New explosions were feared as a result of the continuing flames.

City Losing Tourist Money

Dr. Keenleyside Makes Some Suggestions to Chamber of Commerce

Tourist money is the "icing on the economic cake" which Prince Rupert is passing up largely because its business people are not providing sufficient opportunities for tourists to spend money in the way they like, in the opinion of Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, Canada's deputy minister of mines and resources.

Speaking at an informal dinner with the Chamber of Commerce executive in the Commodore Cafe last night, Dr. Keenleyside predicted that the next five years will see a steady flood of tourist travel and urged Prince Rupert to prepare for it.

"I passed a woman tourist on the street today and she stopped and asked her friend 'What will we do now?' If they were in Juneau, Wrangell or Ketchikan, they probably would go into one of the numerous curio shops and spend money. There is a good opportunity for curio shops in Prince Rupert.

Dr. Keenleyside said that he noted no improvement in the hotel situation in his various visits to Prince Rupert since the early 1920's, adding the opinion that a medium-sized, but modernly equipped hotel with a few small, but well kept shops would be a paying proposition.

"The Baranof Hotel in Juneau is small but it is smart and modern. It is an asset to the city and a money-maker for its managers."

BRITAIN TO GIVE BRITAIN LIFT

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—Britain appeared likely today to win concessions at the Anglo-American "dollar crisis" conference here, permitting a temporary boost in buying from the Dominions at expense of trade with the United States.

American officials said privately that this would fall short of a panacea for Britain's economic ills but was one remedy which might be available without waiting for United States Congress to amend the $3,750,000,000 British loan agreement.

Federal Highway Aid

IN DEALING WITH THE ISSUE of federal aid to highway construction, two reasons have been offered by Ottawa through Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction. One is that nothing can be done as long as the question of intergovernmental financing between the Dominion and the provinces, and there are only two provinces now outstanding, is settled. The other reason is contained in the suggestion by Mr. Howe that "the decision (on the matter of the federal government giving assistance to the provinces in the building of highways) has rested in part on the level of unemployment."

Possibly one of the most cogent arguments in favor of federal participation in a national highway construction in co-operation with the provinces is from the standpoint of the tourist industry and, on that basis, a strong case was made out in the recent session of Parliament at Ottawa by George Cruickshank, Liberal member for Fraser Valley. Mr. Cruickshank said:

"I am going to speak purely from the tourist point of view, and, if you like, from the selfish point of view of dollars and cents. Last year we had $232 million brought into Canada through tourist trade. Well, if we ship our lumber, wheat and everything else something is going out of our country, whereas if we bring in United States money through the tourist traffic we are taking nothing out of the country. "And why am I driving through the United States? Because they have roads. And I will spend all the money I have to spend in the United States. We are asking tourists to come here. Our scenery is the one thing we have to sell which takes nothing out of the country, but we do not provide the tourists with the highways they are used to. "Why should the provinces be expected to build highways when they would bring money into the country at a time when we are hearing so much about foreign exchange, and are being told that we can not do anything about that situation? "Apparently the Federal Government is afraid to spend money to build highways. I believe it is a good common-sense business to expend money in the construction of highways across Canada that would connect with the United States border. This would encourage tourist traffic and enable us to sell them something which cannot be equalled in any other part of the world, our Canadian scenery."

BOARDS OF TRADE

THE CONVENTION of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia at Prince Rupert did a grand job, the results of which will ultimately bear fruit and enhance the prosperity of the district.

Never before had so much interest been taken in a central B.C. trade convention as on this occasion. There were two ministers from the provincial government, high officials of the Canadian National Railway and at the final session came the Governor of Alaska to add his influence to the delegates from our "good neighbor" territory.

While each locality has justifiable pride in its own accomplishments and resources of potential wealth, an association of all communities broadens the outlook of the members. Delegates learn how to compose their various viewpoints on details. They consummate resolutions affecting wider policies, which when brought to fruition will aid in the development of the entire area of central and northern British Columbia, and we trust, of Alaska too.

While great nations are finding the way weary and long on which they hope to unite for the high purpose of world prosperity, security and peace, here on the frontiers we found a pleasant pathway of co-operation between British Columbia Canadians and Alaska Americans.

Perhaps in this small measure of unity between parts of two nations, so much will be accomplished in achieving tolerant understanding as well as business advantages, that new inspiration will be given those leaders who are seeking unity among nations. This example of co-operation transcends all the resolutions, important though they be.

Thousands of people in the area covered by this associated boards of trade have benefitted and will benefit by the few who, generally at their own expense, have attended these annual conventions where so much is done to focus attention on the solution of problems affecting development. —Prince George Citizen.

POSTAL DELIVERY

EVERY NOW AND THEN, over the years someone rises to remark it is time Prince Rupert had a postal delivery. Usually, the suggestion is fortified with the information that smaller and less important communities in British Columbia possess the accommodation. By way of explanation, the statement has been heard that once Prince Rupert attains a certain population which can be regarded as practically permanent, postal delivery will follow forthwith. And this introduces the question of what is the population? Few think alike. Nearly everyone has his own private estimate, although peace-loving souls have been known to defer to one another's judgment.

Expansion For North

That is Way Canada Will Now Grow, Says Deputy Minister Keenleyside

A great period of expansion for northern Canada is imminent although it may not be as substantial as that in northern Russia where, within the past 10 years, several cities of 25,000 or so population have come into existence based on the development of the natural resources and the establishment of industries, declared Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, deputy minister of mines and resources, in speaking informally last evening at dinner before the executive of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. In this new northern development in Canada, Dr. Keenleyside felt that Prince Rupert would play an important part.

Dr. Keenleyside was accounting for his reasons in quitting a diplomatic career to become deputy minister of a government department. The actuating factor in his decision, he said, was because he felt that he might actively assist in the development of the country.

Dr. Keenleyside reiterated what he had previously said to a Daily News interviewer that his interest in Prince Rupert was more than passing. He spoke of what he saw as possibilities for this place to profit from the tourist traffic and the Alaska trade and offered any assistance that it was possible for him to give either within his own department or in the presentation of matters to other departments.

In the course of discussion which came up during the visit of the deputy minister, Dr. Keenleyside undertook to take up the matter of possible assistance to the local museum in the way of exhibits, the releasing to the market of the old Post Office site on Third Avenue and development of Alaska trade by Canadian National Railways.

The deputy minister had a busy two days while here. He visited Miller Bay Hospital, Port Edward, inspected the museum, conferred with Indian Agent F. E. Anfield, met Mayor Nora Arnold and had dinner with the executive of the Chamber of Commerce. He also looked up a few old friends and took some

Surveying Groundhog

Aerial Reconnaissance to be Given Priority as Result of Representation to Deputy Minister

Aerial survey of the Groundhog coal field area, already on the program of aerial reconnaissance being carried out jointly by the Department of Mines and Natural Resources and the Royal Canadian Air Force, is being given priority assurance that it will be carried out this summer.

Announcement to this effect was made here yesterday by Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, deputy minister of mines and natural resources, following communication with headquarters at Ottawa after the matter had been taken up with him by the president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

While it was known that this work was provided for this year, there was some uncertainty as to whether it was actually being carried out.

The survey planes are now at Smithers, it has been learned. The vertical and triometrical survey to be undertaken this year will be preliminary to topographical and geological survey of the area next year.

Before leaving on the Princess Adelaide last night for Vancouver, he expressed the hope that he would be back in Prince Rupert again next year and that he might be able to attend the 1948 convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia and Alaska at Juneau.

ROTARY HEAD VISITS CLUB

Stresses Vocational and International Service Aspects

Vocational and international service aspects of Rotary work were stressed by Frank I. Doherty of Victoria, district governor, in a speech before the Prince Rupert Rotary Club in the Commodore Cafe Monday afternoon.

On a tour of the clubs in his district, Mr. Doherty arrived in the city Saturday night from Ketchikan after visiting that city, Juneau, Petersburg, Anchorage, Nome and Fairbanks. He left on last night's train for Prince George.

Vocational service, Dr. Doherty defined as "business ethics" which are often difficult to practice. He termed it "fair practice, aided by the friendly handclasp, the kindly motive and the square deal."

"It is the application of the Golden Rule," he said. "If it is practiced, I think industrial peace would be realized."

International service he described as the carrying out of the program for international peace through the association of businessmen.

"Rotary's opportunity is to bring about better opportunities for peace in the world," he declared.

Mr. Doherty outlined the founding of the Rotary Club movement which began in Chicago in February, 1905, when Paul Harris, a young lawyer, and three friends created the first club. The second club was organized in San Francisco in 1910, and the same year, clubs were organized in Oakland and Seattle. The first Canadian club was formed in Winnipeg the same year.

Today there are 6,240 Rotary clubs with 305,000 members throughout the world.

I have been told that within 10 years there will be 2,000 Rotary clubs in China," Mr. Doherty declared. "In India, wonderful work is being done in giving the various sects and religions a meeting ground that is outside both religion and politics."

"There must be something about Rotary that not only inspires a man to join it, but which makes him more willing to give up other affiliations than part with his Rotary membership."

Mr. Doherty was thanked for his address by club president Lee Gordon. Guests at the meeting were Warne Tansley of Vancouver and H. L. Keenleyside, Ottawa.

City, Kenya Exchange Courtesies

Mayor Nora E. Arnold and Capt. L. A. K. Boswell, commanding officer of H.M.S. Kenya, observed official courtesies this morning when they exchanged visits at the city hall and aboard the British light cruiser which docked at the ocean dock at 5 o'clock last night.

At 9:30 this morning, Capt. Boswell, accompanied by senior officers, visited the city hall where they were greeted in behalf of the city by Mayor Arnold. An hour later, Mayor Arnold returned the visit to the wardroom of H.M.S. Kenya.

At 11:30, Lieut. Commander Jack McRae, Acting Commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Chatham, paid an official call on behalf of the Naval Reserve, to the Kenya's captain. He acted in place of Lieut. Commander Orme Stuart, who is out of the city.

The exchange set the mood for hospitality that is contained in the program arranged for the entertainment of the ship's personnel while they are in port and the reciprocal gestures on the part of the visiting sailors.

These will begin this afternoon at 3 o'clock when Kenya will be open for visitors for three hours. The visiting period closes at 6 o'clock. It will be the only "open house" period while the ship is in port although friends of the crew will be allowed on board on Thursday afternoon.

This afternoon and Wednesday, groups of sailors will be taken on a conducted tour of the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. plant at Seal Cove. Several fishing expeditions have been arranged for officers during the three-day period.

A boxing card, between three local fighters and sailors will be held Wednesday night, at the Civic Centre Carnival grounds, while a football match between a Canadian Legion team and a ship's team will be held at Roosevelt Park field earlier in the same evening.

Capt. Boswell today expressed regret that owing to War Assets regulations, controlled from Montreal, it is necessary to close the Ocean Dock to visitors, except during the announced visiting hours.

"I see by the papers," said the Old Timer, "that some of the unions in Canada are starting to get rid of Communist domination—at least that's what they call it."

"Well, if I was a union man again, I'd be pretty suspicious of any Communist trying to get himself elected to office in my union. I don't believe any Communist ever works for anything but the interests of the Communist party. Sure they will make themselves useful to a labor union, up to the point where they have grabbed control of it. After that the union serves the interests of the Communist party."

"The ordinary labor man backs his union to get sound collective bargaining—the best wages and best working conditions possible without putting the employer out of business. He is willing to recognize that bargaining is a two-way business. He doesn't want strikes. He'd rather be on friendly terms with the boss."

"But no Communist wants industrial peace and progress. His job is to create discontent and strife and trouble, getting the world ready for the revolution. So how can he represent the interests of the working man? It just doesn't make sense."

(The Old Timer's views are presented in this newspaper each week under the sponsorship of the British Columbia Federation of Trade and Industry.)

FASHIONS ARE SEEN IN NORTH

THE PAS—Canada north of 53 got a preview of fall fashions when the fourth annual Canadian National Railways excursion to Churchill, the port of Hudson Bay, arrived here.

Among the 250 passengers was Elizabeth Williams of New York, a fashion advertising specialist. She was interviewed over station CFAR and did a review appreciated particularly by the women who live in the pockets of civilization that cluster around mining camps and trading posts between here and the Arctic.

Passengers were disappointed at Sheridan Saturday when the group could not go down the big base metal mine because of the strike. However the townspeople did their next best and took them out to see the old open-pit operation. The tour arrived at Churchill last evening.

FOOTBALL NOTES

Following the arrival of H.M.S. Kenya in port yesterday afternoon, Wednesday evening was set as the date for the big football game between the warship and local All Stars for the Hanson Cup. The referee will be provided by H.M.S. Kenya.

With Bill Murray unable to play owing to an injured ankle selection committee has brought in Stan Veitch. With George Ferguson, Ted Arney, H. Duncan and J. Bremner also available there should be no shortage of players.

The navy team had a good game against St. Andrew's in Vancouver where they lost to the Dominion Cup finalists 4-1. The sailors admit that the Vancouver eleven has real class. This reporter agrees as he saw them play recently in Vancouver.

A few of the local players had a short work-out yesterday after helping to mark out the grounds. They included Roi Judge, Stan Veitch, Jim Bremner, Ken Yelland and Ted Parkhouse.

The ship's team had agreed to the use of substitutes. While this is a regular practice in Canada now substitutes are not allowed in the Old Country. Even if a player is injured a substitute is permitted and the team finishes the game short-handed.

H. J. Marchant, a recent arrival from England where he played in London League circles, gave a good display in goal. He fielded ground shots very surely and safely. He was caught napping with a long shot by Dave Murray but this would not happen in a serious game. He promises to be an asset and, as Herbie Morgan is not available owing to an injured hand, Marchant will be the choice for goal keeper.

Bob McKay played a strong game and with Bill Murray, who is due back from vacation today, should form a strong last line of defence.

Ken Yelland, whom we remember seeing when he played for the champion Signals team here during the war, will start at the centre-half position and with Darrow Gomez and Roi Judge on his wing halves Prince Rupert will have an active half-back line.

J. K. Murray showed up well in the last game against H.M.C.S. Uganda and could be a dangerous centre forward, particularly if he feeds his wings enough. Young Dave Murray, at inside, is also dangerous, although he is inclined to overdo his fancy work at times. He got a good goal Sunday. Ted Parkhouse is fast and never gives up trying. Bobby Armstrong played his usual aggressive, hard-fighting game and will be an endless source of trouble to any opposition. Nick Pavlikis got a good goal in the practice and can always be counted upon to play hard and to the very end.

Some of the old-timers showed surprisingly good form although they failed to stay the pace. Sam Currie has his old-time control of the ball and feeds his forwards neatly. Joek McGreish scored two goals even if one of them was against his own team when he turned Wilson's centre past his own goalie. Pat Foreman also showed that he must have been quite a footballer some years ago. Jack Wilson played hard and actually got a neat goal in his favorite spot, just inside the upright. Phil Ray, another veteran, surprised the crowd with his tackling and passing plays.

The local team when finally selected, should give the visiting team a really good game. Sunday's display was most encouraging.

Bob McKay was driving some of the players downtown after the football practice when he suddenly said: "Just a minute fellows, I'll have to stop. There's something creaking. I'd better get out and see what the trouble is." And a voice from the rear said: "You don't need to get out. That big creak you hear is my right knee and the little one is my left ankle." "Yea," another voice chimed in, "and you have two flats as well, for neither of us has got back our wind yet."

GENERAL MOTORS CONSOLIDATE

Defeat C.N.R.A. by 18-6 to Improve Margin of Leadership in Fastball

Although there was a difference of only two hits in last evening's fastball game in the City League, yet the General Motors defeated the second place Canadian National Recreation Association by 18 to 6.

In the absence of their star pitcher Ian Dunbar, C.N.R.A. called on Herchuk and then Schwab to take over the mound duties and the motormen collected 17 hits from them and always had the game in hand. Ted Arney with four hits in four official times at bat and E. Pierce with three hits in three times at bat had a perfect evening. Bob Smith with four hits in five times up including a three-bagger and a two-bagger and Bill Lambie, with two hits also including a triple and a double were heavy hitters. Dominato allowed three walks and struck out two. They had seven men left on bases.

C.N.R.A. hit well too but had 11 men left on bases. Herchuk was replaced by Schwab on the mound and the mechanical men were held in subjection for the last three innings. Schwab, with four hits in four times at bat, was the hitting star and had two doubles, Jensen, with three hits in four times up, and Herchuk and Ratchford, each with two hits in four times up, batted well.

SOCCERISTS IN PRACTICE GAME

Committee Selects Players to Meet H.M.S. Kenya Team

There was a fair turn-out at the Roosevelt Park Sunday for the first football practice to enable the selectors to choose a team to represent the city against H.M.S. Kenya. With the help of a few old-timers and a couple of youngsters two teams were formed and a game played.

Following the game the committee met and named players as a nucleus for the team to be finally chosen. Another practice was held last evening for aspirants for places on the city team.

A tentative team is as follows but the final selection has not yet been made: goal, Marchant; backs, R. McKay, Bill Murray; halves, Roi Judge, Ken Yelland, D. Gomez; forwards, Ted Parkhouse, David Murray, J. K. Murray, Bobby Armstrong, Nick Pavlikis; spares, Ted Arney, H. Duncan, Bill Vance, George Ferguson, Stan Veitch.

ted Kingdom to Sierra Leone, the scene of many sinkings. In 1941, she spent a long period in the Arctic Ocean, based at Iceland, where she took part in the protection of convoys to Murmansk.

Later, in 1941, she provided protection for convoys to Malta, and in the same year took part in the bombardment of Vardo, Norway, and led a successful raid on the enemy at Vaasgo.

In 1942 she was on convoy duty out of Iceland for a short time, then went on the Malta run, in which she took part in "the greatest convoy battle of the war."

Kenya required repairing and refitting after the Malta convoys, and was returned to duty in December, 1942. She joined the Eastern Fleet, based in Kenya Colony, and commenced convoy duties in the Indian Ocean. She took part in several bombardments of Japanese-held islands.

Program for the entertainment of her officers and crew includes a dance and reception by the officers of H.M.C.S. Chatham Wednesday night, a reception aboard the vessel Thursday night, a football game against a Canadian Legion team, and boxing bouts at the Civic Centre grounds Wednesday night against local fighters.

Kenya will be joined on Wednesday by H.M.C.S. Antigonish, a Canadian frigate, which is coming north via the West Coast of Vancouver Island and Dixon's Entrance at the invitation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Port Day committee to take part in that marine sports day. In addition to the normal complement of 125 officers and men, Antigonish has 50 reservists aboard on a training cruise.

Theo Fortune left on last evening's train for Prince George where he will be for the next few days in connection with his railway duties.

WILL DEMAND PROBE INTO MINE SAFETY

A demand for an investigation into safety conditions in British Columbia's metalliferous mines will be made by the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, Harvey Murphy, regional director of the Union said on learning of a disaster at Pacific Eastern mine which last night claimed the lives of three men.

"The union has been trying for years to have the Metalliferous Mines Act overhauled without success. Now we are going to demand a full scale investigation in to the reasons why it was necessary to fly rescue teams all the way from Nanaimo to a metal mine area," he said.

Mr. Murphy arrived in Prince Rupert this morning from Stewart, where he has been visiting the Premier mine. He learned of the Bridge River disaster on his arrival here.

"The metal mines have been neglected from the safety standpoint for years," he said. "It is disgraceful that there were no rescue teams and equipment nearby and that they had to be flown from so far away as Nanaimo when a disaster occurred. The government is very lax as regards safety in metal mines.

"Because explosions are rare in metal mines, the public forgets that mining is a mighty hazardous business at best."

Ernest Read and Leslie Parks, who left here for England early in the summer, are expected back next month. One went to London and the other elsewhere in the Old Country.

PASSING OF DAN SCHERK

Esteemed Pioneer Resident of Prince Rupert Passes Away

Daniel Scherk, in his seventy-sixth year, died last evening at the home of his son, Ray, 2218 Seal Cove Circle. His health had been indifferent over a considerable period although he managed to be around as usual. In fact, even to within a few hours of death, he had been sitting up.

Surviving members of the family are Mrs. Scherk, a daughter, Mrs. Beesley of Kamloops, and five sons, all living here. They are Russell, Raymond, Reuben, Rexford and Vernon. Mrs. Beesley is now on her way to the city.

Born of United Empire Loyalist stock, in Sunnidale, Ontario, he spent much of his life in the west. He was at first employed as a hard rock miner, subsequently entering the employ of Grand Trunk Pacific Railway construction as blasting supervisor. It was under his direction that many of the huge shots fired at Prince Rupert were successfully handled.

It was in August, 1909, that Mr. Scherk arrived in Prince Rupert and here he had remained ever since. Had he lived until June 19, 1948, the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Scherk would have been observed. He had the esteem of the community and will be missed by his many old friends.

The funeral announcement will be made later.

It's no trick at all to turn "hopeless" gloomy surroundings into an enchanting, cheerful room. Yes, even on a slim-Jim budget! Try a gay print bedspread... wallpaper trim around the windows... a cozy writing nook. But be sure you start with a sparkling new Gold Seal Congoleum rug! That's the way to get a floor covering that lends excitement to your whole color scheme... that is smooth, easy to clean, comfortable underfoot. Best of all, it's such a good "buy"! For Gold Seal Congoleum — both rugs and by-the-yard — has a wear-layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel equal in thickness to 8 coats of best floor paint applied by hand! But remember — without this familiar Gold Seal — it isn't Congoleum! So look for it before you buy! You'll be surprised how much quality you can buy for so little money.

Gold Seal Congoleum is a product of Congoleum Canada Limited, Montreal. Your dealer may be temporarily out of Congoleum because supplies are still very short. Please try him again, as he receives limited shipments from time to time.

GROMYKO MAKES A BORDERLINE DECISION—Raising his right hand, Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko indicates his country's wish to veto the over-all U.S. plan for a United Nations border commission in Greece aimed at curbing repeated Balkan "threats to peace and security." TRANSPORT IS PROBLEM OF IMMIGRATION

The problems of immigration of Europeans into Canada are mainly those of transportation, rather than of restrictive Canadian laws, according to Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside, who as deputy minister of mines and resources, administers the Immigration branch.

"Canadian immigration laws are easy and will admit a large number of persons but there are few boats at the present time to transport them," he told executive members of the Chamber of Commerce at an informal dinner last night.

Present laws will admit people from the United Kingdom and the United States, practically without restriction, other than a health certificate, while immigration from continental Europe, especially the west, has been opened considerably.

Just when the transportation difficulty will end, Dr. Keenleyside could not say, but he declared that the government is preparing a ship taken from the Germans in war reparations to carry immigrants to Canada. The established steamship lines also should soon have more space available, he believes.

Also, in the near future, the

WOULD EASE CLEARANCES BY CUSTOMS

Passengers travelling from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert may be able to walk directly off their ship when it docks here rather than wait for customs clearance after the vessel is in port, if a suggestion made by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce gets sympathetic action by the government.

The suggestion is that a customs officer be placed aboard boats travelling between the two ports and that he clear passengers entering Canada while the ship is approaching Prince Rupert. This would eliminate delays in disembarking at the dock.

The idea was presented to H. I. Keenleyside, deputy minister of mines and resources, last night and, while it touches a department of government with which he has no connection, he was sympathetic to the proposal and declared that he would present it to the Department of National Revenue which controls customs administration.

PERFECT HAND OF CRIBBAGE

Another rare occurrence of the holding of a perfect 29-scoring cribbage hand has been reported in Prince Rupert. It happened to Lester Franklin, 718 Lotbiniere St., when playing a twosome with Mrs. Franklin. Mr. Franklin held three fives and the Jack of Clubs and the fourth five turned up.

Mr. Franklin returned to the city recently from Vancouver where he had spent a year and a half in hospital.

federal government will be able to foster an "air immigration" similar to that being tried by the Ontario government. This will get under way when Trans-Canada Airlines gets more planes in the overseas service.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C. have passed resolutions seeking the encouragement of immigration to western Canada to bring population to the region between Prince George and Prince Rupert.

FOOTBALLERS HAVE MEETING

Arrangements Being Completed For Match With H.M.S. Kenya

An interested group of footballers attended the meeting in the Canadian Legion rooms on Saturday evening to plan for the forthcoming game with H.M.S. Kenya for the Hanson Trophy. In the absence of any official of the Prince Rupert Football Association, J. S. Wilson took the chair, and P. M. Ray, secretary-manager of the Legion, acted as secretary.

A review of the football situation took place and arrangements were made for a practice. There is a shortage of equipment and steps are being taken to meet this problem. One set of goalposts had been taken down earlier in the season as they interfered with the baseball games but City Engineer Howe was contacted and they have been set up again.

A working party met at the Roosevelt Park grounds last evening and the playing pitch has been properly marked out.

Present at the meeting were H. J. Marchant, K. V. Yelland, N. H. Pavlikis, Douglas McGillivray, Ted Arney, Hawthorne Graham, Bob McKay, Alex Harvey, and Charlie Baptie.
