Great Britain Demands Apology From Soviet Russia On Account Of Article Published by Paper

This Is Necessary If Two Countries Are to Continue Friendly Relations, House of Commons Is Advised By Minister

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A crisis in relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia in the course of which this country asked for an apology from the government at Moscow was revealed yesterday in the House of Commons. Capt. Anthony Eden, under secretary for foreign affairs, said that he had pointed out to the Russian ambassador

BLAST IN COLLIERY

Seventeen Feared Dead as Result of Explosion at Madrid, New Mexico, Yesterday

MADRID, New Mexico, Dec. 8.—Four are known to have been killed and it is believed the death list may reach a total of 17 as a result of an explosion in a colliery here yesterday. The bodies of four men, all married with families, have been recovered and 13 others are trapped behind a 30-foot wall of rock which came down after the blast. Rescue workers are toiling feverishly night and day to tunnel through the rock but have little hope of the men being reached alive. Most of the trapped men are also married.

ADVENTURER MURDERED

Capt. Van Del Wal Was Well Known in Vancouver and Victoria

VANCOUVER, Dec. 8.—Capt. Van Der Wal, globe-traveller and adventurer, who was murdered in his yacht at Long Beach, Cal., Tuesday night, was well known in Vancouver and Victoria, having visited these parts on several occasions with his wife. An Australian sailor, who is suspected of having slain Van Der Wal, is being sought by the California police.

British Pound and Canadian Dollar on New York Exchange

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The British pound sterling closed at $3.24 1/2 on the local exchange yesterday. The Canadian dollar closed at 86 5/16c.

Visiting Here

B. T. Chappell, general superintendent of Canadian National Railways for British Columbia.

TO LEAVE AT NIGHT

Change in Service From Here Contemplated Next Spring

It seems likely that the trains will run out of Prince Rupert in the evenings instead of the mornings as soon as the Canadian National Railways spring schedule goes into effect. B. T. Chappell, general superintendent, and G. A. McNicholl, general passenger agent of the railway, have been in the city investigating conditions with a view to giving the very best possible service consistent with local needs and with a special desire to accommodate the fish business.

An evening train outbound would not only accommodate the halibut buyers but would also be much more convenient.

On Trip North

Vancouver Branch of Royal Bank Held Up and Bandit is Again Captured by Manager

VANCOUVER, Dec. 8.—George E. Devereaux, manager of the Sixteenth Avenue and Oak Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, boarded a street car yesterday and captured at the point of a gun a well-dressed young man who had just held up his bank and taken $276 from the teller on the threat that he would blow the place up with nitro-glycerine if he did not "come across."

The lone bandit, who gave his name as Harold Knight, aged 24, was covered with the manager's pistol and held by Devereaux in the street car until police arrived and took him in custody. He is being charged with robbery with violence.

Devereaux gave chase to the bandit as he left the bank and caught up with him as he boarded a Marpole street car which had just rounded the corner. It was the third time this year that this branch of the bank had been held up and the second occasion on which Devereaux made a bandit capture. The other hold-ups took place in June and November.

NO CHANGE IN MARKET

Fluctuations in New York Trading
Yesterday of Minor
Importance

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Fluctuations on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday were only of minor importance. The industrial average closed at 59.77, up 19; rails at 26.98, up 17, and utilities at 26.61, off .09.

NEW TRIAL GIVEN HIM

Andrew Miller of Prince George,
Sentenced to Three Years, to
Have Case Reopened

A new trial has been ordered by the British Columbia Court of Appeal in Vancouver for Andrew Miller, who was convicted at the Prince George Assizes last fall of obtaining $700 by false pretences from a fire insurance company, being sentenced by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison to three years' imprisonment.

The charge arose out of payment by the Caledonia Insurance Co. of $700 to Miller for furniture which he claimed to have lost two years ago when his log house near Prince George was destroyed by fire. The crown alleged that Miller had removed some of the furniture from the house before the fire, later claiming insurance on it.

The appeal was allowed on the ground that the trial judge had misdirected the jury in regard to the admissibility of a statement made by the accused's daughter that she had set the house on fire at the request of her father, a statement which the girl later contradicted under oath on the witness stand.

Slight damage was done at 2:30 yesterday afternoon to the roof of Reuben Morgan's house at 879 Summit Avenue, sparks from the chimney having started a fire. The fire department was called and soon had the fire out.

Note Is Lodged With American Government By Minister Herridge

Canadian Co-operation May Be Withdrawn Unless Position is Changed in Regard to Boarding of Vessels
Outside of Three-Mile Limit

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 8.—Vigorous protest against the boarding and seizure more than one hour off shore of British vessels suspected of rum running has been lodged with Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson by Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian minister to the United States. The protest was caused by a case pending in the United States Supreme Court involving the validity of the seizure of the Canadian vessel "Mazel Tov," allegedly 14 1/2 miles off the coast of Massachusetts.

The first Circuit Court of Appeals sustained the seizure, holding that it was valid under the Tariff Act of 1930 which authorized the boarding of vessels by the coastguard within 12 miles of shore. The Canadian minister stated that his government was unwilling to recognize that the Tariff Act had any binding force outside the three-mile limit. He closed his note with the statement that, unless the United States modified its position to accept the construction placed on the treaty by his government, Canada would likely be forced to withdraw its co-operation which had been so effective as to "almost eliminate contraband traffic on the coasts of the United States."

BUDGET IS PRESENTED

Need of Economy in Public Finances
of United States Stressed
By Hoover

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 8.—Presenting his final budget message to Congress yesterday, President Herbert Hoover announced a slash in public expenditures of half a billion dollars and gave the information that the deficit for 1932 would be in the neighborhood of $1,400,000,000.

If a deficit was to be averted in 1934, the President declared that it would be necessary to impose a 2 1/4% general manufacturers sales tax, slash salaries of government employees by 11%, reduce compensation to veterans and pensions and retain the gasoline tax at its present level.

If conditions such as those at present were allowed to continue, it would result in national financial disaster. The absolute necessity of balancing the budget was stressed by the chief executive. The President was silent on the matter of war debts and made no mention of prohibition or repeal.

HYDER HAS NONE IDLE

VICTORIA, Dec. 8.—William Gray, Hyder, Alaska, lumberman, who has arrived here with his family to spend the winter, declares that Hyder is one place where there is no unemployment.

"This is due," says Mr. Gray, to the directional ability of Dale Pitt, general manager of the Premier Gold Mining Co., who has taken advantage of the slackness of the labor market during the winter to rebuild the twelve miles of tramline from Hyder to the mine and mill up the Salmon River. The result is that, although all mines except the Premier are closed down, there is no unemployment in the Hyder area and no government relief problem.

Mr. Gray was born a Canadian and in the east he and T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader for British Columbia, were boyhood friends. He has important mill and timber holdings on the Alaskan Panhandle and has decided to spend the winter in Victoria instead of in Tacoma as has been his custom in the past.

ROCHESTER UNDECIDED

Has Not Yet Made Up His Mind In Regard to Running For Mayorality

Ex-Mayor H. B. Rochester, whom the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association is seeking to head its 1933 civic election slate as candidate for mayor, stated this morning that he had not as yet definitely made up his mind on the matter.

Pressure is still being brought to bear on Mr. Rochester to enter the contest and it is believed by many of his friends that he will eventually consent to become a candidate.

HOPE AND CHEER

It seems almost a crime now for a person to speak optimistically for the future of this city and district but the recent reverses must not be looked upon as a permanent condition but simply as one of those setbacks which come to almost every young growing community. There are signs which point to improvement in mining in the district and other developments will undoubtedly take place which will have a great effect on the future of Prince Rupert.

Today many people feel as if the future is almost hopeless. Probably in a few months they will again be full of hope and cheer. The great thing today is to keep up our courage and look forward. There have been depressions in the past and there will doubtless be dull times again but every day that passes brings us nearer the revival which is surely not far off.

HELP FOR CHRISTMAS

The Daily News is glad to co-operate once more in a movement to secure Christmas cheer for those who will be needing it this year. Just now the weather is cold and children get hungry very quickly. It takes a lot of fuel to keep the house warm. Many people will find it well nigh impossible to buy Christmas things for the children. Happily the Salvation Army is ready to look after these people and see that none go without during the annual festival providing the Army can secure the money. It will need a good deal of cash this year. Those who can spare a five dollar bill or a ten dollar bill cannot do better than turn it over to the capable women at the Citadel to handle for them. They are in close touch with conditions and make it their business to find out who are in want.

Not for the Salvation Army but for the children who may possibly miss their annual Christmas, we make this appeal. We hope the response will be a ready one and we know the Prince Rupert people well enough to feel sure they will rise to the occasion, even though it may be a little more difficult to do so this year.

FINN IS SPEAKER

"Some Aspects of Education" Discussed Before Teachers' Association

The speaker last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association, presided over by J. S. Wilson, was D. B. Finn, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station. Mr. Finn, whose subject was announced as "Some Aspects of Education," stressed at the outset the difficulty of deciding what education was. Huxley said that education was "the game of life." Arnold said it was "the teaching of the best of what had been said and done in the past." This definition was not dynamic and gave no progressive attitude as an objective. Ruskin was nearer the mark when he said education was "giving the child such knowledge that he would know how to behave." In this way placing the burden on the socialized aspect. It seemed to the speaker that education was concerned with the shaping of the development of the coming generation to mould them into our ideals of life.

The terms education, training and culture were used with varying meanings and certainly with very different values in the minds of people generally. Was education to develop a super-trained man? Was vocational training of more importance than education? There was no doubt that in many universities the aim set before the student body was to equip themselves in such a way that they might the most readily obtain wealth, by wealth being meant the possession of material things. This was very different from the earlier idea of the university when it was a place to which the enthusiast might retire to enrich his mind by study at the feet of a master.

The question of unemployment was treated as being incidental and but a phase. Mr. Finn asked his hearers if this were actually the case. Efforts of trained men were undeniably directed towards the elimination of labor. Modern machinery was one factor. Companies were being organized even now to put house building on such a basis that houses could be built in forty-eight hours from pressed metals and with all the most modern conveniences. What would happen to the builders, masons, carpenters?

The question of the use of leisure was all important. If a quarter of a man's time was to be devoted to labor, what would he do with the balance? Work in itself was not an end but should be a means to an end, not living to be a worker but working to enjoy life. The world must recognize the proper function of education. Morality standards were those set before pupils by teachers and the public by religion. Institutions must lead society. At present it was society that was leading education and the future was uncertain, the objective undetermined and the course unmarked. Leaders in modern thought were needed. The standard which stated that the acquisition of material wealth was the mark of success must be replaced by one that provided for the welfare of the individual and had its ultimate end the highest ideals.

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child—9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris Eyre King (address furnished upon request).

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

tion and the future was uncertain, the objective undetermined and the course unmarked. Leaders in modern thought were needed. The standard which stated that the acquisition of material wealth was the mark of success must be replaced by one that provided for the welfare of the individual and had its ultimate end the highest ideals.

A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Finn on the motion of W. W. C. O'Neill.

BROCKLESBY IS SPEAKER

The High School Teachers' Association held its monthly meeting on Tuesday. A. Sutton, the president, was in the chair. H. N. Brocklesby gave a very interesting address outlining the history of the local Biological Station and telling of the work it has accomplished.

Among the many problems the station had solved he mentioned the work that has led to the discovery of the high vitamin content of canned salmon. This contained vitamin D so essential to bone formation. He also spoke of research work in halibut liver oil which is rich in vitamin A. The latter is of great value in preventing colds. The speaker exhibited samples of paint made with pilchard oil. Previous to recent research, paint made with this oil was unsatisfactory. Now paint made in this manner has a perfect finish and is very durable. This oil could also be used in the manufacture of patent leather. This new system would eliminate cracking of the leather, so commonly experienced. Further experiments with pilchard oil have shown how it may be used for many purposes, such as tobacco pouches, shortening, etc. It was very probable that pilchard oil would supersede cotton seed oil and so add another industry to British Columbia.

Another problem Mr. Brocklesby dealt with was prevention of the discoloration of halibut during the long hauls from the fishing banks. Interesting work is now being done in designing a refrigeration car capable of keeping fish edible for a longer time so that it may be transported as ordinary freight instead of express as it is at present. Work done by the engineering department has shown the most efficient methods of building refrigeration plants. Mr. Brocklesby explained how a large surface area of coils at a relatively high cooling temperature is more efficient than a small surface coil area at very low cooling temperature. This work, he claimed, would lead to a great saving in the operation of modern refrigeration systems.

On behalf of the association, Mr. Johns moved that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded the speaker for his illuminating address.

Prince George Case Up Again

Mrs. Elizabeth Overn Now Seeking Writ of Attachment Against Sheriff Peters

Mrs. Elizabeth Overn of Vancouver, fur trader, has asked the Court of Appeal in Vancouver for a writ of attachment against Sheriff E. S. Peters of Prince George.

Mrs. Overn was awarded $11,000 in Supreme Court for alleged illegal seizure and sale of her trading post at Whitewater, about 400 miles north of Prince George. The Supreme Court of Canada varied the judgment to the extent that she was awarded $5904 damages against Sheriff Peters and the Hudson Bay Co. and $497 against P. E. Wilson and J. O. Wilson, Prince George lawyers, John Strand, Queen's trader, not appealing an $11,000 judgment against him. Appealing from an order of Chief Justice Morrison, who refused to grant a writ of attachment against the sheriff, Mrs. Overn has now asked the Court of Appeal to make the order on the ground that the sheriff is in contempt of court for not paying into court all the money which he realized from the sale of Mrs. Overn's trading post. He paid $4600 into court and she says that he should pay $949 additional.

The Court of Appeal reserved its judgment in the case.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Premier is Still British Columbia's Largest Gold Producer—Judgment Reserved in Big Missouri Case—Announcement Does Not Affect Stock

"Premier mine at Stewart with several years of life still ahead of it is still the largest gold producer in British Columbia," according to a bulletin entitled "Lode Gold Developments in British Columbia" which has been released by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, minister of mines. "The Pioneer mine, with increased mill capacity recently brought in, will soon be the most important gold mine in the province with a probable production in 1933 of approximately $2,000,000. The most important lode-gold development of the year has been the success attending the development operations of the Cariboo Gold Quartz Co. Ltd. A 75-ton mill now being constructed on this property is expected to be in production by December. In 1933 a substantial output of gold should come from this property. The bulletin estimates the production of lode gold for this year at $3,800,000, which will be an increase of 26% over that of 1931. From all indications a considerably larger gold output will be made in 1933, the report predicts. "Not the least important result of the gold activity this year has been the employment provided," states the bulletin. "This has been marked in certain areas. In the Cariboo, as a result of both lode and placer gold activities, the district has experienced the busiest year in several and all indications point to more work in 1933."

OLD CASE UP AGAIN

Trustees of Somerville Cannery Co. Seek Damages From Federal Fisheries Officers

With judgments of the Privy Council and of the Supreme Court of Canada disposing of the main legal points, trial has opened in Supreme Court at Vancouver before Chief Justice Morrison of a $70,915 claim by the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association Ltd., suing as trustees in bankruptcy of the Somerville Cannery Co. Ltd., against Alex Johnston, former deputy minister of fisheries, William A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, J. A. Motherwell, chief inspector of fisheries for British Columbia, and Adam Mackie, supervisor of fisheries, Vancouver. The case re-echoes the much-contested seizure on August 8, 1926, by Dominion Fisheries officers of the Somerville Cannery Co.'s floating cannery Laurel Whalen at Massett Inlet.

On October 15, 1929, after having gone from one court to another, the case came before the Privy Council which held the section of the federal Fisheries Act authorizing the seizure was ultra vires, the consequence being that the province and not the Dominion established the right to licence salmon canneries. The Supreme Court of Canada early this year held that the defendant fishery officers were entitled to protection of the Provincial Magistrate's Act. The issue now is whether defendants acted beyond the scope of the impugned sections of the Fisheries Act and thereby lost protection of the Magistrate's Act. The plaintiff alleges that defendants acted outside the statute, exceeded their duties as fishery officers and discriminated against the Somerville Cannery Co.

The damage claim includes $9370 for loss of 2000 cases of pinks, $42,000 for loss of 12,000 cases of pinks, and $9555 which would have been made out of canning 210,000 chums. E. C. Mayers K.C. and Milton Gonzales are counsel for the plaintiffs and W. E. Burns K.C. and O. F. Lundell for defendants.

Tolmie Government is Castigated in Editorial in Vancouver Sun

"It is a case for the organized action of every board of trade from Vancouver to Hazelton and they will be enthusiastically supported by every property owner along that great road," says an editorial in the Vancouver Sun criticizing the high level at which the provincial government is keeping freight rates on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

The Sun also criticizes the various licences and taxes imposed on sportsmen who visit the Cariboo such as shooting licence, highway tolls, fishing licence and game tax.
"It is plain that the Tolmie government is doing its best to crucify the Cariboo Empire," declares the editorial "with characteristic short-sighted stupidity, the Tolmie government has set out to give the traffic more than it will bear."
