Sixteen Dead As Trouble In Holy Land Increases

THIRD DAY OF BLOODY GUNPLAY IS RECORDED IN HOLY LAND

JERUSALEM (CP)—Casualty toll resulting from three days of bloody gunplay in the Holy Land mounted today to sixteen dead and thirty-six wounded.

A 20-year-old Jew was reported slain last night when unidentified persons shot up a bus in Haifa.

Emanuel Ben-Gurion, nephew of David Ben-Gurion, head of the Jewish Agency executive, is said to have been wounded.

Unidentified gunmen, firing from a speeding car, shot two officers during yesterday morning in Tel Aviv and a short time later a similar attack was made on officers walking along the suburb end of the Jerusalem-Haifa road. A second policeman was believed to be fatally wounded in the latter attack and a small Jewish girl was hurt.

SKAGWAY OUT FOR BUSINESS

Representative citizens of Skagway are moving already to develop all possible business in their city next summer. Having heard not long ago that the Canadian National Steamships plan to resume operating steamers to Skagway next summer, a resolution was passed that the CNSS be contacted regarding the seasons plans. It was further decided to make inquiries concerning the 1948 services in the north of the Alaska Transportation Co. and the Canadian Pacific and Northland Transportation companies.

Winnipeg Girl To Wedding

WINNIPEG—Miss Betty White, 17, leaves Monday on a flight to London to be present at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Mountbatten.
Last August, Miss White noticed in the papers that nylon stockings were so scarce that Princess Elizabeth was unable to obtain a pair. Miss White promptly sent what was desired, asking that the gift be accepted. Prompt acknowledgment was received from a lady-in-waiting and later an invitation to the wedding.
A Winnipeg daily is meeting the cost of the journey to London and back, and yesterday the mayor of Winnipeg conveyed the congratulations of the city to Miss White.
"I still think I'm dreaming," remarked the girl last evening.

PIONEER OF CITY DIES

Death at the Prince Rupert General Hospital early last evening removed another pioneer citizen of the community in the person of Michael Krook, 1116 Seventh Avenue East, who had been a resident here for 38 years. He was for many years employed as a fish packer at the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and for three years was engaged as a shipwright at the dry dock. He had been in failing health for some time and since November 10 had been a patient in the hospital.
Born in Russia 66 years ago, Mr. Krook is survived by his widow, Mrs. Fanny Krook, and two sons—Nick or Tulsequah and Peter of Seattle—and two sisters, one in Western Russia and the other in Siberia.
The sons are arriving in the city at the end of the week and the funeral date will then be set.

Canso Flying Boat Is Being Repaired

Pulled off the run after Thursday afternoon's flight for repair to slight structural damage, Canadian Pacific Airlines Canso flying boat, operating between here and Sandspit in connection with the Vancouver service, is expected to be serviceable again on Monday when passenger carrying to and from Prince Rupert will be resumed. Meanwhile the spare machine—a Barkley-Grow seaplane—is being used in the carrying of express and mail.

RETAIN POSTS IN FRENCH CRISIS—Two of the members of Premier Paul Ramadier's cabinet, Pierre Henri Teitgen, left, minister of the armed forces, and George Bideault, minister of foreign affairs, are shown leaving the Elysee Palace in Paris after attending a recent emergency meeting of new "concentrated" cabinet which Ramadier forced to insure the government's strength in the political crisis facing the nation. The new cabinet consists of six Socialist, three Popular Republicans, two Radicals and one independent. Ramadier's action followed the nation-wide success at the polls of Gen. de Gaulle's anti-Communist movement, the rally of the French people.

MOUNTIES ARE STANDING BY

Ready to Take Hand, if Necessary, in Strike at Sherritt-Gordon Mine
SHERRIDON, Man. (CP)—Forty Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers were at this northern Manitoba mining town today prepared to step into the picture should any breach of the peace result from the present deadlock between striking mine employees and Sherritt-Gordon Ltd. management.
Meanwhile seven members of the United Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers' Union (U.M.S.W.U.) continued their picketing in front of the mine entrance, preventing any workers from entering the shaft, and ignoring a court order prohibiting picketing.
Yesterday approximately 95 men approached the mine with the intention of working. They were stopped by pickets estimated to number 150.
Leo Behie, international representative of the union, said that "as soon as the company gives proper recognition to certified bargaining agents, Local 695, a settlement can be made whereby work can be immediately resumed."

WEATHER IS SEASONABLE

It's mid-November and weather is commencing to harmonize with the time of the season. Friday morning here saw starlight, frost and enough ice to put a glaze over any small street pools. The sky was clear with all-day sunshine. This morning it was much the same.
Snow and sharper temperatures are being taken as a matter of course along the Skeena and deeper into the interior country, while in the east it's been winter good and plenty, with reading similar on both sides of the border.
There has been as much as ten inches of snow in Minnesota and along the Canadian border. North Dakota recorded lowest, 12 above, this during the first week in November.

British Ship Aground and Broken in Two Off Newfie

One Member of Crew Lost But Remainder Still Safe Aboard and Awaiting Rescue

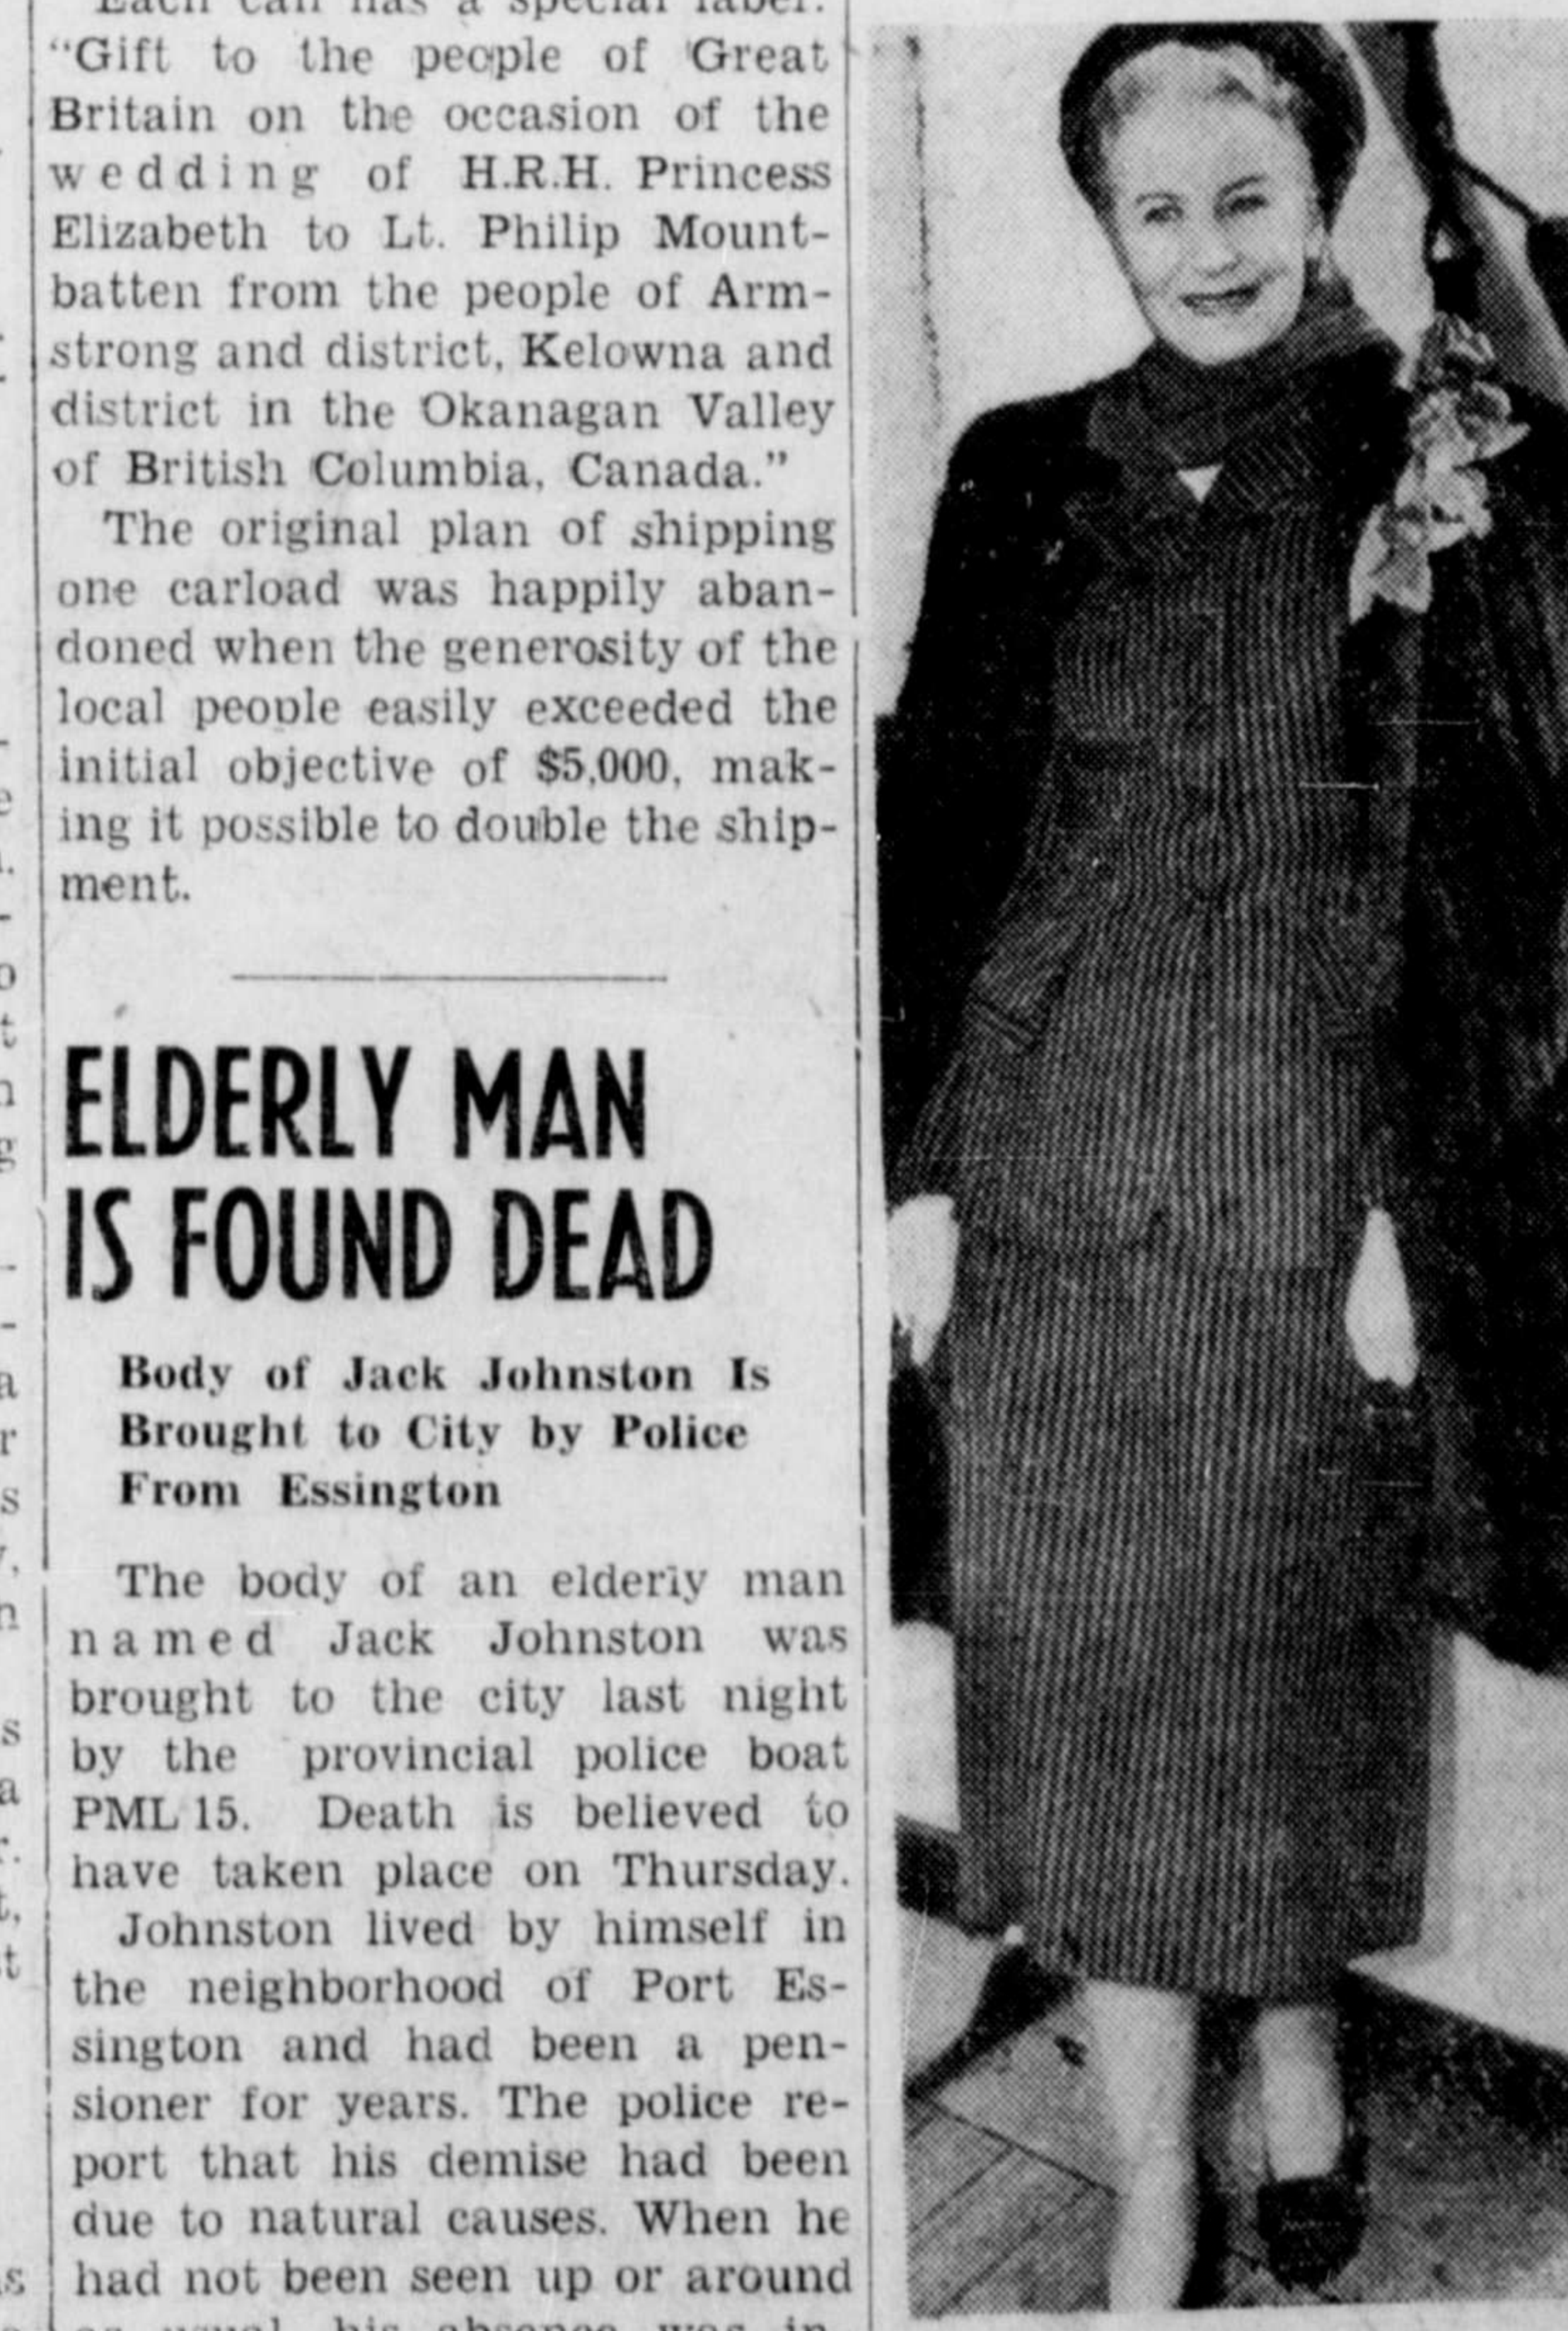

HALIFAX (CP)—One man was lost but the remainder of the crew is safe and preparing to make for shore when weather moderated, captain of the British freighter Langleecrag, aground and broken in two at the northern tip of Newfoundland, reported today. Two United States coastguard cutters, Evergreen and Duane, are rushing to the side of the 4,909-ton vessel through heavy winds of gale force and driving rain.
In a message to the skipper of the Duane, the Langleecrag's captain said: "All safe. One lost. Still on ship broken in two and organized for landing as soon as weather moderates. What is estimated time of arrival?"
The British ship ran aground near Boat Cove in the Strait of Belle Isle early this morning.

GIFT FROM OKANAGAN

Sixty Tons of Canned Fruit And Fruit Juices to Britain
KELOWNA—A great many gifts will be sent from all parts of the world in connection with the marriage of Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth later this month, but it is doubtful if any will be bulkier than the one now rolling eastward over rail lines bound for the port of Montreal from the Okanagan Valley of British Columbia. A present from the citizens of this district, the substantial gift will also delight the hearts of many residents of the Old Country who will be the ultimate recipients, for what would be more welcome than food—60 tons of it?
Two overhead refrigerator cars were needed to ship the gift and, with the departure recently over Canadian National lines from Kamloops of the second car, both are now headed for Montreal where their loads will be transferred to an ocean vessel. In the two cars are 76,000 20-ounce cans of fruit and fruit juices, destined for the people of food-short Great Britain. Distribution of the food there to the most needy persons will be carried out by the ration board.
Each can has a special label: "Gift to the people of Great Britain on the occasion of the wedding of H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth to Lt. Philip Mountbatten from the people of Armstrong and district, Kelowna and district in the Okanagan Valley of British Columbia, Canada."
The original plan of shipping one carload was happily abandoned when the generosity of the local people easily exceeded the initial objective of $5,000, making it possible to double the shipment.

ELDERLY MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Body of Jack Johnston Is Brought to City by Police From Essington
The body of an elderly man named Jack Johnston was brought to the city last night by the provincial police boat PML 15. Death is believed to have taken place on Thursday. Johnston lived by himself in the neighborhood of Port Essington and had been a pensioner for years. The police report that his demise had been due to natural causes. When he had not been seen up or around as usual, his absence was investigated.
It is understood he came originally from Norway and, as far as is known, no kin live in this part of the coast.
No announcement has been made as yet concerning an inquest.

Communists Make Attack

Leftist Foes of Gasperi Widen Activities

ROME (CP)—Political violence which has been sweeping Italy for the last three days spread to Rome for the first time today as Communist sympathizers attacked members of the anti-Communist Association of War Prisoners returned from Russia who were meeting in the Piazza Esedra. Several participants were injured in the melee before the police intervened.
It appeared that Leftist foes of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat government planned to duplicate in Rome demonstrations of earlier in the week in Northern Italy and at Naples.

LABORITES IN STRIFE

Canadian Federation and C.I.O. Met In Street Fight At St. Catherines

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (CP)—Two men rolled on the sidewalk in a short scuffle today when some twelve representatives of local Congress of Industrial Organization unions staged a 45-minute picket in front of a hotel where the Canadian Federation of Labor was winding up its three-day convention.
Charges hurled by picketers that the Canadian Federation of Labor was the "tool of bosses" were replied to today by Canadian Federation officials with accusations that C.I.O. unions "cannot stand competition."
Shortly after placard-bearing pickets appeared on the scene, several delegates rushed from the convention hotel. A punch was thrown and two members of the opposing factions became locked in a struggle that was soon broken up.

NEWARK BATTLE IS POSTPONED

NEWARK, New Jersey (CP)—The much-heralded "engagement" between the United States battleship New Mexico and Newark's "squirrel-gun navy" was postponed yesterday after the decommissioned dreadnaught arrived outside the harbor three hours behind schedule, too late for the morning tide.
Mayor J. Vincent Murphy declared "war" on the 33,000-ton ship, which survived fierce Japanese dive-bombing in the Pacific, on Armistice Day, ordering fireboats to patrol the bay channel with chemical sprays and fire hoses to block entry of the once gallant flagship of the Pacific fighting fleet. Officials have ordered that no more ships shall be junked within the city.

LONDON (CP)—British Columbia's seven-piece sterling silver tea service, the province's gift to Princess Elizabeth, will be delivered at Buckingham Palace some time during the week-end by William A. MacAdam, British Columbia's Agent-General in the United Kingdom.
The set, flown to Britain and handed today to Mr. MacAdam by Graeme Gibson, TransCanada Airlines' European manager, is made from silver produced at Trail and is a replica of a 1720 tea set.

Canadian Paradox

WHEN MEN WITH REAL ESTATE to sell were describing Prince Rupert as "the future San Francisco of Canada," with perhaps tongue in cheek, there were tolerant smiles.

Since then, nothing much has happened. But that proves nothing. There are numerous persons who have no sense of vision. They are incapable of seeing anything or feeling any emotion beyond the present. To these, the profoundly true maxim "without vision the people perish" cannot, nor could not apply.

It is folly to be optimistic when there can be no reason. But it is wisdom when opportunity is so clear and so certain. What is the situation today? Canada, country of enviable renown and God-given richness, has about everything impoverished and stricken nations need and must have. To obtain this, calls for effort. Effort implies people. Tens of thousands of them would move to Canada if they could. With them, their talents, resolve and will to work, vacant lands would blossom and new communities multiply. Without them, silent acres would remain unchanged, and the gifts of Providence be still-born.

Human beings want bread, shelter and security as never before. Canada can provide all three if the process of doing so is performed along lines which keep within the limits of reason and judgment. For never before in Canadian history has there been such a prospect as exists at this hour. This is an empty land, yet brimming over with the blessings that give and sustain life. Such a paradox cannot go on forever.

JOINT LEGION SOCIAL EVENING

Canadian Legion and Women's Auxiliary members climaxed their Remembrance Day week on Friday evening in the Legion Hall when men and women joined in a social evening which was featured by stage presentations, community singing and a fine spirit of comradeship.

About 250 men and women were present at the affair, enjoying humorous songs by Billy Morris, vocal solos by Larry Wallace and accordion solos by George Elliott who also played for the community singing.

Humorous feature of the evening was a "fashion" show in which the men modelled ladies' costumes and the ladies appeared in their interpretations of male raiment. Mrs. George Brown was fashion commentator.

Mrs. William Rothwell was convener and was assisted by a large group of auxiliary members.

LETTERBOX

LABOR PAPER?

Editor,
Daily News—

The account in Friday's paper of the unfortunate incident leading to the resignation of Hugh Dalton as Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Attlee cabinet refers to information regarding the budget being divulged to a reporter on the staff of the Labor paper, the Star. I think you will find, upon investigation, that the Star is not a Labor newspaper, but a paper which supports the Liberal party in England. For many years the London Herald has been the official Labor party organ. I think this fact should be recognized so as to avoid any implication, albeit unintentional, that the former cabinet member had disclosed budget secrets to a journal dedicated to his own political leanings.
Thank you, Mr. Editor.

CHURCH

SATURDAY SERMON

GOD'S OWN LOVE

By REV. FRED ANTROBUS, First Baptist Church

"But God commendeth His own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." —Rom. 5:8.

Why is it that the Cross of Christ secures our devotion? Because of the supreme expression which that Cross gives of the love of God. The death of Christ was not the reason why God loved us. It was the love of God which sent Christ to die for the atonement as the expression on earth of a love which filled

God's heart from the beginning.

We love objects which are lovable and those whom we think well of or who speak well of us and are necessary to our happiness. But God loves every creature He has made just because of the fact that He is God. Man confuses love and favor but God's love demands nothing either amiable or useful in its objects. There is something really remarkable in Christ's substitution for Barabbas in a way more special than for any other individual that He might be an example of those for whom He died.

There are many kinds of love and there are many attitudes which go by that same name. There is a love which uplifts and casts a radiance upon life and there is a love which drags the lover down to the mouth of hell. There is a love which cannot be destroyed or changed and there is a love which is only just camouflaged. There is something called love which is soft so that it ought to be called a weakness or indulgence. But what is God's own love.

It is first a righteous love. Some of the saddest tragedies in life come from the moral weakness of the deepest love. Love is the source of all tenderness which shrinks from anything stern and rigorous and so love often becomes the author of ruin.

How many a mother who would willingly have laid down her life for her son, she loved him so, has only helped him down the road to moral ruin by her love? How many a father, in order to spare himself the pain of punishing his child, allows him to grow up unchastened? Such love is fatal. It ruins the thought of fatherhood in the eyes of the child sooner or later. For when the child thinks of fatherhood he can find no place now for earnest hatred of the wrong and passionate devotion to the right, all because of the unrighteous weakness of the father's part. Eli, the High Priest of Israel, restrained not his sons. That was his sin in the eye of God. His sons grew up to be poor imitations of real men.

And if you blot out the Cross of Christ from history the Fatherhood of God loses its power to uplift. We have sinned and come short of the glory of God and deserve punishment and death. And will my heavenly Father never reprove me? What a false friend He would be if He never told me of the sins which He must see. I tell you if that were so, God's perfect law of goodness and His awful hatred of sin would never mean the same again. Much of the impulse and enthusiasm would disappear out of Christian living and endeavor. "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth". He must do so. And when I look at Calvary, I see a love as righteous, as it is wonderful.

Love grows out of holiness and holiness flows out of love and they cannot exist apart. A father loves, and just in proportion to his love in his pain when the children of his love do wrong. So it is with God, but, in spite of wrath, He is still our Father and continues to draw us by the cords of an infinite love back to Himself.

God's love is self-sacrificing. This is the surest test of love. We measure love by loss rather than by gain. The scholar, for instance, almost spurns amusements, intercourse, and sleep because of his love of learning.

The measure of the noblest love is seen in the willingness to sacrifice all that is dearest. Turn to Calvary and, by the sight of the Crucified Redeemer there, you will begin to learn the greatness of God's love.

God is holy, and cannot look on sin with any degree of allowance but He can sympathize with sinners. Where sin and love meet, there is always suffering. Well, they met at Calvary where God, who was Christ, entered into our experience, shared our woe and sorrow, our despair and remorse and tasted our sin.

God's love is a love for sinners. It is here that God's love stands so far separate from all the love of man. "While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us". God longs to love me into something lovable. But not for anything lovable in me did He love me first. While I was yet a sinner He loved me. While I hated Him He loved me. While I was fighting against Him in rebellious years He loved me. And, if we love Him at all, it is because He first loved us.

God loves thoroughly bad people. He does not love to have people wicked, but He keeps on loving those who do not love Him at all. He does so because He is love essentially in Himself, not because of any lovable-ness in us. This is seen so clearly in the death of Christ, who died not only for His friends but also for His enemies.

Do you look upon the death of Christ as a death for your sin? In the strength of the revelation which Calvary makes of the love of God, do you face life calmly and with restful confidence? Most important of all, do you meet that love with an answering love on your part?

SHORT SPORT

An Australian rugby team currently touring Britain has drawn plenty of cheers for its dazzling play but is coming in for a fair number of boos for what some fans consider unnecessary roughness. Unhappiest incident of the tour to date came at Llanelly in Wales when C. J. Windon, vice-captain of the tourists, was ordered from the field by referee Ivor David following an injury to one of the local players. The Aussies protested the ruling and feeling ran high between both teams for a short time but there was no further incident. After the game—won by the visitors, 6-4—the teams dined together in apparent amity but it was reported the Aussies decided to attend a dance in their honor later that evening. Not all critics think the tourists are over-rough. "I have seen them several times," wrote rugby expert Charles Bray in the Daily Herald, "and I have not the slightest hesitation in saying they are one of the fairest and cleanest teams I have ever seen. Keen and very fit, they tackle hard but there has been no sign of unfair or dirty play."

When Fairey Fulmar came home by a neck in the Cambridgeshire Stakes, at odds of 28-1, he startled many a backer who'd plunged on a shorter-priced horse—but there was no surprise in Lanark, hometown of winning Jockey Tommy Gosling. Two weeks before the big race Gosling spent a brief holiday at home and tipped his mount freely to all and sundry. "Nearly every man and woman in Lanark backed Fairey Fulmar," chortled one local resident. "The bookies took an awful beating."

The dogs were flashing by the winning post at Doncaster's grey-hound track in hot pursuit of a mechanical hare—when a real rabbit hopped onto the track and whizzed past in the opposite direction. The dogs were either well trained or de-

National League Leaders Meeting Tonight—Bost at Montreal, Detroit at Toronto

TORONTO—With an almost deadlock situation now existing between four clubs for the league leadership—Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins being on even terms for first place with Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens tied for runner-up position only one point behind—early season crucial games will be played tonight. Detroit will be playing on Maple Leaf Gardens ice here while Boston will be meeting the Canadiens at the Forum in Montreal. The tail-ender Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers will be playing at Madison Square Garden.

Sunday night will find the Canadiens in New York, the Maple Leafs at Chicago, and the Red Wings at Boston.

The league standings to date:

Boston	6	1	2	24	16	13
Toronto	2	4	3	35	25	12

Alfred Cross, a grave-digger at Horden in Durham, and is also No. 1 supporter of the local soccer team. Saturday afternoon funerals should be stopped, says Alfred, so he can attend all his team's matches. Otherwise he should be paid extra for a Saturday interment, in order to hire a substitute. The vicar says "Alfred is the best sexton I ever had," and is taking the matter up with church authorities.

C.P.R. Boats Returning to Government Wharf December 1—Panamanian Freighter Coming Here Next Week

Vessels of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway will return December 1 to their old Prince Rupert waterfront home—the provincial government wharf. For the last five years, since the Navy took over the government wharf during the war, C.P.R. vessels have been berthing here at the Canadian National wharf. The company takes over the government wharf on a five-year lease basis and is expected to have certain improvements made such as the installation of elevators for the handling of automobiles which will move through here between the Prince Rupert Highway and the Haines Cut-off. C. P. Balagno will return to the duties formerly held as wharfinger with G. W. Johnstone as his assistant. First vessel of the C.P.R. fleet to go back to the government wharf will be the Princess Adelaide with her arrival from the south on December 1.

To pick up four 45-foot tugs which were built at Collingwood, Ontario, and transported here over the Canadian National Railways from the East, the Panamanian-registered freighter Alabaman of the American-Hawaiian Line is due here on Wednesday or Thursday of next week. The tugs will be lifted on the deck of the already fully-laden ship which is coming here from San Francisco by the big crane at the local dry dock. They will be delivered to French Indo-China. Last June the Hawaiian was here to load two such tugs and early in the New Year the Minnesotan is due here to load another pair. The Alabaman is coming from San Francisco by way of outside waters and will be met at Triple Island and piloted in here.

There has been the usual weekend parade of Union Steamship Co. vessels in port. First to arrive yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from Vancouver was the Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, which sailed at 2 p.m. for Ketchikan, Petersburg and Wrangell, Alaska, whence she is due back here at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to sail at 2 p.m. on her return south. At midnight last night, the Cardena, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived from Vancouver and waypoints, sailing later in the morning on her return south. The Cardena came out to relieve the Catala which had been withdrawn for annual overhaul but which will be back on this run again next week under a change in plans due to the wreck of another company steamer, the Chelohsin, down the coast. At 8 o'clock this morning the Cassiar, Capt. Alex McLennan, arrived from Vancouver via the south end of the Queen Charlotte Islands, sailing later in the morning for Massett Inlet points whence she is due back here tomorrow to sail at midnight on her return south via the south Islands.

SALMON TROLLING IS RE-OPENED

Trolling for spring salmon, which has been closed on the coast for the last several weeks by order of the Department of Fisheries, will re-open in District Two at midnight tonight. Just how many fishermen will take advantage of the chance to fish springs probably will depend on the weather. Eyes though prices are still good, there will undoubtedly be fewer than were out in the spring and summer.

Workmen are busy at the old lumber dock near the government grain elevator cutting up scrap metal which is being brought by scow from Anyox for shipment to steel plants in the East. The former Granby Co. installations at Anyox are expected to yield 10,000 tons of scrap metal which will help relieve the scrap shortage that is partly responsible for sending steel prices to new high levels.

So far, 1,500 tons have been landed here and have been cut into lengths and shapes that can be shipped in box cars. Thom Sheet Metal Co. workmen are using burning torches on the metal.

The former Granby Co. smelter at Anyox, which in the 1920's was the industrial glory of the north, at one time employed hundreds of workmen and Anyox was a thriving community. Later, it became a ghost town and was visited by several forest fires that practically wiped out all the wooden structures

TELLS ABOUT PROVINCE TOUR

The meeting of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, held Thursday evening in the Oddfellows' Hall, took the form of a welcome home to Mrs. George Howe, Grand Mistress for British Columbia, who has just completed her official tour of the province.

The second or Scarlet Degree was beautifully presented by the officers with six candidates being advanced in this degree. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mrs. S. Traquair, who is visiting the city from Burns Lake, sang the solo.

A delegation from the Juvenile Orange Lodge, Northern Lights, led by Chairlady Lorna Howe, daughter of the Grand Mistress, entered and presented Mrs. Howe with a beautiful corsage.

In her talk to the members, Mrs. Howe gave a resume of her trip throughout the province, told of the steady growth of the order, the newest lodge of which is at Nelson, and also of the great work the lodges are doing in support of the Protestant Children's Home in New Westminster.

To wind up the evening a committee, under the convenerhip of Mrs. H. Paulson, served a lovely supper of cold meats and salads.

Mrs. Evans, convener of the bazaar to be held next month, reported it to be held in the Oddfellows' Hall instead of the Civic Centre as formerly announced.

The sum of $10 was voted to the Women's Co-ordinating Council towards their dinner for in the community. The latest of these was in the dry summer of 1943.

Practically everything that is of value as steel scrap is being torn up and shipped south to Prince Rupert, the smelter, power house, railroad and secondary installations. Its final destination is Hamilton, Ontario, where it will be blended with new ore in the blast furnaces of the Steel Co. of Canada.

the "over-seventies."

Next meeting will be held November 27, at which time the election of officers will take place.

TRADES COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Organized labor's effort to have a session of the provincial legislature called before the end of the year to amend sections of Bill 39 which are offensive to it cannot be granted, the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council learned at its monthly business meeting Thursday night.

The council received the information in a report from the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council which stated that Labor Minister Gordon Wismer had informed a committee of the Vancouver council that it was "practically impossible" to call a special session before the end of the year.

However, the report stated, Mr. Wismer had agreed that amendments to the act were necessary, the outstanding one being to shorten the waiting period now required before arbitration can be started. This, he said, would facilitate the operation of the act.

The organizing committee reported that a charter had been granted to the Prince Rupert local of the Building and General Workers' Union recently. Other delegates reported increased activity among members of their unions.

A letter from the secretary of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, Ottawa, offered the local council a recording to a speech delivered by Lod Dukston of Warrington, fraternal delegate of the British Trades Union Congress. The Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council will endeavour to have this record broadcast over the local radio station.

Considerable time was given to discussion of civic and school board election matters, and several suggestions were left for consideration of the election committee.

Chairman of the meeting was August Wallin, council president.
