SEVERE WEATHER CONDITIONS IN SOUTH CLASH BETWEEN GERMAN AND FRENCH SOLDIERS RESULTS THREE DEATHS

Forty Mile Gale Sinks Vessel in Seattle Harbor and Tears Small Craft from their Moorings

SEATTLE, Feb. 12.—Buffeted by high winds and heavy seas, the steamer Fidalgo was virtually beaten to pieces against Albers wharf early today and sank in five fathoms of water. The vessel was a small Puget Sound freighter valued at $30,000 and had aboard 3,000 sacks of oats.

The crew of seven men jumped for safety just as the vessel turned and sank.

The Fidalgo arrived here Sunday from British Columbia.

A dozen small craft were torn from their moorings during night and early morning and several are still adrift. There is a forty mile gale blowing but no damage was done to larger ships.

MEMBERS DAY PARLIAMENT

tion of Responsibility For Defeat Will Be Discussed in House

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—Today, the first private members' day in the house this session is likely to bring forth discussion of a variety of topics. The resolutions on the order paper cover a wide range, two in particular will probably come before the House. William Irving, labor member for East Calgary, will move "That the defeat of a government could not be considered sufficient reason for the resignation of a government unless followed by a vote of lack of confidence." It is the custom in Alberta where no notice is taken of snap votes.

John McNeill, Progressive of Kamloops, has a resolution to move forward calling for a commission of inquiry into the grain trade.

The question of capital punishment may also be under consideration.

INTHROES OF A DEPRESSION

Japan's Financial Condition Does Not Improve; Banks Close

KOBE, Feb. 12.—The long financial and business depression which Japan has been experiencing of late reached a spectacular culmination during the last few days in the failure of the Sekizen bank in Kyoto and the closing of other banks because of inability to meet the sudden runs made by depositors on their financial resources.

The failure of the Sekizen bank, caused by misuse of some $8,000,000 in stock speculation by Tameo Takamura, president of the institution, has caused general uneasiness among bank depositors. While some of the directors of the bank have pledged their personal property towards meeting the demands of depositors, their offer will not be sufficient to meet the deficit.

The year 1922 closed with little prospect for improvement in financial conditions within the next three or four months, but in the light of past experience the panic caused by the run on the banks here has always marked the end of depression in the stock market. Following the China-Japanese war the exhaustion of the financial and industrial resources culminated in a run on the banks and other financial houses, but this served to mark the turning point, and conditions soon improved. The present banking crisis may be regarded as one of the inevitable processes to be gone through for the ultimate readjustment of the financial market, which has been over-inflated since the war.

MORRISSEY LEAVES FOR SOUTH AMERICA

D. W. Morrissey, who has been in California for the past few months, has left San Francisco for Colombia, South America, on a gold mining expedition. His cousin, Pat Morrissey, is one of the principals in the expedition.

The banks and other financial houses, but this served to mark the turning point, and conditions soon improved. The present banking crisis may be regarded as one of the inevitable processes to be gone through for the ultimate readjustment of the financial market, which has been over-inflated since the war.

Five Flotillas of Destroyers in Near Eastern Waters Ready For Emergency

VALETTA, Feb. 12.—It is understood the force of British destroyers in Turkish waters is being reinforced by another flotilla from the Atlantic fleet, presumably the fourth, which is en route from Malta destined for the Dardanelles.

This makes the number of British destroyer flotillas in the Near Eastern waters five.

SECRET ORDER GREAT BRITAIN

Society Being Organized Blend Between Klu Klux Klan and Fascisti

LONDON, Feb. 12.—A strange secret society known as the Order of the Crusader, which seems to blend with an antique ritual certain points of resemblance to the Klu Klux Klan and the Fascisti of Italy, is springing up in England.

According to a member of the order it was founded two years ago. During the last two months it has been conducting an intensive campaign for membership, and while it refuses to divulge the number of its members, it claims to have them in every section of Great Britain.

The avowed object of the society is to bring back the spirit of the Crusader to everyday life.

Meetings of the order are held behind closed doors. On ceremonial occasions the members are dressed in a striking garb. Officers wear crimson robes with a large white cross on the left side, and other members adopt a black gown with a white surplice over it, on the breast of which is a red cross.

Emblems

Some of the emblems of the order are suggestive of a different purpose, however. In the ritual a sword is carried to symbolize "service," spurs are worn to represent "chivalry," and "loyalty" is expressed by carrying banners.

The literature of the order states that it aims at forming "in every ward of each town and in every large village a conclave of crusaders, composed of real leaders of public opinion in the locality." Later on they intend to get crusaders into parliament, on county and local councils, in the churches and out of them."

The initiation of candidates, as regards time, place and ceremony closely resembles the Klu Klux Klan.

When each candidate is initiated he is expected to make a donation of two pounds or more, there being no limit, to be used by the officials as they see fit.

The fisheries patrol steamer Malaspina is coaling this afternoon at Albert & McCaffery's wharf.

ASSEMBLY HALL FOR FISHERMEN

Included in Building Plans of Lutheran Church in This City

PREACHER COMING HERE THIS YEAR

The Lutheran Church of Canada is planning the erection of a two-storey building in a central location in Prince Rupert to be used as a church and also as an assembly hall and reading and rest room for fishermen. The lower floor, according to present plans, will contain the rest and reading rooms, etc., and upstairs will be the church and living quarters of the preacher. The cost will probably be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

The Lutheran Church is to be re-opened here this year after having been closed down for some years and a preacher is expected in the spring and summer. This decision has been reached following the visit here recently of Pastor Foss, of Seattle. Until the new building is erected, the old church on Ninth Avenue will probably be used for the purpose. The site and other final arrangements will be decided upon after the arrival of the preacher.

Yesterday afternoon in the Metropole Hall the Scandinavian Lutheran Sunday School was reorganized. There were about 25 children present and Miss Vange, Mrs. K. Hallberg and John Dybahn are in charge.

PRINCE RUPERT AND DISTRICT SHOWN IN AUTOMOBILE PICTURES

A recent issue of the Chevrolet Review, a magazine published at Oshawa, Ont., by the Chevrolet Motor Car Co., deals almost exclusively with British Columbia, its highways and scenic beauties. Prince Rupert and the central interior gets a good deal of prominence both in the illustrations and reading matter and there are many excellent pictures which include the fishing fleet at Prince Rupert, the Pacific Mills paper plant at Ocean Falls, Mount Robson, ranch scenes in the Bulkley Valley and also one of the B.C. Undertakers hearse. Other views are of the parliament buildings, Victoria, street scenes at Vancouver and Victoria, the Koodey River, agencies at Nanaimo, Nelson, Penticton, Chilliwack and Vernon and the Lions, Vancouver. A remarkable photograph shows Big Horn mountain sheep very close to the camera on the Banff-Windermere Highway in the Crows' Nest country.

The literature of the order states that it aims at forming "in every ward of each town and in every large village a conclave of crusaders, composed of real leaders of public opinion in the locality." Later on they intend to get crusaders into parliament, on county and local councils, in the churches and out of them."

The initiation of candidates, as regards time, place and ceremony closely resembles the Klu Klux Klan.

When each candidate is initiated he is expected to make a donation of two pounds or more, there being no limit, to be used by the officials as they see fit.

DAILY EDITION

CHRONICLE Monday, February 12, 1923.

Feeling Of Optimism Is Growing Steadily.

The feeling of optimism in regard to the future of the city is steadily growing. Very soon some of the Canadian National Railway officials are likely to be here to look over the ground with a view to deciding how best to use the port facilities and whether improvements or additions are necessary. There is being shown a desire to make this end of the road pay and this desire is showing itself in discussions in parliament and in various other ways. Everything points to a decided increase of interest in this port and its improvement.

One drawback to the place is the lack of power which the city has to offer those who would come to establish industries in the city. There is no great surplus such as would be needed for a paper mill or for any big concern. This is something which will have to be provided for and which the city is not in a position to undertake. The city has its hands full at present in keeping down taxes in order that the owners of property may be able to continue to pay and keep their property. If some big concern could be induced to come here and develop one of the big waterpowers, it would take this matter out of the hands of the city and they would do the rustling for customers to use the power.

Keeping Fit Is Important Matter.

Are we fit or are we flabby? These are questions we may well ask ourselves. There is a tendency in places like this to forget our physical development and get soft and out of condition. Then it's difficult to get back.

While the facilities for exercise are not as good here as in some places, there are facilities, and even without them, everyone has a bedroom or at any rate a part of a bedroom. There the physical exercises may be taken every morning or evening or both. Ten minutes a day is little enough to give to setting up exercises in order to keep flabbiness away.

Women Need Setting Up As Much As Men.

Women need setting up exercises just as much as men. They get stout when there is no need of it and they lose their comely form because they do not keep themselves in condition.

Then there are the thin people. They can fill out their muscles by proper exercise and make themselves more presentable members of society. Every girl likes to look her best. Also men like to look their best or there is something wrong with their mentality. We are all members of society and owe a duty to ourselves and to our neighbors to look our best. Especially is this true if we have aspirations to succeed. No successful businessman can afford to go around looking like a slouch and the unsuccessful need sprucing up even more than the successful. Physical development is one of the needs of the day.

It is not necessary to turn handsprings, to play basketball or to climb mountains in order to keep fit, although each of these sports is a good one. Steady systematic exercise each morning or evening in the bedroom before retiring for the night will tend to keep the sparkle in the eye and the glow to the complexion. It is something not to be forgotten or neglected.

Women sometimes say they get enough exercise doing the work of the house. So they may, but most of them do not. They exercise some of the muscles but not enough of them. There is perhaps more tendency for women to give up than for men. The conditions under which they work in the home are such as to become monotonous and the system needs the toning up that comes from regular exercise.

Severe Kidney Trouble

Mrs. F. Rinehart, Campbellville, Ont., writes:

"I had trouble with my kidneys and very frequent urination. This was followed by pains which at times were very severe. The doctor said I had inflammation of the bladder and that an operation might be necessary. To this I refused, and began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. From the first few doses I felt the benefit. The pains left, urination was corrected, and I have had no recurrence of these ailments."

TRIAL MARRIAGE NOT SUCCESSFUL

Social Service Council Urges Abolition of Custom Among Indians

OTTAWA, Feb. 12. — The social service council in session here heard the report of a committee on trial marriages among the Indians as follows:

There has been brought to the attention of the committee [this year as in former years, the problem of the continuance of the custom of allowing trial marriages to take place on the Indian reserves. When a trial marriage occurs, no special rite is observed except the complimentary exchange of gifts, and nothing is done which is calculated to give the couple a realization of the responsibility of their position. A spirit of irresponsibility is in fact encouraged by a certain public opinion which supports the action of couples, who, after living together some months as man and wife, grow tired of one another and separate, to enter perhaps very soon afterward into new marriage relationships. This custom is the cause of much looseness and profligacy among Indians on reserves. There are few reserves in Canada which are free from the menace to the Indian race which such looseness constitutes. The committee therefore submitted the following resolution:

The Resolution

"Whereas we conceive the objective of government and church work among Indians to be their inclusion in Christian citizenship, and

"Whereas the home is the fundamental unit of national life, and

"Whereas looseness in domestic relationships on the Indian reserves is causing much concern among many of the missionaries of the various churches engaged in Indian work; and

"Whereas much of this looseness has its roots in the trial marriages practised by the natives, and

"Whereas immorality produces disease, physical decay and race degeneracy, and

"Whereas some Indian agents have already rendered excellent service in this matter in their own agencies,

"Be it hereby resolved that we respectfully suggest to the deputy superintendent general of Indian Affairs that a letter be sent out to all Indian agents, setting forth the facts and asking them to use their influence to persuade the people under their care to forsake their old practices in this regard and to adhere more closely to Canadian laws and Christian teaching concerning marriage, for the purpose of preserving and improving the race."

RADIO ENTHUSIAST IS SMITHERS RANCHER

Jack MacKay Picks up Music and Wisdom From Distant Centres, Gathering It From Ether

Radio for farmers is the latest idea. Near Smithers a set is being used with good effect, according to the Interior News which tells of it as follows:

The radio set now furnishing delight to the ranch home of Jack MacKay, near Smithers, is not only providing entertainment from the world's great artists and immediate dissemination of all important world news, but it also answers the question often asked since radio was established: "Will the mineralized mountains interfere with the sound waves to a point making the radio impossible in the Bulkley Valley?" They will not, states Mr. MacKay, who nightly reclines in the comfort of his own room and taps the ether for his choice of programs being broadcasted from all important cities on the continent.

From Various Sources

Not only has MacKay picked up the nearby broadcasting stations of Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver, but he has heard concerts, lectures, theatrical plays and all the general news of the day from all parts of Canada and the United States. On January 25 he heard Bob Burns concert at Calgary, Minneapolis and at Moscow, Idaho. Each night a half-hour lecture is broadcasted from the State Agricultural College at Tacoma. These are very interesting, says MacKay.

Last summer, while I was walking up a side street, I got a dizzy spell and fell in the middle of the road. British Columbia Produces Milk

The highest quality canned milk produced in Canada at this time is Pacific Milk. It is exceptionally rich in cream and butterfat, which saves a great deal of shortening when one is baking cakes.

It is the high quality of the fresh milk, supplied by the famous dairy herds of the Fraser Valley, that is responsible for the goodness of this British Columbia product. Our improved process only retains the natural goodness and flavor which nature gives the fresh milk.

Watch your weight

Potatoes, white bread and pastries make fat. You can't do the day's work under a burden of fat. Shredded Wheat is a builder of muscle, bone and brain; with just enough carbohydrates to supply heat, energy and healthy tissue, and just enough bran to keep the bowels healthy and active.

The doctors call Shredded Wheat "a well-balanced ration" because it supplies every element the human body needs and in the right proportion. The crisp, tasty, oven-baked shreds of whole wheat are delicious with hot or cold milk for any meal.

one thousand or two thousand to us?

Serve For Honor

Why don't the mayor and city council serve the city for the honor and no salary? Never rest in peace until you have the very best brains that Prince Rupert can produce at the helm! If the residents take no interest in the greatest port "to be" of the British Empire, why should outsiders be interested? This is to be turning point for good or bad in Prince Rupert's history. She was started off by some of Canada's best material. Why don't the best leave other business and take up "piloting" in the old port for a few years? If pays well, wakes up all the sleepy neighbors, and keeps them hustling to get to windward of you, and then they don't, and never will if the game is played fairly!

Get Grain Elevator

The days of political spoon-feeding are over, and if we wish to impress Sir Henry Thornton in the way we would like him to be impressed with Prince Rupert's possibilities (which are enormous), we ought to have that grain elevator subscriber for by the citizens as shareholders before he reaches Rupert—he is a business man and has no presents to give, but willing to help if we prove our worth! Even beautiful dead old Victoria has had a sudden resurrection and is going to do wonderful work this year!

Next, I shall have sleepless nights over our precious drydock, for if the citizen's shock over civic injustice lasts much longer, Vancouver will have taken the drydock as far as Seymour Narrows before you realize it has gone! And all the talking in the world won't convince me to believe otherwise for if you'll part with three of the city's assets with such pliability, the fourth is quite likely to vanish in a similar manner!

Fighting Spirit

Hoping that a real fighting spirit will appear in the near future to determine to hold on to the best and only part with useless material, and that with our best rulers will come all that is good and prosperous for Prince Rupert's welfare.

Not only are the present New York Giants two times world's baseball champions, but McGraw's powerful Manhattan Club also is the life-time champion of the National League. Despite years of second division ball during the Friedman regime, the Giants had the highest percentage of any team in the National League. Over a span of forty seasons, the Giants won 2,692 games and lost 2,089 while they held a winning margin over every team in the League.

It was forty years ago when the New York Nationals played their first championship game on Manhattan soil. This was on May 1, 1883, the strong Bostonians being New York's opponents. It was fitting that the Giants should start off with a victory, as they won the game from the "Red Stockings" by a score of 7 to 5. A crowd estimated at over 15,000 saw the game among them being General U.S. Grant, who "pulled" continuously at a long black cigar and applauded generously whenever the occasion demanded. So great was the crowd that some of the players sold their stocks to standees for fifty cents. There were no $15,000 a year players in those days.

The New York team played its first game under McGraw's management on July 19, 1902. Philadelphia was New York's opponent and won by the score of 5 to 3. McGraw played shortstop for the Giants, handled three chances cleanly, and made one hit and scored a run. McGinnity and Bowerman were New York's battery, while "Ham" Berg and Charley Doon attended to Philadelphia's pitching and catching. Hughie Jennings, at present assistant manager of the Giants, played first base and captained the Phillies.

The greatest number of victories that the Giants have taken from any team in one season is twenty, the Boston team of 1904 being the victim. Three teams have taken as many as sixteen victories from the Giants in one season—the Pittsburgh team of 1901, the Boston team of 1902 and the Chicago team of 1907.

CANADIAN PICTURE AT THIS WEEK END

Alma Rubens Tells of Experiences in Filming Great Story of Rockies

While Alma Rubens has never posed as an athlete, in "The Valley of the Moon," based on James Oliver Curwood's novel of the same name, which comes to the Westholme Theatre at the week end, she performs some feats of endurance which prove her an out-door woman. Cosmopolitan sent a company under the direction of Frank Borzage up into the Canadian Rockies to film the story amid the scenes where the author conceived it. For twelve weeks Miss Rubens and Mrs. Borzage were the only women with the company, sharing all the inconveniences and Adam's Rib is said to be a spectacular drama of modern life. It is another aspect altogether of the modern girl from that shown in Manslaughter.

Charlie Chaplin's latest is "The Pilgrim," the tale of an escaped prisoner that swiped the parson's clothes. Charlie in clerical duds is a scream.

Several movie actors are re-swam to shore. But before they landed they were obliged to duck under the water and remain submerged for fully a minute, while the pursuing police passed in a motor boat without seeing them. But even this experience did not chill the ardor of the young actress.

"I never worked so hard in my life," says Miss Rubens, "but in that cold, bracing air, amid wonderful scenery, it seemed like play. When Spring came into 'The Valley of Silent Men,' and we finished the picture in flowery meadows surrounded by snowy peaks, it was like Paradise except for the deer flies.

LEOPARD WOMAN IS A DRAMATIC STORY

Stewart Edward White's Yarn Done Into a Picture Will be Seen Tonight

She had a duty to perform and she was determined to kill the man she loved in order to accomplish that mission. But when the man had bested her at every point in the game, when he had cheated this leopard woman, as he named her, of his life, and she knew her cause was hopeless, she surrendered to the inevitable.

The Leopard Woman yielded to her beloved enemy only when he had forced acknowledgment that, even though blind, he was her master. It is a conflict between the male and the female of the species that Stewart Edward White wrote into his favorite novel, "The Leopard Woman." Louise Glau plays the title role.

John Culbertson, secret emissary of a large European power, arrives in Bajuma, a city on the edge of the African veldt, on his way to the savage kingdom of M'tela. This kingdom is the goal of two opposing governments — each seeking an alliance as a first step toward future conquest.

Also in Bajuma is Madame, secret agent of the rival government, seeking M'tela's favor, and who has dispatched her to destroy Culbertson in order that her colleague, who has previously started for the savage empire, may reach it unmolested by foreign power. Madame is as beautiful as the Leopard — most beautiful of Africa's jungle creatures — a restless spirit of stealth and cunning, ever searching dim trails in quest of unsuspecting prey. Hence her name, "The Leopard Woman." The story develops from this and is picturesque and thrilling. It will be shown tonight at the Westholme.

"Dr. Jack" has been attracting crowds at Vancouver and Victoria. Possibly manager Ben may be induced to get it here if the demand is strong enough.

"The Christian" is about to be launched in the large cities and later will come to the provincial towns. It is said to be a great picture.

Miss Rubens learned to drive a dog-sledge, and her first appearance in the picture is when she is seen afar off piloting her team of "huskies" across the snowy wastes. Then when supposed to be lost in the mountains, she is seen tramping for miles through the deep snow, climbing steep peaks, and finally slipping and falling into a crevasse of the great glacier above Lake Louise.

PUBLICITY WORK OF THOSE IN THE GLARE

Story of How Charlie Chaplin Announced Engagement to Pola Negri

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(By Canadian Press)—A special despatch to the World from Del Monte, Cal., gives an amusing account of the manner in which the engagement of Charlie Chaplin to Pola Negri was announced.

A little after daylight, the World correspondent asserts, a train stopped at Del Monte junction long enough for a lone passenger to alight. Cautionously he hailed a waiting flivver, murmured, "People Beach Lodge," and sped away.

But not without a pack of enterprising men on his trail. They had had a mysterious warning that such a thing might happen. Could it have been a press agent? No, the thought is unworthy. Anyhow, the trailers got to the lodge just in time to see the fair Pola rush from the veranda and into the arms of the flivver passenger.

"Sharlie," she cried, "why not you no come sooner?"

"I've been very busy darling," replied Charlie. Then turning and discovering the audience, he registered surprise, embarrassment and confusion, and fled with Pola into the lodge.

His surprise, embarrassment and confusion however, were not so great as to prevent this parting remark:

"Don't go away, fellows. I'll have a formal statement to make at noon."

A little after 11 Sharlie and Pola reappeared on the porch. This was the formal statement: "Well, boys, we are engaged. Aren't we, Pola?" A blush.

"Yes, my Sharlie." Another blush.

"When is the wedding?" Asked

WHY are the Canadian and American Manufacturers appropriating fifty per cent more dollars in Newspaper Advertising for the year 1923 than in 1922?

There's a Reason
BECAUSE they have implicit faith in the pulling power of Newspaper Advertising and in the future trade conditions for the coming year.

The daily newspaper has proved itself worthy of this tremendous responsibility and trust.

Men who spend millions of dollars on Newspaper Advertising yearly know what it has done for them in the past and feel safe in trusting their future fortunes to the advertising columns of the daily press.

OCEAN FALLS MECHANICS AT ANNUAL BALL

Great Event of Season was Held at Paper Town With Many Novelties

OCEAN FALLS, Feb. 12.—The largest and best attended dance ever held in the community was the second annual Mechanics Ball.

Young and old had their fill of dancing and eating of the very best, and the large attendance of the people in support of the dance was a tribute to the splendid entertaining powers of the mechanics and their exceedingly clever decorations.

Dancing began at 9 p.m. sharp and the Home Waltz was played at 6 a.m. A surprisingly large number of couples took advantage of the untiring efforts of the splendid music played by the Ocean Falls Orchestra, Leader, L. Day, until the last waltz was played.

The hall was elegantly and suitably decorated for the occasion. Evergreens adorned the ceiling and columns, amongst which was distributed colored lights of all kinds, between the columns on the walls, mechanics trade emblems were placed numbering twenty-two in all.

G. Sherbourne, chief electrician of the plant, as chairman of the decorations committee, and his fellow workers are entitled to a great deal of credit for their remarkable good results.

George Reid and F. R. Denton, assistant master mechanics, were certainly there as to the floor managing. These two were about the best combination the mechanics could have found for these difficult positions, had they searched two plants, to help lead the dance to success.

Supper, Oh Joy

Six-Year-Old Had Bronchitis Every Winter

Bronchitis generally begins with chills, followed by fever and a harsh, dry, hacking cough. There is a raising of phlegm, which at first is of a light color, but, as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

All those who are troubled with bronchitis will find in Dr. Wood's Pine Syrup a remedy that will stimulate the bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, and loosen the phlegm.

Mrs. Oliver C. LePage, South Rustico,
P. E. I., writes:—"My little six-year-old girl had very bad attacks of bronchitis every winter. In the evening and during the night, she would have fever and choke up, and had a wheezing in her chest. We tried several cough medicines, but they never seemed to do her any good. A neighbor advised us to try Dr. Wood's Pine Syrup, which we did, and after she had taken two bottles she got perfectly well."

and joy, especially the coffee, by the intrepid Ed. Spears. Mechanics from all 4 ranches of the plant helped serve supper to some 475 people during whistle time, 12 o'clock, and resumption of dancing whistled at one a.m.

The stage setting for the orchestra, that played, dressed in khaki overalls, represented an engine room and repair shop, with numerous circular saws, steam whistles, compressed air tanks, scenic engine and the usual accoutrements of an up-to-date work room. Chief Engineer
G. H. Leicester outdid himself when he arranged this stage scene.

During the evening novelty dances of many kinds were "screamed up" including a picturesque balloon dance, confetti dance, serpentine dance, and to crown them all a toy croaking bull frog dance for which some 300 croakers were issued to the dancers.
