LABORITES AND SOCIALISTS ARE ATTEMPTING TO RETRIEVE REVERSALS

Municipal Elections in England and Wales are Being Held Today

LONDON, Nov. 1.—More than three hundred municipalities in England and Wales today elect councillors to replace one third of the total number of representatives who retire annually. A feature of the present contest is the strenuous effort being made by Laborites and Socialists to retrieve the reversals suffered by them during the past two years. The main issues on which they have campaigned are unemployment and the housing shortage but, as their policies on these entail considerable public expense, they are meeting with strong opposition.

Zarelli of selling beer through his servant. Evidence was given by Constables Stewart and Huggard of the provincial dry squad, to whom the beer was alleged to have been sold, and E. S. Presented to Him

As a send-off to R. C. Chappell, one of the most active workers for the order in the city, who is leaving tonight for the south where he will remain, the local Moose Lodge held a smoker last night in the Metropole Hall. There was a program of music and speeches and the evening was most enjoyably spent although, of course, there was a tinge of regret to the proceeding. Fred Scadden, dictator, in a fitting speech, tendered to Mr. Chappell a gold Moose ring as a token of the lodge's esteem. B. M. Simpson, past dictator, also spoke and Mr. Chappell replied.

Gustavson, who disappeared last Wednesday evening, was found on Monday afternoon by Constable Beaven of Ocean Falls stowed away in the bilge of the C.G.M.M. steamer, Canadian Observer, which was about to sail for California. He was immediately re-arrested and the officers in charge took no chances on losing him again.

It is hoped that a $2,000,000 fund will eventually be established. The scope of the Foundation will be international and it already has the backing of prominent men in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Macnamara Urges Remedy
For Curse of Enforced Idleness

In a letter to the London Times Dr. Macnamara urges the distribution of young unemployed men among the nations of the Empire that are in course of development. He says:

"There are at the present time about three hundred thousand young fellows in the ranks of the unemployed under 30 years of age or in the early thirties. It was to give these men the chance that so many of them so richly deserve that parliament in May of last year passed the Empire Settlement Act, after, of course, the discussions on the matter at the Imperial Conference of 1921."

CARL GUSTAVSON IS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL FOR ESCAPE

This afternoon Carl Gustavson, charged with escaping lawful custody at Ocean Falls, admitted trying to get away and said he wanted to see his brother at Portland, Ore. He, however, refused to sign a statement to that effect. He was committed for trial and this afternoon will come before Judge Young. Evidence was given by Constable Crate and Inspector Parsons.

WALES TEAM WINS

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The Wales rugby team defeated the Ireland-Scotland team today in an international game by 24 to 16.

EMPLOYERS OF LONGSHOREMEN Declare for Open Shop and Negotiations are off at Present

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1.—The strike of longshoremen, which has been in effect in British Columbia ports since October 9, settled down today to a contest of endurance between the strikers and their employers. The matter is at a deadlock with the shipping and stevedoring companies refusing to negotiate with any official of the international longshoremen's union and the strikers refusing to concede more than that their representatives in any negotiations shall represent the workers and not nominally represent the union.

The strike is primarily one to enforce the men's demands for five cents an hour for loading lumber, any other demands for increase in wage base and change in certain working conditions to be subject to subsequent arbitration.

The ordinary business of the port is continuing with the employment of non-union strike-breakers, but the loading of lumber is practically at a standstill. The employers have declared for open shop along the waterfront. The strikers claim that inexperienced labor will cost the employers so much that they will eventually be compelled to meet the terms of the strikers.

POOLEY MAKES A VICIOUS ATTACK

Holds Prince Rupert and Northern B.C. up to Public
Scorn

VICTORIA, Nov. 1.—R. H. Pooley, member for Esquimalt, attacked Hon. A. M. Manson in the legislature yesterday over the administration of the Liquor Act. He said the conditions in Northern British Columbia were shameful, especially in Prince Rupert, and Mr. Manson was to blame.

OTHER BESNER SEEN THIS MORNING

Other Besner seen this morning in connection with the charge of H. R. Pooley that he had skipped out to New Brunswick, stated that he had not gone to that province and had no intention of leaving town just now. He was rather amused at Mr. Pooley's efforts to make political capital at his expense.

Attack Made On

Mon. A. M. Manson.
Hon. A. M. Manson does not need the Daily News to defend him against attacks from R. H. Pooley or any other member of the Legislature. He is always ready to hold up his own end and will doubtless do so in connection with the charges, a report of which is published today. What we do object to is the constant effort to pillory Prince Rupert just because by doing so opposition members hope to gain political advantage. It might be well for some of us to make a trip to Victoria, Esquimalt and Vancouver and come back and make charges about the conditions to be found in some of the localities there. Conditions here are not as they might be. No one can deny that. The local police commissioners are said to be Conservatives yet no one is charging that the Conservative party is rotten because the law is broken here in regard to the liquor business. If Prince Rupert is not what she ought to be, then it is the fault of members of the Conservative party rather than of Liberals. However, we are not blaming them. We object to this method of conducting the business of the country by trying to make political capital of everything. Local conditions in connection with the liquor traffic have much more to do with civic than provincial politics, yet no one is getting up and making wild charges against Mayor Newton in connection with it. It is only under the protection of the privilege of a member of the Legislature that such things are being done and that with little regard to the truth.

Britain Anxious

To Co-operate.
Great Britain is anxious to co-operate with the United States. She goes out of her way to injure her own business in order to help the republic enforce a difficult law. She has come to an agreement in regard to the search of British ships beyond the three mile limit, even though it was this right of search in 1812 that influenced the United States to declare war against Britain.

Since Great Britain is anxious to be a good neighbor and since Canada has at all times shown herself willing to co-operate with the United States, and since a large part of the population of Canada came from the States and many of the residents are still citizens of the States, it is difficult to understand the attitude of Alaska in constantly trying to injure the legitimate business of this port, a business which is of great advantage to that territory as well as to Canada.

Coast Range Steel

Is Live Question.
The Coast Range Steel Company is asking the provincial government to back their bonds to the extent of four million dollars. In other words they ask for four million from the province with the possible prospect of the money being returned with interest at some distant date. The company says it expects the Imperial government to grant four millions to be expended in machinery and material purchased in Britain, that company to take a first mortgage on all the assets of the company. If the Dominion aids the project of four millions it will take a second mortgage on the company and then the province will be left with the remnant as its security. As shareholders in the affairs of the province of British Columbia we object to our money being used in that way under those conditions. Many would like to go into business if the governments would provide all the capital and ask no security except the assets which they provide. Take out the cost of promoting the company, which it is evident must be heavy, and there then remain insufficient assets to cover the four millions which it is suggested shall be advanced.

MARRIED TWO IN NINE DAYS

Former Employe on Grand Trunk Coast Steamers Deported to Canada

LADY HYPNOTIZED HIM
Returned Soldier Falls Under Spell of Woman With Eight Children

SEATTLE, Nov. 1.—William H. Britten, aged 38, self-styled hypnotized bridegroom, and self-confessed bigamist, whose case was taken under advisement last Monday in Federal Court here, was ordered deported to Canada today by Federal Judge J. Neterer. After hearing the decision Britten's attorney announced he would consult his client tomorrow to determine whether he wishes to carry his fight to remain in the United States to the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

Britten was arrested in California after his second marriage, brought back here by order of his second wife, Mrs. Daisy Meacock, of Seattle, mother of eight children, and tried on a charge of bigamy. The jury acquitted him on a technicality, and he was then detained by the Immigration Commissioner as an undesirable alien because it was alleged he entered this country in 1919 without inspection and without paying a head tax.

Married in Victoria

During the recent trial here Britten testified that he had married Miss Elizabeth Walsh, a Spokane school teacher, in Seattle on June 6, 1922, and that ten days later, "under the hypnotic influence of another woman," he married Mrs. Meacock in Victoria on June 15, 1922.

Judge Neterer in his decision declared that he "had found nothing to sustain the plea that Mrs. Meacock had thrown about Britten a hypnotic spell." Judge Neterer made the following interesting findings in disposing of the case: Britten was born in Ireland, became a citizen of Canada, and is 38 years of age. He deserted the British navy in 1911, and went to work for a steamship company on vessels plying between Victoria and Prince Rupert. While on one of these ships he became enamored of Mrs. Meacock, and she infatuated with him.

What appears in the record as a "love affair" ensued, and in January, 1917, when he enlisted in the Canadian army, Mrs. Meacock, known as his wife, was allotted half his soldier's pay of $15 a month, and an additional $15 monthly paid by the Canadian government.

Saw Service

The so-called "husband" served two years in the army, went overseas, was wounded in the leg, right arm and hand, invalidated out of the service, and about March 20, 1919, came to the United States to stay. On June 6, 1922, Britten married Elizabeth Walsh in Seattle. On June 15, nine days later, he went with Mrs. Meacock to Victoria and wed her in a church there the following day.

SUNNYSIDE MAN WEDS PORT SIMPSON GIRL

Harold D. Marshall and Miss Dorothy K. Reid Married on Tuesday by Rev. G. G. Hacker

Harold D. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall, Vancouver, and Miss Dorothy K. Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Reid, Port Simpson, were married by Rev. G. G. Hacker in the parsonage at 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. The witnesses were W. A. Pilford of Prince Rupert and Miss Jennie E. Dennis of Port Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall are taking up their residence in the city and expect to spend the winter here. The groom has been engaged during the summer on the Sunnyside Cannery staff. Both he and the bride are well known in the district and will receive the hearty congratulations of many friends.

Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant is leaving tomorrow night for Prince George where he will preach in Knox Church on Sunday, the occasion being the first anniversary of the opening of that church. He will also give a public address on Monday evening.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

AWAY back in 1912 United States declared war against Britain for searching her ships for deserters. Now U.S. would search British ships for bootleggers.

AGGIE McPhail the member of parliament does not like the Senate. It was suggested that she might go there herself, but not so. She sees nothing but sour grapes so she quietly remarks: "I would certainly hate to see a good woman wasted there. It is a useless institution and appointment to it would be like being placed on the shelf prior to burial." They always place ladies on a shelf prior to burial, I suppose.

HOSPITAL BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Arrangements were Excellent and Everyone Had a Splendid Time on Hallow E'en

While the attendance at the annual hospital ball was not this year what it used to be when nearly the whole city turned out to the big event of the season, the dance last night lost nothing by comparison with other years in the enjoyment those attending got from it. Nearly two hundred were present and from the first waltz until the national anthem was played the affair was a success. The general arrangements for the comfort of the guests were excellent, the decorations excited a great deal of favorable remark and the music was well above the average, the latest dance tunes being played and plenty of them. Mrs. Parsons, president of the ladies auxiliary, and the members and workers are to be congratulated on the result.

There were two sittings for supper in the balcony. The refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. D. A. Candow, convener, Mrs. M. M. Stephens and Mrs. Morrissey assisted by a number of others provided an excellent supper. The tables were decorated with fresh cut flowers and the ladies of the auxiliary provided the cakes while the service was excellent.

The committee in charge of the ball, music and decorations was headed by Mrs. Jarvis McLeod with a number of ladies assisting. The effects were charming.

MYSTERY OF A MAGIC CLOAK

Police Discovered How Valuable Lingerie Disappeared from Winnipeg Store

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—This is a modern fairy tale about a magic cloak. It belonged to Margaret Wade, recently of San Francisco. Margaret arrived in Winnipeg with the magic cloak and started out right away to see whether it had lost any of its mystic qualities on the trip from the coast. To this end, she went into a large palace on Portage Avenue, full of beautiful clothing and jewelry and lawn-mowers and all the other things you will find in department stores, which was what the palace really was.

And, sure enough, the magic cloak was working. As Margaret walked down the aisle of the ladies' wear department, an astounding attack of the palace noticed that silk lingerie and things were disappearing from their counters with incredible rapidity. Thereupon, the attaché hastened to the chief of the palace guard, which is to say, the store detective.

An Enchantress "Surely," declared the attaché. "There is an enchantress in our midst, with a magic cloak, for when she walked down Aisle F, everything disappeared. If she goes wandering around the palace very long I'm afraid there won't be anything left."

Whereon the chief of the palace guard summoned a couple of janissaries, and went forth to investigate. What he saw convinced him that the attaché had not underestimated the danger, and he accordingly performed the function of his office.

When Margaret was searched at police headquarters a half hour later, the mystery of the magic cloak was revealed. It contained ten pockets, each of them about a foot deep, and disposed very cutely in out of the way places. In one of the pockets was the lingerie which had disappeared from the counters; Margaret hadn't had time to fill the others. Margaret and her magic cloak were both in police court. She pleaded guilty, and Magistrate Sir Hugh John McDonald sent her to a dungeon for three months. The magic cloak was confiscated, to be kept among the archives of the court.

NORWAY SUFFERS FROM EMIGRATION

Means Being Sought to Stop People Leaving That Country For America

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 1.—A series of conferences of a semi-official nature are shortly to take place under the aegis of the Norwegian Home Office to consider the best means of stopping the constant exodus to Norwegian subjects to America.

During the last twelve months the number of emigrants from the country has reached an alarming figure, so much so that the military authorities in some districts cannot obtain the necessary quotas of men for the yearly conscriptive training.

One suggestion being put forward is that the sparsely populated northern provinces of Norway should be colonized, the colonists to be encouraged by state aid to cultivate the land, form communities and otherwise utilize the vast areas that are as yet entirely wild.

CANADIAN NATIONAL DOCKS AT VICTORIA LEASED OTHER FIRMS

Railway Company Will Confine Operations to Big Ocean Docks and Give up Inner Harbor

VICTORIA, Nov. 1. — Thriving business along the waterfront has led to the acquisition of new and more commodious wharfage facilities by several companies.

With the Puget Sound Navigation Company resuming control of their pier with plans to rebuild it and equip it with a ferry slip for the handling of automobiles, the Pacific Salvage Company has found new quarters at Pier A of the Grand Trunk docks.

At Ogden Point

Grand Trunk and C.G.M.M., at Victoria, will be concentrated henceforth at the Government docks at Ogden Point. The California ships of the C.G.M.M., which have been berthing in the inner harbor in the past, will load and discharge in future at Ogden Point, as will all other craft consigned to the C.G.M.M. here.

The Puget Sound Navigation Company is expected to finish the work on their dock during the winter and to have it in shape for the opening of spring traffic when the steamer Sioux is to be added to the Port Angeles-Victoria service.

ADDRESSES AT FISH BANQUET

T. M. Johnson, Fred Stork, M.P., and John Dybhavn Speakers Yesterday Afternoon

The idea of National Fish Day was conceived by J. A. Paulhus, proprietor of D. Halton & Co., Montreal fish concern, and president of the Canadian Fisheries Association, T. M. Johnson, president of the local Fisheries Association, stated yesterday afternoon in the course of his remarks as chairman of the banquet held in the St. Regis Cafe to celebrate the day.

It is fit and proper that Canada should have a National Fish Day since the fisheries form such an important part of its industry," said Mr. Johnson. Continuing Mr. Johnson stated that $35,000,000 was invested in the fisheries of Canada and 75,000 men found employment in the industry.

Great Britain which was supposed to be the greatest fishing country in the world produced 66 pounds of fish per capita, while Canada produced 190 pounds per capita, Mr. Johnson declared. Great Britain consumed 50 pounds of fish per capita and Canada 30 pounds. Therefore, Great Britain had 16 pounds per capita to export while Canada had 70 pounds. Most of the fish produced in Canada therefore must be exported for it was unreasonable to expect the country could consume it all.

Continuing, Mr. Johnson stated that British Columbia was the greatest fish producing province in Canada. Last year the value of the fisheries in British Columbia had been $19,000,000, an increase of $5,000,000 over the year preceding. Nova Scotia came second on the list with a value of $10,000,000.

Halibut came fourth on the list of fish production values in Canada. In 1913 Prince Rupert produced practically no halibut while 53,000,000 pounds was produced on the Pacific Coast. Last year 25,000,000 pounds of halibut was handled through the port of Prince Rupert out of a total of 45,000,000 pounds produced on the Pacific Coast.

The increase in Prince Rupert's halibut business had not been a matter of chance. The people here had provided the best advantages for the quick handling of the commodity. The railway company had provided facilities at great expense and had instituted a daily service. The provincial government had provided a dock. Customs officers were courteous and were doing all in their power to aid the industry.

"This is an age of service," concluded Mr. Johnson, "and if we continue to give good service, those engaged in the fishing business of Prince Rupert will continue to prosper in spite of opposition."

Fred Stork, M.P., the speaker of the day, felt that there was no place in Canada where it was more fitting to celebrate National Fish Day than in Prince Rupert, the premier fish marketing port on the Pacific Coast.

Referring to the recent visit of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of marine and fisheries, Mr. Stork said that the minister was an able, energetic and intelligent man and much good for the port of Prince Rupert might be expected to accrue from his visit. The fish business was of paramount importance to Prince Rupert and the North Coast and the officials at Ottawa were doing their best to assist its development in every way.

John Dybhavn, president of the Biological Board of Canada and the appointment to it of John Dybhavn of this city. He predicted that headquarters would be established at Prince Rupert before long. The activities of the biological board in the study of fish and conditions of production and marketing would be of great value to the trade.

The Court of Last Appeal

YOU are the judge and the jury. Your verdict is final. There can be no appeal—for this is the High Court of Public Opinion

The wares of the world must appear before you—the product of every factory—the merchandise of every store. Those things that fail to measure up to your requirements are quickly condemned to oblivion

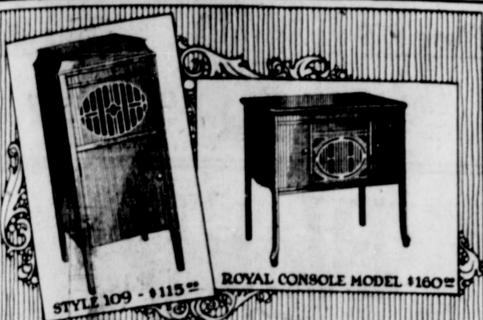

The manufacturer who advertises deliberately places his merchandise on trial. He openly courts your critical inspection. He invites comparison. He directs your attention to his goods and then forces those goods to stand on their own merits.

If he were not sure of his wares he would not dare to advertise. For advertising would put him to a test he could not meet, and thus hasten the end of his business career. It would be business suicide.

You can depend on the man who advertises. He knows his product is good.

That's one reason why it pays to read the advertisements you find in this paper. It is through advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to introduce and to keep before you.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

November 1, 1913

A proposition has been placed before one of the largest companies operating in Canada to look into the question of running a canal from Tl-eil River on Graham Island to the waters of Massett Inlet. The distance is less than 16 miles through an open country where dredges could be operated without danger of encountering rock.

Over forty couples were in attendance at the Halloween dance held last night by the Daughters of the Empire in St. Andrew's Hall. Excellent music was furnished by the Westholme Orchestra.

Replying to an editorial in the Daily News, Ald. Bullock-Webster denies the imputation that he is not in favor of bringing industries to the city. He says, however, that in granting waterfront privileges prompt erection and operation of plants proposed should be stipulated.

Under the supervision of Rev. G. G. Hacker and Miss Haddock, deaconess, some 60 girls and boys of the Methodist Church celebrated Halloween last night in a lively but well conducted manner. The proceedings started off with a street parade of the business section and the gay seasonal costuming attracted much attention. Later there was a party in the gymnasium where Halloween stunts were enjoyed followed by the serving of refreshments.

LABOR BANKS ARE POPULAR

Unions Enter Capitalistic Calling in Extensive Way in United States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—(By Canadian Press).—U.S. labor Unions are going into the business of banking in an extensive way. Until the recent report of the American Federation of Labor's executive council on the subject of labor banks it was not generally realized that labor had gone into banking as heavily as it has.

The movement is undoubtedly viewed with some apprehension by the forces of capital. The labor leaders deny there is any special motive in their entry into banking except that it is sound policy and in accordance with economic business principles. This, however, does not tell the whole story, in the opinion of those who have given close attention to the subject. They take the view that labor has entered on a movement intended to make it to a large extent financially independent. Labor leaders feel that if they are in control of their own banking it will be possible for labor, when there are strikes and other labor troubles, to make its fight much more successfully.

Grown in Five Years

Labor union banks have grown up in the United States in the last five years. The first one was opened in Washington by the International Association of Machinists. Then the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers opened a co-operative national bank at Cleveland. This institution was a marked success and as a result the other railroad brotherhoods have gone extensively into the banking business. Other large labor organizations have done likewise, largely because of the fact the railroad brotherhoods proved they could conduct banks successfully. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of New York City, the New York State Federation of Labor and the International Ladies' Garment Workers have opened banks in New York City. The Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers has opened a co-operative national bank in St. Louis. The Central Trade Unions of Philadelphia have opened a bank there. The Alabama State Federation of Labor controls the Federated Bank and Trust Company of Birmingham and there are several other banks in the southwest and west controlled by labor unions. It is maintained that the banks of the labor unions as a rule are

INVESTIGATES POLICE WORK NEW YORK AND LIQUOR ENFORCEMENT

No Prosecutor Required in United States Commercial Centre; Judge Asks Questions

Walter E. Staneland, police commissioner of Victoria and at one time owner of a paint business in this city has returned to his home town after an official visit to New York.

Mr. Staneland, according to Victoria papers, investigated the operation of liquor laws from the standpoint of police administration in all the provinces of Canada as far east as Quebec. He refused to reveal the results of his investigations, explaining that it would be better not to say anything until they had been discussed by police heads. He said he had suggested a conference of municipalities as all municipalities are concerned in the enforcement of the Liquor Act, and there were some changes which would help to clean up the situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Staneland went to New York as the guests of Commissioner Enright, who is in charge of the police administration of New York City.

Sat on Bench

In his investigation of the lower courts and police criminal work in New York, Mr. Staneland was the guest of the bench, and sat with Judge Schmidt while the prisoners were tried and sentenced. Mr. Staneland had questions put to various prisoners as they came up, in his quest for information on criminal records. He went through the Tombs, the great city prison of New York. In winter the number of prisoners there runs about 1,400, and about 500 during the rest of the year. His examination of the records of these prisoners revealed that nine out of every ten brought in by the police on criminal charges are under thirty years of age. Lack of parental control is given as the cause of their downfall.

Speedy Work

"In the court there the work is speedy and direct," Mr. Staneland said. "The police officer lays the information against the prisoner, and the judge does all the work of questioning, so that he finds out exactly what he wants to know without any waste of time, and the formality of a prosecutor."

MAKING SILKS FROM PULPWOOD

Branch of Industry to be Established in Canada to Utilize Cellulose

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—A branch of the Canadian pulp industry that is expected to loom up as of considerable importance in the future, is the manufacture of artificial silk. The announcement of Messrs. Courtaulds, Ltd., the British manufacturers of artificial silk, that they intend to establish a plant near Quebec, first served to focus interest upon this industry, and the possibilities for its successful operation in Canada.

Canada imports a considerable amount of artificial silk, yarns and thread, and goods manufactured from artificial silk. For the fiscal year ended March 31, last, Canada's imports of artificial silk, yarns and thread, totalled nearly 1,000,000 pounds, having a value of $2,248,997. In the previous year the imports had amounted to 570,000 pounds, having a value of $1,347,871. The largest amount of the imports came from the United Kingdom in 1923, and from that country we imported artificial silk, yarn and thread to the amount of 170,030 pounds, having a value of $1,159,837. We also imported smaller quantities from the United States, from Belgium, from France, from Netherlands, from Switzerland, and from some other countries.

Tariff on Artificial Silk

Recognition of the importance of our imports of artificial silk has come in the tariff rulings from Ottawa, and one of Mr. Fielding's budgets provided that the general tariff on artificial silk yarns produced from a form of cellulose should be 15 per cent and the British preferential tariff 10 per cent. On fabrics made of artificial silk the duty would vary from 30 per cent and 17½ per cent to 37½ per cent and 30 per cent.

The important raw material from which artificial silk is made is cellulose, which exists in this country in the form of wood pulp. At the present time it is known that large quantities of Canadian wood pulp are being sent to France and Italy for the manufacture of artificial silk there, and it is to be expected that with preferential tariff between Canada and many other countries that artificial silk industries established here would not only supply the home market but would build up an important export trade.
