LUNCHTIME FOR "NUTSY"-Although the cat is the instinctive nemesis of the rodent, Lady Sylvia, a cat owned by Martha Coffman, of Baltimore, Md., adopted this orphaned squirrel and is mothering it with her own kittens. But "Nutsy," as the squirrel has been named, needs more than cat's milk for proper nourishment. And here Miss Coffman takes over the job of giving the youngster an eye-dropper full of cow's milk. The little chap grabs the dropper with both hands while irrigating his tonsils. Lady Sylvia and one of her progeny look on with what seems to be feline wonder.

THANKSGIVING DAY

ATHENCE CAME THANKSGIVING DAY, the v sixty-ninth consecutive observance of which will be marked by Canadians on Monday. As they prepare for 1947's final long week-end holiday, many citizens might be surprised to hear that their favorite day of turkey and cranberry sauce is not typically Canadian-and certainly not Canadian in origin.

Just as most "name" or "holy" days which come during autumn, Thanksgiving has its earliest known roots in ancient myth, fact and fancy.

Druids, Romans, Greeks, Israelites-and in fact, most agricultural peoples of the ancient world—set aside one or several days about the time of the autumnal equinox to give thanks for swollen granaries and groaning festive boards.

In Rome, the period was marked by festivals, feasts and parades in which cornucopias—"horns of plenty"-crammed with fruits and flowers were carried as symbols of the land's kindness and man's thankfulness.

Coinciding with the Jewish calendar's New Year, thanksgiving for harvest blessings was an annual custom of early Hebrews during feasts of Pentecost and Tabernacles-just recently observed by Jews throughout the world.

Hundreds of years later, the custom was imported to the New World by Dutch settlers and the Pilgrim Fathers. The latter set aside one day a year to give thanks for New England's material blessings following their first harvest in 1621.

Later, George Washington and succeeding presidents of the new republic named various thanksgiving days for war victories and good crops. In 1864, during the then raging Civil War, Abraham Lincoln appointed the fourth Thursday in November as an annual day of national thanksgiving.

In Canada, Thanksgiving Day has been observed since the Marquess of Lorne, then governorgeneral, fixed November 6, 1879, as a day "to attend church and give thanks for the blessings with which Canada has been favored during the year."

However, thanksgiving observance in Canada has not always been given over to gratitude, family reunions and home festivals. Early chronicles tell of victorious British troops celebrating their storming of Quebec and defeat of French forces on the Plains of Abraham with a thanksgiving service in the Ursuline Chapel at Quebec. It was during the First World War the religious aspect of Thansgiving Day became deeply rooted and from 1918 to 1930 it generally fell on Armistice Day, November 11. Meanwhile, following representations by veterans' groups, the Dominion set aside November 11 as Remembrance Day (which in 1946 became a statutory holiday) and Thanks-· giving was moved forward to an early Monday in October.

IMPROVING SERVICE

BID'S

COASTAL STEAMSHIP COMPANIES are all admitting in a tangible way the growing importance of Prince Rupert and the need for giving it improved service. Latest and very gratifying example of this comes in a double-barrelled way from Union Steamships Ltd. which announces the inauguration of a new fast direct service in both directions between Prince Rupert and Vancouver and extension of the present Alaska service to Ketchikan to include also Wrangell and Petersburg, further along in southeastern Alaska.

Of outstanding importance to Prince Rupert in the new service is its effect in making this port of more ready and frequent access to the nearer points of southastern Alaska whose people have of late been more and more expressing their keen desire of taking more full advantage of this port and railway line as a handy connecting link with the United States. With co-operation of the Canadian National Railways, the new service has the possibility of being developed into an important feeder of traffic into the local line. Before long it is to be hoped that better connections may be made by trains running out of here not only with the railway company's own Alaska vessels but with those of other lines-all with a view to developing a speedier and more efficient service between Alaska and the United States through Prince Rupert and providing a better supply line from this, Alaska's most strategic port of entry and egress. Meanwhile it is gratifying to see the increasing importance that ship operators are attaching to this port with special mention for the moment to Union Steamships with its new ships during the past year. In 1948 the Canadian National Steamships will be in a position, with its fine new Prince George, to also vastly improve and extend its service for Prince Rupert and southeastern Alaska. And then in 1949 Canadian Pacific Steamships will have their big lines Princess Kathleen on the Alaska route, particularly designed for automobile traffic between Prince Rupert and Haines cut-off of the Alaska Highway.

lhere just isn't enough "PRESTONE" ANTI-FREEZE

Unprecedented demand . . . shortage of raw materials . . . two straight-forward reasons why dealers must disappoint so many motorists

This season's demand for "Prestone" Anti-Freeze has increased faster than our ability to procure the necessary raw materials and to expand our manufacturing facilities.

Every gallon of "Prestone" Anti-Freeze is being shipped to our outlets as fast as we can make it and at the pre-war price. Not one gallon is being exported-every gallon we sell is branded with the trade-mark "Prestone". There is no shortage of containers - simply a shortage of basic raw materials, combined with a tremendously stepped-up demand from every district in Canada.

On behalf of more than fifteen thousand dealers who are trying to serve their customers, we express their disappointment -and ours-that the supply of "Prestone" Anti-Freeze may not be great enough to meet the demand.

The word "Prestone" is a trade-mark of

says Eddie Allen, popular Canadian vocalist and accordionist who is heard every week, Monday through Friday, by many thousands of radio listeners

"Versatility really counts when you're a radio artist. Versatility also counts when you're choosing a suit.

"My Bonsted suit not only looks smart but it feels comfortable and there's a colour and pattern to suit anyone's taste. When a Bond suit is made to your measure, it really is made to your measure. Bond stylists travel the continent to find what's new and what men like. And the men who do the actual tailoring on your suit have been practising their craft for more years than I can lay claim to.

"If you're looking for a good-looking suit that stands up well under hard wear, I'd suggest you try a Bond tailored-to-measure suit in Bonsted."

ton. He enjoyed renewing acquaintances with many Klondyke friends in Prince Rupert.

A publisher at Terrace planned to start publication of a weekly newspaper to be known as the Skeena Record.

D. McLeod, chief accountant for Foley, Welch and Stewart Construction Co., arrived in the city from the East.

October 11, 1922

City Council discussed a report of the building commission on the establishment of fire limits within the city but arrived at no conclusion. It was recommended that the city be divided into three sections with restrictions suitable to each area.

A Bulkley Valley livestock raiser declared that the meat produced in that area was of such high quality that Prince Rupert butchers did not care to handle
