TORONTO, Dec. 17: (Canadian Press)—The Toronto Mail and Empire publishes a dispatch from Ottawa today stating that disclosures of manipulations in the administration of direct relief, principally so far as disclosed in the province of Quebec, have resulted in the Auditor-General of Canada instituting a nation-wide probe. Report on British Columbia is not yet available but it is understood that widespread improvements in the administration of relief in that province have been demanded.

OTTAWA, Dec. 17: (Canadian Press)—In view of irregularities which have been discovered in connection with the administration of relief in some of the provinces, the Department of the Auditor General is "increasing its activities," an announcement made here today said. At present audits are being made of unemployed relief expenditures in British Columbia and Quebec.

It is explained that both federal and provincial authorities are aware that irregularities have occurred and the purpose of the present effort is to see that the regulations are more rigidly interpreted and enforced in the future.

APPEAL FOR CHILDREN

Tot Written to Salvation Army Santa Claus in Hope of Getting Remembered

There are a good many families in the city where Santa Claus will not come to the children unless it be through the Salvation Army. One little tot has already written a note to Santa Claus in care of the Army in which he says:

"I am a little boy five and a-half years old. I would like for Christmas a mouth organ, and some building blocks.
"Please thanking, I am

Possibly some person in the city would like to play Santa Claus to this little chap. The parcel could be sent through the Salvation Army.

Captain Steele is busy investigating the conditions where it is proposed to send parcels or hampers. Applications for hampers should be made at once. Following are receipts since yesterday:

BODY GOES TO WATERS

Burial at Sea For Capt. Walter Wanderwell, Victim of Shooting in Back

LONG BEACH, Cal., Dec. 17:—Capt. Walter Wanderwell, noted wartime spy and soldier of fortune, made his last of many voyages to sea when his yacht, Calma manned by his crew of young men and women, with whom he had planned to make a cruise to the South Seas, took his remains to the stormy waters of the Pacific Ocean where burial was made at sea. Wanderwell's widow and two children were also on the yacht.

Wanderwell was shot in the back while seated in the saloon of the yacht on Monday night of last week. William James (Curly) Guy, handsome young Welshman, with whom Wanderwell had quarrelled, is charged with the murder.

In addition to Guy, two companions, who swore his alibi to the effect that he had been with them at Glendale at the time of the killing, are also being held in the County jail here. Guy has been arraigned following the issuance of a complaint charging him with the murder. The accused endeavored by habeas corpus proceedings to secure his liberty.

McLennan, who becomes second vice-president.

The full slate of new officers for 1933 is as follows:

Honorary President, Rt. Hon. Richard B. Bennett K.C.
Honorary Vice-President, Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie.

Three Men Are Injured, One Seriously, in Clash of Workless and Police

John Andrews Sustained Fractured Skull During Demonstration in Front of City Hall—Police Inspector Tuley Knocked Down and Kicked

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17: (Canadian Press)—Three men were injured, one seriously, and seven were arrested yesterday in a clash between Communist-led unemployed and the police. John Andrews sustained a fractured skull; James Lawrence, severe cuts on the head, and Police Inspector C. F. Tuley, bruises. Tuley was hit with a plank, knocked down and kicked.

A demonstration in front of the City Hall was broken up within twenty minutes.

Six of the arrested appeared in police court today and were remanded until December 22 with bail of $1,000 each.

MANY MEN IN MARCH

Courteous Reception Given Unemployed by Mayor—Ex-service Men Numerous

Between three and four hundred men participated in the demonstration which was staged by local unemployed yesterday afternoon, it is stated by officials of the National Unemployed Workers' Association, Canadian Labor Defence League and Canadian Workers' Ex-Service Men's League under the aegis of which organizations the demonstration was arranged.

The main object of the demonstration was to protest against the proposed cut in relief allowances, and against the continued imprisonment of men who, it is claimed, were incarcerated on account of their activities on behalf of the unemployed.

The spokesmen of the paraders were courteously received at the City Hall by Mayor C. H. Orme. A letter was presented to the mayor outlining the demands of the paraders. His Worship gave assurance that the communication would be forwarded to the proper authorities. As far as the present council was concerned, it would not cut relief any lower.

The procession then moved on to the Court House and left a similar letter for Government Agent Norman A. Watt, who is at present out of town. The letter was received by Acting Government A. J. Lancaster.

The committee of the unemployed in charge of the parade expressed appreciation to the police who held up traffic at street intersections in order to permit the parade to pass.

Ex-service men who took part in the parade are stated to have represented Sweden, Finland, Poland, Russia (Imperial), Serbia, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Britain, United States, France (Foreign Legion) and, of course, Canada.

Jack Dunn had charge of the parade.

A large number of banners prepared for use in the parade were seized.

COMMISSIONER APPOINTED

The provincial government has appointed Charles E. Tisdall commissioner for the district municipality of North Vancouver to take charge of its affairs, supplanting the regularly elected civic officials. It is the first appointment under the new regulation calling for an appointment of a commissioner in the case of a default in bond payments by the municipality. Others will likely follow.

Mr. Tisdall is a businessman and a politician and should be able to manage the affairs of the municipality effectively. It was hoped that the appointment would be of a non-political character but that was hardly to be expected. On the whole North Vancouver should have little cause to complain.

RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

It is satisfactory news that comes from Ottawa today that the auditor general of Canada is about to institute inquiries into the administration of relief. There has been and is a good deal of doubt in the public mind as to whether the best possible results have been obtained from the money voted for this purpose. It is to be hoped that the probe will be thorough and settle once and for all the question of alleged irregularities in British Columbia as well as Quebec. If there is anything wrong, the people want to know it and, if everything is correct and in order, everyone will be glad to hear the good news.

MORE CONGRATULATIONS

More congratulations are coming to the English aviator, Amy Johnson, who has arrived in France from her flight to Capetown and back. The adventure was a marvellous one for a woman.

Many people hope that Mrs. Mollison, who still uses her maiden name in connection with flying, will stop these thrilling adventures. It would be a sad end to so brilliant a career should she meet with a fatal accident.

A strange friendship has sprung up between "Minnie Mouser" and "Benny Rodent," both shown in the most affectionate pose, when they met on the floor of the kitchen of Charley Johnson, an unemployed engineer of New York. Nightly, rat and cat get together for mutual warmth on Mr. Johnson's floor.

Strong Fascistic State Works For Benefit of Ten Million of Employees, Regulating and Aiding

(By Victor Basso-Bert—Article 6)

The ten millions of employees, representing the entire mass of labor forming the base of the corporative state, enter into freely and form their unions. The law regulates their official status but does not interfere in any way. The only interference is the intervention of the minister of corporations to try to arbitrate or otherwise try to reconcile the parties before any labor dispute is brought to the court.

The Fascist revolution rescued Italy when she was in a state of chaos, brought about by lack of energy on the part of the liberal government of the time. The theory of "laissez-faire," with the agnostic policy of non-interference with the free play of all interests, had brought the nation to the verge of collapse.

Fascism is the strong state, the popular state, above all parties and independent of all interests. Under it the government governs. When the interests of thousands of citizens are involved, Fascism considers it the duty of the state to look into and eventually repress all abuses.

In 1926, when speculation in the Italian stock exchanges was rife, the minister of national economy issued an order that, before any financial operation took place, a cash deposit of 25% of the amount of the transaction was compulsory. That order is now permanent. In every stock exchange there is a commissioner seeing that the law in that respect is enforced.

Law on Consortiums

The law regulating the consortiums makes it obligatory to pool the interests of any industry. Three-fifths of the votes are sufficient to legislate against the other two-fifths in regulating prices, collective purchase of materials and other matters. The minister of national economy has the right to appoint a commissioner to sit on the administration board of any large industry but without a vote.

The Fascist state has rearranged all the finances of the nation. It has snatched from the banks the privilege of issuing currency, limiting it to the Bank of Italy. It has established the Mobile Credit to finance industry; the Agrarian Credit, the Naval Credit, the Credit for Public Utilities, the Public Works Credit and the Bank for Italian Enterprises in foreign lands. All these institutions are semi-state, the bonds being guaranteed by the government.

Wildcatting finances are outlawed by very stringent legislation. The freedom to exploit and squander the domestic savings of the citizens by the rapacious few is done away with.

The state has established the wonderful organization of the After Work for the education of the working classes, night schools, sports, excursions, art activities, culture, professional perfection, hygiene, etc. The membership in 1931 was 1,197,459.

Maternity and Infancy

An outstanding institution of modern Italy is the National Institute for assistance of maternity and infancy. A few figures will give an idea of the magnitude of its work. Between 1926 and 1931 it assisted 857,110 mothers. In the same period assistance was given to 2,775,996 children in hospitals, maternity houses, etc. Besides medical and hospital assistance, mothers are paid $15 cash as part of the social benefits coming out of the 7½% collected on all wages paid in the country to the Institute of Social National Insurance.

The state has established the Balilla organization open to all the youth of the country between the ages of 8 and 14. The object is education along similar lines to that of the Boy Scouts in this country. During last summer 312,000 youths of the poorer classes were entertained from six to eight weeks in the great permanent camps in the mountains or at the sea shore for the benefit of their health. The youngsters are selected by the health officer from among those who need it most.

Production and distribution are aided through the National Institute for export of all perishable goods such as fruits and vegetables, involving an annual business of $250,000,000. It takes care of transportation and preservation. Great cold storages have been built for the purpose at Verona and Bologna where eight carloads at a time can be brought to zero temperature in a very short time. Goods coming from the extreme south are reconditioned and reported on or turned Uncle Wilbert Robinson will return to baseball. The former manager of the Brooklyn Robins and one of the grand old men of the game will manage the Atlanta minor league club next season. Wilbert Robinson has been in professional baseball for more than half a century and in all those years he did not have the chance to rise to the same heights that John McGraw and Connie Mack attained. He did not have the same kind of teams that McGraw and Mack were blessed with.

Ruling that the possibility of a panic should have been foreseen, a Montreal judge awarded Francois St. Laurent of that city $579 for injuries received when a baseball crowd was thrown into a panic during an exciting moment in a game last summer. Defendants were the Montreal Exhibition Company, Limited. St. Laurent alleged that he was caught in the rush for exits when the crowd was thrown into a panic after several rows of seats had fallen, while the company, in defence, averred that St. Laurent had suffered no real injuries, but that the plaintiff had lost his head and rushed to the bottom of the amphitheatre when he imagined that the stands were "caving." Pointing out that the seats in the park were not fixed and that the company should have foreseen just such an eventuality as that which occurred, the judge allowed the action, though reducing the claim from $3,000 to $579.

Contest For American Crown

Issue is Tied in Three Hoop Leagues as First Half Time-Table is Brought to Close

Senior League—Grotto, 27; Kaiens, 21.
Ladies' League—Comets, 12; Cardinals, 10.
Intermediate League—Merchants, 22; Warriors, 21.
Junior League—Meteors, 10; Boy Scouts, 9.

Last night's basketball was very interesting and enthusiastic, the results of the games making it necessary for a play-off in three of the leagues for first half honors. In the Senior League game, the Grotto defeated the Kaiens 27-21 to go into a tie with Canadian National Recreation Association. The Grotto played hard and Ratchford's deadly shots avoided all interference of Kaiens. The Kaiens tried too many long shots and, when they tried to work the ball in, were stopped by the heavy checking Grotto guards.

Grotto—Ratchford (21), Menzie, Morrison, Currie (2), Gurchiv (2), Hunt (2).
Kaiens—Mitchell (6), Tobey, Irvine (8), Scott, Unger (6), Cross (1).

Ladies' League

In the ladies' fixture the Comets defeated the Cardinals 12-10 to put Cardinals and Amazons in a tie for first half honors. The girls' game was fast and close, neither team having a decided advantage over the other. They all missed plenty of shots but the improvement in the Comets' playing was very noticeable and, in the second half now that they have hit their stride, they will undoubtedly be a hard team to beat. The Cards had a narrow margin of lead up to the last quarter when the Comets piled in a couple of long shots to give them the lead 12-10.

Comets—Irvine (6), Tite (2), Steen, Smith, Morgan (4).
Cardinals—Lowe (2), Stone (2), Gilchrist (6), Brochu, Rivett.

Intermediate League

The most stirring and hair-raising moment of the evening was in the intermediate game when the Warriors came up from behind and tied the score with but a minute to go. Unfortunately, they had a foul called against them which the Merchants sank with ease to give them their slim one-point lead of 22-21. The game was the Merchants' all the way until about the last seven minutes when the Warriors put a spurt on and gave the Merchants a real run for their victory.

Merchants—Pierce (8), Hunt (6), E. Dingwell (2), Ross (1), Windle (2), E. Dingwell (4).

Warriors—Comadina, Steffensrud (4), Hickey (10), Antonelli, Fitzpatrick, Forbes (5), Gillis (3).

Junior League

In the Junior game the Meteors found very little opposition from the Scouts and easily won 19-9.

Meteors—Morgan (4), Allen (3), Christion (10), Arney, Tobey, Palmer (2).

Scouts—Miller (1), Davies (6), Nelson, Gillis, Campbell, Dominato, Viereck (2).

Refereeing was in the capable hands of Currie, Johnson, Comadina and Skinner.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17: (Canadian Press)—Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver knocked out Sammy Fuller of Boston in the eighth round of a scheduled ten round bout at Madison Square Garden here last night.

Fuller was badly beaten by the Canadian boy. He took the count of nine in the first round, four in the second and the full ten in the eighth.

GYRO DANCE IS ENJOYED

Affair Staged Last Night to Raise Funds For Relief—Decorations Were Feature

While the attendance was not by any means as large as might have been hoped for in view of the object for which the affair was staged, the charity dance held last night in the Moose Hall under the auspices of the Gyro Club for the purpose of raising funds for relief work for all who were present. William Cruickshank, president of the Gyro Club, and L. W. Waugh were in charge of the event.

The hall was very attractively decorated for the occasion. The main hall was adorned with a pretty ceiling of red and white streamers. Charlie Balagno's Orchestra dispensed delightful music from a platform which had a background of Christmas trees decorated with garlands of colored lights. Dancing was in progress from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. At midnight, delicious refreshments were served, the Gyrettes being largely responsible for this important feature.

W. H. Tobey presided at the door.

LABORITES IN SESSION

Municipal affairs were the chief subject of discussion at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades & Labor Council last night. The council has decided to endorse two candidates for the aldermanic board and two for the school board but selection of candidates has not yet been completed, this being left to the executive to deal with further.

All phases of municipal affairs were gone into and discussion was of considerable length.

The meeting was well attended and Ald. S. D. Macdonald, president of the Trades and Labor Council, was in the chair.

Georgia River Gold Looking Good—New Gold Rush in Prince George District—John D. Galloway Is Honored

The next step to be undertaken by the Georgia River Gold Mines Ltd. in the development of its promising property on Portland Canal, a few miles below Stewart, will be the blocking out of ore to determine definitely whether or not the erection of a mill in connection with the property is justified, it was intimated by F. B. Shearman perintendent of the property, who was in the city this week bound for Vancouver where he will spend the winter following suspension of work at the property. The ore extracted in course of the present program of development has been stored and will be shipped at a later date.

Forty claims are reported to have been staked on Skaret Creek, some miles east of Prince George, following the discovery of a nugget worth $12, it is reported. Coarse gold is said to have been found on bedrock to an extent not ascertainable until further work is done. Several groups of men are reported to be at work in the area and construction of a trail leading to the scene has been asked of the provincial government.

John D. Galloway, former independent mining engineer for the eastern mineral survey district headquarters at Smithers and provincial mineralogist at Vancouver has been elected president of the Association of Professional Engineers of British Columbia. He is a first mining engineer to hold an important position. Mr. Galloway who lived as a boy in the mining camp at Greenwood in British Columbia, graduated from the University in 1911 and later came on practice as a mining engineer in various parts of the Dominion. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

A SATURDAY SERMON

A Ray of Hope

(By Rev. C. D. Clarke, First United Church)

In last week's sermon Dr. Dafoe issued a call for prayer, having in mind the Universal Week of Prayer from January 1 to 8. In his appeal Dr. Dafoe pointed out that the way out of the present chaos is by the way of prayer, the way of penitence, the way of Christ.

A new start is always by the way of the prayer of penitence. Two men went to the temple to pray, one prayed "God I thank thee that there is nothing wrong with me. Others have sinned and are at fault but not me." The other prayed "God be merciful to me a sinner." The first man who was, of course, the Pharisee went out of the temple the same as he went in, except that his religious exercise made him a little more self-righteous. The other man who was the publican went out of the temple a different man, a cleansed man, a new man.

Isaiah, grieving at the loss of his friend, the king, went to the temple to find comfort and, in his worship, he became conscious of his sin and the sin of the people. "Woe is me; because I am a man of unclean lips and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips." From his prayer of confession he derived cleansing and responded to the call to preach the way of repentance to the people.

The Psalmist, in confessing his sins, prayed: "Create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me." The way to a new life was by way of penitence. When John the Baptist heralded the way of Jesus he called upon the people to repent and to "bring forth fruits worthy of repentance." The way to the new life was by way of repentance. When Jesus entered upon his ministry he too issued the call—"Repent and believe the Gospel."

Thus it has been that a new day has been ushered in by the lowly step of penitence, to be conscious of and feel the wrong of one's life, to be cognizant of the evil in the world and in the systems in which we live. It is a lowly step but the one essential step which, when taken, opens the way to a new start in life. Penitence is the ray of hope in one's life and being. It is the ray of hope appearing on the horizon of life at this particular time. The pharisaical attitude of self-sufficiency, which has marked our civilization, is breaking. The fires of affliction have been purging us and there is the light of hope in the skies.

Our leaders, political, economic, religious, etc., assured us that the cycle would return us to normal conditions but the cycle philosophy of life is about shattered. The "corner" about which they told us so much has become a myth. Their admonition to spend savings has fallen upon deaf ears. Their high-brow talk about the depression being due to wrong psychological attitude failed to produce the right attitude. Now there steals into their utterances in the press, journals, pulpits and even in parliament evidence of a change in attitude, even signs of penitence, that something is wrong and there will have to be a change. There may be vague ideas of what the change will be but to acknowledge that change is necessary means that, at long last,

Pilchards as Halibut Bait—New Salmon Labelling Regulations—Cohoes Still Running at Skidegate

Pilchards kept in pound for a week or more make better halibut bait than pilchards fresh from free wanderings at sea. Fishermen in Northern British Columbia have found this out by experience and there's really a very simple explanation for what might seem to be the strange condition they uncovered. Fresh from their liberty in the sea the pilchards are very oily fish and because they slipped so readily from the hook they had not been found very satisfactory for baiting halibut hooks but when they are impounded for a time they lose much of their oil content and when they are put on the hook they stay there. This turned out to be the case when fishermen in the Rivers Inlet area impounded several thousand hundredweights of pilchards this year, kept them impounded for a week or more and then sold them to halibut fishermen for bait. Pilchards have not ordinarily appeared in Northern British Columbia waters in large quantities — the great pilchard fishery of the province in Vancouver Island areas—and the halibut fishermen have relied upon herring for bait purposes. In the past couple of years, however, the pilchards have shown up in some abundance in the northern district and, if the runs here continue, the discovery that impounding makes them suitable for halibut baiting will doubtless mean that a good many of them will be sold for this purpose.

The Takla, Capt. Chris Parkvold, largest vessel of the Canadian halibut fleet, left Prince Rupert on December 13 for her home port of New Westminster to spend the winter. After the closing of the halibut fishing season on November 1, the Takla spent six weeks in black cod fishing but did not meet with much success. On no less than two occasions it became necessary, on account of rough weather, to throw overboard catches which had been made.

Capt. Peter Byrne is again engaged in fresh fishing this winter with his halibut boat Helen II. Daily returns are made to port with the fish which are of many varieties and are proving very popular with local people. The fish may be purchased direct from the boat at the Cow Bay floats.

Addington Is Lost
Suffering from cold and exposure, the crew of three of the American halibut schooner Addington, well known in this port, were brought to Juneau a few days ago by Capt. Jack Wilson of the gasboat Amy after the Addington had sunk in Freshwater Bay after striking a reef. The Addington slipped off the reef into six feet of water and the members of the crew were forced to take to a small boat.

Cohoes are still reported to be running in Skidegate Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands. It is unusual to find them there so late in the year.

The following story is attributed to Jimmy White, one of the pioneer settlers of the Queen Charlotte Islands: When he was a boy down in the United States he and his dog went out badger hunting. The badger took to his hole and Jimmy sent the dog in after him while he waited outside the hole with his axe to kill the badger when the dog put it out. Soon there was a great rumpus down the hole and out popped what Jimmy supposed to be the badger. Jimmy struck with the axe. His aim was true but it was the dog, and not the badger, that got the axe. Jimmy concludes his story by saying in his slow, droll way: "And you know, gents, that the fool dog doesn't know to this day but that it was the badger killed him."

Paul Armour, popular manager of the Pacific Salvage Co., thinks there may be possibilities in this wild animal show business after all, judging from the interest which has been taken by passers-by in the live, devilfish which was captured with a pike pole on Tuesday afternoon as it attempted to grab a sea-gull out of thin air for his dinner. The interested callers to view the formidable specimen of the briny deep have been numerous and curious.

of canned salmon in British Columbia will be put in effect requiring that every can of salmon produced in the province shall bear upon the tin itself a prescribed letter showing the variety of salmon the can contains. The particular value of the new regulation will be that it will make it impracticable for anyone to pass off to the consumer one variety of salmon under the guise of another. The following code markings have been prescribed: "S." sockeye; "P." pinks; "C." cohoes; "K." chums; "T." springs; "B." bluebacks; "H." steelhead trout.

The provincial police cruiser P. M.L.S. which has been on a three-weeks' patrol trip to Rivers Inlet and elsewhere down the coast, is expected back in Prince Rupert either today or tomorrow. Constables Raybone, Robertson and Bond are on board, having been assisted in the patrol around Rivers Inlet by Constable T. Smith of Ocean Falls.

Mrs. T. M. Spencer left yesterday for Smithers where she will pay a month's visit.

Palpitation of the Heart Nerves Bad - Could Not Sleep

Mrs. Fred Bingham, Swift Current, Sask., writes:—"I was bothered with palpitation of the heart, and my nerves were so bad I could not sleep."

I was getting desperate and confided my trouble to a friend who recommended me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I purchased a box and got such relief I would gladly recommend them to all who are troubled as I was."
