HALIBUT FISHING TREATY IS TO BE SIGNED

PROSPECTS FOR SEASON IN LUMBER MILLING INDUSTRY ARE FAVORABLE

Halibut Fishing Treaty May be Executed at Washington Today Result of Visit Ernest Lapointe

(Special to Daily News)
OTTAWA, March 2.—During the visit of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of marine and fisheries, to Washington it is anticipated that a treaty will be executed to fix a close season for halibut in international waters of the Pacific coast from December to February inclusive. Such an arrangement was negotiated years ago but the United States Senate refused concurrence. Fishing interests on both sides of the border are now agreed on the necessity of a close season and other regulations. To that end the treaty now proposed has been drawn up.

BRITISH AFTER DOMINION TRADE

British Statesman Says Will Give Work Instead of Doles to Unemployed.

EXPORT HAS DECREASED

SOUTHAMPTON, March 2.—Sir William Joynson Hicks, secretary of state for overseas trade, surveying the industrial situation, asserted that the government was determined to give the British unemployed work instead of doles.

He stated that there was a decrease in export trade of £300,000,000 over ten years ago, and this he said must be recovered. He hinted that the threat to British shipping was from Germany, whose mercantile marine was reduced under the Paris treaty to 100,000 tons and would total two and a half millions by the end of this year. He said Britain's great aim was to get back her position in the Dominion market.

The Swanson Bay car ferry was successfully floated off the beach at Porcher Island yesterday afternoon by the tug Bernadette. The craft was brought to Digby Island where she is now tied up. This afternoon it will be brought to the car slip where the cars will be unloaded after which it will be taken to the dry dock for repairs.

The barge is leaking but the extent of damage will not be ascertained until it is surveyed at the dry dock.

BANK CLERK IS MURDERED

Ernest L. Lorenz of Victoria Victim of Mysterious Revolver Shooting

LIVED AT METLAKATLA

Was at Essington During Boyhood, Son of Former Indian Agent

VICTORIA, March 2.—Ernest Lorenz, aged 29, local Royal Bank clerk, was mysteriously murdered on Wednesday night shortly after midnight by a revolver shot after leaving an Oak Bay car on which he was going home. The body was found by Thomas Muckle, 1025 Redfern Street, who heard the shot which was preceded by an altercation in loud voices. He jumped out of bed and ran to the street.

Although full details have not been ascertained pending the inquest which will be held on Saturday, it would appear that Lorenz, who lived with his widowed mother on Cowan Avenue, had been working late at the bank and was accosted by his assailant after he had left the street car to proceed south to Cowan Avenue.

The shot, which came from a .48 calibre revolver, entered his body on the right side near the breast passing over the heart and lodging behind the shoulder blade. There was also a bruise on the face. Lorenz died soon after being shot.

No motive has been ascertained and there is no trace of the assailant.

Premeditated Murder

Up to 11 o'clock this morning the city, district and provincial police examined clues of every description seeking to elucidate the mystery of the murder. No admission is yet forthcoming from the authorities although additional facts have come to light which would indicate that the boy was shadowed to the street where he met death. Opinion has veered strongly from the conjecture of ordinary hold-up to premeditated murder. Endeavors are being made to trace the money paid Lorenz from the February payroll of which only $17.00 was remaining on the body.

Young Lorenz lived at Port Essington and Metlakatla some fifteen years ago. Coming to Port Essington at the age of two, he lived with his father and mother and sister there. The father, whose name was the same as the son's, worked in Peter Herman's store at Essington and was later appointed Indian Agent at Metlakatla. He died, and the family then moved to Victoria.

TUSCAN PRINCE OUT OF COURSE

Wreck Commission in Session Yesterday Heard Evidence of Captain

VANCOUVER, March 2.—When the Furness Line steamer Tuscan Prince, 9,250 tons, crashed on the reef at Village Island at 3.25 a.m. February 15, Capt. Joseph Childers, master of the vessel, was on the bridge with the officer of the watch. He was listening at the microphone for the Umatilla light submarine bell.

Capt. Childers told the wreck commissioner and nautical assessors enquiring into the disaster yesterday that every possible precaution was taken by himself and his officers.

The ship was fifty miles north of where it was supposed to be.

The cause of the wreck is believed to have been the exception-

Asquith Awards Canada Eight Million Dollars in Payment of Thirty-Two Million War Claim

LONDON, March 2.—Hon. H. H. Asquith, as arbitrator of the differences between the Canadian and British governments relating to adjustments of debts standing over from the war, has handed down his decision awarding Canada $8,000,000 as settlement. Canada claimed $32,000,000.

Both sides accepted Mr. Asquith as arbitrator and he will receive £1,000 for his services.

The dispute was a result of financial transactions which took place during the war when advances of more than $1,000,000,000, Britain supplied Canadian troops with food, clothing, munitions and British currency for paying the soldiers. At the request of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, interim adjustment of the account took place between the two governments at various dates up to March 1920 at which time Britain owed Canada more than $100,000,000.

POWDER MARKS PUZZLE POLICE

Revolver Found on Opposite Side of Man From Which Shooting Done

INFORMATION IS SOUGHT

Neighbor of Judson Cody Heard Shots About 8.30 Yesterday Morning

There were no powder marks on the body of Judson H. Cody, transman, who was found dead as a result of a revolver wound on Thursday morning. Such marks are usually left with a shooting at close range.

The revolver, with which the shooting was apparently done, was found on the opposite side of the body from which the bullet entered.

There were two empty cartridges in the revolver and only one bullet has yet been found.

These are among the puzzling facts on which the police is to gain more information before the inquest into the death of Cody proceeds. A post-mortem examination will also be made. This morning the coroner's jury adjourned for one week after viewing the body. Coroner Walter Gale is presiding and the jury members are R. Moore, J. Edwards, F. Gilhuly, Frank Stephens, J. Barnsley and James McAlenan.

Further information gained by the police since yesterday on the case is to the effect that Ed. Greenlaw, a neighbor, heard sounds like shots at 8.30 yesterday morning.

Robert Armour stayed in the house with Cody on the two nights preceding the shooting in another room. He left the house yesterday morning at 7 o'clock without seeing Cody. The night before at 11 o'clock he had seen him and there was nothing strange.

A nephew of deceased's left the city for Portland about a month ago.

Among the witnesses who will be heard when the inquest resumes will be Dr. W. T. Kergin, who was called by Mrs. Norton on being informed of the tragedy by the two Indian girls; Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Ponzo, neighbors; Jennie Dennis and Doris Larson, the girls who made the discovery; Robert Armour, Ed. Greenlaw, Constable D. S. Cameron, Chief Vickers and Dr. J. P. Cade.

Re-opening of District Lumber Mills Possible with Improved Markets

With lumber prices stiffening and the demand for spruce and hemlock very marked it is probable that several mills in Prince Rupert and Prince George districts which have not operated for some time will resume cutting this year.

Taking the present mill price of fir, $22.50 a thousand, as a base, there is a strong demand for spruce at slightly higher prices. Hemlock is now worth between $1.00 and $2.00 less than fir. There is little spruce stock on hand despite the demand. Airplane spruce is also in demand besides government requirements.

Communications received at Prince Rupert indicate that buyers on the Atlantic seaboard are open for cargo shipments from this port whenever facilities are provided for shipping it. Lack of a lumber assembly wharf is the one great handicap to the resumption of lumber production on a large scale in Prince Rupert district.

At the present time, there are nine mills producing lumber in the two districts, six in Prince Rupert and three in Prince George. They are:

Prince Rupert
Masset Timber Co., Buckley Bay	140,000
Big Bay Lumber Co., Georgetown	20,000
Swanson Bay	85,000
Amsbury, Lakelse Lumber Co.	25,000

Prince George
Longworth Lumber Co.	25,000
Newlands Lumber Co.	15,000
Etter & McDougall, Shere	25,000
Mills in the two districts which will probably open up this year are:
Prince Rupert
Northern B.C. Lumber Smithers	25,000
Royal Mills, Hanall	20,000
Other small plants.

FIGHT OVER FISH EXPORT

Stork Lines up Against Limitation in Interests of Fishermen Generally

(Special to Daily News)

OTTAWA, March 2.—An acute division has arisen in the Parliamentary committee preparing the final report investigating the B.C. Fisheries. The committee has now put in the report a clause recommending that export be limited to cleaned fish despite a tie vote.

Three members, Neill, Stork and McQuarrie were against it and Duff, Martell and Dickie for it. The opponents of the recommendation claim that owing to the equal vote the provision has no right to be inserted.

The matter will go to the House and be "fought to the bitter end." It is described as a case of canners against the interests of fishermen generally.

TOLMIE PLEADS FAVOR RACING

Objects to Too Much Paternalism in Government: Says British Love Sport

OTTAWA, Mar. 2.—In the House of Commons yesterday Hon. Simon Fraser Tolmie, member for Victoria, speaking on the anti-betting resolution and opposing it, pointed to the greatness of the British Empire and asserted that during the long years of its growth the British people consistently loved and supported horse racing. He affirmed that they were against paternal legislation which was going to tell people when to go to bed and when to get up. There was a very similar attitude throughout this country. There was no use, he said, trying to force on people legislation which it was impossible to put into effect.

If British immigrants were to be asked to come to Canada, Dr. Tolmie said, let them for goodness sake find a few things over here to which they were accustomed in the old land.

The debate was adjourned.

Resolution Defeated

OTTAWA, Mar. 2.—(Later)—The resolution of W. G. Good, progressive member for Brant, to make illegal commercialized race track betting was defeated in the House of Commons by a non party vote of 96 to 76 in which the cabinet and all parties split.

Fisheries Treaty Seems Likely.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe is to try to make a treaty with the United States with a view to the protection of the halibut on this coast. This will be good news to those who wish to see the halibut fishing made a permanent industry. To take the fish while they are spawning, is a sin. The halibut are not good at that time of year and millions of eggs are destroyed which must eventually affect the supply. Many banks have already been depleted.

There is no good reason why the governments of Canada and the United States cannot get together to stop a repetition with the halibut of what has taken place with the salmon. There ought to be enough commonsense on both sides to avoid anything like that.

Incidentally it is to be expected that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries will discuss with Washington other matters affecting Prince Rupert and her interests. There has to be some give and take on both sides but the closest possible trade relations are what we need.

Must Deal Fairly With Investors.

Says a Winnipeg paper: Sir Henry Thornton has decided that Canada's need is capital, first rather than immigration, on the theory that if we can get the money to develop our assets, jobs will be opened and immigration will follow. This is pretty sound logic.

There is one thing and one thing only that will bring capital to Canada and that is the assurance of a reasonable interest return on sound security or the chance of large profits on speculation. The one refers to funds for the development of agriculture, the building of homes, the expansion of established industries and public improvements; the other refers to funds for the development of mineral and other natural resources in which much money will be lost as surely as much money will be made.

The first essential in Canada's bid for capital for sound investment or for speculative development is that there should be assurance of fair treatment. As well might we try to make water flow up Niagara as endeavor to make capital flow to a country where national, provincial or municipal governments display confiscatory tendencies or where the men behind new undertakings have not maintained a reputation for fair dealing.

Canada has passed through a period in which there was no particular demand for foreign capital, a period in which this was reflected in the passing of legislation in several provinces which showed scant respect for the interests of those who had sent their money to this country in earlier years. Now the situation is changed. No doubt the tendency towards confiscatory and communistic legislation is a factor in making the foreign investor shy of Canada today. This must be overcome. We must not only properly present the great opportunities for capital which the country affords, but give assurance of fair and square dealing with the investor after he sends his money here.

Beware Of Extremes. In Matters Of Finance.

These are days when it is necessary to cut down expenses. Everyone is doing it everywhere, but we have to beware against going to extremes. In Victoria there is seen an instance of mistaken zeal in that direction. They have there a very complete and effective system of manual training and domestic science instruction in the public and high schools. An effort is being made to shut down on it in order to save expense.

If it was desirable to shut down on anything for a year, it would be a matter of grave consideration whether it should be the reading, writing and arithmetic or the domestic science and manual training. Many would prefer their children to keep the technical work going rather than the other. It is just as necessary to train by the manual arts as by stuffing the memory with facts. Domestic science is just as necessary and desirable for a girl as anything else she may learn. The natural work of the girl is to be a housekeeper and it amounts almost to tragedy for a girl to go through the first twenty years of her life without even knowing how to make a bed and then to have full domestic duties thrust on her suddenly. The art and science of housekeeping is the most neglected of all the arts and sciences. If the schools can help in developing the art, they will have justified their existence. If they teach only how to avoid domestic work, they will have been a curse to the country.

Severe Kidney Trouble

Mrs. F. Rinehart, Campbellville, Ont., writes:

"I had trouble with my kidneys and very frequent urination. This was followed by pains which at times were very severe. The doctor said I had inflammation of the bladder and that an operation might be necessary. To this I refused, and began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. From the first few doses I felt the benefit. The pains left, urination was corrected, and I have had no recurrence of these ailments."

David Loughnan, Writing in London Magazine, Emphasizes Seriousness of Jap Question

"Peaceful Penetration," an article from the pen of David Loughnan, prominent in war veterans' organizations in Canada, on Japanese immigration, appears in a recent number of "London Magazine," an English publication. There is a foreword by F. C. Wade which endorses and emphasizes the writing of Mr. Loughnan on the Oriental menace in Canada and British Columbia in particular.

The article is as follows:

Just across the Pacific ocean, facing Canada, lies the Empire of Japan, with an area of less than 150,000 square miles and a population of 77,000,000. Beyond Japan is China with its 400,000,000 souls, and India with its 300,000,000. Canada may, therefore be considered as next door to the world's Asiatic countries. Of them all, Japan presents the greatest and most intricate problem, for Canada is an unwilling field for the Japanese policy of "peaceful penetration," and the life and future stability of the Dominion depends upon the kind of immigrant who is permitted to enter.

The relation of plain facts concerning the Japanese does not imply anything discreditable towards Japan, or towards the Japanese as a race. Canada has a perfect right to ask that aliens who are admitted to the country conform to the principles of Canadian citizenship. If they refuse to accept this reasonable basis of admittance, the onus of discrimination must rest with and upon them.

Cannot Assimilate

That, in a nutshell, is the difficulty and problem of Japanese immigration. "The Japanese who come to Canada cannot and will not be assimilated; they cannot become naturalized, for Japan will not expatriate them; they retain lower standards of living, and thereby create economic competition which drives Canadian citizens to the wall; they come with the direct intent of creating for the Yomoto race in Canada a permanent and independent position; they obey only the voice of the Mikado; they believe themselves to be a superior race, and, therefore, have no incentive to merge their identity in an inferior race; their policy is one of peaceful penetration and dispossession of the white race. Language, heredity, religion, ideals, the law and policy of Japan, all militate against and prevent even sociological assimilation of Japanese."

In Canada, as in the United States, official census figures as to Japanese population cannot be relied upon. Those who have made a study of Asiatic immigration in Canada declare that, instead of the 16,000 Japanese enumerated in the census, there are over 50,000. As an instance of excessive methods of registration, it is recorded that in the United States census of 1910 the Japanese population of California totalled 41,356. A Japanese census, taken by order of the Japanese government during the same year, and under its direction, reported a total of 54,480, or 13,000 more than the United States enumerators found. Again, in 1920, the same procedure was followed, and nearly 12,000 additional Japanese registered under their own government's census. Further evidence of Japanese registration evasion is not lacking.

False Representation

The Canadian-Japanese Association of British Columbia sent out a pamphlet some time ago, in which it asserted that the Japanese population in Canada at the end of 1920 was only 15,453. Of this number 7,453 were stated to be males of twenty years and upwards. Their occupations were given as fishermen, farmers, domestic servants, business-men, etc. There were only 1,467 fishermen, according to the pamphlet. Yet the Dominion government has issued 3,276 fishing licenses on the British Columbia coast to Japanese fishermen!

Peaceful penetration methods adopted by the Japanese follow the lines of first supplanting white labor by working for lower wages. After having driven out white competition, the rate of wages is raised until it is as high, or even higher, than that asked by white men.

The next step is to refuse to work for whites under the wage system, and to work only for Japanese masters for wages under the "co-operative" plan, or to lease land from white people and then squeeze the whites out. Concentration in selected districts and selected industries enables the Japanese to further their plans of peaceful penetration. As Japanese move into a district, whites move out.

Glaring Example

A glaring example of Japanese supplanting white men is furnished in a California incident, when 1,000 Japanese displaced whites in the Turlock cantaloup district—among the whites being many ex-service men—by offering to pick and pack cantaloups at twenty-six cents per crate while the whites were receiving thirty-five cents per crate.

In British Columbia Japanese peaceful penetration has secured what amounts to a monopoly in the fishing industry, because competition is impossible against Asiatic standards of living. Japanese are also busily engaged in driving out white fruit growers in British Columbia. They also have secured a very extensive share of the logging industry of the Pacific coast province. They own, lease, or cultivate thousands of acres of the most fertile land in the province, and are steadily securing more.

When a Japanese is able to purchase five acres of berry land, he is allowed to send to Japan for a laborer, who comes over and works during the berry season for a small wage. During the winter this man secures employment in some other field of industry, returning the following spring. Two years of this work generally enables him to branch out as his own master on a fruit farm, or in some other line. The Japanese who owns ten acres is able to secure two helpers from Japan. The profits these people are making may be judged by the fact that in 1920 Japanese took third place in the number of post-office money-orders sent out of Canada, the United States being first and Great Britain second.

Beget Children

The avowed policy of the Japanese in their plan of peaceful penetration is expressed in their motto: "Get more land and beget more children." Miss Frances Hewitt, who taught in the public schools of Japan for six years, has the following to say about female Japanese immigrants:

"Every schoolgirl is thoroughly drilled in the doctrine that, should she become a 'picture bride' in America, or an immigrant to other lands, her loyal duty to her Emperor is to have as many children as possible, so that the foreigners' land may become in time a possession of Japan through the expressed will of a majority of the people."

The Japanese birth rate in British Columbia appears to bear out this policy, as the following table will show:

Year	Total Births	Jap. of Japanese	Births to Whites
1910	5,005	20	1 in 249
1911	5,814	30	1 in 191
1912	8,008	43	1 in 185
1913	11,088	80	1 in 138
1914	10,318	172	1 in 60
1915	10,516	303	1 in 34
1916	9,814	280	1 in 34
1917	9,433	321	1 in 29

policy claiming that she had not sufficient space in her own empire to accommodate her rapidly increasing population, the annual increase being estimated at approximately 800,000. Upon this basis she has demonstrated that her people be allowed to colonize in countries favorable to her own selection. The claim is not correct, but even if it were, it does not substantiate a reason for other countries being flooded with a race that refuses to be assimilated and is competitive to an extreme. As a matter of fact, land is available in Japan, but is unused by reason of its being held by the nobility and the Crown. In 1910 there were only 35,000,000 acres

Japan has, within the past few years, established the policy of paying the expenses, both of her nationals in the United States who return to Japan temporarily, under orders, to perform conscription duties, and goes even further. TELLS ABOUT WORK OF CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT

George Rorie Gives Short Talk at Rotary Luncheon Regarding His Work

The profession of the chartered accountant is divided into three branches, that of accounting, auditing and secretarial work, according to George Rorie, who gave a brief talk on the subject yesterday at the Rotary luncheon. In order to qualify, a candidate had to serve an apprenticeship for four years and pass examinations in the principles of accounting, company and mercantile law and exchange. Mr. Rorie said that the three leading professions were said to be healing professions. The church healed the soul, the medical profession the body and law was the healer for business. The accountant was sometimes referred to as the business doctor, but he suggested that the lawyer was really the business doctor and the accountant the surgeon.

Financially, Mr. Rorie did not look on the accounting business with favor. He said there was no money in it. If an accountant got rich, he was a grafter. He was really a Rotarian for he was a man who gave service. He was supposed to have a good working knowledge of all lines of business including finance, real estate and investment; insurance, mining, municipal, company, insolvency and liquidation, trust companies, liquidation and secretarial work.

DIVIDING LINE FOR GRAIN SHIPMENTS IN SASKATCHEWAN

That is Statement Ascribed to Sir Henry Thornton in Interview at Ottawa

EDMONTON, March 2.—A W. Chard, supervisor for the freight and traffic department of the provincial government, who accompanied Premier Oliver of B.C. to Ottawa in support of the western claim for lower grain and commodity rates on the coast section of the transcontinental railways, returned to Edmonton and speaks hopefully of the outcome of the mission.

"Premier King and other members of the federal cabinet seemed to be very sympathetic to the application of British Columbia and Alberta for equalized freight rates," said Mr. Chard Saturday afternoon, "but apparently the question will not be gone into exhaustively by the Dominion government until after the present session of parliament ends. The vote of $5,000,000 to the Vancouver harbor commission for elevator extension means a great deal to Alberta grain growers and a feel sure strong sentiment is being aroused amongst Dominion officials as to the justice and force of the western appeals."

Sir Henry's Views
Sir Henry Thornton, who was interviewed by Mr. Chard, is said to have been outspoken in his opinion that every possible advantage should be given to encourage westward shipments of Alberta and some Saskatchewan grain. After his western survey the Canadian National president states that the "watershed" of western traffic appears to be about midway across Saskatchewan and properly all grain movement westward from this line of division should go to the Pacific. Sir Henry Thornton is also giving special attention to developing the coal business of the west following his trip of inspection. From a letter received by Mr. Chard from the Canadian National head recently it appears that efforts will be made to move as much coal as possible, not only for the uses of the railway but for the eastern market.

TUXIS HEAR DOCTOR TELL OF MEDICINE

Dr. W. T. Kergin Gives Interesting Address to Boys Last Night

There was a full attendance at the meeting of the Tuxis Boys last night to a supper of sauer kraut and weiners and to hear Dr. W. T. Kergin give a talk on the history of medicine.

The doctor's address was very interesting. He spoke of the use of anesthetics, antiseptics and serums with particular reference to the work of Pasteur and Lord Lister. He stated that previous to the development of the theory of germs and the use of antiseptics 75 per cent of the surgery cases proved fatal whereas now the percentage of fatalities was very small. The use of anti-toxin had reduced the diphtheria fatalities from 33.4-3 to about two per cent.

DAVID LOUGHMAN, WRITING
IN LONDON MAGAZINE, EM-PHASIZES SERIOUSNESS OF
JAP. QUESTION.

midst of an alien or unassimilable element, and has insisted that it remain alien and unassimilated, but she has organized and maintains here a government which rules the entire Japanese population living under the American flag. She has an elaborate system of organization by which they are controlled ostensibly by some of their own number, but really by the official representatives of Japan. They are thus held together for solidarity of action, and such action is naturally for the benefit of themselves or of Japan, and also, usually, either directly or indirectly, opposed to the vital interests of this country.

"On the Pacific Coast the system includes local associations and district agricultural associations which are subject to main central associations, one of which is located at each of the five consular ports on the coast—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, and Vancouver, British Columbia. Individual Japanese are in effect compelled to obey orders transmitted through local associations. These local associations are effective in enabling the Japanese to drive the whites out of industries or localities in economic competition. They make it their business to move Japanese laborers from place to place as the crops and conditions suggest. They assist in securing control of markets, and otherwise promoting the interests of the Japanese colonists as opposed to those of white citizens.

Military Duty

"Through them, too, the Japanese Government takes a census of its citizens and sees that they are listed for conscription duty. For instance, Nichi Bei, a Japanese newspaper of San Francisco, on May 3rd, 1923, called attention to the punishment of one Kikoshuro Jimbo, of Sacramento, for failing to report for conscription, and cites it as a warning to all Japanese residents of military age."

From this it will be seen that British Columbia is under full colonization by the Japanese through their consular office in Vancouver.

Notwithstanding the demands of the Japanese in the matter of giving them full rights and privileges without any returns in the duty of citizenship, Japan steadfastly refuses to accord similar rights to "foreigners" in Japan. Except in a few isolated cases, under old regulations, aliens cannot own land in Japan. The monopoly they desire is, therefore, of a one-sided nature. Japan boasts of her control and monopoly of the British Columbia, Californian and Hawaiian fishing industry. This control was attained by the successful competition of a lower living standard—the Japanese—against the standards of the white people. But, notwithstanding Japan's attitude in demanding rights for her own race in foreign countries, she will not permit other races to come to Japan and reduce the standard of living among her people. Japan rigorously excludes the entry of skilled and unskilled Koreans into Japan on the grounds that these people maintain a lower standard of living than the Japanese, and their entry would subject Japanese to disastrous competition!

Suburb of Asia

This problem which confronts the English-speaking population of the great province of British Columbia. The peaceful penetration of a non-assimilable race which is multiplying like grasshoppers calls for close attention if the Pacific Coast province of the Dominion is to be preserved to the white race. Considering the economic situation of Great Britain, and the urgent need for British emigration to suitable parts of the Empire, the facts contained herein afford conclusive evidence of the desirability of measures calculated to offset the danger which is rapidly materializing.

Unless means are devised to check the Japanese invasion and to people this magnificent territory with sturdy British stock, it will be but a matter of time before British Columbia becomes a suburb of Asia. It is inevitable with a policy which decrees: "Get more land and beget many children."

WHEAT ELEVATORS QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S

That is Facetious Proposal of Correspondent From Massett
District

MASSETT, March 2.—Residents of the Queen Charlotte Islands are expecting a visit from the railway commissioners, when a petition will be presented to have a grain elevator installed. It is asserted that the Queen Charlotte group of islands have the same arguments with Victoria, in favor of an elevator. They make the claim that a "shoot" might be installed, reaching across the Pacific Ocean, to the Orient.

The idea of placing elevators, on islands, is a novel one; but the return trade in silks and other valuable cargoes from the Orient to supply the natives with raiment for summer wear would more than recoup the owners of vessels, for the outlay. In order to win the confidence and shelter of tourists and others, it is proposed to instal a golf links and to organize a Gumbux Club at Port Clements.

PRAIRIE LUMBERMEN APPRECIATED PRINCE RUPERT RECEPTION

Letters have been received by E. F. Doby, president of the Northern B.C. Timbermen's Association, from William P. Dutton, president of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association, and F. W. Rafter, secretary, expressing appreciation of the reception tendered their tour party by the board of trade and timber association when they visited here last month. Both express regret at the fact that the time at their disposal made it impossible for them to stay longer in the city and district and they say that next time they will pay a longer visit. Mr. Dutton suggests that there may be another similar excursion in three years' time.

THANKS ROTARY CLUB FOR MEDAL IN LETTER WITH VEIN OF HUMOR

Miss Jean Mackay, winner of the gold medal for second best oration at the recent contest at the Booth Memorial School, wrote to the club her thanks and the letter was read at the luncheon yesterday as follows:

"Mr. George Rorie,
"See, Rotary Club,
"Kindly convey to your members my sincere thanks for the medal presented to me at the school oratorical contest. I assure you I shall always treasure the medal very highly. At home and in school I have often been accused of talking too much, so I fully enjoy your appreciation of what parents and teachers have been condemning. Thanking you,
"JEAN MACKAY."

Sport Chat

The playing of games on Sundays, such as cricket and football, by London masses, has become the subject of controversy in the Old Country, and a movement is under way to put a stop to it. Professional football and cricket leagues in England do not schedule games on Sundays as do the baseball teams of America, and it was only last July that the London County Council sanctioned Sunday games played by amateurs in the parks. At that time the council felt that the bulk of public opinion favored Sunday sports, and decided to give them a year's trial. The United Council for Sunday protection, and many other, feel that public opinion was misjudged. Not long ago the Sunday protectionists called a public meeting which protested against Sunday sports and requested the county council to rescind its action when the experimental year ends next summer. The Solicitor-General Sir Thomas Inskip, presided at the meeting. He said unorganized games, such as are now permitted would, if they continued, prove to be only a prelude to club games and cup competitions on the Sabbath. Opponents of Sunday games had been called Puritans, he remarked, but in his opinion, Puritanism had done more for England than almost any other movement of its kind in the history of the race.

The Swedish government has presented 1,000 pairs of skis to the public schools of Sweden, for the use of children too poor to buy their own skis. The picturesquely sport of ski running is as popular as skating in Sweden, and children begin shooting down the spruce-covered training at an early age. In order to systematize this training, free courses are provided at the public schools, giving most no exertion. The sport is not only valuable in itself, but has a salutary effect on the pupils' studies. The skis are six or seven feet in length, made of birch, and cost about $3.00 a pair.

How often can We Advertise?

NOT
How often should we Advertise?

WHY are the Canadian and American Manufacturers appropriating fifty per cent more dollars in Newspaper Advertising for the year 1923 than in 1922?

There's a Reason

BECAUSE they have implicit faith in the pulling power of Newspaper Advertising and in the future trade conditions for the coming year.

The daily newspaper has proved itself worthy of this tremendous responsibility and trust.

Men who spend millions of dollars on Newspaper Advertising yearly know what it has done for them in the past and feel safe in trusting their future fortunes to the advertising columns of the daily press.

HOW TO SLEEP ON A BARE FLOOR

It is more a matter of SLEEP, than of bed or board.

Some people can sleep sitting up,
standing up, even while walking.

Many people can't sleep in the middle of a long bed, and all of them suffer occasionally from nerve-racking, wearing, tiring wakefulness at night.

There is always a reason for sleeplessness. Usually, it is a "sour stomach," a liver that has "lain down" on the job, congested lungs, or biliousness.

Then, just before retiring, take
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They soothe an irritated stomach, encourage the organized digestion and elimination of natural activity, and assure that sleep no matter what!

FAKING NEWS SEEMS INTERESTING SPORT

New York Sun is Dupe of Some Person With Wonderful Imagination

There is no need to comment on the following story recently published in the New York Sun. It is evidently the work of a faker: "Winnipeg is reserving judgment in the matter of the movement in Alberta and Saskatchewan aiming at the secession of the four western provinces from the Dominion, to form a separate nation, but still remaining in the British commonwealth. The reason for the lack of enthusiasm here in viewing the secession movement, is that Winnipeg has very strong hopes of some day being the capital of Canada."

"The bill is to be introduced at the present session of the Alberta Legislature, to take official steps at once looking towards the withdrawal of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba from the Canadian confederation, follows a keen discussion of the same object before the convention of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association several months ago. Strong arguments for and against secession were advanced by the Grain Growers, but while the bulk of sentiment appeared in favor of secession, cool reasoning decided that the matter might adversely be laid over for a time."

"Dispatches from Edmonton are to the effect that the secessionists are not content to await future developments and are achieving for an immediate test of their strength in the Alberta Legislature."

"But for the fact that it is hoped in Winnipeg that this city will eventually be the capital of the Dominion, it is admitted generally that the secession movement would be accorded much stronger support in Manitoba. Obviously, however, there would be no likelihood of Winnipeg being selected as the capital of a separate dominion in Western Canada in competition with the ambitious centres of the two more central prairie provinces, of Alberta and Saskatchewan."

EDMONTON VETERANS CHEER FOR FRANCE

Hear Address in Which Present Situation in Germany is Described

EDMONTON, March 2.—A large audience of returned men occupying the Memorial Hall rotunda gave an emphatic demonstration of their feelings towards France in the present crisis, the occasion being a delegation by Ed. Poole of what the republic had suffered, and her right in forcibly collecting what was awarded her by the peace treaty. In commencing, Mr. Poole stated that the settlement according to German ideas was easy, and that the world was rapidly forgetting what France had suffered, it being emphasised that the republic had demanded no reparations from the Germans but only reconstruction for the devastation caused by the Kaiser's armies.

Peace Side-light

Mr. Poole stated that he was addressing the returned men of Edmonton on behalf of the Disarmament League, which was endeavoring to bring the situation arising out of the war before the men who fought, all over the world, and to educate them to the fact that the present crisis was traceable to the jealousy of the financial interests of the United States, England and Germany.

The speaker referred to the recent meeting of 15,000 people in the Madison Square Gardens in New York, and the protests voiced there against the French occupation, which was claimed to be propaganda, while he further cited the case of the San Francisco earthquake explosion, in which all the foreign insurance companies concerned had met their indebtedness except the Germans.

Victims Paying

He then read some correspondence from the American Legion in which it was stated that as things went at present the victim was paying for the damages wrought by the vanquished, and concluded by stating "the time is coming when returned men the world over will have to take a decided stand," his remarks being heartily applauded by the veterans assembled.

British naval estimates show a reduction of five million pounds.
