Fish Shipper Asks for Storage Facilities in Shipping from Alaska

"Prince Rupert is the logical shipping point for all Alaska wild cured herring and salmon but it cannot get this trade without giving the needed facilities. Herring buyers often desire to store some of their herring at shipping points for later distribution to various markets and the Canadian National Railway should erect a small cold storage plant here to take care of them."

Such is the statement of Einar Beyer, prominent Alaska fish operator, who arrived in the city this morning on his motor-boat Einar Beyer from Big Port Walter, Alaska. Mr. Beyer is accompanied by William Oxen-berg and E. Arneson, of New York, both of whom are prominent fish dealers and who have been in southeastern Alaska for the past week looking over the situation as regards the supplying and fishing of wild cured fish this year. The Einar Beyer brought in today her second cargo of wild cured herring to be shipped over the Canadian National Railway through this port this season. It consists of three car loads. The boat arrived in port at 6:30 this morning and clears on her return north this afternoon after discharging at the ocean dock. Mr. Beyer, Mr. Oxen-berg and Mr. Arneson will go south to Seattle on the Prince George tonight. Mr. Beyer to be back within ten days when another shipment of herring will arrive here on the Einar Beyer.

Alone From Uscilug to Milwaukee Via Canada

Eleven-year-old Polish Boy

Makes Long Voyage Alone.

TRAVELLING does not tire or trouble this little fellow. Though he does not speak any English other than two or three words which he picked up en route, he travelled alone from his home at Uscilug on the Russia-Austrian boundary to Milwaukee, burdened only with a small valise and a sheet of tickets and immigration documents. Keith Herz is his name. Orphaned by his mother's death three years ago, he was coming to his father in Milwaukee, who had made arrangements for his transportation.
When Keith arrived at Warsaw he was conducted by an agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Antwerp where he was given a ticket almost as long as himself which would carry him through to his destination.
Crossing to England he sailed on the "Melcom," belonging from the time he left Warsaw, under the care of the Canadian Pacific. The direct mileage from Milwaukee to Uscilug is not by any means the full mileage of his travels. The ship's officers estimate that he ran at least twenty miles a day over the vessel, and the port officials had an anxious time when he made surreptitious peregrinations in search of someone who spoke his own tongue. He was glad of course, to meet his father, but what an adventure it is to travel far and alone!

Cyclonic Storm Sweeps Central Saskatchewan and Part Alberta Killing Lad; Destroying Property

SASKATOON, June 18.—Cyclonic storms swept central Saskatchewan Saturday night. A bunkhouse on a farm at Rose-town was picked up and dashed fifty yards through the air.
Victor Cassidy, aged 15, was killed. Ten miles away another shack was blown a mile, and a half across the prairie. Nile Woods was badly hurt and his wife slightly injured when the hotel and livery barn at Rosetown was unroofed and the garage and grain growers headquarters were wrecked. Arthur Brown was sleeping in the bunkhouse which was destroyed. He escaped injury only to be knocked senseless by a falling rain barrel which struck him while crawling to cover.

The farmhouse of J. C. Colwell near Kindersley was struck by lightning and burned down. Edward Allard's farm near Rosetown was turned completely round while the family slept.
Nobody was hurt but the barns were destroyed and eight horses and several head of cattle were killed.

An auto going down hill on low gear was blown backwards until the top was torn off when the car tumbled forward with practically nothing left but the chassis.

There was much damage to property around the farming district of McGee, Saskatchewan. Elevators were much damaged and barns wrecked. Harris, Saskatchewan, district also suffered damage.

Power Boat Belmont Struck Rock in Grenville Channel and all Aboard in Lifeboats

The big gasoline boat Belmont, owned by the Belmont-Surf Inlet Gold Mining Co., while southbound from Prince Rupert to Surf Inlet, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning struck a rock off Sarrant Island near Princess Royal Island in Grenville Channel about 80 miles south of here and sank as a result. While it is reported that there is no hole in the Belmont and that her hull is intact, much damage has, however, been done to the engine and interior of the boat through her submersion.

The Belmont struck the rock in a fog about high tide and at the ebb the bow was left up on the rock while the stern went down.
On the rise, the water came over the stern and completely submerged the boat except for a small portion of the bow.

Capt. Green and members of the crew as well as F. H. Penn, manager of the mine, and Mrs.
Penn, who were returning to Surf Inlet after a trip to Prince Rupert, took to the life boats.
The Chelohsin passed by yesterday afternoon and was signalled.
Capt. Green boarded the steamer and came in to Prince Rupert to get assistance. At 3 this morning the "Prince Rupert" Boat House launch "23" went south with Capt. Green aboard to take off some of the Belmont's cargo and proceed to Surf Inlet with it and the passengers.

While the Belmont is in a precarious position, it is believed that she can be jacked up and floated off at high tide.
Whether or not she will be brought to Prince Rupert for such repairs as are necessary has not yet been ascertained.

The Belmont was built in Vancouver in 1917. She is 64 feet long, 13 foot beam and 5 feet deep. Her gross tonnage is 44 and she is one of the finest yachts plying in local waters.

Sing Anthem And Revere The Flag.

Speaking recently at Washington President Harding urged that every citizen of the United States should learn to sing the national anthem, be taught to revere the flag and to maintain unimpaired the things for which the flag stands.

Possibly this might be a lesson for us. Most of us can sing the British national anthem but few know the Canadian anthem and sections of the people throughout the country each sing a different version. Possibly the best version has not yet been written but it is a pity all cannot agree on some verses now in use. The Canadian Club has made laudable efforts with this end in view but not yet with marked success. To sing the anthem and revere the flag is a great impetus toward unity of purpose. Even those who believe in the greater internationalism of the future, as most people today do, can still be loyal to their own country.

Stand At Attention In Singing Anthem.

The American people are advised from time to time as to how they shall honor the flag of their country and as to their duties toward the state. Possibly here we do too little of that sort of thing. We are apt to look with a certain amount of contempt on those who make outward displays of their loyalty.

Those who have noticed the War Veterans or a regiment of soldiers stand at attention when singing the national anthem have been struck with the effect. The moment the first strains of the music are heard, the men straighten up and their hands come to their sides. It is a treat to watch them. The comparison with the person who slouches to his feet and leans against a post while the anthem is being sung is most noticeable.

We owe it to the symbol of our nation to pay respect to the flag and to the song which should be the crystallizing of our national spirit. The person who honors his country is the real internationalist, for he can never be loyal to a world state unless he first learns to be loyal to his family, his province, and his country. If we are to be a great people we must learn to be a unit on great things and the flag and the anthem are the symbols of those.

Those Who Leave During Singing.

There are a few Marxian socialists who refuse to sing a national anthem and who may always be seen making for the door the moment the anthem is commenced. Nothing but pity can be felt for those whose mental outlook is so restricted that they cannot see that even in a socialist community there would have to be loyalty in order to insure success. The man who is not loyal to his country will not be loyal to the great cause of the workers or to any other cause.

People are gregarious. They live in communities. As long as they do this there must be a binding force, else there can be no unity of purpose and no hope of success in anything that is undertaken.

Union Of Forces May Come Into Effect.

Some day there may be unity of forces which make for advancement. It is not at all improbable that the English speaking world may unite for a common purpose, not temporarily but permanently. If ever there is to be a world state, it will have to come, not through disintegration of present national boundaries but in the extension of those boundaries. Germans had a dream of a world state which should be Germany and the ideal would have been all right if it had not been selfish. So, many have a dream of Anglo Saxon dominance. Neither of these can succeed. There must be no dominance. It is because of the absence of the note of dominance that the British people have been able to hold together and to hold other nations with them. Possibly as time goes on the English speaking nations may become the core of a world state of which all other nations will become a part. If so there will have to be a lot of unselfish work done and a great deal of breaking down, not so much of national barriers, but of fiscal and racial barriers.

DIAMOND MINES SEEN IN PINK GODS FILM

The scenes in Pink Gods at the Westholme tonight are laid in South Africa, and the picture is based on Cynthia Stockley's novel —"Pink Gods and Blue Demons." The author is thoroughly familiar with the great diamond mines for she envelops her story in a wealth of picturesque detail.

Bebe Daniels is excellent as the leading woman in the part of Lorraine Temple, who cannot resist the temptation to bedeck herself with fine jewelry. A strange fascination that not only conquers her but also brings about a series of thrilling adventures! James Kirkwood is leading man and Anna Q. Nilsson and Raymond Hatton have important roles.

TRIFLING WOMEN IS STORY OF ZAREDA THE CRYSTAL GAZER

The new Rex Ingram film, Trifling Women, which is to be here Wednesday combines the elements of excellence that have stamped him as one of the hopefuls of the screen. It has the dramatic thrill of "The Four Horsemen"; the romantic beauty of "The Prisoner of Zenda," and the suspense of "The Conquering Power." It has, too, what each of these photoplays had; remarkable attention to details, supreme good taste and intelligence, and an uncanny gift for pungent characterization.

"Trifling Women" is a story within a story. In order to point a moral to his pleasure-loving and frivolous daughter, who ignores a devoted lover, her author-father reads to her the manuscript of his new novel, the story of Zareda, the crystal gazer.

He recounts the woman's terrific fascination, which leads brother to conspire against brother, and father against son. He tells how Zareda's hold on an old Baron, whose son Ivan, too, shares her favors; of the young man's departure to war; of the Baron's death at Zareda's instigation; of Ivan's return and his discovery that she has married a wealthy Marquis for his money; and, finally, of the illicit love of Ivan and Zareda, costing them their lives in the Sorcerer's Tower.

PRISONER OF ZENDA FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Well Known Story Shown in Picture This Week End Here

The "Prisoner of Zenda" is the week-end picture here. It is a story teeming with dramatic action, full of intrigue, romance and excitement. It concerns the adventures of an English gentleman, one Rudolf Rassendyll, who, because of a remarkable likeness to the ruler of the mythical kingdom of Ruritania, becomes for a time its actual ruler and wins the love of the Princess Flavia.

The Prisoner of Zenda is the most popular romance of a generation. From the time when Anthony Hope, then more interested in his political career in England than in writing, composed it, the narrative of Rudolf Rassendyll's reckless adventure has taken hold of the hearts of all who read. This was the first of the stories of romance in little kingdoms in Europe, and no better indication can be had of its success than that it inspired hundreds of writers to imitate it.
But none of the resulting stories had the zest, the devil-may-care spirit of the original, for that was written chiefly for the love of imagination the author had; it was as glamorous to him as to his readers.

The Prisoner of Zenda has stepped out of the pages of the book and come very much to life on the screen. Different essentially from "The Four Horsemen," as different as realism is from romance, the newer picture nevertheless has been done upon the same great scale and with the same faithfulness to the spirit of the written page.

PARADE TO ADVERTISE BIG MINSTREL SHOW WESTHOLME TOMORROW

The Elks are preparing to advertise their big minstrel show Tuesday night by a parade through the streets.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance for the event because of the promise of a "simply wonderful time" that the Elks minstrels always give those who attend their performances.
This time it is said the black face artists will outdo all former efforts in the real funniness of their humor and in the topical and other songs.

The playlet at the close is something different from what has been seen here before.
The proceeds are for the Nurses' Home.

J. E. Miller, inspector of customs and excise, and T. Mason, assistant inspector, were passengers going through from Victoria to Dawson on the Princess

Daughters of England Were at Annual Service Last Night at Salvation Army Citadel

Members of the local Daughters of England lodge attended annual church service last night at the Salvation Army Citadel. Owing to the fact that several members of the lodge are out of town, the attendance was not large. Adjutant Kerr and Staff Captain Jaynes preached appropriate sermons. Staff Capt. Jaynes and Capt. Coleman sang a duet and the former also rendered a solo. Mrs. George Leek, worthy president of the lodge, was in charge. There was no parade but the members assembled at the citadel.

W. J. Pittman Here From Prince George Will Test Ability of Sixteen Pupils

W. J. Pittman, formerly of this city but now of the Pittman Music Store, Prince George, is here today conducting the music examinations for the Toronto Conservatory at the convent. There are sixteen pupils offering, fourteen from the convent and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams who have been taught by their mother.

Mr. Pittman is much interested in the progress of Prince Rupert and he says the big pulp mill at Prince George is expected to be started this year.

Sport Chat

The program of outside sport for the week:

Monday (tonight)—Intermediate baseball, Colts vs. High School, Aeropolis Grounds. Tuesday—Junior baseball, Scouts vs. Falcons, McBride Street. Wednesday—Senior Football, Sons of Canada vs. Sons of England, Aeropolis Grounds. Trap shooting at Park Ave. Thursday—Senior baseball, Gils vs. Sons of Canada, Aeropolis Hill. Friday—Junior baseball, White Sox vs. Scouts, McBride St. Junior football, Public Schools vs. High School, Aeropolis Hill.

On account of the Elks' minstrel show for the nurses' home, the Senior football game between the Sons of Canada and Sons of England has been postponed from Tuesday until Wednesday evening this week. This is the concluding game of the Mobley Cup and city championship series. Since the Grotto have the championship on ice now, the Canadians and Englishmen have nothing in that way to gain as a result of the game. The only effect it will have on the standing will be in regard to cellar honors. If the Sons of England win they will share the bottom position with the Canucks. If the Canucks win, the Sons of England will be left alone in that position.

The next on the football program after this week will be the Dominion Day cup play-off. There will be a meeting of the league to set the dates of the games this week and next week, the first game will be played.

On account of the High School exams last week, there has been a general switchup in the scheduled dates of Intermediate Football League games. Instead of the Colts and Public Schools playing on Friday night at this week, as the time-table calls for, the Public School and Big School will meet.

The Sons of Canada have a pretty good lead now in the Senior Baseball League and Nickerson Shield competition. With three wins to their credit and no losses, they have a percentage of 1000, Gils, with one win and one loss, are second at 500 and the Grotto, with three defeats and no victories, has three goose-eggs opposite its name in the standing sheet. Though they have not been defeated yet, the Sons of Canada have had at least one close squeak. When they meet Gils on Thursday night of this week, a good interesting match should be served up. A win for Gils would even things up somewhat and would make the competition more interesting.

LIQUOR VOTE IN MANITOBA

Two Proposals to Come Before People on Different Dates

WINNIPEG, Man., June 18.—(By Canadian Press).—An effort is being made in June and July to determine the will of the people of Manitoba in the matter of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. On June 22 a referendum is to be taken on a proposal from the Moderation League of Manitoba to bring into existence a system of government sale of all liquors for consumption in legal residences, and on July 11 there will be a vote on a proposition submitted by the Beer and Wine League, which has the backing of the Hotelmen's Association, which would make legal the sale by licensed hotels of meals of beer and light wine and by licensed brewers of beer to the consumer's residence. In each case there is before the voters the actual text of the bill, which was prepared in essentials by those responsible for the petitions on which the legislature granted the referendum. The fate of the bills is to be governed by the majority vote of the electors, and if the referenda favor an alteration of the present system the legislature is to meet without delay to take the necessary steps for bringing into effect the people's will.

Control Proposed
The Moderation League's proposal is entitled "An act to provide for government control and sale of liquors." It provides for appointment by the government of a liquor control commission of three members, to hold office during the pleasure of the government and to have complete control of the detailed operation of the system. This commission would establish government stores for the sale of liquor in Winnipeg and in such other cities and towns as they considered advisable. Residents and visitors above 21 years and not on the interdicted list would be sold annual permits for the purchase of liquor at $1.00, or if they did not hold annual permits, they might procure permits for one single purchase at fifty cents. Such permit must be produced when a purchase is made, and liquor purchased would be delivered by the commission and not taken from the government store by the purchaser.

It is provided that breweries might sell beer direct to the purchaser, making returns thereon to the commission, monthly and paying to the government on the beer sold a tax which would be fixed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council. Liquor purchased under a permit might be "kept, then and consumed only in the residence in which he (the permit-holder) resides."

Local Option
There is provision for districts voting by local option for the elimination of government stores. Net profits derived from the system would be divided equally between the province and the municipalities.

The beer and wine proposal is in the form of amendments to the Manitoba Temperance Act and would leave untouched present regulations by which "hard" liquor is sold only by druggists in twelve-ounce bottles on doctor's prescriptions for medicinal purposes. The amendments would enable licensed hotelkeepers to sell in their dining rooms, with meals, beer containing by weight not more than four per cent of alcohol and light wine containing not more than fourteen per cent of alcohol. A "meal" is defined as "the consumption of food of nature and quantity sufficient for the maintenance of the consumer" and dining rooms are "those rooms in a public hotel in which meals are customarily served."

It is provided that such sale might be carried on by licensed hotels between 9 a.m. and 11 p.m. in cities of more than 10,000 people, and to 10 p.m. at other points. No beer nor wine shall be sold on Sundays, Christmas or Good Friday except between 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. to bona fide guests of the hotel.

Licensed brewers would be permitted to deliver beer direct to residences on condition that they make monthly returns and pay a tax on gross sales. Provision is made for interdicting any person who "mis-spends, wastes or wastes his estate"

Buyer Protected by Advertising

Manufacturer Must Maintain Quality of Goods Bearing His Name

HIS REPUTATION AT STAKE

Man Who Buys Standard Brands From Local Merchants Knows That He Is Getting Full Value for His Money

Time was when advertising did not occupy the place in the world of trade that it does today. It has not been so very many years ago that the people were suspicious of advertising. They were inclined to believe that the merchant was trying to "fool" them with his advertising, that he exaggerated the value of the merchandise he advertised and took that method of trying to get them to buy goods that he could not sell by the old established methods of merchandising.

Those days are gone. The public now realizes that it is the greatest beneficiary of advertising.

Advertising has done more in a decade to establish certain standards in merchandise than could have been accomplished in a hundred years by any other agency. The manufacturer who a few years ago merely made and sold clothes now makes and sells the Blank brand of clothes. The man who formerly just made hats now makes Blank's hats. And so it is with everything that one buys today. The manufacturer, by his advertising, has built up his business around a trade name and if he is to continue in business he must protect that trade name by maintaining such a high standard of quality that people when they buy his products will know just what they are getting. The consumer, when he goes into a store today, does not buy merchandise blindly, with the hope that it will prove to be worth the money. He buys standard goods that bear the trade-mark of the manufacturer and that are backed by the reputation not only of the merchant who sells them but the manufacturer who makes them. This has been brought about by advertising.

No Reputation to Protect

All this applies to the retail merchants as a class but it does not apply to the mail order business. The man or woman who buys goods from a catalogue house is not protected by the manufacturer of the goods, for the reason that most manufacturers who sell goods to the mail order houses do not place their names upon the goods and therefore have no reputation to protect.

The great majority of articles listed and illustrated in the mail order catalogues are included in what is known among manufacturers as "stencil" stuff. These articles bear the name of the mail order house which sells them instead of that of the manufacturer who makes them. It can readily be understood that any manufacturing concern which turns out goods that do not bear its name or trade-mark is likely to be a very unreliable institution. It is not building up any reputation on the quality of its goods, for its products have nothing to distinguish them from the products of any other concern. With no reputation to sustain and no chance of creating a general demand for its goods the only concern of a manufacturing institution of this kind is to make stuff as cheaply as possible in order to obtain the largest possible profit on its products.

Same Price World Over

These facts are chiefly responsible for the generally prevailing idea that the home merchants do not sell goods as cheaply as the mail order house. They do usually sell the same quality of goods that the mail order house sells it but they cannot sell the standard, guaranteed products of responsible manufacturers at the same price at which the mail order house sells its nameless, unbranded merchandise. Standard goods bearing a registered trade-mark sell for the same price the world over and the manufacturer's guarantee stands back of them when they are sold in the smallest village in the country just the same as when they are sold to the stores of the larger cities.

PRETTY WEDDING AT TELKWA ON FRIDAY

Miss Bertha Winnifred McDonald Becomes Bride of C. R.
Goodacre, of Victoria

A quiet but extremely pretty wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. McDonald on Friday evening at five p.m., when Miss Bertha Winnifred McDonald became the bride of Clarence Renald Goodacre, son of Samuel Goodacre, of Victoria.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. G. Mawhinney, under an arch which was a mass of roses and other flowers. The bride who was given away by her father was very sweet in white crepe de chine. She carried white carnations interlaced with smilax. The orange blossoms on the veil were some which the bride's mother wore, and which are a treasure now.

Miss Pearl McDonald attended the bride and wore mauve satin and a large black picture hat. Her bouquet was composed of pink carnations and maiden hair fern. J. J. McNeil supported the groom.

Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. The mother of the bride in pearl grey satin received the guests.

After the register was signed, the guests partook of a very dainty wedding breakfast during which the bride cut the cake.

There have been no further developments in the matter of the assault on Miss Roma Caldwell on Friday night in spite of the efforts of the city police. Chief Vickers stated this morning that many persons answered the description given by Miss Caldwell, so the detection of the culprit in question is a difficult matter. One man was arrested on Saturday but he was released when he gave a satisfactory account of himself for the time in question. Several other persons have been examined. The man who committed the assault is believed to have been a fisherman.
