YOUNG GIRL WILL CASH IS SLUGGED PAY CHECKS

Annie Sorenson, Aged 14, Victim of Assault Saturday Night—Assailant Unidentified

Presumably the victim of some sort of a crank, 14-year old Annie Sorenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sorenson of Seal Cove, was slugged on the back of the head while walking along Dunsmuir Street between Eighth and Ninth Avenues at 10:45 Saturday night. The injury, which all but rendered her unconscious, necessitated a stitch being put in. The young girl's assailant is believed to have been a man who, according to the report she made to the police, had followed her for three or four blocks.

Annie, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dybhavn on Ninth Avenue West in order to be closer to school, had been spending the evening with her parents at Seal Cove and was on her way to the Dybhavn house when she was assaulted. The man ran off when the girl screamed, the attention of residents nearby being thus attracted. Some sort of a weapon is believed to have been used.

The police are proceeding with their investigation into the incident.

Il Duce and Pope Both of "Builder" Type, Says Paper

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 5.—The fact that both the church and the Italian state are headed by men of the "builder type" is called a "providential coincidence" in the newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia.

The paper points to the similar programs being carried out by Pope Pius and the Duce. While His Holiness has modernized Vatican City and reclaimed large stretches of land gone to weed on the papal summer estate at Castel Gandolfo, the Fascist chief has been building up Rome and simultaneously carrying out large land reclamation schemes in various parts of the country.

Personal Liberty and the New Social Order as Set Forth in Italy By Premier Mussolini

(By Victor Basso-Bert—Article 4)

The dominating factor in our social system is freedom of action. The law provides ample liberty for the exercise of our faculties for organization in the application of our talents in the economic field, giving us all the possible chances of bettering our conditions and of investing our money in developing the natural resources or in commercial enterprises in a small or large way, according to our personal ability or the means at our disposal.

Both manual and intellectual workers have the choice of selling their labor either by private or collective bargaining with their employers. The law provides protection to both parties. In case of an orderly dispute between labor and capital the state stands neutral.

A coalition of all the forces of both parties, on the one side, presents the powerful corporations, the huge trusts and the holding companies, in other words, the ramification of the intricate interests that characterize the social tissue of the modern world. On the other side are the equally powerful labor unions, trades and labor councils, federations and confederations.

Sometimes the people are passive spectators of great economic conflicts raging with the fury of a hurricane, unfortunately often followed by loss of human life, like a real war. This fight becomes stiffer and closer all the time. The ingenuity of the engineer, the scientific researcher and perfecter of labor-saving machines have been enlisted to bring about the accumulation of wealth on one side and the gradual pauperizing of the mass of producers on the other.

The Rockefellers, the Morgans, the Carnegies, the Rothschilds and their less fortunate brethren the Krugers, the Insults, the Outriches, the Gualinos and the Stimeses are on the one side and, on the other, the twenty-five millions of unemployed in the world. These are the fruits of our economic liberty, the liberty that has brought a mass of producers face to face with starvation and is endangering the very foundation of organized society.

An Uneven Battle
The victims of this unequal struggle have to fight an uneven battle. The great corporations and the huge trusts, look like cyclopean giants, fully armed with spears and shields, against famished pygmies, armed only with their bare fists.

Mussolini, in ten years of experience as a militant socialist, as a leader of large organized forces of labor in a few real general strikes that occurred in Italy before the war, convinced himself of the futility and the uselessness of such conflicts. His great heart was fired by the vision of a civilization more in keeping with the welfare of humanity. His laborious mental process gave the Italians the Corporative State—and probably not the Italians only.

The Fascistic state, while respecting the rights of private property and private initiative, in making the labor syndicates (unions) the principal legal, fundamental and propulsive nucleus of the new state, substitutes class war, class clash and class hatred with a well-ordinated unitarian social order in which the entire economy of the nation is subordinated to politics for the sake of unity, co-operation, and collaboration, which finally works out for the common good and insures economic security for the workers.

To mention some features of the social legislation of Italy, take at random one example out of very many. All forms of labor are entitled to two weeks' holiday with full pay each year and the discharge of an employee must be compensated with three months' pay for every year of service rendered.

INTERIOR BOOSTED

VANCOUVER, Dec. 5.—Producing baby beef is the best prospect of farming in Central British Columbia," declares T. G. Stewart of the Dominion Livestock Branch, who is here after directing the distribution of 400 purebred heifers and 50 bulls during the past year in that region. "Settlers do not now realize that there is a market waiting for this quality of product. With the closing up of markets for hay and grain as a result of changes in the timber industry in that part of the province, there remains the opportunity of consuming feed on the farms and the production of baby beef. The animals should be well fed and turned off for market in January on to April and May. They should not be rushed off at once but shipments should be spread out so that carloads may go at intervals. Prince Rupert alone will take two carloads per week. Prince Rupert will also take beef of good quality from the interior all the year around. They will not eat frozen beef when they know that the prime beef of their own hinterland is available at local meat markets. And in addition to the local market, there is also Vancouver.

"In launching a beef industry, we should remember that the ideal plan is to start with a small number of animals and build up. To plunge into this business will likely bring disaster. However, the farmer today who, at prevailing low prices, secures a few females of pure breeding and who uses a pure sire, is bound to make a success. He uses ordinary intelligence. There is no area anywhere has so much feed as the central interior. Nowhere is the climate more favorable for beef production. From start made this year, there should grow up an industry which will be valuable to the entire province.

"Animals from the older British Columbia ranching districts of Alberta take to their new homes in the rolling, wooded hills of the part of British Columbia well enough. There is in every district about Prince George, Smithers, Burns Lake, Vanderhoof and other areas an abundance of feed. The herds can winter out and a little grain to finish off the finest results are obtained."

Everett White and Richard Williams appeared in city police court before Magistrate McClymont this morning on charges of drunkenness. White was fined $25, with option of fourteen days' imprisonment, and Williams $50, with thirty days' option, it being his second offence. Both are serving the time.

NEW HAZELTON

The road between New Hazelton and Smithers is now open for traffic, the snow plow having been run over it at the first of last week.

The most of local potato growers have decided to hold their stocks until about March when it is expected there will be a good price. Of recent years several carloads have been fed to stock every spring but it is expected to be different this year.

The Hazelton branch of the Royal Bank of Canada passed out of existence on Wednesday of last week, the local business to be transferred to the Smithers branch. Robert Hunter, the manager, is going to Smithers for a few days and will later report to the Prince Rupert branch. Ben Jones has been instructed to report to the branch at Stevenson.

The young people's organization in connection with the Hazelton United Church has been named the Young Hazelton Club.

The Ladies' Aid to the Hazelton United Church held its annual bazaar last Friday afternoon in Hodder's Hall.

NEW ACTION OVER MINE

Nelson Woman Sues Lindeborg Estate in Connection With Sale of Big Missouri

A case has arisen in Supreme Court at Vancouver out of a judgment which was obtained two years ago from the Supreme Court of Canada by William F. Harris, Port Angeles prospector, for $50,000 in connection with the sale of the Big Missouri mine in the Portland Canal district. Harris succeeded in a claim against the estates of Hiram Stevenson and James Proudfoot, both deceased, for moneys realized in the sale of the mine to the Standard Mine Co. for $250,000. The action against Daniel and Andrew Lindeborg, also both deceased, was dismissed. Suing on behalf of the Proudfoot and Stevenson estates, Mrs. Laura McEwen of Nelson is now claiming contribution from the Lindeborgs—estates for half of the judgment—$25,000 together with interest and costs, a total of $27,724. She alleges that the Lindeborgs were partners of Proudfoot and Stevenson and contends that they agreed with the heirs of the latter to share the costs and judgment which the courts would award to Harris. The $50,000 judgment was paid to Harris out of a final $100,000 payment made by the Standard Mines Co. on the purchase of the Big Missouri.

The trial opened in Vancouver recently, J. W. de B. Farris K.C. is counsel for Mrs. McEwen and A. H. MacNeill K.C. and F. D. Pratt for the representatives of the estates of the Lindeborgs.

James Boyd, supervisor of fisheries for District No. 2, returned to the city on the Cardena last evening from a two weeks' trip to Vancouver where he attended conferences of W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, with the salmon fishing interests.

SMITHERS

For the benefit of the Calf Club, a very successful dance was held by the Quick Farmers' Institute at the Round Lake Community Hall. Music was by the Moonlight Serenaders of Smithers and there were guests present from all parts of the district. The affair was highly successful financially.

During the evening service in the local United Church, Rev. David Donaldson paid a warm tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Ray Pake, an active member and worker of the church, whose death occurred last week in the Fraser Valley. Two minutes' silence was observed out of respect to her memory.

BURNSLAKE

Prince George took all the honors in the clover section at the recent northern central interior seed show at Smithers while Smithers and district took most of the prizes in cereals and timothy. First in alfalfa was taken by Kolling and Pauli of Woodpecker while the first prize for red clover was captured by E. J. Downs, also of Woodpecker. W. Billeter of Smithers took first prize for oats and D. T. Greene of Quick took first for spring wheat.

School boys returning from Danish school swung a bunch of windfalls across the road and blocked traffic. Blinded by falling snow and approaching darkness, a local farmer piled his truck into the debris. The boys were severely reprimanded by the local constable and the irate farmer was fined $10 for travelling without lights.

PRINCE GEORGE

Following an illness of two weeks, Mrs. Elinora Gunn, wife of L. C. Gunn of this city, passed away on Wednesday morning of last week in the local hospital. She had been a resident of the district for many years and her death is sincerely regretted by numerous friends. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from Knox United Church.

It is estimated in a preliminary report of William G. Fraser, city treasurer, that the city of Prince George will show a deficit of $18,743.10 for the year 1932. Tax collections are down more than $2250 from last year and United States exchange and relief costs have also been a burden.

December 5, 1912

Ratepayers of Prince Rupert, at the polls, rejected a money bylaw which would have provided for the construction of a trunk sewer system in various sections of the city at a cost of $1,400,000. The vote was: for, 147; against, 282.

A movement is on foot to organize a Socialist party which would participate in politics locally.

SPORT CHAT

Reid McLennan, who returned to the city last week from a trip to Vancouver, crossed over while in the south to Seattle to see the Pacific Coast Conference football final between University of Southern California and University of Washington. The game, which ended in a score of 9 to 6 in favor of the Californians, was a real thriller, the local barrister reports, and was replete with much hard and sensational play. It was but the second time this season that the Trojans (Southern California) had been scored against, the Washingtonians putting up a great fight against a team which is considered one of the best in the United States.

The number of children attending wrestling bouts has amazed the management of the St. John's Nfld. rink, and in future no persons under the age of 15 will be admitted because the performances do not close "until long after all youngsters should be abed."

Possibly a stadium may be built in Tottenham Court Road, W. London, at a cost of about $5,000,000, according to the head of a prominent London real estate firm, if present negotiations in connection with real estate goes through. The stadium would provide facilities for every sort of sporting contest, dancing tournaments and ice hockey. Exhibitions would also be held there.

Stanford has had a disastrous fall in the Pacific Coast conference and rumors have been current for some weeks that Foster would be seeking a new billet.

EPOCHAL PASSAGE

Armistice Day Incident on ss. Prince Rupert, Popular Coast Steamer

Ss. Prince Rupert of the Canadian National Steamships' Pacific Coast fleet recently completed one thousand voyages between Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Captain Harry Nedden was in charge of the ship at the time and it is worthy to note that, in addition to the regular passenger list on the one thousandth voyage, was S. J. Hungerford, acting president of the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Hungerford was on his first visit to the Pacific Coast since his appointment and was accompanied by A. E. Warren, vice-president, western region, and other officials.

A feature of the memorable voyage took place on Armistice morning when Captain Nedden signalled the engines to stop at two minutes to eleven while passengers and crew stood at attention out of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the Great War.

Ss. Prince Rupert was built at Newcastle in 1910 and was brought out from the Old Country by Captain A. M. Davies, now Examiner of Masters and Mates in Victoria.

On arrival at Esquimalt, the ship was turned over to Captain Barney Johnson, D.S.O. The trip from England was made previous to the opening of the Panama Canal and the ship was brought to the Pacific Coast via Cape Horn and the Straits of Magellan.

Today the Prince Rupert continues her remarkable record with a weekly sailing between Vancouver, Anox, Stewart and Prince Rupert. She still remains one of the most popular ships in service on the Pacific Coast. Since her arrival on the coast she has travelled more than one million, four hundred thousand nautical miles.

Merely routine business was taken up this morning at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Ministerial Association with Rev. Dr. F. W. Dufoe, the president, in the chair. Members were assigned to the weekly sermons for publications in the press and to regular Sunday afternoon services at the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

TWO FILMS ARE SHOWN

"Cheaters at Play" and "Stepping Sisters" Tonight's Features at Capitol Theatre

Screen fans who like thrills, adventure and action will find plenty of these qualities in "Cheaters at Play," which is one of the feature pictures on a double bill being presented at the Capitol Theatre here tonight only. The story, taken from one of Louis Joseph Vance's best-sellers, deals with the efforts of various international crooks to steal the famous Hapsburg jewels which are being brought aboard ship from Europe by a wealthy society woman whose part is played by the popular Charlotte Greenwood. The jewels are stolen twice but are recovered through the astuteness of a jeweler and former master-thief, this important part being played by the veteran Thomas Meighan.

Other important members of the cast include William Bakewell, Barbara Weeks, James Kirkwood and Linda Watkins.

"Stepping Sisters," the other major picture of the double bill, is a rollicking comedy with a pretty romance as well. The most important roles are portrayed by Louise Dresser, Minna Gombell and Jobyana Howland who appear as former queens of burlesque and find themselves on various rungs of the social ladder, each one fearing that her former occupation may be discovered and all finally meeting at a social function where the fun begins, continuing until a final explosion leaves everybody embarrassed but happy.

William Collier sr. and Barbara Weeks are among those in supporting roles.

The Survival of the Sweetest

(By Barbara Brooks)

THREE IN ONE RECIPE

Flap-Jacks, Quick Bread or Muffins, Waffles

One-half cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 eggs (well beaten), 1 2-3 cups sour milk, 1 3/4 cups all-bran, 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, sour milk and all-bran and let soak until most of the moisture is taken up. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt and add to first mixture—stirring only until flour disappears. Bake in square flat pan or muffin tins in a moderate oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or in a hot waffle iron. For flap-jacks, thin the mixture with water or milk.

Yield: 16 small muffins; 12 large squares; 3 waffles or 8 flap-jacks.

Ben Jones, who has been a member of the staff of the branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Hazelton which was closed last week, arrived from the interior on Saturday evening's train and sailed yesterday afternoon on the Princess Norah for Steveston to which point he has been transferred.

ANNOUNCEMENT:

As it is getting more and more impossible for one man to handle all the work coming to my office, I have decided to take in as my partner Dr. O. E. Kvale of Edmonton, Alta.

Dr. Kvale was formerly employed as dentist at the University Hospital in Edmonton.

Knowing Dr. Kvale personally, I can fully guarantee the highest quality of work, and trust that we in the future will be able to give even better service to our patients than I have until now been able to do alone.
