Federal Public Works Completes $160,000 in Jobs This Summer

Despite difficulties in obtaining materials and rising construction costs, contractors in the Prince Rupert area have completed building and repair work valued at $160,000 for the federal Public Works Department, C. F. P. Faulkner, assistant departmental engineer, said Monday.

Mr. Faulkner left last night on the Princess Louise to return to New Westminster after spending the last 10 days inspecting works in the area. His inspection may bear fruit in departmental estimates which will be submitted to the department and to the forthcoming session of parliament.

"I am not able to tell you what we have in mind at the present time," he said, "but I do have a considerable amount of work on hand in preparing estimates. The early opening of parliament is making it a speed-up job."

However, among the "very big list" of projects which will be recommended is the probable reconstruction of a wharf at Sandspit, a new Department of Transport wharf at Seal Cove, and reconstruction of the wharf at Port Clements.

Steadily rising construction costs, including materials and labor, and difficulty in obtaining materials have had the effect of delaying work, and keeping small contractors from bidding jobs which ordinarily, they would be eager to get, he said.

Big Warehouse Here Reported Sold

Large Shipping Concern Mentioned as Purchaser

Word Reported Received Here Although War Assets Head Office Is Non-Committal

Unofficial reports here today say that the former American army warehouse, administration building and former marine repair depot have been sold. Staff of War Assets Corporation were said to have been advised of the sale, but received no details.

The famous Blue Funnel shipping line, whose ships ply the seven seas, is being mentioned as the purchaser. This would substantiate credible reports that have been heard for over a year that important British shipping interests were negotiating for the strategic Prince Rupert waterfront property.

Query at Montreal headquarters of War Assets Corporation by the Daily News brought forth a statement that negotiations for the sale of dock and warehouse were continuing, the spokesman there adding that "no final decision has yet been made."

Nine-Year Old Boy Returns As Search Parties Seek Him

Missing All Night, Raymond Leeson Returns Hungry and Tired—Spent Night In Shack

Police and navy and high school volunteer searchers called off their hunt at 11:30 this morning for nine-year-old Raymond Leeson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Leeson, who was missing for 18 hours last night after he left his home at 1344 Eighth Avenue East at 4:55 Monday afternoon.

Chilled and hungry, the boy returned to his home while 20 men and boys were scouring the rough bushland between Eighth and Eleventh Avenues where he disappeared.

Constable George Redhead described the boy's condition as "pretty shaky" when he returned home and said that he did not question him closely at the time. They boy, who gave no reason for his disappearance, said he had spent the night "in a shack near the Baptist Church."

He said that he had been in the Post Office this morning. At that time the search for him was in full swing.

The hunt was resumed at 10 o'clock today after the police, the boy's father and neighbors hunted through the wild bushland between Eighth and Eleventh Avenues all night in a vain effort to find the child.

The city police were informed that the boy was missing at 10:25 last night after the father had fruitlessly scoured the muskeg near his east end home and decided to seek outside help.

Five police constables answered the call and joined Mr. Leeson and helpful neighbors in an all-night search for the nine-year-old Conrad Street School boy.

The child left his home with three other children shortly before 5 o'clock last night, heading along a boardwalk at the rear of his home toward Eleventh Avenue. He, apparently, became separated from the other children in the early darkness.

The other children did not miss him till some time later.

REPORT RUSSIAN A-BOMB TEST—According to a report from Prague, printed in a French newspaper, Russia has been making sample A-bombs and a purported test was made in Siberia last June. The try-out was allegedly made not far from Irkutsk. Shown is Sergei Vavilov, director of the Soviet Nuclear Research Service, who was said to have been in charge of the experiment. High military and scientific experts were, according to the Prague dispatch, in attendance.

MORE TERRIBLE ATOMIC WEAPONS THAN EVER ARE BEING PERFECTED

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Projected atomic tests behind a curtain of absolute secrecy in the remote Pacific suggested today that American scientists may be preparing new weapons based on the same terrible power as the atom bomb.

A terse announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed that armed forces were making the tiny Eniwetok Atoll, 1500 miles from the nearest large land mass, into closed-off proving grounds for research on "new fundamental data."

What goes on there, the Commission said, expected results in advances in "peaceful as well as military applications of atomic energy."

Subway Strike Over In Paris But Major Industries Still Strike-Stralled

PARIS (CP)—A ten-hour "silent filibuster" by Communist deputies was broken early today and the National Assembly was called back into session to enact a stringent anti-strike law requested by Premier Robert Schuman to fight work stoppages which are paralyzing France.

One stoppage ended this morning when police cleared sitdown strikers from six power plants in the Paris area, permitting subways to resume operations. More than two million workers remained idle, however, stalling every major industry.

The Communist "silent filibuster" against Schuman's anti-strike bill, which is aimed at breaking the Communist grip on French labor, ended when Republican guards ejected a Communist deputy, Raoul Calas, from the Assembly chambers.

Provincial Instead of National Park Mooted

Chamber of Commerce In Session—Radio, Air Service Among Matters of Business

Desirability of establishing a national or provincial park in this area, commercial air service out of Prince Rupert, radio broadcasting service and broader participation by the members at large in the affairs of Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce were among subjects discussed last night at the regular monthly meeting of the local Chamber. President G. A. Hunter was in the chair and there was an attendance of over forty members and guests, the latter including H. G. Perry and W. H. Crocker of Prince George, Glen Lee and Allan Armstrong of Prince Rupert and E. C. Cameron of Boise, Idaho. W. Landon was present as delegate from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

New members were elected in the persons of Clarence B. Thomson, produce broker, and Norman Baker, restaurant operator.

The mayor's fund to purchase canned salmon for needy families in Great Britain in commemoration of the marriage of Princess Elizabeth was endorsed by the Chamber and recommended to the favorable and generous consideration of all members.

Correspondence from the provincial minister of lands and the deputy minister of mines and resources having indicated that there would be considerable difficulty in obtaining an area for the establishment of a national park, particularly in view of interference with industrial and private interests, it was decided, at the suggestion of H. G. Perry, to proceed with investigation of the possibilities of a provincial park being established instead. A committee will be appointed to pursue the subject now that considerable more information has been obtained than when the matter was at first broached.

Introduced by W. F. Stone, chairman of the aviation committee, Glen Lee, local agent of the Canadian Pacific Airlines, spoke of some of the problems of local commercial air service, expressing the opinion that Prince Rupert people were not as yet fully air-conscious. The President assured Mr. Lee of the appreciation of the air service here and the opinion that any present slackness in patronage was merely seasonal.

Further on aviation matters, Mr. Stone reported on correspondence from the Department (Continued on Page Six)

Who Dares War?

DOWN THROUGH THE AGES the fields of human warfare have been widening and, instead of one nation rising against another nation, the nations are now divided into two opposing and mightily-armed groups for a universal struggle for supremacy.

So it may be that, with the dividing of the world into two camps equally armed with scientific weapons of destruction against which there is no defence, neither side would dare to start another world war.

The Soviet government knows right well that the United States and the other democratic nations have no intention or desire to attack or invade Russia for what they can get out of that country, as the Germans did in the last war.

For the time being, at least, the atom bomb monopoly in the hands of the democratic nations is the best assurance of world peace. It is an armour of defence.

THE BUS FRANCHISE

EVEN THOUGH the present situation in regard to settling the local bus franchise question may have been reached by proceedings somewhat confusing and round-about, the city council is well-advised to take some action to clear up the position and obtain, as is now proposed, a fuller expression of public opinion than would have been possible under the bylaw as now being offered.

Certainly it is desirable that the voters should be allowed to decide whether or not a franchise should be granted. Whether or not the out and out question of one applicant receiving the franchise is a desirable way to put it is something that the council will discuss and settle tonight.

In any case, it is desirable that there should be a better expression of public desire on the whole question than would otherwise have been forthcoming.

George W. Spinney, C.M.G., President, and B. C. Gardner, M.C., Vice-President and General Manager, who addressed shareholders at the Bank of Montreal's 130th annual meeting.

Bank of Montreal President Says Self-Imposed Restraint Needed to Fight High Prices

George Spinney Also Asks For Immediate Selective Immigration Policy For Canada

B. C. GARDNER, GENERAL MANAGER, REPORTS B of M DEPOSITORS NOW OVER 1,600,000; CAUTIONS BUSINESS ON FINANCING

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—"Self-imposed restraint from charging what the traffic will bear, either for goods or the skill required to produce them, is as necessary, as practical and as prudent as fire insurance on a highly inflammable structure," in these words, George Spinney, president of the Bank of Montreal, today emphasized the need of a "sharpened sense of responsibility" among all influential groups in the community for the implications of their policies in relation to the behaviour of price and living costs.

Speaking at the bank's 130th annual meeting, Mr. Spinney said that self-restraint in the matter of prices and costs is a "safeguard that no group, representative of labor or industry and responsible for shaping policies that bear on prices and costs, can afford to ignore in the interests of their own continued well-being, apart entirely from broader and no less important considerations of the collective welfare of the entire community."

The great rise in prices and costs was described as "everybody's concern" by Mr. Spinney, who observed, "It affects the housewife, ruefully contemplating the family budget. It enormously complicates the problem of providing urgently needed housing at prices that people can afford to pay. It reduces the real value of all accumulated savings in monetary form, eating away at the hard-won rewards of foresight and thrift."

"While we in Canada have been spared the hardships of violent inflation, he concluded, "we have experienced enough of the consequences of a gradual depreciation of the internal purchasing power of our dollar to yearn for the advantages of a dependable standard of values in terms of a stable level of prices."

Less Government Spending Emphasizing the need for reduced government outlays, Mr. Spinney said that, at the present time, "even the most ardent proponent of compensatory public spending would, I think agree that we have arrived at one of those points in the economic cycle where old-fashioned virtues of frugality are thoroughly consistent with the dictates of the most advanced economic theory. The course now indicated is the difficult and more courageous route of remorseless elimination of luxuries of governmental expenditure, which represent an unnecessary demand on the taxpayer and on our productive resources."

Noting that Bank of Montreal loans had increased by 91 per cent since the end of the war, Mr. Spinney explained that this trend was much in the nature of a readjustment during which banks had been resuming their normal and necessary role as a source of credit in a peacetime economy.

Constructive Credit Policy "I am satisfied," he continued, "that this bank has been, and is now, actively pursuing a liberal and constructive credit policy in the broadest and best sense of these terms. But, as I endeavoured to emphasize last year, it is certainly not a part of such a policy to encourage a business or an individual to get into debt for ill-considered expansion or for any other purpose in conflict with sound and reasonable practice. Only by a continuing concern to avoid extension of credit for such purposes can our responsibilities be fulfilled—not only to borrowers, depositors and shareholders, but I should add with special emphasis, to the community as a whole."

"It is at a time like the present," Mr. Spinney added, "that the practical value of the highly personal relationship between banker and customer becomes most fully apparent. Every situation has its individual aspects, and in meeting each one intangible factors of character and personal knowledge arising out of long experience are given due weight."

"I know of no business less fitted to the routine techniques of bureaucracy than banking," he said.

Immediate Immigration Touching on our unbalanced trading relationships, Mr. Spinney suggested that Canada should forcibly direct her attention to ways and means of shaping a more balanced economy, thus lessening this nation's dependence on, and vulnerability to, influences beyond her control.

"To put the matter bluntly," he declared, "Canadians are at this moment helping to support, at a low level of existence, many of these people who could and should be craving out a fuller life for themselves in this country in which there are far too many empty spaces. If ever there was a time when Canada should press forward with an immigration program, that time is now," he said. "Such a policy must be vigorous, imaginative, and it goes without saying, highly selective from the standpoint of occupation and fitness for citizenship."

"An influx of new skills," Mr. Spinney continued, "will be of immeasurable aid in bringing about the further development of our industrial capacity, both extensively and intensively, and thus helping to overcome some of the instabilities that are the inevitable consequence of our present relatively small home market and our over-independence on external trade."

General Manager's Address In his report, B. C. Gardner, general manager, reported a new high in the number of B of M deposit accounts—now more than 1,600,000. Total deposits were $1,783,000,000, he added, as compared with $1,736,000,000 for the previous year.

As further evidence of the bank's expanding post-war activity, Mr. Gardner noted that the bank had opened 28 branches and sub-agencies during the year. There had been a relatively greater increase in bank personnel which grew from 8,400 in 1946 to 8,900 at the end of the current fiscal year. He referred to the bank's staff training program, the increasing mechanization of routine transactions, and the establishment of a group of routine organization officers whose duty it was to assist branches in simplifying and improving their operations.

Turning to the volume of foreign trade in the last year, Mr. Gardner reported that importers and exporters have made increasing use of the bank's facilities, while the demand for travel funds and foreign remittances has also been greater.

Through its relationships with banking correspondents in practically all foreign countries, Mr. Gardner said that the B of M had found that dealing with long-established banks in their respective countries enabled the bank to provide its customers with unexcelled facilities for conducting their import and export trade.

Sound Financing Needed Referring to the increase in borrowing for capital purposes, Mr. Gardner emphasized the importance of maintaining in corporate structures, a reasonable relationship between equity capital and borrowed money. This, he said, applied particularly to concerns that had been expanding rapidly and whose equity investments had become proportionately small in relation to higher turnover and increasing fixed assets.

"One of the necessary conditions of a vigorous and healthy flow of equity funds into industry is a taxation policy which makes investment of risk capital both possible and worthwhile," Mr. Gardner pointed out. "In this connection," he went on, "it may be said that the high taxation of recent years, in addition to discouraging new equity investment, has encouraged a substitution of borrowed money for shareholders' funds in existing capitalizations, principally because of the fact that interest is deductible as a prior charge before arriving at taxable income. While this is an understandable development from a taxation standpoint, it has in many instances had the effect of introducing an undesirable element of rigidity in corporate financial structures.

Working Capital Needed "I also feel," he continued, "there may be some danger that under present conditions some concerns are attempting to do a larger volume of business than is warranted by their capital resources. While I do not suggest that this development has reached alarming proportions, I do feel that where the physical volume of business is substantially larger and prices are higher, the need for adequate working capital should be kept actively in mind. This is particularly true in so long as the high level of tax-fits that can be retained in the business."

In his closing remarks, Mr. Gardner paid warm tribute to the staff. Noting that numerous returned veterans on the staff already occupied important posts, he added that many new entrants engaged since the war were also veterans. Mr. Gardner paid special tribute to the women employees who comprise some 56 per cent of the total staff.

"The organization and arrangements relating to the development, the progress and the welfare of our staff are under continuous and careful study," Mr. Gardner said. "I know of no feature of our business that has required more care and consideration over the past year."

PROVIDING CANADIANS... AND THE WORLD... WITH PRIME QUALITY FISH

Even more than in other fields of industrial endeavour, the business of catching, processing and marketing fish is subject to constant change in technique and marketing trends.

Our objective is to make use of the latest equipment in harvesting the catch, and to process it in such a manner that it will retain peak quality and command distribution in all markets.

To achieve this goal, we exercise constant vigilance and make large expenditures to originate or adapt any operating methods which improve the quality of our product and the efficiency of our operations.

The combination of skilled British Columbia fishermen, modern processing plants and sound marketing knowledge contributes to British Columbia's prosperity by transforming our valuable fisheries resources into substantial payrolls.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

There used to be a time in the north when it was a rare thing to hear of a cabin being broken into and plundered. Like horse stealing in the early west, this was a serious crime. A lone cabin or a horse—the unexpected lack of each—could mean the difference between life and death. But with the growth of settlement, the offence is becoming a commonplace. The recent robbery of ski cabin property on Mount Oldfield was not exactly a novelty.

The end of June will see the beginning of the new Prince George service along the B.C.-Alaska coast and some of her stops will be for five hours. It should be that much, and certainly in Prince Rupert, a growing railway terminus. Tourists do not wish to be hurried. They like to look around, explore the museum, do a spot of shopping and study prices. Moreover, public interest in Prince Rupert is steadily increasing.

The shortest day of the year, in another few weeks. Then watch for the change. For a good five months, every day in every way will keep getting longer and longer until there will be so much light you will wonder why you ever thought of saving it. Skeena's fairest season—time of gardening and early bloom, clean, fresh air, rich sunsets and the optimism that spring inspires.

he queried as he stared this way and that.

"Never heard of it," remarked a Johnny-Come-Lately.

"You would have, had you been here in 1907," retorted the Sourdough.

Plainly, he didn't know the town. And small wonder.

For its a long long time since the late Harry Evans, whose voice could be heard across the harbor, shouted at disembarking passengers, "follow the car track up the hill and enter the Calumet Hotel. The Calumet! The Calumet! See me for anything else you'd like to know."

Practically everywhere — on the streets and in public and private places—the prospect of costlier cigarettes was one of the chief subjects of conversation in Prince Rupert yesterday. The news appeared to be quite unexpected. But people appeared to take it philosophically. They puffed as they talked.

DELEGATES ARE NAMED

George C. Mitchell, J. D. McRae, Robert McKay and H. F. Glassey, at a meeting last night, were elected as delegates to represent the Prince Rupert District Liberal Association at the provincial convention to be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Vancouver when a new leader will be chosen to succeed Premier John Hart. E. T. Applewhite may also be a delegate but had not definitely decided up to this morning. The delegates will leave here for Vancouver on the steamer Camosun next Sunday afternoon. A resolutions committee headed by S. E. Parker, is now busy drawing up resolutions for presentation to the convention.

Joe Louis, a graceful, muscular Negro of 33, will make the twenty-fourth defence of his heavyweight championship this Friday night at Madison Square Garden against another Negro named Jersey Joe Walcott, of somewhat undistinguished ring record. Everything is against the fight. Promoter Mike Jacobs is sick in Florida and his assistants are charging the outrageous fee of $30 for a ringside seat. Walcott generally isn't considered a proper match for Louis and New York boxing circles are agitated by doubts arising from the recent Lamotta-Pox debacle. In fact, there seems to be nothing to recommend the affair except that Joe Louis will be making his first appearance in more than a year and, from the standpoint of the promoter, that the fans have been rushing to the box office.

Nobody admits to being much interested in whether Walcott can remain upright for four, six or even 15 rounds against the greatest fighter of the time, yet latest advices indicate that the gate will smash the all-time Garden record of $201,000 set in 1927 by Jack Delaney and Jimmy Maloney. The explanation seems to be that Louis, after holding the title for better than ten years, is talking seriously of retiring and a lot of fans are giving thought that they had better see him quick, if at all.

Louis expects to weigh in at about 210 for Walcott. That will be only about 13 pounds more than he scaled the night he knocked out Jimmy Braddock for the title in 1936. Walcott is said to be planning to step around Louis at a lively clip and pile up points with counter-punching, at which he is adept. Walcott, who also admits to 39 years, will come in at about 193. His supporters say that two things are for certain—that he isn't afraid of Louis and that he will not "die" before he reaches the ring, as several of Joe's so-called rivals have done.

BASEBALL FILMS BEING PRESENTED

Of special interest to baseball players and fans will be depiction of the 1946 World Series baseball games on the screen of the Civic Centre auditorium on Wednesday evening. The film is in sound and gives an account of the epic series between St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox. Narrated by veteran sportscaster Ted Husing, a film, "One Hundred Years of Baseball," is also to be shown. Baseball greats from early times in the game's history up to the present day will be shown. In recognition of the worthiness of the aims and objectives of the newly formed Prince Rupert Film Council, a portion of the collection taken will be allotted to the work of that organization.

December 4—Watts & Nicker-son vs. Miller Bay, Lucky Strikes vs. Blowers, Annettes vs. Moose; Savoy's vs. Bankers, Savoy vs. Rosa Lees.

December 9—West View vs. Comets, Manson's vs. Sweet Sixteen, Savoy vs. Coasters; Tollers vs. Miller Bay, Orange vs. Blowers.

In The Basket...

Brownwoods take on Co-ops clash in the Ladies' League fixture this evening. The former have had some stiff practices and they plan on giving the Co-ops a severe trouncing. Tonight's winners should be 65 Cabs over Gyros. People's over Sweet 16, Fashion Footwear over Merchants and Brownwoods over Co-op.

broadcasting from the local radio station was continuing. For the time being, however, the outlook for the emission from here of the National Hockey Broadcast appeared none too promising.

John Bulger announced the reorganization of the Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association which would consider, among other things, complaints that tourists were not being given adequate buying opportunities in Prince Rupert.

Theo Collart brought forward the desirability of more general representation of the membership on Chamber of executive and committees, a general discussion culminating in a notice of motion that would limit members to a maximum of two years' service on the executive.

Eric C. Cameron of Boise, Idaho, who is identified with the National Carbon Co., called upon before the meeting adjourned, spoke interestingly on a new carbon process for the preservation of food whereby the present freezing methods would be eliminated in the preservation of foodstuffs, including fish, from season to season. The possibility of an experimental unit being set up in connection with the fisheries at Prince Rupert was suggested. The matter was recommended to the attention of the fisheries committee of the Chamber.

AUTUMN V-SIGN

TORONTO (P)—One of the greatest annual treks of wild life is again underway in Ontario, where snow geese and Canada geese are reported winging their way south. Some of the birds winter in the southern tip of the province, but most fly on to the southern United States.

OVER THE FENCE
By W.L. Macfarlane

"If you have been watching labor proceedings in the last few months," remarked the Old Timer this morning, "you'll be puzzled to find out what all the shouting was about when Bill 39 was introduced at Victoria.

"They said it was a 'slave labor' law. They said that labor lost all the rights gained through the years. They said it made collective bargaining a farce. And so forth and so on. And some of the Communist leaders, and others, talked about 'resisting it to the death.'

"Well, doesn't it all look pretty much like bunk now? There have been dozens of wage-and-hour disputes peaceably settled under the act, complying with all its provisions. There have been some wildcat strikes, called without complying with the provisions of the act, but generally settled up pretty soon anyway. And there has been the 'biggest strike of all, the transit strike, where all the provisions of the act were complied with and the men eventually exercised their right to strike—whether wisely or otherwise, they struck, and there was nothing in the law to stop them.

"Maybe the procedure under the act is too complicated, maybe there is too much of a 'cooling-off' stage, maybe it requires amendment in other directions. I don't know. But anyone can see that labor has retained, and is exercising, all its real rights. And that makes a lot of the talk earlier in the year look pretty foolish now."
