Two Conferences In London.

Two conferences are proceeding in London almost simultaneously. The Imperial conference deals with political and naval matters and is presided over by Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, prime minister of Britain, with representatives of the governments of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Newfoundland, Ireland and India present. It will discuss such matters as imperial defence and the relation of each section of the empire to it. Foreign policy of the Empire, and inter-imperial communication by air, land or sea will also be on the agenda and such other subjects as may have to do with the Empire as a whole. Canada is represented by Premier Mackenzie King, Sir Lomer Gouin and Hon. George P. Graham.

The members of the Imperial conference will also be ex-officio members of the economic conference. This body will be composed mostly of experts in matters of trade, finance, defence or communication and will in the main be an advisory body to the other as its reports will come before the Imperial conference.

The members of the conference will attend a very large number of social functions, so many that fear has been expressed that this would interfere with the serious work. The social aspect, however, has its useful side as it gives British people an opportunity to meet the leaders from other parts of the Empire and to exchange ideas with them. It should have a good effect both on the British people and on the visitors.

The present conference is one of the most important that has ever met because the groundwork has already been laid at previous gatherings of the kind and it will now be for this conference to decide whether it can build on that groundwork.

Loss Of Albert Good For District.

While some of the districts around Prince Rupert and more particularly the Queen Charlotte Islands will suffer temporarily from the selling of the steamer Prince Albert, the whole district should gain in the long run. To begin with, the California boats will commence making regular trips to this port and the steamers plying between this coast and Great Britain will come here when there is cargo offering. New steamers will be secured for the local business that will be better suited for the work than was the Prince Albert. On the whole the gain will be ours and we shall probably before long have a fleet on this coast of which we shall be proud. Gradually we are securing for this port some of those things for which we have been asking and the sale of the Pirne Albert is a step in the right direction.

Plank Roads Must Go Soon.

The plank roads must go soon. They were an indication of the ephemeral growth of this city during the early days. There was no time to make roads because the city was to blossom forth all at once as a full grown community with the prices such as only a full grown community could command. The promoters failed to look into history and note that in the early history of every city there was a struggle and that no city had arrived full grown and developed in a few years. Vancouver has been one of the most rapidly growing cities in the world yet even there setbacks have occurred and the place has been held back from time to time. The people of Vancouver have stuck together and have worked with the one great aim, that of building up a city that will be a credit to the west.

Prince Rupert may well take a lesson from Vancouver. Solidarity in civic matters should be the aim of everyone. Stick together and build. Work for the city, talk for the city, dream for the city. This is what makes for advancement.

Possibly Vancouver has made mistakes. Possibly she is too insular and selfish. If so, it is for us here to take a lesson. We must always remember that we cannot make progress alone. That we shall be part of one great unit which includes all the country around for hundreds of miles. We can help the outlying districts and at the same time be helping ourselves. When we buy from the interior farmers, when we help develop the mines of the district, when we aid the smaller communities with their transportation problems. When we do anything which will help prosper any part of the district we are not only helping them but benefiting ourselves.

FOR SCHOOLS

That Is Proposal Made by Nanaimo Schoolboard for Discussion by Trustees Association.

VICTORIA, Oct. 2.—Declaring that the churches have lost their hold and that the public school curriculum does not provide for sufficient moral training, the Nanaimo School Board will ask the coming convention of the British Columbia Trustees Association to move for the sending out to the schools of the Province by the Department of Education of a novel pledge card in which the signer promises to be truthful and honorable and to abstain from such practices as breaking windows, damaging gardens, etc.

That this unusual resolution is to come before the convention became known to the city School Board with the receipt here of a copy of thirty-five resolutions to be presented at the gathering of the Association at Duncan on October 16, 17 and 18. The local trustees were greatly interested in the Nanaimo plan, speaking of it informally prior to the Board meeting. The resolution reads in full:

The Resolution

"Whereas there has been a gradual decline in the number of people attending churches in comparison to the number of the population now for many years past, therefore the churches have lost their hold upon the people to such an extent until they now form but a small force or power in controlling the children and youths of the present day; and

"Whereas the children and youths of today being somewhat freed from the fear of eternal torment and punishment to restrain them in their out-of-school activities has resulted in a larger freedom of action and less responsibility, and this has resulted in a greater amount of damage to property than in times past; and

"Whereas the curriculum of the public school system contains no special moral training or special teaching of moral responsibility only as far as it may incidentally appear in the ordinary school lessons; and

"Whereas it is desirable that some broad and simple principle of moral teaching be taught in the public schools to take the place of waning influence of the churches, but free from all religious teachings;

Resolved that we, the trustees of the public schools of British Columbia, in convention assembled, petition the Education Department, at Victoria, to have printed and circulated among the schools of the province a 'Card of Honor' or a 'Card of Good Behavior,' with proper instructions as to its signature and use."

Declaration and Promise

The following is a suggestion for such a card, accompanying the resolution:

"I, John Smith, of Nanaimo, Province of British Columbia, Canada, declare that I know no one has the right to damage or destroy anything belonging to me so I know that I have no right to damage or destroy anything belonging to others. Also, it is my duty to respect the property of others like as I wish and expect others to respect that which belongs to me; therefore, to assist me to better observe my duty to others, I make this solemn promise:

"First—I will be truthful and honorable in whatever I may do, or whatever I may be.

"Second—I will not break windows, destroy or damage trees, gardens, lawns or fences, or damage other people's property, nor will I take fruit or flowers from other people's gardens or orchards.

"And do further promise I will strive and prevent others from so doing."

The proposal is that this card shall be signed and witnessed,

INTEREST IN LIBRARY IS INCREASING WITH APPROACH OF AUTUMN

With the coming of autumn, interest in the public library is on the increase and the number of books taken out is steadily growing larger. In her report to the library board last evening, Miss Grant stated that there was a noticeable improvement in the borrowings. The number of children's books was small and this restricted the number loaned from the children's department. The ordering of new books from the money recently collected will remedy this condition.

The total borrowings during September numbered 1956, an average daily of 97.8. Forty new members have taken out cards and two have cancelled, leaving a total of 1295 members.

Miss Grant reported that to date $803 had been collected as a result of the recent drive and this sum it was hoped to increase. The members of the board expressed the opinion that the objective of $1,000 should not be lost sight of. That sum was needed for books and any help by way of entertainments or other activities which would help bring it to that amount would be welcomed.

CANADIANS RESPOND TO BOND OFFERING

Appreciate Action of Minister of Finance in Floating Loan at Home

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Canadian subscriptions to the new loan already indicate popular appreciation of the decision of the minister of finance to ask the people of Canada for the money he needs rather than going to a foreign country for it. Mr. Fielding is offering Canadians the best business proposition of the year in a bond which is paying well over 5 per cent and ranks equally with all the Victory loans and similar issues outstanding.

It is just as easy to buy one of the new bonds as it was to secure one of the old Victories. Two hundred and twenty bond dealers throughout Canada and every branch of every bank will receive subscriptions from the public and will also receive the maturing Victory 1923 issue for conversion purposes, in the latter case making the necessary cash adjustment with their clients.

The indicated demand for these new bonds is so great that financial houses are advising their clients to make application at the earliest possible moment, as, while the objective for the new loan is $172,000,000, subscriptions are coming in so fast that the selling syndicate is reserving the right to allot a less amount of bonds than applied for. With subscriptions totalling $56,000,000 in thirty-six hours, and $160,000,000 up to yesterday, it is felt in financial and banking circles that subscriptions to the new loan will be of a character which will be a veritable "eye-opener" to the outside world and demonstrate in the most emphatic terms in the world—those of dollars and cents—the well-justified faith which the Canadian people have in their Dominion.

H. G. Perry, M.L.A., returning from a trip to the Peace River country with Hon. W. H. Sutherland, minister of public works, expresses the opinion that the visit will result in the improvement of the Crooked River waterway which means so much to the merchants of Prince George. Mr. Perry also reports that work has been started on the building of a 250 mile trail from Fort St. John to Fort Nelson.

Hugh Blackburn and P. Hasselfield of Bannock, Sask., have purchased the sawmill at Aleza Lake formerly managed by A. K. Shives. They will open logging operations this winter and will start the mill next season.

The city council has decided to invest sinking fund moneys in the purchase of £2,500 worth of C.N.R. debentures bearing four per cent interest and guaranteed by the province of Manitoba. The bonds will be acquired at 92.47 and it is estimated that the investment will net the city 5.30 per cent.

The delegates from Prince George to the Associated Boards of Trade convention at Vancouver next month will submerge all other matters in their demands that the Pacific Great Railway be completed to this city at the earliest date possible.

The Prince George Fair this year shows a deficit of $360 which added to last year's loss makes a total deficit of $660.

Business for the year was wound up and the report of the secretary which was adopted

Miss M. Duncan has arrived from Vancouver to teach in the Elthly school.

Miss Olive Langton of Vancouver is teaching at Stuart River.

There is plenty of game in this district this fall, grouse and rabbits being very numerous.

Drivers of automobiles continually report running over them.

A committee will interview local business men with a view to obtaining subscriptions to cover the loss.

Forty-eight pupils are attending the Prince George High School this term as compared with 31 last year. Added accommodation for the pupils will have to be found by the school board and possibly the old school will have to be brought into use for the exclusive purpose of High school work.

VANDERHOOF

Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, addressed meetings at Burns Lake and Francois Lake yesterday. This morning he was at Fort Fraser and tonight he will be here. Tomorrow evening he will speak at Prince George and on Friday night at McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Campbell who are spending the winter in Washington, expect to return here in the spring. They are at present at South Bend but will soon be moving to Aberdeen.

The annual convention of Liberals of Fort George district will be held here tomorrow morning with Hon. John Oliver, premier, in attendance.

The engagement is announced in Victoria of Miss Sarah Ellen Oliver, daughter of Premier and Mrs. John Oliver, to Rev. Francis Bunnells of Grank Forks. This is interesting news in Vanderhoof for Miss Oliver at one time taught school here.

GAME PRESERVES OF QUEEN CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

Editor Daily News.

It is a mistaken idea, to speak of extensive farming, in a country lacking transportation facilities and in competition with growers, where freight rates are low. The recent Fair proved, that the nearest and only competitors for the district exhibition, away from the line of railway, were all from the Queen Charlotte Islands. Hazelton and Prince George are inland with hundreds of miles of highway to draw upon, yet the islands received a great deal of favorable comment, for the good showing in farm produce gathered at the north end of Graham Island by a few exhibitors banded together in what is known as a "Farmer's Institute."

The possibilities of the islands as an asset to the country lie in the fishing, lumbering and game production, with the mineral resources awaiting development. It is apparent that climatic conditions are more favorable along the coast during the winter months than in the interior, with no extremes of heat or cold and absence of summer frost, the grower of fruits and vegetables has an advantage over the farmers of other places. In all of the district only a few years ago, the country was a wild waste similar to the Peace River country, where the prospector was the only person to wander over the mountains and valleys seeking the most valuable of minerals.

On the Queen Charlotte Islands fourteen years ago wild cattle roamed the year round without care over thousands of acres of level country, and thrived thereon. A few deer were placed on the island and have multiplied. The Indian trappers obtained four species of animals which they killed and disposed of their pelts at a small figure for the reason that the skins were not valuable on account of the color and quality, caused by the mildness of the climate during the winter, in comparison with the pelts brought from the north, where the animals were coated with fur, necessary to protect them from the cold weather.

It is a remarkable fact that only four species of animals are roaming over the whole of the archipelago, known as the Queen Charlotte Islands—marten, black bear, land otter and mink. It is also possible that the Indians brought animals of the species mentioned to the islands in their war canoes from the mainland.

Domestic Animals

Of domestic animals, settlers introduced cattle, sheep, goats and deer. They all thrived where no animals formerly existed. It is now proposed by the Game Conservation Board to stock the islands with animals. This would be a wise undertaking. It would be well, nevertheless, to omit placing such animals as foxes, bears, or any kind of animals that are destructive in this neighborhood. Geese, ducks, grouse and other birds remain on the islands the year round. From the north and south migratory birds make their homes on the islands during the winter. They require protection from animals such as the fox and it is not advisable to raise foxes for their pelts on the islands, considering that their skins bear no comparison with those of the same species raised in a colder country.

A worth-while Reputation

The head of one of this country's great manufacturing institutions says:

"The Man who builds and the man who buys are both beneficiaries of reputation. To the one it is a continuous spur and incentive—to the other, the strongest of all guarantees that what he buys is worthy."

Patronize the manufacturer or merchant who has a reputation for honesty and fair dealing. Such motives must actuate the consistent advertiser. The man who invests real money in building a reputation for himself and his merchandise cannot afford to risk any of it by taking unfair advantage of his customers. He must retain the good-will of the buying public. Without this, his business cannot succeed

Every time he advertises he puts his reputation in your hands. His products or the wares he has for sale must make good. His service must be as advertised.

That is why it pays to read advertisements, to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised goods.

LABOR AND POLITICS

Prince Rupert,
October 3, 1923

Editor News.
In reply to article in issue of yesterday, The Trades and Labor Council of this city has never considered the question of supporting the Provincial or any other party. It is beyond their function to do so. In Canada it has always been the policy of Trades and Labor Councils to avoid interference in politics and religion. Delegates however enjoy freedom of choice and action in politics, and most of them take an active part in elections.

Some of them of course do not take any part, even refusing to vote. As far as I know, S. D. Macdonald never "shows his hand" in politics. I judge by what I have seen of him in the where pheasants and other birds last year were raised, for the distribution and the last Mayoralty elections.

Some eggs, it is impossible to find once he publicly admits a "pheasant" on the north end of his position. The "disclaimer" of Mr. Macdonald was entirely of Graham Island. We feel sure many residents would be pleased unnecessary. All who know him to turn a few out if provided with a few dozen eggs. Grouse are abundant in some localities.

In my opinion, reindeer, moose, goats, sheep, rabbits, deer, beaver and any kind of birds fitted for furnishing food for the human family would multiply and thrive on the islands if protected, during certain seasons from game hunters. The Indians would not publicly commit himself.

Yours truly,
ROSS MACKAY.

RUSSIAN PRINCESS
SEEKS EMPLOYMENT
USING NEWSPAPERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Lady speaking English, French and German, of best family, desires situation to take care of children."

Between these lines, appearing today in the Female Help Wanted columns of a New York newspaper, could be inserted a story that would substantiate the truth of the adage "Truth is stranger than fiction."

The advertisement was inserted by Princess Sofia Toumanoff, a Russian refugee, who, with her husband, Prince Toumanoff, is searching for employment to support her old mother and her two sons, George and Vladimir, aged respectively five years and five months.

The royal refugees arrived here two weeks ago from Constantinople after a five year record of flight, imprisonment and starvation in Russia and Turkey, bringing with them their children and the Princess' aged mother. They are now facing the problem of procuring the necessities of life, for they were forced, when fleeing from the Bolsheviks, to leave all their possessions behind them.

It was all they could do to scrape sufficient money together for their passage to the United States.

"I can do more than the little it says in the advertisement," Princess Toumanoff confided in a reporter. "I can sew and embroider. I have a well-trained mezzo soprano voice and can accompany myself on the piano. And I can milk cows, too. The Bolsheviks taught me; but I'd rather not do that."

Considerable speculation is caused today by the heavy smoke that shrouds neighboring mountains and which may be distinctly smelled in the air. Although several inquiries have been made its origin could not be ascertained up to this afternoon. Canadian National Telegraphs report no fires on their line although the smoke appears to be coming from the direction of the Skeena River.
