HENRY THORNTON AND PRINCE RUPERT.

On June 8, 1911, an agreement was entered into between the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company and the City of Prince Rupert under which the railway company was granted certain privileges and particularly a rebate in taxation amounting to many thousands of dollars and extending over a period of ten years, under which the railway company and its subsidiary company, their heirs and assigns agreed to certain obligations which have not been carried out.

The Canadian National Railway has taken over both the G.T.P. and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company and is therefore legally bound to carry out the agreement and morally bound to give Prince Rupert the same privileges which she is not at present enjoying. Following are extracts from the agreement:

The Agreement

The Railway Company will within a period of three months from the date of the ratification of this agreement, by the Legislature, commence the erection of works within the city limits, consisting of permanent station, roundhouse, engine works, machine shops, and other structures and accessories incidental to the establishment at Prince Rupert of the Pacific terminus of the railway company and complete the same with all reasonable despatch, retaining in the city the payrolls in connection with such works, so that it may be feasible to do so.

The Townsite Company will within a period of two years from the date of the ratification of this agreement by the Legislature, commence the erection of a first class hotel of modern design and appointments, and complete the construction thereof with due diligence.

The Railway Company will finance the construction of a drydock at Prince Rupert in conformity with the agreement respecting the same between the railway company and the government of the Dominion of Canada.

"This agreement shall extend and be binding upon the successors and assigns of the parties hereto respectively."

The bylaw was passed by the city of Prince Rupert September 1911, and later was ratified by the Legislature of British Columbia.

City Did Its Part

The city of Prince Rupert carried out its part of the pact by letter, the railway company giving rebate of taxes for ten years as agreed upon.

The railway company and the development company failed to carry out the agreement and here are still the roundhouse, engine works, machine shops and other structures and accessories incidental to the establishment at Prince Rupert of the Pacific terminus of the railway company to be built here.

The development company failed to build the hotel as promised, only the excavation for the foundation being completed so far.

Sir Henry Thornton says the railway must carry out its agreements. We agree with Sir Henry.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, speaking in the Westholme theatre here shortly before he became premier of Canada, promised the people of Prince

Ruhr is Cut off From Rest of Germany by French and Railways Receiving Attention of Invaders

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 29.—Ruhr has been taken over so completely that today the city of Dortmund is the only open avenue of communication with the remainder of Germany.

Ruhr occupation officials turned their attention today to extending control of the railway lines, operation being hampered by the refusal of German workmen to take orders from the French.

The railroad strike is completely effective. In Coblenz the French engineers have taken over the lines and heavy guards have been maintained at important points. The workers declare that they will not resume their jobs until the French soldiers are removed.

Strike forces called out the employees at telegraph and telephone central offices, in protest against the occupation by French troops. This has given the French administration another problem to solve.

IRISH REBEL ARMY ACTIVE

Waterworks Destroyed and all Communications Cut; Post Offices Ineffective

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Despatches from Ireland say that the Irish rebels destroyed the waterworks at Youghal in reprisal for the execution of two men convicted of possessing arms. Six thousand people are without water at Killybegny.

Owing to the destruction of communications, people cannot get letters, food or coal except what is conveyed under military escort for a distance of seven or eight miles. Nearly every post office in western Ireland is said to be out of business.

BIG POLITICAL FIGHT QUEBEC

Liberals Have Candidates in Every Seat and Opposition All But Six

MONTREAL, Jan. 29.—Candidates whose names go before the electors in the Quebec general elections were nominated today throughout the province. The Taschereau government has a candidate in every one of the 85 seats. Conservatives and others who are against the present Liberal regime intimated that there will be opposition in every county. This morning the promise looked like being fulfilled in all but six seats.

OPERATORS ON STRIKE IN ALL OCCUPIED AREA

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 29.—Telephone and telegraph operators all struck as a protest against the French occupation of German territory.

Rupert specifically and unreservedly, that the original Laurier program in regard to the development of Prince Rupert as a Pacific port would be carried out. We now hold Mr. King to that statement. We look to the railway company and to the government of Canada to implement its promises. Prince Rupert has done her part. On the strength of the statement of Mr. King, we elected Fred Stork to support the Liberal government. We are now looking for fulfillment.

Exploitation of Canada Was Part of Kaiser's Plan When Germany Conquered the World

How were Canada and the other British Dominions to have been treated by Germany if she had won the war? The matter is dealt with in an article on August Thyssen, the Rockefeller of Germany, the man who defied the Kaiser in his war schemes and more recently defied France. In an article in "Success" Thyssen is quoted as saying:

"I was personally promised a free grant of thirty thousand acres of selected territory in Australia, and a loan from the Deutsche Bank of about four million marks at three per cent to enable me to develop my business in Australia. Several other houses were promised special trade concessions in India, which was to be conquered by Germany together with several other countries, by the end of 1915. Besides, a syndicate was formed for the systematic exploitation of Canada, consisting of twelve large industrial leaders. The working capital for the Canadian undertaking was fixed at five hundred million marks of which half was to be subscribed by the German government. Guarantees of a person character were also made to me and other leaders."

PATTULLO IS BACK IN TOWN

Discussed Skeena River Bridge With Residents of Terrace

VISIT OTHER SECTIONS

"The main issue at Terrace at the present time is the question of building the bridge across the Skeena river to the Lakelse side, Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, is now trying to secure the consent of the Dominion Government so that it will not be necessary to put in a drawbridge and I hope that the foundation of the bridge, at least, will be put in this year."

So stated Hon. T. D. Pattullo, member for Prince Rupert and Minister of Lands, who returned last night from Terrace where he spent two enjoyable though busy days meeting several delegations and many people of the district. He was there all day Saturday and part of Sunday and was kept busy most of the time in conference with his constituents of that section.

The minister stated that the people there seemed to be in a very confident mood. He noted a marked improvement in the district since his last visit about a year ago. With agricultural, mineral and timber possibilities, the valley is capable of supporting many thousands of people, Mr. Pattullo declares.

Questioned as to the disposition of the old provincial government buildings on Second Avenue, now that the new building has been opened, Mr. Pattullo told the Daily News that nothing definite had yet been determined but he was inclined to the opinion that the best thing to do would be to sell at auction all the buildings, except the one given over to the library and the government agent's residence, and have them removed, turning the grounds into grass and flowers until the time was opportune to dispose of the property.

Mr. Pattullo will be here until Wednesday night when he will go to Stewart with H. F. Kergin, member for Atlin, who will arrive from Victoria that morning. Returning from Stewart Friday morning, Mr. Pattullo will leave Friday night for Vanderhoof where he will spend a day, then going on to Prince George. He will return to Victoria via the Canadian National overland route.

DAN CAMPBELL MUST DO TIME AT OKALLA

Appeal Against Six Months Sentence For Liquor Selling Was Dismissed in the County Court Today

Dan Campbell, found guilty by Magistrate Metcalf of selling liquor, and sentenced to six months at Okalla, will have to serve his time, the appeal being dismissed and the conviction sustained by Judge Young in the County Court this morning. The defence witness, Montgomery, pending whose arrival the case was adjourned last week failed to make his appearance today and the evidence before the court was accepted. Milton Gonzalez, of Williams & Gonzalez, appeared for the appellant and T. P. Cooper, city solicitor, prosecuted.

One Besney returned today on the Princess Mary from a business trip to Vancouver.

Cripple Soldier Attempted an Assault on King George but Quickly Arrested by Police

LONDON, Jan. 29.—What is described by the Evening News as an attempt to assault King George was made today by a crippled ex-soldier, when the King and Queen arrived at St. Pancras Station from Sandringham.

This morning's newspaper says the soldier, who had been hiding, dashed towards the King waving his crutch threateningly and got within a few yards of His Majesty when he was stopped by the police.

Other accounts describe the incident as an attempt of the soldier to attract the King's attention and the soldier himself placed this construction on the affair.

MRS. VANCE'S SISTER WAS CARNIVAL QUEEN

Will Go to Montreal Next Month to Represent Edmonton at Winter Carnival

Miss Leona McIntosh, sister of Mrs. W. D. Vance, of this city, who was Queen of the Winter Carnival at Edmonton last week, has been chosen to represent that city at the Montreal Winter Carnival next month. Miss McIntosh, who is a skilful skater and a keen participant in winter sports, was elected Queen of the Edmonton Carnival in a contest which included candidates from the Rotary, Kiwanis and Geyo Clubs, the Hudson Bay Co., Dominion Government and Canadian National Railways. She was the candidate of the last mentioned organization. The honor bestowed upon Miss McIntosh is a source of a good deal of gratification to Mr. Vance for he was one of her first instructors in the art of skating.

Miss Phoebe Seukler, who was in this city for several months a couple of years ago, has been requested by Mayor Tisdall, of Vancouver, to represent that city at the Montreal Carnival. Miss Seukler is at present a student at the St. Anne de Bellevue college at Montreal.

BRITISH DEBT TO THE STATES IS DISCUSSED

Gloomy Outlook For British Taxpayer if Pound of Flesh is Demanded

MAKE FURTHER EFFORTS

Relief From Extreme Taxation Was Looked Forward to by People

LONDON, Jan. 29.—It is understood the cabinet will meet tomorrow to discuss Baldwin's report on his American financial mission. A division of opinion is generally attributed to cabinet members on the question of accepting the United States debt terms. This is unconfirmed by any ministerial statement. No minister except Baldwin has discussed the situation for publication and the popular hope is that terms may yet be mitigated, based on the assumption that further efforts will be made through diplomatic exchanges to influence the United States. Most of the British leader writers take Baldwin's Southampton statement at its face value and do not build seriously upon such efforts.

It is regarded as certain that if the terms are not modified the coming budget will be a gloomy one for the taxpayers who have been banking for some time upon relief from taxation and exchange and a budget surplus.

Excellent Work Of Minister.

At the opening of the new provincial building Thursday, Mayor Newton is reported to have spoken appreciatively of the work of Hon. T. D. Pattullo in securing the big structure for Prince Rupert. We can hardly let the occasion pass without adding the congratulations of the Daily News. It was first rate work for the member to do and is generally appreciated.

In getting the court house for this city it must not be thought that Mr. Pattullo was getting for us anything which was not our due. The building had been promised the city at the time of the sale of property when the townsite was first marketed and the provincial government of the day went away with one fourth of the proceeds. The great thing about this fulfillment of a pledge and the spending here of Prince Rupert's own money was that we so seldom get what we think is coming to us from various sources that when it does come we appreciate it highly. We congratulate Mr. Pattullo on getting for us our rights and we assure him it is appreciated.

New Building A Model For Future Structures.

The erection of this fine new building here will prove an impetus to the erection of beautiful and permanent buildings in the city generally. It will add an air of permanence to the place which it did not formerly possess. It will show the world that whoever else may doubt the future of the city, the present provincial government at any rate has faith in it.

The building was needed badly, especially the Land Registry department, for there was no safe vault where deeds to land and other documents could be stored. The whole business was cramped and the employees worked under difficulties. Now all this is changed. There is available the best building in the city, which is as it should be.

Next Step For Minister To Take.

The next step for the minister of lands to take is to commence the building of a road out of Prince Rupert to the canaries. It is not expected that this will be done all in one year, but people are looking for a beginning to be made. For a number of years they have been expecting the road to be commenced and it was generally understood here that some action would be taken this year.

We all know that Mr. Pattullo is as anxious to have that road built as the people of Prince Rupert but there are so many calls from other parts of the constituency for improvements and money is not plentiful. Now, however, the people feel that action should be taken and that work should definitely commence this year.

Financial Times On Grain Shipments.

The Financial Times, commenting on efforts to ship grain through Victoria, mentions Prince Rupert as a future grain port. It says:

"We hope that the good city of Victoria will allow the movement, that has gained some currency, to establish a grain elevator in its harbor, to die a natural death. Councils of calm consideration will show that Victoria is not economically situated to handle the grain trade. Grain and its products for export can be handled economically only at points where rail and water meet. These are at the terminals of our Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Railway, namely, Prince Rupert and Vancouver. It is going to require great effort on the part of these two cities to establish themselves firmly in this trade and it will probably be several years yet before Prince Rupert can make a start."

"My Hands Trembled and I Could Not Sleep"

Mr. Thomas Honey, Brantford, Ont., writes:—

"When I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I was so nervous that when I picked up a cup of tea my hand would tremble like a leaf. I could not sleep well, could not remember things, and there were neuralgic pains through my body. After taking seven boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am in perfect health."

EXPLOITATION OF CANADA WAS PART OF KAISER'S PLAN WHEN GERMANY CONQUERED THE WORLD.

For example, the German government offered to secretly extend political and financial aid to us with the understanding that the government would accede to a controlling voice in our business. I saw in this a Hohenzollern move to put the commercial class under the mailed fist before the war would be over, and thus counterbalance the danger of a possible revolution.

Dreams of Conquest

Thyssen points out that these promises were not vaguely given. They were offered in the shape of official guarantees. The minutes of the secret meetings were entered into a special folio of the Commerce Department's archives. There was every indication that the German government, headed by the Kaiser, meant business on a scale of conquest so vast as to seem almost theatrical in view of what happened to Germany on Armistice Day.

It must now be clear to every sane American says "Success," that had not Uncle Sam come to the rescue with war material and man power just in the nick of time the German Empire would have won the war against a whole world in arms. What the Hohenzollern dynasty intended to do with a world thus conquered is also outlined in the Thyssen pamphlet.

Bestowing Favors

"The conquest of Great Britain and all her colonies," writes Thyssen, "was to be made the occasion of bestowing upon certain favorite and wealthy men some of the most desirable residences in England and concessions practically without number and of various kinds, throughout the great British Colonial Empire. While I have no actual proof of this, it is true that intimations of this sort were freely made to me and other business leaders. Our group of men included the leaders in command of every industry and trade in Germany, and appeals were made to us personally as well as collectively. At one of these meetings it was proposed to levy huge indemnities upon the nations to be conquered, to foster the growth of German industry everywhere abroad, and to relieve German home industries and trade from taxation for many years after the war. It was not doubted that Germany would win; in fact, to have given voice to any form of doubt at these meetings would have been synonymous with treason. The German military machine guaranteed victory. The government demanded of the German business machine the monetary means to complete the victory. That was the situation."

The Man in the Moon SAYS:—

IF Vancouver got's Prince Rupert drydock, then I will come down out of the moon. So there!

A MONTREAL judge suggests flogging as a preventive of drug peddling. It reminds one somewhat of the old fashioned fly-powder where the directions specified that you first had to catch the fly.

COASTING is all right if you don't try to turn sharp corners.

NOW comes some terrible person who suggests that Vancouver harbor is not deep enough to sink a floating drydock. What about moving Vancouver up to Prince Rupert where they could have a real harbor.

WE would not mind having Vancouver here but we'd hate to have Cronie.

AND now the plumbers will have their little innings.

CITIZENS who have been hearing of the possible removal of the drydock are singing to themselves:

We don't want to fight But by jingo if we do We've got the grit, we've got the brains

We've got some powder too. We've had to fight before And sure will fight again That drydock shall not go off to Vancouver.

HEAVY STORMS HAD BIG TOLL.

Recent Atlantic Tempests Caused Disasters Comparing With Days of Great War

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(By the Associated Press).—The hurricanes, whole gales, half gales and storms which have been sweeping the Atlantic for nearly two months, have spent their force, the weather bureau reports, but in their wake they have left stranded and sunken ships, unsolved and mysterious tragedies of the sea, and a series of "delayed rains" for transatlantic liners which has not been equalled since war days.

Now comes the worst month of the year, January brings more vicious pounding gales to Atlantic ships than any other. But the weather bureau joins with maritime experts, this year, in the belief that it cannot possibly equal the late November to January 1 record.

That seven week period which came to its end January 7 left a record hard for any like period to approach. The Atlantic claimed 12 ships; it took 28 men to their deaths; it made 23 giant liners more than 12 hours late

Hurricanes Worst

In addition there were accidents or near accidents on the Sea of Mamora, the Pacific, the Great Lakes, the Baltic Sea—but the hurricanes which crossed the Atlantic were the worst.

Secretary Hughes brought the first great hurricane with him when he returned from South America in November. It swept out from behind Bermuda with a force of more than 100 miles an hour. It tore across the Atlantic, hit the French coast and tore right back again. And on November 28 there began to be reports of trouble at sea.

Five Canadian fishing schooners failed to report that day. "Anxiety is felt for them," said the despatches. Later four got in; the fifth is in the list of missing ships.

Bootlegger Wrecks

On the same day a bootlegger went to pieces on Long Island, and residents of the vicinity got most of the cargo, according to the prohibition agents. Towards night a bottle was washed up on Long Island with the story of six men who had fought death two weeks in open boat.

Two days later the Italian liner Presidente Wilson crept into quarantine here, and with her came the first reports of what actually was happening out on the Atlantic.

"Storms?" said her officers. "Storms? We have never experienced anything like it. The gale at times was 120 miles an hour."

For seven weeks since then incoming tigers have told the same story. So often has it been retold that it had to be a particularly desperate fight to get into the news.

But from then until January 7 hardly a ship entered New York harbor that did not show the scars of its fight. And daily there were reports of 808 received of foundering ships, of boats driven on unprotected shores, of liners with passengers huddled in to keep them safe from waves which crashed over smoke stacks—in short, of everything terrible the sea can do.

Schooner's Plight

On December 24 the liner President Garfield brought in a three master she had towed from off Nantucket. The Rosa Perlita, the schooner, was in a bad way and her crew was starving. Two days later the Menominee, another liner, came in three days late with a fishing crew of four. Those men had fired their schooner, which was leaking and crumbling under them.

Such great ocean travellers as the Caronia, the Berengaria, the Olympic, the Majestic, the Zealand, Samland and many others, came in, all days late. They told of terrific battles with the waves. La Savoie of the French line reported 100 mile gales and 90 foot waves.

Ships put into Halifax to get out of trouble. On December 28 four small boats crashed to the beaches near New York harbor. They were all ill-fated bootleggers.

The Heinrich Kayser, a freighter, joined the mystery ships on December 6. A wireless from her said her rudder chains were broken. She was drifting. There was a full gale. With a crew of 12 aboard she is still missing. Her owners at last are

Six-Year-Old Had Bronchitis Every Winter

Bronchitis generally begins with chills, followed by fever and a harsh, dry, hacking cough. There is a raising of phlegm, which at first is of a light color, but, as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

All those who are troubled with bronchitis will find in Dr. Wood's Pine Syrup a remedy that will stimulate the bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, and loosen the phlegm.

Mrs. Oliver C. LePage, South Ruston, P. E. I., writes:—"My little six-year-old girl had very bad attacks of bronchitis every winter. In the evening and during the night, she would have fever and choke up, and had a wheezing in her chest. We tried several cough medicines, but they never seemed to do her any good. A neighbor advised us to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which we did, and after she had taken two bottles she got perfectly well."

Mixing Tomato Soup

Mrs. Henderson has written to thank us for a cream of tomato soup recipe we sent her. She says it is the only one she has tried so far that does not curdle into lumps. If any other woman would care for this recipe we shall be glad to send a copy. Mrs. H. says she believes it is Pacific Milk which keeps the soup from curdling, but really it is the way it is mixed.

DRYDOCK AGAIN IS DISCUSSED

Correspondent Suggests Canadian National Live up to Its Agreements
PRINCE RUPERT SNUBBED
 Vancouver Sun Again Lies About Prince Rupert's Court House Cost

A Vancouver correspondent sends a clipping of an editorial from the Vancouver Sun and in connection with it writes the following letter:

Vancouver, B.C.
 Jan. 25, 1923.

Editor Daily News,
 Enclosed you will please find a clipping from the Vancouver Sun, re Rupert Drydock. In the first place is there 40 to 50 ft. of water in the Vancouver harbor to submerge the Prince Rupert dock. I don't think so, and in the second place, if there was a drydock in Vancouver, where is the business coming from for it, and the Victoria one. One or the other will have to rust out. At that I think there will be more need for the dock to stay at Rupert, that is if the C.N.R. are going to have a line of boats to the Orient, which should be put on this summer. Rupert being 480 miles nearer the Orient than Vancouver, and with easy railroad grades should do a large bulk of the Oriental business. Seattle is the port that will feel the effects of this more so than Vancouver as Seattle now does the large bulk of the Oriental business. Japanese business men said the other day that if Vancouver could show they could deliver the silk and tea cargos quicker to New York than via Seattle, they would get the business. Surely that will also apply to Prince Rupert, and with Rupert's 480 miles start it is easy to see what will happen to both Vancouver and Seattle. The sooner the Dominion Government and the C.N.R. gets Prince Rupert a going and gets the population up to say 25,000 to 30,000 the better for the country and the railroad, as the railroad would have all the traffic to itself, and would have a valuable waterfront property, plenty for themselves and the rest to lease to other people for dockage, etc., not like Vancouver, got to buy every foot they need like they did for the grain elevator and the Ballanlyne pier and the G.T.P. dock. Talk about sectionalism, Vancouver wants the earth. If it is good for the railroads to live up to their agreements with the City of Vancouver, it surely is the same for Prince Rupert. What about the part of the agreement and C.N.R. that was not lived up to. The G.T.P. agreed to build a large hotel, drydock, railroad station, round house and machine shops for a reduction of taxes for ten years, the company has had the ten years reduction, but the railway has not yet lived up to its part, it is up to Sir Bery Thornton to see to this, as I believe he said the railway must live up to its agreements.

A RUPERT FRIEND,
 The Sun's Editorial
 The following is the editorial article from The Sun:
 The Vancouver Sun has advocated that the $3,000,000 Canadian National drydock, now idle at Prince Rupert, be brought down to Vancouver and put to work.
 It is now suggested that this might hurt the feelings of Prince Rupert's citizens. Supposing it does. Putting the dock to work at Vancouver will not hurt the feelings of Prince Rupert any more than letting it remain idle will hurt the feelings and pockets of Canadian taxpayers, now groaning under burdens imposed by unproductive expenditures and economic monstrosities like $600,000 for a court house at Prince Rupert and $5,000,000 for a drydock at Prince Rupert.

 Physically, Canada is in splendid condition. Statistics prove her ability to reproduce and maintain people with a very high standard of vitality.
 Financially, Canada has an entirely different story to tell. The effect of this is clearly seen by our inability to hold Canadians from migrating south.
 Canada's national policy seems to be the educating of young Canadians and sending them to the United States just at a time when their brain and brawn would be most productive in the developing of Canada.
 The reason for this migration is that Canadian business and Canadian business men have degenerated to a sentimental rather than an economic basis. To a young man educated in modern business ethics, the economic basis has a compelling appeal; the sentimental has none.
 Canadian producers of farm products cannot begin to live on the same standard as Americans who do business under scientific and co-operative methods of growing and handling their products. The same comparison is true of business men, professional men and wage earners.
 Slobering sentimentality has projected itself into Canadian financial and public affairs to such an extent that today considerations which involve not only millions of dollars, but the very prosperity of the country are governed 95 per cent by sentiment and 5 per cent by economics.
 An absolute reversal of this policy for the next ten years is the only possible thing which will bring prosperity to Prince Rupert, to Vancouver and to Canada.

Canadian National Railway engineers have completed their survey of the railway spur proposed by J. D. McArthur in connection with the new sawmill here. It is now expected that building of the spur will commence early in the spring.
 Charles S. Arnold, the prominent Vancouver barrister who secured a new trial for Fred Deal the negro charged with killing Constable McBeath, is in the city to defend local alleged liquor sellers.
 The Prince George Conservative Association has elected the following officers: President, Thomas Porter; vice-president, W. G. D. Harper; secretary, Alexander Smith; treasurer, G. W. Ferguson; executive, A. Moffatt, H. A. Garney, A. Sibley, W. P. Ogilvie, M. E. Harper and Alex. Ogston.
 Father Coccolia, who is in charge of the native industrial school at Fort Fraser, is coming here on St. Patrick's Day and will bring with him the Indian boys' brass band from the school.
 Miles Gibson has arrived here from Cranbrook to take over the position of district forester succeeding P. S. Bonney who is going to Prince Rupert to replace F. C. Manning, transferred to Victoria.

 Editor Daily News,
 Will you please correct a statement in your paper Jan. 19, that I am secretary of Farmers' Institute here. I am not, though I was for a couple of months last spring until some interested party reported me to Government Telegraph Service. (I am agent of Govt. Tel. Sys. here) and I was forced to resign as secretary Farmers' Institute, although it entails only a sort of community service, that is making out the orders of such supplies as members desire to order through the Institute, and a service for which I received or asked nothing.
 In the instance where my name is used, I was only guilty of accommodating the Secretary of the Farmers' Institute with one of my checks that apparently happened to be good.

RUSSIA TAXES ON HOUSEHOLD SERVANTS
 MOSCOW, Jan. 29. - Russia's tax on luxuries has been extended to include servants.
 By recent decree a tax of 400 million rubles a year was levied upon all families having one servant, and 500 million rubles for each additional maid or butler in the house. At the present rate of exchange 100,000,000 rubles is the equivalent of $3.
 The minimum wage for servants in Moscow today, by a ruling of the central trade union, is 200 million per month. All servants must be secured through a government labor bureau, and failure to register each household worker, or endeavors to avoid paying the servants' tax, is punishable by imprisonment and fine.

WEEK AT THEATRES

Monday and Tuesday, B. A. Walsh presents Miriam Cooper in "Kindred of the Dust," a side-splitting Comedy Buster Keaton in "My Wife's Relations."

Wednesday and Thursday "The Woman Who Walked Alone," Comedy.

Friday and Saturday, William Fox presents "Thunderclap." The greatest race track drama ever staged, large-sized distinguished personnel including Harold Lloyd is the fun maker and it is said to be his "best yet" picture.

THUNDERCLAP AT WEEK END

Famous Race Track Scene and Thrilling Stunts Make This Big Film

Scenes of Derby days at prominent race tracks are vividly recalled in "Thunderclap," which is to be shown here Friday and Saturday, the piece de resistance of many thrills and pleasing situations being one of the most exciting horse races yet seen either on the track or on the silver screen.

For the nonce, the atmosphere of the motion picture fades into a typical Empire or Lantana scene in which one finds himself again good naturedly jostled by the vast throng and struggling for a point of vantage as the entries parade before the adoring thousands. Again there is the suspense as the riders jockey for advantage at the wire, the snarl of the barrier, the shout, "They're off," the clatter of steel-shod hoofs, the subdued eagerness while the pageant fairly flies down the back stretch, the turn into the final eighth, the closing spurt, the flash beneath the wire and the shouts for the victor.

All is Genuine

It is all so real, so genuine and so thoroughly thrilling that this feature alone is sufficient for the entertainment of those who witness "Thunderclap." There are many other thrills in the life of the little convent girl who finds such a different world when cast among gamblers.

Perhaps most memorable of all, next to the remarkable race scene, is that of the hero swirling down the rapids. One paper says that it made all other similar scenes ever filmed look very tame. In the taking of this incident, Paul Willis, the hero, almost lost his life. He did not have to call on his histrionic assets to register fear, his fear was genuine; and the colored lad who plays in the picture insists that Willis carried a horse shoe in his pocket while he careered down the torrent to what looked like sure death.

Clean Sportsmanship

At the end of the story clean sportsmanship triumphs over crooked gambling; and a mother, a girl and a boy win happiness.

GRIPPING DRAMA IS KINDRED OF DUST

Gripping drama, produced by a masterhand and enacted by a cast the strength of which could not have been improved upon, collectively or individually, that is "Kindred of the Dust," from the famous novel by Peter B. Kyne, whose readers are numbered in the hundreds of thousands.

The suspense which is quickly developed at the start of the tale is carried without diminution throughout the six reels, and the gathering momentum results in a climax which literally brings one out of his seat.

Especially noteworthy are the spectacular incidents of the story, such as a rescue on the log jam. The imminent danger of the two actors who imperil their lives before the camera is so apparent that the spectator leans forward with bated breath, fearful that one or both will slip through the legs and be drowned. Throughout the tale there is a thread of romance which has a particular appeal of its own, with Miriam Cooper as "Nan of the Sawdust Pile," and Ralph Graves as Donald McKay, playing the part of the lovers.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Pictures to be Shown Tonight Illustrating Lecture on Palestine at Empress Theatre

There was an illustrated sermon at the Presbyterian Church last evening, not illustrated by lantern pictures but by word pictures of the power of the gospel to regenerate. It was preached by F. A. Robinson of Toronto of the department of evangelism of the Presbyterian Church.

The musical part of the program was in the hands of two ladies, Miss Nevin, a contralto soloist, and Miss Grunert, pianist.

The expectation was that the sermon would have been illustrated by lantern slides but such was not the intention; the error arose from Rev. Dr. Grant not quite understanding the purport of the advance letter received. The pictures will be shown tonight illustrating the lecture of Palestine. There will also be a good deal of music at the Empress Theatre.

Mr. Robinson and his collaborators are on their way to Ocean Falls where they will hold a series of mission services extending over two weeks. They will go south on the Venture Tuesday evening.

TORONTO SPEAKER ON SOCIAL EVIL

Rev. F. A. Robinson Gives Forceful Address on Extent of Diseases and Methods of Combatting Them

Rev. F. A. Robinson, of Toronto, addressed a men's meeting in the Empress Theatre yesterday afternoon on the subject of the social evil. Mr. Robinson told something of the ravages and extent of social diseases in the Dominion and the efforts that were being made to combat them. Also he told of rescue work. The speaker declared that 50,000 souls died on the North American continent annually from the effects of the diseases. He appealed for action on the part of all men as a matter of protection for their own families.

The lecture was a forceful one and one that should have been heard by far more than were in attendance.

Before the address commenced, Miss Nevin sang a solo, Miss Grunert accompanying.

QUEEN CHARLOTTES

Indian Agent Thomas Deasy, was a passenger on Skidegate from Massett on the last trip of the steamer Prince John. The election of the council of Skidegate Band, will be held on the first Monday in February, at which the Indian agent acts as Returning Officer.

The loss of the steamer Alaskan, off Pacheena, brought to the minds of old residents of Queen Charlotte Islands, the stranding of the same vessel on the shores of Parry Passage, some years ago. While on a trip to Langara Island, the vessel was thrown ashore, and narrowly escaped becoming a total wreck. Halibut boats went to the assistance of the vessel, hauling her from the shore to deep water.

Several new logging camps will be started at once on Massett Inlet. The sawmill, at Buckley Bay, is running with a full crew, while a quantity of lumber is on the way and being shipped to Seattle. The next consignment of squared timber will be taken to Los Angeles, California. It is the intention to make fruit boxes and other commodities from the lumber, which will be finished at the mill of the company, in the growing California city.

It is reported that two large canneries, on Massett Inlet and Alford Bay, will be operated this year. It has been usual for the "Pink" variety of salmon to appear in large numbers every two years. There was a phenomenal run of this species of fish, during 1922. This year, the "Pinks" are not expected. Ever since the canneries operated on the islands, the "Pink" variety appeared during each second year, while few visited the rivers, on the odd years. It is believed by some, that the "Pinks" spawn, in the same rivers and streams on the "off" years.

A number of members of the Church Army of Massett, visited Skidegate, under the direction of Captains Robert Bennett and Robert Ridley. Meetings are being held on the Skidegate Indian reserve, following the two weeks of Christian Endeavor meetings held at Massett. A party of Alaska Haidas comprising twelve members of the Christian Endeavor Society, returned to Haidabueg, Alaska, last week.

WHAT MADE ME HAPPY

"I was congratulating myself that I had passed the winter without catching a cold, when I got one at the beginning of last May. It was because I was run down. Being run down I had some trouble in getting rid of this cold. I was a nervous wreck. I would wake up regularly mornings feeling that some terrible calamity would take place. Although we were comfortably off, I felt sure my husband was going to lose everything. The children worried me. If they made the least noise, I would get into a terrible temper. I would scold them so that I am sure they hated me. I would be mad with myself after it was over and make up my mind never to let it happen again. I would go to bed at night and begin to think and picture dreadful things which might happen to me and my family. I would lay awake for hours, sometimes until daylight, until I was so weak that I could scarcely raise my head. I would waken next day just as tired as when I laid down. After a while I got so that I didn't care what happened. The children annoyed me and I wouldn't have cared if they had left me for good. I felt that it was only a matter of time before I would lose my mind. I knew that my symptoms were due to a run down condition and that if I could only get something to build me up, I might be all right. I knew that there must be some good tonic but most of them made such foolish claims that I was afraid of them. Happening one day to run across a leaflet about Carnol, I was impressed with the moderate way this preparation was described, so I made up my mind I would try it. I did and today I am the happiest and healthiest woman living. I haven't a care in the world. Instead of running away from me, my children are now with me all the time. My husband tells me that my disposition is as near an angel's as any human being's can be, but of course he is prejudiced. I don't believe I have a nerve in my body now."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 6-622

Sport Chat

Son of Canada took the lead in the Men's section of the Fraternal Whist League last week although the St. Andrew's team cannot yet be said to be in second place for they did not play their game with the Elks on account of the banquet. If they win this postponed game they will be on an even footing at the top with the Sons. Vallhalla, losing to the Oddfellows, dropped out of the three-team head place of last week. The Knights of Pythias and Oddfellows are still well up in the standing and together with the Son of England, Knights of Golumbus and Great War Veterans, who are tied not far behind, still have a chance for the season's championship. Only two teams, the Elks and the Moose, are out of the running for the honor.

In the Ladies' League, the Royal Purple regained its hold on first place and, with only one more tournament to go, their chances for the championship are very bright. The only contenders who are in second place one-half a game behind. All the other five teams are now out of the running.
