Each Develops Between Soviet and France Trade Talks Suspended; Russia Delegation Expelled

RIS (CP)—Constituting what is considered a break off of relations, twelve members of the Soviet repatriation mission to France expelled tonight for "subversive activities in a Foreign Ministry spokesman said.

Meanwhile Soviet Russia called off her trade talks with France today and accused the French government of acts "hostile and contrary to the spirit of alliance and mutual assistance" between the two countries.

The Moscow radio broadcast contents of a note which had been handed to the French charge d'affaires in Moscow by the Soviet foreign minister, Andbel Goushev, in which the Russian decision on trade talks was disclosed.

Russia's note charged the French government with "unilaterally annulling" the two-year-old repatriation agreement for the return of each other's nationals, ordered the Russian repatriation mission home from France and announced expulsion of the French mission from Russia.

The Soviet embassy in Paris announced earlier that the French repatriation mission had been ordered to leave Russian territory at once.

FRENCH STRIKE OFF PARIS—The French Confederation General du Travail (CGT) tonight ended the general strike, which at one time had two million men off their jobs, ordering its members to resume work. The government yesterday, after offering a $13 a month cost of living premium, had ordered the strikers back to work by tomorrow.

CANON TURNER DIES
WINNIPEG—Canon John Turner, 42-year-old Anglican missionary, who was rescued from his lonely mission outpost on Moffett Inlet within the Arctic Circle after he had been accidentally shot, died in hospital today.

FIGHT FOR TEL AVIV
JERUSALEM—Arabs attempted to storm Tel Aviv last night but were driven back with casualties. Communal strike broke out anew this morning and first reports said three Jews had been slain.

SNOW IN VANCOUVER
VANCOUVER—Vancouver people woke up today to see snow on the ground and on the roof tops. However it was expected to clear today with possibly more snow tomorrow.

EXCISE TAX LIFTED
OTTAWA—Finance Minister Douglas Abbott announces the lifting of the 25 percent excise tax on gas stoves, electric ranges and heaters, electric and gas refrigerators and organs for churches.

THE WEATHER

Forecast:
Prince Rupert, Queen Charlotte and North Coast—Variable cloudiness and widely scattered showers, clearing early this afternoon. Increasing cloudiness tonight, becoming overcast Wednesday forenoon. Intermittent rain beginning Wednesday afternoon. Winds northwest (15 m.p.h.) today, decreasing to light tonight and increasing to southerly (20) Wednesday afternoon. Little change in temperature. Lows to-night and highs Wednesday—At Port Hardy 35 and 44. Massett 32 and 44, Prince Rupert 35 and 44.

GRAVESEND, Kent, Eng. (P)—Although warned that rowing will make their knees knobby, a local girls' rowing club has been formed.

LONDONERS QUEUE FOR POTATOES NOW ON RATION—While London's gentry were waiting in queue before the royal family on Elizabeth's wedding day, the working Londoner, mainly the housewife, was queuing up for what was once England's most common commodity—the lowly potato. England's stringent rationing had reached the spud market and this line is looked upon as the first of more to come as Britain tightens its belt for a long hard winter.

GOV'T OFFERS LOTS FOR SALE

Crown Land Available,
War Assets Announces

MONTREAL—Crown-owned land situated approximately in the central area of the city of Prince Rupert, British Columbia, is in possession of War Assets Corporation for disposal and the Lands and Buildings Department of the Corporation at Montreal is now inviting offers for the property. The land consists of four lots in Block 34, Section 1, of Prince Rupert and offers will be considered for one or all of the lots.

This land was not used for important war purposes, being occupied only by the temporary military post office but was acquired some years ago long prior to the war. It had been intended to erect a building but the original plans were left in abeyance and the land has been vacant while in possession of the Crown.

WITHDRAWAL OF ALASKA VESSEL

Taking of Camosun Off Run Seen as Blow to Move for Relaxation of Jones Act

VANCOUVER.—Union Steamship Ltd. officials, pointing out that Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Steamships were continuing in the Alaska trade, made statements discounting comment by some shipping men that their withdrawal from the Alaska service was a blow to the proposed relaxation of American shipping laws which they hoped would be amended to permit Canadian vessels to carry United States freight to Alaska.

The steamer Camosun will be withdrawn by Union Steamships from the run to Prince Rupert and Ketchikan for the winter season tomorrow on her arrival here from a regular voyage north. Light shipping business during the winter is said to be the reason for the withdrawal although it was a surprise that the vessel was being taken off the run before Christmas as there had been heavy passenger bookings from Alaska points during the next couple of weeks.

RENT CONTROLS BEING EXTENDED
OTTAWA—Rent controls on domestic dwellings are expected to be extended by Parliament, either at the current sitting or when it resumes next month, to end March, 1949, informed sources said today.

CHELMSFORD, Essex, Eng. (P)—Walter Deacon, who claimed to have invented the "Stop-Go" traffic lights died aged 73.

May Come Sooner Than Expected, House Is Told

OTTAWA (CP)—Hint of a possible general election sooner than the Opposition expected was dangled by Prime Minister Mackenzie King in the House of Commons yesterday after John Bracken, Progressive-Conservative leader, called for a vote of non-confidence in the government. Mr. King gave the cautiously-worded hint after Mr. Bracken had concluded an address in the Throne Speech debate by urging that the Governor-General be advised that his "advisers" do not possess the confidence of the Canadian people." Mr. King said that there was no better test of the people's confidence than an election and recalled that the government had won the last five by-elections.

"What about the sixth?" Mr. Bracken asked.
"The sixth may be a general election and may come sooner than my honorable friend expects," retorted the Prime Minister.

Mr. King's election hint revived speculation today that a general election might be called some time in 1948 with Mr. King retiring as leader of the party.

Normally Canada would not have to hold an election until the fall of 1950.

YOUNG SENATOR HEART VICTIM

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (P)—Hon. John Joseph Bench, K.C., aged 42, one of Canada's youngest senators, died today of a heart attack. Senator for Lincoln, he had been ill about a week.

AT SESSION'S OPENING—Minus the pre-war scarlet tunics and bearskins of the Governor General's Footguards but with the usual pageantry and traditional formality of custom His Excellency Viscount Alexander, last Friday afternoon, presided at the opening of the fourth session of the Twentieth Parliament in Ottawa. The Governor General is shown above with Lady Alexander, taking the salute from a composite guard of honor, on his arrival at the Parliament Buildings.

Skeena Member Desires To Carry On As Minister

Resolutions Being Considered Today At Vancouver Liberal Convention—Chieftain To Be Elected Tomorrow

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, today announced that he would not be a candidate for leadership of the provincial Liberal party. "I do not propose to allow my name to go before the convention," Mr. Kenney said shortly before the opening today of the province-wide convention to select a successor to Premier John Hart as leader of the Liberal party in British Columbia. He was reported to have had the general support of delegates from northern constituencies who now become free agents at the convention with the right to vote into the leadership one of the two top candidates—Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer or Byron (Boss) Johnson, M.L.A. for New Westminster.

"If I had the choice, bearing in mind the industrial development of the province for the next few years, I would prefer being mines, lands and forests minister rather than leader of the Liberal party," said Mr. Kenney.

Six hundred delegates registered this morning and later in the day will deal with two score resolutions and hear a brief speech from Premier Hart.

The new leader will be elected tomorrow.

SNOW ALL ALONG LINE OF RAILWAY

Snow conditions are general along the line of the Canadian National Railways from the lower Skeena Valley to the Alberta border, according to word received at divisional headquarters here today. The snow is at its greatest depth east of Prince George where snow plows have gone into action.

The vehicle was found standing right side up on the rocky river bottom. It was facing upriver. The motor hood was gone, probably having become detached in the impact of the plunge into the river. A spare tire which had been in the back of the car was up against the windshield. The vehicle was found about 50 feet out in the river and 25 feet below the level of the railway grade and highway.

The car was a 1941 Plymouth.

Sheremata was a veteran of the recent war and had been located in Prince Rupert for six or seven months before the fatal ride.

A "tax sale land reserve account" bylaw required to be passed by recent provincial legislation, was given its first reading. This bylaw requires that moneys derived from the sale of city-owned lots be placed in a reserve fund which can be used only for specific purposes as outlined by the Municipal Act.

According to the Act the money can be used only to bring the sinking fund up to proper level where an actual deficit exists; payment of debentures or for capital expenditures. The use of the money is subject to the approval of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Actually, the city has had such a land sale reserve account for the last four years but up to the present time, it was strictly municipal regulation. Now it is on a province-wide basis and is administered by the provincial government.

Council also passed three land sale bylaws approving sales of city-owned property made earlier in the year. Funds from these sales, however, do not come under the authority of the above land sale trust account bylaw, since they were approved before the bylaw became effective.

The land sale trust account bylaw will receive its final reading on December 22 and will become effective at the first of the new year.

Municipal Election

PRINCE RUPERT civic electors have a clear-cut field for expression of their preferences at the election to be held this Thursday. On the one hand they have the Labor slate for mayor and four aldermanic seats, on the other the independents. There is a good offering of able candidates any of whom are capable of satisfactory service. They are to be thanked for their public spiritedness in coming forward and offering themselves.

As for the mayoralty, both candidates have been tested. Mrs. Arnold, during the past year, has made a good impression. She has been as capable and hard-working a chief magistrate as many of her male predecessors. During her term of office she has made many new friends to add to those she had before. Mr. Daggett, who served three years prior to this year, has his record of conscientious service to submit and the voters can compare his and that of Mrs. Arnold. He has the official Labor blessing and, apart from that, may have some outside support.

Half of the aldermanic candidates have had previous experience on the council. The others are well known and provide a good block of talent. It may be that some new blood might be considered desirable.

As we have so often before reminded the electorate, the city is a large and important business organization. The electors would do well not to be blindly partisan in their preferences but to consider seriously who are best fitted to be entrusted with the responsibility of carrying on the management of their business.

Above all, there should not be indifference but all those who have the vote should show their interest by getting out and voting. It is not only their democratic privilege but is also a duty. Certainly those who do not even take the trouble to vote have no right to criticize loudly as they sometimes do.

FARE INCREASES

OASTAL steamship lines, which increased their freight tariffs a few months ago, have found it necessary now to advance their passenger fares and thus contribute further to the inflationary spiral. People living on this part of the coast, from the point of financial outlay, found it difficult enough to make the odd trip to Vancouver even under the old fares. Now it is that much harder and the increase will, no doubt, have the tendency of further curtailing travel. Anything that may be gained from the increase in fares may quite possibly be lost in a shrinkage of volume with little decrease in the general overhead.

When operating costs in every line of business are increasing and prices are advancing all along the line, it is difficult to criticize the steamship companies for their action. However, these increased prices are not the answer to the economic maladjustment which is becoming greater. There is no doubt that those who are forced to increase charges for goods and services do so reluctantly and even with a feeling of futility. The levelling off must come soon so that stability may be brought about.

TWILIGHT FOR LOUIS?

THIS MAY BE twilight time for Joe Louis as world's heavyweight boxing champion. He was close to defeat in New York last Friday.

A huge crowd of fans watched the unfolding of surprise after surprise. They were astounded. An obscure boxer, it seemed painfully plain that the brown bomber was on the way out. Louis was no longer the calm, masterful man who for years had the fight world at his feet. Within a few rounds he betrayed signs that all was not well and, not long after, he was battling for his professional life.

The reason? Some say the increase of years, soft and all that. These could contribute.

There is now an active controversy as to whether Louis actually won.

Whether or not the boxer will attempt a comeback is open to question. He has certainly been robbed of prestige. And when a celebrity suffers that, the general outlook is far from cheerful. The world loves a winner. What happened on Friday will stand as one of the outstanding stories of ring history—a rare event in the cauliflower industry.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

December 9, 1922

The Prince Rupert Liberal Conservative Association was formed with Hon. Arthur Meighen as honorary president and Hon. W. J. Bowser as honorary vice-president. Active officers were R. W. Cameron, president; W. W. Wright, secretary-treasurer; W. E. Fisher, first vice-president; Miss E. M. Earl, second vice-president. Executive members were D. C. Stuart, William Reid, A. W. Edge, Mrs. J. Howe, Mrs. M. M. Stephens and W. R. Love.

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Patrician reported by wireless that she would arrive in port at 3:50 p.m. Mayor Rochester, Fred Stork, M.P. and Major J. H. McMullen were to meet her on arrival. The vessel was scheduled for a two-day visit.

Three names were struck off the civic voters' list by the Court of Revision. The list stood at 2,113 as revised. The Court of Revision consisted of Mayor Rochester, Aldermen Dybahn, Collart and City Clerk E. A. Woods.

December 9, 1912

The Canadian Bank of Commerce was installed in its permanent quarters on Second Avenue. The establishment was moved from its former Third Avenue site.

The court of revision held its first sitting in preparation for the next municipal election.

The News carried a story saying that the government would be asked to purchase the official bonds of the G.T.P.

The B.C. Gazette, which arrived in the city, carried notice of incorporation of a company being organized to build a $10,000 hotel at Granby Bay.

"Work and Wait," John Bull Is Urged as Year Draws to Close

BRITAIN LOOKS TO MARSHALL PLAN FOR FINANCIAL LIFT IN CRITICAL MONTHS AHEAD

By JOHN DAUPHINEE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Shortage of dollars has replaced shortage of coal as Britain's most urgent problem. That is the most significant change in the country's economic position as 1947 ends. Last February the coal shortage, coupled with the worst winter weather in half a century, temporarily wiped out half England's production. This winter the outlook is more favorable, with stocks in good shape and mine output higher.

But now the dollar shortage has brought austerity which, in some respects, is worse than during the worst days of the war.

Rations have been cut, goods diverted from home to export markets, new taxation imposed on individuals and business, private motoring and foreign travel for pleasure banned, and capital expenditure—such as home and factory construction—severely limited.

Slow recovery of British export trade, rising costs of essential imports, and a rush by some foreign countries to change sterling for dollars during the short-lived summer period of free convertibility caused a frightening drain on the Canadian and American loans.

Limited Resources of Dollar Problem

Today Britain's dollar resources are limited, in effect, to about $350,000,000 of the Canadian loan, the treasury reserves and whatever can be earned by direct and indirect exports to the dollar area.

It is not enough. The British government, while seeking sources of supply in the Commonwealth and Empire and soft-currency countries, relies on the Marshall Plan for a financial lift during the next critical months.

Sir Stafford Cripps, minister for economic affairs and chancellor of the exchequer, has warned there must be sharp new cuts of dollar imports unless there is some "new dollar availability."

Shortage of manpower, which has compelled the government to reintroduce limited direction of labor in an effort to find more staff for undermanned vital industries such as mining and textiles.

Shortage of materials for industry, requiring strict priority allocation of steel and fuel.

Shortage of transport, caused by insufficient merchant shipping tonnage, too few aircraft which can be operated at a profit, and lack of railway rolling stock following six years of war and two years of peace during which maintenance and replacement were below par.

Despite these problems, government spokesmen are moderately optimistic when they speak of Britain's long-term economic prospects. They warn the immediate future is dark.

"Our people must endure some austerity and still raise the level of production," said Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council.

"We must work and wait."

Easier This Year To Pick Christmas Gifts For Men

Brighter colors, sportier and more casual apparel constitute the trend in men's clothing today.

Christmas buying for any man is greatly simplified this year by the wide, attractive range of up-to-the-minute clothing and accessories being featured by Prince Rupert stores.

The old cry "Men are so hard to buy presents for" will be discarded by any woman who takes a little time to look around the men's shops.

Why the merchandise—while still short in many lines—is more attractive than ever. And most men's wardrobes are short of so many things.

If you are shopping around for a present for a man—regardless of age—you will not make a mistake by selecting something he can wear. Today wearing apparel is something that most men want and need.

Clothes sense reveals a man's disposition. Even his selection of a tie in the morning will indicate his feeling. Where a man's wardrobe will permit, he will don a suit to match his mood. Judging from the brighter colors, much in evidence today, in the gay Christmas-decorated stores of this city, the general mental condition of our men is happier. It's a good sign. Nature meant the male bird to be bright and gay—not drab as the human male has sought to be for too long a period now.

In suits, the trend is to loosen fitting drape effect with straight back. Trousers, too, are draped with pleats to give comfort and conceal extra poundage around the middle. Of course the bottoms of trousers are narrower—to catch less dust and mud.

SPORTY APPAREL WELCOMED GENERALLY

Men have always suited sports apparel and the sporty trend of jacket and odd slacks meets with general approval.

"This combination is economical, too," points out one clothier. "It gives the wearer variety, as he can wear different slacks with the same coat, and one jacket will stand up even after three or more slacks have been worn out."

What about color schemes?

Lighter colors are in demand—grays and light brown. Tweeds are becoming more popular every day.

Double-breasted suit coats are still on the way up in popularity, the percentage of call for them now being about 40 percent.

In double-breasted models the three-button has enjoyed a run but the long roll two-button—one button to button style—is coming up very fast.

Single-breasted models are most popular in the three-button style.

British suiting is in big demand, but the supply at the moment is negligible and the prospects are not bright for many months. Canadian tweed is rising in popularity because of the shortage of Old Country gabardine, gabardine twill, and crevett cloth.

BETTER BUY SHIRTS WHILE AVAILABLE

Shirts, too, are on the scarce list. Better not hold off buying them for your own wear or as presents for family members or friends.

Plainer shades are coming to the fore again—and stripes that are not too bold also are easing back into favor. Collars are softer. Windsor collars are in demand—but few are in stock at the moment.

As you have noticed, sport shirts are the thing today. On holidays and in the evenings they are worn with pleasure, open and with tie. They are easing their way into business offices, too. Their sale at the moment equals that of the dress shirts.

Now for neckwear. The move is definitely to bold patterns. Knitted and crocheted ties in plain colors are strong sellers.

Belts, too, have made a remarkable comeback. This return to favor, together with the clips and bar pins, is accounted for by the fact that sports jackets and slacks, minus vests, give the wearers greater opportunity to accent these accessories.

WATCH FOR RETURN OF BOW TIE POPULARITY

Oh yes. The old sport of pre-depression days, the bow tie, is back on display. In the United States bow ties are being given a gay whirl, but Prince Rupert men are still a bit hesitant to go all-out for the smaller tie. Latest style in the bow tie is the clip-on model, fitted with a collar clip that eliminates the old elastic band.

What about socks? Big Argyle diamonds are still mighty pleasing to the male, but plain shades matching plain shade ties are enjoying a big run.

Silver, gold and leather tie bars, many surmounted with birds, dogs, fish, steers' heads, boots, spurs and other figures should prove popular Christmas gifts this year. Key chains in large numbers will be hanging from the gift tree this Yuletide. Penknives for these chains also are attractive.

For those who like to give Old Country woolen goods, city haberdasheries are offering smart socks and sweaters.

Yes, women will find it much easier to shop for men's presents this Christmas. As one proprietor declared, "The men are enjoying brighter colors now.

They even pick out for themselves ties like those they used to receive at Christmas from their mothers, sisters, girl friends and daughters. Only now they wear them instead of hiding them under a pile of papers in the top drawer of their dresser."

The general conclusion is, of course, that men are getting smart—as far as clothes are concerned.

CITY RESIGNED TO PASSENGER FARE INCREASES

Prince Rupert citizens today took a generally unhappy view of the boost in steamship passenger fares that added 15 per cent to the cost of travel on coast steamships. Their displeasure was tinged with a degree of resignation at their inability to do anything about the upward sweep.

The increase raises single passage fares between Prince Rupert and Vancouver to $34.50 and round trip fares to $62.10. Fares to other ports are correspondingly increased.

To one young businessman whose parents live in Vancouver the boost means a Christmas away from home. He is going to remain in Prince Rupert for the holiday season.

"It's partly a matter of budget and partly a matter of principle," he declared. "I have to strain my purse to make the trip under any conditions, and this increase seems to be timed to take advantage of Christmas travel. I am staying here."

Others recognized it as a "trend of the times" but deplored that Prince Rupert, as the "end of the line" should be hit the heaviest.

"Costs have risen in just about everything else," one said. "There is no reason why we should expect that they should not increase for travel also. Being so far from Vancouver, it naturally hits us the most."

"We finally got him to stop biting his nails."

SAVED BY PLANE FROM BOAT FIRE

JUNEAU—Through quick co-operation with a sea plane the lives of two men and two women and a small boy were saved in Chatham Straits not long ago.

A seiner they were on caught fire. Sighted from the air they were picked up within an hour. The owner of the boat was Jim Marks of Hoonah. The boat was called North Pass.

DUTCH FARMERS COMING HERE

OTTAWA—Arriving in March the first of ten thousand Dutch agriculturists will reach Canada. The Netherlands government has chartered two vessels, the Tabinta and Kotabare, and these will make thirteen voyages. The families will first accept employment, to eventually take up land themselves.

TO THE ELECTORS:

As a candidate for the mayoralty of the City of Prince Rupert, I respectfully ask for your endorsement at the polls on Thursday, December 11.

My record as mayor during the years 1944, 1945 and 1946 is well known to you.

I stand on that record and will give to the office the same attention I gave during my previous terms of office.

Sincerely yours,

H. M. DAGGETT.

For as little as 2.33 cents a day, the wide world with all its excitement, pathos, tragedy, and human interest, will be brought to your door each evening.

EVERY DAY, EXCEPT SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS, THERE IS A BOY IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD WHO PACKS THE WORLD IN THE PRINTED WORD, IN A BAG SLUNG OVER HIS SHOULDER.

Approximately 85% of Prince Rupert householders now subscribe to the DAILEY NEWS and the other 15% are rapidly becoming aware of the value of the local newspaper both to themselves and to the community.

RIGHT NOW, THE DAILY NEWS IS SPONSORING A "NEW SUBSCRIBERS" CONTEST AMONG THE ROUTE CARRIERS. IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE FEW RESIDENTS OF THE CITY NOT SERVED BY A DELIVERY BOY, YOU MAY HELP ONE OF THEM TO WIN A BICYCLE. $15 OR $5 IN CASH, THE PRIZES BEING OFFERED TO THOSE BOYS BRINGING IN THE HIGHEST POINT SCORES BEFORE THE CONTEST ENDS DECEMBER 20.

EVEN THOUGH THE BOY WHO MAKES THE SALE DOES NOT GET INTO THE PRIZE WINNING CLASS, THE COMMISSION RECEIVED FOR A NEW SUBSCRIPTION WILL ADD TO HIS CHRISTMAS SPENDING MONEY.

REMEMBER . . . when a boy asks you to subscribe to the DAILY NEWS, he is not only selling you a newspaper but he is offering you a daily service that will carry on day in and day out, in sunshine or in storm.

WATCH FOR RETURN OF BOW TIE POPULARITY

Oh yes. The old sport of pre-depression days, the bow tie, is back on display. In the United States bow ties are being given a gay whirl, but Prince Rupert men are still a bit hesitant to go all-out for the smaller tie.

Latest style in the bow tie is the clip-on model, fitted with a collar clip that eliminates the old elastic band.

Better English
By D. C. WILLIAMS

- What is wrong with this sentence? "We received an invite to the party."
- What is the correct pronunciation of "business"?
- Which one of these words is misspelled? Admitance, acceptance.
- What does the word "infinite" mean?
- What is a word beginning with "na" that means "a story"?

ANSWERS

1. Invite is a verb. Say, "We received an invitation." 2. Pronounce biz-nes, not biz-i-ness.
3. Admittance. 4. Without limits of any kind. "By heaven we understand a state of happiness infinite in degree, and endless in duration." —Franklin. 5. Nar-

Will Arney play? Will Forman play? Will the League go on? The celebrated Arney case threatens to become a major issue in local basketball circles. Common gossip has it that the Referees Association should do something, the players should do something, the League should do something. Actually the answer is quite simple—the executive of the Prince Rupert and District Basketball Association, according to its constitution, "shall decide on the conduct of all teams and players, unsportsmanlike conduct, etc., and adjudge length of suspension, etc." We assume, therefore, that before this paper is on the street, the league executive will have asked for and received a report on the incident from the referees and will have decided on what course of action must be followed.

If Arney is not allowed to play in tonight's game, Savoy will have a tough time against Co-op and, even if Ted is whitewashed by the league executive, Co-op will likely come out on top.

Savoy of the Senior League and High School Rainmakers of the Intermediate League held a practice work-out last night and High School were a long way from being the second best team on the floor. Sure—sure—we know Savoy weren't half trying but, off recent performances, the Rainmakers could give Kay Hi quite a battle this week-end.

Unfortunately, arrangements to bring the Dukes up here from New Westminster have fallen through and Prince Rupert fans won't likely get a chance to see them this year. Here again, had the series been played, the Rainmakers might have provided a pleasant surprise for a number of local fans. After all, look what Jersey Joe Wacott did to Joe Louis!

Epic "Forever Amber" Showing

Sensational Novel Bases On Historic Fact Now At Capitol Theatre

Although toned down from Kathleen Windsor's sensational novel based on the story of the English country girl of the Seventeenth Century who became the most talked-about woman in the brilliant court of King Charles II, "Forever Amber" Greene is Carlton's devoted which commenced at the Capitol Theatre last night and is of the lusty playsome Charles being repeated tonight, makes II a "natural" for George acceptable screen entertainment. It is artistically portrayed in technicolor and combines adventure, drama and excitement in a plot of historical fact which makes it the more interesting.

HOOP TALK

The basketball games on tonight's card should be the best so far this season.

Co-ops should beat Savoy. Morgan's should win over Fashion Footwear, High School ought to defeat Peoples and Stones should trounce 65 Cabs.

The Junior League battle between Stones and 65 Cabs should be a classic.

The Ladies' League game between People's Store and High School Co-eds should be a real battle.

Morgan's Men's Wear and Fashion Footwear tangle in the Intermediate fixture. The Shoemen have still to win their first game and Monty's squad will be in their trying to keep them in the basement. Morgan's should be a stronger team as they have acquired Webster up from the powerful 65 Cabs.

Senior League

Co-op-Savoy tussle should be a real thriller. The Fish Packers will be without the services of Jackie Lindsay who is out of town on business.
