COAST RANGE STEEL COMES INTO DEBATE

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith Takes Issue With Clearihue Over Company

VICTORIA, Oct. 31.—A lively debate in the legislature this session over the proposed Coast Range Steel plant is foreshadowed. In the debate yesterday Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, seconding the address in reply to a speech from the throne, sharply criticized the attitude of J. B. Clearihue, member for Victoria, who moved the reply.

Mr. Clearihue attacked the enterprise and the proposal to give it a Government subsidy and Mrs. Smith criticized Clearihue's attitude saying that "knowing what the steel industry means to the country, the Government will not quarrel or quibble with those desiring to give the industry a chance of development."

Dealing with immigration Mrs. Smith said the old country was full of desirable immigrants to whom Canada is a land of heart's desire but they must be made to understand that they will be welcome, because at present there is a propaganda of discouragement which tends to keep them away.

GOOD HUNTING IN THE SOUTH

Two Parties Return After Successful Trips to Hartley Bay

A hunting party escorted by Capt. Pete Rorvik in the N.M.R. returned to port this morning after a very enjoyable and successful trip to Hartley Bay, Campagnia Island and Banks Island. They got two deer and a number of geese, grouse and ducks. The party consisted of C. H. Orme, E. C. Gibbons, Joe Scott and Harry McLeod.

The power boat Bethune, Capt. Jack Bradbury, returned to port last night having been down the coast with a party on a nine day hunting trip. The party included Harry Berry, Jack Keefe, J. Lindsay and J. Thomas. The country around Gardner Canal and Douglas Channel was thoroughly gone over for game and the participants are loud in their praise of the excellent sport offered. A bag of five deer and a quantity of grouse, geese and ducks tells its own story of their hunting prowess.

Colored Lady is Given Six Months for Selling Whiskey Admitted Having Sold Beer

May Huger, colored, 913 Third Avenue West, was found guilty this morning by Magistrate McClymont on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor to wit whiskey, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Okalla Prison Farm. Constables Stewart, Ruggles and Huggard of the provincial dry squad testified that she sold whiskey and beer to them in the form of drinks. Accused admitted the selling of beer but denied that she had sold whiskey. W. E. Fisher conducted the prosecution and Milton Gonzales appeared for the defence. The hearing of the case took up the most of the time in the police court this morning.

Constable Stewart, principal witness for the crown, told of going to the premises of accused on October 5 at 9:40 p.m. in company with Constables Ruggles and Huggard and four other men. At first witness gave the address as 848 Fraser Street but later corrected himself and said that it was 913 Third Avenue West. Counsel for the defence objected to the chief of police making a suggestion to witness as to the correction. Constable Stewart then went on and told of eight drinks being served twice by accused. Constable Huggard paid for the first round and witness for the second. The price was 50c a glass, the total of $4 having been paid in each case. Witness and Huggard drank Scotch and Ruggles, beer.

Cross Examined

Cross-examining, Mr. Gonzales tested the evidence of the witness and asked him if he was quite clear as to all that had happened. It was also brought out in the cross-examination that witness had returned again to accused's place in order to purchase a bottle but had been unable to do so. While he was satisfied with the evidence obtained in buying drinks, witness admitted that it would strengthen the case to get a bottle. That was why he had returned. Men with which witness was associated in the obtaining of evidence had also desired to return to the place for they were always wanting drink. Witness was advised by the magistrate to give straight answers and avoid evasion.

In examination and cross examination, Constables Ruggles and Huggard largely corroborated the evidence of Stewart, although some details as to subsequent visits and the purpose thereof did not entirely correspond.

In Own Defense

Accused, on the box, admitted selling beer but denied selling whiskey. She remembered the detectives coming to her place. One of the detectives had had a bottle in his pocket and she asked him why he wanted another. Constable Stewart had followed her around and begged her to sell him a bottle of whiskey saying that he would pay any price for it. She never sold whiskey and she knew that by doing so she might get six months. Twice the detectives had come back and had tried in the worst way to buy a bottle but all they got from her she said was beer.

Under cross examination by Mr. Fisher, accused admitted that she had become suspicious when she had seen Ruggles already had a bottle.

Other Witnesses

Intending to call them as witnesses for the defence, Mr. Gonzales asked for the names of the other men who had been with the detectives. After explanations had been made by Mr. Fisher and Constable Stewart, it developed that two of the four men who had accompanied the detectives, knowing they were detectives, had volunteered their assistance. The other two were in the employ of the detectives. Mr. Fisher volunteered to produce these men as witnesses if the defence so desired but he declined to divulge their names in advance of their appearance. Mr. Gonzales then closed the defence and argument of counsel followed.

Passing Of A Great Canadian.

Canada claims Bonar Law as one of her sons and his passing reminds us that a great Canadian lived in Britain and did a great deal toward Canadianizing that country. He was a man of whom all British people may well have been proud. No breath of scandal ever touched him and he had marked ability. He was loved by those who followed him and respected by those opposed to his policies. Not only was he sincere, but he carried with him an intense conviction and ability to sympathise with those who opposed. When he retired from office a French newspaper paid him the following tribute:

"During his short term of office he completely broke with the policy of his predecessors by observing in all domains and particularly in diplomacy a sincerity and perfect uprightness that in no way prevented him from being absolutely devoted to the British cause."

Shop Early For Good Results.

Nearly everyone gives Christmas presents and it is customary at this time of year to request people to shop early and to mail their parcels early in order to relieve the congestion which usually comes later.

Those giving presents, who wish to really please the recipients, plan carefully what they are to get. Often the storekeeper can be a great aid in making a proper selection. Sometimes, if the presents are purchased in time, a very little work on the part of the donor will add a personal touch to the gift which is always appreciated. The great thing is to make the purchases early and in connection with this it is well to remember that Christmas is less than eight weeks away.

Infectious Diseases And Who Should Pay?

The city of Kamloops has sent on to the local city council a resolution suggesting that as the whole country is concerned in stopping the spread of infectious or contagious diseases, the cost of isolation hospitals should be borne by the whole country.

It is well, perhaps, in considering this resolution to consider the opposite view. The cities are the breeding places of disease and through the negligence of the cities many lives are lost. In order to encourage preventive measures it is well that the cost of treating outbreaks should fall on those places mostly responsible for disease. If drains are kept in good shape, sewers are constructed, premises are kept clean, the water supply kept pure, and the moral conditions looked after, there is not very much need for an isolation hospital. Disease breeds in filth and cities are usually filthy somewhere. They have hidden sores that are breeding places for disease. Cleanliness and healthful conditions in a city will obviate the need of asking the government to take care of patients who have to be isolated.

Edmonton's Problems Are Much Like Ours.

Says the Edmonton Journal: "The decline of summer brings with it the approach of the civic elections, and the elections in turn bring up for consideration the problems of our civic government. Business conditions are readjusting themselves, or being adjusted, by the returns from a bountiful harvest. But the burden of taxation resulting from the debenture indebtedness and other boom time commitments is so heavy that the improvement in business conditions is in large measure cancelled.

"The first step toward a return to former conditions of prosperity must be a reduction in the burden of taxation and this can only come about by drastic reductions in controllable expenditures. Whoever pays the taxes the amount is taken out of the business of the city, and every section of the population feels the loss. To the mayor and aldermen who will be elected in December next the citizens must look for action that will relieve the present burden of taxation. If the money is spent it must be repaid, and it can only be paid out of the taxes of the citizens. The financial position of the city can only be made good by drastically decreasing expenditure."

GETS TWO YEARS FOR CAUSING DEATH OF AUTO PASSENGER

Edmonton Man Found Guilty of Manslaughter and Sent to Penitentiary

EDMONTON, Oct. 31.—"Two years less one day at Fort Saskatchewan jail," was the sentence meted out to William Munro at the supreme criminal court yesterday morning, he having been found guilty by a jury after a three days trial which concluded late the afternoon before. The charge was one of manslaughter, the guilty man having been the driver of the taxi which late on the night of September 14, piled into a ditch at the north of the city and caused the death of Joe Bisseggar, one of the passengers, the girl with him having escaped injury.

Pleaded for Him

When the guilty man stood up for sentence, his counsel, George Massie spoke for ten minutes on his behalf. Referring to the three points upon which the jury might have found the man guilty, he said there was no doubt about excessive speed in view of the evidence but he did not see how they could have found him guilty if they did upon the other point, that of drunkenness. Whereupon the court interposed to remind Mr. Massie that the jury did not assign any reason for their verdict, being sworn to make their finding on the facts of the evidence.

Proceeding, Mr. Massie referred to the death of three men in the city from a similar automobile accident on Sunday and said that people had become unduly excited over such accidents and perhaps rightly so. It had been unfortunate for the man found guilty at this time and he made a plea for leniency that the young man before the bar of justice might not be doomed to penitentiary but given a chance of a fresh start that would follow a shorter sentence in jail.

Lenient Sentence

Mr. Justice McCarthy repeated again that the counsel for defense had done all that counsel could. The jury had found the man guilty and he didn't see how they could have done otherwise with the evidence before them. He had listened to the appeal of Mr. Massie and had considered it. In dealing leniently with the accused, he did so in the hope that he would mend his ways and pick up. The leniency was expressed in the verdict above, for the offence was one which might draw life imprisonment.

BARBERS OBJECT TO BEING PROFESSIONALS

VICTORIA, Oct. 31. — Indignantly claiming that they are simply tradesmen without "any high toned ambitions of being professional guys," barbers are sending in protests against the proposed measure that calls for a law classing the tonsorial experts with doctors and other members of the learned professions. The law, if it goes into effect would be stringent in calling for examinations. The protesting barbers aver the movement is started by members of their craft who feel the sting of competition by barber "colleges."

NOW that they are trying once more to open King Tut's tomb, it is well to remember that he lived in an uncivilized age before Barney Google was ever dreamed of.

TRYING to illustrate the impossibility of something happening, a speaker the other day remarked that it was like playing "Barney Google" to King Tutenkhamen and expecting him to fox trot.

THERE was one thing about old Tut. When he got tired of listening to the legislators he told them to go back and sit down and if they refused he had their heads chopped off. And yet we consider we have developed.

A FOOLISH contemporary suggests that when Carter enters King Tutenkhamen's tomb the old chap will think it was a plumber he telephoned for before going to sleep.

"DO you get me?" inquired the little girl. "Not if I keep my reason," was the ungracious reply.

FOX RAISING IS A PROFITABLE INDUSTRY

Vancouver Island Man Tells of High Quality of Product There

VICTORIA, Oct. 31.—Beaumont Boggs of this city, speaking before the Metchosin Farmers Institute told of his wife's experience in raising foxes at North Saanich. High prices were paid for the furs, as much as $760 being paid for a single pelt.

"It is a fact," said the speaker, "that the pelt of the captive fox brings a higher price than the wild fox, and the best fur does not come from the cold dry climate, as seems to be the general idea, the fur in such climates being usually of a coarser quality than the fur of foxes raised in a more humid climate."

Mr. Boggs gave information regarding the breeding of foxes. The Dominion government, recognizing the importance of this industry, has appointed an official expert, who will give all necessary information and advice to the prospective fox farmer.

The care of foxes and their habits were fully explained by the speaker, and the estimate of the cost of feed per annum, which did not exceed $5, was given. Mr. Morrison, who had a fox farm for some years in Alberta, is now carrying on the industry near Royal Oak, came out at Mr. Boggs' suggestion, although receiving many discouraging opinions from others, and finds that he can raise just as good and valuable pelts here as in Alberta.

Mr. Boggs stated that fox farmers were asking for legislation to be passed to protect the foxes from dogs. Their request is "that they be allowed to shoot any dog found within 300 feet of a pen."

Mrs. L. O. Larsen sailed last night by the Cardena bound for Seattle on a holiday trip.

FISH LUNCHEON IS HELD TODAY

Addresses Given at Affair Under Auspices of Fisheries Association

There was a large attendance of local business men at the fish luncheon given this afternoon by the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Fisheries Association to mark the occasion of National Fish Day. T. H. Johnson, president of the Association, occupied the chair and an appropriate address was given by Fred Stork, M.P. Those in charge of making arrangements for the affair were T. H. Johnson, president, John Dybhavn, vice-president, and James L. Lee, secretary of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Fisheries Association.

Interesting Addresses

In his remarks, Mr. Johnson gave some interesting figures showing the value and extent of the fisheries in Canada and at the port of Prince Rupert. All obstacles should be removed that prevented quick, free and cheap export. In spite of the obstacles those engaged in the fish business here would continue to prosper if good service was given.

Mr. Stork referred to the importance of advertising the fisheries and encouraging production and consumption. The biological board had plans under way which would be of great benefit to Prince Rupert.

John Dybhavn proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Stork and it was carried with enthusiastic applause.

The gathering opened with the singing of "O Canada" and closed with the National Anthem. There was also community singing of popular airs. W. Vaughan Davies presided at the piano.

Fish dishes featured the menu.

WEALTHIER CLASSES LEAVING IRELAND

High Income Tax One Cause of Many Wishing to Quit Country

DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—There is today an exodus from Ireland of members of the wealthier classes. Lord Oranmore and Browne is selling his property in Mayo, and other territorial magnates are taking the same course. Their estates in land come under the operation of the Land Purchase Acts, which transfer them to the tenants at a fixed price, and they have nothing left but their mansion houses and demesnes.

The destruction of the past year has wiped out many of the mansions. The fact that a higher income tax is payable in the Free State than in Great Britain and Northern Ireland also accounts for the desire to leave.

Yet the exodus is by no means general, and there are many men of wealth who prefer to stay in Ireland. When the Earl of Mayo, who is a Free State senator, was burned out of his family place in County Kildare, he took up his residence in the house of a gamekeeper on the estate, and resisted all attempts to drive him out. It is the desire of the Free State Government to encourage such men to stay in Ireland.

PREHISTORIC PAST OF THE PHILLIPINES

Recent Discoveries Indicate Islands Were Once Inhabited by Chinese

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 30. — The veil has been lifted from the prehistoric past of the Philippine Islands and discoveries have been made rivalling those in the tomb of Tutenkhamin, according to a report which has just been received at the University of Michigan from Dr. Carl E. Guthe, heading an archaeological expedition now in the islands.

Dr. Guthe's report hints strongly for the first time that Chinese formerly inhabited the island, a conclusion which he says is substantiated by the deposits unearthed by him during the last year. Material so far discovered, Dr. Guthe's report says, includes hundreds of pieces of pottery, broken and unbroken, much of it of the Ming period, some Tang, some Sung and much yet to be identified. There also have been found human bones, chip-stone and iron implements and weapons, copper and bronze articles, gold inlaid teeth and gold, shell, coral, glass and stone ornaments.

BRINGING UP FATHER

SUMAS LANDS ARE BEING CULTIVATED WITH EXCELLENT RETURNS

Owners of Adjoining Lands Are Leasing Pasture on Margin of Area

VICTORIA, Oct. 30.— When it is considered that 120 bushels — or two tons—constituted the crop taken this season from an acre by one of the farmers on the West prairie section of the Sumas reclamation area it will not be difficult to understand why Mr. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, had such faith in the proposal which he fathered and carried through to a successful conclusion. The land in question was ploughed last year after having been flooded by the Fraser River— a condition now guarded against by the plan that has been brought to fruition.

It is also interesting to observe that the farmer in this particular instance received $1.00 per ton over the market price on account of the high quality of the oats produced. This fact takes on more than usual significance when it is understood that a good British Columbia average crop is somewhere in the region of sixty bushels to the acre.

Naturally buoyed up with such excellent returns Mr. Barrow is optimistic regarding the future of Sumas and his plans have been developed with an eye to practical requirements. In other words he proposes to seed one thousand acres of this particular area to Timothy before the Fall days have gone, in order to prevent the spreading of weeds, and with an idea of furnishing the interest charges from the crop returns.

The government owns 12,000 acres in this area, 7,000 acres of which are lake bottom lands, and it is Mr. Barrow's intention to crop all the lands in the meantime and have them revenue producing against the time when they will be put on the market.

Sumas Lake has been reduced to one third of its normal winter area and pumping will be completed when the connecting ditch now being put in is finished.

Meantime Sumas land owners are being given first opportunity to lease for one year the marginal grass lands adjoining their holdings. Besides giving the farmers extended holdings at moderate rental this action will bring the sodded lands into first rate cropping condition.

ALICE ARM

H. F. Kergin, M.L.A. has commenced the erection of a fine new residence on an eminence between the town and the wharves. It will have a concrete foundation. Steve Dumas is building a two storey store in town, Al. Falconer is building a bungalow on the flat, T. Sutilovich is about to erect a residence on the Valley road and J. Duff is clearing a lot on the side hill with a view to building a house in the spring.

The Alice Arm Social League held its first debate last night the subjecet being "Resolved that the federal government should own and operate all the railroads in Canada." The speakers for the affirmative were: George Bruggy, C. Drennan and E. Moss; for the negative, T. W. Falconer, C. P. Riel and J. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs O. W. Gray and son have left for Seattle where they will spend the winter.

URGES PROHIBITION

Editor Daily News,

Apparently the one great question to engage the attention of the legislators at the coming session of the House will be the purchase and dispensing of intoxicants.

Laymen have discussed this question freely during the interim and, with an election in sight, we might again have the opportunity of expressing our opinion in another vote—for or against prohibition.

It appears that a country, claiming to adopt Christianity should be consistent. Because a few of us consider intoxicating liquor a benefit to mankind, when required for medicinal and other purposes, it is not right to compel others to become associated in the purchase and sale —for revenue purposes—of intoxicants, harmful to a great many.

If, as some people imagine, intoxicants are beneficial as a beverage, they should not compel others to become associated in a business proposition, thereby forcing them to adopt a means of raising revenue for the use of those indulging in intoxicants, also for those who are opposed to such practices. Laws are not always made for the protection of the majority or for their desires.

The minority must be protected. The majority in any country can take care of themselves. Why should we be forcing some people to agree to the law, which is not beneficial, and also to assist in allowing intoxicants to be shipped to our neighbors across the border? We sell, legally, to some of our own people, and fine, or imprison men and women, if they indulge too freely in what we hand them. Is this right? It appears more like obtaining money under false pretences.

No Halfway

Engaging in the intoxicating liquor business will bring about the downfall of any government. It is a very debasing way of raising revenue. Are we better able to conduct a saloon business than our one hundred millions of neighbors? Let us vote on a Prohibition Act, that will prohibit. No half way measure. It appears that those who favored prohibition in the past are simply waiting for things to regulate themselves. In the Legislature and out of it let us be consistent and oppose what is an evil to others—even if we must abolish what we may consider of use to ourselves.

The women of our country, with their votes and influence should consider their share in the good government of our Province and vote for prohibition. We can get along without revenue from such a source.

VOTER.

THE PROVINCIAL PARTY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

pen Letter to Hon. John Oliver

Vancouver, Oct. 26, 1923.

HON. JOHN OLIVER,
mier of British Columbia,
ictoria, B.C.

Sir:

enclose herewith for your information copy of a pamphlet CHLIGHT No. 5, issued today by the Provincial Party of h Columbia. If its contents be true, you, your colleagues, Mr. Bowser should, in common decency, retire from public f they are untrue, you should be given the earliest opportu- to refute them. For that reason I send you this copy.

his is the fifth pamphlet which I have sent you within th w months. Each contains most damaging charges. In one re accused of conniving with Mr. Bowser to prevent a pro- vestigation into the first P.G.E. scandal; in another with ng Hon. John Hart as Minister of Finance after he had his position as a Minister of the Crown, with the technical tion of an incorporated company behind him, for his and personal gain, in connection with the P.G.E. Ry., of both he and you, are directors. On July 20, 1923, and t 24, 1923, I addressed open letters to you requesting a to these charges and published them in the press.

o these you failed to make any answer.

n April 15 of this year, the Salmon Arm Observer quoted your public address in that city as follows:

The Speaker defied Gen. McRae to debate any charges of meanor by the present government anywhere, at any ing anxious for that opportunity, I notified you by open on April 30 that I would meet you in the city where you ued the challenge, on a date which you were to select. In that the fullest opportunity might be given you to make efence, the Board of Trade of Salmon Arm undertook to a hall to seat 2,500 people, and I offered to put on a bar- and dance in connection with the event for the further inment of those who attended.

ou failed to accept that challenge also. I notice, however, thern papers, that when confronted with this failure, at eetings, you stated you would meet me at a time to suit wn convenience, although I had studiously consulted your nience by leaving the selection of the date to yourself. I that you made a similar reply when asked why you failed t the still unrefuted charges of Mr. R. T. Elliot, on April 20, which were read in your presence on the floor of the lure.

From the charges made against d your government you have sought safety in silence. y, Mr. Bowser, has done the same. In the public interest e I propose another course to force both of you to recog- ur responsibilities.

But I make ll on behalf of the whole body of long suffering tax- who, if these charges be true, are being exploited by onal politicians like yourself and your confederates. On f these taxpayers I warn you, that any attempt by you power, at the coming session of the Legislature, to bor- e money on P.G.E. account, or to seek by the dissolution egislature, another term of office, before some adequate artial investigation is held, will be such an outrage public morals that the electorate will show its resent- the first opportunity.

BANQUET IS GIVEN FOR SPORTSMEN AT GRANBY SATURDAY

ANYOX, Oct. 31.— In order to celebrate the winning of the cup emblematic of the Anyox baseball championship, the Mine Club staged a banquet on Saturday night last in the Mine messroom, and all who attended pronounced it a most successful function. Tables were laid for 125 guests, and they were all there, those invited being the members of the three teams making up the league. Manager Ployart, of the Mine team, was in charge of the "do" and working with him were the entertainment and refreshments committees of the Mine club. There is no question but what these committees were entitled to all the compliments expressed; and when they arranged with R. W. Clayton to supervise the "eats" no mistake was made. Mr. Clayton is evidently an artist at this sort of catering, the guests sitting down to tables artistically arranged and groaning with dainties in the shape of salads, trifles, pastries and fruits.

In selecting Dr. Learoyd as chairman, no happier choice could have been made. An extensive program was carried out after the cup had been passed around the tables and toasts to the three teams had been called, Mr. Ployart replied on behalf of the Mine, Mr. Waterman for the Elks and Mr. Matheson for the Smelter. Artists contributing to the program comprised Dr. Harper, Max Morrow, Fred Archer, Ed. Blundell, J. Tierney, Archie Morton and Messrs. Giffen and Mitchell.

ANYOX BASKETBALL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

ANYOX, Oct. 31—The adjourned basketball meeting for the election of officers was held on the date appointed, with Dr. Simmons in the chair, and the following elected: President, Geo. Lee, who has since found it impossible to act on account of pressure of business; vice-president, J. E. Swanson; secretary-treasurer, F. Hewgill. The remaining members of the executive board will be appointed from each league — ladies, intermediate and senior.

The board of arbitration appointed consists of Mr. Dwyer, Dr. Learoyd, Mr. Champion, Mrs. Eve and Mrs. Woods. All organizations are requested to have their teams entered on or before November 10. Gregg Thompson was appointed a representative of the basketball interests to the A. C. L. Council.

Tommy Sherman and Tommy Fraser, the contestants in the main boxing bout in the tournament to be held at the Empress Theatre on Monday next, are down to hard pan training. Tommy Sherman is being trained by his brother Jack Sherman and Eddie Craggs while George Waugh is responsible for the training of Tommy Fraser. Both boys are shaping very well indeed and are evincing a keen interest in taking home the bacon on the eventful night. The respective training camps are loud in praise of their charges and according to all reports in the fistic world the bout should prove to be one of the best that has ever been pulled off in the north. Both boys will enter the ring at 135 lbs. weight and the bout will be one of six rounds. The referee of the bout has not yet been named.

Prince George curlers are enthusiastically preparing for a very active season this winter and an effort is being made to have ladies engage in the game as well as men. It is expected to get 80 citizens on the ice regularly. The annual meeting of the Curlers' Club of that town was held last week and the following officers were elected: President, W. P. Ogilvie; vice-president, W. G. D. Harris; secretary treasurer, F. J. Steacy. Cyril Dupre will have charge of the ice again this season.

Noticing a squirrel scampering off the course into the woods with a golf ball recently, Mrs. Archie McLean of Montreal, chased the little chap to his nest. Looking into a hole in a tree she discovered it was filled with golf balls and on counting them she found they numbered 68. The squirrel did not lose anything material by the discovery, however, for Mrs. McLean later brought a bag of nuts and emptied them into the cache.

WOMEN STILL FIGHT FOR RIGHTS QUEBEC

Cannot Have a Vote and a Man Too in That Province; Many Disabilities

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—"You cannot have a vote and a man too, in the Province of Quebec. It would be too much happiness to have both!"

In these satiric words Mrs. John Scott, at a dinner given by the Lions' Club summed up the position of women in her province. Mrs. Scott is the President of the Women's Club. She seized the opportunity presented to drive home some facts, vehemently protesting against the lot of women in the province of Quebec as regards their political status, provincially and municipally. Discussion later took place on the substance of the address, and the concensus of opinion was that the granting of the franchise to Quebec women, and the existence of the provincial, municipal and school franchise in all other provinces, was adequate attestation of the justice of women's suffrage and their capacity to discharge responsibilities imposed.

Declaring that the anti-suffragettes today were either dead or speechless, Mrs. Scott remarked that Mr. Walter Mitchell "now brags that he once voted for a bill to allow women to practice law in Quebec;" that Sir Lomer Gouin maintained that he was a suffragist at heart, which "indicates clearly that his heart is a long way from his head," and that Premier Taschereau had better watch out or the Latin countries would beat him to it in recognizing the status of the women.

Widows and Spinsters

Mrs. Scott flayed the law that permitted only widows and spinsters to have a voice in municipal elections, with no recognition at all for married women; that also ignored them at provincial elections; that a married woman could not administer property, give it away or sell it; that she could not deposit more than $500 in a bank without her husband's consent; that if no marriage contract exists the husband has complete administration over his wife's property; etc.

An inconsistency which the speaker stressed was that there was a woman mayor in Quebec; the Mother Superior of the Longue Pointe St. Jean de Dieu Hospital being Mayor of St. Jean de Dieu. Mrs. Scott said that Mayor Martin had failed to keep a promise to do what he could for them. When a bill covering the women's position here came up at Quebec, he had returned to Montreal, and though efforts had been made to obtain a two minute interview on four consecutive days no success had been realized.

MANY SCOTSMEN HAVE TO LEAVE HOME LAND

Seventy Thousand Have Migrated Since Beginning of Year

GLASGOW, Oct. 30.—Seventy thousand Scots, most of them wrenched away from home by unemployment, have emigrated since the first of this year, the majority going to Canada and the United States.

Tradesmen unable to make a good living at home compose a large part of the moving mass. Of skilled craftsmen, no longer able to find work in the industries that feed the Clyde, hundreds have gone hopefully westward— engineers, building trade artisans, iron and steel workers—highly skilled labor that Britain deeply regrets losing.

Not long ago an American touring the Highlands and the Lochs near Glasgow remarked to his Scottish host that it seemed a pity men had to pack up and leave such a beautiful environment, whose legends and traditions were rooted deep in their hearts.

"Aye, but ye canna live on scenery," said the Scot.

MARRY FOR MONEY BUT QUIT AT CHURCH DOOR

That Is Practice of Number of Men in Britain to Give Citizenship to Women

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The many mercenary "bridegrooms" who are willing to marry alien women for a financial consideration in order to allow them to enter the country, is providing the Home Office with a difficult problem.

Marriage to Britons makes these women British citizens, which is the goal at which they aim. The arrangement is generally that the bridegroom lends his name to the ceremony, receiving from $60 to $75 for his trouble. The couple part at the registry doors, and the wife is thereafter free to travel any place in Great Britain or the dominions without further question.

Married Ten Times

The Home Office has been able to intervene in many cases, however, where the bridegrooms have over-stepped their legal allowance and married in some instances as many as ten women. In these cases the women have been deported and the man sent to prison for bigamy.

The problem of the nationality of the wife was discussed several times during the last session of Parliament and will come before the Dominion's conference now meeting in London. Here it is expected a final decision will be made as to whether the wife retains her nationality, or takes that of her husband. If the former, the British Government will take steps to have a bill passed allowing all married women to adopt English nationality at once, but prohibiting others from assuming it without going through the usual legal course.

During the year 1921 there were approximately 560 of these "convenient" marriages.

CALGARY MUST MAKE RADICAL CHANGES TO AVOID RECEIVERSHIP

CALGARY, Oct. 31.—The conviction that the city of Calgary must make some radical changes in its financial arrangements, to avoid an ultimate receivership, was forcibly expressed by Mayor George Webster before the Board of Trade of that city. He pointed to the annual deficits and the practice of shoving the burden ahead each year rather than a definite plan to balance the budget. That the latter will be difficult is seen from the fact that, with present revenues, a general reduction of 25 per cent. in the expenditure will be necessary. This will curtail present services to a degree which will scarcely be accepted by the ratepayers without resistance.

The mayor's address consisted of a general review of the city's financial problem. The collection of taxes has not been up to expectations, the business tax being the only exception. Of the total expected current taxes of $3,658,703 for the year, only $2,466,958 had been collected up to Sept. 30. The estimates on the business tax were $280,000, and $281,973 had been collected to the same date.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."
