Fred Stork Urges Shipment of Grain Through Prince Rupert to Avoid the Eastern Combine

The full report of the speech of Fred Stork, member for Keena, a short telegraphic mention of which was made in the Daily News, has just arrived. Dealing with this port and its advantages the speaker, as reported in Hansard, says:

Allow me to say a word to the western Progressives and the growers of grain on the prairies. Complaint has been made that the benefits which accrued from the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement have been largely nullified by the action of an alleged combine of shipping

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION

Proposal to Introduce Method into Dominion Elections is Voted Down

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—An all day debate here yesterday ended in defeat of a motion of W. G. Wood, progressive of Brant, for creation of one or more multi-member constituencies under the Redistribution Act for the purpose of demonstrating the true value of proportional representation. The vote was 72 for and 90 against.

Premier Mackenzie King and most of the members of the cabinet voted for the resolution while Hon. J. H. King of British Columbia and other cabinet members opposed. Arthur Meighen also opposed the plan.

The parties split and the debate was bitter for and against proportional representation.

FINE SPEECH WAS DEAD FOR THREE WEEKS

House of Commons Votes Down Proposal to Refer to League of Nations

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The House of Commons by a vote of 306 to 296 rejected the joint Liberal amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, proposing an investigation by the League of Nations in conjunction with the United States into Germany's capacity to pay reparations claims.

In the debate which preceded the vote, Lloyd George delivered one of the most brilliant speeches of his career, characterizing the French occupation of Ruhr as a duplication of Germany's invasion of Belgium in 1914.

Although many members of parliament who supported the resolution, it was obviously voted down because its acceptance would have meant a vote of want of confidence in the government.

REBUILDING ENGINE SHOPS

Temporary Frame Building Recommended Until Permanent Shops are Ready

After having sized up the situation from all angles following the fire which destroyed the local C.N.R. round house last Wednesday morning, C. J. Quantie, master mechanic for British Columbia district, stated this morning that he had recommended to the management that a temporary frame building similar to the one destroyed be erected on the same site to get the shops again operating until a permanent building had been decided upon. Mr. Quantie said that the matter of a permanent building had been before the management for some time but no definite plans had been adopted.

It will be necessary to have the machinery re-covered before work can be carried on normally in the shops and Mr. Quantie said that, with good luck, he hoped everything would be running again as usual in about thirty days time. Of course, all plans are awaiting approval from headquarters. The debris of the fire and the wreck of the old building is being cleared away with a view to protecting the machinery from further damage from the weather.

Mr. Quantie leaves for the East on tonight's train.

DESIRES PROSPERITY OF PRINCE RUPERT

Premier Oliver Writes E. C. Gibbons in Reply to Letter From Board

At the last meeting of the Board of Trade exception was taken to a report in which it seemed as if Premier Oliver spoke of Vancouver always in connection with the grain trade, to the exclusion of Prince Rupert. The matter was drawn to his attention by the Board and the following reply has been received:

E. C. Gibbons,
 President Prince Rupert Board of Trade,
 Dear Sir—My secretary has forwarded to me here a copy of your letter of January 25th, and I beg to assure you that in speaking of British Columbia's ocean ports I have invariably spoken of Rupert, Victoria, New Westminster, as well as Vancouver. It is impossible to avoid mentioning Vancouver more frequently than other places on account of the fact that at present Vancouver is the only B.C. port from which wheat is being exported in bulk, and further, that in the rates comparisons used Vancouver figures more prominently than do other places in B.C. I can assure you that no one desires the prosperity of Prince Rupert more ardently than I do. I am, yours very truly,
 JOHN OLIVER.

Develop Natural Resources of Province with White Labor says Manson: is Victory for Province

VICTORIA, Feb. 20.—The British Columbia legislation prohibiting the employment of Japanese and Chinese on crown property by timber licensees, which has been upheld by the Privy Council in London in the decision given yesterday will affect about fifty firms who employ about 1,000 Orientals.

Hon. A. M. Manson claims that the judgment supports him in his stand for the development of the natural resources of the province by white persons. The decision he says helps clear the air and is a victory for the province.

The judicial committee of the Privy Council did not find it necessary in deciding the case to determine the effect of the Anglo-Japanese treaty upon the situation. This will probably be cleared up in the other anti-Oriental case which the province hopes to have argued in London next June. This case has to do with Oriental orders in council passed by the government.

Because his eyesight was failing, John Warner of Lewis Island shot himself yesterday afternoon with a revolver and Constable Martin has gone out to fetch in the body and report to the coroner.

Information of the suicide was brought to the city today by Louis Locker, Warner's partner in the hand logging business. He reported to Chief Minty of the provincial police that between three and four o'clock yesterday Warner was sitting in a dory near shore when he took out his revolver and putting the muzzle in his mouth, fired and killed himself.

Warner left a document saying no one was to blame but himself. He shot himself because his sight was getting bad.

Constable Martin left this morning in the launch Lewis Island to bring in the body and report to the coroner.

Warner was 55 years of age, a naturalized German, and an old timer of Prince Rupert.

Her Heart Skipped Every Third Beat

Mrs. James Burchell, 248 King St. E., Chatham, Ont., writes: "I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time. I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad as it skipped every third beat. I gave up, just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, saying my eldest brother had been relieved by using them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves; I got a box and started to take them, and when I had used it I felt a lot better; could sleep a little and felt stronger. I continued taking them for about three months, and felt better than I had for years. When I think of the misery and suffering I went through before I started Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me."

FLAYS FOES OF BIRTH CONTROL

Wife of Famous Novelist Objects to Comstock Law in States

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Feb. 20. — "Cowards," is the characterization of Mrs. Harold McGrath, wife of the noted American novelist, of those women who refuse to approve and sanction birth control.

Leader in the present effort to amend the existing state laws and make birth control possible, and one of the speakers upon whom the Albany police placed the seal of silence when they stopped a birth control state conference there, Mrs. McGrath returned to her home in this city to assail "that joke," Anthony Comstock, father of the present state law, and to preach the need of its modification.

Reveals Aims

Discussing the aims of the birth control leaders in this state Mrs. McGrath said:

"Most women, and the public, and the politicians fail to grasp what we are striving for, who have first hand knowledge of the terrible and sorrowful effects ignorance brings to women. I personally know one woman, who was a friend of mine, who took her own life because she suffered through ignorance. I know of several other women, wonderful women, who died because physicians under our law, could not give them information which would have saved their lives.

"It is a great joke, this composite law of our state, fathered by Anthony Comstock, who must have been a great joke himself, in his conception of what is good and what is not good for modern men and women.

Women "Weak," Too

"Women show themselves to be as weak as men are wont to picture them when this topic, instituted for their direct benefit, comes up. Just the other day, at a gathering of women in this city, we were talking about birth control and its possibilities. I know I must have shocked the assemblage when I voiced my opinions of those women who stated they thought the practice of birth control immoral.

"I asked those who had been immoral before their marriage to stand up and a gasp went around the circle.

"I believe it is the function of physicians to save lives whenever possible and under all circumstances. Is it not a crying pity, then, that in this matter of birth control their mouths are sealed, their knowledge walled up, by a law, a foolish, a prudish law, which is costing thousands of lives and untold misery annually to thousands, yes, millions?

Unmuzzle M. D.'s

"We seek merely to permit physicians to reveal to women at their discretion, that which they should know. Most women who have no children practice either self-control or birth control. Those who have neither are the ones that suffer. Men are so prudish, and politicians are so selfish. Mrs. Sangar is a wonderful woman; her efforts are not appreciated because they are not understood, the politicians and so-called reformers and public guardians of our morals will not take time nor trouble to acquaint themselves with what we are trying to accomplish.

It is time in my opinion that we look at this matter in the light of a movement for the public good for the betterment of the health of mothers for making our progeny better men and women physically and for stripping from the public viewpoint of sex relations the false and misleading disguise which has enshrouded and beclouded it for so many years and especially since Anthony Comstock and his kind put so many foolish laws on the statute books of this state."

ident is the distressing fact that the unfortunate man was already one-armed, having lost his right arm in an accident in a shingle mill several years ago.

The Lieba was fishig for shrimp in Duncan canal, and had started to make a haul. Porter was running the deck winch with Adolph Norberg in the engine room. In reaching to throw in the clutch, Porter's coat sleeve became entangled in the guide and his arm was drawn into the clutch, the cable cutting it off above the wrist. The cable then jumped off the drum and wrapped around the clutch band, crushing the arm to the elbow. Porter screamed, and Norberg pulled the switch, stopping the machinery. Had he been a second late in stopping, the arm would undoubtedly have been pulled from the shoulder socket. The matter of cutting the cable with an axe and freeing the mangled arm from the machinery took all of twenty minutes.

The Lieba was at once headed for Petersburg, where Porter was rushed to the hospital. He is getting along as well as could be expected.

KLU KLUX KLAN IS AT TERRACE

Picturesque Costumes of Notorious Order Made Appearance at Dance

TERRACE, Feb. 20.—The G.W.V.A. Masquerade Dance on Wednesday night was a great success. There was a very large turnout in spite of the weather, the music was excellent and the floor in good condition.

There was a number of good costumes. Mrs. Andy Long, dressed in green costume very cleverly represented an Ear of Corn, she won the first prize for ladies for the most original costume.

The ladies prize for the prettiest costume went to Miss Bertha Fowler who was dressed as a flower girl.

The first prize for men was won by Henry Walberg representing Good-year Tires.

The comic prize went to Sammy Kirkady who was dressed as a shepherdess.

One of the most striking features of the grand march was the band of the Ku Klux Klan who marched in column with their standard bearer at their head. The Lakelse Valley visitors were concealed under this costume.

Other good costumes were

SMOKE OGDEN'S CUT PLUG

Uncle Sam, Valentine costume, a peasant costume, a daffodil and a Sunkist Maid with hands of oranges and lemons.

WILLING WORKERS GAVE SILVER TEA TERRACE SATURDAY

Gave Splendid Program at Home of Mrs. Sundal, Miss Nellie Tombs presiding

TERRACE, Feb. 20.—The Willing Workers class of the Union Sunday School held a most enjoyable silver tea at the home of Mrs. O. Sundal on Saturday afternoon. The girls of the class are an unusually talented group, and gave a perfectly splendid program. Miss Gladys Kony and Miss Mary Wilson rendered "Morous," by Geibeb, beautifully. Miss Margaret Baker recited Lewis Carrolls "You Are Old Father William," cleverly bringing out its humor. Fanny Melaren sang "What Would You Take for Me Pappa," in a very sweet soprano voice and later gave several popular airs on the accordion, showing surprising mastery of the instrument for so young a girl. Moma Grieg sang "Little Tattle," which was much appreciated especially by the younger portion of the audience. Leah Bleaker recited "Would you Have the World Better," revealing quite a talent for elocution. Eva Hughson recited a humorous piece about "The Carpenter Man" and Kathleen Burnett gave an excellent piano solo. Betty Anderson gave a charming recitation and May Burrisson rendered "Juanita" as a violin solo.

Miss Kathleen Burnett, presided very charmingly over the meeting and the girls were most gracious little hostesses.

Miss Nellie Tombs, in the absence of Mrs. Parsons, presided over the tea table.

CARRIED HOME A LIVE WOLF

Boy of Seventeen Tied Him up and Packed Him on Shoulders

KETCHIKAN, Feb. 20.—Walter Stensland, 17, son of the proprietor of Stensland's Dairy, found a one-hundred-pound black wolf in one of his traps on Grayina island when he was making the rounds of his trap line Sunday morning.

Young Stensland, who was alone at the time, desired very much to take Mr. Wolf home and keep him as a pet. He considered the advisability of going for aid, but fearing that in his absence the wolf might break loose from the trap and escape, he decided to make the best of the situation and tackle him alone.

Weighted 100 Pounds

A wolf weighing one hundred pounds is a mean adversary to say the very least, but young Stensland made a noose in a rope, maneuvered about the beast until he finally succeeded in slipping it over his jaws. He pulled the rope taut, tied it securely and cut it, to use the remainder in securing the animal's feet. This was a more difficult matter than the initial operation as the wolf had become enraged over the impromptu muzzling, and fought with every ounce of his hundred pounds. After what seemed an eternity to the young man, he succeeded in trussing the animal in so secure a manner that he could be thrown over the shoulders and

The young man will receive a bounty of 815 from the government, besides, if he care to sell the pelt, from $14 to $20, according to the size and quality. This is a remarkably fine specimen, and strictly prime.
