Search for Plane Has Turned to Massett Inlet

Ketchikan at Turning Point; Mill Project Is Bright

KETCHIKAN—The Puget Sound Pulp & Timber Co. is progressing gradually toward its project of building an unbleached sulphite mill at Ward's Cove, seven or eight miles north of this city. There is a way to go, however, before the mill will be its welcome structure.

Work drawn out has been a source of acquiring the mill purchases from the owners of an old mill. Now there are only two owners whose hold-ings are to be picked up. It has been some difficulty to bring them all.

The mill is to be a 350,000-ton project at the outset. In the next few years this is under-estimated to 500 tons. The company is bidding for the mill stands. Ade-quate facilities are available and the company is capable of expansion.

The Ketchikan business has been banking heavily on the success of this enterprise. It is a bright spot in Ketchikan's economic future.

The mill will sink or swim by this time, said one prominent Ketchikan man who was not feeling too cheerful after a season that has been discouraging and realising a winter which business men are ap-precially, particularly in the present tend-ency toward inflation and the price level may be high.

WITHDRAWS CHECKS ON U.S., GREECE, TURKEY

RUSSIA—The success of her effort to bring up her effort to the United Nations "con-ference" in the United States, Greece and Turkey for alleged "war-mongering" in an effort to save the world from "war-mongering" resolu-tion defeat.

Francis J. Awilk, editor of a Polish paper here, said the news of Mikolajczyk's arrival had been obtained from a "certain authoritative source."

CENTRAL HOTEL SAFE RECOVERED

The Hotel Central safe has been recovered, little the worse for the many hours of intense heat it lay in the very heart of the blazing hostelry. It is understood there was money, as well as necessary papers, documents and other valuables found.

The weight of the safe is possibly a ton and this might have been a factor in making recovery possible through its position away down in the bottom of the bed of debris and general ruins.

PUPS TOO TAME

One out of every 10 sentry dogs recruited by the United States army was found to be too good natured for service.

U.S. ATTACK HITLER PLAN

United States Publication Reveals Further Intentions of Fuehrer

LONDON (CP)—Hitler's great bluff to cover his plans and preparations for the invasion of Russia until June 21, 1941, and his personal order to the German navy to shun incidents with United States vessels in 1941 with the intention of avoiding war until after Russia was defeated, was disclosed in the final installment of the Admiralty's "Fuehrer Conferences."

FOOD, DOLLAR LACK CRITICAL

WASHINGTON (CP)—An international emergency food council report said yesterday that the twin problems of food and dollar shortages abroad could result in "world economic collapse, if not chaos." The report said that world food production this crop year was slightly below last year's skimpy output and appreciably below the pre-war level.

Unfavorable Weather Hampering Operations In Quest For Missing Alaska Clipper

Plagued by continuing bad weather, a growing fleet of air and service craft set out again today in search of a missing Pan-American clipper bound from Seattle to Juneau. They were spurred by unconfirmed reports of smoke and flares near the Alaska-British Columbia border. Search operations converged today on the Juskatla Inlet area of Massett Inlet and the west coast of Annette Island.

SEES WAR IN INDIA

British-owned Newspaper Declares Unnatural Unions Will Bring Conflict

NEW DELHI (CP)—The influential British-owned newspaper Statesman declared today, in commenting on the situation in Kashmir and Junagadh, that the "dismal, deep and damnable fact must be faced" that India and Pakistan stand on the threshold of war "whether declared or not."

Kashmir's accession to the Indian Union, despite the undertaking about later voluntary withdrawal of the Union's troops and influence, makes no better sense than did Junagadh's to Pakistan," said the paper.

"The logical outcome from the unnatural tangle obviously would be that the rulers of Junagadh and, in due course, Hyderabad, should make up their minds to join the Indian Union and that Kashmir join Pakistan."

SUPERSONIC SCARECROW

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—From Monday to Friday most yachts on the harbor here are taken over by seagulls and one yachtsman became tired of cleaning his boat every week-end. Now he has a supersonic whistle installed which keeps the birds away—and the boat clean.

Canada Faces Need For Planning to Prevent Chaos

C. C. F. Leader Discloses Offer Made Him to Join Coalition—Commits Himself to Prince Rupert As Peace Outlet

Canada faces a grave crisis—"not a crisis of war, not a crisis of depression, but a crisis of lack of planning," M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the C.C.F. party, told a meeting of 500 in the Civic Centre auditorium last night in a speech directed at rallying party members.

On a western tour, Mr. Coldwell arrived here from the interior Monday afternoon and left the city on the Princess Adelaide last night for Vancouver immediately following his speech.

"Canada's position is not secure economically, nor has it ever been," he declared. "We have been fortunate in the past to export all the surplus commodities that we could produce. We have been in the favored position of a spoiled child."

"Britain, Canada's main customer, is now not in a position to purchase Canada's surpluses and the United States will not be to Canada what Britain was in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Trade is not a one-way movement."

CONTROLLED PRICES AND LABOR POLICY

In addition to a planned trading structure, this country needs controlled prices and an adequate means of settling labor disputes on a national basis, Mr. Coldwell said.

Strike Vote Being Taken

Threat of Complete Tie-up of Canada's Deepsea Fleet Looms

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Threat of complete tie-up of Canada's deepsea fleet in Atlantic and Pacific ports mounted today as 7,600 officers and seamen began taking a strike vote.

Announcement that the strike vote was under way followed a breakdown late yesterday of a federal attempt to reopen union-shipowner negotiations in the wage-and-hour dispute.

Participating in the vote are 6,000 Canadian Seamen's Union members and 1,600 officers who are members of the Canadian Merchant Service Guild, the Canadian Communications Association and the Association of Marine Engineers.

About 155 ships would be involved in the tie-up.

T. G. McManus, secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union and chairman of the joint maritime council, said: "The men want to strike but we want to hold them back." He said the results of the strike vote would not be known for two weeks.

"The Union is making all preparations for total mobilization to strike," McManus said. "Unless something real comes out we'll have to tie up the ships. There is no indication that a settlement will be made before the present agreement expires November 155."

Elizabeth Awarded St. John Insignia

LONDON, (CP)—Princess Elizabeth was formally invested today with the insignia of the Dame Grand Cross of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, a hospital society dating back to the time of the First Crusade. The private ceremony was held in Buckingham Palace. As sovereign head of the venerable order, the King awarded the insignia.

FOUNDATION WORK ON CELANESE MILL TO START EARLY IN YEAR

Date for the completion of the heavy excavation work at Watson Island, Port Edward, by B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co. for the Celanese Corporation of America $15,000,000 or more celanese pulp mill is now scheduled for the end of January, according to latest estimate as the work progresses. Foundation work for the plant will then commence almost immediately and next year will see construction of the huge project fully under way.

Churchill Is Hitting At Government

Wartime Prime Minister Makes Another Attempt to Unseat Attlee

LONDON, (CP)—Former Prime Minister making his fourth attempt to unseat the Labor government by Parliamentary motion, declared today that socialization of basic industries had failed and had weakened Britain at a time of national crisis.

"Nationalization has proved a failure," the Leader of the Opposition told the House of Commons. "Dear food, dear coal and soon dearer transport grievously weaken our competitive powers in foreign markets."

With Churchill leading the attack, the Conservative party mustered its forces for an assault on the Labor government's legislative program for the coming year which calls for further nationalization of vital industries, and curtailment of the power of the House of Lords.

Churchill called for the relief of private enterprise and the removal of price controls.

LOAN QUITE UNNECESSARY

So Says Lord Beaverbrook of Billion and Half Accommodation from U.S.

MONTREAL, (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British newspaper publisher, said in an interview last night that Great Britain "need never have negotiated the $3,500,000,000 loan from the United States."

The former cabinet minister termed last year's loan as "foolish and ill-advised."

"Much of the American loan," he pointed out "had been squandered on luxuries which had neither been essential nor necessary. It had done comparatively nothing to lighten the burden of Britons."

FRANK FITCH PASSES AWAY

Sudden Death in Wrangell, Alaska, of Pioneer Customs Official

Thomas Guy Frank Fitch, for twenty-seven years with the customs service in Prince Rupert and during the past season located at Wrangell as Canadian customs officer for the Stikine River area, died suddenly at Wrangell yesterday afternoon. His son, Donald, was this afternoon awaiting further information as to the passing of his father. An inquest is being held. The son will leave tomorrow night on the Prince Rupert for Ketchikan whence he will fly to Wrangell to bring the remains south on the Camosun next Sunday for burial in Vancouver.

The late Mr. Fitch, whose customs rank at this time was customs appraiser, had for many years been immigration officer at Prince Rupert. He was a prominent member of the Masonic Order—Tyee Lodge, Kalien Chapter, Kincolith Preceptory and Gizeh Temple (Shrine). His sudden passing will be learned of with shock and regret by many friends.

Bereaved, besides the son, include the widow residing in Seattle and a daughter, Mollie, also there. Deceased's aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitch, reside in Vancouver where a sister, Mrs. Lynd Sherlock, also lives. One brother is Victor Fitch, a contractor in Johannesburg, South Africa.

The late Mr. Fitch would have been fifty years of age next week. He was born in London, England, and came to Vancouver at the age of eight years.

TWO ARE FINED FOR SUPPLYING

Mike Charles Bomak was fined $100 in city police court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of supplying liquor to an Indian. His arrest resulted from a sustained police drive to halt the sale of intoxicants to natives.

In police court Monday, Alfred Gagnon was found guilty of supplying and fined $50. Leonard Wesley, a native, was fined $10 by Magistrate Vance after pleading guilty to a charge of being intoxicated. Lawrence Alexis, also a native, was fined $35 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being in possession of liquor contrary to the Indian Act.

that I would like to see in many cases—is co-operative ownership.

"What the fishermen of Prince Rupert have done for themselves in the last four or five years is miraculous and proves that co-operative ownership is a people's movement."

The C.C.F. leader struck at the Liberal party for its post-war policy of gradual price decontrol, and at the Conservative plan which would have dropped controls immediately after the war.

"In 1945 the Liberals told the people that, if they were returned to power they would remove price controls as rapidly as possible after the war." Those

DeGaulle to Rescue

POSSIBLY WHAT BEARS the earmarks of being a spectacular rise to political power of France's war hero, General Charles DeGaulle, may bring to the great republic that governmental stability and steadfastness which it has lacked so many years, the antithesis of which—treachery, intrigue and chicanery in high places—brought disaster and disgrace to the nation in 1940.

THE BRIGGS ADVENTURE

THERE IS SOMETHING SAD about the failure of the Briggs Steamship Co. to realize the objective which it so bravely set about achieving last spring—namely the development of a new trading route through the port of Prince Rupert between southeastern Alaska and the Middle West, more particularly the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

There are lessons to be learned from the experiences to date of the Briggs Steamship Co. Their plan is not impracticable and can still be worked out. This is a natural channel which only needs further clearing.

COMMUNITY PLANNING

A GREAT BUILDING PROGRAM now going on in Canada is rapidly changing the appearance of many communities. Looking around many towns one can already see transformations—and they are progressing at a surprising rate. But what will be the quality of some of these neighborhoods and towns ten years hence?

who complain about prices today and voted the Liberals in in 1945 have nothing to complain about. They are getting exactly what they voted for. For once, a Liberal government is fulfilling its promise to the electors.

IT MIGHT HAVE HAPPENED HERE

The United States, where prices are even higher, is an example of what would have happened here had the Conservative policy of immediate de-control been effected in Canada, he said. He contrasted that with levels in Britain, New Zealand and Australia, where increase during the same period had been only from one to three per cent.

NEWS OF GOLD FIND TRAVELS

News of discovery of gold in Prince Rupert has travelled far. It has awakened interest in cities large and small, prompted inquiries by mail and wire and placed large headlines on distant newspapers.

For example, a local lady has a sister in England who one evening was listening to a BBC broadcast, heard that part of it known as "Eye Witness Accounts." And this mentioned a gold find in Prince Rupert.

The fact of a sister being there aroused prompt curiosity, so the next step was to sit down and write for more particulars. The letter of inquiry arrived a few days ago.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSON — In loving memory of our dear brother, Sterling Johnson who passed away Oct. 26, 1946.

One year has passed dear brother Since you were called away, How well do we remember that sad and weary day. You suffered much, you murmured not We watched you day by day. We cried and prayed, that your dear life would not be taken away But God knew best, and took you home to rest.

Sadly missed by your loving six sisters, two brothers, your mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all our friends in Terrace for their kindness in our time of trouble. We extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness and sympathy. To all those who gave so generously of their time and effort, to those who donated money, household goods, fruit etc. To those who offered shelter and sent gifts to Roy in hospital. To the doctors and nurses, and the clergy, and to all who helped in any way, we again say "Thank you!" Frank and Gladys Clifford, Roy and Teddie.

THE MARKETS

CRANBERRIES, SWEET SPUDS AVAILABLE NOW

Eastern cranberries have made their appearance on local markets, selling at 49 cents a pound, a sure sign of approaching winter and source of appetizing jellies and sauces for Christmas fare.

Sweet potatoes, also an important product, are available at two pounds for a quarter. Produce of the southern states, they will be in season throughout the winter and early spring.

Spanish onions, those large and tasty bulbs which are often eaten surreptitiously in the raw, although this sort of secret munching can fool no one, are in good supply and enjoy a popular sale. They are selling at about two pounds for a quarter in most stores.

In addition to these later arrivals, the regular fall vegetable crop still creates an abundance on market shelves.

Pumpkin, symbol of Halloween, squash, vegetable marrow and other such vine vegetables are adding their variety to family tables. Prevalence of some vegetables has resulted in a drop in their price, in the case of carrots, which are down about three cents to four pounds for a quarter and head lettuce, which new retails at two heads for 29 cents as against 18 cents a pound last week.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Price. Includes Cranberries, Sweet Potatoes, Hubbard Squash, Danish Squash, Spanish Onions, Green Peppers, Vegetable Marrow, Pumpkin, Citron.

TENDERS

TENDERS will be received by the Massett Co-operative Association for purchase of the following trucks at Massett, B.C.; closing date Nov. 15, 1947.

PRINCE GEORGE GIRL IS BRIDE

Miss Leith Reaugh and David McMeekin United

First United Church Manse was the setting Saturday evening for a quiet wedding which united Leith M. Reaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reaugh of Prince George, and David Stewart McMeekin, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMeekin of this city. Rev. R. A. Wilson officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Donald Arney, was lovely in a dressmaker suit of powder blue with grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. J. M. Cearley, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a rose-colored dressmaker suit with black accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

J. M. Cearley was groomsmen. A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents where the guests were received by the groom's mother, wearing a dress of cinnamon brown with corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride and groom received congratulations of the guests under a canopy of pink and white streamers, centred with a wedding bell.

Toast to the bride was proposed by James Simpson and was suitably responded to by the groom. Toast to the matron-of-honor was offered by B. Wick, and was responded to by the groomsmen.

Delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table which was presided over by Mrs. James Simpson and Mrs. K. Halberg. Servitors were Mrs. T. A. McMeekin, Mrs. Robert Parker, Mrs. J. M. Currie, Mrs. L. Cromp, Miss K. Paul, Miss Turcotte, Miss Sandhals and Miss Whiffen.

Many beautiful gifts were on display, attesting the popularity of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. McMeekin will take up residence in Prince Rupert.

NATIVE CHILD PASSES AWAY

Adeline Sankey, year-and-a-half old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sankey, of Port Simpson, died last night in Prince Rupert General Hospital. Burial will take place at Fairview Cemetery on Thursday.

MOOSE LADIES HOLD BANQUET

Prince Rupert Chapter, Women of the Moose, observed the anniversary of the founding of Mooseheart, the Moose home for children in Illinois, with a banquet followed by a card party in the Civic Centre and Moose Temple Monday evening.

The banquet, which was attended by 53 members, was held in the Civic Centre dining room and was presided over by Mrs. John Kaspar, graduate regent of the local chapter. Following the dinner, there were brief speeches by Mrs. Robert McCarthy and Mrs. Sam Hougan.

The gathering adjourned to the Moose Temple where the evening was spent in playing whist. Winners were Mrs. Alfred Ritchie, Mrs. Telseth and Mrs. Harry Horne.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE Q. Isn't it poor form to sprinkle your conversation with the names of prominent people you know or have contacted?

A. Yes; this is very egotistical and affected. It is amusing to well-bred people and never impressive.

Q. Isn't it improper for a card player to begin arranging his cards before the entire hand has been dealt?

A. Yes; this is crude. A player should wait until everybody has been dealt his entire hand.

Q. If the employer of a girl secretary should drop a handful of papers, should she help him pick them up?

A. Certainly. Business etiquette does not extend all the little courtesies a girl has a right to expect in the social world.

Q. Is "I know Miss Brown" the proper thing to say when being introduced to her a second time?

A. No; this sounds as if it were trouble to make a second acknowledgment. Say, "Thank you, I have already had the pleasure of meeting Miss Brown."

FOURTEEN HOOP TEAMS LINED UP

There has been considerable puzzlement and lifting of eyebrows since it became known that units of the R.C.A.F. would make up Canada's hockey team at the Olympics this winter and there will be plenty of conjecture as to how the service boys will fare. Montreal Royals, Allan Cup winners, were of course, the logical choice in the first place but then it turned out that the amateur Royals and any number of similarly-designated teams across Canada weren't. Just amateur enough under Olympic standards. The Royals didn't seem particularly perturbed anyway. Finally the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association was tossed the hot potato that hasn't entirely cooled off with naming of the R.C.A.F. squad as wearers of the Maple Leaf.

The other day Dave (Regina Leader-Post) Dryburgh came out flatly for no team at all if Canada couldn't send its best, and called the present selection "third rate at best." Now along comes Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson with the suggestion that the situation be accepted and all the quibbling halt forthwith. But it must not be forgotten that Fergy has never pulled any punches in blasting "the mass, or mess, of red tape at times verged upon the ridiculous."

Fergy thinks it's possible a good R.C.A.F. team will be assembled, although it will lack big names, "but it will be amateur within the strictest and most puritanical interpretation of that much-abused, misunderstood and maligned term. "The team will be composed, we're happy to say, of patriotic young men who will put duty to their country before the dollars they might perhaps make out of hockey, in major, minor or pseudo-amateur circles. The team has all this to commend it, and perhaps this is more important in the broader viewpoint than technical hockey ability. "So, that being as it may, let's accept it, cease the quibbling over a situation which developed through rigorous adherence to out-moded amateur rules in a fashion which never existed before, forget that nonsense and get behind a team which doubtless will be a credit to the uniforms they wear and to Canada, too, which will be quite as important as the glory of winning an Olympic title.

Expansion of Co-op Set-up On B.C. Coast

Reports On Various Phases of Activity Presented At Annual Meetings Here Last Week

Last week fishermen from all parts of the coast of British Columbia gathered in the Oddfellows' Hall for a series of meetings, the semi-annual meetings of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative and the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation—sales agency for the fishermen's co-ops of the province.

Daily from 10 to 5 the hall was filled to capacity as some 150 fishermen listened to reports and watched blackboard demonstrations of their co-operative marketing operations for the past year and then debated and passed on plans for next year's operation.

W. H. Brett, M.L.A., was in the chair as President of the Federation at the sessions which began Monday. Next to him were T. H. Sorenson, general manager, and D. G. Macdonald, secretary-treasurer. Both officers delivered reports.

The manager of Kyuquot trollers, George Greenwell, explained why the Federation has been set up. Up to 1944 the Co-ops had just transported members' fish to the ports and auctioned it there to local companies. In that year, when they began to build their own processing and storage plants, the co-ops needed a sales organization to market their fish in Chicago and New York and Eastern Canada. For this purpose they had organized Fishermen's Co-operative Federation in the fall of 1944.

MEMBERS HEAR OF WORK IN CHICAGO

Highlight of the first day was when the Chicago sales agent for the Federation—George Zurn—described work in the Chicago office. Only a small staff worked in that office. Yet they sold a huge volume of Federation fish in the Chicago region.

On Tuesday Tony Martinsen, president of the Prince Rupert Co-operative, chaired the meeting for the full two days it lasted.

There were some striking facts in the Directors' report that Ken Harding, manager of the Co-operative, read. One hundred new members had joined the Co-op during the past year—including some gillnet fishermen on the Skeena. More fish liver had moved through the Co-operative than ever before. The coho that members delivered was of finer quality than the year before.

It was reported by Mr. Harding that even though they had just gone through one of the poorest salmon troling seasons in many years the production handled by the Co-operative compared very favorably with that of the previous season. The large production of halibut through the local plant accounted for a great portion of this.

Mr. Harding reported good prospects for marketing more high potency liver oil. The medical profession, he said, had been finding new uses for concentrated doses of vitamin A liver oil capsules.

George Greenwell's work on the blackboard was impressive. For an hour or more Wednesday morning, members and manager and directors as well watched as Mr. Greenwell drew chalk facts and figures on packer, plant, shipping and exchange operations of the Co-op.

Mr. Greenwell had had seven years of teaching experience before he became assistant manager of Kyuquot trollers.

CREDIT UNION'S RAPID RISE

On Thursday there were meetings of the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation again. George Vierick, told of the rapid rise in the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union—from $160,000 in January to $250,000 at the present time.

A number of the men pointed out what the Credit Union could do—if most of the 1500 Prince Rupert Co-op members would use it to the full. The meeting showed great interest in these possibilities and discussed it before and after lunch for several hours. Then they passed resolutions to arrange for much fuller and more widespread use of the Credit Union.

The men voted $500 for the Civic Centre and passed a resolution to ask for membership in the organization. The grant is proposed to be an annual one.

The Civic Centre came in for considerable discussion. Many of the members came forward and spoke of this subject and it was generally felt that the Civic Centre was taking a very important part in the community of Prince Rupert, especially where it was benefitting the young people of our city. It was also stated that it was of a direct benefit to the Co-operative organization as, during the past year, numerous meetings had been held in the Civic Centre. Finally, it was moved and seconded and carried unanimously that the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op Association make available to the Civic Centre the sum of $500 each year.

INFORMING CUSTOMER

The most important action on Friday was a resolution on quality. The Federation, now a small group meeting in the Civic Centre, passed a resolution definitely stating they would continue to do what had been their policy before; inform buyers on the actual grade and quality the Federation knew their fish to be in. If a shipment was not in 100% condition they would say so.

At all these meetings there were 11 fishermen representatives from Massett, Vancouver, and the West Coast. For the Masset Co-op there were Sam

Simpson, manager and W. Sutherland, a director; for the U.F. Co-op there was Karl Dybhavn, manager, Harley Brown, president, and Collin McKee, vice-president; and from Kyuquot Trollers there was George Greenwell, assistant manager, John Donaldson, president, and Bill Branch, Gordon Baird, "Copp" Wimpenny and Doug York.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

When Union steamer, Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, called in port from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday southbound to Vancouver after the company's inauguration of the extended service northward from Ketchikan to Petersburg and Wrangell, there were some forty through passengers aboard. They included Mr. and Mrs. Berg Olsen and son, Mrs. Marian Auken and child, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Geertzen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lahmeyer, Mrs. B. K. Shyrook, Karen Shyrook, Mrs. Sylvia Wallin and infant, Mr. and Mrs. Todd Werner and daughter, Ernest Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leroy, Gale Jones, Peggy and David Harp, Conrad E. Olsen, Clarence Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart, from Ketchikan; Miss Lillian Swanson and Rodney Elstad from Petersburg; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, Miss Cora Vance, Miss Madge Vance and Frederick Vance, from Telegraph Creek.

DREDGING AT PETERSBURG

Menace of Crowley Rock Being Reduced—Prince Rupert's Near Sinking Recalled

PETERSBURG, Alaska — An additional item of employment for prosperous Petersburg is being provided these days by a rather extensive bit of Wrangell Narrows dredging which is under way to remove some of the menace of Crowley Rock, at the extreme north end of the Narrows and long the bane of shipping passing by.

It is recalled how during the war, the steamer Prince Rupert, coming in from the north on one of those special voyages after carrying Alaska Highway workers to Skagway, hit Crowley Rock and nearly sank. She just made the wharf at Petersburg and received temporary patching which enabled her to move on to Prince Rupert drydock.

FEWER TOLL THEFTS

LONDON (CP)—There were 496 thefts from British telephone boxes in the year ending March 31, netting £973 ($3,892) compared with 851 thefts in which £1,098 was lost the previous year.
