DRUG INVESTIGATION PROVES SENSATIONAL

NUMBER OF CHANGES IN NORTHERN ELECTORAL DISTRICTS TO BE MADE

Sensational Evidence in Drug Commission Investigation Being Held Regarding Police Methods

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23.—Sensational evidence concerning the methods used by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police narcotics squad in its operations against Oriental offenders was given before the commissioner who is conducting inquiries into their methods, following a police court action in Victoria recently when several officers were charged with illegal handling of narcotics.

Annie Jones, wife of Harry Jones, longshoreman, testified she was asked by Constables F. W. Eccles, one of the accused men, to go aboard a transpacific liner to bring off drugs. She and her husband conspired to do this. She wore a special skirt with a deep hem in which she eventually stored eleven packages of alleged narcotics delivered to her by a toons by this evening. Every Chinaman in the ship. She also thing proving satisfactory, she carried off the ship three or four sealed tins tucked under her Pacific wharf to load Duthie mine arms. She was paid by the ore for California. Then she Chinaman ten dollars a package will go to Ocean Falls to complete cargo with paper from the Pacific mills.

At her home Eccles came and watched another Chinaman take possession of the stuff, remarking that it was "worth a lot of money and he hated to let it go."

Witness said she had been acquainted with Eccles for some years. She admitted that she had carried drugs off the boat two years before.

Harry Jones said he received $1,200 as their share of the transaction and that he paid over half that sum to Frank Fernandez, police informer, who also was charged with breach of the Drugs Act. This was done on instruction from Eccles.

Witness said that W. L. Smith, the third of three officers charged, chased a Chinaman to whom he, Jones, had delivered drugs but lost the Chinaman's auto in pursuit.

Jones said he knew that Eccles was leader of the drug squad of mounted police but he thought that in the transactions named Eccles and his associates were working for what they could make for themselves. He admitted that he had no proof of this.

The commissioner refused to admit any evidence relating to the activities of the accused men prior to the time they became members of the drug squad.

Tomorrow the commission will sit in Okalla penitentiary where certain prisoners will be heard in connection with activities of the accused.

NEW PROVINCIAL POLICE BOAT IS TO BE INSPECTED

Acting Chief Constable Saint Sailed Last Night For South to Look Over Cruiser Adanac

To inspect and possibly bring back to this port a new gasboat for provincial police service out of Prince Rupert. Acting Chief Constable Alex Saint sailed last night for the south on the steamer Prince George. The craft which it is proposed to send here to replace the Myfanwy, sold some time ago to the Prince Rupert Boat House, is named the Adanac. She is 40 feet long and has been used by the boiler inspector's department. The boat is at present at New Westminster.

During the absence of Constable Saint, Constable Barry Martin is in charge of the chief constables duties in the district. Chief Constable Spiller, who is coming here to succeed Chief Minty, recently transferred, is expected very soon and may come back with Constable Saint.

Constable Saint had with him last night a prisoner from Terrace, Walter Bannister, who is to serve four months at Okalla for a second offense of drunkenness.

L. Jessen, district superintendent for Boyle Bros., the Spokane diamond drilling concern, was a passenger for Vancouver on the Prince George last night.

C. Parkvold, local halibut fisherman, sailed last night by the Prince George for Vancouver enroute to Saskatoon on a holiday trip.

Pattullo Declares People are Satisfied with the Government Immigration a Vital Question

"We must have more people in Canada—we can't stand still," Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, declared in the Legislature as he outlined the settlement needs of British Columbia.

"If you stop people coming in you stop progress," the minister warned. Immigration, he declared, is the most important issue before the public today. More people had come to Canada up to 1921 than had left the country, he added, and it was only due to the lack of comprehensive colonization policy that citizens had left Canada since that time.

Now, however, an active immigration plan had been evolved by the federal government, a plan with that population, would you go out after their business? Certainly, and it would be much better to have those 300,000 people right here in our own country."

The minister claimed a modest credit for having stimulated an immigration sentiment. He declared Canada to be the most favored country in the world and the best governed, and British new citizens annually. Supposing you had an island off the coast with that population, would you go out after their business? Certainly, and it would be much better to have those 300,000 people right here in our own country."

ARE STRANDED IN NANAIMO

Charge Made That Immigrants Brought as Result of Mrs. Smith's Campaign Investigated

VICTORIA, Nov. 23.—The British Columbia Government moved to day to get to the bottom of charges that penniless Britishers had been brought to Nanaimo from England as a result of Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith's immigration work and were now stranded in Nanaimo.

J. D. McNiven, deputy minister of labor, is in Nanaimo today investigating conditions there and meanwhile Mrs. Smith is urging the Federal Government immigration department to prevent a recurrence of the Nanaimo situation.

In a telegram to the immigration department she declared there should be more cohesion between federal officials in handling new settlers and that settlers should know conditions at the point of destination before coming.

F. Cooper, E. H. Owen and H. Davies, members of the crew of C.G.M.M. Canadian Volunteer, arrived on last night's train from U.S. to take up their permanent residence on Ambrose Avenue, Nanaimo.

Columbia the best section of Canada and the best-powered province.

Elections Content

Claiming that the Oliver administration had been largely responsible for the stabilizing of conditions in British Columbia, Mr. Pattullo outlined his reasons for believing that the election was won with present governmental conditions and would return the administration to power at the next election.

"When the voters consider the rectitude of purpose, the integrity of our intentions and the results achieved, they will say, 'Well done good and faithful servants, continue the good work.'

The minister outlined financial and developmental conditions in the province for many years back. In 1912, he said, the late government had brought about, through the sale of the province's of natural resources, a period of inflation. Naturally, deflation followed. Then came the war. A very scattered settlement had come about, and consequently inflation."

No Case Made Out

Reviewing the recent speech of Mr. Pattullo, the Conservatives asked that British Columbia's efforts to prevent Japanese penetration were not based on discernment of that day running heavily against us. "We are ethnically different, that is to bind $3,000,000 annually for six all," he said. The gift of lumber years. The estimated revenue in which the province had sent to the industry now that it is on its 1916, the year the Liberal government came into office, was earthquake proved that British Columbians respected the Japanese as a nation and felt for them in their great tragedy. "The Japanese government has accepted our gift in the spirit in which it was given."

Lumber Business Good

This government has been accused of running the province into bankruptcy but I notice the financiers think enough of the bonds of British Columbia to pay. "The timber industry of this as much or more for them as province, our greatest industry, they do for those of the older was never in a more flourishing provinces. And considering the condition and the outlook is excellent. I am not going to say that this is solely due to the activities of the government, but the government has from time to time taken action that has been of great benefit to the industry.

We are accused by the opposition that the present government of being responsible for all the ills from which the body politic sue, quoting from that paper, suffers and constant demands are but accused him of saying that made that we should do some, the civil service was three times going. As a matter of fact, I think as large if it need be under the they really want us to do some, former Conservative government, thing foolish so that they may in face of this. The something made out a case against us. It could not see how Mr. Pattullo any case, if we are to be held responsible increases in the responsible for the evils of the sit-staff since the present government surely we should have met came into office. Mr. Pattullo some credit for the good things that he denied that he had we enjoy today," the minister declared that he had claimed as he went on to trace the him. He had said only, he informed, that there were many great expansion of the lumber industry during the last few years, civil servants in some benches, more than were required.

Industry Recovers

Only a few years ago, he said, the lumber industry was in an unsatisfactory condition and not organized to compete with the American mills. He recalled that he had stated years ago that the lumber industry of the province would never be stabilized until a big export trade had been built up. Loupards at that time had expressed faint hope that any such export business could be built up, but now, he said, they were congratulating the government on its work in developing the present enormous water-borne trade.

Following the receipt of an order for seventy million feet of lumber for British government, he pointed out, British Columbia lumbermen had got together and formed an exporting organization which was still functioning. This one order was far greater than the former total annual export of forty-six million feet. The export business, stimulated in this way, had continued on a steady basis until today, the annual export of British Columbia lumber was many times the former figure.

All Over World

"Men in the lumber industry, political friends and foes alike, have paid tribute to this government for its assistance in aiding this export," Mr. Pattullo affirmed. "Where formerly we could not compete with our neighbors across the line, British Columbia lumber is now going north, south, east and west to all parts of the globe."

"It has been made to appear, Mr. Pattullo went on, "that this government has been encouraging the export of unmanufactured timber. I want to make it clear that it has been and is the policy of this government that manufacture shall take place within this province. There has, if it is true, been a certain amount of export from crown-granted lands over which the government has no control and over which the legislature has no control, because it would be ultra vires to legislate on the matter, but this export is not so serious as it has been made to look."

Small Raw Export

Out of the province's total lumber cut of two billion feet last year, 151,000,000 feet only had been exported in an unmanufactured condition, he stated. Of this 103,000,000 feet had been cut on crown-granted lands over which the government had no control. The remainder of the export had been allowed by the government.

"I want to warn those who attack us on this point against interfering unnecessarily with the industry now that it is on its feet and against taking action that will jeopardize that position," Mr. Pattullo explained that it was absolutely necessary in some cases to allow the export of logs in order to keep timber operations going. In some operations, he said, it would be impossible for the logger to get out Douglas Fir and other valuable logs if he could not sell the hemlock logs cut at the same time. If there was no market for the hemlock logs in the province then the government allowed them to be exported, provided it were convinced that this was essential to keep logging operations from shutting down.

"Hundreds of applications for the right to export in the raw have been turned down," he said. "But unless our present policy is pursued not only would the logger be at the mercy of the manufacturers, but many operations would be stopped." Honest General McRae

Mr. Pattullo turned his attention briefly to attacks made upon him by General A. D. McRae's third party. General McRae, he pointed out, seemed to base his appeal chiefly on his personal honesty. One naturally expected, therefore, to find scrupulous honesty in his public utterances. And yet, Mr. Pattullo asserted, absolutely misleading statements were being made on his responsibility in the third party organ The Searchlight.

The Searchlight in its last is-

Disleasant Public

"This honest man is deliberately trying to mislead the people of this province," the minister charged.

General McRae, Mr. Pattullo went on, quoting from a recent speech delivered by the third party chief, inferred that something must be done to encourage the pulp industry in British Columbia. Then, he had attacked Mr. Pattullo for offering permanent royalties to a pulp company which proposed to establish a mill in the Prince George district.

"And that," Mr. Pattullo declared, "is exactly what I did not do. I said I would never recommend such a plan to the government. I said that if they would agree to a sliding scale so that the government could get some of the increase in value as time goes on we would talk to them. That is all. And yet General McRae publishes this statement all over British Columbia—a statement that is absolutely untrue. In the face of these facts, there is no doubt in my mind that General McRae is a cheap political mountebank."

Big Questions Settled

The minister referred to the settlement this year of the Indian reserves question—a settlement which would be of great value to the Indians and would aid settlement in Indian districts.

The fisheries and harbor control question, outstanding since Confederation, also had been settled this year, he pointed out, giving the House the history of the matter. He said he did not regard as serious Mr. Bowser's statement that the settlement reached between him and the federal government was ineffective and that a real settlement would require Imperial action.

The practical effect of the agreement, he asserted, would be to bring about a real settlement of the question.

Mr. Pattullo resented Mr. Bowser's criticism of government ministers travelling about the country. He said the opposition leader had admitted that he did not have the opportunity to learn about British Columbia when in office, because of pressing duties at the capital. Why should Mr. Bowser deny to the ministers the right to learn everything possible regarding the needs of the people? he asked. The trips of the ministers had at least resulted in settling many long-standing problems.

A Lady Told Us

The other day a lady said she always liked to look around in our store because she felt she was welcome to look around without being bothered if she did not wish to buy. We like to have people come in to see what we have. It makes the place look busier anyway and sometimes we may have something to suit. It shows they know where our store is anyway. We will not bother you any time you are just looking.

Chilblains & Frost-Bite

AS a remedy for those most troublesome of Winter skin afflictions, chilblains and "frost-bites," Zam-Buk is speedily effective. It takes out inflammation and reduces swelling in a wonderful way and soothes the fiery tingling irritation. Where the chilblains are broken and have a raw ulcerated surface, Zam-Buk is doubly valuable because of its great healing power. Its pain-killing efficiency and its fine antiseptic properties place Zam-Buk far above ordinary ointments.

Sport Chat

The French outdoor 1923 athletic season has just closed and, in the absence of starling performances by newcomers coupled with the necessity of relying upon Antwerp veterans, the outlook for a French Olympic victory in the 100 and 200 metre distances next year is acknowledged by the French Olympic committee and leaders of the French Athlete Federation, as being very gloomy. In view of this situation, the French are bending every effort to train men for the longer distances, 5,000 and 10,000 metres and Marathon, in which they hope to make a better showing.

The middleweight boxing championship of Alaska will be decided in a bout to be staged at Ketchikan next Thursday evening, Thanksgiving Day, between "Red" Campbell and McKeye Prescot, the sailor. Both men are now in the midst of training. Prescot is said to have outpointed and outboxed every man he has met so far and Campbell has a record behind him along the Pacific Coast that entitles him to serious consideration. For some time in Ketchikan sporting circles there has been considerable comment and finger betting on the respective merits of the two principals and according to those who should know the result will be a toss-up as far as records are concerned.

Three more snappy games are scheduled for tonight in the Elks' Home under the program of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association. In the first game, the Intermediate fixture, the Elks team will meet the Colts, who already have a victory to their credit. The ladies' game will be between the Maple Leafs and Kaiens who have each appeared victoriously once already. The Teachers will meet the Sons of Canada in the Senior game and, in view of the close run, the former gave the

Colts on Monday, another closely contested match is being looked for. The two first Senior games have been exciting enough and this one promises to be in the same category. The Regiment team has dropped out of the Intermediate League and the Elks have taken their place.

You to Take a Good Tonic
at This Time of The Year

There are lots of people who seldom really feel their best at this time of the year. They catch cold easily; sleep does not refresh them as it ought to, and they get up for work feeling drowsy, dull and tired — easily upset with indigestion, nervous and often constipated. Consequently they cannot do their best or feel their best.

FACE THESE FACTS! Build yourself up! Let Dr. Thacher's do for you what this vegetable tonic has done for countless numbers of men and women. Increase your appetite, and improve your digestion. Fourth in U.S.

The moving picture industry, the Colonel said, was a recent one and yet it was the fourth or fifth in importance in the United States. The cost of production was immense as there were sometimes as many as ten thousand people in a cast. Under these conditions it was not to be wondered at that the best seats in a New York movie theatre cost $2.20.

The speaker told of advertising and explained the mechanism of the machine and showed somewhat similar. The church that while called a moving picture catered to the spiritual needs, the film was not actually moving when each separate picture was projected. The difficulties of maintaining good music and other conditions were also mentioned.

Preparations Being Made to Take Charge of Daily News for One Day

ADDRESS AT SCHOOL

It is arranged tentatively that some day early in the new year the pupils of the High School will take charge of the Daily News for one day and get out the paper without any aid from the editorial staff. All the work will be done by them, including the leader writing, preparation of the headlines, gathering the local news and editing it.

With a view to this end and at the invitation of the students, H. F. Pullen, editor of the paper, yesterday visited the High School and explained in some detail what the duties would be, commencing at two o'clock in the afternoon of one day and closing at three the following day when the paper went to press.

Duties and Aims

Mr. Pullen explained the mechanical limitations and the need of following a more or less uniform style in the makeup of the paper and in the preparation of the headlines. He told of the duties of the editor commencing at 6:30 in the morning, of some of the difficulties encountered and of the aims in making the paper, particularly that it was not the function of the paper to cause friction in the community but rather to help things to run smoothly and to encourage unity of endeavor.

He explained the multifarious duties of a reporter, the calls he was expected to make in the course of the day, the constant search for those things which might prove of interest to the public and the need of speed in hearty vote of thanks to the getting the reports to the editor speaker for the address and will so that the linotype machines appoint committees in the near future to get ready to take up the preparation of such work. The examinations in the features as the sport column, the school are about to begin and the Man in the Moon, the waterfront that makes it desirable to delay the preparation of the number Monday.

The arrival of the telegraphic despatches was mentioned and the need of being prepared so that if the telegraph lines should

MOTOR AND WIRELESS EXHIBITION IN LONDON

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Of the five exhibitions which have just opened here, the Motor Show, at the Olympia, is the most important, drawing some quarter of a million of the world's keenest motorists to see ten acres of the world's finest cars, value about £1,000,000. The All-British Wireless Exhibition at the White City is the largest wireless show ever held. Last year people had hardly heard of broadcasting; this year about one private suburban house in every three sports an aerial, and over 200,000 "constructor's licenses," held by the amateurs who make, or partly make their own apparatus, have been issued. It is therefore not surprising to learn that the exhibits at this year's wireless exhibition occupy three times the area filled last year, or that at least 120,000 visitors are expected, as compared with 35,000 in 1922.

W.C.T.U. SECRETARY WOULD LIKE TO HAVE DOMINION PROHIBITION

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—At the annual convention of the Quebec W.C.T.U. Mrs. MacLachlan, the corresponding secretary, said the situation in Quebec was discouraging. "The only remedy is the enactment of Federal prohibition," she said. Canada should take a lesson from the United States, Mrs. MacLachlan believed, which so far had not repealed any Federal amendments.

BAZAAR SHOWER IS A GREAT SUCCESS IN AID BAPTIST CHURCH

Pleasant Evening Spent at Home of Mrs. E. H. Shockley by Between Forty and Fifty People

The home of Mrs. E. H. Shockley, Fifth Ave., was last night the scene of a shower in preparation for the Baptist bazaar which is to take place December 12. Between forty and fifty people gathered bringing their gifts with them and spent a most enjoyable evening. Many beautiful and useful articles were received and these will form the basis for a large number that will be offered for sale by the ladies next month.

Interesting guessing contests were a feature of the evening's entertainment. Prizes for these were won by Mrs. J. McDonald and Miss Nickerson respectively and the consolation prizes went to Mrs. J. Hunter and Mrs. Smithson.

The musical part of the program was well looked after. Miss Genevieve Grieve played a piano solo which was much enjoyed as were also the other musical numbers, a duet by Misses Olive Gordon and Vera Shockley, and a solo by Mrs. McMillan, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Walker.

Those assisting Mrs. Shockley for the evening were Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Hawkins, Mrs. Smithson and Mrs. Johnstone.

THE WHOLE FAMILY WAS LAID UP WITH SEVERE COLDS

On the first appearance of a cough or cold our advice to you is to get rid of it before it has a chance to grow worse; gets settled on the lungs, and causes bronchitis, pneumonia, or other serious lung troubles.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will immediately relieve the cold or cough on its inception.

Mrs. David Ayres, Kearney, Ont., writes—"Our whole family was laid up with severe colds, and we didn't seem to be able to get any relief from anything we used until, one day, a friend came in and told me we would be sure to get rid of our colds if we used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I decided to take her advice, and in no time our colds were all gone.

Now, knowing the value of your remedy, we will always keep it on hand so as to have it in case of emergency."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c a bottle; large family size 60c; put up only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COPPER PRICES ARE DUE FOR A RISE IN VERY NEAR FUTURE

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Nov. 23.—Copper securities at a new low point for the year, reached during the last two weeks, have stirred the interest of the investor. After a survey of the industry Roger W. Babson, the statistician, issued a report of his findings:

"The copper industry has for some time been rolling in the doldrums of low prices and depressed market conditions," says Mr. Babson. "From August, 1921, throughout 1922 and into the first quarter of this year, prices moved steadily upward, in March a temporary reaction set in and during the past seven months the trend has been markedly downward. Present quotations are on a par with those of the early part of 1922. "All indications point to the fact that the stage is being set for a long awaited buying movement. Nearly every appreciable upward turn in prices has been directly preceded by an abrupt drop in shipments from the refineries to domestic mills. In September domestic deliveries were only 93,000,000 pounds, the lowest since early in 1922 and over 30,000,000 pounds below the average point for the first eight months of this year. "Copper buying has always come in waves. Psychology enters the market in a persistent tendency to follow the crowd, and is often the deciding factor in the direction and extent of a price movement. Another indication of approaching strength is the length and extent of the declining market. Since no halt in the fall of copper prices. A study of market fluctuations for the past 15 years shows that six months is the maximum limit of a continued price trend.

SURPLUS OF TEACHERS IN MANITOBA: SHORTAGE SASKATCHEWAN PROV.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 23.—For the first time on record Manitoba has a surplus of teachers, 700 having already been placed. The opposite condition prevails in Saskatchewan. There the Bureau has from fifty to sixty applications that cannot be filled. Of the students at the overcrowded Normal Schools in Manitoba it may be noted that a very small percentage are men.
