The messengers were returning to their respective banks from the clearing house and when near the intersection of Melinda and Jordan Streets six bandits jumped from the car on to the running board of the messenger's car demanding the money bags. The messengers refused and a fight ensued during which many shots were exchanged.

Flying Boat is Success in Air Patrol Work of Fisheries in Initial Flight Here Yesterday

Fisheries Inspector Adam Mackie made his first patrol flight on the flying boat G-GDYX yesterday, after which he expressed himself as being assured that the air machine would be very effective in doing the work that it was brought here to perform. The flight proved very satisfactory and Mr. Mackie was very pleased with the possibility provided of seeing from a height what was actually going on below. The machine went to an elevation of 5,500 feet and everything below could be distinguished very plainly.

Squadron Leader Earl Godfrey piloted the machine on its initial flight which took one hour and a quarter. They traversed as far as the mouth of the Naas River and everything went without a hitch, Dundas Island, Stephens Island and the southern part of Chatham Sound being covered. A good view was also afforded of the Porcher Island area.

The G-GDYX will make another patrol flight this afternoon. This morning Flying Officer MacLeod had the machine up looking for a better base for operations in the neighborhood of the city.

Flying Officer Earl MacLeod arrived last night from Hazelton and will now be in charge of the machine which will be stationed here, it is expected, for the greater part of the fishing season. Squadron Leader Godfrey returned to Vancouver from the Prince Rupert last night.

Capt. H. B. Babington returned to Victoria on the Prince Rupert last night.

MAYOR AVERTS CENSURE VOTE

Negatives Report Brought in by Special Committee on Walker's Time Check

CROSS FIRE IN COUNCIL

Question of Wrongful Payment of Wages is Aired by Aldermen

Mayor Newton took advantage of a division at last night's council meeting and prevented a vote of censure being passed upon him in connection with the recent affair when he was ordered to resign from the position of chief engineer of the waterworks department. The matter some weeks ago was referred to a special committee consisting of Aldermen Stephens, Ald. Collart and Ald. Macdonald for investigation. Last night Ald. Stephens and Ald. Collart brought in a report for this committee stating among other things that Mr. Walker's conduct in the matter had been of a most questionable nature, that the action of the mayor in ordering payment to Mr. Walker had been improper and without any authority whatever and that the city engineer had not been blameless in executing the order of the mayor when he knew that Mr. Walker had not served the time certified. The report also recommended that steps be taken for the recovery of the money paid Mr. Walker. The question for adoption of the report was moved by Ald. Stephens and seconded by Ald. Collart. Ald. Stephens, Ald. Collart, Ald. Smith and Ald. Munro voted for the adoption of the report and Ald. Macdonald, Ald. Mackenzie and Ald. Perry against it. The mayor voted against the motion thus negating it. Ald. Currie was not present. Some heated discussion followed the putting of the question which resulted in Ald. Stephens giving notice of motion that he would introduce the whole question again at next week's meeting.

Committee's Report
 The report of the committee which was rejected was as follows:
 "Your special committee appointed to investigate the payment of $40.83 for services purported to have been performed during the month of June 1923, reports as follows:

"That from information gathered from those responsible for the payment of this money and from others, the facts appear to be as follows:
 "That payment was made on the written instructions of Mayor Newton to City Engineer Pearson of $40.83 for seven days alleged services rendered in the month of June, which we believe both Mayor Newton and City Engineer Pearson knew had not been performed.
 "That Mr. Walker left the employ of the city on or about May 31, 1923, without giving any notice of his intention to do so.
 "That Mr. Walker had previously approached at least some members of the council seeking holidays and that, on finding opposition, represented to them that he wished four or five days in which to go away and seek another position. The request for four or five days leave of absence was discussed in the committee of the Board of Works and it was apparently agreed among members of that board that such a recommendation might be made for the purpose of securing employment as recommended by Mr. Walker. Mr.

Walker did not apparently leave the city's employ in search of employment before he left the city's service in May. When the Board of Works had apparently agreed to recommend the leave of absence it was undoubtedly out of sympathy on account of the retirement of Mr. Walker from the service on June 30, and it was not anticipated that Mr. Walker intended leaving the service on May 31 without giving legal notice of such intention.

Questionable Actions
 "Your committee believes that Mr. Walker's conduct in this matter was of a most questionable nature; that the action of the mayor in ordering payment for services not rendered was improper and without any authority whatever and that the city engineer is not blameless in executing the order of the mayor knowing that Mr. Walker had not served the time certified to in the time check and your committee recommends:

"That the city solicitor be instructed to take immediate action for the recovery of the money paid to Mr. Walker and to pursue the same until the city is re-imbursed in full."
 Ald. Macdonald stated that he had not signed the report and explained his belief that the mayor had acted in good faith signing the time check in question as a result of a conference with the Board of Works. He believed, however, that Mr. Walker had obtained this money under a misapprehension, the committee not knowing that he would not work until June 30. In view of Mr. Walker's long service with the city, however, he believed there had been no great mistake made in paying him the money. He did not believe that the mayor or the city engineer had acted with wrong intent.

PAINT CORNICES BOOTH SCHOOL
 George Scott to Supervise Work to Make Building Quite Dry

At a meeting of the school-board last night it was decided to paint the necessary parts of the Booth School in order to prevent water seeping through the brick. George Scott was appointed to oversee the work at a cost of $9 a day, while working, and he will also make some alterations in the manual training department at the same time.

Mr. Scott recommended to the board that the whole building should be painted with two coats in order to make it uniform and to protect the stucco. This it was estimated would cost from a thousand to twelve hundred dollars at 37c a square yard. A special preparation would be put on for the first coat and an oil paint for the second.

It was decided that the Board could not afford to do the work this year, but they will do enough to keep the rain from seeping through.

Mr. Scott is to get the material and have the work done. He will also go over the Borden Street School with a committee and advise as to some repairs there.

J. C. McLennan said he did not favor calling for tenders for the painting. They wanted the best work done.

Dr. Kergin suggested that they would be criticized if they did the work that way.

W. H. Montgomery supported Mr. McLennan and the resolution was then moved and carried and the work ordered to be done.

Messrs. McLennan and Montgomery are also to report on repairs to the furnace at Seal Cove School.

TEACHERS' SALARY SCHEDULE REMAINS

Trustee Montgomery Favors Younger Members of Staff as Being in Harmony With Pupils

At the meeting of the School Board last night it was decided to maintain the present schedule for school teachers' salaries. It was pointed out that several resignations had been handed in because of the salary uncertainty and Principal Campbell was influenced partly by that consideration when deciding to accept another appointment.

The resolution for the maintenance of the schedule for the present was moved, by Trustee Casey, seconded by Trustee McLennan.

Trustee Montgomery doubted the wisdom of the present schedule which provided for raises automatically. While he would not urge cutting salaries he thought the younger teachers were more in harmony with the pupils than the older. Some teachers did not carry out the orders of the supervising principal.

ALDERMEN ARGUE ABOUT ABILITIES AT ROAD BUILDING

Ald. Perry's motion to introduce a bylaw limiting the loads to be carried on city streets to one ton was laid over for a week at last night's council meeting pending the receipt of a report from the special committee delegated last week to go into the matter.

Ald. Collart again expressed his opposition to such a bylaw and exchanged several verbal blows with Ald. Perry in an argument as to which knew the most about road building. Ald. Perry said that Ald. Collart might know something about insurance and real estate but he didn't know much about roads. Ald. Collart said he knew more about roads than Ald. Perry might think he did.

IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE MADE SCHOOL GROUNDS

The school-board last night decided to improve the Borden St. school grounds at a cost of $200 and also do some work on the Booth school grounds with a view to getting the largest possible playing grounds at the smallest possible cost.

THE QUESTION OF BEAUTIFYING

the grounds was mentioned but it was felt by the trustees that any work done this year should be to provide a place for the pupils to play.

PERT'S NAME CARRIED BY LOCAL CONSUL

A. Wakefield Tells of Prince Rupert Everywhere He Goes

E. A. Wakefield's photo has been published many since he left here and saying it is always a boost for Prince Rupert. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat under the name of "Rotarian" who came 3,000 miles to attend convention...

...through the Rotary Club of Prince Rupert, British Columbia, in its infancy, having been organized only two years ago, a delegate from that place is here for the Rotary International convention this week.

...Prince Rupert's representative, Ernest A. Wakefield, local Consul, Prince Rupert, had about 3000 miles from his home. It took Consul Wakefield five days and nights to get to St. Louis. It is the first time that city has sent a delegate to a Rotary convention.

...Prince Rupert is the Pacific terminus of the Canadian National Railway which is operated by the government.

Place for Tourists

Washington a two column the consul is printed with following pithy little article the caption of "Tourists of British Columbia": "Tourists are beginning to flock to the scenic beauties of British Columbia in northwestern British Columbia," according to Ernest A. Wakefield, U.S. Consul at Prince Rupert, British Columbia, who is in Washington after attending the Rotary convention in St. Louis.

...Wakefield represents the government in the old Dawson territory, a great expanse of miles of territory is still almost unknown. His home is in Augusta, Maine.

...Prince Rupert is in the heart of the salmon country. Two and a half million cases are shipped from there in a year. There were also caught last year 26,000,000 pounds of halibut, including 18,500,000 pounds of American fishermen.

His Home Town

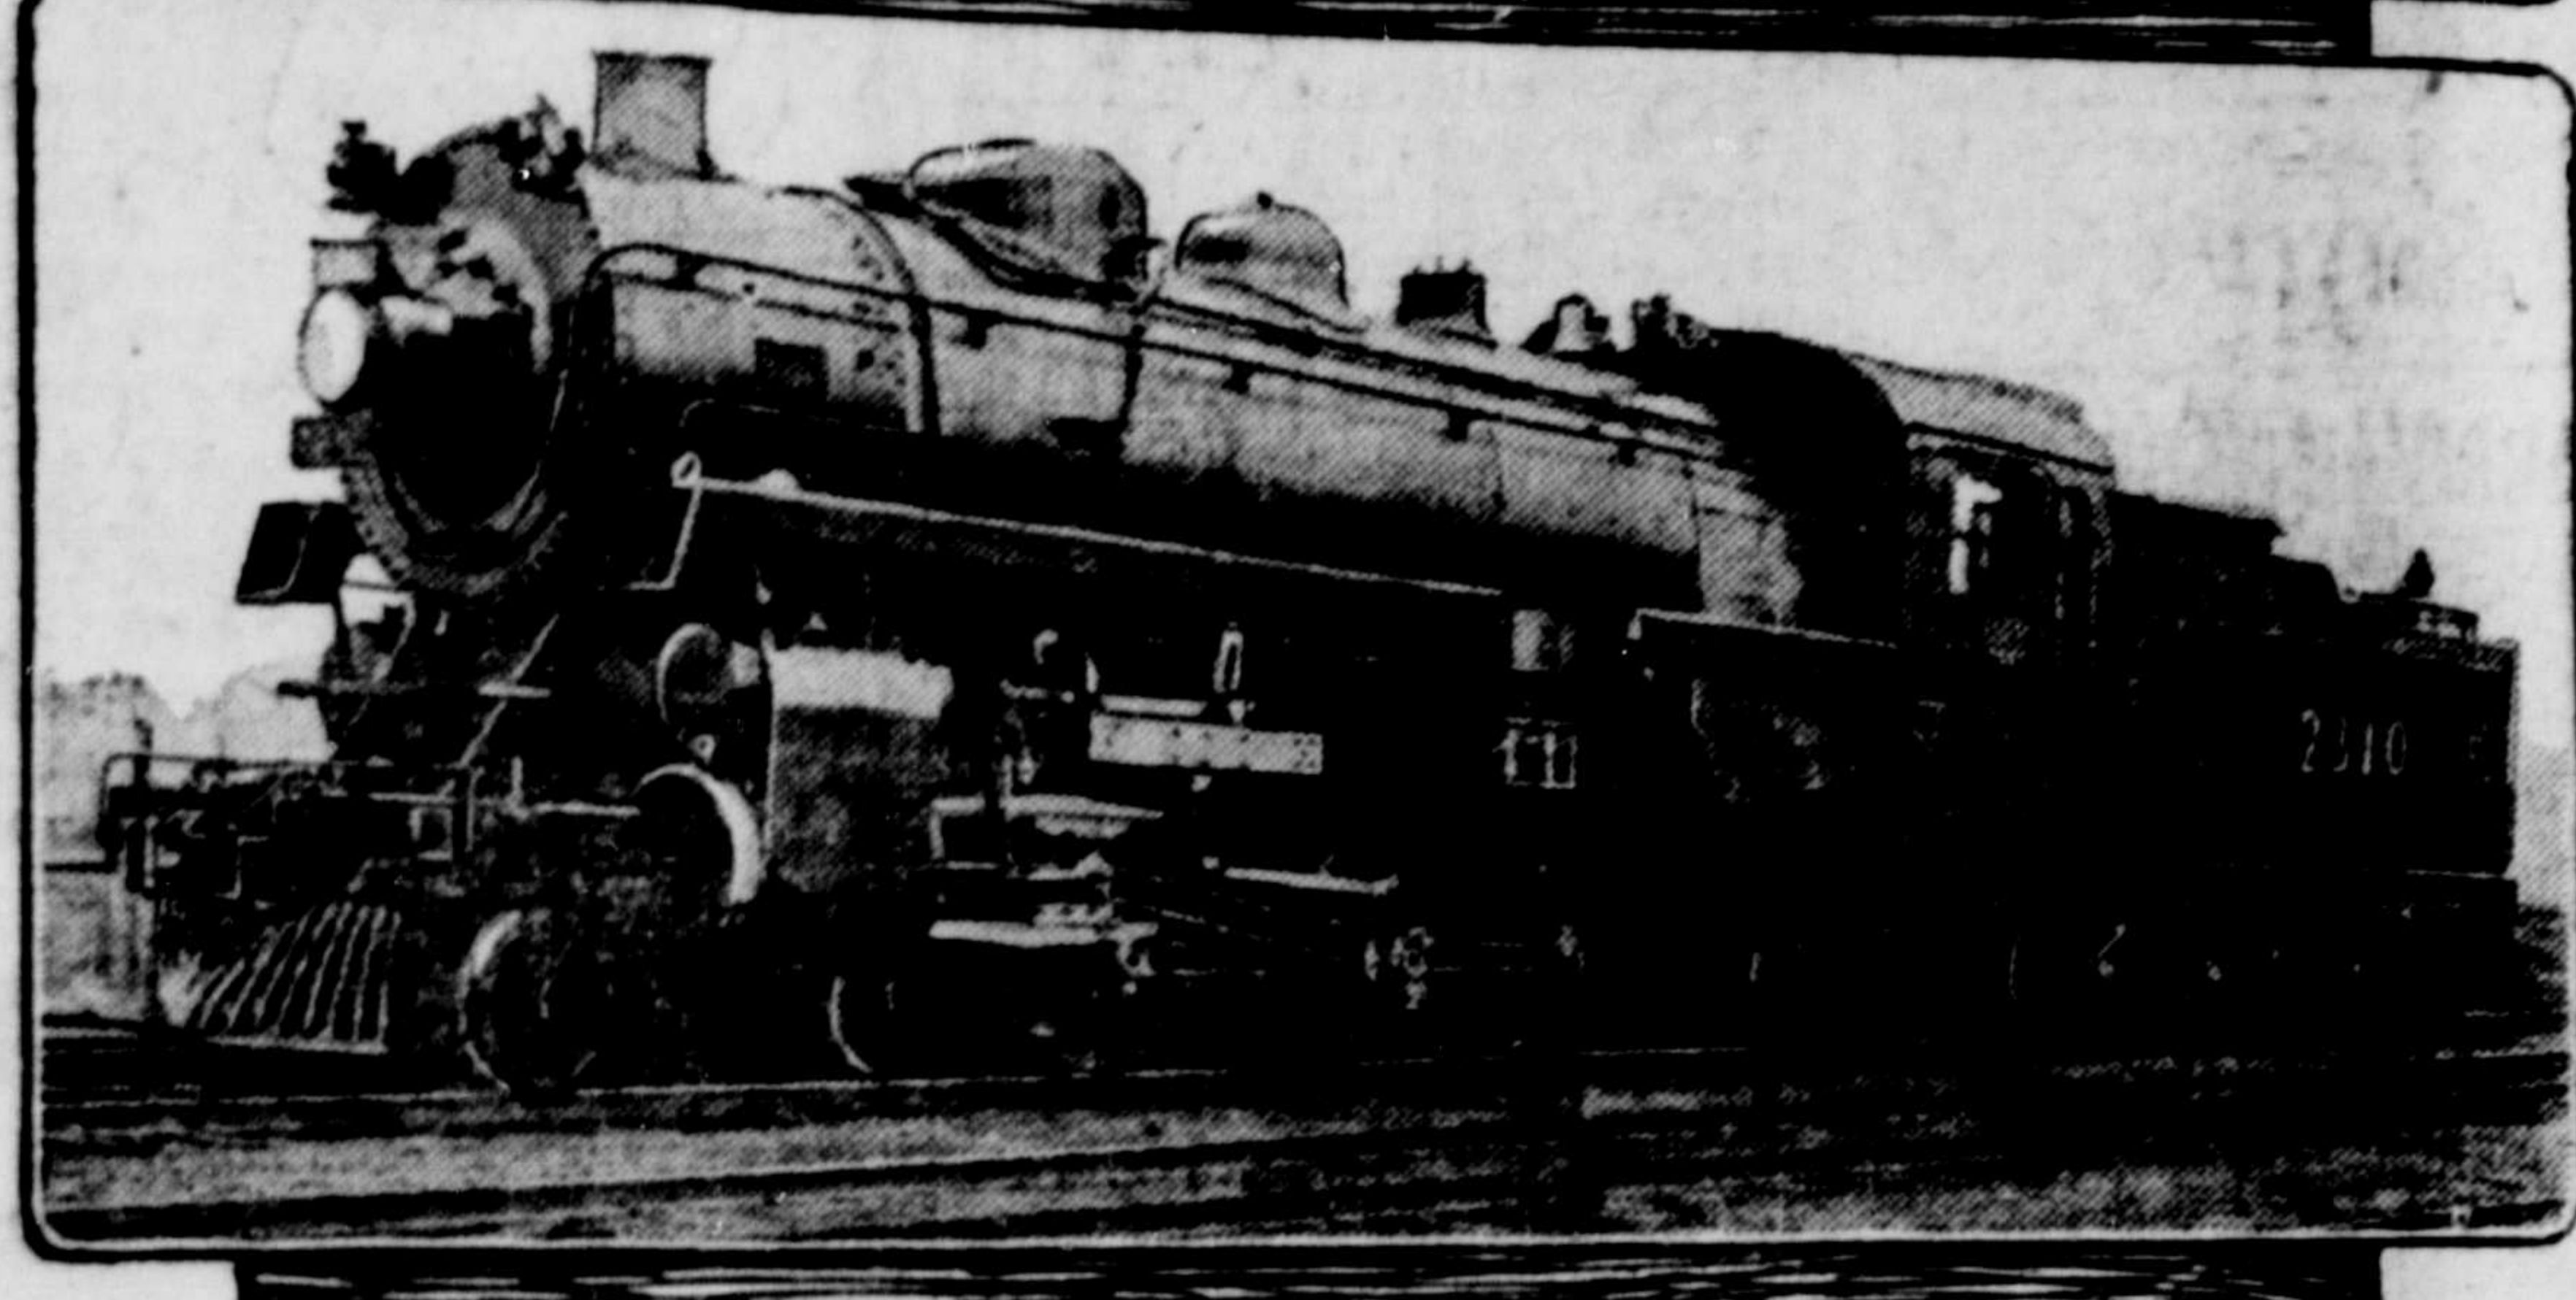

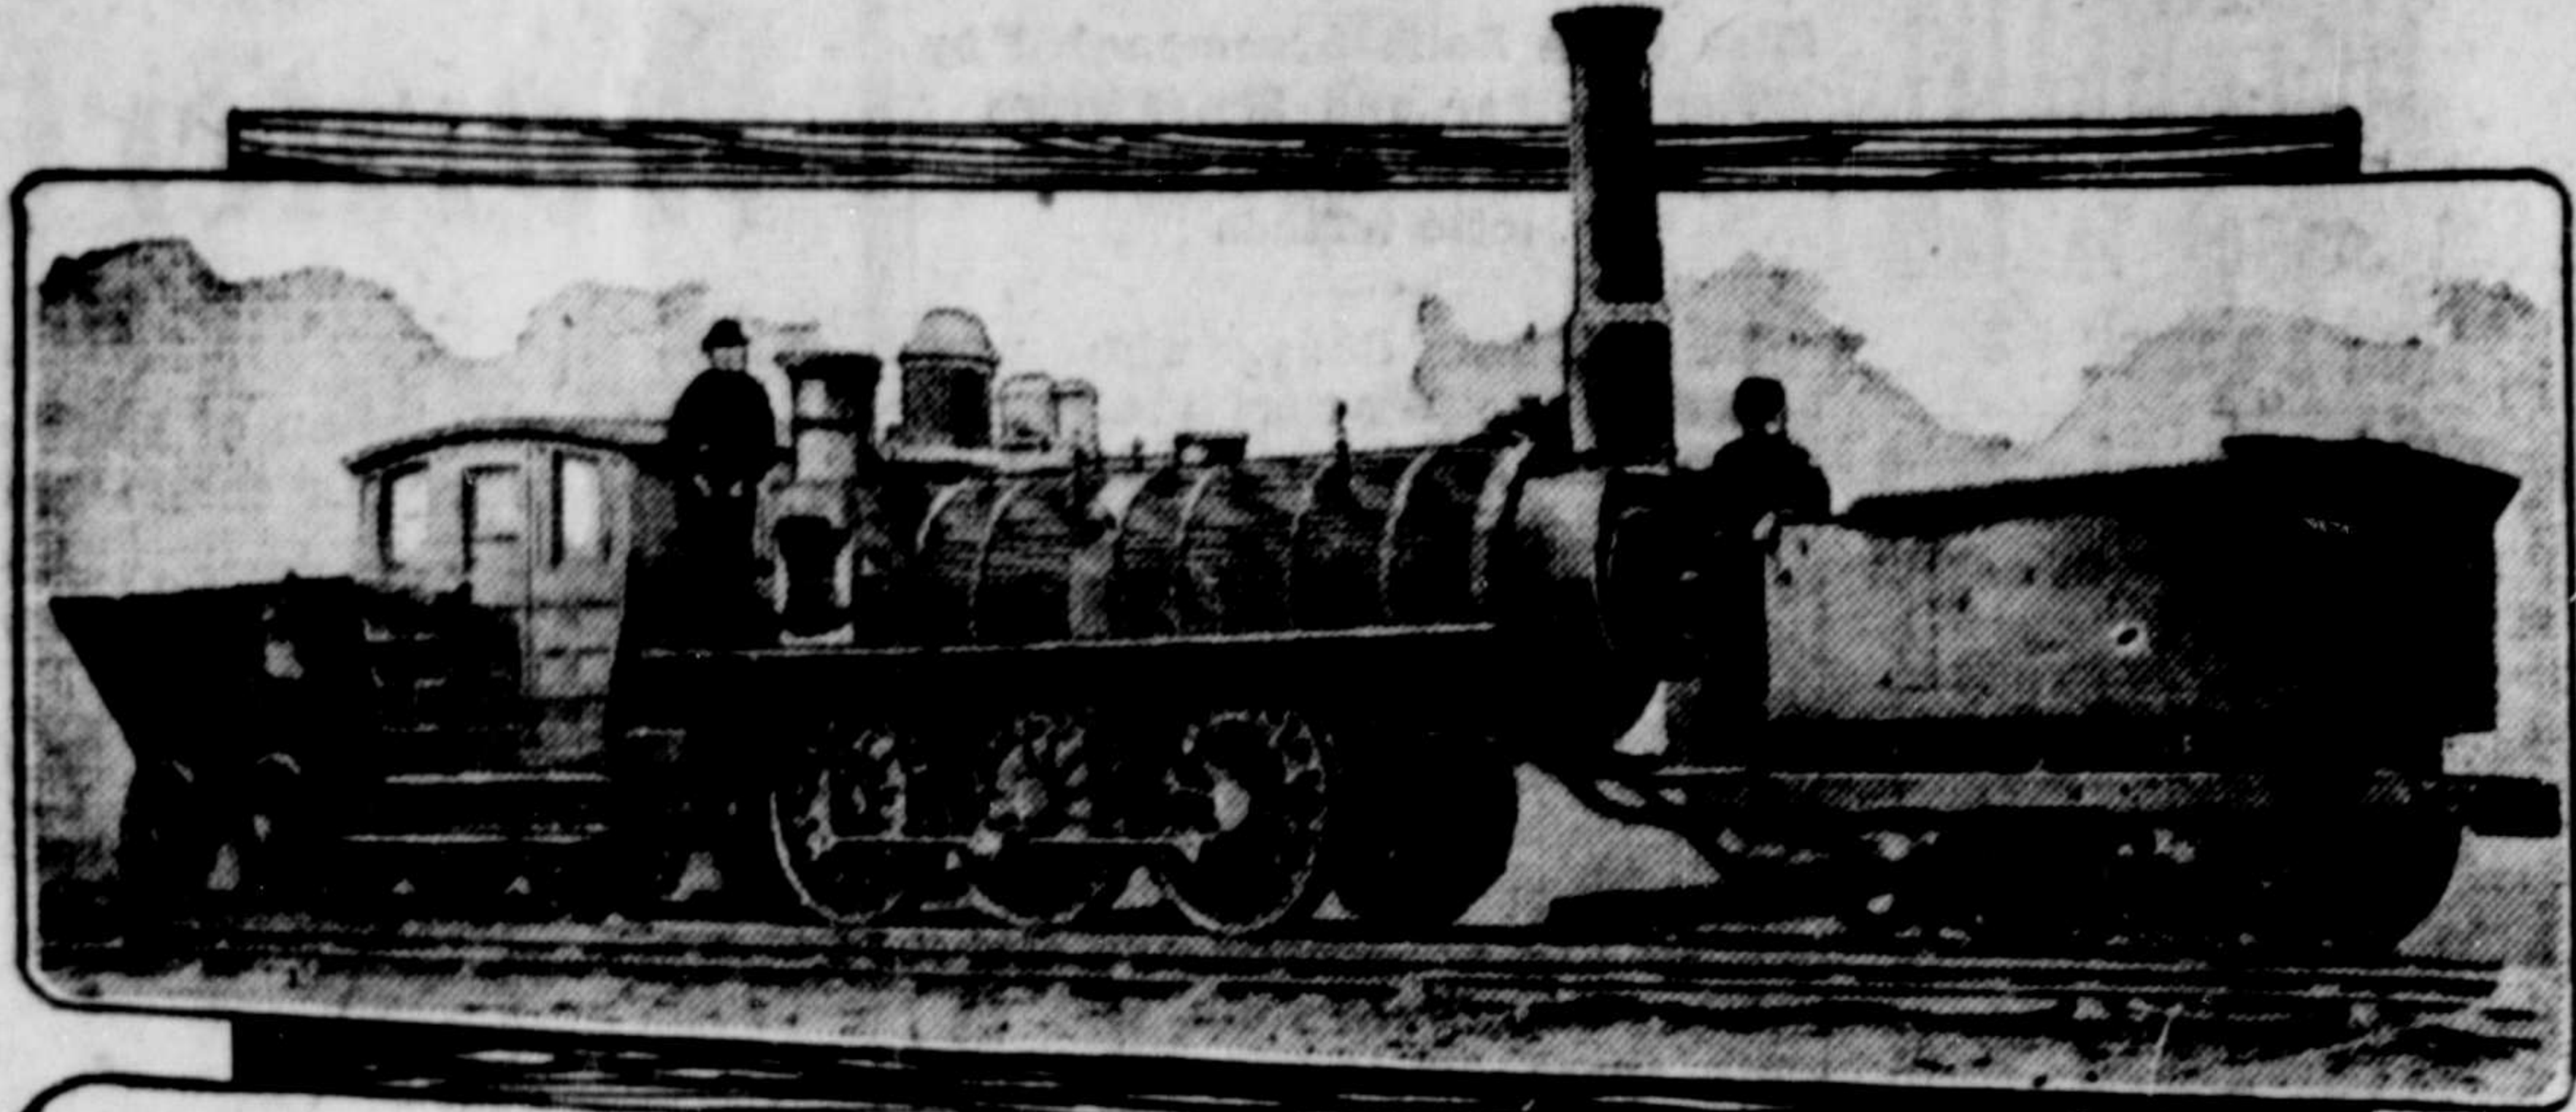

Daily Kennebec Journal has a picture and tells of Prince Rupert and the consul Ernest A. Wakefield. Wakefield is on leave of absence from his official duties now spending a short time in his home state. He arrived in Maine this morning.

...Wakefield was first appointed to this consular service by Congressman E. C. Burlingame, and has served in Canada and South Africa. He came to Prince Rupert in British Columbia between four and five years. This is the largest halibut fishing port in the world, twenty-six and a half million pounds of this fish being taken there last year, of which one and a half million were taken by American vessels. The fishery formerly in the height of its production, was located at Prince Rupert.

...Wakefield left Prince Rupert June 9 as a Canadian delegate to the international Rotary convention at St. Louis, an honor accorded by Canada to a citizen of the United States but no greater than that which Mr. Wakefield held as District Deputy Grand Master of the Grand District No. 9, Masonic jurisdiction covered by the Grand District of Canada.

...Wakefield came via Seaside, Oregon, Denver and St. Louis and then to Washington, D.C., where he visited his daughter,

Just a Comparison.

The First Locomotive in America and the Latest.

THIS picture might almost be entitled "Ancient and Modern." It shows the "Sampson," first locomotive in America which was first used at Albion mines in 1829, and one of the new Pacific type locomotives which have been placed in commission by the Canadian Pacific Railway on all main lines, and which are chiefly responsible for this company's "on time" feature of service. The Canadian Pacific Railway have now definitely adopted this design for their heavy main line service, as representing the most desirable and efficient locomotive for economy and reliability of service, as this particular design reduces to a minimum, consistent with capacity, the number of moving parts which is essential for reliability of service under the most exacting and severe conditions.

The capacity and weight of these locomotives rank them among the biggest of their type in the world, and the largest of this design in operation in Canada. The haulage capacity of the 2500 series is 42,600 lbs., which is obtained with 200 pounds boiler pressure, cylinders 25 inches in diameter, 30 inch stroke and with driving wheels 75 inches in diameter. The weight on the three pairs of drivers of engine is 180,000 pounds and the total weight of the engine and tender in working condition is 495,000 pounds, the tender having a capacity of 8,000 gallons of water and 14 tons of coal.

The design of these locomotives was given very careful study, a trial order of engines constructed in 1919 having been made, with tests under all Canadian conditions, which fully justified all expectations for reliability and economy of operation. The boiler has been carefully proportioned and the inter-relationship of grate area, fire box volume, heat absorption capacity of different lengths of tube and gas areas more carefully thought out than is usual in most designs, which, coupled together with an extremely accurate distribution of steam by an improved type of Walschaert valve gear, has given exceptional economy for a locomotive of this size.

Mrs. Lawrence Moore, at Bellingham, Washington, where she resides. The consul is rejoicing in the title of granddaughter, a son being born to his daughter, June 14.

PRIZE ESSAY IN FORESTRY

Girl Tells Why Forests Should be Protected and Why Valuable

(By Marjorie Wakefield, aged 13, Vernon)

We people of British Columbia should be proud protectors of our forests. B.C. has the largest forests of any province of Canada. We also have some of the finest timber of North America. We want to do all within our power to stop forest fires from burning down these far-reaching miles of wealth. Without our forests we could not prosper. They belong to all of us, and it is our duty to keep them safely guarded.

These vast areas of timber are worth millions of dollars to our people. In 1920 it was estimated that around ninety-two million dollars was made from forest products, and in 1921 it was calculated that sixty-four million dollars was made. Compute that amount, sixty-four million dollars a year for one hundred years, and you will have six billion, four hundred million dollars. If our forests are burned, we lose six billion, four hundred million dollars, because it will be one hundred years or more before the forests are grown enough to produce lumber to pay for our loss. The tree has a life like ours. Right under the bark there is the sap. This is the vital part. Like our blood is our vital part, so is the sap to the tree. When people go out into the forests for picnics they want wood for fire. They really should use dried dead wood; but some people are ignorant and chop down little trees. How would we like someone to come along and kill our children? We would not like it at all. If some of our children were killed it might mean a severe loss to the country, for in their later years they might become leading men and women in industry. So it is with trees; by destroying little trees we are throwing away our future forest monarchs. Some children—even grown ups—when out for picnics in the woods, think it great fun cutting notches in the trees. This is like stabbing a tree to the heart, for when the people have gone the tree is left to die.

Always touch wood

Trees are worth millions of dollars to civilization. From the moment we are born to the moment we die—even when we are dead—for a while we are forced to use wood. Our cradles are made of wood. Later on in life we have chairs, tables, houses, sidewalks, many parts of ships and trains, paper, etc., all made of wood. When we die, we are placed in wooden coffins.

Farms and towns built at the foot of mountains are given a good supply of water if the mountains are covered with forests. If they are bare the snow, which melts and supplies the water, thaws out quickly and the water rushes in torrents upon the settlements, there being no trees to check its rapid advance, and so floods are caused and many lives lost. Orchards are sometimes washed out, and nearly always where there are no forests on the mountains the people desert their places.

The destruction caused by forest fires is due to carelessness. One tree makes over a million matches. Now, these matches have heads which cannot think for themselves—we have to think for them. If we do not use our heads properly, if we carelessly fling matches everywhere, we may cause many forest fires. One match may destroy a million trees.

Houses Destroyed

If a forest is burned, the birds and animals will have no homes. The campers will have no camping grounds; the hunters no forests to hunt in, and no animals or game birds to hunt. Our animals produce beautiful furs and skins, which are in great demand and bring in a lot of money. Our birds are a great help to the farmers for they devour millions of insects.

Now, there are two things I tell all people of British Columbia to remember, and I bear them in my own mind. One is—that the forests of British Columbia are to be guarded safely; and the other is—that if we do, "Every day and in every way they will grow better and better, and we will therefore grow wealthier and wealthier."

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

July 24, 1913. Homer Jones Stewart alias Clarence Pipkin was arrested by the city police yesterday on arrival from the south of the steamer Prince George. He endeavored to beat his way from Vancouver by explaining to Capt. Donald and other officers of the steamer that he was Sir Thomas Lipton, a director of the Grand Trunk-Pacific.

The Griffith Stock Co. is playing at the Westholme Theatre. Their presentation of "Baby Mine" was well received last night and is being repeated.

Dr. W. B. Clayton, secretary of the Canadian Club, is in receipt of a telegram from Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, accepting the invitation of the club to give an address at a luncheon to be held a week from today.

Blind Man's Buff

EVEN in this age of enlightenment some folks spend their money blindly. They buy with their eyes shut. They grope in the dark as truly as if their eyes were bandaged.

And all the time a powerful light is being thrown on the very things they need and want!

Advertising is a beacon to guide you in buying. It shows you what to buy-- where to buy-- and when to buy. At the same time, it protects you against fraud and inferiority.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise deliberately focus thousands of eyes upon their wares. Their values must be honest and their prices right, or they could not advertise successfully.

Don't play blind man's buff with the elusive dollar. Spend a few minutes each day running through the advertisements in this paper. Then buy the products that have proved up in the light of advertising.

Read the Advertisements.
