BALDWIN GOVERNMENT BEATEN IN BRITAIN

LABOR HAS SECOND LARGEST GROUP WITH LIBERAL PARTY A CLOSE THIRD

British Election Returns Show Certainty that Premier Baldwin is Defeated on Protection Issue

Lancashire Goes Against Government: Winston Churchill Defeated: Leaders are all Elected and Two Ladies.

(Special by Wireless to Daily News)
LONDON, Dec. 7 (1.40 p.m.).—With 586 seats out of the 615 accounted for up to 6 p.m. today the standing of the parties was: Conservative, 252; Labor, 182; Liberals, 142; other parties, 10.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The opinion seems to prevail here that the Baldwin government is defeated. Returns from 254 constituencies give Conservatives 110, Labor 77, Liberals 60, Independents 6, Nationalists 1.

With 360 seats or considerably more than half the electorate yet to hear from results show a decided majority against Premier Baldwin's policy of limited protection. The constituencies so far heard from are both urban and country. The final returns are likely to show Conservatives leading but without a majority over all.

PRINCE RUPERT FEED CO. LOSES

Judgment Against Them With Costs Given in Suit With Canadian National Railways

Judgment against the plaintiff with costs was given this afternoon by Judge F. McE. Young in the case of the Prince Rupert Feed Co. vs. the Canadian National Railways. The action was for recovery of $170 damages as a result of a yard engine running into a wagon on the railway yards near Cow Bay. Hearing took three days and it was one of the most interesting cases that has been heard in the County Court for some time. Milton Gonzales, of Williams, Manson & Gonzales, had the case for the Prince Rupert Feed Co. and L. W. Patmore appeared on behalf of the Canadian National Railways.

MRS. HILDITCH LOST MOTHER ON TUESDAY

Death of Mrs. Schaffer Occurred at Bremerton, Washington, Shortly After Her Daughter Arrived

Mrs. J. H. Hilditch, who was called south last Saturday on account of her mother's serious illness, reached Bremerton, Washington, on Monday evening just a few hours before Mrs. Schaffer breathed her last on Tuesday morning.

Many people in the city will learn with regret of Mrs. Schaffer's demise for she had visited her daughter here on several occasions, the last time about three years ago. She had been ailing for some time and death was not unexpected.

Mrs. Hilditch will not be home for some time yet.

CONSERVATIVE WAS REPORTED ELECTED

A stray message picked up yesterday is to the effect that W. A. Black, Conservative, was elected in Halifax over the government supporter.

The former member, Hon. A. K. McLean, was appointed to the exchequer court.

FORD PLANS TO EXPAND PLANTS

Ten Thousand Cars Daily to be Output Says Lizzie's Father

BUSINESS IN ENGLAND

DETROIT, Dec. 7.—"Ford Motor Company is entering on a construction program which will total $110,000,000 and within four months will have a capacity for 10,000 motor cars and trucks daily," Henry Ford says. "Part of this construction, will be in our Detroit plants and the remainder in other cities. We are expanding all over the United States because we believe that no such thing as a saturation point exists. Until the population stops growing and the people stop building roads and stop desiring to ride instead of walk there will be a steady demand for automobiles."

"Aircraft development will follow soon but it will never replace the automobile. No really useful thing is ever displaced," rumors that the Highland Park plant of the company would be eventually given up and the manufacturing of the company all centered at the River Rouge plant, Mr. Ford said: "The best answer to that is: We expect to increase the size of both plants."

Mr. Ford said the company would soon start construction of a wool mill in Michigan because Michigan was nearly as good a wool producing state as any in the Union.

"We do not expect to supply all the wool we use for upholstery, but will make a considerable part of our needs if the cost of producing turns out to be what we think."

"Our plant in Manchester is making 85 per cent of all the parts that go into Ford cars and trucks turned out in England and soon we will be making 90 per cent of the parts over there. We have not gone in for making the small English cars, even though they consume less gasoline because we have found the Englishmen want pep and power."

Union steamer Venture, Capt. A. Johnstone, from Vancouver and way ports, is due this afternoon at 4:30. The vessel has been in the Skeena River since early this morning loading salmon at various conneries.

We are selling between 40,000 and 50,000 Fords a year in England, and it looks like we will sell many more over there."

Lady Callaghan, wife of Sir Arthur, was among the forty women candidates on the various party tickets for members of parliament in England yesterday. She is a most forceful speaker and running on the Liberal ticket.

Few Unemployed are Reported by Local Government Bureau Camps are Still Operating

The number of men at present registered as unemployed at the local provincial government labor bureau is away below what it has been at a similar date for several years past, J. M. Campbell, superintendent of the bureau, stated today. There are between 30 and 40 men thus registered.

The most of the mills and logging camps in the district are still busy, the making is in full swing in the interior and there has been a good deal of casual work locally. These factors go towards making the situation as satisfactory as it is. As soon as snow comes up the line teamsters and loaders will be wanted in the tie camps. The starting of grading work for the city on Fifth Avenue East will take care of a few local married men who are out of work.

During the past week, loggers have been sent to Buckley Bay and Alice Arm and machine miners to Smithers through the local employment office.

MACKENZIE KING ON UNITY OF EMPIRE

In an address at a dinner given by the Overseas League in London shortly before the Canadian Premier left for home, the Prince of Wales also being a guest, Right Hon. Mackenzie King said:

"May I say just one or two words further in regard to the unity of the British Empire? That, I think, is a subject that is close to the hearts of all of us. We want to see this Empire endure, we want to see it grow, we want to see it expand and flourish, because we believe that in the British Empire there lies the greatest asset for peace, prosperity, and good-will that this great old world has ever known. (Cheers.) Its influence is all for the good of mankind."

RAMSAY MACDONALD SAYS LABOR WOULD BE BUSINESSLIKE

LONDON, Dec. 7.—In an address at Leeds on the eve of the election Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party said they were asked to keep the British Empire together on dear apples and tinned salmon. He would on a future occasion return to that subject, but he added that free trade was not the alternative to protection. The only alternative was the positive and constructive policy which the Labor Party put before the country. It was the desire of the Labor Party to see the finances of the country handled in much the way a real business man would handle them. They were determined, in accordance with the national interests, to work so as to bring about the minimum amount of injury and the maximum amount of good, and in the end, after a capital levy, he was perfectly certain that an enormous balance for good would be the final result.

LOOKING FOR LAND FOR CATTLE RAISING

Scottish Investors Returned to Old Country Last Night and Will be Back in Spring

After having spent some time in the interior and also on the coast Islands looking for suitable lands for sheep raising they did yesterday, and has no purposes, Thomas M. Black and James M. Kendrick, investors from Scotland, left for the East on last night's train enroute to the Old Country. They intend to return to the district in the spring when weather conditions are more favorable for making their investigations.

Reader Takes Exception to News Story as Opposed to his Religious Convictions: Science vs. Religion

Editor, Daily News: We, the readers of The Daily News, are periodically afflicted with your personal opinion dressed up and served as fact. The latest instance is your publication in the news portion of The Daily News of the 6th inst., a propaganda editorial supposedly dealing with the origin of humanity.

Now I for one strongly object to the tone of your various effusions on this subject. You will appreciate, Mr. Editor, that you are an editor and a good tradesman no doubt, and those so-called scientists whom you quote are apparently also first class in their trade, but how does being a first class craftsman such as a carpenter or a geologist, a mathematician, or an editor qualify to lead in a different world altogether? Science is the world of the human animal; it's a vast empire; it was created by the human animal, for the human animal, but, truth is not to be found in the sphere of the tradesman, however exalted; truth is perceived by the human being, not by the human animal.

Animal vs. Spiritual
You in effect say that man is a mere reporter to his eye, that the eye is the scientist and the man the stenographer. Instead of the eye being the servant of the man you place him as inferior to an organ of his body and take away his criterion powers and functions. Such an attitude is a recent development, and is contemporaneous, with poison gas and such like, and it entails, as a moment's reflection shows, the scrapping of the whole world of truth, the world wherein the human being resides, or should reside and did so until lately, and leaves as our portion, an automobile for some, a pair of skates in the winter time, a seat in a theatre, a glass of beer, a game of pool and so on. Truly a portion to satisfy the craving of the human spirit for something worth while.

The whole thing in a nutshell is that the animal or carnal mind is at war with the human mind and always has been so, and always will be.

Matter of Faith
In conclusion, I would advise all men and women not to be moved by the facile arguments and accept no interpretation which does not satisfy and meet the easily understood tenets and requirements of the Christian religion, I mean the religion which the Apostles were sent out by Our Lord to preach to the world, and not any so-called faith, which is at the mercy of possibly some blasphemous, cigarette inhaling, whoring, filthy so-called scientist, who in all likelihood murdered his conscience for the sake of fame in the privacy of his laboratory. Such a ground, for of such soil the animal mind is, could not possibly be the soil where truth, or true instincts (which father thought) could originate. God undecieve poor deceived humanity.

MALCOLM MATHESON.

[The article in question, published yesterday, was sent out by the Associated Press of the United States on their "mail sheets" to be used in case of the regular news sources failing, as they did yesterday, and has no personal opinions of the editor.]

RAISED FUND FOR METHODIST MISSION STRICKEN AREA JAPAN

The local Methodist Church has just concluded a drive for funds for Japanese general mission fund of the church which has proved very successful a goodly amount being raised for the purpose.

The Methodist Church has three churches, a hospital, and a school in the stricken area. It is an interesting fact that while the combined Protestant churches had four thousand missionaries in the field in the devastated area of Japan only one was killed.

Approximately $75 was realized at the bazaar held yesterday afternoon by the Home League of the Salvation Army.

Election Returns Slow Coming.

It was unfortunate that just as there was big news offered about midnight last night no word whatever in regard to the British elections was received in the city. In an effort to get through some little news for its readers and at considerable expense, the Daily News yesterday got through one or two wireless messages, for one of which the press had to be stopped after about two hundred papers had been run off. The first election returns were received so late last night that they could not be bulletined until this morning. Under difficult conditions the best possible service is being given, but it must be remembered that when the wires fail, the wireless is very much congested with business and it is impossible to get much news by that route.

One feature of the wire trouble yesterday was the fact that the worst break was that between Ashcroft and Vancouver which has been down for two days both the Canadian National and C.P.R. Any messages that came through were routed by Seattle and Spokane.

Age of Delving Into the Past.

There is more activity in delving into the past than has ever been known before in the history of the world. The discoveries in Egypt, China, Java, and other parts of the world have led scientists to revise their theories somewhat, although there is no important change since Darwin startled the world in 1859 with the publication of his book, "The Origin of Species."

The age of man will never be determined. It cannot be. There is no specific date which can be set when it may be said that man acquired a soul or reasoning powers. Sometimes we think today that some dogs have more soul than some men and some animals seem to reason about as well as a good many men. What seems to be evident is that man has evolved from a much lower state. If the remains of the Trinil man of Java are a million years old, it is evident that the processes of nature are very slow and it is to be expected that, while the rate of advancement in future may be accelerated, it will take many thousands of years yet for man to attain anything like perfection of mind and body.

Nature Refuses Rapid Advancement.

Nature refuses to permit rapid advancement. When a race attains such intellectual development that it threatens to dominate, along comes Nature and stops propagation while the races of low mentality keep up the pace in the matter of natural increase. There is only one result. The intellectuals die out and are overrun by the more backward. We see that process going on today. The dominating races of the future seem to be those that increase rapidly rather than those that are intellectual giants.

Labor Fears Ignorance Of The Electors.

In a recent address at Leeds Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, said the one thing he feared was the ignorance of a large part of the electors. That is a danger anywhere. Ignorance is always a danger. Sometimes a little knowledge is dangerous because, when a person first sees the light, he sees it from just one angle and nothing else matters. What is needed here and elsewhere is to so educate the mass of the people that they may weigh and judge for themselves. Let the people be educated, in the fullest sense of the word, and there is no danger to the state from radical activities. It is only where clever and unscrupulous leaders are able to play upon an ignorant electorate that there is danger.

The hope of the future lies in the public schools, the public libraries, and in an enlightened public opinion.

BIG FIGHT IN THE SPOILERS

Realistic Battle in Play That is to be Shown Here Tonight

In the battle between the hero and the villain in "The Spoilers," the big Rex Beach story at the Westholme tonight, there was real fighting. The men had been in training and were anxious for the fray.

They were at each other at once. Their powerful bodies grappled and swayed backward and forward under the strain. Beery worked himself loose and shot an overhand right through the air. It missed the swift-moving Sills, who dodged and rushed forward, his muscular arms swinging like flails.

To escape from the storm of blows, Beery climbed upon a book case and then jumped down upon his antagonist. Both men fell to the floor in a writhing welter of muscle. They rose, clinging bloodily to each other. Wrenching himself loose, Sills then picked up the two-hundred-pound Beery and threw him across a five-foot table as a strong farmer would throw a sack of grain. Before Sills could reach him, Beery was on his feet again and was rushing viciously toward the younger man. The impact was terrific. They traded punches for a moment, when Sills suddenly turned and picked up an office chair and crashed it over Beery's head. He stopped dead in his tracks. His eyes rolled for a second, his muscles relaxed, and then he whirled into battle again like an immense black eagle on a red cloud of blood.

Grudge Fight

"It's a grudge fight," said Kid McCoy, "I can tell." I was too thrilled to make answer.

The jar of body to body had kindled the long elemental and sleeping fires of combat.

They struggled across the room and crashed into a partition which showered them with glass. They wrestled in it, then rose, faces trickling with blood, jaws hanging low, breasts heaving, shirts torn from their backs, and mumbling incoherently with lacerated lips. They crouched low, and criss-crossed with terrific rights and lefts, trading blow for blow until punch-drunk from the brain-jarring monotony of them. The tick of the camera could not be heard. One was not conscious that a picture was being made. It was more like witnessing a battle between blood-mad giants in a forest when all around is still.

Draw Blood

Suddenly Sills loosed his grip. His big fist shot out—a skin-torn and blood-streaked mallet of pain. It caught Beery square on the mouth. The blood spurted. He shook his main of black hair, and crouched low, and rushed. Sills held his ground at a fearful price.

The fighters staggered toward each other. Beery smashed through Sills' guard. Two blows crossed and landed. Sills was knocked back against the stove, while Beery fell against an iron safe.

A gun had been laid on the top of the safe. Beery turned to reach for it, and succeeded. Sills saw the movement, and his face took on the expression of a man who gazes at death in daylight. He leaped tigerishly across the room and grappled with Beery. His boa constrictor arm slowly encircled Beery's waist. It was the dreaded hammer-lock known to wrestlers—the breaker of bodies and hearts.

There followed a deadly quiet moment as they grappled for mastery. Their muscles swelled and quivered. Their eyes bulged. Sills' great arm held Beery's waist until it was no larger than a slender woman's.

Crumpled Heap

It was as if in an iron vise, Beery screamed and sank—a crumpled heap of red and white bone and muscle on the piddled debris floor.

The camera clicked, fantastic and far away, like the ticking of a clock in a tomb.

Then Sills, in maniacal fury, yelled, "I broke him—I broke him—the traitor—with my two hands!" Beery, the lion-hearted and defeated, did not hear.

Kid McCoy said, brokenly, "Some battle." The director smiled wearily and said, "Thank God." The big fight was over.

MISS JESSIE CHARLTON BECOMES BRIDE OF THOMAS BOULTER

Pretty Wedding is Followed by Supper at Which Thirty Guests Sat Down

A very pretty wedding took place last night at St. Andrew's Anglican Church when Miss Jessie Charlton of Vancouver became the bride of Thomas Boulter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boulter, Beach Apartments, Archdeacon Rix officiating. The bride, who was given away by the groom's father, looked very charming in a dress of white satin trimmed with radium lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations. The bride was attended by Miss Lottie Boulter, sister of the groom, who wore a navy blue satin and Paisley dress. George Boulter acted as best man. Miss Irene Boulter and Miss Rosie Cox were two pretty flower girls dressed in white Organdie and carrying baskets of chrysanthemums.

After the marriage ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents, Beach Apartments, covers being laid for thirty guests. The usual toasts to the bride and groom having been made, the evening was spent in dancing and card playing.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts among which was a very handsome case of Community plate, suitably inscribed, from the employees of the Dry Dock, the groom being a member of the mechanical staff. A very happy evening was brought to a successful termination with the singing of "For they are jolly good fellows."

The newly married couple will take up their residence at 1224 Second Avenue.

THERE are some people in this town who are sore at the Germans, not because of the war but because they deflated the mark after said local people had speculated in them.

Here and There

In order to handle the grain this fall the Fort William, Ont. force of 360 elevator men will be increased to 700. From 120 to 150 grain trimmers will be employed.

For the five months to August, 1923, Canadian newspaper exports were valued at $35,303,043 against $27,257,382 for the same period in 1922. Pulp exports in the same period were valued at $20,008,461 against $16,075,533.

Grain loading on Canadian Pacific lines during the month of September totalled 26,376 cars or 38,245,200 bushels. This at the beginning of the loading season which was two weeks late this year on account of the retarded harvest.

This has been the greatest season for automobile tourists Montreal has ever experienced, according to the Secretary of the Automobile Club of Canada. Cars, he stated, had come into the city over the King Edward Highway at the rate of two hundred a day, an unusual number from California, Florida, Carolina and Virginia being noticeable.

There was nearly $150,000,000 increase in the total trade of Canada for the first five months of the current fiscal year, according to a return made by the Department of Customs and Excise. The total trade of the Dominion, according to the return, for the five months ending with August, was $785,000,000, as against $626,000,000 during the same period a year ago. Imports during the period were about $393,000,000, as against $303,000,000 a year ago, while exports of Canadian produce rose from $318,000,000 approximately to $386,000,000.

There is a heavy demand for bushmen, according to the Government Labor Bureau at Montreal. The big lumber companies have been engaging men for the bush, and the prospects are that the demand will be sufficient to make fall and winter conditions good. Wages paid this year by the lumber companies are higher than last year, the rates paid being $40 and $45 a month, whereas a year ago the schedule was down to $26 a month.

With the completion of the harbor works now in progress, Montreal will be in a much better position in 1924 to handle a record flow of grain than ever before. Windmill Point elevator will be increased by 1,250,000 bushels storage capacity, making its total capacity 2,350,000. Four additional shipping berths are being provided at this elevator and will be in commission early next month, and the elevator's loading capacity will be increased from 50,000 to 90,000 bushels an hour.

Reports to the Canadian Pacific Railway, show that there arrived at Winnipeg from the British Isles this year for the purpose of working on the harvest, 11,883 men. ### OFFICERS OF PRINCE ALBERT DENY STORIES

Say There Were No Fatal Fights on Vessel Off San Francisco—Did Not Cut Cable

Steamer Prince Albert, formerly of the Canadian National Coast Steamship Service and now operated by the Western Freighters between Vancouver and Mexico, has returned to Vancouver after her first trip south. Her commander, Capt. Nicholls, and all officers deny the recent stories concerning fatal fights on board the vessel off San Francisco and also the charge that they cut the Postal Telegraph Co.'s cable twenty-five miles out of San Francisco. It is reported in Vancouver, however, that a suit for $100,000 damages is being entered by the Postal Telegraph Co. against the Prince Albert and her owners.

The Chief Skuzaid has also returned to British Columbia waters from Mexico.

CHRIS STAPLETON DIES IN PORTLAND

Former Foundry Foreman at Dry Dock was Member of Elks Lodge and Expert Performer on Punching Bag

Word has reached the city of the death in Portland, Oregon, on Tuesday last of Chris Stapleton, formerly foreman of the foundry department at the Canadian National dry dock. The funeral takes place in that city tomorrow.

The late Chris Stapleton, who was a member of the local Elks' Lodge, left the city about two years ago for the benefit of his health and remained for a time in the state of Washington subsequently moving to Oregon. His condition was, however, serious and towards the last little hope for his recovery was entertained. Besides having a wide circle of acquaintances in the city, he was well known to the public as a performer on the punching bag at which he was an adept.

Deceased is survived by a widow who was with him when he passed away.

PECK SAYS HE WILL SUPPORT MR. BOWSER

Speaks at Meeting at Deep Cove and Says He Can Give Hard Blow and Take One

SIDNEY, B.C., Dec. 7.—A Conservative rally was held in the Deep Cove Social Club Hall. There was a good attendance. G. White being in the chair. He introduced Lieut.-Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., recently nominated Conservative candidate for the Legislature in the Islands riding. Colonel Peck said he was pleased to see such a good turnout. He was a man who did not like to say much about himself, but he could deal a hard blow and he could also take a hard blow. He thought it was quite time the province had a different government. He fully supported Mr. Bowser and his views.

As Mr. Bowser had been unavoidably detained, Mr. McDowell then spoke. He referred to Colonel Peck's qualities, and said the third party was of no use to anyone. It was simply taking votes from the strongest party. The Third Party in England had been Ireland, and that had done more harm than good in 1916.

Mr. Bowser, who arrived a short time later, addressed the gathering. Refreshments were served and the evening ended with a dance.

DOZEN ATTENDED A PROVINCIAL PARTY MEETING SMITHERS

About a dozen rallied to the call to meeting of local supporters of the Provincial Party in the Smithers Hall on Wednesday, and while this was not considered sufficiently representative to complete a full organization the meeting proceeded to the election of a president and secretary to carry on, says the Interior News. These positions fell to R. L. Gale and D. R. Willemar respectively, and another effort will be made at a later date to complete the executive.

R. L. Gale was in the chair and after explaining the purposes of the meeting he called upon F. M. Doekrill, of Telkwa, who delivered an address that covered the reasons for the new party entering the field as well as detailing the aims and ambitions of the Provincial Party.

The urgent business of the meeting was the election of a delegate to attend the convention in Vancouver yesterday, this duty being voted to D. R. Wil-

Delighted Audience at Concert

ANYOX, Dec. 7.—Taking advantage of the presence in Anyox of Mrs. A. Hednes of San Francisco, who is here with her husband in connection with a machinery contract, the Ladies' Aid of the Union Church arranged a concert in Recreation Hall at short notice, and gave those who attended a treat which will not soon be forgotten. Mrs. Hednes is the possessor of a soprano voice of considerable range, great purity and excellent training, and the manner in which she rendered the first of several groups of songs was received with hearty approval by the audience.

Although billed on the program for two appearances only, the warmth of the reception accorded her singing was responsible for additional groups, encores being generously accorded to in every instance. Among other numbers, Mrs. Hednes sang for the first time two compositions by Dr. Harper—"Father of Mine," and "Mother of Mine." The words of the first as well as the music was written by Dr. Harper, while the words of the latter are by Rudyard Kipling. Dr. Harper composing the music. Dr. Harper accompanied Mrs. Hednes throughout the entire program, with the exception of her last number, "Just a Song at Twilight," when Mrs. Hednes acted as her own accompanist.

In addition to the visitor from California, an old favorite with Anyox audiences, Max Morrow, delighted the audience with a number of songs and received well-merited encores. The Anyox Brass Band was also a factor in the evening's entertainment and rendered some half dozen band selections in good style.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY
HELD ENTERTAINMENT AT TERRACE RECENTLY

TERRACE, Dec. 7.—Last week end the St. Andrew's Society gave a popular evening entertainment at which the program was of a varied character and was much enjoyed by a large audience. Singing and dancing were part of the program. Among the vocalists were Misses Onalee Greig and Fanny McLaren whose singing proved most pleasing. Mr. Hepburn sang Scotch songs in kilts and Mr. Thompson, who was in Terrace on business, gave an amusing series of Scotch anecdotes. A duet from Mr. Swan and Mrs. Barker and a men's quartette by Messrs. Hall, Kirkaldy, Swan and Hepburn gave a couple of numbers. Miss Janet Young played a piano solo and Mr. Young on the accordion. Scotch dances by Miss Betty Anderson proved popular. There was also a recitation by W. Anderson.

For the dancing the instrumentalists were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barker, Mrs. Von Hees and W. Anderson and many Scotch dances were introduced.

After a week of no games because of counter attractions, the schedule of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association will be resumed this evening. In the Senior League the two leading teams—Sons of Canada and Colts—who have amply shown so far that there is little to choose between them will meet in a fixture that should be full of interest and close play. The winner of the game, in the matter of points will take first place in the standing. Another keenly contested match is expected in the meeting of the Maple Leafs and Adanaes, Ladies' League rivals, Grotto and Colts will mix in the Intermediate League fixture.

The pitching in the American League during the season of 1923 was not up to the standard of former years. Earned run averages were, however, the highest in the history of the league though the leader this year was slightly below Urban Faber's record last season. In analyzing the records it is apparent that the pitchers did not get into their real stride until the season was well advanced. The records established practically all came late in the season, the most of the unusual marks being made in September. Howard Ehmke of Boston, shut out the Athletics without a hit although he walked one man on September 7. Prior to this, September 4, Sam Jones shut out the Athletics without a hit. After the no-hit game against Philadelphia, Ehmke came back four days later and allowed New York only one hit.

Herb Pennock of New York finished with the best percentage in games won and lost, being victorious in 19 and losing only 6. Pennock was, however, seventh in runs earned off his delivery. Next to Pennock comes his teammate Jones with 21 and 8 but his earned run record shows an average of 3.63. The strikeout record goes to the veteran Walter Johnson of Washington with 126, who also attained the distinction of striking out the greatest number in one game, 12 Boston batters being turned back October 5. Elam VanGilder of St. Louis was the freest with passes walking 120 batters. Stanley Coveleskie was the most economical in bases on balls taking into consideration the number of innings pitched. George Uhle of Cleveland, pitching in more innings than any other pitcher in the league, 358, allowed the most earned runs as well as total runs, although Howard Ehmke was not far behind in the latter department.

The season was remarkable in the number of pitchers used by the different clubs. Probably never before had so many figured. The number of pitchers relieved, who started games, is beyond all records of the league. The number of relief pitchers taken out is also unprecedented. The record for pitchers used goes to Detroit with 318. New York has the lowest mark with 220. Cleveland used 295, Washington, 286; Chicago and Philadelphia, 284 each; St. Louis, 278; and Boston, 269. Whatever was the cause of the mediocre work in the box, the game was not however, without its compensation. No records were set in strikeouts, neither were any new marks hung up in bases on balls, although Grier Friday of Washington issued 14 bases to Chicago batters June 17 in 11 innings. There were many new pitchers to come into the league who made good. Among the most prominent young twirlers were Ferguson of Boston, Cvangros and Thurston of Chicago, Holloway Whitehill and Cole of Detroit, Edwards and Shaute of Cleveland and Friday, Mitchell and Zahniser of Washington.

LARGE DEFICIT POSTAL SERVICE UNITED STATES

Total Operating Loss For Year of Nearly Thirty-eight Millions

REDUCED FROM LAST YEAR.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. — Extraordinary increase in business severely taxed the ability of the postal service under inadequate appropriations last year but "a most gratifying decrease in the postal deficit," amounting to approximately $30,000,000 from the previous year's deficit, was brought about through economies, Postmaster General New informed President Coolidge today in his annual report.

"It would be an ideal condition if the department could become self-sustaining, with postage and service charges so adjusted as to equal justice to all the using public," said Mr. New. "To attain this end, each class of mail matter need not necessarily contribute its entire estimated cost. Public policy, for instance, has long recognized the special claims for publications for the dissemination of information of a public character, or devoted to literature, the sciences, or arts. It is a wise policy and makes for the general good and the public welfare. On the other hand, public policy, as evidenced by the act of Congress establishing the parcel post system, favors the principle that rates for such matter shall equal the cost of the service. This, too, is a wise policy, for there is no sound reason why the government should conduct a parcel business, so analogous to express on principles other than those of sound business."

Expenditure Large

The postal revenues for the year were $532,827,925 compared with $484,853,540 in 1922, and the expenditures, obligations and losses $570,823,232, compared with $552,459,732 in 1922. The operating deficit for this year was $37,995,307, compared with an operating deficit of $67,606,192 for 1922. The expenditures for the year included $15,392,312 in payments of undischarged obligations carried over from previous fiscal years, which deducted leaves $541,500,816 as the expenditures applying to the service of 1923. Addition of $8,300,779 transferred to the civil service retirement fund, $12,677,154 paid between June 30 and September 30 on 1923 fiscal year obligations, and $8,344,180 of undischarged liabilities (in part estimated) on account of 1923 obligations, brings the total expenditure and undischarged liabilities chargeable to the fiscal year of 1923 up to $570,823,232 and makes the operating deficit $37,995,307 for 1923.

GOOD home-made bread has always been the chief food of the earth's sturdiest races. None of the breakfast foods or health foods can equal bread in nourishment. Good bread is the most digestible food as well as the cheapest.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Financial Change
 Mr. New stated that if the $6,000,000 of revenues thrown over in the succeeding fiscal year by a change of method and time of requisitioning stamp stock and accounting for sales, and the expenditures for the department at Washington, amounting to $3,416,547, which heretofore has been paid out of the general fund of the treasury instead of from the postal revenues, be considered for comparative purposes, the deficit would be reduced to $28,578,760.

Speaking of the growth of the postal service, Mr. New pointed out that since 1913, when the parcel post system went into effect, the revenues had increased approximately 100 per cent and that since 1907 the weight of the mails had probably increased 500 per cent. In contrast he noted that the number of clerks increased only 57.8 per cent, letter carriers 27.6 per cent, railway postal clerks 43.2 per cent, and rural carriers 3.2 per cent from 1913 to 1922 inclusive.
