POLITICAL SITUATION ENGLAND DISCUSSED

SHIPMENTS OF COAL FROM TELKWA TO THIS CITY ABOUT TO COMMENCE

J. Ramsay Macdonald as Premier Discussed Everywhere in Britain Is Much Difference of Opinion

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Premier Baldwin arrived in London from Chequers Court this morning and shortly before noon had an audience with King George at Buckingham Palace.

Previously the Premier had received brief visits from several members of the cabinet.

The visit to the King aroused much speculation. The Central News agency says it learns "from well informed sources that the purpose of Premier Baldwin's visit was to give His Majesty his views and intentions regarding the political situation following the general election."

PRINCE RUPERT WENT AGROUND

C.N.R. Steamer Was Undamaged from Contact With Beach on Saturday Morning

While proceeding slowly out of Dean Channel in a snowstorm C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. D. Donald, went ashore on a gravel bank in Johnstone Passage at 4 o'clock on Saturday morning and remained there until noon when, assisted by the C.P.R. steamer Princess Beatrice, Capt. Cliffe, she succeeded in freeing herself without any damage having been done. She then carried on with her northern voyage and reached here at 1:30 Sunday morning, ten and a half hours late.

When the accident occurred, the steamer was steaming slowly and the impact is said to have been hardly noticed by the passengers. Fortunately, it was a gravel bottom and, while the vessel's hull went partly dry, she is practically undamaged. The Princess Beatrice, coming out of Ocean Falls towards noon stood by and gave a line helping to pull the larger boat off when the tide came full.

On arrival here, the Prince Rupert was given a bill of seaworthiness and proceeded on her voyage to Stewart at 5:35 yesterday morning, returning here at 1:30 this morning and sailing for the south at 5:30 o'clock.

The Princess Beatrice arrived from the south at 5 yesterday afternoon and returned south at 6:15.

STEAMER STARR FLOATED AFTER BEING ASHORE

Men Chopped Ice from Lifeboats in Attempt to Launch Them

CORDOVA, Dec. 10.—The United States mail steamer Starr, which last night went ashore on Point Malinashelkof Strait, 300 miles south of here today, reported herself afloat. Before the Starr floated she pounded badly and her crew of 25 men was making desperate efforts to float the lifeboats. The men were trying to chop from the lifeboats masses of ice that prevented the launching.

The vessel carried mails from Seward to Western Alaska including the Aleutian Islands.

A. Clapperton was taken ill on Saturday night and yesterday his friends were anxious about him. Today he is reported to be improving.

"Premier Baldwin did not tender his resignation and it is understood he is willing to inform tomorrow's cabinet meeting that he is prepared to retain the reins of government until parliament meets next month."

Wait Cabinet Meeting

The British people must apparently wait until tomorrow's cabinet meeting here before learning how Premier Baldwin proposes to act in the present political crisis. Rumors that he already has decided to resign are branded as completely untrue in Conservative quarters and it is said he is determined not to be rushed into a decision under pressure from any source. His supporters earnestly advise him not to resign. His opponents, on the other hand, strongly insist that it is impossible for him to remain as Prime Minister.

Some of the cabinet ministers, it is stated, following several conferences over the week end strongly urged the Premier to resign and advise the King to invite J. Ramsay Macdonald, the Labor leader, to form a cabinet. Other ministers, it is stated, strongly dissented and demanded the continuance of the government with a new premier. This group discusses the cabinet alignment and proposed Austen Chamberlain as premier. They said the Liberals had been sounded on such an arrangement and that they tentatively assured them they would assume an attitude of benevolent neutrality. In several quarters, however, it is believed that Baldwin will eventually resign and that Ramsay Macdonald will be called on to form a ministry.

Expect King to Act

The Labor paper, the Morning Herald, prints a significant editorial in which the expectation is expressed that the King will send for Macdonald.

Many Liberal newspapers urge Macdonald to take the premiership if it is offered to him and hint that Liberals will give him a helping hand toward carrying many measures of social reform but would not be prepared to lend aid to Labor's proposed capital levy.

YOUNG HOCKEY PLAYER DIED BLOOD POISONING

SEATTLE, Dec. 10.—Foley Martin, the Calgary professional hockey player, died of blood poisoning contracted while on tour.

REAR END COLLISION

FORSYTHE, Dec. 10.—Eight passengers and a Pullman porter were killed and thirty injured in a rear end collision between two passenger trains near here.

T. Ross Mackay, who has been attending the convention of the Provincial Party at Vancouver, is expected home next Wednesday afternoon.

MACDONALD WOULD TAKE PREMIERSHIP LABOR PAPER SAYS

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Daily Herald, organ of the labor party in this country, suggests that J. Ramsay Macdonald may accept the premiership if it is offered him by King George.

The question of the premiership is still one of the principal topics of conversation here.

CLOSE PORTS U.S. BOATS

Announced at Ottawa 177 Fishing Vessels Will be Affected by Order

(Special to Daily News) OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—A total of 177 American fishing vessels using Canadian ports will be denied the privilege after January 1 by the cancellation of the modus vivendi.

While the Atlantic ports are the ones most affected, the order extends to the Pacific.

The action of the government is due to cancellation by the United States two years ago of reciprocal port privileges followed by the Fordney tariff with its prohibitive duty on fish.

The local Fisheries office say they have instructions that the order applies to Atlantic ports only.

EDITOR OF PROVINCE DIES AT VANCOUVER

Dr. Scott Was Well Known Journalist Formerly Editor of St. John Telegraph

VANCOUVER, Dec. 10.—Dr. S. D. Scott, editor of the Province, died yesterday following an illness extending over a month from heart trouble. He was 72 years of age.

Dr. Scott was one of the best known of the older journalists of the Dominion. For 21 years he was editor-in-chief of the St. John Telegraph. On the Province his hands were tied considerably owing to policy of the owners at that time never to formulate policies or take part in discussions of contentious subjects.

FORFEITED BIG BAIL ON LIQUOR CHARGE

George Rolfe Failed to Appear at Hazelton Last Week and $1,500 Was Estreated

HAZELTON, Dec. 10.—Failing to appear in answer to a charge that he kept liquor for sale at the Omineca Hotel on November 28, George Rolfe had bail of $1,500 estreated by Stipendiary Magistrate S. H. Hoskins last week.

An ancient ceremony was observed when the annual quit rent services to the Crown by the City of London were rendered before Sir Willes Chitty, the King's Remembrancer at the Law Courts. The hatchet is seen being handed over.

Telkwa Collieries Ship Coal to Prince Rupert; a Fine Nine Foot Vein

Prince Rupert people are to be given an opportunity to help develop the district and at the same time do themselves some good. Telkwa coal is being put on the market here. It is from the Betty seam of the Telkwa Collieries and is quite a different coal from the Telkwa coal marketed here a few years ago. Jack McNeill of Telkwa is in the city arranging for the handling of the coal by local merchants and he says he expects the Prince Rupert people, when they get to know the local product, will use it to the exclusion of all others.

Telling of the mine, Mr. McNeill says it is located five and a half miles from Telkwa and the four inches of snow now makes it possible to ship a car load a day. With approximately 100 days of sleighing they will be able to send out about 3,000 tons, most of which will come to Prince Rupert.

Mr. McNeill has had analyses made of the coal and all show that it is of the best quality. There is a seam between eight and nine feet thick which is tapped by a tunnel from the creek bed and so far they have blocked out about ten thousand tons. Four four-horse teams are at present employed in hauling the coal to the siding recently put in for the purpose of handling the coal. Mr. McNeill is managing the company and is very enthusiastic over the possibilities.

One thing Mr. McNeill emphasizes is that this Betty coal is a local product, that the company buys all its supplies in Prince Rupert, that using this coal is developing the country. He says he is not asking for favors but given an even break with outside coal he thinks Prince Rupert people will buy the Betty coal in preference to any other.

George Woodland Sees Mine

George Woodland, manager of the Imperial Oil Co., who has just returned from interior points, says the Betty mine looks like a splendid prospect. There is a seam averaging between eight and nine feet. The coal is slightly harder than some that is sold here but it is a first rate steam coal and he was at a good many places where they used it in open grates. He suggested it would be a splendid thing for Telkwa and for Prince Rupert to have this mine developed.

Recently Thomas McClymont sent a sample of the coal to Scotland to be analyzed and the letter in reply said it was superior to any coal in Scotland and very close to Welsh anthracite.

Mr. Woodland says Mr. McNeill is doing splendid work in opening up the mine.

Secretary to Navy asks Congress to Appropriate Thirty Millions for Cruisers, Subs, and Gunboats

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A $30,000,000 appropriation to carry out the program of fleet modernization; authorization for the building of eight 10,000-ton cruisers, three cruiser-type submarines, and six gunboats; expenditure of $7,676,000 on naval bases; and a five-year constructive naval aviation program, were recommended today by Secretary Denby in his annual report.

The modernization plans held in abeyance during the past year must be carried out, the Secretary said, if the United States is to maintain its proper place under the Arms Treaty, while in cruiser strength this country has fallen so far behind Great Britain that it cannot hope for years to come to attain the equality it is entitled to under the 5-5-3 naval ratio.

The $30,000,000 sought for modernization work would include the re-appropriation of $6,500,000 "for the purpose of increasing the elevation of turret guns of thirteen of the Treaty battleships of the navy" which was not used during the past year because, Mr. Denby said, "quite unintentionally the impression given Congress was that the disparity in ranges was overwhelmingly in favor of the British."

"In the opinion of the department," the Secretary declared, "the elevation of the guns will not in any way contravene the spirit or letter of the Treaty."

Build Submarines

The approved budget of the navy now includes $2,850,000 for beginning construction of three submarines authorized in the 1916 naval act, Mr. Denby said, but he called attention to the lack of the navy in cruisers, submarines and river gunboats.

"The navy of the United States at present does not equal in cruiser strength either of the other two powers signatory to the Treaty," he said, "nor is the fleet to be considered as in any way balanced through lack of this vital arm. The disparity between the cruiser strength of Great Britain and that of the United States is so great that we can not hope for many years to bring about anything approaching equality with that power."

"The navy of the United States is so ill balanced and so deficient in cruiser strength that it would be put at a serious disadvantage in major operations of any kind. The power of cruisers in offense and in defense is a primary factor in naval strategy. Other than the ten light cruisers, some of which are authorized under the 1916 building program, some of which are now completed and others rapidly nearing completion, we are without real cruiser strength. Vessels still in service of the type of the Pittsburgh, Denver and Salem are useful for peace work but would be practically without value in time of war. The raiders that drive our commerce from the sea, that attack our transports and supply ships, can never be overtaken unless we build cruisers to do the work. Therefore, as a measure looking toward the ultimate provision of the fleet and equalization with other powers, I strongly recommend the authorization and appropriation of funds sufficient to commence construction of 8-10,000 ton cruisers."

Distance Cruising

"A large submarine tonnage is being laid down abroad. At present 41 submarines are building or projected by a single Warren Harding was chosen president. 23 of these are over 1,000 tons—that is, they are vessels capable of long-distance cruising. In addition to the 41 mentioned, 11 were completed in 1922 and 1923 by this same power. If present foreign programs are completed without any additions, the United States would have to build 50,000 tons of submarines in order to attain the treaty ratios. The United States has no cruiser and no mine laying submarines. Both types demonstrated their usefulness in the World War. In order to supply in part our deficiency in these types and in order to begin to attain a suitable relative submarine strength I recommend the authorization and appropriation of funds sufficient to commence construction of three submarines of the cruiser type.

"I recommend also that Congress authorize six gunboats of suitable type and size and make appropriation for their complete construction as early as possible."

U.S. TAKES BUT DOES NOT GIVE

Canada Explains Reason for Cancellation of Fish Marketing Privileges

OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—The reasons why the Canadian government decided to discontinue the modus vivendi license to the United States fishing vessels is outlined in an official memorandum issued this afternoon. It states in continuing a policy effective since 1892 the Canadian government has been influenced by the hope that the United States government would ultimately recognize that Canada was entitled to some compensation for the privileges extended to United States vessels in Canadian ports. But in this hope Canada has been disappointed. The United States had not only not made provision for the restoration of the agreement of 1918 but by tariff provisions had imposed added duties upon Canadian fish.

COOLIDGE IS A CANDIDATE

Name Will Come Before Big Republican Convention and is Likely Choice

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Official announcement is made that President Coolidge will be a candidate for nomination by the Republican Party in 1924. His name will come before the big quadrennial convention of the party and there seems every prospect that he will receive the nomination.

President Coolidge was elected vice-president at the time when building or projected by a single Warren Harding was chosen president. 23 of these are over 1,000 tons—that is, they are vessels capable of long-distance cruising. In addition to the 41 mentioned, 11 were completed in 1922 and 1923 by this same power. If present foreign programs are completed without any additions, the United States would have to build 50,000 tons of submarines in order to attain the treaty ratios. The United States has no cruiser and no mine laying submarines. Both types demonstrated their usefulness in the World War. In order to supply in part our deficiency in these types and in order to begin to attain a suitable relative submarine strength I recommend the authorization and appropriation of funds sufficient to commence construction of three submarines of the cruiser type.

Personal Opinions Of The Editor.

This is the column in which the editor expresses his personal opinion on matters of passing interest. Readers all recognize the opinions as his and take them for what they are worth. It is only the knowledge that many people like to read those opinions that makes the editor continue to express them. Opinions are not necessary to the conduct of a newspaper, although most newspapers consider they are a feature that readers like to have.

Recently a letter was received and published in which the editor was charged with inflicting his personal opinions on readers "dressed up and served as fact." That charge is incorrect. It is not done. Where there is a choice of news in which some can be used and some eliminated it is always possible that personal preferences will hold sway. It cannot well be otherwise as long as editors are human. The policy of The Daily News, however, as with most reputable papers, is to publish those things in which the readers of the paper are interested, with certain limitations. The paper is a marketable commodity and depends upon the community for its support. That The Daily News has been successful in providing the kind of news which is acceptable to the community is clearly seen in the large circulation it has secured and in the continued patronage of its readers.

There are certain classes of news which would be popular with a certain class of readers but which would have a degrading effect on the community. This it is the aim to either suppress or to keep within circumscribed bounds so that it will not obtrude itself.

When readers of The Daily News wish to obtain the views of the editor they will look in this column but when they read the news columns they may be sure that, to the best of the ability of the staff, what they read is news, and so far as possible correct.

No Harbor Charges At This Port.

One of the great advantages of the port of Prince Rupert is the fact that there are at present no harbor dues here. At Vancouver they are very heavy and at practically every port in the world there are harbor dues which have to be paid by ships entering. Here there are absolutely no local charges except those imposed by the customs at all ports in Canada and which are purely nominal.

It will be a great thing for Prince Rupert if we can keep the port clear of tonnage charges. It will be an inducement for shipping to come here if they have nothing to pay for the use of the harbor privileges.

Useful Service Of Hon. J. H. Turner.

Hon. J. H. Turner, former Premier of British Columbia and later agent general for British Columbia prior to the appointment to that position of Sir Richard McBride, died yesterday in London at an advanced age. He was a prominent wholesale merchant before entering public life.

Mr. Turner was a Conservative in politics and enjoyed the confidence of the people for a number of years. He later upheld the dignity of the province as agent until age nullified his powers and he was replaced.

It is to men who are willing to give of their time to public service, as Mr. Turner did, that the hope of the country lies. The shade of politics of any individual is a small thing. The best kind of public service can be rendered on either side. What is needed is men of sterling character and then it matters little whether they are Conservative or Liberal.

FORMER AGENT GENERAL DIES

Hon. J. H. Turner Was Once Premier of Province and Mayor of Victoria

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Hon. J. H. Turner, former agent general for British Columbia in London until his retirement in 1916 and prior to that Premier of British Columbia, died yesterday at his home in Richmond.

John Herbert Turner has been called the father of finance and of agriculture in British Columbia. Born on May 7, 1834, at Clayden, near Ipswich, England, he was educated at Whitelable, near Canterbury, and, after an apprenticeship in commercial house he emigrated to Canada in 1857, and took up his residence in Halifax. After two years there, he moved to Charlottetown, P.E.I., and in 1862, attracted by stories of gold discoveries in British Columbia, he crossed the continent to Victoria. There, in 1865, he founded Turner, Beeton & Co., which became one of the best-known firms on the Pacific Coast and which did a large business in salmon canning, marine insurance and wholesale drygoods. The firm is still in existence, but upon his withdrawal from Canada in 1901, Mr. Turner dropped all active connection with it.

In Victoria, Mr. Turner took an active interest in public affairs. He was a member of the city council in 1876, 1877 and 1878 and mayor during the three succeeding years. In 1886 he was elected to the legislature for Victoria, and in the following year entered the ministry of Hon. A. E. B. Davie as minister of finance and agriculture. These portfolios he retained in the succeeding ministries of Hon. John Robson and Hon. Theodore Davie and in the cabinet of which Mr. Turner himself, became head in 1895.

Inherited Trouble
 Mr. Turner was unfortunate in his time of coming into power. For twelve years in British Columbia, there had been no real overturn of a government, and no thorough house-cleaning. Five premiers had held office, but each had been the legitimate successor of the man before him and had carried his predecessor's policies and impediments along. There had grown up gradually an opposition and charges had been made of favorites, extravagance, loose-ness in administration, the encouragement of speculation, and recklessness in the granting of railway subsidies. On this accumulation was piled, finally, a realization of the increasing public debt, and a feeling that the government was out of sympathy with the working people. Joseph Martin, newly come from Manitoba and seeking new fields to conquer, added the fire of his eloquence to the combustible pile and Turner, the last of the dynasty of premiers, was forced to pay for the sins of all those who had gone before. He was defeated in the general election of 1898 and the lieutenant-governor, without waiting for the final result, called for his resignation.

Agent General
 The Semlin administration succeeded and soon gave place to one headed by Mr. Martin, and when, in 1900, the Martin administration went down to defeat, and Hon. James Dunsmuir became premier, Mr. Turner returned to office, taking up his old work in the departments of finance and agriculture. In 1901 he resigned to become agent-general of the province in London, a position which had been held before him by his old partner, Mr. Beeton. In 1915, he was superannuated, giving place to Sir Richard McBride. When Sir Richard resigned, shortly before his death, Mr. Turner again took up the work in London, and acted as agent-general until the arrival of F. C. Wade.

CANADIANS EXCEL IN LITERARY EFFORT IS OPINION OF LIBRARIAN

LONDON, Dec. 8. — W. J. Sykes, chief librarian of the Central Carnegie Library, in an address on Canadian literature at the Normal School mentioned the names of Archibald Lampman, Wilfrid Campbell, and Dr. Duncan Campbell Scott, whose works, Mr. Sykes hoped, would soon be collected into one volume and also G. G. D. Roberts and Bliss Carman.

These five, said Mr. Sykes, were very considerable writers. Then of course there was mention of Pauline Johnson and the inimitable Henry Drummond. The works of Francis Parkman were recommended strongly in the line of history, also the Makers of Canada series, though somewhat uneven in merit, according to the speaker. John W. Dufour's "Laurier" was mentioned in biography as more valuable than some larger biographies, though Skelton's Life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was also commended.

HIS SLUGGISH LIVER MADE HIM FEEL DROWSY AND TIRED ALL THE TIME

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers, and the only way you can get back to feeling right is to make your liver right.

This you can do by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills as they will stimulate the sluggish liver, clean away all waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent, as well as relieve, all complications arising from a liver that has become inactive.

Mr. E. Hazel, East Florenceville, N.B., writes:—"I had been troubled with my liver and felt drowsy and tired all the time, and was unable to do my work with any comfort. I took your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and today I am a different man, and would not be without them in the house."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Colts and Teachers are scheduled to battle again in the Senior Basketball League this evening. The Teachers are hoping for a turn of the tide and there are many fans who believe that their several close defeats so far this season may be converted into victory this time. In any case, it is generally expected that the game will be a good close one whichever way the honors go. The Kaiens and Teachers go to it in the Ladies' League and here again the pedagogues are very hopeful. Elks and High School meet in the Intermediate League match while the Colts and Stars, leaders in the Junior League, are scheduled to play.

TRAIL OF LONESOME PINE ON WEDNESDAY

Well Known Story to be Shown on Screen at Westholme Theatre

June Tolliver, eighteen and strikingly pretty, believed her sweetheart had been killed. She was a simple girl of the Cumberland mountains in Kentucky and had fallen in love with John Hale, a coal mining engineer and officer of the law. He risked his life in an effort to stop a feud that had endured for years between two clans, the Palins and the Tollivers, of the Kentucky-Tennessee Cumberland mountains.

Just as she is on the point of swooning and had accused her own relatives of killing the man she loved, it develops that Hale, although badly wounded, is still alive.

This situation strikes home a most dramatic climax in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," a picture starring Mary Miles Minter, which will be shown at the Westholme Wednesday.

Miss Minter, as June Tolliver, is the girl in this fine mountain story. As John Hale, whose duty it was to bring law into the Cumberland mountains and to enforce it, Antonio Moreson, leading man, makes a powerful and exceedingly good looking hero, and Ernest Torrence, also featured, has a strong character role.

SOULS FOR SALE AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

Movie is From Story by Rupert Hughes and is Somewhat Dramatic

A photoplay that is far out of the beaten paths is Goldwyn's new Rupert Hughes' film, "Souls for Sale," adapted and directed by the author from his novel of life among the motion picture colony in Hollywood. This is undoubtedly one of the biggest and most important productions of the season; it is on a bigger scale than anything Mr. Hughes has

Robert is entranced of Margaret and his weekly calls on her parents and the other members of the family to desert the parlor and allow the young couple the freedom of the room. Much to his disgust, her father is compelled to finish his newspaper in the dining room.

On one such occasion he fell asleep while reading and when he awakened and looked at his watch he discovered that it had stopped. There was only one way to find out the correct time, in order to set his watch aright, and that was to ask Robert.

"Do you know what time it is, Robert?" he inquired genially.

Robert blushed guiltily, jumped up from the sofa and rushed toward the door, with Schofield looking after him in bewilderment. When he realized that the young suitor had interpreted the hitherto done for the screen. He has consciously selected a theme peculiarly adaptable to the films and capable of a broader and more spectacular treatment than he customarily gives to his themes.

The introductory movie scenes in the desert are picturesque and most human—in fact, the movie people introduced are always human and are distinct individuals, not film types. The spectacular climax in the burning of the big circus tent, in a great storm, gives a thrill that one will long remember. The photoplay is splendid.

BOY'S BAD COLD TURNED TO BRONCHITIS

The frequency with which bronchitis develops into pneumonia is appreciated by very few mothers. The danger of pneumonia is, probably, well understood too, but how many mothers take into consideration that a neglected attack of bronchitis frequently leads to this dangerous disease.

We would advise all mothers to give their children Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup the first moment they show any symptoms of a cold or cough, as by doing this they may save them from an attack of bronchitis or pneumonia.

Mrs. Lawrence Quick, Sandwich, Ont., writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a bad cold which turned to bronchitis. I tried everything I thought would be best for it, but did not see him getting any better. I was told to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after giving him two bottles he got wonderful relief. I cannot praise it enough."

Price 35c a bottle; large family size 60c; put up by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
