Conspirators Charged with an Attempt To Corrupt Prohibition Enforcement Agents in States

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The arrest of eleven conspirators, who had a fund of $80,000 with which they were proceeding to corrupt prohibition enforcement officers, marks the opening of the Federal Government's new drive against bootleggers and saloons and brewers in New York and New Jersey.

One enforcement officer confessed that he had received $1,500 weekly as a bribe to permit wholesale violation of the Volstead Act. Forty-five cases of saloon keeping have been placed on the charge list sheets for this morning and many new developments are expected.

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—Trapping salmon in Alaskan waters during forbidden hours last summer cost the Pacific American Fisheries Co. and three of its employees $1,550 in fines in the federal courts here today.

These are said to be the first prosecutions under the new regulation which makes it a misdemeanor to operate traps between 6 p.m. on Sunday and 6 a.m. Monday.

According to testimony in court the arrests were made by the bureau of fisheries agents at Volcano Bay on June 17, at Kakan Bay on June 25 and Pavloff Bay on July 21.

"My Own" Has Been Shipped to New York in Readiness to Take Horse's Place

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—"My Own," Admiral Grayson's crack three year old has been substituted for Zev as the United States representative in the international race tomorrow, the New York Sun says. The air is thick with rumors this morning concerning the race contest. Zev, it is reported, developed a skin malady. The Jockey Club's race committee, however, after inspecting the horse indicated it would withhold its decision pending the arrival of "My Own" which has been shipped from Laurel, Maryland, to take Zev's place if necessary.

Convention at Duncan Closes After Asking for Educational Survey

WEAK SPOT IN EDUCATION

Lady Heads Association for Coming Year and a Lady on Executive

DUNCAN, Oct. 19.—Mrs. E. A. Ross of Nelson was elected president of the British Columbia school trustees association at the closing of its annual convention here yesterday. The full list of officers was as follows: President, Mrs. E. A. Ross, Nelson. First Vice-Pres., F. H. Nicholson, Vancouver. Second Vice-Pres., G. T. Smythe, Duncan. Sec.-Treas., J. E. Wilton, Point Grey. Executive: Dr. Richard Helton, Sooke; George A. Grant, Burnaby; and Mrs. Sheppard, Richmond.

Kamloops was chosen as the next meeting place a year from now. A resolution providing for an educational survey of the province was adopted with only seven delegates dissenting. Dr. J. D. McLean had already promised that such a survey would be made if there was a sufficient demand for it.

The retiring president, Joseph Harwood, made an appeal on behalf of 180 schoolboards in unorganized districts which were not represented in the association. He said the single teacher schools were the weak spot in the educational system in this province. There was need for a branch association and Mr. Harwood stressed the fact that in the prairie provinces the Government paid salaries for organizing trustees. He thought the executive should approach the Government for assistance for this object.

MINISTER HAS CONFERENCE ON FISH MATTERS

Hon. Ernest Lapointe Hears Delegation from Union and Board of Trade

Various matters pertaining to the local fishing industry were taken up yesterday at a joint conference between representatives of the Halibut Fishermen's Union and the Prince Rupert Board of Trade and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of marine and fisheries. The Union committee consisted of J. H. Meagher, Andy Voelman and James Coombs and the Board of Trade representatives were President E. C. Gibbons, Vice-President S. J. McLeod, John Dybbavn and W. E. Williams. The minister gave the committee an attentive hearing and expressed his agreement with them in the most of their claims, promising his co-operation in getting the matters before the proper authorities with a view to obtaining action.

One of the most important topics was that of having the American 2c and Canadian 1c tariffs on export halibut removed. The committee urged such action and the minister heartily concurred. He promised to use his best efforts to this end.

Speaking of the halibut close season, Mr. Lapointe told the committee definitely that it would not go into effect this year. Canada had done all in its power to bring about the close season but the matter was now up to the United States Congress for ratification.

Complaint was made to the minister by the committees of the use of a small halibut hook which was a factor in depleting the fisheries in that it took fish of a small size. The request was made that the use of the regulation hook be made compulsory and that the small hook be prohibited. The minister said he would do all in his power to meet the request but it would be a matter for international negotiation before any effective could be enacted.

The Union representatives asked that an inspector be appointed on the waterfront to look after weights and see that all halibut not paid for was not sold by the fish buyers. The minister promised to take the matter up at Ottawa. There were also several private matters taken up by individuals with the minister.

By a vote of 22 to 12 the association defeated a motion to delete from the school act the disability clause against clergymen acting as trustees or teachers.

The number of doctors affected by the strike may spread into thousands.

DRUG DELIVERED TO WRONG PLACE

Sergeant McGlinchy Effects Arrest of Opium Smuggling Oriental in Police Station

There's many a slip 'twixt cup and the lip and even the cunning wiles of the Heathen Chinee sometimes do not work out the way intended.

For instance—one, giving the name of Luy Young, entered the police station last evening carrying a coat for another, Mee Chong, who was about to sail for New Westminster under escort to do two years for breaking and entering. Sergeant McGlinchy searched the coat and found in an inside pocket alongside of some tobacco, a small package of prepared opium apparently meant for the dreamy purposes of Mee Chong during his long sojourn in the pen.

Luy Young was placed under arrest and was charged in the police court this morning with having drugs in his possession. The case was remanded until tomorrow.

Lapointe Enunciates Government Attitude Regarding this Port

"Prince Rupert is naturally interested in the future of the Canadian National Railways. There have been many changes since it was built. First came the war and then the government took over the operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific and other systems. Consequently there were changes from the original plans. Let me tell you, however, that those who supported the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and those who know the views taken then with regard to the city of Prince Rupert as its terminal will always see with a great deal of sympathy anything that is undertaken for the betterment and development of this city," declared Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of marine and fisheries in the course of his address at the luncheon given yesterday afternoon by the Prince Rupert Board of Trade at the St. Regis Cafe in his honor.

E. C. Gibbons, president of the Board of Trade, briefly welcomed Hon. Mr. Lapointe and his secretary, Mr. Langlois, and thanked the Rotary Club for waiving their prior claim to the banquet hall for the occasion of the gathering. He then called upon Fred Stork, M.P., to introduce the guest of honor.

Chinese Burglar is Sentenced — James Bowe Acquitted on Assault Charge

Mee Chong, Chinese, was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Judge Young in the County Court to two years in New Westminster penitentiary for breaking and entering McArthur's shoe store on Third Avenue. He had pleaded guilty to the charge the day previous.

James Bowe, charged with assaulting D. Seguin at Stewart recently, was acquitted. He had been in the local lock-up for some time.

His Honor remanded the charge against Carl Gustavsen charged with having stolen goods in his possession. No evidence was taken pending accused undergoing a mental examination.

WAS NOT DRUNK BUT HAD A FIT

Staggering Man Does Not Necessarily Mean Intoxication, Police Find

Things are not always what they seem and because a man happens to stagger and collapse on the street does not necessarily mean that he is intoxicated. A story from the police court proves it.

Yesterday morning no less than three persons phoned in from Third Avenue complaining of a drunken man being on the street. Constable Macdonald was despatched to the scene but, when he arrived, the alleged drunk had been removed in a taxi.

Later in the afternoon, J. Daney called at the police station stating that he had had a fit on the street and had become unconscious. He had lost a pair of shoes which he was taking to a cobbler. Chief Vickers questioned Daney and found he was the same man who had supposedly been intoxicated. He directed Daney to William Haynor, the taxi man, and there the missing shoes were found.

Statesmanlike Address To Board Of Trade.

Rising above trivialities or pandering to local demands, the minister of marine yesterday struck a high note in his address to the Prince Rupert Board of Trade at the luncheon yesterday. He mentioned above other things the desirability of a united Canada in which there should be no distinction between east and west, where a person could feel just as much at home in one province as in another.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe is an orator of no mean order. He talks plainly and clearly with a picturesque French accent that adds to the brightness of his delivery. While he is at his best in a fighting speech such as that delivered on a former occasion, he lost none of his reputation as a result of yesterday's effort. He is undoubtedly one of the leading men in Quebec and he will be heard from often in future if he retains his health.

Great Future For Canada.

In outlining the way in which Canada is prospering, the minister found progress all along the line and nowhere more than in connection with the railway. He was extremely optimistic for the future as any student of affairs is bound to be. If all Canadians saw the future as Mr. Lapointe sees it and were willing to work consistently to that end, there should be greater progress throughout the country. We have largely what we expect. If we expect little we shall just get that.

Everybody Comes To Prince Rupert.

Prince Rupert is getting back on to the map. She is being visited by many important people. Very soon the general manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine will be here for the first time and he will inspect the possibilities of the port from a shipping point of view. All these people are welcome. We have nothing to hide but we stand to gain from all the visits.

As we grow and increase in importance we shall have many more important visitors from time to time and these will all be welcome. We must try to entertain everybody we possibly can for there is nothing like a hearty welcome to give people a good impression of a place.

MANY PASSENGERS AND MUCH FREIGHT BROUGHT STEAMER PRINCE JOHN

The steamer Prince John, Capt. Harry Nedden, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and Queen Charlotte Islands with a heavy list of passengers, something like sixty first class and twenty-five steerage, most of whom were bound south. The vessel also brought 200 tons of coal for the Prince Rupert Coal Co. and 200 cases of salt salmon put up at the Lagoon Bay saltery for the Japanese market.

The body of the Chinaman Lee Mee, who was killed from the explosion of a retort at Lagoon Bay cannery, was brought here by the steamer.

The vessel had a fine trip. She will leave on her new schedule Saturday night.

Rev. Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant presided.

Dr. Gandier, who is on a tour of Western Canada in his official capacity, arrived in the city on last night's train and sailed on the steamer Prince George for Vancouver.

future today looms up as potential as the country is great. Canada like other nations has felt the effects of the crisis through which the world has passed. The war disturbed everything. Currency and the whole machinery of exchange through which nations buy and sell broke down. Governments had greater requirements and the result was more inflation and more credit. The whole field of action was hampered and governments were compelled to put on all manner of restrictions. This interfered with business and industry and everything had to suffer. Canada as well as other nations suffered from these causes and a period of convalescence has been necessary.

Money and Men Needed

In the development of a country and its prosperity two great factors were necessary, continued Mr. Lapointe—money and men. Canada had given generously of both during the war. The national debt had increased five fold. Through its youth, vigor and productive capacity, however, Canada was already placed on a better basis than almost any other country in the world.

The speaker then went on to show how, despite difficulties, Canada had continued to develop financially and industrially. Before the war there were 35,000,000 acres in field crops in Canada. Now there were 60,000,000 acres. Last year the grain crop had been the largest in the history of Canada and this year it was even larger. Last year Canada had become the leading grain export country in the world and it would remain such. Live-stock production had increased 47 per cent since the war—a greater increase than in any other country in the world. The value of the fisheries last year had been $50,000,000 as compared with $32,000,000 before the war. This was another great factor in the industrial activity of the nation that was increasing every day.

Removal of Restrictions

"I sincerely hope that restrictions between United States and Canada in the fishing trade will soon be removed and that the people of both countries will soon see why there should be reciprocity in buying and selling." (Applause.)

The annual lumber production of Canada was placed at $100,000,000 and mineral production last year was valued at $181,000,000 including a gold production of $25,000,000 which made Canada the third largest gold producing nation in the world. Manufactures had extended tremendously.

In regard to foreign trade, Canada's exports had increased 25 per cent last year and there had been a total increase of 60 per cent since before the war. Last year the volume of Canada's exports had been the highest in the history of the country although value might have been higher in some previous years owing to higher prices prevailing. Canada's balance of trade had greatly increased until last year it had a balance of $142,810,791 in its favor. Today Canada was the fifth greatest export nation in the world being exceeded only by Great Britain, United States, France and Germany.

"That is not bad for a country of nine million people," reflected Mr. Lapointe.

Lowest National Debt

Though the national debt had been greatly increased during the war, Canada's was the smallest pro rata of all British countries, Mr. Lapointe stated. Canada's position was thus the best in that regard.

"Our dollar if not at par is near it on the money markets of the world and we are the only nation which entered the war at its beginning whose money is at par or nearly at par," declared Mr. Lapointe. "That shows that other countries have confidence in Canada. It means that the financial world knows that the nation's paper money has sufficient natural resources behind it to meet its obligations. If the rest of the world has faith in Canada then why should Canadians despair?"

The earnings of Canada's two great transportation systems had greatly increased since the first of the present year.

ways under the able leadership of Sir Henry Thornton have been making good since the first of the year. For the first seven months of the year net earnings have shown a surplus of $5,000,000 as against a deficit last year of $1,000,000.

"If the condition of the Canadian National Railways continues to improve our financial troubles will soon be over. We have had a large surplus of revenue of expenditure which has been eaten up by the deficits of the Canadian National Railways. Everybody is pleased with the work of Sir Henry Thornton as president of the Canadian National Railways and the change that has come into effect since he took over the management has been felt everywhere. He has enlisted the sympathy and co-operation of his staffs and they all love the general manager. Let me say also that he has been ably assisted by his board of directors on which a Prince Rupert man is not the least important representative."

Three Necessities

In concluding his address, Mr. Lapointe declared that there were three factors necessary if Canada was to succeed—freedom of its individual citizens, confidence and national unity. Governments should keep the field free for the activities of a country's citizens and should, as far as possible, leave the businessmen alone. Restrictions only hampered business and trade and the best remedy for existing conditions lay in the natural laws of supply and demand.

The minister expressed the view that too extreme views should not be held in regard to economic policies. No policy was as good or bad as its friends or enemies described it. The most useful citizen was the man who did not want to go too fast or too slow, too far or too near, and who was always willing to retrace his steps if such action seemed to be for the common good.

There should be confidence between classes and classes, men and men, occupations and occupations and employers and employees. The respective rights of each should be realized and observed.

The speaker gave his belief that the interest of no section of Canada was so remote from the other that they could not all get together and work in harmony. No section could prosper unless all worked in co-operation and harmony. Canada was a different country to govern because of its size and divisions geographically. It was inhabited with various nationalities and creeds and, in dealing with them, there must be moderation, charity and tolerance to all. When the man from Quebec felt at home in British Columbia and vice versa and such feelings prevailed throughout Canada the true spirit of Canadian patriotism would be developed.

The minister again expressed the great pleasure it had been for him to visit Prince Rupert and hoped that he would be able to come back again soon and often. He hoped to return next year.

Vote of Thanks

President Gibbons referred to the former visit of Mr. Lapointe to the city and the delegations that had been sent to Ottawa. The government had said that it was up to Sir Henry Thornton to carry out the old G.T.P. intentions with regard to Prince Rupert and that they would support any recommendation he might make. Sir Henry had definitely placed himself on record as favoring the establishment of a grain elevator here. He (Mr. Gibbons) believed that it was now up to the government to act in this matter and he felt sure that Mr. Lapointe would do everything in his power to assist.

W. E. Williams, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Lapointe, expressed the hope that the present government would nourish the tree of prosperity for Prince Rupert which it had planted. Though Prince Rupert had done all they could to cultivate the tree, it was not growing very well yet. All that it wanted now was a little government fertilizer in the form of a grain elevator. "We want you to co-operate with us in granting that elevator when Sir Henry Thornton asks for it and the grain commission recommends it," said Mr. Williams. "We need it soon and if we do not get it our tree will die."

Mayor Newton

Mayor Newton, in seconding the vote, reiterated what Mr. Williams had said. Prince Rupert had been waiting a long time and he felt that the time was now opportune when the minister might be asked to use his influence in bringing about a greater fulfillment of the hopes that had been expressed when he visited the city before the general election. The people who had come here and invested their all, he felt, were entitled to see some results from the great projects that had been planned.

"We do not feel that we have been getting the square deal that we might reasonably expect and we all plead that Prince Rupert may receive that hearty co-operation that will place it in the position that we should expect. Give us a grain elevator and that will be a good start."

DELKATLA BRIDGE
Editor Daily News.

"No Thoroughfare!" This should be the sign placed by the department of Public Works on the Delkatla Bridge. This bridge, for ten years the approved and accepted means of communication between Massett and Delkatla, is now closed to all but foot traffic and that is allowed at public's risk. Last Spring, the Minister of Public Works and the Minister of Lands, here to determine the needs of our Island Community, promised that this bridge be repaired immediately or a dyke would be started before end of the summer that would reclaim all of the Delkatla slough, approximating 1000 acres and provide a highway at very nearly the site of the present bridge. Now the bridge is closed so that not even a wheelbarrow can be taken across it, greatly inconveniencing residents of both Delkatla and Massett.

Townsite Promotion

This bridge was built by the late Conservative government at the importunities of C. M. Wilson, promoting a townsite at Delkatla, and now, with a considerable improvement done there and twenty-eight residents there, with those residents dependent on Massett for school facilities, for post-office, for wharf, for church, they are apparently to be left to ferry themselves across as best they may, a body of water varying from fifty yards wide and with several hundred feet of soft mud flats either side at low tide, to a width of fifteen hundred feet of water at high tides. It is impossible for teams to ford this slough at any stage of tide except by making a wide detour ranging from a mile and a half to two miles and it is impossible for teams to cross at high tide at all, all roads having been laid out with the idea that this bridge was to be a permanent feature.

Development on this end of Graham Island is going to be greatly handicapped unless this bridge or a satisfactory substitute is provided at once. The Glam cannery established at Tow Hill has already felt the effects of this handicap in delayed freights and the freighters worst of all in that they have to avoid high tides for travelling the beach between Tow Hill and Chown Point, a matter of ten miles where beach is virtually impassable at high tides on account of soft sands, and at Delkatla slough account impossibility of crossing it at other than low tide. The placer mine just across the slough has had to unload machinery and supplies on wharf, transfer them to raft, transport them to mine on raft and then drag them up the beach to mine simply because the long detour with heavy machinery on wagons was impossible.

Should be Maintained

The Delkatla end of the bridge is the terminal for three of our roads. These were built in the early boom days, and with exception of the North Beach road to Tow Hill and Rose Spit, are almost unused, but there is no question but what any possible development will take place along these roads when the tide of settlement again starts flooding. The bridge or its equivalent should either be maintained or the bona fide settlers should be recompensed for the reduced value of their properties and residences through inconvenience caused by its neglect and disuse.

REIGN OF BONZO THE BLONDE BEAST

Short but Happy Time Spent by Prince Rupert Resident as Commander of Esquimalt Naval Station

"Bonzo, the 'Blonde Beast,' has had a short but glorious reign. He has been commanding in chief of the naval station at Esquimalt but now is deposed. He has been figuratively hurled from his former high estate.

Bonzo, like all great people, has a weakness. He is apt to imitate other great people in sometimes straying away from home and getting lost and then returning in a condition which is objectionable to his fellows. Down at Esquimalt, Bonzo would lord it over everybody. Sometimes he would dispute the right of way with those who were going about their lawful callings and would listen to no argument. Might was right in his case and he enforced his decrees in a manner not to be questioned. He was sometimes playful, tickling the bare toes of the sailors when they were occupied on deck or busy ashore. At other times he tested the pant legs in a playful manner and with lordly indifference to the feelings of the boys. When life became monotonous he would disappear and come back in such condition that a bath was needed immediately he arrived.

For these sins Bonzo's subjects have deposed of him. He no longer reigns at Esquimalt. He no longer playfully eats the toes of the sailormen. He no longer goes wandering around the disreputable quarters of Victoria. He is once more attached to a bakeshop and restaurant. He is returned to the humble home of George Richmond of this city and has again resumed the humble name of "Richie," the best bulldog in town.

Bonzo arrived home yesterday aboard the mine sweeper Thierval in charge of Capt. Pressey after having wandered away at the time of the last visit of the Curlew to this port.

TELEPHONE SPECIALS

Shop by Phone to Save Time and Money.
Convinced that by telephone we can sell for less than otherwise, we have decided to put our theory into practice by means of "The Telephone Special."
The special prices quoted in this ad, apply only on orders phoned in, as we have proven beyond doubt that the overhead cost of selling which is the largest item in the expense column of the retail grocery business today is reduced by more than one-half when orders are taken on the phone as compared to those taken on the floor of the store. In other words our records for the past six months prove that the average clerk on the phone can accomplish more than three clerks of average ability in the store, consequently we feel that it is only fair that we pass this saving along to those who shop by telephone.
This method along the lines we have explained above, completely explodes many of the time worn and accepted trade principles of the past, and we venture to predict that just as modern inventions have supplanted the methods of olden days, effecting big reductions in cost of manufacture, so also will our policy of lower prices to those who shop by phone supplant the time-wasting method of personal shopping.
Every home should have a phone. No longer is the telephone considered a luxury. It is an absolute necessity, and no household can afford to not have a phone. Make the phone pay its way. It will save shoe leather, and possibly a big medical bill from exposure on a shopping trip when the weather is bad. It brings every merchant in this town right to your door, no matter how far away you live.

In the course of her duties in training men for the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, the destroyer, Patrician and the mine sweeper Thiepval arrived in port yesterday afternoon and will remain here for a few days, probably until Monday. She came north from Esquimalt by the outside passage, calling at several points enroute and was delayed considerably by bad weather.
The Patrician is commanded by Capt. Oland with Lieutenants Godfrey, Holms and Hart and Engineer Lieut. Com. Jefferson. In addition to the crew there were also aboard sub-Lieuts. Watt and Danis and Midshipman Vaughan all of the R.C.N.V.P. and some sixteen men in addition to the regular crew.
The Thiepval in charge of Lieut. Pressy, acting captain, and Lieut. Barnes, R.C.N.V.R. with about twenty men.
The volunteers are taking courses in seamanship, gunnery, torpedo, stokehold and engine-room work and cooking, all of which have to be learned by those entering the navy.
Included in the ship's company was Colonel Drum, C.A.M.C. the ship doctor, and Capt. MacIntosh, intelligence officer.
The two vessels, together with the mine sweeper Armentier which is at Esquimalt, constitute the Canadian navy on this coast.
The officers of the vessel are hoping to get in a few days hunting while here and a number of them will attend the Saturday night smoker at the headquarters of the First B.C. Regiment, Second Ave.

BANQUET GIVEN MANSON DOYLE

Young People of Sunday School Entertain Visiting Specialist and Heard Address
One hundred and thirty-five teenage boys and girls from the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist Sunday Schools enjoyed a splendid banquet in the Methodist church last night. The banquet was given in honor of Rev. Manson Doyle of Toronto, a specialist in boys' and girls' work. He held the attention of all for an hour in an address on "The Clean Trail." The keen interest taken by the girls and boys was a cause of much favorable comment.
Mr. Doyle said "he had never had a more sympathetic hearing nor had he ever seen a finer group of boys and girls. Great credit was due to the leaders of the Sunday schools in the city."
Speaking privately Mr. Doyle said he had heard so much of Rupert's ambitions lately that he had never visited a city for the first time where he was so much interested in seeing the city from a commercial standpoint. He was agreeably surprised in what he saw.

Agencies Report That no Difficulty is Being Experienced in Handling Cargoes
Local shipping agencies report that no difficulty is being experienced loading and unloading vessels at this port in spite of the fact that the union longshoremen are still not working.

The steamer Prince John brought a heavy cargo of coal yesterday and Indians were employed in unloading it.
F. W. Reisch, secretary of the I. L. A., reported this afternoon that there was no change in the situation. A report that the union longshoremen were about to return to work was incorrect, he stated.
