ESTIMATES FOR YEAR CITY EXPENDITURE

MORE CANVASSERS WANTED FOR FINAL DAY OF NURSES' HOME CAMPAIGN

Measures of Economy in Civic Financing Needed to Cover Added Expense

Substantial reductions made by the city council in many departments of municipal administration this year have been nearly equalled by an increase in the charge for special rates and the making of the first payment on Section 1 street surfacing with the result that the total estimate for 1923 stands at $309,007.59 or nearly as much as last year's, $316,209.39. From the total estimate is to be taken the estimated receipts for the year, $98,942.86, which brings the sum that it is necessary to raise by taxation, $211,024.

NEW RAILROAD PENSION PLAN

General Manager Robb Submits Details to 100,000 Employees of C.N.R.

COVER ALL LINES

This But Temporary and Permanent One Will be Evolved at End of Year's Trial

MONTREAL, May 18.—Details of a new pension scheme for employees of the Canadian National Railways not already covered by existing provisions have been submitted to representatives of 100,000 employees comprising the general chairman of all railway brotherhoods by W. D. Robb, vice-president and general manager.

The scheme set forward by Mr. Robb is to extend the Grand Old Pension system to those employees in the Canadian National system not already covered by it, namely the Canadian National, Grand Trunk Pacific, National Transcontinental, Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific, and other smaller lines now forming a part of the Canadian National. Altogether, it is estimated, the scheme will bring in some 45,000 employees for pension benefits.

The scheme is intended to be temporary one for one year and to be replaced at the end of that time by a permanent one for the whole of the Canadian National system. For this permanent scheme, it is understood, the men will be allowed to make suggestions.

Schools are about the same as last year and sewer estimates are slightly higher.

In the pioneer days of Canadian railroads, the late Mr. Clarke used to drive an old wood-burning engine known as a double-ender, and the engine on which he made his first run as engineer on the Canadian Pacific is shown above. He was born in England 76 years ago and started railroading at the age of eighteen with the old Midland line, joining the company from whose service he was retired about twelve years after.

Nurses' Home Campaign Makes Progress but One Big Effort Needed to Put Drive Across

Good progress was again reported by the Nurses' Home canvassing committees last night and in the course of the day another $1,000 or over was raised. The campaign is scheduled to close tomorrow night and if the objective is to be realized it seems apparent that more canvassers must be secured. With this end in view, H. L. Campbell, chairman of the campaign, is today appealing to all persons, ladies or gentlemen, who are interested to devote Saturday to canvassing several hundred persons who have not yet been approached. The volunteers are requested to present themselves at the Red Cross hut, campaign headquarters, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. If sufficient persons turn out it will only be necessary for each canvasser to interview a few people.

The grand total subscriptions and grants to Thursday evening was $10,069.44.

DAILY EDITION

Friday, May 18, 1923.

People Are Rising To The Occasion.

The people of Prince Rupert are rising to the occasion in the matter of the Nurses' Home. They are doing nobly and the result will be that the home will be built this year. That seems assured judging by the way subscriptions are coming in.

One noticeable feature of the published lists up to yesterday was the few names of women subscribers. While it is not to be expected that wives, whose husbands have already given, shall, as a general rule, also make donations, there are a great many single ladies in the city who are earning good money and can as well afford to pay as men. Possibly they are just holding back waiting for the favorable opportunity.

Library Will Be Needing Help.

It is rather unfortunate that the city council should have felt it their duty to cut the library estimates to such an extent as has been done. However, it seems as if the Board must make the best of the situation for this year and try to enlist the sympathies of outside organizations with a view to getting supplies. Happily the Provincial Government is coming to their aid to the extent of two hundred dollars to be spent on books only and there are a great many people who, when they realize the situation, will undoubtedly come to the assistance of the institution both with books and with cash. It is to be hoped the Library Board will make an effort to carry on so that the people here will not be deprived of the valuable institution which has already proved itself a boon to the community. We suppose the city fathers are to be complimented on having left us the librarian, who is doing such excellent work.

President Harding Might Come Here.

It is to be hoped that while he is in the neighborhood, President Harding will make it convenient to visit Prince Rupert. Every person here would welcome him for he is a worthy representative of a great people. We, as the smaller nation, have a right to yelp a little now and then at the big brother who seems a little overbearing at times but that is purely a detail. We all look to the United States as one of the greatest countries in the world and especially as a nation with problems very like our own. Because of that, and of the fact that we are near neighbors and that there is no distinction between an American and a Canadian beyond the matter of name, we hope that the president of the United States will be able to see his way clear to visit Prince Rupert and let us show him how we feel. We should appreciate such a visit as a distinct courtesy, and especially in view of the close relationship that must exist between Alaska and this port for all time.

Courtesy Is Invaluable.

Courtesy is a great attribute for any person. There is a story told of some Papuans who were condemned to be executed and who were being sent to the government headquarters where the sentence of the court was to be put into effect. When the steamer was about to leave it was found that the men were missing and it was only after the whistle had blown several times and there had been much shouting that the men came running up, apologizing profusely and stating that had they known the steamer was leaving so soon for the scene of the execution they would not have strayed so far away.

Some people are naturally polite; others are naturally abrupt and careless about such matters as etiquette. While we all object to that form of courtesy that conceals the real meaning of things and that is used as a cloak for all sorts of subtleties, yet we like to deal with people who are courteous and who never forget that all men are worthy of some respect.

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Yorker, Sask., writes:

"I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."

LOCAL NORWEGIANS HELD CELEBRATION

Anniversary of Independence was Enthusiastically Observed With Dinner and Dance Last Night

The 109th anniversary of the declaration of Norwegian independence was enthusiastically celebrated by local Norwegians and friends at a banquet in the St. Regis Cafe and a dance in the Elks' Home last night. There were about 70 or 80 couples at the dinner, the most of whom also attended the dance.

Speeches were made at the dinner in the native tongue by John Dybbavn, vice consul, and Chris Winter, and B. M. Simpson spoke in English. Mrs. L. O. Larsen sang a Norwegian solo. L. O. Larsen was chairman.

Thor Johnson was master of ceremonies at the dance and the Westholme Orchestra furnished the music. The enjoyable affair kept up until the early hours of the morning.

The local Moose Lodge is holding an excursion to Skeena River points today, the Princess Mary having been chartered for the purpose. One hundred and fifty persons were on the steamer when she pulled out this morning. Oceanic, Balmoral, Claxton and Carlisle canneries are being visited and Port Eslington will be seen at close range, the tide being too low to make a landing.

Expecting a record tourist traffic to Alaska this season, the Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship Co. will operate the Princess May, Capt. McLeod, and the Princess Sophia, Capt. A 3-ton Commercial truck arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver for Rogers & Black, coal dealers. It will be used in making coal deliveries in the city.

In the Sunset of Life

A comfortable and happy old age, care-free and independent—such can be your recompense, too, through life insurance.

Canadian Government statistics show the need for this provision:

"Ninety-five per cent. of men at 60 are dependent upon their daily earnings or on others for support, and not one man in thirty who retires with a competency is able to retain that competency to the close of his life."

People are realizing this fact, and life insurance companies in Canada are beginning to pay out more money to living policyholders than they do in death claims, despite the thousands of death claims annually.

The present is the time to make provision for the future, so that the sunset of your life will not be overcast with shadows.

Any life insurance representative will be pleased to show you how to provide a sure income for your later years.

Don't let diapers irritate your baby's skin

NO matter how carefully you bathe and powder him—if his diapers are washed with harsh soap—his tender skin will suffer. The diaper rash that is the source of such severe suffering to babies is caused by this very thing—washing diapers with harsh or impure soaps.

Safe for all his little clothes

Keep your baby's diapers soft and comfortable. Wash them in pure, safe Lux suds and thoroughly rinse. There is no free alkali in Lux to stick to them and make them irritating. No harmful ingredient to inflame the sensitive skin. These pure flakes are safe for all the clothes that touch his tender skin. Use Lux for your baby's soft woollen shirts and socks, his petticoats and dresses, his diapers and bands.

To keep diapers from irritating

To prepare for washing: Remove all solid matter immediately—put to soak in cold water. If diapers are simply wet place in a covered pail and let soak in cold water. To wash: Whisk two tablespoonsfuls of Lux into a thick lather in a tub of very hot water. Let diapers soak for a few minutes then dip up and down, pressing suds repeatedly through them. Thoroughly rinse in three waters. Boil diapers once a week using one tablespoonful of Lux to a gallon of water.

Sold only in sealed packets—dustproof!

SCOTCH ARMY MAN IS HERE

Lieut.-Col. Stewart Touring Pacific Coast—Expects to Hunt Big Game

Lt.-Col. R. N. Stewart, O.B.E., M.C., Legion of Honor, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city from Kinloch Moydart, Scotland, on the train last night and are registered at the Prince Rupert Hotel.

Col. Stewart has nothing but high praise for the Canadian scenery and is particularly impressed with the beauty of Prince Rupert.

According to Col. Stewart there are a great number of unemployed in both Scotland and England, and he is of the opinion that there are a number of healthy and "anxious to work" young men and women over there who would be only too willing to come to Canada if at all possible.

Col. and Mrs. Stewart are, as yet, undecided as to their future movements but they intend to stay in Prince Rupert and vicinity for some time in order to take in some of the local beauty spots via water.

JUNIOR SOCCER SEASON OPENS

Public School Team Defeated High School Last Night by 3 to 2.

The Public School team won the first game of the Junior Football League season at the Aeropolis Hill grounds last evening over the High School by a score of 3 to 2. The game was a very creditable one and the youngsters showed talent that, with more practice and experience, will be capable of much development.

Dido Gurvich scored for the Public School in the first half and again in the second, Eddie McLean making the third counter. Through Felix Batt and Alex Mitchell, the High School obtained its two goals in the second.

J. Campbell refereed and the linemen were A. Clapperion and F. Hemmonds.

The teams lined up as follows: Public School—S. Gurvich; C. McKinnon and C. Cameron; N. Chenoski, W. Wrathall and M. Camadina; V. Meagher, Eddie McLean, Dido Gurvich, Leo McKinnon and Johnny Martin.

BABY'S TERRIBLE ECZEMA

ALL mother's should know of this grand boon, Zam-Buk," writes Mrs. E. Cossett, of Joggan Bridge, Digby Co., N.S. "My baby girl suffered cruelly from itching eczema for over a year. When doctor's treatment failed I used other salves and ointments. But still the sores spread all over the face and shoulders. Imagine a babe, less than a year old, having to go through such fiery skin torture!

"A friend said get this herbal Zam-Buk. She told me that if this didn't answer, well, nothing else could. I found that Zam-Buk gave the child great ease, and before the first box was used up we saw marked improvement. "Day by day, under the influence of Zam-Buk, the sores continued to die away until the eczema was confined to the shoulder where it had always been most severe. By degrees this part also was purified and healed by Zam-Buk."

unexpected, a football eleven, comprised of one-armed veterans of the war, is to be organized in the city of Winnipeg.

America is about to get a taste of Scotch football. Six Scotch First League Association football players have accepted contracts to play the game in America where an effort is to be made to introduce football as played in Scotland. The players will leave Glasgow in June.

One hundred years ago, the "Rugby" game of football was evolved during the course of a game at Rugby School, England, which has just erected a tablet to commemorate the event. The inscription reads: "This stone commemorates the exploit of William Webb Ellis, who with a fine disregard for the rules of football, as played in his time, took the ball in his arms and ran with it, thus originating the distinctive feature of the Rugby game. A.D. 1823."

The Davis Cup trial matches in England this year will, it is expected, bring out very little new talent and the Old Country will have to rely on such old guards as Kingscote, Crawley, Gilbert, Lyett, Lowe, Woomnam and Barrett. The only new man mentioned with any pretensions to Davis Cup form is the 23-year old South African, J. P. D. Wheatley. As the British team will probably play the first match in Belgium where hard courts are used and since many of the other countries also have such courts, the British trials will probably be played on hard courts.

Walter Hoover is having another new type shell built with which he hopes to defend his title against Paul Costello at Duluth on June 8. The new shell will be shorter and lighter than his former boats and he expects to develop greater speed than ever before. The shell will be 24 feet long and will weigh approximately 30 pounds. This is three feet shorter and three pounds lighter than the old shell. The boat will be narrower as well as shorter, but Hoover has found that with a fuller bow and a deeper body this will be counteracted. Hoover believes the saving of seven per cent skin friction will prove a big advantage toward developing greater speed.

ESTIMATES OF LIBRARY CUT Items for Books, Periodicals and Transportation Totalling $1100 Eliminated by City The city council has cut the estimates of the library board for the year by $1,100, the items lopped off being $1,000 for new books, $50 for periodicals and $50 for transportation. The library board asked for a total appropriation of $2,987 for the year and will receive $1,887. The fact that the book and periodical supply of the library has been entirely eliminated will make it difficult for the library board to carry out its work but it is expected that some solution will be found for the handicap. The board is receiving $200 from the provincial government for new books this year and an appeal will likely be made to the public for further funds. A meeting of the board has not been held since the cut became known so no definite action has yet been decided on.

Itemized Estimate The following were the estimates of the library board itemized: Salary of Librarian $1,200 Janitor 120.00 Books 1,000.00 Periodicals 50.00 Furniture and Supplies 50.00 Repairs to building 100.00 Transportation 50.00 Rebinding Books 100.00 Telephone 30.00 Light 50.00 Water 12.00 Insurance 15.00 Coal 150.00 Extras 50.00 As stated the book, periodical and transportation items were cut out by the council.

Sweden With Half Area Produces More Than Whole of British Columbia

FIRES DESTRUCTIVE Department Will Prosecute all Who Disobey Regulations Says District Forester Sweden is just half the size of British Columbia and 8 per cent of it is inland waterways, 11 per cent agricultural, and 28 per cent unproductive while the remaining 51 per cent is productive forest land. P. S. Bonney told the Rotary Club yesterday. Being a progressive nation, the people believe in maintaining the forest capital and from it they cut each year four times as much as is cut in this province. They cut forty billion feet a year.

Loss by Fire In regard to forest fires Mr. Bonney told of the large percentage destroyed. The government spent nearly half a million dollars on fire prevention yet, owing to careless campers and careless land clearing, the loss was very heavy. In the interior of this district there was lost last year more ties than would be cut this year. The difficulty the forest department found was the appalling paralyzing apathy of the people. Until there was a change in the viewpoint of the general public the department would be helpless in spite of all they did. Complaints came to him of men being burned out of house and home owing to the carelessness of their neighbors.

Mr. Bonney said, they were going to prosecute to the full limit any man who took a chance in the burning of his slash. There was a permit system and any burning without a permit would be punished. He urged the stimulation of interest in to prevent the destruction of the wealth of the province by forest fires.

Morocco Example During the war, Mr. Bonney said, he went to Morocco in connection with his naval duties and on pleasure jaunts and one of the things that struck him was the appalling lack of forest resources. It was impossible to find a decent tree in the country. Northern Africa was once great but she lost her forests. Persia, Mesopotamia and Egypt were all examples of decadence. At the close Vice-president W. T. Kergin, who presided in the absence of Dr. Grant, thanked the speaker for his interesting address.

GREAT CAREER COLONEL BOYLE

London Papers Tell of Him and of His Work in Rumania English papers just to hand have interesting articles on Col. Joe Boyle who died recently and who is one of the heroes of Mme. Pantazzi's book, "Rumania in Light and Shadow." The London Times says: We regret to announce that Lieutenant-Col. Joseph White-side Boyle, D.S.O., died of heart failure at Hampton Hill, Middlesex, on Saturday. "Joe" Boyle, as he was known to his friends all over the world, had the romantic career which befitted a man of his independent and chivalrous character. The full story of his life and adventures would make one of the most entertaining books ever written. But it is never likely to be written, for Colonel Boyle, though full to the brim of tales of other men, both real and fictitious, was remarkably shy of talking about himself. His latest exploit was about six months ago, when he went to Constantinople and made a dash in a destroyer to Batum, where he rescued some Englishmen who had been interned by the Bolsheviks. Since then his health had faded rapidly.

Met Frank Slavik Boyle belonged to the family of which Lord Cork is head, but he himself came from Woodstock, Ontario. In 188 he was engaged in "placer" mining on a large scale in the Klondike. Ultimately he became owner of the Boyle Concession and a leader in hydraulic mining. His name was a household word there, connoting a man of iron build, square-shouldered, blue-eyed, level-browed, with an indomitable will and somewhat turbulent spirit. He did not altogether escape collision with the authorities, but rarely came off second best. To him belonged great physical power, admirably trained fists, good nature, and moderation in all circumstances. Insult, however, he never brooked. To his fists Frank Slavik, the boxer, could bear the best tribute. Slavik owed a great deal of his prowess to Boyle's training and command of all the rules and practices of the prize-ring. In those rough days Boyle proved himself a giant in self-defence, but aggression was not laid to his charge. He was always kind to the weak, always chivalrous.

At the outbreak of the war Boyle was at Dawson City, nearly 1,000 miles from tide-water, and 10,000 from England. In an incredibly short time he got together the Yukon Machine-gun Corps, which he intended to bring overseas at his own expense. He served with distinction on the Western and other fronts.

In Rumania Later he was appointed a member of the British Transport Mission to Russia, his section of the reorganization being the Moscow region. One of his exploits was to bring back the Rumanian national treasure from Moscow, where it had been sent for safety. This he did with the aid of two British officers; at one point he had to get up steam and drive the engine himself. When Rumania was overwhelmed by the Germans, he was in Odessa to Jassy, and remained with the King and Queen Jassy, throughout the German occupation. He was at one time on General Denikin's staff. After the Armistice he went on a mission to Yalta to bring away the Empress Marie, but she refused to leave Russia. Later, he was able to commit her Majesty to back alive, and they dared not Mentioned in Book Colonel Boyle is a prominent figure in Mme. Pantazzi's book, "Rumania in Light and Shadow," published in 1921. In February, 1918, the Germans were advancing on Odessa, and, as Colonel Boyle remarked, they did not like his uniform. He wanted to effect an exchange of some seventy Rumanian prisoners (including Mme. Pantazzi's husband), who were hustled on board a ship, in spite of his opposition. Instantly he decided to go with them. I can see him now (says Mme. Pantazzi) mounting the steep incline that led to that ship of horror, and seizing by the scruff of their necks two wretches who were heating one of "his" prisoners, as he called them. On board the ship he shared the hardships of "his" prisoners, unquestionably saved their lives, in 1917 he made a flight from Odessa to Jassy, by all the force of his diplomacy, brought them back to the King and Queen Jassy. The day after their arrival the German occupation of the Queen, with her own hand, decorated him with the Star of Rumania. When Mme. Pantazzi asked her husband how they all got back alive he laughed and said, "They just had to live—the colonel had sworn to bring them back alive, and they dared not

AFTERNOON TEA IS RECOMMENDED TO UNITED STATES USE

Gordon Selfridge, Chicago Merchant, Speaks Interestingly on English Rite

Gordon Selfridge, the Chicago merchant who invaded and conquered London, is revisiting the United States, and touches on some piquant contrasts between his native and adopted countries says the Toronto Globe. He has the advantage of a double standard of comparison, of seeing the British through American eyes. To an interviewer he lays amusing emphasis on an English social rite, afternoon tea, which is the subject of mild derision on the part of visitors to the Tight little island—until they succumb to it. Mr. Selfridge thinks that if Americans would similarly relax in the middle of the afternoon work they would gain a poise and calm they really need and lose none of their famous "pep." When he opened his departmental store on Oxford Street thirteen years ago it was the custom of his sales-people to snatch tea as best they could. Instead of discouraging it he accepted it as a national institution, and gave a tea interval to his 3,000 employees, and "since everybody else in the country does it, no time or business was lost." He is quoted further:

"Tea is brought around at matinees and movies, on railway trains and boats. Lords and commoners pause for it in parliament. You cannot enter any office, editorial den, public library, factory or shop in Great Britain between four or five without stumbling over cups and tea tins.

Friendly Get Together
"Mr. Selfridge confessed that, personally, he did not like tea, but he likes what it stands for—a friendly get together, a relaxing pause in the day's work, a slowing down of the American's relentless push, not to a point of becoming less active, but more balanced. The American has a breakdown at 50, he added, but the Englishman was swinging a wicked golf club at 65."
Afternoon tea has become a social function on this side of the Atlantic, but it has not seriously penetrated the market place. After all, is it not the tea hour that gives the Briton poise and calm. It is merely one expression of his unburied habits and ways of living and of looking at life. Before work slows down in offices, factories and shops on this continent in the presence of the tea-cups, there will have to be a radical change in the mental as well as the physical habits of the business community.

DIVORCES ARE FEWER THOUGH EASY TO GET UNDER RUSSIAN SOVIET

Extremely Difficult to Get Houses and Two Live in One Room

MOSCOW, May 19. — Though extremely easy to secure under Soviet laws, divorces are decreasing in Moscow because of the housing shortage. Most Muscovites have to live at least two in a room, and however incompatible a couple may find life together, even this is easier than the task of finding new and separate quarters.

Marriages, on the other hand, are promoted by the housing shortage, for a person enjoying the rare privilege of having a large room to himself or herself finds little difficulty in persuading a perhaps roomless mate to share it.

Official statistics show there were only 49 divorces in Moscow in January, as compared to 2,214 marriages. The requirements both for uniting and separating couples are brief and simple. If a man and woman desire to be married, they go before a magistrate and declare their wish. If they desire a divorce, they go before a magistrate and say they cannot get along. If only one of the parties wishes a divorce, the questioning may take a few minutes longer.
