SNOW STORM TIES UP VANCOUVER SHIPPING

STRUGGLE IN RUHR MAY END IN APRIL WITH GERMAN FUEL STARVATION

Terrible Time Experienced by Steamers in South when Trying to Navigate During a Blizzard

(Special to Daily News).
VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—(Delayed in transit).—Lashed by a furious northeaster which threatened at times to stand her on her beam, the C.P.R. steamship Princess Victoria, which left Vancouver last night with passengers for Seattle, crept back through a snow blizzard at 11.30 this morning after an all night battle with the elements.
Captain Griffin made six unsuccessful attempts to enter Active Pass in the blinding storm but prudently refused to take the chance. At times the officers were unable to see the stern of the ship. Her passengers were transferred at three o'clock to the Great Northern Seattle bound train from here.
The ship is undamaged.

The Princess Adelaide, bound to Victoria from Vancouver, anchored off Kellett Bluff.
The Princess Victoria bound from Vancouver to Seattle was off the Sandheads.
The sailing of the Princess Royal to Prince Rupert is cancelled.
The C.P.R. freighter Princess Ena is stormbound at Shuswap Bay.

Expert Says Germans May Have no Fuel to Carry on Industries

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Neutral observers here, who are declared to be in a position to know about the coal stocks of France and Germany, predict that the struggle going on between France and Germany in the Ruhr valley is likely to end early in April on account of Germany's fuel starvation. They believe that Germany will then be unable to operate her railways and factories. France's coal supplies are also said to be short but it is claimed by experts that France is better able than Germany to buy from other countries.
ESSEN, Feb. 15.—In the opinion of industrialists of the Ruhr, unemployment may soon be a problem confronting the French and Germans alike. Directors of Krupp's say there is enough repair work to keep the plants running a while longer but the outlook for the future is dark in view of the tightening customs ring.
Despite the success of the French in maintaining limited railway service and otherwise gaining control of the coal area, the Germans believe that passive resistance will checkmate the French. Economic conditions are becoming worse as the smaller industries close.

Capt. Nicholson Gets Promotion to Position with Railway Co. with Headquarters at Montreal

(Special to Daily News).
MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Captain C. H. Nicholson, formerly manager of the coast steamship of the Canadian National Railways, who was recently moved from that position by the railway management, has been promoted to the position of manager of the Canada Atlantic Transit Company and all car ferries with headquarters at Montreal. This company is part of the Canadian National system and the position is an important one.
Captain Nicholson's many friends here are glad to hear of the promotion and are expressing the hope that he has not finally severed his connection with transportation in the West. He was moved for reasons of economy of operation to avoid duplication of positions, but it is hoped he may be given administrative work that will again include the West in its scope. Montreal is the headquarters of the system and the captain will be in a position to lend material aid to the aspirations of Prince Rupert and the development of the West from his position there.

GUGGENHEIMS BOUGHT MINE

Mining Revival is Predicted by J. D. Galloway, Mining Engineer for Omineca District this Year

Conditions for mining in Omineca district are now much better generally and there will be a good deal more activity this year than for some seasons past, according to J. D. Galloway, resident mining engineer from Hazelton, who passed through the city yesterday on his way from Victoria to his station in the interior. Mr. Galloway says that a number of mining deals are now pending on interior properties which will result in development work on a considerable scale this year.
Speaking of the Dome Mountain property, which was disposed of recently in New York by T. E. Jefferson, Mr. Galloway said that the property had some big surface showings of gold quartz ore which were very promising. Last summer Mr. Jefferson had done some development work, which had been closed down for the winter. The new company intended to go energetically ahead this spring and that was little doubt that the mine would be in the shipping class before long. Development of this property, Mr. Galloway said, would necessitate the ultimate putting in of a mill.
Duthie Mine
Development work on the Duthie mine at Smithers had brought out a first class showing of silver-lead ore which improved as the work went deeper, Mr. Galloway said. Already some ore had been shipped to the Trail smelter.
Mr. Galloway said there was some possibility of the Silver Standard mine at Hazelton, controlled by General J. W. Stewart, opening up and shipping again this year. There was a mill there and already a considerable quantity of concentrates had in the past been shipped from the property. An attempt was being made to amalgamate several properties on Rochede Boule mountain, including the Rochede Boule. If this were accomplished it would probably mean further shipping of copper ore from the mountain. The Rochede Boule was a big shipper some years ago.
The Fiddler Group, a gold property, 4 miles from Doreen station, controlled by Mr. Tredway, of Edmonton, had a few men working on it now and work on a larger scale was planned this year, Mr. Galloway stated. The putting in of a mill there was also a possibility.
Coal Possibilities
Speaking of the coal possibilities in the interior, Mr. Galloway said that there were two or three fields of good coal in abundance. But transportation was lacking and until there were railway branch lines tapping the fields, little in the way of production could be expected. The Betty mine, a small proposition near Telkwa, was the only producing mine in the district at the present time.
Mr. Galloway, who has been spending three months at the head office of the Department of Mines in Victoria, is returning to Hazelton for the summer. Mrs. Galloway accompanies him.

Weather Conditions In The South.

Reports coming through from the south indicate that while we may have been having severe weather here during the past few days, it has been as nothing compared with that at Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. Not only have they had the cold but they have had with it blizzards and deep snow. When passengers left Vancouver Monday there was snow on the ground at Vancouver and New Westminster and this deepened later. The cold here has not been at all intense. The northerly breeze has made the weather rather unpleasant but that is as nothing to what has happened at other places.

Wheat Crop Was Higher Than Estimate.

The final estimate of the 1922 wheat crop, which was recently published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, places the total yield at slightly less than 400,000,000 bushels, says the Royal Bank report. Once more the Dominion has established a record in wheat production, having surpassed her previous record of 1915 by more than six million bushels. The actual figures for 1922 were 399,786,400 bushels, in comparison with 393,542,600 bushels for 1915. According to the government's estimate, the value of the crop is $399,419,000 as against $242,936,000 for the 1921 crop and an average of $392,542,320 for the five-year period 1917-1921. The respective yields of the other leading wheat producing countries are estimated by the International Institute of Agriculture thus—

Gold Hoardings Had Bad Effect.

To those who have given the matter careful thought, it must be apparent that normal financial conditions cannot be restored, nor can the pre-war channels and volume of trade be resumed, until the principal countries of the world resume gold payments. In this connection it is interesting to consider the international movements of gold which have been taking place during recent years.

When the gold standard is in general use throughout the world, the movements of gold are relatively fixed and definite. During the war period and since, however, the economic and financial machinery of the various countries failed to function in the regular manner, and one result of this situation, as is well known, was an abnormal movement of gold to the United States. The quantity of the metal held in the vaults of the Federal Treasury, and of the Federal Reserve Banks and Agents increased from $1,890,656,791 on July 1, 1914, to $3,908,616,985 on December 1, 1922. In the accumulation of this enormous stock, gold was drawn from practically all countries of the world as part settlement for their unfavorable balances of trade. There were, however, certain other countries which succeeded in augmenting their visible gold holdings, partly by concentrating in central reserves, either by patriotic injunction, or otherwise, gold which formerly had been circulated or hoarded, and partly by the increased sale of their goods to foreign countries.

Change Already Taking Place.

During recent months a definite change has taken place in the movements of the world's gold. The magnitude of the flow to the United States already has been greatly reduced and there are reasons for believing that this reduction will continue. American imports of gold during 1922 were $275,000,000 in comparison with $691,000,000 in 1921, while exports last year were slightly above those of the previous year. The net result was that the receipts of gold during 1922 declined by more than $400,000,000 from the 1921 figure. It is quite apparent that a large proportion of the present gold holdings of the United States is not needed in that country, but is urgently required abroad. It is reasonable to suppose that if the normal movement of trade does not induce an outflow of gold from the United States, the attractiveness of foreign securities will do so.

BROKE UP HAPPY HOME THEN TOOK MAN'S WIFE AWAY

Danger of Dallying with Love Told in Picture at Westholme Tonight

No happier couple ever lived than Ned Connors and his wife Nancy. Devotedly attached to each other, they lived their simple lives in a small eastern town. Then came news there was gold to be found in the west. Connors and his wife talked it over, and the following spring saw them moving to New Mexico.

For several months after locating in the western state, Connors went prospecting with little or no luck. Each day he hid himself into the hills followed by his faithful dog, Jeanne, but each day he came back empty handed. His wife, however, never lost faith in him. She was sure that if he kept on his luck was bound to change.

Saved His Life

One evening Connors was sitting in the doorway of his shack when he saw a wagon passing along the top of a cliff. Idly he watched the vehicle a few moments and as he watched Connors saw the wagon was passing perilously near the edge of a precipitous bank, the driver apparently unconscious. Rushing as fast as he could to the top, Connors arrived just in time to warn the man, who jumped to safety. Seeing that the driver was ill, Connors took him back to his shack, where he and his wife nursed the stranger back to health. The man told them he was Dr. Martin, that he had been practicing only a short time, and that he was going to settle in that part of the state. Connors invited him to stay a while with them. Meantime, Martin and Connors' wife fell in love with each other.

When things reached that pass Martin decided that he ought to leave, but the unsuspecting Connors again importuned him to stay. A few days after Connors was called away. Returning later in the day he saw, from the top of the hill that fronted his cabin his wife and the doctor clasped in each others' arms.

Shot Former Rescuer

In the white heat of anger the young prospector drew his gun and rushed in on the pair, ordering his wife into the house. Connors commanded Martin to walk ahead of him up the trail where he had first met him. At a bend in the road, Connors told Martin to keep on walking and to never return, and then started back for his own shack. As he turned, Martin whipped out a gun and fired. The bullet hit Connors in the head. Martin, believing him dead, made a shallow grave and buried the body beneath a mound of grass and leaves. He then hurried to the Connors' shack and told Connors' wife that he had killed her husband in self-defense. He urged the woman to fly with him, and the latter, fearing that she might be implicated in the killing, obeyed.

That is not the end of the story. The climax is shown in picture tonight at the Westholme Theatre.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

THERE was a man tried to start the furnace fire yesterday by the power of suggestion. Then he went to sleep again and was fired himself two hours later. That was where suggestion failed.

THERE were two sisters. One was a stenog, sitting for hours on a stool and the other was "The lady of the House" in a beautiful home of her own. Which should have been envious?

A WOMAN may think as well as a man, work as well as a man or sing as well as a man or even do either of these things a darn sight better, but she will never be able to speak in public as well as a man for the Almighty never gave her that kind of a voice.

WHEN does a woman begin to grow old, asks an old bachelor? Don't be jealous, Mr. Man. She began to grow old long before you did. She was quite an ancient dame at ten years old for she had mothered dozens of dolls by that time.

SOME COPPER SOLD LESS THAN FIFTEEN

One Hundred and Fifty Million Pounds Shipped in December

A New York despatch to Burdick, Logan & Co., in regard to the copper market says: "The price of electrolytic copper has advanced 1/4 cent a pound to 15 cents delivered as the result of strong buying of last week. Fair sales have been made at this price, but buyers are still marketing around trying to find under the market copper before making further commitments in quantity.

"Domestic demand continues mainly for February, March and April shipments, and is strong from both wire and brass mills. "Copper shipments, foreign and domestic, by American producers, in December, were about 150,000,000 pounds. This compares with shipments of 165,000,000 pounds in November, and an average of about 160,000,000 for the last six months of 1922.

"Refinery output was about 165,000,000 pounds in December. Stocks of refined copper at the end of the year were therefore about 295,000,000 pounds. Out of North and South American mines was approximately 150,000,000 pound in December. Consequently the increase of approximately 15,000,000 pounds of refined stocks was balanced by corresponding decrease in blister stocks."

Eczeema or Salt Rheum, as it is commonly called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when exposed to heat, are almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

Burdock Blood Bitters

has met with in permanently removing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties. Mrs. M. B. Willard, Dudswell, Jct., Que., writes:—"For about three years I had eczeema, in a very bad form, on my hands. They were all raw and would crack and bleed so that I could not do my housework. I tried everything I could think of without any results. At last I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and when I had it about a week I could see it was helping me; by the time I had taken five bottles my hands were all well again and I have not been bothered since. I cannot praise Burdock Blood Bitters enough."

BOYS' PARLIAMENT AT EDMONTON DESCRIBED

In the address given by W. F. Galloway at the Methodist Church last night, he told the young people's organizations of the boys' parliament in Alberta where delegates were chosen from similar young people's organizations and these met at Edmonton and formed a legislature, using the provincial legislative chamber and adjoining offices and carrying on a government and parliament during the time they were in session. Everything was done by the boys themselves. It was very successful and interesting.

Husband Didn't Dare
Leave Her Alone
Heart Was So Bad

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

There is no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system.
Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eekville, Alta., writes:
—'About a year ago I had heart trouble.
My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often had to stay up at night with me. I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes; I took them and I felt much better, so continued all winter, and now I never feel any such faintness. I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me.'

GREAT VICTORIA
WATER SCHEME WAS BADLY DEEATED

VICTORIA, Feb. 15.—By the unprecedented vote of 3,782 to 321—practically twelve to one—Victoria and the surrounding territory registered their opposition to the Greater Victoria water scheme. Never before has a local referendum been taken simultaneously throughout the southern section of Vancouver Island, and seldom, if ever, before have these districts individually expressed their voice on a public issue so emphatically.

“Would Wake Up Screaming”

“The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him.”

“Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leapfrog one day with some boys of his own age, and while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip.
The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murred Mother, but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a serious condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling.
He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice.
The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of, that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was.”

POLYTECHNIC IS DISCUSSED

J. Pinder-Moss Urges Extension of Work but Board Sceptical

CLASSES TOO SMALL

Decision That Organization Must be Self Supporting After Midsummer

After a lengthy discussion with J. Pinder-Moss, the director, the School Board last night placed $2,500 in the year's estimates for the Northern Polytechnic. This will carry the work on until the summer and then, according to the intentions expressed by members of the board, some reorganization will be made to either make the Institute a self-supporting organization independent, as far as financing by the school board is concerned, put it on a straight night school basis or eliminate it altogether, the results obtained up till the end of the next term to determine the future of the institution.

Mr. Pinder-Moss read a long report on various matters in connection with the institute. This report showed that, since its inception, the Institute had a maximum of 163 pupils and a minimum of 103 or 3.27 of the population of the city which was a greater ratio than in other cities in the province. To date the Institute had cost the city $1231.78. The average class attendance had been 7.20.

Average Attendance

Reporting for January Mr. Pinder-Moss informed the board that there were 103 pupils enrolled. Trustee Parker asked for average attendance for the month in the various classes and was given the following figures: English and Latin, 3.38; French, 5.1; Civics, mathematics and matriculation, 12.5; Botany and history, 7.58; drawing and art, 3.6; sheet metal, 7; mechanical drawing and boat designing, 5.4; shorthand and typewriting, 4.2; dressmaking, 5.5; millinery, 10; gas engineering, 4; steam engineering, 4.25. Telling of his recent trip south Mr. Pinder-Moss stated that his administration had been approved by the Department of Education which had placed the entire work in Northern B.C. under his supervision with a view to extending its scope. It had been felt that the fees here were too low and he would suggest that the fees be raised so that the whole expense of the institute might be financed from fees and provincial government grant, eliminating civic grants. This could be done with an enrolment of 350 pupils and the extension of the scope of the Institute to take in such places as Quesnel, Massett, Stewart, Alice Arm, Burns Lake, Prince George, Bella Coola, Surf Inlet, Terrace, Hazelton, Smithers, Vanderhoof and Swanson Bay. It would take some money to start this and he would suggest that $2,500 be advanced to the institute by the local board as a loan to be repaid when the Institute was on its feet.

To carry on this year under the present organization, Mr. Pinder-Moss asked for the sum of $2,996 to be placed in the estimates. Trustee Parker pointed out that there were fewer pupils now than when the Institute opened. It did not seem that the public was supporting it. Mr. Pinder-Moss replied that this was but a normal condition. The success of the work could not be judged for at least three years. Dr. Kerzin expressed the feeling that the town was too small for an Institute along the line suggested. He wanted to give it a fair trial but he felt that the classes were small. He would favor carrying on on the present basis and raising the fees to lower the overhead expense to the school board. The time did not seem opportune to extend the work until it had been proved here.

Fewer Pupils
Trustee Casey did not think there was any use extending the Institute at this time. He was of the opinion that it was now costing too much for what was being obtained from it. The public wondered why Mr. Pinder-Moss did not teach himself, why he had an office, a stenographer and so much paraphernalia. He would eliminate the frills. Trustee McLennan said that he wanted to give the Institute a fair trial but he still had doubts as to its success and he was afraid of branching out at this time.

The discussion closed with the passing of a motion, moved by Trustee Parker, putting $2,500 in the estimates for the year. The payroll and accounts for January were also approved.

lose there will likely be a first place tie since the Sons of Canada, Valhalla and Oddfellows are all one game being with good chances of sharing the leadership. The Scots may continue their slim margin at the top by winning but it is unlikely they will improve it.

The real boxers of today are the men who love the game, says Spike Webb, boxing instructor of the United States Naval Academy. They love to hear the bell ring that brings them to the centre of the ring, the thump of gloves, the cheering of the spectators and all the thrills that go to make up the manly art of self defence. Half heartedness and lack of earnestness eliminate anyone from the boxing game.

Conditions constantly arise in boxing which the boxer has never experienced before. In such cases he has no time to lose. His brain must act instantly. The ability to get out of a bad predicament or to keep the other man from escaping from one by keen thinking is good generalship. The boxer should study the expression of the opponent's face and be able to recognize instantly the slightest sign of nervousness. If there is any sign of weakness he must be quick to discover it and to direct his attack in the way that will prove most effective. A boxer should not become excited when his opponent is groggy but should box with precision. A chance should never be allowed to go and one should never be given; on the other hand signs of pain or weakness should be kept from the face or action while boxing. The boxer who can avoid punishment without surrendering any advantage to the man whom he is boxing surely shows the highest form of ring generalship.

SWISS COLONIZATION AGENT COMING HERE

Fritz Beck Expected to Pass Through Prince Rupert in Course of Few Days

Fritz Beck, a delegate representing the Swiss Colonization Association, is expected in the city within a few days to look into the question of possible settling of Swiss agriculturists in this province. He will be glad to meet compatriots when here, especially those engaged in agriculture. Mr. Beck's scheme is looked upon as one of the most feasible and practical that has been suggested and good results are hoped for from it. He has already received promises of support from the Ontario, Quebec and Federal government and it is thought the western provinces will also cooperate with him.

How often can We Advertise?

NOT How often should we Advertise?

WHY are the Canadian and American Manufacturers appropriating fifty per cent more dollars in Newspaper Advertising for the year 1923 than in 1922?

There's a Reason BECAUSE they have implicit faith in the pulling power of Newspaper Advertising and in the future trade conditions for the coming year.

The daily newspaper has proved itself worthy of this tremendous responsibility and trust.

Men who spend millions of dollars on Newspaper Advertising yearly know what it has done for them in the past and feel safe in trusting their future fortunes to the advertising columns of the daily press.

ESTIMATES OF SCHOOL BOARD

Providing for $76,495 Ordinary and $11,000 Extraordinary Expenditures Passed Last Night

Ordinary estimates totalling $76,495 and extraordinary estimates totalling $11,000 were passed by the School Board last night.

The ordinary estimates include $53,363 for teachers' salaries, a reduction from last year on account of the elimination of one teacher. Two new items are also provided for in $2,400 for a dental clinic and $2,500 for technical education. The remainder of the total of $76,495 is made up of upkeep and operating expenses of the schools including coal, supplies, janitors' salaries, etc. Last year's estimate for ordinary expenditures was $76,330, so a reduction is really shown when the new provisions are taken into consideration.

The extraordinary estimates of $11,000 are made up as follows: playgrounds, $1,000; completing payments on Booth School repairs, $1,500; investigation and audit of Booth School construction $500; contingencies, $5,000.

INQUEST IS BEING HELD

Coroner's Jury is Deliberating Today on Cause of Robert Corner's Death

Inquest into the death of Robert Corner, who was found yesterday morning in his room at Lena Silver's house on First Avenue with his head blown to pieces as a result of a rifle shot, opened in the police court this morning before Coroner McMillin and was adjourned at 1 o'clock until 2:30 this afternoon. Dr. H. E. Tremayne, Dr. J. P. Gade, Lena Silver, John Burns and Chief Vickers were the witnesses heard this morning and this afternoon William Millar, liquor vendor, and Henri Letourneau, plumber will be examined. The former is being called in connection with liquor purchases said to have been made by accused and the latter because he is said to have been at the premises shortly before the shooting making repairs to pipes which had burst.

The principal question of doubt is whether deceased came to his death by suicide or by accident, evidence having been adduced that he had planned a hunting trip and might have been examining the gun when he shot himself.

The juryman are C. V. Eviit, Bert Morgan, J. C. Gavigan, Thomas McMeekin, G. A. Bryant and Jack Judge.

Tells of Shooting

John Burns, who was in the house at the time of the shooting, in giving evidence said that Corner had been in good spirits when he had seen him only a few minutes before he died. He had said "good-bye" and when asked where he was going replied that he was going to bed. There was no indication in his actions that he intended to end his life. After the shooting he had been found by witness and Dr. Tremayne lying on his right side with the rifle between his knees pointing towards his head.

Lena Silver said that deceased had brought a rifle to his room some days previously saying that he intended to go on a hunting trip to Porcher Island. He had been drinking a good deal of late.

It was learned this morning that Corner, who was some 83 years of age, is survived by three middle-aged daughters, two in Halifax and another in Montreal.
