CITY COUNCIL PROTESTS REMOVAL OF ROAD EQUIPMENT

Council of Prairie City Will Pay Debts Only In Money of Canada

To Meet Bonded Indebtedness Totalling $2,600,000 on January 1 But Will Ignore $300,000 Required to Make it United States Funds

CALGARY, Dec. 20: (Canadian Press)—Accepting a recommendation of the finance committee, the city council of Calgary last night voted in favor of defaulting on exchange charges in making payments on maturing debentures in New York on January 1 totalling more than $2,600,000. Payment will be made in Canadian funds but exchange charges amounting to approximately $300,000 will be ignored. The vote on the question was 8 to 2 in favor of defaulting on the exchange.

The situation now is that the city will offer to meet debenture issue payments, both principal and accrued interest, in Canadian dollars. A request from bondholders for payment in United States funds will be rejected.

RESOLUTION APPROVED

Opposition Expressed to Tying Hands on Teachers' Salary Question

The city council last night endorsed a resolution from the Duncan (Vancouver Island) Consolidated School Board opposing any attempt at the present time to introduce legislation which would tie the hands of school boards in the matter of educational costs including teachers' salaries.

The resolution, which has been sent by the Duncan school board to the minister of finance, refers to the fact that, in spite of warnings by the minister of finance that there would have to be economies and retrenchment in the matter of educational costs, the Teachers' Federation refused to see any need for retrenchment but was demanding stabilization of salaries with maintenance of regular annual increments which, in the case of Duncan alone, would mean an increase of 23% in education costs next year.

The resolution expresses the opinion that the present is no time to lay down fixed, arbitrary rules by statute regarding salaries of teachers. As far as the municipalities were concerned, the garment must be cut according to the cloth which was available. Already, some municipalities were unable to pay their teachers' salaries. The teachers would be even worse off if it became necessary to close down the schools.

Ald. Casey expressed opposition to the minister of education taking present conditions as a standard to effect a "pet scheme" of his to set a low standard of teachers' salaries.

Ald. Rudderham thought that it should be an open question and that no fixed rules regarding teachers' salaries should be laid down at this time. Each municipality should have the right to fix its own salaries according to local conditions. The most important matter, he thought, was to assure that the schools remained open.

After some further discussion, the resolution from the Duncan school board was endorsed by the council.

SANTA GOES CANADIAN

Santa Claus is going to have more Canadian toys for British children this year.

Within six months, says the B. U. P., the value of toys and fancy goods sent from Canada to the United Kingdom was £10,324, compared with £28 in the same period last year.

EQUIPMENT IS MOVED

City Council to Ask Government As to Its Road Building Plans

On motion of Ald. Casey, seconded by Ald. Macdonald, the city council last night decided to demand an explanation from the provincial government as to its action in removing from Cloyah Bay and Prudhomme Lake all road building equipment which had been placed there last year at considerable expense with a view to continuing the construction of the Skeena River Highway.

Evidently, by its action in moving out all the equipment, the government did not contemplate doing further road construction in this district, Ald. Casey assumed. He thought it a strange thing that equipment which had been installed at such heavy expense a year ago should, at further heavy expense, be now moved to some other part of the province. He felt that an explanation should be asked of the government as to its action. If the government had decided to discontinue work on the Skeena River highway, he felt that the council should make a vigorous protest.

POLICE PLEBISCITE NEXT MONTH PLANNED

Ald. W. J. McCutcheon gave notice of motion at last night's meeting of the city council that he would call for a plebiscite to be held at the civic election next month on the question of whether the city shall continue to be policed by the provincial police or whether it shall revert to city policing. The motion will come up for discussion at the next regular meeting of the council two weeks hence.

ADMISSION TO THEATRE NOVEL ONE

Children Asked to Take Food Supplies of Any Kind in Payment For Admission

A food matinee is to take place tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre when children attending are asked to take a parcel of food of some kind to be handed over to the Salvation Army for relief purposes. Some will take a pound of butter, some a half dozen loaves of bread, a cake, groceries of any kind. The management is giving the theatre for the occasion and putting on the show and all the food proceeds go for Christmas relief.

This is an opportunity to serve a good cause and at the same time have an afternoon's enjoyment.

Vancouver Wheat

VANCOUVER, Dec. 20: (Canadian Press)—Wheat was quoted at 40% on the local exchange today.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Valde left yesterday for Winnipeg to spend Christmas with relatives.

A Real Santa Claus

Patients and patience. After much medication Dr. Brown of Atlanta "liquidated" $81,532 owed by patients, sent each a note wishing them good will, good hope and good cheer and burned the bills.

Someone Needed to Play Santa To a Family Living on Beans With Two Expectant Children

In a little shack not far from the centre of the city last night a man and his wife and two children, a boy twelve years of age and a girl four, were sitting down to their frugal supper of beans. That was all they could afford because they were on relief. Just then the Salvation Army worker dropped in to investigate. She asked the little girl if she expected Santa Claus and apparently she did not but she hoped he would bring a doll. Possibly someone would like to play Santa Claus to this little girl, and the boy also needs a fairy godfather to come to him at Christmas time. It is to families such as these that the Salvation Army fund brings cheer. Beans may be wholesome but they are not exactly redolent of Christmas.

One contributor to the Army fund writes in part: "Greetings. Herewith five dollars to aid you in your wonderful self-sacrificing endeavors to help the needy." Most people appreciate the work but they are short of funds. In view of that a special plea is being made to those who can afford it to contribute to the fund. Since yesterday some contributions have been received:

Previously acknowledged $125.50
F. E. Robertson ..... 5.00

Sunrise Grocery ..... 5.00 and 1 sack potatoes, 1 sack carrots, 1 sack turnips, 1 box apples, 10 lbs. nuts.

Civic Election On January 12

Nominations to be Received on January 9—City Solicitor is Returning Officer

The city council last night passed a resolution setting January 9 as the date for receiving of nominations for the 1933 civic election with January 12 as the date for a poll if necessary. City Solicitor E. F. Jones was named returning officer with power to appoint his own deputies.

Co-Operation with New States President Plan of Retiring Executive

Hoover Wants Assistance Particularly in Regard to Such Foreign Matters as War Debts, Economic Conference and Disarmament—Advocates Discussions

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 20: (Canadian Press)—Co-operation with President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt to secure continuity of American foreign policy, particularly as to war debts, world economic conference and disarmament, was proposed yesterday by President Herbert Hoover in a message to Congress.

Lacking congressional approval for a revival of the war debt commission, President Hoover declared that it was necessary for him to proceed independently of Congress to set up machinery for further debt discussions with those nations who have not defaulted. He indicated that a commission on debts would be appointed by him. Any decisions would, of course, have to receive the sanction of Congress.

NO CHANGE IN COUNCIL

City Fathers Vote Against Both Four and Six Aldermen

Disagreeing as to whether the proposed reduction should be to four or six aldermen, the city council last night by negative vote went on record against any reduction of the aldermanic board which now consists of eight members. An amendment to submit a bylaw to the electors reducing the board to six aldermen was defeated by a vote of five to three while the motion to submit a bylaw providing for an aldermanic board of four was declared defeated by the casting vote of Mayor C. H. Orme.

Those supporting the proposal to reduce to six aldermen were Ald. Casey, Ald. Macdonald and Ald. Black with Ald. Collart, Pillsbury, Linzey, McCutcheon and Rudderham opposed.

In favor of four aldermen were Ald. Collart, Pillsbury, Linzey and McCutcheon and opposed, Ald. Casey, Ald. Macdonald, Ald. Black and Ald. Rudderham. The mayor's casting vote was in the negative.

The matter of reduction of the aldermanic board was brought up with the reconsideration of a petition sponsored by the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association and signed by 226 property owners asking the council to submit a bylaw reducing the aldermanic board from eight to four. With Ald. Rudderham absent, the council had divided evenly two weeks ago on the question of submitting the proposed bylaw to the electors. Since that time, the Ratepayers' Association had written another letter to the council again urging submission of the bylaw reducing the aldermanic board from eight to four.

On the question being re-introduced last night, Ald. Pillsbury moved that a bylaw be prepared for submission to the electors along the lines of the petition. This was seconded by Ald. Collart.

Proposes Plebiscite
Ald. Macdonald suggested that a plebiscite be submitted on the question of both six and four aldermen so that an expression of opinion might be obtained. The most of small cities in British Columbia had six aldermen and he thought that would be a fair number for a start here.

In answer to a question by Ald. Rudderham, City Solicitor E. F. Jones stated that all electors, and not property owners exclusively, would be entitled to vote on the bylaw.

Ald. Casey did not see why the (continued on page six)

JAPAN WAS JUSTIFIED

Foreign Press Has Got Wrong End, Says Yokohama Woman

MONTREAL, Dec. 20—(Canadian Press)—As a private citizen who has lived in Japan for six years Miss D. S. Dunford of Yokohama, thinks that the foreign press has got hold of the wrong end of the stick as far as Sino-Japanese relations are concerned. Miss Dunford spent a few days here on her way to her native England for a holiday. "What Japan did," she said, "is only what England or America might have done in similar circumstances. China's only chance of stable, responsible government is Japan's influence. Already three provinces have gone completely communist and banditry of the worst possible kind is more than common."

"In Japan overcrowding and overpopulation are causing great privation along with unemployment. The Salvation Army and the various missionary agencies are tackling the situation much in the same manner as it is being looked after with the provision of food tickets and a shelter. The Red Cross Society is also very active in the dissemination of knowledge of hygiene, improving sanitation and segregating the lepers into colonies."

Queen Charlottes Are Depicted in Painting Display

R. Bruce Inverarity, formerly of San Francisco, who recently was on a three-months' sketching tour of the Queen Charlotte Islands where he made an ethnological study of the Haida Indian tribe, has opened an interesting display of paintings at the Vancouver Art Gallery in Vancouver. The exhibition comes to a close today.

An entire wall of the display in Vancouver tells the story of Mr. Inverarity's visit to the Queen Charlotte Islands, pastel studies revealing a remoteness from civilization and many dramatic sky effects. Aurora Borealis makes an interesting composition.

Mr. Inverarity works in oils, water-colors, pastels, wood-block etchings and crayons.

VICTORIA TO HELP

Provincial Government Ready to Loan City $1500 Per Month For Relief

Mayor C. H. Orme informed the city council last night that, in answer to an application of the city that the provincial government loan the city its share of direct relief which the city is unable to finance, word had been received that Victoria was prepared to finance the city to the extent of $1500 per month during October, November and December. The city's share of relief is estimated at $2100 per month.

IMPERIAL PREFERENCE

A correspondent writes to ask if it is true, as some Liberals have claimed, that the British preference is only a mock preference and that it will be of no benefit to Britain.

In reply we suggest it is too soon yet to know whether the preferences given any of the Empire countries will be of benefit or not. We have before us a few figures dealing with some of the articles formerly imported in large quantities from Britain. Take for instance cotton piece goods. Under the Borden and Meighen administrations the tariff on these goods was 25%. The Mackenzie King administration reduced it to 18%, but the Bennett government increased it to 61% and at the Imperial Conference it was reduced to 58.5% to British countries. That is typical of the textile business generally. The case of blankets is rather an extreme one. Borden set a tariff of 22.5%, Meighen increased it to 25%, King reduced it to 20.25%, Bennett increased it to 106% and under the British Preference blankets come in from England or Scotland with a duty of 78% or must stay out.

It will be very interesting to note what effect these duties will have on Canadian business. Conservatives claim they will be beneficial but Liberals say the people of Canada will have to pay those duties and trade will be strangled. Possibly a year from now we shall be in a better position to tell what the result will be.

WHAT IS NEXT STEP?

The ports of Montreal and Churchill are closed for the remainder of the grain shipping season. Ordinarily the shipments would now be made through United States ports but as a result of the Empire Conference it is less profitable than formerly to ship through the U. S.

This is the time when Prince Rupert should benefit, but the action of the lessees of the local elevator in using it for storage purposes only instead of as a terminal shipping elevator makes it difficult for Prince Rupert to get the benefits which ought to accrue from contact with one of the big grain shipping agencies.

The contract with the Wheat Pool ends next August and it would seem to be the best policy for Prince Rupert to ask for the cancelling of the lease to the Wheat Pool or the insertion of a clause making it obligatory to ship a reasonable amount of grain through the elevator each year.

STORY OF SIXTEENTH

Col. "Sandy" Urquhart Writes Epic Of Famed Canadian Scottish

Ypres Gas Attack

Somme, Vimy, Amiens and Cambrai Win Renown For Highlanders

OTTAWA, Dec. 20: (Canadian Press)—The library of histories devoted to the achievements of individual units of the Canadian Corps during the war is increasing steadily. The latest addition is that of the 16th Battalion (Canadian Scottish). The product of several years of exhaustive effort on the part of its author, Colonel H. M. Urquhart D.S.O., M.C., the book justifies every hope and expectation with which its appearance was awaited.

The painstaking thoroughness with which the writer pictures the record of the Battalion is reinforced by a well-balanced judgment, by the exercise of a fine discrimination between things that are important and those that are not, and by the sane application of a mature sense of values.

The history is noteworthy in many respects. Its language mirrors a cultured and well-stored mind, language as reflexive as the crystal surface of a mountain weir, and, employed as the fluent medium wherewith the historian sets forth his reactions to the drama to which he himself played a notable role, it elevates the work to a status no hitherto achieved by preceding unit histories. Thus amid the horrors of the Ypres Salient, the inferno of the bombardment and the pungent fumes of high explosive, Colonel Urquhart is not lost to "the fragrance of the blossoming hedges, the scent of flowers in the neglected gardens, the freshness of the morning air" which "mingled in a draught of sweetness and advanced bravely to defeat the poison of death. The sun peeped over the summit of Wytshaete and gilded Kemmel with its tints; the war and its carnage dissolved for a fleeting moment into a mirage of beauty and peace."

One of the original units of the First Canadian Contingent, the 16th Battalion was recruited from the Highlander Regiments of Vancouver, Victoria, Winnipeg and Hamilton. It had an unusual origin and its early history could not but be unique. The militia regiments from which the original Expeditionary Force Battalion was drawn incorporated all the virtues, the esprit de corps and the prejudices which are not uncharacteristic of Highlanders. So it was that the 16th for more than two years carried on with each of its four companies wearing a different tartan. Fierce controversies developed whenever efforts were put forward to secure uniformity; but the difficulty was eventually composed.

Kitchener's Wood

Not unnaturally one immediately looks in the history for the story of that immortal charge of the 16th Battalion through Kitchener's Wood, west of St. Julien, at midnight on April 22, 1915. Operating with the 10th Battalion, the Highlanders, it will be recalled, were thrown desperately against the advancing enemy on the open left flank of the Canadians in the first stages of the second Battle of Ypres. Beyond the general fact that this tragically glorious onslaught was delivered, little has ever been made known of its details and nothing has been published to connect it with the general plan of counter-offensive operations. Colonel Urquhart supplies all that has been lacking so far as the 16th is concerned, and the history of Canadian self-sacrifice is by so much enriched.

Read in conjunction with the histories of the 42nd Battalion (Beresford Topp) and of the Princess Patricia's (Hodder Williams), that of the 16th goes far towards completing the confused picture of those two tragic weeks in June, 1916, in the Ypres Salient when the Germans successfully assaulted Mount Sorrel and Sanctuary Wood, and were eventually thrown back. Colonel Urquhart supplies the missing pieces in a jig-saw puzzle with few remaining to be inserted in place.

The nightmare of the Somme, with the Battalion operating with the Australians at Mouquet Farm, and, again, east of Courcellette; the capture of Vimy Ridge, and the subsequent operations against the Arleux Switch, Hill 70 (the Battalion was not engaged in attack at Paschendale) and the battles of 1918 are graphically detailed. In particular does he dwell on the Cambrai fighting in which the 16th played such a notable part.

Characteristically Canadian

The history would not be that of a Canadian unit if it did not contain much that was light and humorous. In this respect Colonel Urquhart is fortunate for the 16th Battalion issued one of those remarkable periodicals known as Trench Magazines. Like "The Listening Post" of the Seventh Battalion, "The Twentieth Gazette" of the unit bearing that numeral, "The Dead Horse Corner Gazette" of the Fourth Battalion, "The Brazier" was the cheery, light-hearted product of men who had learned to laugh amid the horror and tragedy of their environment. Colonel Urquhart draws copiously from this regimental publication, quoting its austere comment on things in general and reproducing many of its priceless absurdities.

Well-equipped for the task of Battalion Historian, Colonel Urquhart served with the 16th from its origin until 1917 when he became brigade-major of the first Canadian Infantry Brigade. Later he achieved the distinction of himself commanding a Highlander unit, the 43rd Camerons of Winnipeg; and while leading this Battalion he was seriously wounded in August, 1918, at Damery, during the Amiens operations. Since then he has been an invalid.

To set forth the record of the 16th has been for him, as indeed for all Battalion Historians, a labor of love; and if the former members of this gallant unit have waited long for the publication of their history, they will have the deep satisfaction of knowing that a volume has been issued which sets a lofty mark for those which are yet to come.

The report of Fire Chief D. H. McDonald for the month of November, presented to the city council at its meeting last night, showed that there had been five calls during the month with no loss. Expenditures of the department for the month had totalled $994.70. The usual inspections had been made of departmental equipment, public buildings, etc., all of which had been found to be in good order.

Why Endure PILES MISERY

The weakening agony of piles robs life of its pleasure, turns days of brightness into days of misery, and brings periods of acute suffering. Overwhelming evidence proves Zam-Buk is incomparable for lessening the pain, bleeding, swelling and inflammation.

Mr. Alf Brown, of Merivon, writes: "I hope that my testimony will reach thousands suffering from that dreadful ailment, piles. For six years I was never free from pain. No one ever spent more money in search of a remedy. A sympathetic friend gave me a part of a box of Zam-Buk to try. Its soothing power was marvellous and I soon had a further supply of this grand healing healer. I used Zam-Buk until the old painful trouble was gone completely."

Equally successful for eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, pimples, boils, bad legs, ulcers, scalp disease, poisoned wounds, cuts, burns, scalds, etc. Dealers everywhere sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box $1.25

Oona River House Destroyed by Fire

Property Belonged to Mrs. G. Letts And Was Occupied by Dan Healy

OONA RIVER, Dec. 20.—A fire of unknown origin a few days ago destroyed a house at Oona River owned by Mrs. G. Letts and occupied by Dan Healy, a well known local young man. Healy, with others, was giving his services in connection with the Oona River School Christmas concert when the fire broke out. He lost all his belongings with the exception of the clothes in which he stood.

How to Escape FLU and Grippe

- 1 Avoid so far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.
- 2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.
- 3 Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.
- 4 Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take some Aspirin; remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve three Aspirin tablets in a quarter glassful of water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and usually reduces the inflammation.
- 5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

SPORT NOTES

Sportsmen of the Abitibi district of the province of Quebec have been treated with an unusual sight during the last few days. The district has been invaded by what appears to be a new species of game bird, said to resemble the prairie chicken. It has been reported to the Province of Quebec Association for the Protection of Fish and Game that these birds have been sighted as far south of the Trans - Continental Railway as Rouyn, and the association has requested that some of the birds be sent to their head office in Montreal. The association's interest in these birds has reached a high mark because, having as its aim the conservation of wild life, any new addition to the ranks of the birds already in the province never fails to stir action towards their protection. It has been explained that, if the birds are prairie chicken, they have undoubtedly worked their way eastward along the railway.

London's most athletic "Nippy"—a waitress at Leicester Square Corner House—revealed to the News-Chronicle that she can row, run, jump (long jump and high), hurdle, fence, swim, cycle, play cricket and tennis, ride a motor-cycle and drive a team of six horses. She is Miss Daphne Archer, aged 29, who came to London from a farm at Olford (Lincolnshire) four and a half years ago, obtained work in a restaurant, and has, since 1930, won 65 prizes (medals, shields, cups, etc.) for athletics. Miss Archer is a pretty, fresh complexioned, grey-eyed brunette of middle height. "I like hurdling best of all," she said, "and next to that the long jump. I have won awards for rowing, running, jumping, hurdling and cycling and now I am taking up javelin throwing. I learnt to drive horses on the farm, but I should probably never have become interested in athletics if I had not come to London. I train for half an hour once a week; in summer I skip for half an hour every morning on the roof of the Corner House, just to keep fit."

Working Out Gun Licence

City Council Receives Answer From Attorney General in Regard To Recent Request

In answer to a recent request of the city council that hunting licences be granted free to the unemployed in order that they might be thus assisted in providing food for themselves, a letter from Attorney General R. H. Pooley informed the city council at its meeting last night that this was considered "a dangerous alteration to the act which would result in many others attempting to evade payment of hunting licences." The Attorney General, however, informed the council that a plan had been adopted whereby a certain proportion of the unemployed were being permitted to do sufficient work to over the cost of hunting licences and this seemed to be working out satisfactorily.

Mayor Orme stated that this plan had been adopted here and quite a number of the unemployed had taken advantage of it. The scheme seemed to have worked out satisfactorily here. The Attorney General's letter was ordered filed.

For Particular Men

Dear Friends—

How would you like to have a say about your own Christmas gifts, this year?

Discourage them all you please, but folks who are fond of you will buy you something for Christmas. But they'd like to be sure that it was something you would like and could use. They have a suspicion that with times the way they are, you probably would welcome things to wear.

Here's how you can help them out, and do yourself a good turn too. Check off on this list some articles you could put to good use, what sizes you take, color preference, etc. then see that some of the family get hold of it. They'll do the rest.

Your folks know that at Bryant's they get good standard brands of apparel that will "stand by you" at most reasonable prices; that necessary after-Christmas exchanges are cheerfully made; that we have a twenty-one year reputation for fair dealing to maintain, year in and year out. When a man sees Bryant's name on his Christmas gift box, he knows that he is getting something.

Wishing all a Merry Christmas.

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

GREAT SHOW IS STAGED

Procession to Lord Mayor's Office Has Long Been Formal Event

LONDON, Dec. 20: (Canadian Press)—The famous Lord Mayor's show was held recently. The idea of making an Empire Pageant of this year's show was abandoned. There was some talk of instituting this feature of the show in commemoration of the coming together of the countries of the Empire at the Ottawa Conference. Economy was urged as one reason for the rejection of this project, and also the lack of time for staging a suitable exhibition.

Alderman Percy Walter Greenaway, head of a well known firm of printers, is the new Lord Mayor of London. It is curious, incidentally, to notice how many Lord Mayors of London in recent years have been associated with the printing and publishing trades. Alderman Greenaway, who has just retired from the office of Sheriff, has received the honor of knighthood, which is customary upon such retirement. There are many formalities for a Lord Mayor-elect of London to undergo before he reaches the Civic Chair. His election by the Court of Common Council of the City takes place on Michaelmas Day. Some weeks later he must attend the House of Lords to receive from the Lord Chancellor the King's approval of his appointment. This has been necessary since the reign of King John. Finally on Lord Mayor's Day, the new Lord Mayor goes in civic state to the Law Courts, where he is sworn in before the Lord Chief Justice. The "Show" accompanies him, and the great banquet at the Guildhall concludes the day's ceremonies.

The coach of the Lord Mayor, which is always one of the most admired sights in the Show, was built in 1796. There are no stables attached to the Mansion House and the coach is hauled by private contractors. In earlier years the Lord Mayor used to ride on horseback in the procession, but when a certain Lord Mayor-elect was unseated the Common Council thought well to provide the coach.

During his year of office the Lord Mayor ranks as an Earl, and in the City only the King takes precedence of him. Even the King never officially passes the City boundaries without the Lord Mayor's formal approval. When His Majesty pays a ceremonial visit to the City, the Lord Mayor awaits him at Temple Bar, and presents to him the City Sword in token that his visit is agreeable to the citizens. The King lightly touches the sword to signify that he returns it to the Lord Mayor.

NO CHANGE IN COUNCIL

council had to accept the terms of the petition. It was up to the city council to use its own judgment and discretion in the matter, he felt. As far as he was concerned personally, he would support a move to reduce the aldermanic board from eight to six members but was opposed to four. He moved an amendment that a bylaw be prepared for submission to the electors reducing the aldermanic board from eight to six members.

Rudderham's Views

Ald. Rudderham stated that he was opposed to the petition. Nor did he see any reason to convince him that an aldermanic board of eight members was unwieldy. In addition to being opposed to an aldermanic board of four members, he was also opposed to cutting the membership of the board to six at this time. He had no doubt that some of the sponsors of the petition were actuated by a desire to eliminate a certain element from the council. He felt that an aldermanic board of four would be unable to look after the diversified business of the city in an efficient manner. Nor did he believe that the business of the public would be properly safeguarded with an aldermanic board of four.

Mayor Orme stated that he had given the matter a good deal of thought since the last meeting and he had come to the conclusion that to reduce the aldermanic board to four would be inadvisable.

Ald. Collart wished it to be understood that, as far as he was personally concerned, there was no desire to eliminate a certain element from the council.

Ald. McCutcheon did not see why four aldermen could not function efficiently. He had been thinking of late that a council meeting once a month and a half-hour committee meeting before the council meeting would be sufficient.

After some further discussion, Ald. Macdonald seconded Ald. Casey's amendment for six aldermen.

On the vote being taken, the council divided as shown.

Length of Term

Following the discussion on the number of aldermen, it was moved by Ald. Casey that a referendum be submitted at the civic election next month on the question of whether aldermen should sit for one or two year terms. This motion was seconded by Ald. Pillsbury and carried unanimously.

The two-year term for aldermen is now provided by statute but, if the electors expressed themselves as being in favor of the one-year term, amending legislation to that effect might be sought by the city.

RIGHTS ARE DISCUSSED

Nationality of Women Considered By League Assembly

MONTREAL, Dec. 20: (Canadian Press)—Why the Assembly of the League of Nations voted in favor of the Hague Convention on the nationality of married women, which, while enlarging the rights of women in this respect, did not accord them equality with men, was explained by Madame Fremont, of Quebec, the world's only fully accredited woman delegate to the last assembly of the league, in addressing a meeting under the auspices of the Federation Nationale St. Jean Baptiste here. If this question had been reopened then it was feared that some countries would take advantage of that fact to demand the reopening of other matters pronounced upon by the International Law Codification Conference of The Hague, of 1930. Such a risk could not be taken, she said, and therefore the nationality of married women convention was accepted without reservation.

It was unreasonable to be disappointed because the league in the thirteen years it has functioned had not been able to solve all the problems of the modern world, Madame Fremont declared. Without the league in which 56 countries are represented the position of international affairs would be desperate, she declared. It was a great moral force and a protection for governments.

Valuable service is rendered in that the investigations of expert bodies in the six sections of the league secretariat enable a comprehensive and impartial presentation of information and recommendations, which no government has the time or the facilities to obtain otherwise. Last year seven countries implemented the recommendations of the league regarding traffic in drugs, and this year 35 countries pledged themselves to amend their laws in this regard. Madame Fremont said that to her, on behalf of Canada, had fallen the honor of moving that a strongly worded suggestion be sent to certain countries which had not yet come into line on this question, and that it was adopted unanimously.

Bernau and Kuestrin, two cities in Northern Germany, recently celebrated their seven hundredth anniversary. Both cities were founded in the year 1232.

With $41,000 which he cleared in Prince Rupert realty, O. M. Helgeron left here 18 months ago for Saskatoon and is now reputed to be $238,402.87 richer today. He landed in Saskatoon just as the real estate boom there was starting.

With a left uppercut to the jaw and a short arm jab to the heart, Kid Olmen knocked out Abe Mortimer, colored, in the fifth of a scheduled 20-round boxing bout here last night. Nelson Dunn was referee.

James Quinn, who was caught under a heavy boulder while engaged in railway construction work near Fiddler Creek, was brought to the city by train last evening. He is feared to have suffered a broken back. It was four hours after the rock had fallen on him before he could be extricated.
