion was expressed by Governor Bone last week in Vancouver which city he visited while on his way to Washington where he will spend the next month. A former resident of Seattle, the governor was guarded in his statements as to whether such amendments might eventually take place.

The car ferry left Swanson Bay yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. After the accident occurred this morning the tug ran dead slow until daybreak when an examination was made. It was felt that nothing could be done but continue to port which was done. The ferry is now moored at the slip off Westview and the tug is tied up at No. 1 G.T.P. shed. Nobody was hurt in the accident.

PRINCE ALBERT HAS BEEN SOLD

Will be Replaced by More Modern Craft It is Expected Very Soon

ENTER LIQUOR TRADE

The Canadian Government Merchant Marine is well rid of the steamer Prince Albert which has been sold to the Western Freighters Limited to be used as a liquor carrier between Vancouver and Mexico. The price paid is said to be $70,000. She was the property of the Grand Trunk Development Co. and the sale had to be confirmed by the court owing to the fact that the owning company is bankrupt.

The Prince Albert has been operated from this port for a number of years. She was built in Hull in 1892. She was not well designed for the coast service here and was always looked on as a white elephant.

It is understood that the Prince Albert will be replaced as soon as possible by a modern coasting steamer that will be better adapted for the local business.

RAILWAY MONEY IN HOME BANK

Sir Henry Thornton Makes Statement in Regard to Deposit There

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—No political influence or influence of any sort instigated the deposit, declared Sir Henry Thornton, in a statement relative to the million dollar deposit of the C.N.R. in the Home Bank last May 28 and which was withdrawn on June 2. The board of directors of the Canadian National meets on the fourth Monday in each month, he proceeded. At the time of the meeting, prior to making the deposit, it was suggested by R. E. Gough that the Home Bank be given a share of the banking business. A deposit of a million dollars was made but it remained in the Home Bank for a few days only as shortly after the deposit was made it was brought to my attention that Gough was an active official of the bank.

Optimistic Over Local Prospects.

The general manager of the railway is now optimistic over Prince Rupert's prospects. While he said little, what he did say was all indicative of improvement and prosperity.

Some local people claim to see in the visit of Vice-president Hungerford the first step toward so improving the road as to make it possible to increase the speed of trains such as the fish trains, the passenger express and possibly silk trains. It is well known that if the silk business is to come this way it must be rushed through with great speed to the East coast. The railway officials say they can give all the speed required at very small expense.

Where Is Whisper Of Death Now?

Where is the whisper of death now? Lord Athelston's newspaper has been publishing a series of articles on the front page with glaring headlines and fearful portent under the general heading "The Whisper of Death" in which it warns the people against expenditures and especially against the National Railway situation. The whisper has not been taken seriously and in fact it is generally attributed to the influence of a rival corporation.

Now comes the offer of Government securities and, in spite of the "whisper," the people are buying the bonds as fast as they can get them and paying a better price than has been secured since before the war. It is a most encouraging thing to see Canadian people buying Canadian bonds and thus keeping the interest payments in this country. The only way to keep a stable government is to have the loans taken up by the people. That will give them a considerable interest in keeping the government of the country in a sound condition. Such a condition seems to exist just now, judging by results.

Time To Eliminate Special Charters.

It seems about time to eliminate special city charters and make all cities in the province come under the one municipal law. Victoria and Vancouver are taking up a lot of valuable time of the Legislature almost every year in seeking amendments to its charter to meet changing conditions. If these changes are needed for those cities, they will be needed for others and the law should be the same for all municipalities of any particular grade. Not only would much time be saved fusion and more hopeless entanglements.

Trade unionism may lead the way for true progress, even at the cost of being branded as reactionary by those who do but little save propound formulas based upon utopian thought and devoid of the benefit of experience and of any cognizance of our fundamental social structure, our industrial life or our national characteristics. We advocate organization of all wage earners and of all useful and productive elements.

LABOR MAKES A PRONOUNCEMENT

Executive Council at Portland Convention Today Sets Forth New Aim

DEMOCRACY OF INDUSTRY

Objection Taken to Political Interference, Middlebrowness and Restriction

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1.—Development of an industrial franchise "comparable to our political franchise" must be the next goal of the labor movement, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor declared today in its report to the Federation's annual convention.

Warning of the "threat of state invasion of industrial life," the council asserted that the hour has struck for "a pronouncement of the aims of labor that shall more nearly express the full implications of trade unionism."

"The close of the war marked for us a turning point in human relations," the report said, "and threw forth in bold relief the inadequacy of existing forms and institutions." Henceforth the movement for organization of the workers into trade unions has a deeper meaning than the mere organization of groups for advancement of group interests.

Rescue From Politics

"Henceforth the organization of the workers into trade unions must mean the conscious organization of one of the most vital functional elements for enlightened participation in a democracy of industry whose purpose must be the extension of freedom, the enfranchisement of the producer as such, the rescue of industry from chaos, profiteering and purely individual whim, including individual incapacity and the rescue of industry also from the domination of incompetent political bodies."

"The largest freedom of action, the freest play for individual initiative and genius in industry cannot be had under the shadow of constant incompetent political interference, middlebrowness and restriction."

"Through the muddling conflict of groups who still find it impossible to come together in co-operation we must look to a future that must have its foundation upon co-operation and collaboration. The threat of state invasion of industrial life is real. Powerful groups of earnest and sincere persons constantly seek the extension of state suzerainty over purely industrial fields. Such ignorant encroachments as the Esch-Cummins Act, the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations and the Colorado Industrial Commission Act, each a blundering gesture of government acting under the spur of organized propaganda or of political appetite for power, are must partake of the nature and purpose of the parent body in

of organized propaganda or of

our national life must fit themselves to work out their own problems, eradicate their abuses and furnish America with an ever increasing flood of commodities, both necessary and pleasure giving. Industry alone has the competence, and it must demonstrate that competence through organization. The organized functional elements in industry will find easy of solution those problems to which politicians now turn their attention in futility. Industry must organize to govern itself, to impose upon itself tasks and rules and to bring order into its own house. Industry must bring order to itself constructively, or it will have an order thrust upon it which would be demoralizing if not fatal. Our people cannot live and thrive under the regime of bureaucracy that threatens unless industry solves its own problems.

"Industry, organized as we urge it must be organized, will begin in truth an era of service, rational, natural development and productivity unmatched by past achievement or fancy."

Agriculture was urged to join in the next developing step, although the Council denied that it wished to offer "unasked advice to those who occupy other fields in our productive life." It urged that the Federation continue to co-operate in every way with organized farmers.

"During the past year," the report said, "the relations between industrial workers and productive agriculture has grown tremendously. It is our hope that the farmers will continue their work of organization and that we may give assistance in pushing forward the program upon which we believe depends our future national well-being and safety."

Fascisti and Klan

Both the Fascisti and Ku Klux Klan movements were condemned by the council as "hostile to the purposes of organized government and the trade union movement." With regard to the Klan, the report said:

"This secret organization promotes discord among our people and strife within the ranks of organized labor, seeks to destroy the cherished American principle of religious freedom and tolerance and purposely fosters racial prejudices. The Klan seeks also to take into its own hands the administration of punishment, thus setting itself up as superior to government."

Efforts to promote Fascism in the United States was denounced "as a token of hostility to our democratic institutions and particularly to our American trade union movement."

"Promotion by a foreign power of a hostile movement on our soil," the report continued, "cannot be lightly regarded by our movement or by our people in general. No disclaimers from abroad can alter the character of the Fascisti nor change the fact that the offspring in America

Italy."

Foreign Workers

"We call upon workers of foreign birth to refrain from joining the Fascisti or any similar movement in our country. Foreign workers who come to our shores in good faith come because America offers freedom and opportunity for the individual. To then promote an organization hostile to every institution of American freedom is to trespass on every principle of honesty and to be guilty of conduct which cannot be condoned."

The Fascisti cannot exist in America without the membership and support of workers who have come from the birthplace of Fascism. There must be no Fascisti in our republic and it is the duty of American trade unionism to use every honorable effort to purge the country of this offshoot of European turmoil. Those who cannot come to America prepared to find expression for their opinions and requirements through the orderly methods brought into being at such great cost through the establishment of free democratic

A Nobler Purpose

"Labor now participates more fully in the decision that shape human life than ever before and more fully in America than in any other nation on earth; but our participation must be gradually brought to completion. The purpose of this is not only the commanding of better wages and better conditions of work, vital as these are and have been. The purpose that now unfolds is broader and nobler and filled with deeper meaning."

"For the future industry must become something of which we have a national consciousness. It must cease to be a disconnected collection of groups, like states without a union. The future demands an American industry, in which it shall be possible for all to give of their best through the orderly processes of democratic, representative organization."

What Theory Can Do.

The speaker contended that the sex, nationality, distance, location of the individual, the presence of disease, if any, its type and exact location in the body, could be determined from a drop of blood, even though the body from which it came might be thousands of miles away. He said that this was done in 3,000 clinics in Canada and the United States.

"Dr. Abrams' theory can tell a man's creed from the examination of a drop of his blood, or his written signature. Electrons go down the pen or pencil of the writer to the paper and become fixed indefinitely in the handwriting, so that even in later years the discovery can be made," declared Dr. Hall, as he pointed out that what was necessary to permit the practice of the Abrams' theory in its complete form were two rheostats, a two-stage transformer, a grounded circuit and the presence of a reagent.

Dr. Abrams' theory can tell a man's creed from the examination of a drop of his blood, or his written signature. Electrons go down the pen or pencil of the writer to the paper and become fixed indefinitely in the handwriting, so that even in later years the discovery can be made," declared Dr. Hall, as he pointed out that what was necessary to permit the practice of the Abrams' theory in its complete form were two rheostats, a two-stage transformer, a grounded circuit and the presence of a reagent.

"I know you will say that what I have told you is nothing but bunk, and that I am crazy. I want to tell you that I sweated blood for weeks when I was looking into this theory, and I didn't know whether I was being hypnotized or imposed upon. I have carefully studied this electronic system, and am convinced that it is a marvellous discovery, and believe that as yet, the fringe of its greatness and opportunity has only been touched," concluded Dr. Hall, who was warmly applauded for his interesting remarks.

failed to produce a real heavy-weight leader. It is on this account that Tex O'Rourke, who has trained some of America's best fighters, has gone to England to lend his advice to British pugilistic promoters and sporting clubs in their quest for a "British Hope." At a recent meeting of boxing enthusiasts held in London to celebrate the "movement," the American expert gave an interesting account of the adventures he encountered in his search for a contender for the championship.

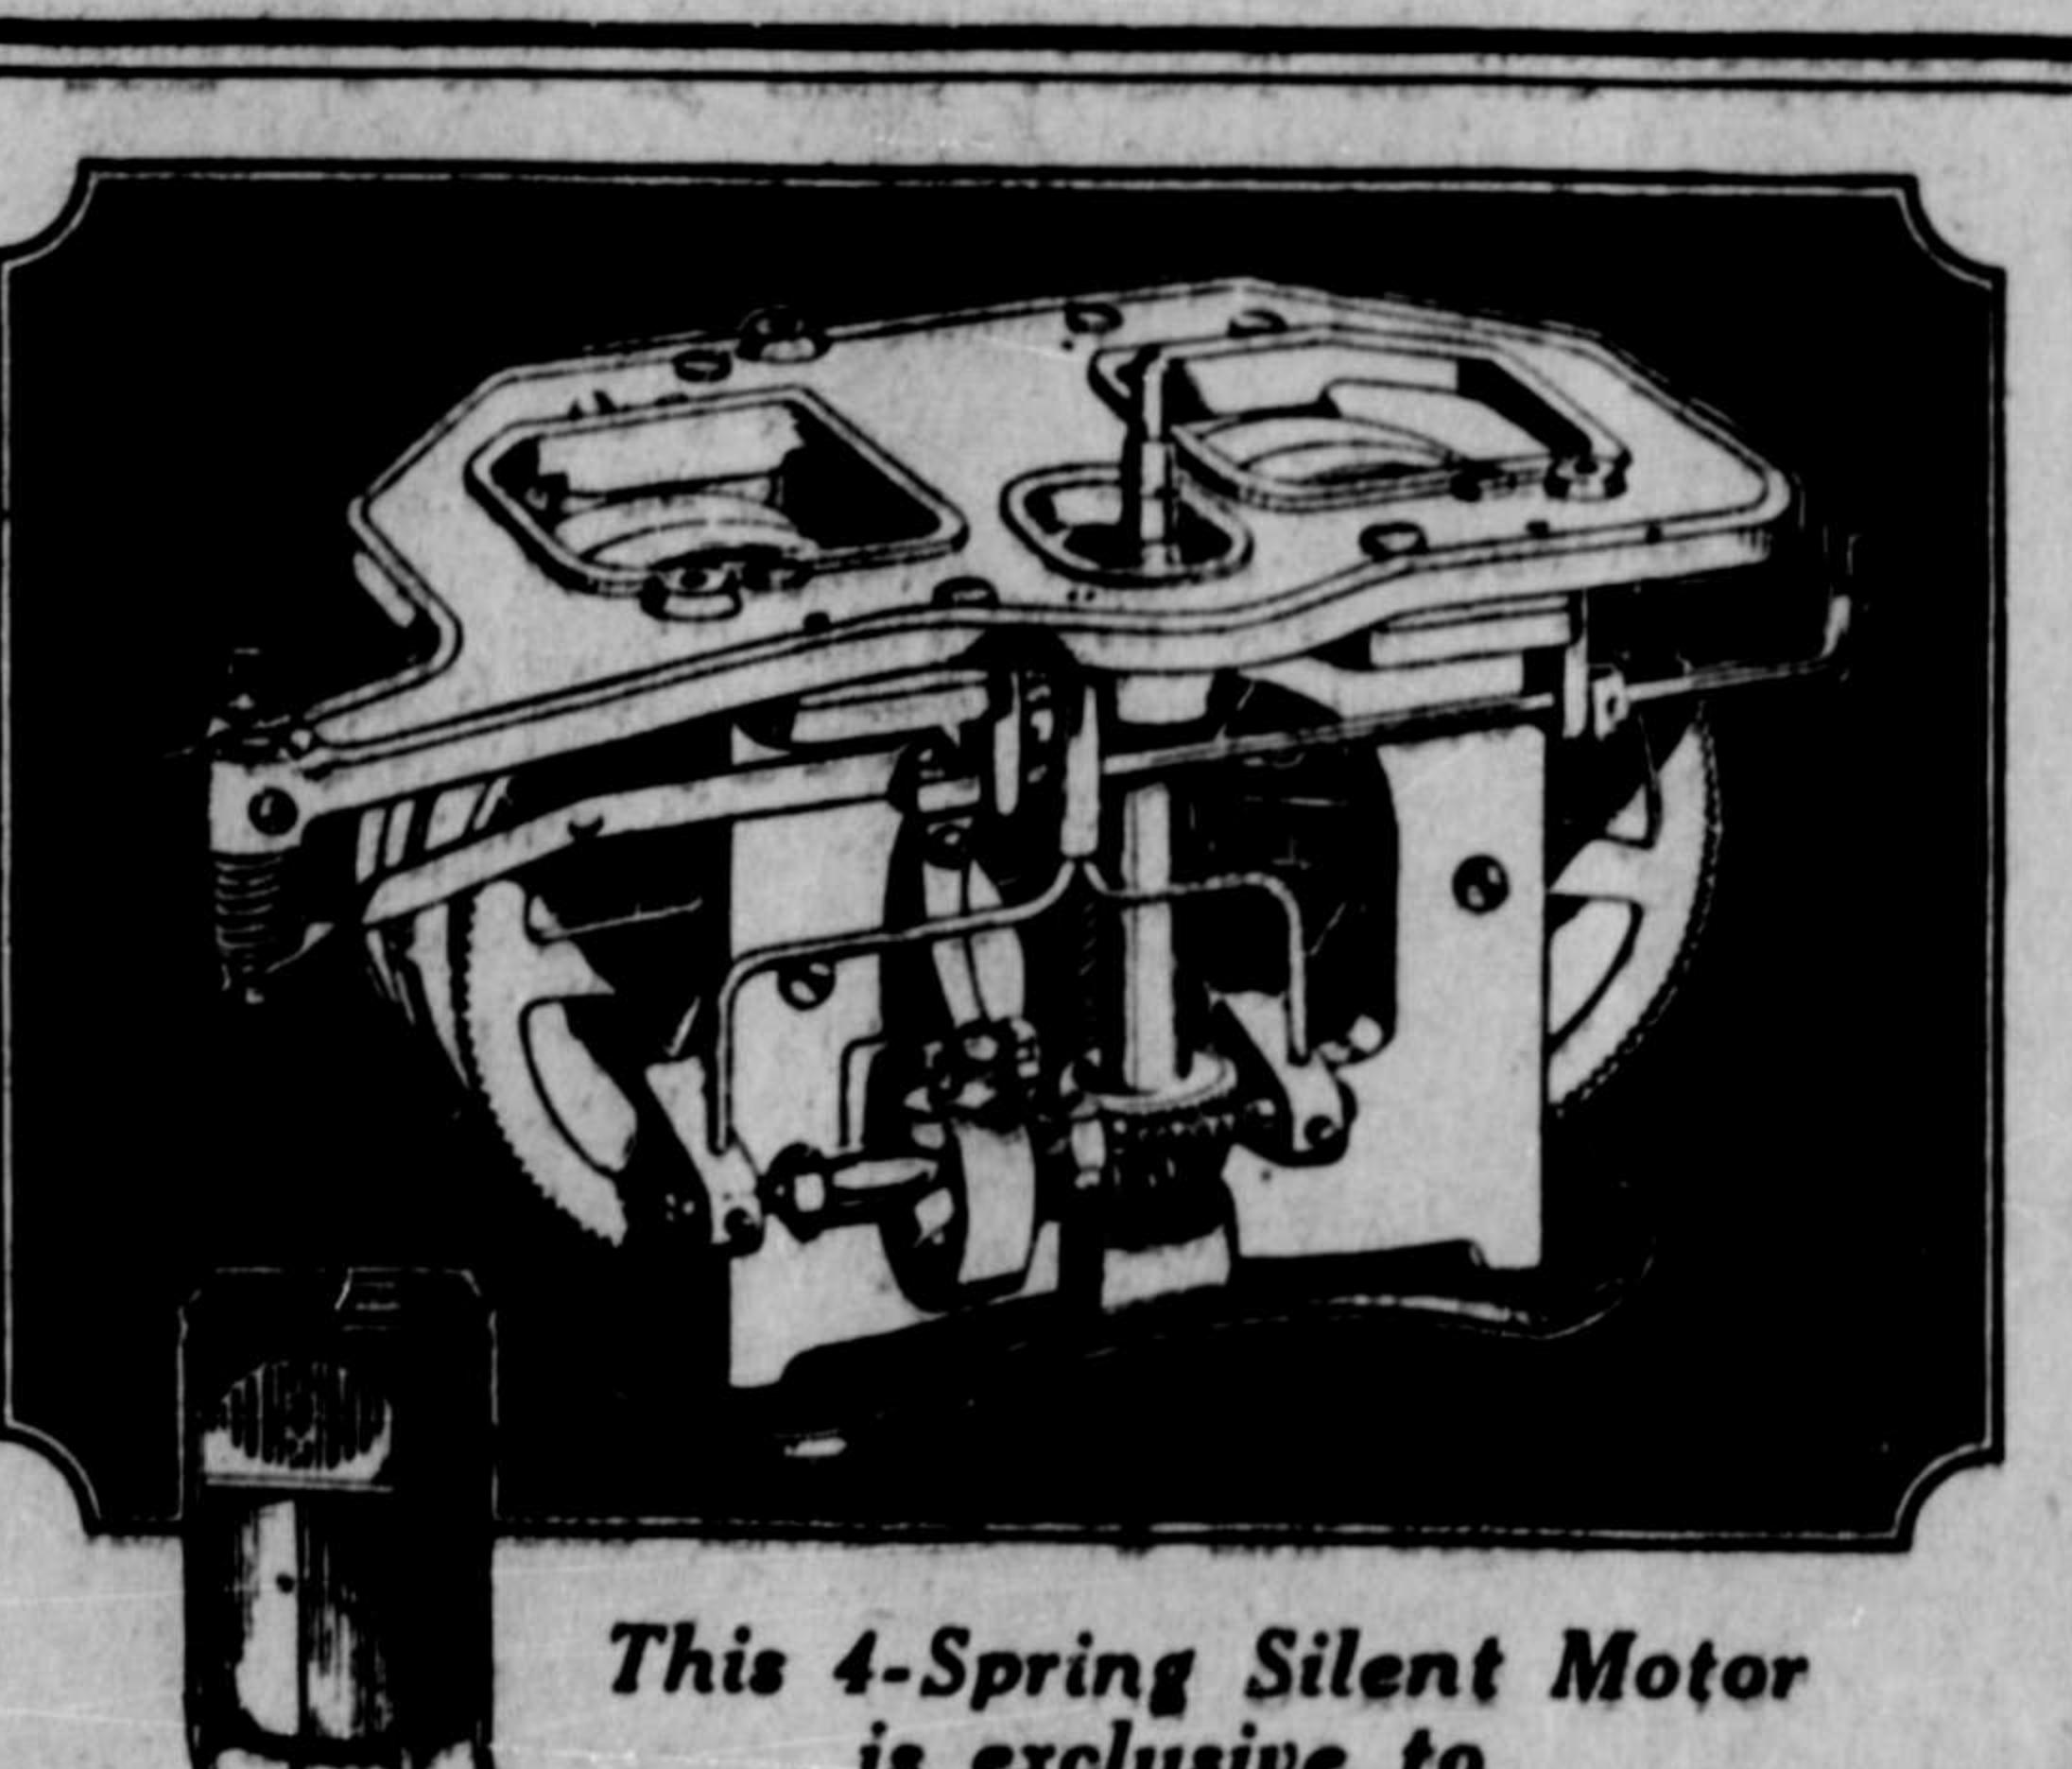

All the towns and villages of England, Mr. O'Rourke explained, have been searched for the right men. The plan is, when a heavy-weight of potentialities is discovered, to pay him the same salary he has been earning and put him through the most rigorous training that an English boxer has ever experienced. He will be taught "the whole business" and, when he is fit, started fighting at the bottom rung of the ladder until his experience is such that he may have some chance of beating whoever the champion of the time happens to be. Mr. O'Rourke said, in his search of England, that he had discovered four or five young men with the desired physical qualities coupled; as far as could be known at this stage, with the necessary mental qualities. The first discovery to pass the test was Leslie Price, son of a Bristol hotel-keeper, who is 6 ft. 2 in. in height, weighs 220 pounds, and is 20 years of age. In the same town was found Henry Walter McGran, 6 ft. 3 in. tall, 217 lbs. in weight, aged 22. "I have never seen a man in the raw possessed of more aggression than this one," said Mr. O'Rourke.

From Birmingham comes William Prestage, 6 ft. 3 in., 196 pounds, with exceptionally large hands and a very long reach.

Liverpool has given Isaac Ingleton, a giant of 6 ft. 5 in., who has been accustomed at his trade to throw about bags of sugar weighing 200 pounds as if they were feather pillows. London's contribution is a policeman 6 ft.

LAY SPEAKERS TO METHODIST CONGREGATION

T. McClymont and Dr. W. T.
Kergin Gave Addresses

DANCING ADVOCATED

The Methodist Church was filled to capacity last night, the occasion being a congregational rally.

Magistrate McClymont gave an excellent address stressing the value of the church to the community. Real estate men always advertised the number of churches in a place, for the man who knocked the church wouldn't buy real estate in a churchless city. The speaker also stressed the value of the church as a builder of character. The third point Mr. McClymont stressed was the value of the church as a creator of proper environment. He contrasted the environment of the bar room and that of the church. "Some will not agree with me," he said, "but youth will dance somewhere and I believe that the church should provide dancing under proper conditions. I strongly favor the gymnasium and the swimming pool."

Greater Co-operation

Dr. W. T. Kergin gave a splendid address on similar lines to Mr. McClymont. The doctor urged a greater co-operation of all citizens in church work. The influence of the church extended far beyond the regular church goers. The average man was just as honest and philanthropic as were men of past generations. The carelessness of men in church going was due to post war conditions. The church always stood behind all movements of moral uplift and the Doctor was sorry to say that things had drifted in Prince Rupert to conditions which were not creditable. Dr. Kergin said: "We are all to blame for present conditions. We have been too lax as citizens. Let us get behind the church and put some pep into its activities. The minister cannot carry the whole burden."

Morals of Young

In conclusion the Doctor said: "Let us remember that the church teaches our boys and girls the morals and work of Jesus, and this is the one thing we cannot afford to neglect."

Solos were very pleasingly rendered by Miss Davies and Mrs. G. Woodworth.

Following the service a social hour was spent in the basement of the church. A song service led by Mr. Frank Dibb was much appreciated. Mr. Clifton of Hartley Bay rendered a solo in the native language. Orchestral music was furnished by Prof. Pryce, Miss Lancaster, A. J. Lancaster and G. Woodworth. Needless to say these numbers greatly pleased the audience.

In his sermon yesterday morning Rev. H. R. Grant, D.D., gave some reminiscences of the past 25 years of his ministry, which he has just completed. Previous to that he had five years' missionary work under the Home Mission Board on the prairies.
