DAWSON BRINGS GOOD NEWS FROM EAST

SAYS PLANS BEING DRAWN FOR HOTEL AND STEAMSHIP; ELEVATOR SURE

Alaska Steamer, Tourist Hotel, Grain Elevator and Possibly a Fast Steamship Service for Port

F. G. Dawson returns with greater faith than ever in future of Prince Rupert and is extending his own business on strength of prospects here; hard work and co-operation necessary

F. G. Dawson, director of the Canadian National Railway, who returned last night after attending a meeting of directors in the East and interviewing the Dominion Government officials and ministers in regard to things having to do with the development of the West, brings a message of cheer to the people here. He says that a big steamer is to ply between this port and Alaska, that a tourist hotel is to be built here, that a grain elevator will be erected and that there is possibility of a fast steamship service to the Orient being arranged in the not too remote future. In an interview he said:

"You may tell the people that I have returned this trip with, if possible, more confidence in the future of British Columbia, and particularly that of Central British Columbia and the port of Prince Rupert. All we need is to have confidence in ourselves, confidence in our port, confidence in our district and for the people to pull together and assist, instead of resist, those who are making an honest effort to do something."

"Sir Henry Thornton made the statement at the Canadian Club luncheon at Prince Rupert, that the hope of the railway situation lay in the West, and he has become so convinced of it, that he has established an office in Winnipeg, where he will devote a portion of his time so as to be in closer touch with western problems and give the people of Western Canada an opportunity of meeting him more frequently, and submitting their problems and requirements at first hand, with less loss of time and expense than has been the case in the past, when it has been necessary for them to go to Toronto or Montreal. This should be sufficient evidence to convince the people of Western Canada of his sincere desire to give them every assistance in their development programs."

Program for West
"I had the pleasure and privilege of travelling across the continent with W. S. Thompson, director of publicity of the Canadian National Railways, and was greatly pleased to learn from him of the great efforts and the tremendous advertising program that has been outlined by his department for advertising Western Canada, and particularly the scenic and tourist possibilities in Central British Columbia, and the Pacific coast."

"The appointment of Hon. J. A. Robb as minister of immigration, is, in my mind, a great step forward in the ultimate outcome of peopling Western Canada, which is so vital and so necessary in order to develop not only Western Canada, but which will assist in the elimination of the enormous railway deficits."

"The recent appointment of the Hon. T. A. Low as minister of trade and commerce, and his advice to the people of Western Canada that the first thing he would do after getting his office put into shape would be to make

THIS PORT HAS 462 MILES ADVANTAGE IN REACHING ORIENT
When making the run from this port to Yokohama recently, the steamer Canadian Transporter logged the distance carefully with the result that it was found Prince Rupert was exactly 462 miles nearer Japan than Vancouver. There have been various reports as to the actual advantage but no official has been reported until now.

For Prince Rupert
"Now as regards possibilities nearer home, I would say that the plans and specification are being prepared for a boat larger than the 'Prince Rupert' or 'Prince George' to ply from this port to Alaska ports, with a view to further developing the tourist trade in this section."

"Plans and specifications are under preparation for a modest sized tourist hotel for this port."

"The grain elevator situation has developed to a point where I am convinced that it will become an actual reality; probably not in time to handle this year's crop, but certainly for next."

"Other important developments and necessary facilities are advanced a considerable distance, and among these is a fast steamship service to the Orient, which, as a possibility, is not so remote."

Unity of Effort
"Now, what we want to do is to unite in trying to do something ourselves and not depend entirely on others. No port, city, or district was ever made without hard work and the co-operation and wholehearted effort of every citizen who expects to derive any benefit from development, and the sooner we forget about and discontinue barking at other influences which we think are antagonistic to us, and do something for ourselves, the better off we will be."

Mr. Dawson also stated that he was showing his faith in the future of the city and district by extending his business. He was putting in a wholesale men's furnishings department as a base of supplies for this district which he felt sure would develop fast.

War Fever Rising in Europe Judging by English Newspapers Greek Reply is Unacceptable

LONDON, Aug. 31.—English papers today exhibit familiar signs and symptoms of a rising European war fever, due to the Italian demands upon Greece. Flaring headlines tell of an ultimatum served upon the Athens government, of rumors of troop mobilization and of reported secret orders to the Italian fleet. From Athens comes the reply of the Greek government seeking to satisfy Rome and at the same time to uphold Greek sovereignty until an appeal can be taken to the League of Nations or some other tribunal.

What is transpiring behind the curtains of diplomatic exchange is unknown, for the familiar news censor is apparently already at his post and Rome is silent as to the next step she plans to enforce her demands.

Editorial writers are hard at work. London papers are suggesting solutions of the difficult international incident which in many ways recalls the event which plunged the world into war in 1914.

The League of Nations is generally fixed upon as a medium for settlement but in view of the fact that no word from Rome refers to the Geneva tribunal the Daily News asks: "Will Mussolini torpedo the league and fire broadsides into article 12 and into the Greek navy in the meantime?"

ESQUIMALT DRYDOCK READY NEXT YEAR

Equipment Will Cost About $350,000 and Dock Will Cost Six Millions

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The Canadian Government's new $6,000,000 dry dock at Esquimalt, one of the three largest dry docks in the world, built to accommodate Canada's rapidly growing Pacific shipping and to repair quickly disabled battleships, will be opened for business in 1924. A vote of $1,500,000 passed by parliament at its last session will be spent to complete general construction work, including excavation and the installation of cement by the end of next April. Tenders for equipments for the dock and the new electrical operating plant are being called now. The equipment for which tenders are being called now will cost about $350,000.

Secretary Hughes Gives Restatement of Doctrine set forth by Pres. Munro

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 31.—The Monroe Doctrine was defined here last night by Secretary Hughes as embodying a policy vitally related to national safety, inimical to no just interest in Latin-America or elsewhere, and imposing no barrier to wider international co-operation in the promotion of peace and understanding. Speaking before the American Bar Association, the secretary declared that while the Doctrine in no way established a "protectorate" over other American republics, American rights and obligations not specifically outlined by Monroe in his famous message had sometimes made intervention in some Latin American states an absolute necessity. He recalled that the right to intervene in Cuba is a matter of record in the treaty of 1904, although he added that the United States would rather, if possible, continue in its present role of "friendly adviser."

"Taking the Doctrine as it has been and as it is believed to remain, said Mr. Hughes, 'I desire to comment upon certain points, which as I believe, deserve special emphasis at this time. Still in Force'

"First—The Monroe doctrine is not a policy of aggression; it is a policy of self-defense. It was asserted at a time when the danger of foreign aggression in this hemisphere was very real, when the new American states had not yet established a firm basis of independent national life, and were menaced by threats of Old World powers directed against republican institutions. But the achievements of the century have not altered the scope of the doctrine or changed its basis. It still remains an assertion of the principle of national security. As such, it is obviously not exclusive."

"Second—As the policy embodied in the Monroe doctrine is distinctively the policy of the United States, the government of the United States reserves to itself its definition, interpretation, and application. This government has welcomed the recognition by other governments of the fact and soundness of this policy and of the appropriateness of its application from time to time."

"But the United States has not been disposed to enter into engagements which would have the effect of submitting to any other power or to any concert of powers the determination either of the occasions upon which the principles of the Monroe doctrine shall be invoked or of the measures that shall be taken in giving it effect. As President Wilson observed: 'The Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed by the United States on her own authority. It always has been maintained and always will be maintained upon her own responsibility.'"

"This implies neither suspicion nor estrangement. It simply means that the United States is asserting a separate national right of self-defense, and that in the exercise of this right it must have an unhampered discretion. 'Third—The policy of the Monroe Doctrine does not in-tringe upon the independence and sovereignty of other American states. Misconception upon this point is the only disturbing influence in our relations with Latin American states. The declaration of our purpose to oppose what is inimical to our safety does not imply an attempt to establish a protectorate any (continued on page five)

So Says Greece in Answer to Italian Ultimatum in Refusing Some of Terms

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Excellent weather favored a good season for fishermen who journeyed north this year to Bristol Bay for Alaska fishing firms, according to Capt. Anderson of the "City of Sydney" now in harbor from the north. Altogether, he said, it was a profitable season. The City of Sydney brought back 17,800 cases of salmon and the barque Emily F. Whitney returned with 13,400 cases. Late yesterday the Star of India was towed into harbor, being the last of the advance fleet to reach port. It will be several days now before other ships of the Alaska fleet appear off the heads.

Record Landing of Halibut at Port of Prince Rupert for August is 3,306,400 lbs.

A record for quantity of halibut arrivals at Prince Rupert was set up during the month of August, the total for the month being 3,306,400 pounds, including today's sale. The total for August last year was 2,800,000 pounds and for July this year 3,060,800 pounds.

Weather and general conditions were very favorable and good prices, generally speaking, prevailed. The highest bid was 16.2c and 11.5c paid on August 21 for the 15,000 pound catch of the American schooner Anna J. On two occasions the price went down to 10c and 8c, the lowest level. The price average was higher during the passing month than in August last year or last July.

Labor Causes Own Unemployment.

The evolution of labor is bound to cause all kinds of disturbances and at times labor itself will have to suffer during the process. Gradually during the last hundred years when education has been going on the section of the community generally designated under the term "labor" has pulled itself from under, until today in Great Britain it seems likely to find itself on top with a labor government in power.

While the struggle for supremacy is going on there is naturally a great deal of economic disturbance. With the increase of wages and the shortening of the hours of labor, business is driven away from the country to those places where the hours of labor and the wages paid are more advantageous to the manufacturer. The result is wholesale unemployment.

The extent of the decline in Britain can only be guessed. There are certain world conditions that govern those things. The virility of the British makes up to some extent for the handicaps, but as long as there is cheap labor in competition, it is next to impossible for a country employing highly paid labor to succeed, unless the natural resources of that country give it an advantage which the cost of labor cannot adversely affect.

The imposition of duties on goods imported by the cheap labor will sometimes prove effective if the competition is in the home market. Where, as in the case of Britain, the export market is depended on to keep the factories going, no home protection will offset the handicap.

The problem for labor to face is the international one of raising the status of the workers in countries like Japan, China and the central European states. Advances must be gradual all along the line and any effort to force conditions too rapidly will prove abortive.

Making A Stir In Regard To Liquor.

In the south they are making a stir in regard to the liquor problem. One of the Victoria police commissioners has been taking issue with Attorney General Manson in regard to the enforcement of the law against clubs and bootleggers.

In Vancouver there has been a somewhat dramatic exposure of conditions with the result that Mayor Tisdall has given orders to the chief of police that he must produce results. He is given three thousand dollars with which to carry on the special liquor enforcement work for the remainder of the year, and has been told to treat clubs and all other places where liquor is sold alike.

When the municipal delegates were in convention here last week, they passed a unanimous and emphatic resolution urging action against clubs. Mr. Manson says the municipalities have the matter in their own hands. It is their duty to enforce the law.

It is pretty sure that the present condition of affairs cannot continue. Apparently amendments to the law are necessary. At any rate the condition that presents itself today is anything but desirable. Contempt for law is being inculcated and will bear fruit in future. If there is doubt as to the law, it should be cleared up immediately so that those who are following what they believe to be a correct course may be assured that they are either right or wrong.

WHAT LIBRARY SHOULD ATTAIN

Wide Scope of Institution Should Appeal to Every Person in Community

Someone has set forth in brief form what a library should be in a community, and for the benefit of Prince Rupert people this is reprinted.

What do you think when you think of the public library? This is what you have a right to think about it:

If you are a business man you have a right to think that the library has the most up-to-date information on business methods, office systems, bookkeeping and advertising. You have a right to think that if you are puzzled about a location or name that the library can give you the exact knowledge you wish, over the phone or in person.

If you are a housewife you have a right to think that the library will loan you the best and most approved books on cookery, canning and household management; that you may find on the shelves of the reading room the latest magazines which contain fashions, hot weather recipes, and suggestions for reducing the high cost of living.

If you are a student you have a right to expect the library to offer you the best and latest guides to your particular branch of knowledge, or if the volumes or pamphlets are too technical or expensive for your library, that it will borrow them for you.

If you are a mechanic you are entitled to look at your library for the new books on automobiles, engineering, shoemaking, etc., and to find on the shelves of the reading room the best technical magazines.

If you are incurably romantic you have a right to demand from your library the best love stories of all times. Or if you are interested in your own romance, to find at the library books on weddings, house furnishing and honeymoon tours. Incidentally you cannot help finding many volumes of verse, new and old.

If you are a boy or girl, you too have equal rights at your library, to find good stories, helpful suggestions for games, or descriptions for making things. Supplementary books for school reading should be there.

Whoever you are, you have a right to find your hobbies stabled at your library; your path to a better job made more plain and straight; your secret ideals reinforced by world-wise philosophers and stupid hours enlivened by master imaginations.

It is your public library. Do you get what you want?

MINERALS IN OMINECA AREA

Vancouver Paper Tells Why Railway Should be Built North of Canadian National

In the northern part of British Columbia, many miles away from transportation, is situated a great potential mineral area enclosed within what is known as the Omineca district. The more westerly portion of this district is developed to a certain extent and has been explored somewhat. But little is known, and official data is lacking, with regard to the mineral district lying to the west of the junction of the Parsnip and Finlay rivers.

In mining circles they are beginning to talk of the Omineca again, and it is probable that region will see considerable exploration next summer, though, by reason of the distance from transportation, the prospectors will not be able to cover a great deal of the territory. From what little exploration the country has been given, mining men are of the opinion it would be the part of wisdom for prospectors who can afford it to go in there, or for mining syndicates to send their men there on the principle that it is those who stake on the "ground floor" who profit most when mining capital turns its eyes to newer fields.

Also Agriculture

In connection with this portion of Omineca, there is also considerable talk as to transportation problems. In addition to the potential mining wealth, it is known that the agricultural possibilities are great. Those who have traversed that district make the claim that a railroad branching off the Pacific Great Eastern and running to Fort Macleod would go a long way toward opening up this exceedingly rich part of the province.

The distance would be approximately 83 miles, and with the Parsnip river, which is navigable for another 60 miles, one of British Columbia's most resourceful districts would soon be yielding, it is said, a tonnage that would justify such construction.

A further continuation of a railway would tap the rich Peace River country. That part of Omineca is a veritable inland empire, say those who have travelled through it. In the winter the snow is not heavy, seldom exceeding two feet, and as is now being done in the Yukon, by use of caterpillar tractors to the river, what one tonnage would become available could be moved at a profit-making cost.

MANSON URGES ENFORCE LAW

Says Municipalities Are to Blame in Temporizing For Profit

VICTORIA, Aug. 30.—The time has come for municipalities and municipal police to show some action on the beer club and liquor dive evils in some parts of the province, Attorney General Manson made clear in a statement he issued here.

In this he asserted that the municipalities in temporizing with the clubs for profit were alone to blame for troubles that were looming in certain places.

"I note with some interest the resolution passed at the convention of B.C. Municipalities at Prince Rupert with regard to the club situation," Mr. Manson said. "The municipalities have no one to blame but themselves. A number of them have deliberately passed club licensing bylaws under the guise of pretending to control, but in reality with a view to obtaining revenue. "The press analyzed the situation correctly when it recently said that Vancouver had licensed 165 beer clubs. The legislature has done its best to discourage the establishment of "mushroom clubs by the insertion of a provision in the Companies Act and in the Co-operative Societies Act that a club could not secure incorporation under either of these statutes unless it furnished to the satisfaction of the registrar of joint stock companies evidence that it has carried on for at least a year preceding its application and that it has been conducted in a proper manner.

"Very few clubs have been able to obtain provincial incorporation in recent years despite shrewd endeavors of promoters and their legal advisers.

"By their lax system of control of clubs, the municipalities are creating a situation that is not only embarrassing themselves, but embarrassing the government because there has been an endeavor in the unorganized territory of the province recently to establish no end of unnecessary clubs.

"It is about time that the municipalities and the municipal police commissioners took the situation in hand."

LABOR SUNDAY

Editor Daily News.
 September 3 is Labor Day and the previous Sunday is Labor Sunday, upon which day the churches of the whole continent are instructed to bring questions relating to social welfare along industrial lines before the public. Probably all the churches of Prince Rupert will do this on Sunday next, and it would add greatly to the usefulness of the day if all labor men would attend the church of their choice on this Labor Sunday.

There has been in the minds of too many labor men a feeling that the church was not in sympathy with their burdens and ideals. Whatever may have been true in the past, that is manifestly not true today, for every branch of the church is highly organized to assist in bringing about conditions in which every man shall obtain justice and have a fair chance to work out his best ideals for himself and his family. The church does not countenance the stand of the few radicals who put aside all law, order, patriotism, justice, and religion, but she knows that these do not represent the great body of labor men any more than the occasional clergyman who advocates some extreme policy represents the great body of the church.

Friend of Labor

The church today is a real friend of labor and wants to be back of every legitimate aim of labor and will only oppose those things which do not bring justice to all.

That was a striking proclamation issued the other day by the American Federation of Labor which said among other things the following:
 "We hold it is fitting that all churches draw close to their altars the soul of Labor on the coming Labor Sunday and that Labor everywhere make a special effort to co-operate with the churches that there may be on that day a great union of expression in behalf of a higher, nobler life for the masses of our people. May Labor Sunday bring home to the people the great good that humanity may yet achieve for the millions who toil."

Whatever the mistakes and inconsistencies of the church, and they have been many, yet it still stands, as its works did, for justice, truth and mercy and offers its aid to all whose motto is: "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW DISPLAY IS SHOWN

One of the most attractive window displays that has ever been seen in the city has been arranged in George D. Tite's furniture house. Many of the special prizes, such as cups, spoons and medals, which will be offered at the forthcoming Fall Fair are on display but the principal feature is a large mounted picture, 7 by 3 1-2 feet, showing in individual ovals the 63 babies of last year's Better Babies' Contest and also the judges, Mrs. Donaldson, acting matron of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, Dr. J. P. Cade and Dr. H. E. Tremayne. This handsome picture has been donated by B. E. Benson, photographer, to the Fair Board.

PRESENTATION MADE TO SMITHERS LADY AT ANGLICAN PICNIC

Mrs. R. W. Champion Recipient of Gift at Lake Kathlyn on Occasion of Going Away

SMITHERS, Aug. 31. — The children of the Anglican Sunday School enjoyed a picnic at Lake Kathlyn on Wednesday last. Local car owners kindly placed their cars at the disposal of the crowd conveying the picnicers to and from the lake. Games and sports were freely indulged in and a basket lunch was much enjoyed by all.

A very pleasing incident of the affair was a presentation made to Mrs. R. W. Champion by the Women's Auxiliary of the church. Rev. R. E. W. Biddell, in making the presentation, expressed regret at the loss occasioned in Anglican Church circles by the removal of the recipient from their midst, and conveyed to Mrs. Champion the best wishes of all present for the future.

Mrs. Champion, who was taken by surprise, thanked the donors for the honor done her, and stated the wish to return to Smithers at a future date.

Mrs. Champion, who was a teacher in the Sunday School is moving to Transcona, Man., to which place Mr. Champion is being transferred by the railway.

SMITHERS ORGANIZING A BOARD OF TRADE

SMITHERS, Aug. 31. — The regular monthly meeting of the Smithers Citizens' Association was held in the town hall on Wednesday night. W. S. Henry presided over a fair attendance.

The secretary read some correspondence from various departments of the provincial government in connection with the erection of proposed government buildings at Smithers, and the repairing of the existing road to the glacier.

The proposed formation of a Smithers Board of Trade was productive of much discussion, and finally a committee was appointed to proceed in the matter of securing the necessary charter members and file the certificate with the secretary of state.

Communications were read from the Vancouver and Hazelton Board of Trades.

The Davis Cup, a trophy that has welded ties of friendship between many of the great nations of the world through their tennis players, a trophy sought this year by 17 nations outside the United States, is to be defended tomorrow on the turf courts of the West Side Club's concrete stadium at Forest Hill, New York, by the Americans against the Australian challengers.

The nations that played for the cup this year were divided into two zones for the preliminary play. Canada, Japan, Hawaii and Australia were assigned to the American zone. Japan defeated the Canadians at Toronto, Australia won from the Hawaiians at Orange, N.J., then defeated Japan at Chicago.

In the European zone France was victorious against Spain for the final round, winning the right to play Australia in the United States for the honor of challenging America for the cup. Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, India, Ireland, Argentina, France, Denmark, Spain, Rumania, Belgium, the British Isles, Italy and Holland were represented in the European zone.

This field made up the greatest that ever competed for the cup since it was donated in 1900 by Dwight W. Davis of Washington, D.C., now president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association and Assistant Secretary of War. Australia won the cup six times, as did America, while Great Britain held it five times. Belgium and Japan each entered the finals once as challengers but were both defeated by the holders, British Isles and United States respectively.

Interest is keen in the Bulkley Valley Derby to be run on Barbecue Day. Two horses at least are in training for it at Smithers and there is much talk of the race being taken from Warrior who has carried off the honors for the last two years. However, Warrior's trainer, T. M. Owens, says little but his countenance wears a confident smile as he listens to tales of dark horses from Smithers and Chiletin.

Among those who already have horses in for the races on Monday are Alex. Ghisholm of Smithers and Morgan of Ootsa Lake.

SECRETARY HUGHES GIVES RE- STATEMENT OF DOCTRINE SET FORTH BY PRES. MUNROE

more than a similar assertion by any one of the great southern republics of opposition to con- duct on the part of any of the others endangering its secur- ity would aim at the establish- ment of a protectorate.

No Overlordship

"I utterly disclaim as unwarranted the observations which occasionally have been made im- plying a claim on our part to superintend the affairs of our sister republics, to assert an overlordship, to consider the spread of our authority beyond our own domain as the aim of our policy, and to make our power the test of right in this hemis- phere. I oppose all such mis- conceived and unsound assertions or intimations. They do not ex- press our national purpose; they belie our sincere friendship; they are false to the fundamental principles of our institutions and of our foreign policy which has sought to reflect, with rare ex- ceptions, the ideals of liberty; they menace us by stimulating a distrust which has no real founda- tion. They find no sanction whatever in the Monroe Doctrine. There is room in this hemisphere without danger of collision, for the complete recognition of that doctrine and the independent sovereignty of the Latin American republics.

Protect Canal

"Fourth—There are, indeed, modern conditions and recent events which cannot fail to en- gage our attention. We have grown rich and powerful, but we have not outgrown the necessity, in justice to ourselves and with- out injustice to others, of safe- guarding our future peace and security. By building the Panama Canal we have not only estab- lished a new and convenient high- way of commerce but we have created exigencies and new con- ditions of strategy and defense. It is for us to protect that highway. It may also be necessary for us at some time to build another canal between the At- lantic and the Pacific Oceans, and to protect that. I believe that the sentiment of the Ameri- can people is practically unani- mous that in the interest of our national safety we could not yield to any foreign power the control of the Panama Canal, or the approaches to it, or the ob- taining of any position which would interfere with our right of protection or would menace the freedom of our communications.

Caribbean Sea

"So far as the region of the Caribbean Sea is concerned, it may be said that if we had no Munroe Doctrine we should have to create one. And this is not only to imply any limitation on the scope of the doctrine, as originally proclaimed and as still maintained, but simply to in- dicate that new occasions require new applications of an old principle which remains completely effective. What has taken place of late years in the region of the Caribbean has given rise to much confusion of thought and misapprehension of purpose. As I have said, the Monroe Doctrine as a particular declaration in no way exhausts American right or policy; the United States has rights and obligations which that doctrine does not define. And in the unsettled condition of certain countries in the region of the Caribbean it has been necessary to assert these rights and obliga- tions as well as the limited principles of the Monroe Doc- trine.

"In 1898, the United States in- tervened in Cuba in the cause of humanity and because of a con- dition of affairs of our very door so injurious to our interests that it became intolerable. In view of the distress, miseries, and barbarities that existed, our action, as John Bassett Moore has said, 'was analogous to what is known in private law as the abatement of a nuisance.'

Pan American Co-operation

"Fifth. It is apparent that the Monroe Doctrine does not stand in the way of Pan American co- operation; rather it affords the necessary foundation for that co-operation in the independence and security of American states. With the aim of furthering this Pan American co-operation there have been five Pan American conferences, the last of which was recently held in Santiago. The best results of these con- ferences are not to be found in any formal acts or statements but in the generation of helpful and friendly influences which draw peoples together through a better mutual understanding.

"The essential condition of co- operation is peace, and this govern- ment is constant in its en- deavors to promote peace in this hemisphere by using its good offices, whenever they are wel- come, in eliminating the causes of strife, and in making provision for the settlement of disputes that can not be adjusted by diplomacy. Almost all the boundary disputes in Latin America have been settled, and those that remain are in process of adjustment.

International Co-operation

"Finally, it should be observed that the Monroe Doctrine is not an obstacle to a wider interna- tional co-operation, beyond the limits of Pan American aims and interests, whenever that co-opera- tion is congenial to American institutions. From the founda- tion of the government we have sought to promote the peaceful settlement of international con- troversies. Establishment of a permanent court of international justice, which might make avail- able the facilities of a perma- nent tribunal (instead of the less satisfactory provision of temporary tribunals of arbitra- tion) to governments desiring to submit their controversies to it, has been a distinct feature of the policy of the government of the United States for many years. We are also interested in measures of conciliation and in the facil- ities of conference.

Independence not Isolation

"Our attitude is one of inde- pendence, not of isolation. Our people are still intent upon ab- staining from participation in the political strife of Europe. They are not disposed to commit this government in advance to the use of its power in unknown contingencies, preferring to re- serve freedom of action in the confidence of our ability and readiness to respond to every future call of duty. They have no desire to put their power in pledge, but they do not shrink co-

A worth-while Reputation

The head of one of this country's great manu- facturing institutions says:

"The Man who builds and the man who buys are both beneficiaries of reputation. To the one it is a continuous spur and incentive--to the other, the strongest of all guarantees that what he buys is worthy."

Patronize the manufacturer or merchant who has a reputation for honesty and fair dealing. Such motives must actuate the consistent advertiser. The man who invests real money in building a reputation for himself and his merchandise cannot afford to risk any of it by taking unfair advantage of his customers. He must retain the good-will of the buying public. With- out this, his business cannot succeed

Every time he advertises he puts his reputation in your hands. His products or the wares he has for sale must make good. His service must be as advertised.

That is why it pays to read advertisements, to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised goods.

Yes, it is worth your while to Read The Advertisements operation with other nations whenever there is a sound basis for it and a consciousness of community of interest and aim. Co-operation is not dictation, and it is not partisanship. On our part it must be the co-opera- tion of a free people drawing their strength from many racial stocks, and a co-operation that is made possible by a preponder- ant sentiment permitting govern- mental action under a system which denies all exercise of auto- cratic power. It will be the co- operation of a people of liberal ideals, deeply concerned with the maintenance of peace and in- terested in all measures which find support in the common sense of the country as being practicable and well designed to foster common interests.

"To such aims the Monroe Doctrine is not opposed, and with the passing of 100 years it re- mains a cherished policy, inimical to no just interest and deemed to be vitally related to our own safety and to the peace- ful progress of the people of this hemisphere."
